
IN the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, the word of the Lord came by the hand of Aggeus the prophet, to Zorobabel the Son of Salathiel, governor of Juda, and to Jesus the son of Josedec the high priest, saying:

2. "Thus saith the Lord of hosts, saying: 'This people saith: 'The time is not yet come for building the house of the Lord.'

3. "And the word of the Lord came by the hand of Aggeus the prophet, saying:

4. "Is it time for you to dwell in ceiled houses, and this house lie desolate?"

5. "And now thus saith the Lord of hosts: 'Set your hearts to consider your ways.

6. "Ye have sowed much, and brought in little: ye have eaten, but have not had enough: ye have drunk, but have not been filled with drink: ye have clothed yourselves, but have not been warmed: and he, who hath earned wages, put them into a bag with holes."

7. "Thus saith the Lord of hosts: 'Set your hearts upon your ways:

8. "Go up to the mountain; bring timber; and build the house: and it shall be acceptable to me, and I shall be glorified, saith the Lord.

9. "Ye have looked for more; and behold, it became less; and ye brought it home; and I blowed it away: why, saith the Lord of hosts? because my house is desolate, and ye make haste, every man to his own house.

10. "Therefore the heavens over you were stayed from giving dew; and the earth was hindered from yielding her fruits:

11. "And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon all, that the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon beasts, and upon all the labour of the hands."

12. Then Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec the high priest, and all the remnant of the people hearkened to the voice of the Lord their God, and to the words of Aggeus the prophet, as the Lord their God sent him to them: and the people feared before the Lord.

13. And Aggeus the messenger of the Lord, as one of the messengers of the Lord, spoke, saying to the people: "I am with you, saith the Lord."

14. And the Lord stirred up the spirit of Zorobabel the son of Salathiel governor of Juda, and the spirit of Jesus the son of Josedec the high priest, and the spirit of all the rest of the people: and they went in, and did the work in the house of the Lord of hosts, their God.

CHAP. II.

Christ by his coming shall make the latter temple more glorious than the former. The blessing of God shall reward their labour in building. God's promise to Zorobabel.

IN the four and twentieth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king they began.

2. And in the seventh month, the word of the Lord came by the hand of Aggeus the prophet, saying:

3. "Speak to Zorobabel the son of Salathiel the governor of Juda, and to Jesus the son of Josedec the high priest, and to the rest of the people, saying:

4. "Who is left among you, who saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not, in comparison to that, as nothing in your eyes?"

5. "Yet now, take courage, O Zorobabel, saith the Lord, and take courage, O Jesus the son of Josedec the high priest, and take courage, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord of hosts: and perform (for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts)

6. "The word, which I covenanted with you, when ye came out of the land of Egypt: and my spirit shall be in the midst of you: fear not.

7. "For thus saith the Lord of hosts: yet one little

* Aggeus, or Haggai, was one of those, who returned from the captivity of Babylon, in the first year of the reign of king Cyrus. He was sent by the Lord in the second year of the reign of king Darius, the son of Hyllaspes, to exhort Zorobabel the prince of Juda, and Jesus the high priest, to the building of the temple; which they had begun, but left off again through the opposition of the Samaritans. In consequence of this exhortation, they proceeded in the building, and finished the temple. And the prophet was commissioned by the Lord, to assure them, that this second temple should be more glorious than the former; because the Messiah should honour it with his presence, signifying withal, how much the church of the new testament should excel that of the old testament.

while, and I will move the heaven, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land.

8. 'And I will move all nations: AND THE DESIRED OF ALL NATIONS SHALL COME; and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts.

9. 'The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts.

10. 'Great shall be the glory of this last house more than of the first, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place I will give peace, saith the Lord of hosts.'

11. In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius the king, the word of the Lord came to Aggeus the prophet, saying:

12. "Thus saith the Lord of hosts: 'Ask the priests the law, saying:

13. 'If a man carry sanctified flesh in the skirt of his garment, and touch with his skirt, bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat: shall it be sanctified?' and the priests answered, and said: "No."

14. And Aggeus said: "If one, who is unclean by occasion of a soul*, such any of all these things, shall it be defiled? and the priests answered, and said: 'It shall be defiled.'"

15. And Aggeus answered, and said: "So is this people, and so is this nation before my face, saith the Lord, and so is all the work of their hands: and all, that they have offered there, shall be defiled.

16. "And now consider in your hearts, from this day and upward, before there was a stone laid upon a stone in the temple of the Lord.

17. "When ye went to a heap of twenty butts, and they became ten: and ye went into the press, and pressed out fifty vessels, and they became twenty.

18. "I struck you with a blasting wind, and with works of your hand with the mildew and with blight: yet there was none among you, who returned to me, saith the Lord.

19. "But now take good notice from this day henceforward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month—from the day, when the foundation of the temple of the Lord were laid; and lay it on your hearts.

20. "Is the seed as yet sprung up? or hath the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree as yet flourished? from this day I will bless you."

21. And the word of the Lord came a second time to Aggeus in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying:

22. "Speak to Zorobabel the governor of Judah, saying: 'I will move both heaven and earth.

23. 'And I will overthrow the throne of kings, and will destroy the strength of the kingdom of the high: and I will overthrow the chariot, and him that rideth therein: and the horses and their riders, shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

24. "In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will take thee, O Zorobabel† the son of Salathiel, my servant, saith the Lord, and will make thee a signet; for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord of hosts."

The PROPHECY of ZACHARIAS†.

CHAP. I.

The prophet exhorts the people to return to God, and declares his visions, by which he puts them in hopes of better times.

IN the eighth month, in the second year of king Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zacharias the son of Barachias, the son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

2. "The Lord hath been exceedingly angry with your fathers.

3. "And thou shalt say to them: 'Thus saith the Lord of hosts: 'Turn ye to me, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will turn to you, saith the Lord of hosts.

4. 'Be not as your fathers, to whom the former prophets have cried, saying: 'Thus saith the Lord of

* By occasion of a soul. That is, by having touched the dead: in which case according to the prescription of the law, (Numb. xix. 13, 22) a person not only became unclean himself, but made every thing, that he touched, unclean. The prophet applies all this to the people, whose souls remained unclean by neglecting the temple of God; and therefore were not sanctified by the flesh they offered in sacrifice; but rather defiled their sacrifices by approaching to them in the state of uncleanness.

† O Zorobabel. This promise principally relates to Christ, who was of the race of Zorobabel.

‡ Zacharias began to prophesy in the same year as Aggeus, and upon the same occasion. His prophecy is full of mysterious figures and promises of blessings, partly relating to the synagogue, and partly to the church of Christ.

hosts: 'Turn ye from your evil ways, and from your wicked thoughts:' but they did not give ear; neither did they hearken to me, saith the Lord.

5. 'Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, shall they live always?

6. 'But yet my words, and my ordinances, which I gave in charge to my servants the prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers? and they returned, and said: 'As the Lord of hosts thought to do to us according to our ways, and according to our devices, so he hath done to us.'

7. In the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is called Sabath, in the second year of Darius, the word of the Lord came to Zacharias the son of Barachias, the son of Addo, the prophet, saying:

8. "I saw by night, and behold, a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtles, which were in the bottom: and behind him were horses, red, speckled, and white.

9. "And I said: 'What are these, my Lord?' the angel, who spoke in me, said to me: 'I will show thee what these are.'

10. "And the man, who stood among the myrtles, trees, answered and said : " These are they ", whom the Lord hath sent to walk through the earth. "

11. " And they answered the angel of the Lord, who stood among the myrtle-trees, and said : " We have walked through the earth, and behold, all the earth is inhabited, and is at rest. "

12. " And the angel of the Lord answered, and said : " O Lord of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem, and on the cities of Juda, with which thou hast been angry ? this is, now the seventieth year. "

13. " And the Lord answered the angel, who spoke in me, good words, comfortable words. "

14. " And the angel, who spoke in me, said to me : " Cry thou, saying : " Thus saith the Lord of hosts : " I am zealous for Jerusalem and Sion with a great zeal. "

15. " And I am angry with a great anger with the wealthy nations : for I was angry a little ; but they helped forward the evil. "

16. " Therefore thus saith the Lord : " I will return to Jerusalem in mercies : my house shall be built in it, saith the Lord of hosts : and the building-line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem. "

17. " Cry yet, saying : " Thus saith the Lord of hosts : " My cities shall yet flow with good things : and the Lord will yet comfort Sion ; and he will yet choose Jerusalem. "

18. " And I lifted up my eyes, and saw : and behold, four horns. "

19. " And I said to the angel, who spoke to me : " What are these ? " and he said to me : " These are the horns, which have scattered Juda, and Israel, and Jerusalem. "

20. " And the Lord shewed me four smiths. "

21. " And I said : " What come these to do ? " and he spoke, saying : " These are the horns, which have scattered Juda every man apart : and none of them lifted up his head : and these are come to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which have lifted up the horn upon the land of Juda to scatter it. "

C H A P. II.

Under the name of Jerusalem, he prophesieth the progress of the church of Christ, by the conversion of some Jews, and many Gentiles.

" A N D I lifted up my eyes, and saw ; and behold, a man, with a measuring line in his hand. "

2. " And I said : " Whither goest thou ? " and he said to me : " To measure Jerusalem, and to see how great is the breadth thereof, and how great the length thereof. "

* These are they, &c. The guardian angels of provinces and nations.

† The seventieth year, viz. From the beginning of the siege of Jerusalem, in the ninth year of king Sedecias, to the second year of king Darius. These seventy years of the desolation of Jerusalem and the cities of Juda, are different from the seventy years of captivity foretold by Jeremiah ; which began in the fourth year of Joakim, and ended in the first year of king Cyrus.

‡ Four horns, — four smiths. The four horns represent the empires, or kingdoms, which persecute and oppress the people of God : the four smiths or carpenters (for saber may signify either) represent those, whom God makes his instruments in bringing to nought the power of persecutors.

3. " And behold, the angel, who spoke in me, went forth ; and another angel went out to meet him. "

4. " And he said to him : " Run, speak to this young man, saying : " Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walls, by reason of the multitude of men, and of the beasts in the midst thereof. "

5. " And I will be to it, saith the Lord, a wall of fire round about : and I will be in glory in the midst thereof. "

6. " O, O flee ye out of the land of the north, saith the Lord ; for I have scattered you into the four winds of heaven, saith the Lord. "

7. " O Sion, flee thou, who dwellest with the daughter of Babylon : "

8. " For thus saith the Lord of hosts : " After the glory he hath sent me to the nations, who have robbed you : for he, who toucheth you, toucheth the apple of my eye : "

9. " For behold, I lift up my hand upon them ; and they shall be a prey to those, who served them : and ye shall know, that the Lord of hosts sent me. "

10. " Sing praise, and rejoice, O daughter of Sion : for behold, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord. "

11. " And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day ; and they shall be my people, and I will dwell in the midst of thee : and thou shalt know, that the Lord of hosts hath sent me to thee. "

12. " And the Lord shall possess Juda his portion in the sanctified land : and he shall yet choose Jerusalem. "

13. " Let all flesh be silent at the presence of the Lord : for he is risen up out of his holy habitation. "

C H A P. III.

In a vision, satan appeareth accusing the high priest. He is cleansed from his sins. Christ is promised, and great fruit from his passion.

" A N D the Lord shewed me Jesus the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord : and satan stood on his right hand, to be his adversary. "

2. " And the Lord said to satan : " The Lord rebuke thee, O satan : and the Lord, who chose Jerusalem, rebuke thee : is not this a brand plucked out of the fire ? "

3. " And Jesus was clothed with filthy garments ; and he stood before the face of the angel ; "

4. " Who answered, and said to those, who stood before him, saying : " Take away the filthy garments from him : " And he said to him : " Behold, I have taken away thy iniquity, and have clothed thee with change of garments. "

5. " And he said : " Put a clean mitre upon his head : " and they put a clean mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments : and the angel of the Lord stood. "

6. " And the angel of the Lord protested to Jesus, saying : "

CHAPTER IV.

The vision of the golden candlestick and seven lamps, and of the two olive-trees. Zorobabel shall finish the building of the temple.

AND the angel, who spake in me, came again: and he waked me, as a man, who is wakened out of his sleep.

2. And he said to me: 'What seest thou?' and I said: 'I have looked, and behold, a candlestick all of gold, and its lamp upon the top of it: and the seven lights thereof upon it: and seven funnels for the lights, which were upon the top thereof:

3. And two olive-trees over it: one upon the right side of the lamp, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4. And I answered, and said to the angel, who spake in me, saying: 'What are these things, my lord?'

5. And the angel, who spake in me, answered, and said to me: 'Knowest thou not what these things are?' And I said: 'No, my lord.'

The people enquire concerning fasting : they are admonished to fast from sin.

" AND it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the Lord came to Zacharias, in the fourth day of the ninth month, which is Callen :

2. " When Sarasar, and Rogommelech, and the men, who were with him, sent to the house of God, to entreat the face of the Lord :

3. " To speak to the priests of the house of the Lord of hosts, and to the prophets, saying : ' Must I weep in the fifth month, or must I sanctify myself as I have now done for many years ?'

4. " And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying : ' Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying :

5. " When ye fasted, and mourned in the fifth, and the seventh month for these seventy years, did ye keep a fast unto me ?

6. " And when ye did eat and drink, did ye not eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves ?

7. " Are not these the words, which the Lord spoke by the hand of the former prophets, when Jerusalem as yet was inhabited, and was wealthy, both itself and the cities round about it, and there were inhabitants towards the south, and in the plain ?'

8. " And the word of the Lord came to Zacharias, saying :

|| Between them both. That is, he shall unite in himself the two office or dignities of king and priest.

9. ' Thus saith the Lord of hosts, saying: ' Judge ye true judgment, and shew ye mercy and compassion every man to his brother.

10. ' And oppress not the widow, and the fatherless, and the stranger, and the poor: and let not a man devise evil in his heart against his brother.'

11. ' But they would not hearken; and they turned away the shoulder to depart: and they stopped their ears, not to hear.

12. ' And they made their heart as the adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words, which the Lord of hosts sent in his spirit by the hand of the former prophets: so a great indignation came from the Lord of hosts.

13. ' And it came to pass that as he spoke, any one heard not: so shall they cry, and I will not hear, saith the Lord of hosts.

14. ' And I dispersed them throughout all kingdoms, which they know not: and the land was left desolate behind them, so that no man passed through or returned; and they changed the delightful land into a wilderness.'

8. ' And I will bring them; and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be my people; and I will be their God in truth and in justice.'

9. ' Thus saith the Lord of hosts: ' Let your hands be strengthened, ye, who hear in these days these words by the mouth of the prophets, in the day, when the house of the Lord of hosts was founded, that the temple might be built.

10. ' For before those days there was no hire for men; neither was there hire for beasts; neither was there peace to him, who came in, nor to him, who went out, because of the tribulation: and I let all men go every one against his neighbour.

11. ' But now I will not deal with the remnant of this people according to the former days, saith the Lord of hosts.

12. ' But there shall be the seed of peace: the vine shall yield her fruit; and the earth shall give her increase; and the heavens shall give their dew: and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

13. ' And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the Gentiles, O house of Juda, and house of Israel: so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not: let your hands be strengthened.'

14. ' For thus saith the Lord of hosts: ' As I purposed to afflict you, when your fathers had provoked me to wrath, saith the Lord,

15. ' And I had no mercy: so turning again I have thought in these days to do good to the house of Juda, and Jerusalem: fear not.

16. ' These then are the things, which ye shall do: speak ye truth every one to his neighbour: judge ye truth and judgment of peace in your gates.

17. ' And let none of you imagine evil in your heart against his friend: and love not a false oath: for all these are the things, which I hate, saith the Lord.'

18. ' And the word of the Lord of hosts came to me, saying:

19. ' Thus saith the Lord of hosts: ' The fast of the fourth month*, and the fast of the sixth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth shall be to the house of Juda, joy, and gladness, and great solemnities: only love ye truth and peace.

20. ' Thus saith the Lord of hosts, until people come, and dwell in many cities,

21. ' And the inhabitants go one to another, saying: ' Let us go, and entreat the face of the Lord, and let us seek the Lord of hosts: I also will go.'

22. ' And many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to entreat the face of the Lord.

23. ' Thus saith the Lord of hosts: ' In those days, wherein ten men† of all languages of the Gentiles shall take hold, and shall hold fast the skirt of one, who is a Jew, saying: ' We will go with you: for we have heard, that God is with you.'

God will defend his church, and bring over even her enemies to the faith. The meek coming of Christ, to bring peace, to deliver the captives by his blood, and to give us all good things.

* The fast of the fourth month, &c. They fasted, on the ninth day of the fourth month; because on that day Nabuchodonosor took Jerusalem, Jeremias lii. 6.—on the tenth day of the fifth month; because on that day the temple was burnt, Jerem. lii. 12.—on the third day of the seventh month, for the murder of Godolias, Jerem. xli. 2.—and on the tenth day of the tenth month; because on that day the Chaldeans began to besiege Jerusalem IV. Kings, xxv. 1. All these fasts, if they will be obedient for the future, shall be changed, as is here promised, into joyful solemnities.

† Ten men, &c. Many of the Gentiles became proselytes to the Jewish religion before Christ: but many more were converted to Christ by the apostles and other preachers of the Jewish nation.

THE burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Hadrach, and of Damascus the rest thereof; for the eye of man, and of all the tribes of Israel is the Lord's.

3. "And Tyre hath built herself a strong hold, and heaped together silver as earth, and gold as the mire of the streets.

4. "Behold, the Lord shall possess her, and shall strike her strength in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire.

5. "Ascalon shall see it, and shall fear—Gaza also, and shall be very sorrowful—and Accaron, because her hope is confounded: and the king shall perish from Gaza; and Ascalon shall not be inhabited.

6. "And the divider shall sit in Azotus: and I will destroy the pride of the Philistines.

7. "And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth; and even he shall be left to our God: and he shall be as a governor in Juda, and Accaron as a Jebusite.

8. "And I will encompass my house with those, who serve me in war, going and returning: and the oppressor shall no more pass through them; for now I have seen with my eyes.

9. "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Sion; shout for joy, O daughter of Jerusalem: BEHOLD, THY KING will come to thee, the just and Saviour: he is poor, and riding upon an ass—and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10. "And I will destroy the chariot out of Ephraim, and the horse out of Jerusalem; and the bow for war shall be broken: and he shall speak peace to the Gentiles: and his power shall be from sea to sea, and from the rivers even unto the end of the earth.

11. "Thou also by the blood of thy testament hast sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

12. "Return to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope; I will render thee double as I declare to-day.

13. "Because I have bent Juda for me as a bow; I have filled Ephraim: and I will raise up thy sons, O Sion*, above thy sons, O Greece; and I will make thee as the sword of the mighty.

14. "And the Lord God shall be seen over them: and his dart shall go forth as lightning: and the Lord God will sound the trumpet, and go in the whirlwind of the south.

15. "The Lord of hosts will protect them: and they shall devour, and subdue with the stones of the sling: and drinking they shall be inebriated, as it were with wine: and they shall be filled as bowls, and as the horns of the altar.

16. "And the Lord their God will save them in that day, as the flock of his people: for holy stones† shall be lifted up over his land.

17. "For what is the good thing of him, and what is his beautiful thing, but the corn‡ of the chosen ones, and wine, which maketh virgins to spring forth?

God is to be sought to, and not idols. The victories of his church, which shall arise originally from the Jewish nation.

AS K ye of the Lord rain in the latter season; and the Lord will make snows, and will give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

2. "For the idols have spoken what was unprofitable; and the diviners have seen a lie; and the dreamers have spoken vanity: they comforted in vain: therefore they were led away as a flock: they shall be afflicted, because they have no shepherd.

3. "My wrath is kindled against the shepherds; and I will visit upon the buck-goats; for the Lord of hosts hath visited his flock, the house of Juda, and hath made them as the horse of his glory in the battle.

4. "Out of him shall come forth the corner, out of him the pin, out of him the bow of battle, out of him every exactor together.

5. "And they shall be as mighty men, treading under foot the mire of the ways in battle: and they shall fight; because the Lord is with them: and the riders of horses shall be confounded.

6. "And I will strengthen the house of Juda, and save the house of Joseph: and I will bring them back again; because I will have mercy on them: and they shall be as they were when I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will hear them.

7. "And they shall be as the valiant men of Ephraim; and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: and their children shall see, and shall rejoice; and their heart shall be joyful in the Lord.

8. "I will whistle for them, and will gather them together, because I have redeemed them: and I will multiply them, as they were multiplied before.

9. "And I will sow them among people; and from afar they shall remember me: and they shall live with their children, and shall return.

10. "And I will bring them back out of the land of Egypt, and will gather them from among the Assyrians; and will bring them to the land of Galaad, and Libanus; and place shall not be found for them.

11. "And he shall pass over the strait of the sea, and shall strike the waves in the sea: and all the depths of the river shall be confounded: and the pride of Assyria shall be humbled: and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart.

12. "I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walk in his name, saith the Lord.

The PROPHECY of MALACHIAS.

CHAP. I.

God reproaches the Jews with their ingratitude, and the priests for not offering pure sacrifices. He will accept of the sacrifice, which shall be offered in every place among the Gentiles.

"THE burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by the hand of Malachias.

2. "I have loved you, saith the Lord: and ye have said: 'Wherein hast thou loved us?' Was not Esau brother to Jacob, saith the Lord, and I have loved Jacob;

* The flesh of every one shall consume, &c. Such judgments as these have often fallen upon the persecutors of God's church, as appears by many instances in history.

† Even Judah, &c. The carnal Jews and other false brothers shall join in persecuting the church.

§ Shall be like this destruction. That is, the beasts shall be destroyed as well as the men—the common soldiers as well as their leaders.

|| Those, who shall be left, &c. That is, many of those, who persecuted the church, shall be converted to its faith and communion.

‡ Malachias, whose name signifies the angel of the Lord, was contemporary with Nehemias, and by some is believed to have been the same person with Esdras. He was the last of the prophets, in the order of time, and flourished about four hundred years before Christ. He foretels the coming of Christ—the reprobation of the Jews and their sacrifices—and the calling of the Gentiles, who shall offer up to God in every place an acceptable sacrifice.

§ I have loved Jacob, &c. I have preferred his posterity, to make them my chosen people, and to load them with my blessings, without any merit or their part, and though they have been always ungrateful; while I have rejected Esau, and executed severe judgments upon his posterity. Not that God punished Esau, or his posterity, beyond their deserts: but that by his free election and grace he loved Jacob, and favoured his posterity, above their deserts. See the annotations upon Rom. ix.

3. 'But have hated Esau? and I have made mountains a wilderness, and given his inheritance to the dragons of the desert.

4. 'And if Edom say: 'We are destroyed indeed; but we will return and build up what hath been destroyed:' thus saith the Lord of hosts: 'They shall build up; and I will throw down: and they shall be called the borders of wickedness, and the people whom the Lord is angry for ever.

5. 'And your eyes shall see: and ye shall say: 'The Lord be magnified upon the border of Israel.'

6. 'The son honoureth the father, and the servant his master: if then I be a father, where is my honour? and if I be master, where is my fear, saith the Lord of hosts?

7. 'To you, O priests, who despise my name, I have said: 'Wherein have we despised thy name?

§ To keep the feast of tabernacles. This feast was kept by the Jews in memory of their sojourning forty years in the desert, in their way to the land of promise. And in the spiritual sense, it is duly kept by all such Christians, as in their earthly pilgrimage are continually advancing towards their true home, the heavenly Jerusalem, by the help of the sacraments and sacrifice of the church. And those, who neglect this, must look for the kind showers of divine grace, to give fruitfulness to their souls.

† That which is upon the bridle, &c. The golden ornaments of the bridles, &c. shall be turned into offerings in the house of God. And there shall be an abundance of cauldrons and bowls for the sacrifices of the temple: by which is meant, under a figure, the great resort there shall be to the temple, that is, to the church of Christ, and her sacrifice.

‡ The merchant shall be no more, &c. Or, as some read it, The Chananite shall be no more, &c. that is, the profit and unbelievers shall have no title to be in the house of the Lord: or there shall be no occasion for buyers or sellers of oxen, or sheep, or doves, in the house of God, such as John the Baptist cast out of the temple.

Ye offer polluted bread upon my altar: and ye say: 'Wherein have we polluted thee?' In that ye say: 'The table of the Lord is contemptible.'

8. 'If ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and the sick, is it not evil? offer it to thy prince, if he will be pleased with it, or if he will regard thy face, saith the Lord of hosts.

9. 'And now beseech ye the face of God, that he may have mercy on you (for by your hand hath this been done: if by any means he will receive your faces, saith the Lord of hosts.

10. 'Who is there among you, who will shut the doors, and will kindle the fire on my altar for nought? I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts: and I will not receive a gift of your hand.

11. 'For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is great among the Gentiles: and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to my name a clean offering*: for my name is great among the Gentiles, saith the Lord of hosts.

12. 'And ye have profaned it in that ye say: 'The table of the Lord is defiled: and that, which is laid thereupon, is contemptible, with the fire which devour-eth it.'

13. 'And ye have said: 'Behold of our labour†, and ye blowed it away, saith the Lord of hosts, and ye brought in of rapine the lame, and the sick, and brought in an offering: and shall I accept it at your hands, saith the Lord?'

14. 'Cursed is the deceitful man, who hath in his flock a male, and making a vow, offereth in sacrifice that, which is feeble, to the Lord: for I am a great king, saith the Lord of hosts; and my name is dreadful among the Gentiles.

C H A P. II.

The priests are sharply reprov'd for neglecting their covenant. The evil of marrying with idolaters, and too easily putting away their wives.

'AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is to you.

2. 'If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory to my name, saith the Lord of hosts: I will send poverty upon you, and will curse your blessings; yea, I will curse them: because ye have not laid it to heart.

3. 'Behold, I will cast the shoulder to you‡; and I will scatter upon your face the dung of your solemnities; and it shall take you away with it.

4. 'And ye shall know, that I sent you this commandment, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

5. 'My covenant was with him of life and peace:

* A clean offering, viz. the precious body and blood of Christ in the eucharistic sacrifice.

† Behold of our labour, &c. Ye pretended labour and weariness, when ye brought your offering; and so made it of no value, by offering it with an evil mind. Moreover what ye offered was both defective in itself, and gotten by rapine and extortion.

‡ I will cast the shoulder to you. I will cast away the shoulder, which in the law was appointed to be your portion, and fling it at you in my anger; and will reject both you and your festivals, like dung.

and I gave him fear and he feared me, and he was afraid before my name.

6. 'The law of truth was in his mouth; and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace, and in equity, and turned many away from iniquity.

7. 'For the lips of the priest shall keep knowledge, and they shall seek the law at his mouth: because he is the angel|| of the Lord of hosts.

8. 'But ye have departed out of the way, and have caused many to stumble at the law: ye have made void the covenant of Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

9. 'Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all people, as ye have not kept my ways, and have accepted perions in the law.

10. 'Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why then doth every one of us despise his brother, violating the covenant of our fathers?'

11. 'Juda hath transgressed; and abomination hath been committed in Israel, and in Jerusalem: for Juda hath profaned the holiness of the Lord, which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12. 'The Lord will cut off the man, who hath done this, both the master, and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him, who offereth an offering to the Lord of hosts.

13. 'And this again have ye done; ye have covered the altar of the Lord with tears§, with weeping, and bellowing, so that I have no more a regard to sacrifice; neither do I accept any atonement at your hands.

14. 'And ye have said: 'For what cause?' Because the Lord hath been witness between thee, and the wife of thy youth, whom thou hast despised: yet she was thy partner, and the wife of thy covenant.

15. 'Did not one make her, and she is the residue of his spirit? And what doth one seek, but the seed of God? Keep then your spirit, and despise not the wife of thy youth.

16. 'When thou shalt hate her, put her away, saith the Lord the God of Israel: but iniquity shall cover his garment¶, saith the Lord of hosts; keep your spirit, and despise not.

17. 'Ye have wearied the Lord with your words: and ye said: 'Wherein have we wearied him?' In that you say: 'Every one, who doth evil, is good in the sight of the Lord, and such please him: or else where is the God of judgment?'

Christ shall come to his temple; and purify the priesthood. Those, that continue in their evil ways, shall be punished: but true penitents shall receive a blessing.

ment, whom ye desire, shall come to his temple. Behold, he cometh, saith the Lord of hosts:

2. 'And who shall be able to think of the day of his coming? and who shall stand to see him? For he is like a refining fire, and like the fuller's herb:

3. 'And he shall sit refining and cleansing the silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and shall refine them as gold, and as silver: and they shall offer sacrifices to the Lord in justice.

4. 'And the sacrifice of Juda and of Jerusalem shall please the Lord, as in the days of old, and in the ancient years.

5. 'And I will come to you in judgment, and will be a speedy witness against forcerers, and adulterers, and false swearers—and those, who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widows, and the fatherless—and oppress the stranger, and have not feared me, saith the Lord of hosts.

6. 'For I am the Lord, and I change not: and ye the sons of Jacob are not consumed.

7. 'For from the days of your fathers ye have departed from my ordinances, and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you, saith the Lord of hosts. And ye have said: 'Wherein shall we return?'

8. 'Shall a man afflict God? for ye afflict me; and ye have said: 'Wherein do we afflict thee?' In tithes, and in first-fruits.

9. 'And ye are cursed with want, and ye afflict me, even the whole nation of you.

10. 'Bring all the tithes into the store-house, that there may be meat in my house; and try me in this, saith the Lord: if I open not unto you the flood-gates of heaven, and pour you out a blessing even to abundance.

11. 'And I will rebuke for your sakes the devourer; and he shall not spoil the fruit of your land: neither shall the vine in the field be barren, saith the Lord of hosts.

12. 'And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightful land, saith the Lord of hosts.

13. 'Your words have been unsufferable to me, saith the Lord.

14. 'And ye have said: 'What have we spoken against thee?' Ye have said: 'He laboureth in vain, who serveth God: and what profit is it, that we have kept his ordinances, and that we have walked sorrowful before the Lord of hosts?'

15. 'Wherefore now we call the proud people happy; for those, who worked wickedness, are built up: and they have tempted God, and are preserved.'

16. 'Then those, who feared the Lord, spake every one with his neighbour: and the Lord gave ear, and heard it: and a book of remembrance was written before him for those, who fear the Lord, and think on his name.

17. 'And they shall be my special possession, saith the Lord of hosts, in the day of my doing: and I will spare them, as a man spareth his son, who serveth him.

18. 'And ye shall return, and shall see the difference between the just and the wicked—and between him, who serveth God, and him, who serveth him not.

'FOR behold, the day shall come kindled as a furnace: and all the proud, and all who do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day, which cometh, shall set them on fire, saith the Lord of hosts: it shall not leave them root, nor branch.

2. 'But unto you, who fear my name, the Sun of justice shall arise, and health in his wings: and ye shall go forth, and shall leap, like calves of the herd.

3. 'And ye shall tread down the wicked, when they shall be ashes under the sole of your feet in the day, that I do this, saith the Lord of hosts.

C H A P. I.

The reign of Alexander and his successors: Antiochus rifles and profanes the temple of God: and persecutes unto death all, who will not forsake the law of God, and the religion of their fathers.

† Machabers. These books are so called, because they contain the history of the people of God under the command of Judas Machabeus and his brethren: and he, as some will have it, was surnamed Machabeus, from carrying in his ensigns, or standards, those words of Exodus, xv. 11. Who is like to thee among the strong, O Lord: in which the initial letters in the Hebrew are, M. C. B. E. I. It is not known, who was the author of these books. But as to their authority, though they are not received by the Jews, saith St. Augustine, lib. xviii. City of God, c. 86. they are received by the church; who, in settling her canon of the scriptures, chose rather to be directed

NOW it came to pass, after Alexander the son of Philip the Macedonian, who first reigned in Greece, coming out of the land of Cethim, had overthrown Darius king of the Persians and Medes:

2. He fought many battles, and took the strong-holds of all, and slew the kings of the earth:

3. And he went through even to the ends of the by the tradition she had received from the apostles of Christ, than by that of the scribes and pharisees.

• He shall turn the heart, &c. By bringing over the Jew to the faith of Christ, he shall reconcile them to their fathers, viz. the patriarchs and prophets; whose hearts for many ages have been turned away from them, because of their refusing to believe in Christ.

† With anathema. In the Hebrew, Cherem, that is, with utter destruction, earth ; and took the spoils of many nations : and the earth was quiet before him.

4. And he gathered a power, and a very strong army : and his heart was exalted and lifted up :

5. And he subdued countries of nations, and princes : and they became tributaries to him.

6. And after these things, he fell down upon his bed, and knew, that he should die.

7. And he called his servants the nobles, who were brought up with him from his youth : and he divided his kingdom* among them, while he was yet alive.

8. And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died.

9. And his servants made themselves kings, every one in his place :

10. And they all put crowns upon themselves after his death, and their sons after them many years, and evils were multiplied in the earth.

11. And there came out of them a wicked root, Antiochus the illustrious†, the son of king Antiochus, who had been a hostage at Rome : and he reigned in the hundred and thirty-seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks‡.

12. In those days there went out of Israel wicked men : and they persuaded many, saying : " Let us go, and make a covenant with the heathens, who are round about us : for since we departed from them, many evils have befallen us."

13. And the word seemed good in their eyes.

14. And some of the people determined to do this, and went to the king : and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the heathens.

15. And they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem, according to the laws of the nations :

16. And they made themselves fore-skins, and departed from the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the heathens, and were sold to do evil.

17. And the kingdom was established before Antiochus : and he had a mind to reign over the land of Egypt, that he might reign over two kingdoms.

18. And he entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots, and elephants, and horsemen, and a great number of ships :

19. And he made war against Ptolemee king of Egypt : but Ptolemee was afraid at his presence, and fled : and many were wounded unto death.

20. And he took the strong cities in the land of Egypt : and he took the spoils of the land of Egypt.

21. And after Antiochus had ravaged Egypt in the hundred and forty-third year, he returned and went up against Israel.

* Divided his kingdom, &c. This is contradicted by Quintus Curtius ; though he acknowledges that divers were of that opinion, and that it had been delivered by some authors, lib. x. But, as we here learn, these authors were right, and he was in the wrong.

† Antiochus the illustrious. Epiphanes, the younger son of Antiochus the great, who usurped the kingdom, to the prejudice of his nephew Demetrius, son of his elder brother Seleucus Philopator.

‡ Of the kingdom of the Greeks. Counting, not from the beginning of the reign of Alexander, but from the first year of Seleucus Nicator.

22. And he went up to Jerusalem with a great multitude.

23. And he proudly entered into the sanctuary, and took away the golden altar, and the candlestick of light, and all the vessels thereof, and the table of proposition, and the pouring vessels, and the bowls, and the little mortars of gold, and the veil, and the crowns, and the golden ornament, which was before the temple : and he broke them all in pieces.

24. And he took the silver and gold, and the precious vessels : and he took the hidden treasures, which he found : and when he had taken all away, he departed into his own country.

25. And he made a great slaughter of men, and spoke very proudly.

26. And there was great mourning in Israel, and in every place, where they were :

27. And the princes and the ancients mourned ; and the virgins and the young men were made feeble ; and the beauty of the women was changed.

28. Every bridegroom took up lamentation, and the bride, who sat in the marriage bed, mourned :

29. And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof ; and all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.

30. And after two full years, the king sent the chief collector§ of his tributes to the cities of Juda : and he came to Jerusalem with a great multitude.

31. And he spoke to them peaceable words : in deceit : and they believed him.

32. And he fell upon the city suddenly ; and struck it with a great slaughter, and destroyed much people in Israel.

33. And he took the spoils of the city, and burnt it with fire, and threw down the houses thereof, and the walls thereof round about :

34. And they took the women captive, and the children, and the cattle they possessed.

35. And they built the city of David||, with a great and strong wall, and with strong towers, and made it a fortress for them :

36. And they placed there a sinful nation, wicked men ; and they fortified themselves therein : and they stored up armour, and victuals, and gathered together the spoils of Jerusalem ;

37. And laid them up there : and they became a great snare.

38. And this was a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary¶ in Israel.

39. And they shed innocent blood round about the sanctuary, and defiled the holy place.

40. And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled away by reason of them : and the city was made the habitation of strangers ; and she became a stranger to her own seed ; and her children forsook her.

41. Her sanctuary was desolate like a wilderness ; her festival days were turned into mourning—her sabbaths into reproach—her honours were brought to nought.

§ The chief collector, &c. Apollonius.

|| The city of David. That is, the castle of Sion.

¶ An evil adversary, literally, an evil devil.

42. Her dishonour was increased according to her glory; and her excellency was turned into mourning.

43. And king Antiochus wrote to all his kingdom, that all the people should be one: and every one should leave his own law.

44. And all nations consented according to the word of king Antiochus.

45. And many of Israel consented to his service: and they sacrificed to idols, and profaned the sabbath.

46. And the king sent letters by the hands of messengers to Jerusalem, and to all the cities of Juda, that they should follow the law of the nations of the earth,

47. And should forbid holocausts, and sacrifices, and atonements to be made in the temple of God,

48. And should prohibit the sabbath and the festival days, to be celebrated.

49. And he commanded the holy places to be profaned, and the holy people of Israel.

50. And he commanded altars to be built, and temples, and idols, and swine's flesh to be immolated, and uncle beasts,

51. And that they should leave their children uncircumcised, and let their souls be defiled with all uncleannesses, and abominations, to the end, that they should forget the law, and should change all the justifications of God;

52. And that whosoever would not do according to the word of king Antiochus, should be put to death.

53. According to all these words he wrote to his whole kingdom: and he appointed rulers over the people, who should force them to do these things.

54. And they commanded the cities of Juda to sacrifice.

55. Then many of the people were gathered to those, who had forsaken the law of the Lord: and they committed evils in the land:

56. And they drove away the people of Israel into lurking holes, and into the secret places of fugitives.

57. On the fifteenth day of the month Casleu, in the hundred and forty-fifth year, king Antiochus set up the abominable idol* of desolation upon the altar of God: and they built altars throughout all the cities of Juda round about:

58. And they burnt incense, and sacrificed at the doors of the houses and in the streets.

59. And they cut in pieces, and burnt with fire the books of the law of God:

60. And every one, with whom the books of the testament of the Lord were found, and whosoever observed the law of the Lord, they put to death, according to the edict of the king.

61. Thus by their power did they deal with the people of Israel, who were found in the cities month after month:

62. And on the five and twentieth day of the month, they sacrificed upon the altar of the idol, which was over against the altar of God.

63. Now the women, who circumcised their children, were slain according to the commandment of king Antiochus.

* The abominable idol, &c., viz., the statue of Jupiter Olympius.

64. And they hanged the children about their necks in all their houses; and those, who had circumcised them, they put to death.

65. And many of the people of Israel determined with themselves, that they would not eat unclean things: and they chose rather to die, than to be defiled with unclean meats:

66. And they would not break the holy law of God, and they were put to death.

67. And there was very great wrath upon the people.

CHAP. II.

The zeal and success of Mathathias. His exhortation to his sons at his death.

IN those days arose Mathathias the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Joarib, from Jerusalem: and he abode in the mountain of Modin.

2. And he had five sons, John, who was surnamed Gaddis;

3. And Simon, who was surnamed Thasi;

4. And Judas, who was called Machabeus;

5. And Eleazar, who was surnamed Abaron; and Jonathan, who was surnamed Apphus.

6. These saw the evils, which were done in the people of Juda, and in Jerusalem.

7. And Mathathias said: "Wo is me, wherefore was I born, to see the ruin of my people, and the ruin of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it is given into the hands of the enemies?"

8. "The holy places have come into the hands of strangers: her temple is become as a man without honour.

9. "The vessels of her glory are carried away captive: her old men are murdered in the streets: and her young men have fallen by the sword of the enemies.

10. "What nation hath not inherited her kingdom, and gotten of her spoils?"

11. "All her ornaments are taken away. She, who was free, is made a slave.

12. "And behold, our sanctuary, and our beauty, and our glory is laid waste, and the Gentiles have defiled them.

13. "To what end then should we live any longer?"

14. And Mathathias and his sons rent their garments: and they covered themselves with hair-cloth, and made great lamentation.

15. And those, who were sent from king Antiochus, came thither to compel them, who were tied into the city of Modin, to sacrifice, and to burn incense, and to depart from the law of God.

16. And many of the people of Israel consented and came to them: but Mathathias and his sons stood firm.

17. And those, who were sent from Antiochus, answering, said to Mathathias: "Thou art a ruler, and an honourable and great man in this city, and adorned with sons, and brethren.

18. "Therefore, come thou first, and obey the king's commandment, as all nations have done, and the men of Juda, and those, who remain in Jerusalem: and thou, and thy sons shall be in the number of the king's friends, and enriched with gold, and silver, and many presents."

19. Then Mathathias answered, and said with a loud voice: "Although all nations obey king Antiochus, so as to depart every man from the service of the law of his fathers, and consent to his commandments:

20. "I, and my sons, and my brethren will obey the law of our fathers.

21. "God be merciful unto us: it is not profitable for us to forsake the law, and the justices of God.

22. "We will not hearken to the words of king Antiochus; neither will we sacrifice, and transgress the commandments of the law, by any other way."

23. Now as he left off saying these words, there came a certain man of all, to sacrifice to the idols upon the altar of Modin, according to the king's commandment.

24. And Mathathias, when he saw this, was grievously grieved; and his reins trembled, and he was kindled according to the judgment of the law, and running upon him, he slew him with his sword:

25. When king Antiochus had sent, who sought to destroy the law, he slew at the same time, and slew down the altar.

26. And showed zeal for the law, as Phinees did against Zimri the son of Saloni.

27. And Mathathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying: "Every one, that hath zeal for the law, and maintaineth the testament, let him follow me."

28. So he and his sons fled into the mountains, and left all, that they had, in the city.

29. Then many, who sought after judgment and justice, went down into the desert:

30. And they abode there, they and their children, and their wives, and their cattle: because afflictions increased upon them.

31. And it was told to the king's men, and to the army, which was in Jerusalem in the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, had gone away into the secret places in the wilderness, and that many had gone after them.

32. And forthwith they went out towards them, and made war against them on the sabbath-day:

33. And they said to them: "Do ye still resist? come forth, and do according to the edict of king Antiochus, and ye shall live."

34. And they said: "We will not come forth; neither will we obey the king's edict, to profane the sabbath-day."

35. And they made haste to give them battle.

36. But they answered them not; neither did they cast a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places,

37. Saying: "Let us all die in our innocency: and heaven and earth shall be witnesses for us, that ye put us to death wrongfully."

38. So they gave them battle on the sabbath: and they were slain with their wives, and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand persons:

39. And Mathathias and his friends heard of it: and they mourned for them exceedingly.

40. And every man said to his neighbour: "If we shall all do as our brethren have done, and not fight against the heathens for our lives, and our justifications, they will now quickly root us out of the earth."

41. And they determined in that day, saying: "Who-soever shall come up against us to fight on the sabbath-day, we will fight against him: and we will not all die, as our brethren, who were slain in the secret places:"

42. Then was assembled to them the congregation of the Asideans*, the stoutest of Israel, and every one, who had a good will for the law.

43. And all those, who fled from the evils, joined themselves to them, and were a support to them.

44. And they gathered an army, and slew the sinners in their wrath, and the wicked men in their indignation: and the rest fled to the nations for safety:

45. And Mathathias and his friends went round about; and they threw down the altars:

46. And they circumcised all the children, whom they found in the coasts of Israel, who were uncircumcised; and they did valiantly.

47. And they pursued after the children of pride; and the work prospered in their hands:

48. And they recovered the law out of the hands of the nations, and out of the hands of the kings: and they yielded not the horn† to the sinner.

49. Now the days drew near, when Mathathias should die: and he said to his sons: "Now have pride and chastisement gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation;

50. "Now therefore, O my sons, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers.

51. "And call to remembrance the works of the fathers, which they have done in their generations: and ye shall receive great glory, and an everlasting name.

52. "Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and it was reputed to him unto justice?

53. "Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment; and he was made lord of Egypt.

54. "Phinees our father, by being fervent in the zeal of God, received the covenant of an everlasting priesthood.

55. "Jesus‡ while he fulfilled the word, was made ruler in Israel.

56. "Caleb for bearing witness before the congregation, received an inheritance.

57. "David by his mercy obtained the throne of an everlasting kingdom.

58. "Elias while he is full of zeal for the law, was taken up into heaven.

59. "Ananias, and Azarias, and Misael by believing, were delivered out of the flame.

60. "Daniel in his innocency was delivered out of the mouth of the lions.

61. "And thus consider through all generations, that none, who trust in him, fail in strength.

* The Asideans. A set of men that led a religious life; and were zealous for the law and worship of God.

† They yielded not the horn, &c. That is, they suffered not the power of Antiochus, that man of sin, to abolish the law and religion of God.

‡ Jesus. That is, Josue.

62. "And fear not the words of the sinful man : for his glory is dung and worms :

63. "To-day he is lifted up, and to-morrow he shall not be found ; because he is returned into his earth ; and his thought is come to nothing.

64. "Ye therefore, my sons, take courage, and behave manfully in the law : for by it ye shall be glorious.

65. "And behold, I know, that your brother Simon is a man of counsel : give ear to him always ; and he shall be a saviour to you.

66. "And Judas Machabeus, who is valiant and strong from his youth up, let him be the leader of your army ; and he shall manage the war of the people.

67. "And ye shall take to you all, who observe the law : and revenge ye the wrong of your people.

68. "Render to the Gentiles their reward : and take heed to the precepts of the law."

69. And he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers.

70. And he died in the hundred and forty sixth year : and he was buried by his sons in the sepulchres of his fathers in Modin ; and all Israel mourned for him with great mourning.

CHAP. III.

Judas Machabeus succeeds his father, and overthrows Apollonius and Seron. A great army is sent against him out of Syria. He prepares his people for battle by fasting and prayer.

THEN his son Judas, called Machabeus, rose up in his stead.

2. And all his brethren helped him, and all those, who had joined themselves to his father ; and they fought with cheerfulness the battle of Israel.

3. And he got his people great honour, and put on a breast-plate as a giant, and girt his warlike armour about him in battles, and protected the camp with his sword.

4. In his acts he was like a lion, and like a lion's whelp roaring for his prey.

5. And he pursued the wicked, and sought them out : and those, who troubled his people, he burnt with fire :

6. And his enemies were driven away for fear of him ; and all the workers of iniquity were troubled : and salvation prospered in his hand.

7. And he grieved many kings, and made Jacob glad with his works : and his memory is blessed for ever.

8. And he went through the cities of Juda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away wrath from Israel.

9. And he was renowned even to the utmost part of the earth ; and he gathered those, who were perishing.

10. And Apollonius gathered together the Gentiles, and a numerous and a great army from Samaria, to make war against Israel.

11. And Judas understood it, and went forth to meet him : and he overthrew him, and killed him : and many fell down slain ; and the rest fled away.

12. And he took their spoils : and Judas took the sword of Apollonius, and fought with it all his life time.

13. And Seron captain of the army of Syria heard that Judas had assembled a company of the faithful, and a congregation with him.

14. And he said : " I will get me a name, and will be glorified in the kingdom, and will overthrow Judas and those, who are with him, who have despised the edict of the king."

15. And he made himself ready : and the host of the wicked went up with him, strong succours, to be revenged of the children of Israel.

16. And they approached even as far as Bethorea : and Judas went forth to meet him, with a small company.

17. But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said to Judas : " How shall we, being few, be able to fight against so great a multitude and so strong —and we are ready to faint with fasting to-day ?"

18. And Judas said : " It is an easy matter for many to be shut up in the hands of a few : and there is a difference in the sight of the God of heaven, to deliver with a great multitude, or with a small company :

19. "For the success of war is not in the multitude of the army ; but strength cometh from heaven.

20. "They come against us with an insolent multitude, and with pride, to destroy us, and our wives, and our children, and to take our spoils.

21. "But we will fight for our lives and our laws."

22. "And the Lord himself will overthrow them before our face ; but as for you, fear them not."

23. And as soon as he had made an end of speaking, he rushed suddenly upon them : and Seron and his host were overthrown before him :

24. And he pursued him by the descent of Bethorea even to the plain : and there fell of them eight hundred men : and the rest fled into the land of the Philistines.

25. And the fear of Judas and of his brethren, and the dread of them fell upon all the nations round about them.

26. And his fame came to the king : and all nations told of the battles of Judas.

27. Now when king Antiochus heard these words, he was angry in his mind : and he sent, and gathered the forces of all his kingdom, an exceeding strong army.

28. And he opened his treasury, and gave out pay to the army for a year : and he commanded them, that they should be ready for all things.

29. And he perceived, that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension, and the evil, which he had brought upon the land, that he might take away the laws of old times :

30. And he feared that he should not have as formerly, enough, for charges and gifts, which he had given before with a liberal hand : for he had abounded more than the kings, who had been before him.

31. And he was greatly perplexed in mind, and purposed to go into Persia, and to take tributes of the countries, and to gather much money.

32. And he left Lysias, a nobleman of the blood royal, to oversee the affairs of the kingdom from the river Euphrates even to the river of Egypt :

33. And to bring up his son Antiochus, till he came again.

34. And he delivered to him half the army, and the elephants : and he gave him charge concerning all, that he would have done, and concerning the inhabitants of Judea and Jerusalem :

35. And that he should send an army against them, to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away the memory of them from that place :

36. And that he should settle strangers to dwell in all their coasts, and divide their land by lot.

37. So the king took the half of the army, that remained, and went forth from Antioch the chief city of his kingdom, in the hundred and forty seventh year : and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the higher countries.

38. Then Lysias chose Ptolemaeus the son of Dorymeus, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends.

39. And he sent with them forty thousand men, and seven thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, according to the king's orders.

40. So they went forth with all their power, and came, and pitched near Emmaus in the plain country.

41. And the merchants of the countries heard the fame of them : and they took silver and gold in abundance, and servants : and they came into the camp, to buy the children of Israel for slaves : and there were joined to them the forces of Syria, and of the land of the strangers.

42. And Judas and his brethren saw, that evils were multiplied, and that the armies approached to their borders : and they knew the orders the king had given, to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them.

43. And they said every man to his neighbour : " Let us raise up the low condition of our people ; and let us fight for our people, and our sanctuary."

44. And the assembly was gathered, that they might be ready for battle : and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion.

45. Now Jerusalem was not inhabited, but was like a desert : there was none of her children, who went in or out : and the sanctuary was trodden down : and the children of strangers were in the castle ; there was the habitation of the Gentiles : and joy was taken away from Jacob ; and the pipe and harp ceased there.

46. And they assembled together, and came to Maspha over-against Jerusalem : for in Maspha was a place of prayer heretofore in Israel.

47. And they fasted that day, and put on haircloth, and put ashes upon their heads : and they rent their garments :

48. And they laid open the books of the law, in which the Gentiles searched for the likeness of their idols :

49. And they brought the priestly ornaments, and the first-fruits, and tithes, and stirred up the Nazarkes, who had fulfilled their days.

50. And they cried with a loud voice toward heaven, saying : " What shall we do with these, and whether shall we carry them ?

51. " For thy holies are trodden down, and are profaned ; and thy priests are in mourning, and are brought low.

52. " And behold, the nations are come together against us, to destroy us : thou knowest what they intend against us.

53. " How shall we be able to stand before their face, unless thou, O God, help us ?"

54. Then they sounded with trumpets, and cried out with a loud voice.

55. And after this, Judas appointed captains over the people, over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

56. And he said to those, who were building houses, or had betrothed wives, or were planting vineyards, or were fearful, that they should return every man to his house, according to the law.

57. So they removed the camp, and pitched on the south side of Emmaus.

58. And Judas said : " Gird yourselves, and be valiant men ; and be ready against the morning, that ye may fight with these nations, which are assembled against us, to destroy us and our sanctuary :

59. " For it is better for us to die in battle, than to see the evils of our nation, and of the holies :

60. " Nevertheless as it shall be the will of God in heaven, so be it done."

C H A P. IV.

Judas routs the king's army. Gorgias flies before him. Lysias comes against him with a great army, but is defeated. Judas cleanses the temple ; sets up a new altar ; and fortifies the sanctuary.

THEN Gorgias took five thousand men, and a thousand of the best horsemen : and they removed out of the camp by night,

2. That they might come upon the camp of the Jews, and strike them suddenly : and the men, who were of the castle, were their guides.

3. And Judas heard of it, and rose up, he and the valiant men, to attack the king's forces, which were in Emmaus.

4. For as yet part of the army was dispersed from the camp.

5. And Gorgias came by night into the camp of Judas, and found no man ; and he sought them in the mountains : for he said : " These men flee from us."

6. And when it was day, Judas shewed himself in the plain with three thousand men only, who neither had armour nor swords to their minds :

7. And they saw the camp of the Gentiles, that it was strong, and the men in breast-plates, and the horsemen round about them ; and these were trained up to war.

8. And Judas said to the men, who were with him : " Fear ye not their multitude ; neither be ye afraid of their assault."

9. " Remember in what manner our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a great army.

10. " And now let us cry to heaven : and the Lord will have mercy on us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and will destroy this army before our face this day :

11. " And all nations shall know, that there is one, who redeemeth and delivereth Israel."

12. And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming against them.

13. And they went out of the camp to battle, and those, who were with Judas, sounded the trumpet.

14. And they joined battle : and the Gentiles were routed, and fled into the plain.

15. But all the hindmost of them fell by the sword : and they pursued them as far as Gezeron, and even to the plains of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Jamnia : and there fell of them to the number of three thousand men.

16. And Judas returned again with his army that followed him.

17. And he said to the people : " Be not greedy of the spoils : for there is war before us :

18. " And Gorgias and his army are near us in the mountain : but stand ye now against our enemies, and overthrow them, and ye shall take the spoils afterwards with safety."

19. And as Judas was speaking these words, behold, a part of them appeared looking forth from the mountain.

20. And Gorgias saw, that his men were put to flight, and that they had set fire to the camp : for the smoke, that was seen, declared what was done.

21. And when they had seen this, they were seized with great fear, seeing at the same time Judas and his army in the plain, ready to fight.

22. So they all fled away into the land of the strangers :

23. And Judas returned to take the spoils of the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue silk, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24. And returning home, they sung a hymn, and blessed God in heaven, because he is good, because his mercy endureth for ever.

25. So Israel had a great deliverance that day.

26. And such of the strangers as escaped, went and told Lysias all, that had happened.

27. And when he heard these things, he was amazed and discouraged : because things had not succeeded in Israel according to his mind, and as the king had commanded.

28. So the year following Lysias gathered together threescore thousand chosen men, and five thousand horsemen, that he might subdue them.

29. And they came into Judea, and pitched their tents in Bethoron : and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30. And they saw, that the army was strong ; and he prayed, and said : " Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst break the violence of the mighty by the hand of thy servant David, and didst deliver up the camp of the strangers into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armour-bearer.

31. " Shut up this army in the hands of thy people Israel ; and let them be confounded in their host and their horsemen.

32. " Strike them with fear, and cause the boldness of their strength to languish ; and let them quake at their own destruction.

33. " Cast them down with the sword of those, who love thee : and let all, who know thy name, praise thee with hymns."

34. And they joined battle : and there fell of their army of Lysias five thousand men.

35. And when Lysias saw, that his men were put to flight, and how bold the Jews were, and that they were ready either to live, or to die manfully, he went to Antioch, and chose soldiers, that they might come again into Judea with greater numbers.

36. Then Judas and his brethren said : " Behold, our enemies are discomfited : let us go up now to cleanse the holy places, and to repair them."

37. And all the army assembled together : and they went up into mount Sion.

38. And they saw the sanctuary desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burnt, and shrubs growing up in the courts as in a forest, or on the mountain, and the chambers joining to the temple thrown down.

39. And they rent their garments, and made great lamentation, and put ashes on their heads :

40. And they fell down to the ground on their faces, and they sounded with the trumpets of alarm, and they cried towards heaven.

41. Then Judas appointed men to fight against them, who were in the castle, till they had cleansed the holy places.

42. And he chose priests without blemish, whose will was set upon the law of God :

43. And they cleansed the holy places, and took away the stones, which had been defiled, into an unconclean place.

44. And he considered about the altar of holocausts, which had been profaned, what he should do with it.

45. And a good counsel came into their minds, to pull it down ; lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it : so they threw it down.

46. And they laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, till there should come a prophet, and give answer concerning them.

47. Then they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar according to the former :

48. And they built up the holy places, and the things which were within the temple : and they sanctified the temple, and the courts.

49. And they made new holy vessels, and brought in the candlestick, and the altar of incense, and the table into the temple.

50. And they put incense upon the altar, and lighted up the lamps, which were upon the candlestick : and they gave light in the temple.

51. And they set the loaves upon the table, and hung up the veils, and finished all the works, which they had begun to make.

52. And they arose before the morning on the first and twentieth day of the ninth month (which is the month of Casleu) in the hundred and forty eighth year.

53. And they offered sacrifice according to the law, upon the new altar of holocausts, which they had made.

54. According to the time, and according to the day, wherein the heathens had defiled it, in the same way it dedicated anew with canticles, and harps, and lutes, and cymbals.

55. And all the people fell upon their faces, and adored and blessed up to heaven, him, who had prospered them.

56. And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days: and they offered holocausts with joy, and sacrifices of salvation, and of praise.

57. And they adorned the front of the temple with crowns of gold, and escutcheons: and they renewed the gates, and the chambers, and hung doors upon them.

58. And there was exceeding great joy among the people: and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away.

59. And Judas, and his brethren, and all the church of Israel decreed, that the day of the dedication of the altar should be kept in its season from year to year for eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu, with joy and gladness.

60. They built up also at that time mount Sion, with high walls, and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should at any time come, and tread it down, as they had done before.

61. And he placed a garrison there, to keep it: and he fortified it, to secure Bethsura, that the people might have a defence against Idumea.

C H A P. V.

Judas, and his brethren, attack the enemies of their country, and deliver those, who were distressed. Josephus and Azarias attempting, contrary to order, to fight against their enemies, are defeated.

NOW it came to pass, when the nations round about heard, that the altar and the sanctuary were built up as before, that they were exceedingly angry:

2. And they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob, who were among them: and they began to kill some of the people, and to persecute them.

3. Then Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea, and those, who were in Acrabathane; because they beset the Israelites round about: and he made a great slaughter of them.

4. And he remembered the malice of the children of Ben; who were a snare and a stumbling-block to the people, by lying in wait for them in the way.

5. And they were shut up by him in towers: and he set upon them, and devoted them to utter destruction, and burnt their towers with fire, and all, who were in them.

6. Then he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people, and Timotheus was their captain:

7. And he fought many battles with them: and they were discomfited in their fight; and he smote them:

8. And he took the city of Gazer and her towns, and returned into Judea.

9. And the Gentiles, who were in Galaad, assembled themselves together against the Israelites, who were in their quarters, to destroy them: and they fled into the fortress of Datheman.

10. And they sent letters to Judas, and his brethren, saying: "The heathens, who are round about, are gathered together against us, to destroy us:

11. "And they are preparing to come, and to take the fortress, into which we are fled: and Timotheus is the captain of their host.

12. "Now therefore come, and deliver us out of their hands; for many of us are slain.

13. "And all our brethren, who were in the plain of Tubin, are killed: and they have carried away their wives, and their children, captives, and taken their spoils: and they have slain there almost a thousand men."

14. And while they were yet reading these letters, behold, there came other messengers out of Galilee, with their garments rent, who related according to these words:

15. Saying: that "they of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, were assembled against them: and all Galilee is filled with strangers, in order to consume us."

16. Now when Judas and the people heard these words, a great assembly met together, to consider what they should do for their brethren, who were in trouble, and were assaulted by them.

17. And Judas said to Simon his brother: "Choose thee men, and go, and deliver thy brethren in Galilee: and I and my brother Jonathan will go into the country of Galaad."

18. And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias captains of the people, with the remnant of the army in Judea, to keep it:

19. And he commanded them, saying: "Take ye the charge of this people: but make no war against the heathens, till we return."

20. Now three thousand men were allotted to Simon, to go into Galilee: and eight thousand to Judas, to go into the land of Galaad.

21. And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the heathens: and the heathens were discomfited before his face: and he pursued them even to the gate of Ptolemais.

22. And there fell of the heathens almost three thousand men: and he took the spoils of them:

23. And he took with him those, who were in Galilee and in Arbatis, with their wives, and children, and all, that they had: and he brought them into Judea with great joy.

24. And Judas Machabeus, and Jonathan his brother passed over the Jordan, and went three days journey through the desert.

25. And the Nabusmeans met them, and delivered them in a peaceable manner, and told them, what had happened to their brethren in the land of Galilee,

26. And that many of them were slain in Bethan, and in Bosor, and in Alana, and in Gazer, and in Mageth, and in Carnaim; all these are the names of the cities;

27. Yea and that they were kept bound in the cities of Galaad, and that they desired to bring their army on the morrow and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28. Then Judas and his army suddenly turned their march into the desert to Bosor, and took the city: and he slew every male by the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burnt it with fire.

29. And they removed from thence by night, and went till they came to the fortress.

30. And it came to pass, that early in the morning, when they lifted up their eyes, behold, there were people without number, carrying ladders and engines to take the fortress, and assault them.

31. And Judas saw, that the fight was begun, and the cry of the battle went up to heaven like a trumpet, and a great cry out of the city:

32. And he said to his host: "Fight ye to-day for your brethren."

33. And he went in three companies behind them: and they sounded their trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34. And the host of Timotheus understood, that it was Machabeus: and they fled away before his face: and they made a great slaughter of them: and there fell of them in that day almost eight thousand men.

35. And Judas turned aside to Maspha, and assaulted, and took it: and he slew every male thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with fire.

36. From thence he marched, and took Casbon, and Mageh, and Bosor, and the rest of the cities of Galaad.

37. But after this Timotheus gathered another army, and camped over-against Raphon beyond the torrent.

38. And Judas sent men to view the army: and they brought him word, saying: "All the nations, that are round about us, are assembled unto him, an army exceedingly great:

39. "And they have hired the Arabians to help them: and they have pitched their tents beyond the torrent, ready to come to fight against thee." And Judas went to meet them.

40. And Timotheus said to the captains of his army: "When Judas and his army come near the torrent of water, if he pass over unto us first, we shall not be able to withstand him: for he will certainly prevail over us.

41. "But if he be afraid to pass over, and camp on the other side of the river, we will pass over to them, and we shall prevail against him."

42. Now when Judas came near the torrent of water, he set the scribes of the people by the torrent, and commanded them, saying: "Suffer no man to stay behind! but let all come to the battle."

43. And he passed over to them first, and all the people after him; and all the heathens were discomfited before them; and they threw away their weapons, and fled to the temple, which was in Carnaim.

44. And he took that city; and the temple he burnt with fire, with all things, that were therein: and Carnaim was subdued, and could not stand against the face of Judas.

45. And Judas gathered together all the Israelites, who were in the land of Galaad, from the least even to the greatest, and their wives, and children, and an army exceedingly great, to come into the land of Juda.

46. And they came as far as Ephron: now this was a great city situate in the way, strongly fortified; and there was no means to turn from it on the right hand or on the left: but the way was through the midst of it.

47. And those, who were in the city, shut themselves in, and stopped up the gates with stones: and Judas sent to them with peaceable words,

48. saying: "Let us pass through your land, to go into our own country: and no man shall hurt you: we will only pass through on foot." But they would not open to them.

49. Then Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the camp, that they should make an assault every man in the place where he was.

50. And the men of the army drew near: and he assaulted that city all the day, and all the night; and the city was delivered into his hands:

51. And they slew every male with the edge of the sword: and he rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through all the city over those, who were slain.

52. Then they passed over the Jordan to the great plain, which is over-against Bethlan.

53. And Judas gathered together the hindmost: and he exhorted the people all the way through, till they came into the land of Juda:

54. And they went up to mount Sion with joy, and gladness, and offered holocausts; because not one of them was slain, till they had returned in peace.

55. Now in the days, when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemis,

56. Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias captain of the foldiers, heard of the good success, and the battles, which were fought,

57. And he said: "Let us also get us a name; and let us go fight against the Gentiles, who are round about us."

58. And he gave charge to those, who were in his army: and they went towards Jamnia.

59. And Gorgias and his men went out of the city, to give them battle.

60. And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued unto the borders of Judea: and there fell, on that day, of the people of Israel, about two thousand men; and there was a great overthrow of the people:

61. Because they did not hearken to Judas, and his brethren, thinking that they should do manfully.

62. But they were not of the seed of those men, by whom salvation was brought to Israel.

63. And the men of Juda were magnified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the nations, when their name was heard.

64. And people assembled to them with joyful acclamations.

65. Then Judas and his brethren went forth, and attacked the children of Esau, in the land toward the south: and he took Chebron, and her towns: and he burnt the walls thereof and the towers all round it.

66. And he removed his camp, to go into the land of the aliens: and he went through Samaria.

67. In that day some priests fell in battle, with desiring to do manfully, they went out unadvisedly to fight.

68. And Judas turned to Azotus into the land of the strangers: and he threw down their altars; and he burnt the statues of their gods with fire: and he took the spoils of the cities, and returned into the land of Juda.

C H A P. VI.

The fruitless repentance and death of Antiochus. His son comes against Judas with a formidable army. He besieges Sion: but at last makes peace with the Jews.

NOW king Antiochus was going through the higher countries; and he heard that the city of Ecbatana in Persia was greatly renowned, and abounding in silver and gold,

1. And that there was in it a temple exceedingly rich—and coverings of gold, and breast-plates, and shields, which king Alexander son of Philip the Macedonian, who reigned first in Greece, had left there.

2. So he came, and sought to take the city, and to pillage it: but he was not able; because the design was known to those, who were in the city.

3. And they rose up against him in battle; and he fled away from thence, and departed with great sadness, and returned towards Babylonia.

4. And whilst he was in Persia, there came one, who told him, how the armies, which were in the land of Juda, had been put to flight:

5. And that Lysias went with a very great power, and was put to flight before the face of the Jews; and that they were grown strong by the armour, and power, and store of spoils, which they had gotten out of the camps, which they had destroyed.

6. And that they had thrown down the abomination, which he had set up on the altar in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls as before, and Bethsura also his city.

7. And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, that he was struck with fear, and exceedingly moved: and he laid himself down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief; because it had not happened to him as he imagined.

8. And he remained there many days: for great grief came more and more upon him: and he made account that he should die.

9. And he called for all his friends, and said to them: "Sleep is gone from my eyes; and I am fallen away; and my heart is cast down for anxiety:

10. "And I said in my heart: 'Into what tribulation am I come, and into what floods of sorrow, wherein now I am! I, who was pleasant, and beloved in my power.'

11. "But now I remember the evils, which I did in Jerusalem, from whence also I took away all the spoils of gold, and of silver, which were in it: and I sent to destroy the inhabitants of Judea without cause.

12. "I know therefore, that for this cause these evils have found me: and behold, I perish with great grief in a strange land."

13. Then he called Philip, one of his friends: and he made him regent over all his kingdom.

14. And he gave him the crown, and his robe, and his ring, that he should go to Antiochus his son, and should bring him up for the kingdom.

15. So king Antiochus died there in the year one hundred and forty-nine.

16. And Lysias understood, that the king was dead: and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, whom he had brought up young: and he called his name Eupator.

17. Now those, who were in the castle, had shut up the Israelites round about the holy places: and they were continually seeking their hurt, and to strengthen the Gentiles.

18. And Judas purposed to destroy them: and he called together all the people, to besiege them.

19. And they came together, and besieged them in the year one hundred and fifty: and they made engines for shot and other engines.

20. And some of the besieged got out: and some wicked men of Israel joined themselves unto them:

21. And they went to the king, and said: "How long dost thou delay to execute judgment, and to revenge our brethren?"

22. "We determined to serve thy father, and to do according to his orders, and obey his edicts:

23. "And for this they of our nation are alienated from us, and have slain as many of us as they could find, and have spoiled our inheritances.

24. "Neither have they put forth their hand against us only, but also against all our borders.

25. "And behold, they have approached this day to the castle of Jerusalem to take it: and they have fortified the strong-hold of Bethsura:

26. "And unless thou speedily prevent them, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to subdue them."

27. Now when the king heard this, he was angry: and he called together all his friends, and the captains of his army, and those, who were over the horsemen.

28. There came also to him from other realms, and from the islands of the sea, hired troops.

29. And the number of his army was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and thirty-two elephants, trained to battle.

30. And they went through Idumea, and approached to Bethsura, and fought against it many days; and they made engines: but they sallied forth, and burned them with fire, and fought manfully.

31. And Judas departed from the castle, and removed the camp to Bethzacharam, over-against the king's camp.

32. And the king rose before it was light, and made his troops march on hastily towards the way of Bethzacharam: and the armies made themselves ready for the battle; and they sounded the trumpets:

33. And they shewed the elephants the blood of grapes and mulberries, to provoke them to fight.

34. And they distributed the beasts by the legions: and there stood by every elephant a thousand men in coats of mail, and with helmets of brass on their heads: and five hundred horsemen set in order were chosen for every beast.

35. These were ready for every occasion wherefoever the beast was : and whithersoever it went, they went, and they departed not from it.

37. And upon the beasts there were strong wooden towers, which covered every one of them ; and engines upon them, and upon every one thirty-two valiant men, who fought from above ; and an Indian to rule the beast.

38. And the rest of the horsemen he placed on this side and on that side, at the two wings, with trumpets to stir up the army, and to hasten those forward, who stood thick together in the legions thereof.

39. Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold, and of brass, the mountains glittered therewith ; and they shone like lamps of fire.

40. And part of the king's army was distinguished by the high mountains, and the other part by the low places : and they marched on carefully and orderly.

41. And all the inhabitants of the land were moved at the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the armour ; for the army was exceedingly great and strong.

42. And Judas and his army drew near for battle : and there fell of the king's army six hundred men.

43. And Eleazar the son of Saura saw one of the beasts harnessed with the king's harness : and it was higher than the other beasts ; and it seemed to him, that the king was on it.

44. And he exposed himself, to deliver his people, and to get himself an everlasting name.

45. And he ran up to it boldly in the midst of the legion, killing on the right hand, and on the left ; and they fell by him on this side and that side.

46. And he went between the feet of the elephant, and put himself under it : and slew it, and it fell to the ground upon him ; and he died there.

47. Then they seeing the strength of the king, and the fierceness of his army, turned away from them.

48. But the king's army went up against them to Jerusalem : and the king's army pitched their tents against Judea and mount Sion.

49. And he made peace with those, who were in Bethsura : and they came forth out of the city ; because they had no victuals, being shut up there ; for it was the year of rest to the land.

50. And the king took Bethsura : and he placed there a garrison to keep it.

51. And he turned his army against the sanctuary for many days : and he set up there artillery, and engines, and instruments to cast fire, and engines to cast stones and javelins, and pieces to shoot arrows and slings.

52. And they also made engines against their engines : and they fought for many days.

53. But there were no victuals in the city, because it was the seventh year : and such as had staid in Judea of those, who came from among the nations, had eaten the residue of all that, which had been stored up.

54. And there remained in the holy places but a few ; for the famine had prevailed over them : and they were dispersed every man to his own place.

55. Now Lysias heard, that Philip, whom king Antiochus, while he lived, had appointed to bring up his son to be king,

56. Was returned from Persia, and Media, with an army, which went with him, and that he sought to do upon him the affairs of the kingdom :

57. Wherefore he made haste to go, and say to the king and to the captains of the army : " We do daily, and our provision of victuals is small ; and the place, which we lay siege to, is strong, and it is incumbent on us to take order for the affairs of the kingdom."

58. " Now therefore let us come to an agreement with these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nation."

59. " And let us covenant with them, that they may live according to their own laws as before. For, because of our despising their laws, they have been provoked, and have done all these things."

60. And the proposal was acceptable in the sight of the king, and of the princes : and he sent to them to make peace : and they accepted of it.

61. And the king and the princes swore to them, and they came out of the strong-hold.

62. Then the king entered into mount Sion, and saw the strength of the place : and he quickly broke his oath, which he had taken, and gave commandment to throw down the wall round about.

63. And he departed in haste, and returned to Antioch, where he found Philip master of the city : and he fought against him, and took the city.

CHAP. VII.

Demetrius is made king, and sends Bacchides and Alcimus the priest into Judea, and after them Nicanor, who was slain by Judas with all his army.

IN the hundred and fifty first year, Demetrius the son of Seleucus departed from the city of Rome, and came up with few men into a city of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2. And it came to pass, as he entered into the land of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army seized upon Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him.

3. And when he knew it, he said : " Let me see their face."

4. So the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom :

5. And there came to him the wicked and ungodly men of Israel : and Alcimus was at the head of them, who desired to be made high-priest.

6. And they accused the people to the king, saying : " Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and he hath driven us out of our land."

7. " Now therefore send some man, whom thou trustest, and let him go, and see all the havock he hath done amongst us, and in the king's lands : and let him punish all his friends and their helpers."

8. Then the king chose Bacchides one of his friends, who ruled beyond the great river in the kingdom, and was faithful to the king : and he sent him,

9. To see the havock, which Judas had made : and the wicked Alcimus he made high-priest, and commanded him to take revenge upon the children of Israel.

10. And they arose, and came with a great army into the land of Juda : and they sent messengers, and spoke to Judas and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully.

11. But they gave no heed to their words: for they saw that they were come with a great army.

12. Then there assembled to Alcimus and Bacchides a company of the scribes to require things, which are just:

13. And first, the Asideans, who were among the children of Israel, and they sought peace of them.

14. For they said: "One, who is a priest of the seed of Aaron, is come; he will not deceive us."

15. And he spoke to them peaceably: and he swore to them, saying: "We will do you no harm, nor your friends."

16. And they believed him. And he took threescore of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word, which is written:

17. "The flesh of thy saints, and the blood of them they have shed round about Jerusalem: and there was none to bury them."

18. Then fear and trembling fell upon all the people: for they said: "There is no truth nor justice among them: for they have broken the covenant, and the oath, which they made."

19. And Bacchides removed the camp from Jerusalem, and pitched in Bethzecha: and he sent, and took many of those, who were fled away from him: and some of the people he killed, and threw them into a great pit.

20. Then he committed the country to Alcimus, and left with him troops to help him. So Bacchides went away to the king:

21. But Alcimus did what he could, to maintain his chief priesthood.

22. And those, who disturbed the people, resorted to him: and they got the land of Juda into their power, and did much hurt in Israel.

23. And Judas saw all the evils, which Alcimus, and those, who were with him, did to the children of Israel, much more than the Gentiles.

24. And he went out into all the coasts of Judea round about, and took vengeance upon the men, who had revolted: and they ceased to go forth any more into the country.

25. And Alcimus saw, that Judas, and those, who were with him, prevailed: and he knew, that he could not stand against them: and he went back to the king, and accused them of many crimes.

26. And the king sent Nicanor one of his principal lords, who was a great enemy to Israel: and he commanded him to destroy the people.

27. And Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great army: and he sent to Judas and to his brethren deceitfully with friendly words,

28. Saying: "Let there be no fighting between me and you: I will come with a few men, to see your faces with peace:"

29. And he came to Judas: and they saluted one another peaceably: and the enemies were prepared to take away Judas by force.

30. And the thing was known to Judas, that he was come to him with deceit: and he was much afraid of him, and would not see his face any more.

VOL. II.

31. And Nicanor knew, that his counsel was discovered: and he went out to fight against Judas near Capharsalama.

32. And there fell of Nicanor's army almost five thousand men: and they fled into the city of David.

33. And after this Nicanor went up into mount Sion: and some of the priests and the people came out to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the holocausts, which were offered for the king.

34. But he mocked and despised them, and abused them: and he spoke proudly,

35. And swore in anger, saying: "Unless Judas and his army be delivered into my hands, as soon as ever I return in peace, I will burn this house." And he went out in a great rage:

36. And the priests went in, and stood before the face of the altar and the temple: and weeping they said:

37. "Thou, O Lord, hast chosen this house for thy name to be called upon therein, that it might be a house of prayer and supplication for thy people."

38. "Be avenged of this man, and his army: and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer."

39. Then Nicanor went out from Jerusalem, and encamped near to Bethoron: and an army of Syria joined him.

40. But Judas pitched in Adarsa with three thousand men: and Judas prayed, and said:

41. "O Lord, when those, who were sent by king Sennacherib, blasphemed thee, an angel went out, and slew of them a hundred and eighty five thousand:

42. "Even so destroy this army in our sight to-day: and let the rest know, that he hath spoken ill against thy sanctuary: and judge thou him according to his wickedness."

43. And the armies joined battle on the thirteenth day of the month Adar: and the army of Nicanor was defeated: and he himself was first slain in the battle.

44. And when his army saw, that Nicanor was slain, they threw away their weapons, and fled:

45. And they pursued after them one day's journey from Adazer, even till ye come to Gazara: and they sounded the trumpets after them with signals.

46. And they went forth out of all the towns of Judea round about: and they pushed them with the horns, and they turned again to them: and they were all slain with the sword: and there was not left of them so much as one.

47. And they took the spoils of them for a booty: and they cut off Nicanor's head and his right hand, which he had proudly stretched out: and they brought it, and hung it up over-against Jerusalem.

48. And the people rejoiced exceedingly: and they spent that day with great joy.

49. And he ordained, that this day should be kept every year, being the thirteenth of the month of Adar.

50. And the land of Juda was quiet for a short time.

C H A P. VIII.

Judas, bears of the great character of the Romans: he makes a league with them.

NOW Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are powerful and strong, and willingly agree to all things, which are requested of them; and that whosoever have come to them, they have made amity with them, and that they are mighty in power.

2. And they heard* of their battles and their noble acts, which they had done in Galatia—how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute:

3. And how great things they had done in the land of Spain, and that they had brought under their power the mines of silver and of gold, which are there, and had gotten possession of all the place by their counsel and patience:

4. And had conquered places, which were very far off from them, and kings, who came against them from the ends of the earth, and had overthrown them with great slaughter: and the rest pay them tribute every year:

5. And that they had defeated in battle Philip and Perseus the king of the Ceteans†, and the rest, who had borne arms against them, and had conquered them:

6. And how Antiochus the great king of Asia, who went to fight against them, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horsemen, and chariots, and a very great army, was routed by them:

7. And how they took him alive, and appointed to him, that both he and those, who should reign after him, should pay a great tribute, and that he should give hostages, and that which was agreed upon,

8. And the country of the Indians, and of the Medes, and of the Lydians, some of their best provinces: and those, which they had taken from them, they gave to king Eumenes‡.

9. And that those, who were in Greece, had a mind to go and to destroy them: and they had knowledge thereof;

10. And they sent a general against them, and fought with them; and many of them were slain; and they carried away their wives, and their children captives, and spoiled them, and took possession of their land, and threw down their walls, and brought them to be their servants unto this day.

11. And the other kingdoms and islands, which at any time had resisted them, they had destroyed, and brought under their power.

12. But with their friends, and such as relied upon them, they kept amity, and had conquered kingdoms, which were near, and which were far off: for all, who heard their name, were afraid of them.

13. That whom they had a mind to help to a kingdom, those reigned: and whom they would, they deposed from the kingdom: and they were greatly exalted.

14. And none of all these wore a crown, or was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby.

15. And that they had made themselves a senate.

* They heard, &c. What is here set down of the history and character of the ancient Romans, is not an assertion, or affirmation of the sacred writer; but only a relation of what Judas had heard of them.

haste, and consulted daily three hundred and twenty men, who sat at counsel always for the people, that they might do the things, which were right:

16. And that they committed their government to one man every year, to ride over all their country, and they all obey one; and there is no envy, nor jealousy among them.

17. So Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Jacob, and Jason, the son of Eleazar; and he sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them:

18. And that they might take off from them the yoke of the Grecians; for they saw, that they oppressed the kingdom of Israel with servitude.

19. And they went to Rome, a very long journey, and they entered into the senate-house, and said:

20. "Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews have sent us to you to make alliance and peace with you, and that we may be registered your confederates and friends."

21. And the proposal was pleasing in their sight.

22. And this is the copy of the writing, which they wrote back again, graven in tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of the peace and alliance.

23. "Good success be to the Romans, and to the people of the Jews by sea and by land for ever: and far be the sword and enemy from them."

24. "But if there come first any war upon the Romans, or any of their confederates, in all their dominions:

25. "The nation of the Jews shall help them according as the time shall direct, with all their heart:

26. "Neither shall they give them, while they are fighting, or furnish them with wheat, or arms, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romans: and they shall obey their orders, without taking any thing of them.

27. "In like manner also if war shall come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall permit them:

28. "And there shall not be given to those, who come to their aid, either wheat, or arms, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romans: and they shall observe their orders without deceit."

29. According to these articles did the Romans covenant with the people of the Jews.

30. "And if after this one party or the other shall have a mind to add to these articles, or take away any thing, they may do it at their pleasure: and whatsoever they shall add, or take away, shall be ratified.

31. "Moreover concerning the evils, which Demetrius the king hath done against them, we have written to him, saying: 'Why hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends, and allies, the Jews?'

32. 'If therefore they come again to us complaining of thee, we will do them justice, and will make war against thee by sea and land.'

C H A P. IX.

Bacchides is sent again into Judea: Judas fights against him with 800 men, and is slain. Jonathan succeeds him, and revenges the murder of his brother John. He fights against Bacchides. Alcimus dies miserably. Bacchides besieges Bethshean. He is forced to raise the siege, and leave the country.

IN the mean time, when Demetrius heard, that Nicator and his army were fallen in battle, he sent again Bacchides and Alcimus into Judea, and the right wing of his army with them.

2. And they took the road, which leadeth to Galgal; and they camped in Mataloth, which is in Arbella: and they made themselves masters of it, and slew many people.

3. In the first month of the hundred and fifty-second year, they brought the army to Jerusalem:

4. And they arose, and went to Berea with twenty thousand men, and two thousand horsemen.

5. Now Judas had pitched his tents in Laifa, and three thousand chosen men with him:

6. And they saw the multitude of the army, that they were many; and they were seized with great fear: and many withdrew themselves out of the camp; and there remained of them no more than eight hundred men.

7. And Judas saw, that his army split away, and the battle pressed upon him, and his heart was cast down; because he had not time to gather them together: and he was discouraged.

8. Then he said to those, who remained: "Let us arise, and go against our enemies, if so be we may be able to fight against them."

9. But they dissuaded him, saying: "We shall not be able; but let us save our lives now, and return to our brethren, and then we will fight against them: for we are but few."

10. Then Judas said: "God forbid we should do this thing, and flee away from them: but if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and let us not stain our glory."

11. And the army removed out of the camp; and they stood over-against them: and the horsemen were divided into two troops: and the slingers and the archers went before the army, and those, who were in the front, were all men of valour.

12. And Bacchides was in the right wing: and the legion drew near on two sides, and they sounded the trumpets:

13. And those also, who were on Judas's side, even they also cried out; and the earth shook at the noise of the armies: and the battle was fought from morning even until the evening.

14. And Judas perceived, that the stronger part of the army of Bacchides was on the right side, and all the stout of heart came together with him:

15. And the right wing was discomfited by them; and he pursued them even to the mount Azotus.

16. And those, who were in the left wing, saw, that the right wing was discomfited; and they followed after Judas, and those, who were with him, at their back:

17. And the battle was hard fought: and there fell many wounded of the one side and of the other.

18. And Judas was slain: and the rest fled away.

19. And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of their fathers in the city of Modin.

20. And all the people of Israel bewailed him with great lamentation: and they mourned for him many days,

21. And said: "How is the mighty man fallen, who saved the people of Israel!"

22. But the rest of the words of the wars of Judas, and of the noble acts, which he did, and of his greatness, are not written: for they were very many.

23. And it came to pass, after the death of Judas, that the wicked began to put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel; and all the workers of iniquity rose up.

24. In those days there was a very great famine; and they and all their country yielded to Bacchides.

25. And Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the country:

26. And they sought out, and made diligent search after the friends of Judas, and brought them to Bacchides: and he took vengeance of them, and abused them.

27. And there was great tribulation in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time, when there was no prophet seen in Israel.

28. And all the friends of Judas came together, and said to Jonathan:

29. "Since thy brother Judas died, there is not a man like him, to go forth against our enemies, Bacchides, and those, who are the enemies of our nation.

30. "Now therefore, we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and captain in his stead, to fight our battles."

31. So Jonathan took upon him the government at that time, and rose up in the place of Judas his brother.

32. And Bacchides had knowledge of it, and sought to kill him.

33. And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, knew it, and all, who were with them: and they fled into the desert of Thecua: and they pitched by the water of the lake Asphar.

34. And Bacchides understood it; and he came himself, with all his army, over the Jordan on the sabbath-day.

35. And Jonathan sent his brother a captain of the people, to desire the Nabuthians his friends, that they would lend them their equipage, which was copious.

36. And the children of Jambri came forth out of Madaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went away with them.

37. After this, it was told Jonathan, and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride out of Madaba, the daughter of one of the great princes of Chanaan with great pomp.

38. And they remembered the blood of John their brother : and they went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain.

39. And they lifted up their eyes, and saw : and behold, a tumult, and great preparation : and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends, and his brethren to meet them with timbrels, and musical instruments, and many weapons.

40. And they rose up against them from the place, where they lay in ambush, and slew them ; and there fell many wounded ; and the rest fled into the mountains ; and they took all their spoils :

41. And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the noise of their musical instruments into lamentation.

42. And they took revenge for the blood of their brother : and they returned to the bank of the Jordan.

43. And Bacchides heard it : and he came on the sabbath-day even to the bank of the Jordan with a great power.

44. And Jonathan said to his company : " Let us arise, and fight against our enemies : for it is not now as yesterday, and the day before.

45. " For behold, the battle is before us, and the water of the Jordan on this side—and on that side, banks, and marshes, and woods : and there is no place for us to turn aside.

46. " Now therefore, cry ye to heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies." And they joined battle.

47. And Jonathan stretched forth his hand to strike Bacchides ; but he turned away from him backwards.

48. And Jonathan, and those, who were with him, leapt into the Jordan, and swam over the Jordan to them.

49. And there fell of Bacchides's side that day a thousand men : and they returned to Jerusalem,

50. And they built strong cities in Judea, the fortresses, which was in Jericho, and in Ammaus, and in Bethoron, and in Bethel, and Thamnata, and Phara, and Thopo, with high walls, and gates, and bars.

51. And he placed garrisons in them, that they might wage war against Israel :

52. And he fortified the city of Bethsura, and Gazara, and the castle, and set garrisons in them, and provisions of victuals :

53. And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in the castle in Jerusalem under ward.

54. Now in the year one hundred and fifty three, the second month, Alcimus commanded the walls of the inner court of the sanctuary to be thrown down, and the works of the prophets to be destroyed : and he began to destroy.

55. At that time Alcimus was struck : and his works were hindered, and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, so that he could no more speak a word, nor give order concerning his house.

56. And Alcimus died at that time in great torment.

57. And Bacchides saw, that Alcimus was dead : and he returned to the king : and the land was quiet for two years.

58. And all the wicked held a council, saying : " Behold, Jonathan, and those, who are with him, dwell at ease and without fear : now therefore let us bring Bacchides hither ; and he shall take them all in one night."

59. So they went, and gave him this counsel.

60. And he arose to come with a great army : and he sent secretly letters to his adherents, who were in Judea, to seize upon Jonathan, and those, who were with him : but they could not ; for their design was known to them.

61. And he apprehended of the men of the country, who were the principal authors of the mischief, fifty men ; and he slew them.

62. And Jonathan, and Simon, and those, who were with him, retired into Bethbessen, which is in the desert : and he repaired the breaches thereof ; and they fortified it.

63. And when Bacchides knew it, he gathered together all his multitude : and sent word to those, who were of Judea.

64. And he came, and camped above Bethbessen, and fought against it many days, and made engines.

65. But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and came with a number of men,

66. And struck Odares, and his brethren, and the children of Phaseron in their tents : and he began to slay, and to increase in forces.

67. But Simon, and those, who were with him, fled out of the city, and burned the engines :

68. And they fought against Bacchides : and he was discomfited by them : and they afflicted him exceedingly ; for his counsel and his enterprize were in vain.

69. And he was angry with the wicked men, who had given him counsel to come into their country ; and he slew many of them : and he purposed to return with the rest into their country.

70. And Jonathan had knowledge of it ; and he sent ambassadors to him to make peace with him, and to restore to him the prisoners.

71. And he accepted it willingly, and did according to his words, and swore, that he would do him no harm all the days of his life.

72. And he restored to him the prisoners, which he before had taken, out of the land of Juda : and he returned and went away into his own country ; and he came no more into their borders.

73. So the sword ceased from Israel : and Jonathan dwelt in Machmas ; and Jonathan began there to judge the people ; and he destroyed the wicked out of Israel.

C H A P. X.

Alexander Boles sets himself up for king : Let he and Demetrius seek to make Jonathan their friend. Alexander kills Demetrius in battle, and honours Jonathan. His victory over Apollonius.

NOW in the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander the son of Antiochus, surnamed the illustrious, came up, and took Ptolemais : and they received him : and he reigned there.

2. And king Demetrius heard of it, and gathered together an exceeding great army, and went forth against him to fight.

3. And Demetrius sent a letter to Jonathan with peaceable words, to magnify him.

4. For he said: "Let us first make a peace with him, before he make one with Alexander against us:

5. "For he will remember all the evils, which we have done against him, and against his brother, and against his nation."

6. And he gave him authority to gather together an army, and to make arms, and that he should be his confederate: and the hostages, who were in the castle, he commanded to be delivered to him.

7. And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the hearing of all the people, and of those, who were in the castle.

8. And they were struck with great fear, because they heard, that the king had given him authority to gather together an army.

9. And the hostages were delivered to Jonathan; and he restored them to their parents.

10. And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build, and to repair the city.

11. And he ordered workmen to build the walls, and mount Sion round about with square stones for fortification: and so they did.

12. Then the strangers, who were in the stronghold, which Bacchides had built, fled away.

13. And every man left his place, and departed into his own country:

14. Only in Bethsura there remained some of those, who had forsaken the law, and the commandments of God: for this was a place of refuge for them.

15. And king Alexander heard of the promises, that Demetrius had made Jonathan; and they told him of the battles, and the worthy acts, which he, and his brethren had done, and the labours, which they had endured:

16. And he said: "Shall we find such another man? now therefore we will make him our friend and our confederate."

17. So he wrote a letter, and sent it to him according to these words, saying:

18. "King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greeting:

19. "We have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and fit to be our friend:

20. "Now therefore we make thee this day high priest of thy nation, and that thou be called the king's friend (and he sent him a purple robe, and a crown of gold) and that thou be of one mind with us in our affairs, and keep friendship with us."

21. Then Jonathan put on the holy vestment in the seventh month, in the year one hundred and threescore, at the feast-day of the tabernacles: and he gathered together an army, and made a great number of arms.

22. And Demetrius heard these words, and was exceedingly sorry, and said:

23. "What is this that we have done, that Alexander hath anticipated us to gain the friendship of the Jews, to strengthen himself?

VOL. II.

24. "I also will write to them words of request, and offer dignities, and gifts: that they may be with me to aid me."

25. And he wrote to them in these words: "King Demetrius to the nation of the Jews greeting.

26. "Whereas ye have kept covenant with us, and have continued in our friendship, and have not joined with our enemies; we have heard of it, and are glad.

27. "Wherefore now continue still to keep fidelity towards us; and we will reward you with good things, for what ye have done in our behalf.

28. "And we will remit to you many charges, and will give you gifts.

29. "And now I free you, and all the Jews from tributes: and I release you from the customs of salt, and remit the crowns, and the thirds of the seed:

30. "And the half of the fruit of trees, which is my share, I leave to you from this day forward; so that it shall not be taken of the land of Juda, and of the three cities, which are added thereto out of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for ever:

31. "And let Jerusalem be holy and free, with the borders thereof: and let the tithes and tributes be for itself.

32. "I yield up also the power of the castle, which is in Jerusalem: and I give it to the high priest, to place therein such men as he shall choose, to keep it.

33. "And every soul of the Jews, who hath been carried captive from the land of Juda in all my kingdom, I set at liberty for nothing; and let all be discharged from tributes even of their cattle.

34. "And I will, that all the feasts, and the sabbaths, and the new moons, and the days appointed, and three days before the solemn day, and three days after the solemn day, be all days of immunity and freedom, for all the Jews, who are in my kingdom:

35. "And no man shall have power to do any thing against them, or to molest any of them, in any cause.

36. "And let there be enrolled in the king's army to the number of thirty thousand of the Jews: and allowance shall be made them as is due to all the king's forces: and certain of them shall be appointed to be in the fortresses of the great king:

37. "And some of them shall be set over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust; and let their governors be taken from among themselves; and let them walk in their own laws, as the king hath commanded in the land of Juda.

38. "And the three cities, which are added to Judea, out of the country of Samaria, let them be accounted with Judea; that they may be under one, and obey no other authority, but that of the high priest:

39. "Ptolemais also, and the confines thereof, I give as a free gift to the holy places, which are in Jerusalem, for the necessary charges of the holy things.

40. "And I give every year fifteen thousand sicles of silver out of the king's accounts, of what belongs to me:

41. "And all, that is above, which those, who were over the affairs the years before, had not paid, from this time they shall give it to the works of the house.

42. "Moreover the five thousand sicles of silver, which they received from the account of the holy places, every year, shall also belong to the priests, who execute the ministry.

43. "And whosoever flee into the temple, which is in Jerusalem, and in all the borders thereof, being indebted to the king for any matter, let them be set at liberty; and all that they have in my kingdom, let them have it free.

44. "For the building also, or repairing the works of the holy places, the charges shall be given out of the king's revenues:

45. "For the building also of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, the charges shall be given out of the king's account, as also for the building of the walls in Judea."

46. Now when Jonathan, and the people heard these words, they gave no credit to them, nor received them: because they remembered the great evil, which he had done in Israel; for he had afflicted them exceedingly.

47. And their inclinations were towards Alexander; because he had been the chief promoter of peace in their regard; and him they always helped.

48. And king Alexander gathered together a great army, and moved his camp near to Demetrius.

49. And the two kings joined battle; and the army of Demetrius fled away; and Alexander pursued after him, and pressed them closely.

50. And the battle was hard fought, till the sun went down: and Demetrius was slain that day.

51. And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemee* king of Egypt with words to this effect, saying:

52. "Forasmuch as I have returned into my kingdom, and am set in the throne of my ancestors, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and possessed our country,

53. "And have joined battle with him, and both he and his army have been destroyed by us, and we are placed in the throne of his kingdom:

54. "Now therefore let us make friendship one with another: and give me now thy daughter to wife, and I will be thy son-in-law: and I will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee."

55. And king Ptolemee answered, saying: "Happy is the day, wherein thou didst return to the land of thy fathers, and sattest in the throne of their kingdom.

56. "And now I will do to thee as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, and I may give her to thee as thou hast said."

57. So Ptolemee went out of Egypt, with Cleopatra his daughter: and he came to Ptolemais in the hundred and sixty second year.

58. And king Alexander met him, and he gave him his daughter Cleopatra: and he celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais, with great glory after the manner of kings.

59. And king Alexander wrote to Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.

60. And he went honourably to Ptolemais; and he met there the two kings; and he gave them much silver, and gold, and presents: and he found favour in their sight.

61. And some pestilent men of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to accuse him: and the king gave no heed to them.

62. And he commanded, that Jonathan's garments should be taken off, and that he should be clothed with purple: and they did so. And the king made him sit by himself.

63. And he said to his princes: "Go out with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause."

64. So when his accusers saw his glory proclaimed, and him clothed with purple, they all fled away.

65. And the king magnified him, and enrolled him amongst his chief friends, and made him governor, and partaker of his dominion.

66. And Jonathan returned into Jerusalem with peace and joy.

67. In the year one hundred and sixty-five, Demetrius the son of Demetrius came from Crete into the land of his fathers.

68. And king Alexander heard of it, and was much troubled, and returned to Antioch.

69. And king Demetrius made Apollonius his general, who was governor of Cefelyria: and he gathered together a great army, and came to Jamnia: and he sent to Jonathan the high-priest,

70. Saying: "Thou alone standest against us, and I am laughed at, and reproached, because thou shewest thy power against us in the mountains.

71. "Now therefore if thou trust in thy forces, come down to us into the plain; and there let us try one another: for with me is the strength of war.

72. "Ask, and learn who I am, and the rest, who help me, who also say that your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have twice been put to flight in their own land:

73. "And now how wilt thou be able to abide the horsemen, and so great an army in the plain; where there is no stone, nor rock, nor place to flee to?"

74. Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind: and he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Jerusalem; and Simon his brother met him to help him.

75. And they pitched their tents near Joppe; but they shut him out of the city, because a garrison of Apollonius was in Joppe: and he laid siege to it.

76. And those, who were in the city, being affrighted, opened the gates to him: so Jonathan took Joppe.

77. And Apollonius heard of it: and he took three thousand horsemen, and a great army.

78. And he went to Azotus as one, who was making a journey, and immediately he went forth into the plain: because he had a great number of horsemen, and he trusted in them. And Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, and they joined battle.

79. And Apollonius left privately in the camp a thousand horsemen behind them.

80. And Jonathan knew, that there was an ambush

* Ptolemee, Surnamed Philometor, cade behind him : and they surrounded his army, and cast darts the people from morning till evening.

81. But the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them : and to their horses were fatigued.

82. Then Simon drew forth his army, and attacked the legion of the footmen : for the horsemen were spent : and they were discomfited by him, and fled.

83. And those, who were scattered about the plain, fled into Azotus, and went into Bethdagon their idol's temple, there to save themselves.

84. But Jonathan set fire to Azotus, and the cities, which were round about it, and took the spoils of them, and the temple of Dagon : and all those, who were fled into it, he burnt with fire.

85. So those, who were slain by the sword, with those, who were burnt, were almost eight thousand men.

86. And Jonathan removed his army from thence, and camped against Ascalon : and they went out of the city to meet him with great honour.

87. And Jonathan returned into Jerusalem with his people, having many spoils.

88. And it came to pass, when Alexander the king heard these words, that he honoured Jonathan yet more.

89. And he sent him a buckle of gold, as the custom is to be given to such as are of the royal blood. And he gave him Accaron, and all the borders thereof in possession.

C H A P. XI.

Ptolemee invades the kingdom of Alexander : the latter is slain : and the former dies soon after. Demetrius honours Jonathan, and is rescued by the Jews from his own subjects in Antioch. Antiochus the younger favours Jonathan. His exploits in divers places.

AND the king of Egypt gathered together an army, like the sand, which lieth upon the sea-shore, and many ships : and he sought to get the kingdom of Alexander by deceit, and join it to his own kingdom.

2. And he went out into Syria with peaceable words : and they opened to him the cities, and met him : for king Alexander had ordered them to go forth to meet him : because he was his father-in-law.

3. Now when Ptolemee entered into the cities, he put garrisons of soldiers in every city.

4. And when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon, which was burned with fire, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof, which were destroyed, and the bodies, which were cast abroad, and the graves of those, who were slain in the battle, which they had made near the way.

5. And they told the king, that Jonathan had done these things, to make him odious : but the king held his peace.

6. And Jonathan came to meet the king at Joppe with glory : and they saluted one another : and they lodged there.

7. And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river, called Eleutherus, and he returned into Jerusalem.

8. And king Ptolemee got the dominion of the cities by the sea-side, even to Seleucia : and he devised evil designs against Alexander.

9. And he sent ambassadors to Demetrius, saying : " Come, let us make a league between us : and I will give thee my daughter, whom Alexander hath : and thou shalt reign in the kingdom of thy father.

10. " For I repent, that I have given him my daughter : for he hath sought to kill me."

11. And he slandered him, because he coveted his kingdom.

12. And he took away his daughter, and gave her to Demetrius, and alienated himself from Alexander : and his enmities were made manifest.

13. And Ptolemee entered into Antioch, and set two crowns upon his head, that of Egypt and that of Asia.

14. Now king Alexander was in Cilicia at that time : because those, who were in those places, had rebelled.

15. And when Alexander heard of it, he came to give him battle : and king Ptolemee brought forth his army, and met him with a strong power, and put him to flight.

16. And Alexander fled into Arabia, there to be protected : and king Ptolemee was exalted.

17. And Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemee.

18. And king Ptolemee died the third day after : and those, who were in the strong-holds, were destroyed by those, who were within the camp.

19. And Demetrius reigned the hundred and sixty seventh year.

20. In those days Jonathan gathered together those, who were in Judea, to take the castle, which was in Jerusalem : and they made many engines of war against it.

21. Then some wicked men, who hated their own nation, went away to king Demetrius, and told him, that Jonathan was besieging the castle.

22. And when he heard it, he was angry : and forthwith he came to Ptolemais, and wrote to Jonathan, that he should not besiege the castle, but should come to him in haste and speak to him.

23. But when Jonathan heard this, he bade them besiege it still : and he chose some of the ancients of Israel, and of the priests, and put himself in danger.

24. And he took gold, and silver, and raiment, and many other presents, and went to the king to Ptolemais : and he found favour in his sight.

25. And certain wicked men of his nation made complaints against him.

26. And the king treated him as his predecessors had done before : and he exalted him in the sight of all his friends :

27. And he confirmed him in the high priesthood, and all the honours he had done before : and he made him the chief of his friends.

28. And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judea free from tribute, and the three governments, and Samaria, and the confines thereof : and he promised him three hundred talents.

29. And the king consented : and he wrote letters to Jonathan of all these things, to this effect :

30. " King Demetrius to his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting.

31. "We send you here a copy of the letter, which we have written to Lathenes our parent, concerning you, that ye might know it.

32. "King Demetrius to Lathenes his parent, greeting.

33. "We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and keep the things, which are just with us, for their good-will, which they bear towards us.

34. "We have ratified therefore unto them all the borders of Judea, and the three cities, Apberema, Lyda, and Ramatha, which are added to Judea, out of Samaria, and all their confines, to be set apart to all those; who sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the payments, which the king received of them every year, and for the fruits of the land, and of the trees.

35. "And as for other things, which belonged to us of the tithes, and of the tributes, from this time we discharge them of them: the salt-pans, also, and the crowns, which were presented to us,

36. "We give all to them; and nothing hereof shall be revoked from this time forth and for ever.

37. "Now therefore see, that thou make a copy of these things; and let it be given to Jonathan, and set upon the holy mountain, in a conspicuous place."

38. And king Demetrius seeing, that the land was quiet before him and nothing resisted him, sent away all his forces, every man to his own place, except the foreign army, which he had drawn together from the islands of the nations: so all the troops of his fathers hated him.

39. Now there was one Tryphon, who had been of Alexander's party before: who seeing that all the army murmured against Demetrius, went to Emakhu-el the Arabian, who brought up Antiochus the son of Alexander:

40. And he pressed him much to deliver him to him, that he might be king in his father's place: and he told him all, that Demetrius had done, and how his soldiers hated him. And he remained there many days.

41. And Jonathan sent to king Demetrius, desiring that he would cast out those, who were in the castle in Jerusalem, and who were in the strong-holds; because they fought against Israel.

42. And Demetrius sent to Jonathan, saying: "I will not only do this for thee, and for thy people; but I will greatly honour thee, and thy nation, when opportunity shall serve.

43. "Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men to help me; for all my army is gone from me."

44. And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men to Antioch: and they came to the king; and the king was very glad of their coming.

45. And those, who were of the city, assembled themselves together, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have killed the king.

46. And the king fled into the palace: and they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight.

47. And the king called the Jews to his assistance:

and they came to him all at once; and they all dispersed themselves through the city.

48. And they slew in that day a hundred thousand men: and they set fire to the city, and got many spoils that day, and delivered the king.

49. And those, who were of the city, saw, that the Jews had got the city as they would: and they were discouraged in their mind, and cried to the king, making supplication, and saying:

50. "Grant us peace; and let the Jews cease from assaulting us, and the city."

51. And they threw down their arms, and made peace: and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all, who were in his realm, and were renowned throughout the kingdom, and returned to Jerusalem with many spoils.

52. So king Demetrius sat in the throne of his kingdom: and the land was quiet before him.

53. And he falsified his word in all, that ever he had said, and alienated himself from Jonathan, and did not reward him according to the benefits he had received from him, but gave him great trouble.

54. And after this Tryphon returned, and with him Antiochus the young boy, who was made king, and put on the diadem.

55. And there assembled unto him all the bands, which Demetrius had sent away: and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his back, and fled.

56. And Tryphon took the elephants, and made himself master of Antioch.

57. And young Antiochus wrote to Jonathan, saying: "I confirm thee in the high priesthood: and I appoint thee ruler over the four cities, and to be one of the king's friends."

58. And he sent him vessels of gold for his services, and he gave him leave to drink in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to wear a golden buckle:

59. And he made his brother Simon governor from the borders of Tyre even to the coasts of Egypt.

60. Then Jonathan went forth, and passed through the cities beyond the river: and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves to him, to help him: and he came to Ascalon; and they met him honourably out of the city.

61. And he went from thence to Gaza: and those who were in Gaza, shut him out: and he besieged it, and burned all the suburbs round about, and took the spoils.

62. And the men of Gaza made supplication to Jonathan: and he gave them the right hand: and he took their sons for hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem. And he went through the country as far as Damascus.

63. And Jonathan heard, that the generals of Demetrius were come treacherously to Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great army, purposing to remove him from the affairs of the kingdom:

64. And he went against them; but left his brother Simon in the country.

65. And Simon encamped against Bethsura, and assaulted it many days, and shut them up.

66. And they desired him to make peace: and he granted it them: and he cast them out from thence, and took the city, and placed a garrison in it.

67. And Jonathan and his army encamped by the water of Genesar: and before it was light, they were ready in the plain of Asor.

68. And behold, the army of the strangers met him in the plain: and they laid an ambush for him in the mountains: but he went out against them.

69. And those, who lay in ambush, rose out of their places, and joined battle.

70. And all those, who were on Jonathan's side, fled: and none was left of them, but Mathathias the son of Abshalom, and Judas the son of Calphi, chief captain of the army.

71. And Jonathan rent his garments, and cast earth upon his head, and prayed.

72. And Jonathan turned again to them to battle: and he put them to flight: and they fought.

73. And those, of his side, who were fled, saw this: and they turned again to him: and they all with him pursued the enemies even to Cades, to their own camp: and they came even thither.

74. And there fell of the aliens in that day three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

C H A P. XII.

Jonathan renews his league with the Romans and Lacedæmonians. The forces of Demetrius flee away from him. He is deceived and made prisoner by Tryphon.

AND Jonathan saw, that the time served him: and he chose certain men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and to renew the amity with them:

2. And he sent letters to the Spartans, and to other places according to the same form.

3. And they went to Rome, and entered into the senate-house, and said: "Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews have sent us to renew the amity and alliance, as it was before."

4. And they gave them letters to their governors in every place, to conduct them into the land of Judæa with peace.

5. And this is a copy of the letters, which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

6. "Jonathan the high priest, and the ancients of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, to the Spartans, their brethren, greeting.

7. "There were letters sent long ago to Onias the high priest from Arius, who reigned then among you, to signify, that ye are our brethren, as the copy, here underwritten, doth specify.

8. "And Onias received the ambassador with honour: and received the letters, wherein there was mention made of the alliance and amity.

9. "We, though we needed none of these things, having for our comfort the holy books, which are in our hands,

10. "Chose rather to send to you to renew the brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers to you altogether: for there has a long time passed since ye sent to us.

11. "We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our festivals, and other days, wherein it is convenient, remember you in the sacrifices, which we offer, and in our observances, as it is meet and becoming to remember brethren.

12. "And we rejoice at your glory.

13. "But we have had many troubles and wars on every side: and the kings, who are round about us, have fought against us.

14. "But we would not be troublesome to you, nor to the rest of our allies and friends in these wars.

15. "For we have had help from heaven: and we have been delivered: and our enemies are humbled.

16. "We have chosen therefore Nemenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them to the Romans to renew with them the former amity and alliance.

17. "And we have commanded them to go also to you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18. "And now ye shall do well to give us an answer hereto."

19. And this is the copy of the letter, which he had sent to Onias:

20. "Arius king of the Spartans to Onias the high priest, greeting.

21. "It is found in writing concerning the Spartans, and the Jews, that they are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham.

22. "And now since this is come to our knowledge, ye do well to write to us of your prosperity.

23. "And we also have written back to you, that our cattle, and our possessions, are yours—and yours, ours. We therefore have commanded, that these things should be told you."

24. Now Jonathan heard that the generals of Demetrius were come again with a greater army than before, to fight against him.

25. So he went out from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of Amath: for he gave them no time to enter into his country.

26. And he sent spies into their camp: and they came back, and brought him word, that they designed to come upon them in the night.

27. And when the sun was set, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms all night ready to fight: and he set centinels round about the camp.

28. And the enemies heard, that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle: and they were struck with fear and dread in their heart: and they kindled fires in their camp.

29. But Jonathan and those, who were with him, knew it not till the morning: for they saw the lights burning:

30. And Jonathan pursued after them, but overtook them not: for they had passed the river Eleutherus.

31. And Jonathan turned upon the Arabians, who are called Zabadeans: and he defeated them, and took their spoils.

32. And he went forward, and came to Damascus, and passed through all that country.

33. Simon also went forth, and came as far as Ascalon, and the neighbouring fortresses: and he turned aside to Joppe, and took possession of it.

34. (For he heard, that they designed to deliver the hold to those, who took part with Demetrius; and he put a garrison there to keep it.

35. And Jonathan came back, and called together the ancients of the people; and he took a resolution with them, to build fortresses in Judea,

36. And to build up walls in Jerusalem, and raise a mount between the castle and the city, to separate it from the city, that so it might have no communication, and that they might neither buy nor sell:

37. And they came together to build up the city: for the wall, which was upon the brook towards the east, was broken down: and he repaired that, which is called Caphetetha:

38. And Simon built Adiada in Sephela, and fortified it, and set up its gates and bars.

39. Now when Tryphon had conceived a design to make himself king of Asia, and to take the crown, and to stretch out his hand against king Antiochus:

40. Fearing lest Jonathan would not suffer him, but would fight against him: he sought to seize upon him, and to kill him. So he rose up, and came to Bethsan.

41. And Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to Bethsan.

42. Now when Tryphon saw, that Jonathan came with a great army, he durst not stretch forth his hand against him:

43. But received him with honour, and commended him to all his friends, and gave him presents: and he commanded his troops to obey him, as himself.

44. And he said to Jonathan: "Why hast thou troubled all the people, whereas we have no war?"

45. "Now therefore send them back to their own houses: and choose thee a few men, who may be with thee, and come with me to Ptolemais; and I will deliver it to thee, and the rest of the strong-holds, and the army, and all, who have any charge: and I will return, and go away: for this is the cause of my coming."

46. And Jonathan believed him, and did as he said; and sent away his army: and they departed into the land of Juda:

47. But he kept with him three thousand men: of whom he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him.

48. Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates of the city, and took him: and all those, who came in with him, they slew with the sword.

49. Then Tryphon sent an army and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's company.

50. But they, when they understood that Jonathan, and all, who were with him, were taken and slain, encouraged one another, and went out ready for battle.

51. Then those, who had come after them, seeing that they stood for their lives, returned back.

52. Whereupon they all came peaceably into the land of Juda. And they bewailed Jonathan, and those, who had been with him, exceedingly: and Israel mourned with great lamentation.

53. Then all the heathens, who were round about them, sought to destroy them: for they said:

54. "They have no prince, nor any to help them: now therefore let us make war upon them, and away the memory of them from among men."

C H A P. XIII.

Simon is made captain general in the room of his brother Jonathan is slain by Tryphon. Simon is favoured by Demetrius: he taketh Gaza, and the castle of Jerusalem.

NOW Simon heard, that Tryphon was gathered together a very great army, to invade the land of Juda, and to destroy it:

1. And seeing, that the people were in dread, and in fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and assembled the people:

2. And exhorted them, saying: "Ye know what battles I and my brethren, and the house of my father, have fought for the laws, and the sanctuary, and the distressed that we have seen:

3. "By reason whereof all my brethren have given their lives for Israel's sake; and I am left alone:

4. "And now far be it from me to spare my life, any time of trouble: for I am not better than my brethren.

5. "I will avenge then my nation and the sanctuary, and our children and wives: for all the heathens are gathered together to destroy us out of mere malice."

6. And the spirit of the people was enkindled as fire, as they heard these words:

7. And they answered with a loud voice, saying: "Thou art our leader in the place of Judas, and more than thy brother.

8. "Fight thou our battles; and we will do whatsoever thou shalt say to us."

9. So gathering together all the men of war, he made haste to finish all the walls of Jerusalem: and he fortified it round about.

10. And he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, with him a new army into Joppe: and he cast out those, who were in it; and himself remained there.

11. And Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a great army, to invade the land of Juda; and Jonathan was with him in custody.

12. But Simon pitched in Addus, over-against the plain.

13. And when Tryphon understood, that Simon was risen up in the place of his brother Jonathan, and that he meant to join battle with him, he sent messengers to him,

14. Saying: "We have detained thy brother Jonathan for the money, which he owed in the king's account, by reason of the affairs, which he had the management of."

15. "But now send a hundred talents of silver, and his two sons for hostages, that when he is set at liberty, he may not revolt from us; and we will release him."

16. Now Simon knew, that he spoke deceitfully to him; nevertheless he ordered the money and the children to be sent: lest he should bring upon himself a great hatred of the people of Israel, who might have said:

18. "Because he sent not the money, and the children, therefore is he lost."

19. So he sent the children, and the hundred talents: and he lied, and did not let Jonathan go.

20. And after this Tryphon entered within the country, to destroy it: and they went about by the way, which leadeth to Ador: and Simon and his army marched against him to every place, whithersoever he went.

21. And those, who were in the castle, sent messengers to Tryphon, that he should make haste to come through the desert, and send them victuals.

22. And Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night: but there fell a very great snow: and he came not, but went into the country of Galaad.

23. And when he came near to Balcama, he slew Jonathan and his sons there.

24. And Tryphon returned, and went into his own country.

25. And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modin, the city of his fathers.

26. And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation: and they mourned for him many days.

27. And Simon built over the sepulchre of his father, and of his brethren, a building aloft to the sight, of polished stone behind and before:

28. And he set up seven pyramids one against another for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren:

29. And round about these he set great pillars—and upon the pillars arms for a perpetual memory—and by the arms ships carved, which might be seen by all, who sailed on the sea.

30. This is the sepulchre, which he made in Modin, even unto this day.

31. But Tryphon, when he was upon a journey with the young king Antiochus, treacherously slew him.

32. And he reigned in his place, and put on the crown of Asia: and brought great evils upon the land.

33. And Simon built up the strong-holds of Judea, fortifying them with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars: and he stored up victuals in the fortresses.

34. And Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end, that he should grant an immunity to the land: for all, that Tryphon did, was to spoil.

35. And king Demetrius, in answer to this request, wrote a letter in this manner:

36. "King Demetrius to Simon the high priest, and friend of kings, and to the ancients, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting.

37. "The golden crown, and the palm, which ye sent, we have received: and we are ready to make a firm peace with you, and to write to the king's chief officers to release you the things, which we have released.

38. "For all, that we have decreed in your favour, shall stand in force. The strong-holds, that ye have built, shall be your own.

39. "And as for any oversight or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the crown, which ye owed: and if any other thing were taxed in Jerusalem, now let it not be taxed.

40. "And if any of you be fit to be enrolled among ours, let them be enrolled: and let there be peace between us."

41. Thus in the year one hundred and seventy, the yoke of the Gentiles was taken off from Israel.

42. And the people of Israel began to write in the instruments and public records, "The first year under Simon the high priest, the great captain, and prince of the Jews."

43. In those days Simon besieged Gaza, and camped round about it: and he made engines, and set them to the city: and he struck one tower, and took it.

44. And those, who were within the engine, leaped into the city: and there was a great uproar in the city.

45. And those, who were in the city, went up with their wives and children upon the wall, with their garments rent: and they cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon to grant them peace:

46. And they said: "Deal not with us according to our evil deeds, but according to thy mercy."

47. And Simon being moved, did not destroy them: but yet he cast them out of the city, and cleansed the houses, wherein there had been idols: and then he entered into it with hymns, blessing the Lord:

48. And having cast out of it all uncleanness, he placed in it men, who should observe the law: and he fortified it, and made it his habitation.

49. But those, who were in the castle of Jerusalem, were hindered from going out and coming into the country, and from buying and selling: and they were straitened with hunger: and many of them perished for famine:

50. And they cried to Simon for peace: and he granted it to them: and he cast them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from uncleanness:

51. And they entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the year one hundred and seventy one, with thanksgiving, and branches of palm trees, and harps, and cymbals, and psalteries, and hymns, and canticles: because the great enemy was destroyed out of Israel.

52. And he ordained, that these days should be kept every year with gladness.

53. And he fortified the mountain of the temple, which was near the castle: and he dwelt there himself, and those, who were with him.

54. And Simon saw, that John his son was a valiant man for war: and he made him captain of all the forces: and he dwelt in Gazara.

C H A P. XIV.

Demetrius is taken by the king of Persia. Judea flourishes under the government of Simon.

IN the year one hundred and seventy two, king Demetrius assembled his army, and went into Media to get him succours to fight against Tryphon.

2. And Arsaces the king of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entered within his borders: and he sent one of his princes to take him alive, and bring him to him.

3. And he went, and defeated the army of Demetrius; and took him, and brought him to Ariaces; and he put him into custody.

4. And all the land of Juda was at rest all the days of Simon; and he sought the good of his nation; and his power and his glory pleased them well all his days.

5. And with all his glory he took Joppe for a haven, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea.

6. And he enlarged the bounds of his nation, and made himself master of the country.

7. And he gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara, and of Bethsura, and of the castle; and took away all uncleanness out of it; and there was none, who resisted him.

8. And every man tilled his land with peace; and the land of Juda yielded her increase, and the trees of the fields their fruit.

9. The ancient men sat all in the streets, and treated together of the good things of the land; and the young men put on them glory, and the robes of war.

10. And he provided victuals for the cities; and he appointed, that they should be furnished with ammunition; so that the fame of his glory was renowned even to the end of the earth.

11. He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy.

12. And every man sat under his vine, and under his fig-tree; and there was none to make them afraid.

13. There was none left in the land to fight against them; kings were discomfited in those days.

14. And he strengthened all those of his people, who were brought low; and he sought the law, and took away every unjust and wicked man.

15. He glorified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the holy places.

16. And it was heard at Rome, and as far as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead; and they were very sorry.

17. But when they heard, that Simon his brother was made high priest in his place, and was possessed of all the country, and the cities therein;

18. They wrote to him in tables of brass, to renew the friendship and alliance, which they had made with Judas and with Jonathan his brethren.

19. And they were read before the assembly in Jerusalem. And this is the copy of the letters, that the Spartans sent.

20. "The princes and the cities of the Spartans to Simon the high priest, and to the ancients, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews their brethren, greeting.

21. "The ambassadors, who were sent to our people, have told us of your glory, and honour, and joy; and we rejoiced at their coming.

22. "And we registered what was said by them in the councils of the people in this manner: 'Nimnienius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, ambassadors of the Jews, came to us to renew the former friendship with us.

23. 'And it pleased the people to receive the men honourably, and to put a copy of their words in the public records, to be a memorial to the people of the Spartans.' And we have written a copy of them to Simon the high priest."

24. And after this, Simon sent Nimnienius to Rome, with a great shield of gold, of the weight of a thousand pounds, to confirm the league with them. And when the people of Rome had heard

25. These words, they said: "What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons?

26. "For he hath restored his brethren, and hath driven away in fight the enemies of Israel from them?" and they decreed him liberty, and registered it in tables of brass, and set it upon pillars in mount Sion.

27. And this is the copy of the writing. The eighteenth day of the month Elul, in the year one hundred and seventy two, being the third year under Simon the high priest at Alaraniel,

28. In a great assembly of the priests, and of the people, and the princes of the nation, and the ancients of the country, these things were notified: Forasmuch as there have often been wars in our country,

29. And Simon the son of Mathathias of the children of Jarib, and his brethren have put themselves in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, for the maintenance of their holy places, and the law; and have raised their nation to great glory.

30. And Jonathan gathered together his nation, and was made their high priest, and he was laid to his people.

31. And their enemies desired to tread down and destroy their country, and to stretch forth their hands against their holy places.

32. Then Simon resisted and fought for his nation, and laid out much of his money, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages.

33. And he fortified the cities of Judea, and Bethsura, that lieth in the borders of Judea, where the armour of the enemies was before; and he placed there a garrison of Jews.

34. And he fortified Joppe, which lieth by the sea, and Gazara, which bordereth upon Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt before; and he placed Jews there; and furnished them with all things convenient for their reparation.

35. And the people seeing the acts of Simon, and to what glory he meant to bring his nation, made him their prince, and high priest; because he had done all these things, and for the justice and faith, which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to advance his people.

36. And in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the heathens were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David in Jerusalem in the castle, out of which they issued forth, and profaned all places round about the sanctuary, and did much evil to purity;

37. And he placed therein Jews for the defence of the country, and of the city; and he raised up the walls of Jerusalem.

38. And king Demetrius confirmed him in the high priesthood.

39. According to these things he made him his friend, and glorified him with great glory.

40. For he had heard, that the Romans had called the Jews their friends, and confederates, and brethren, and that they had received Simon's ambassadors with honour :

41. And that the Jews and their priests had consented, that he should be their prince, and high priest for ever, till there should arise a faithful prophet :

42. And that he should be chief over them, and that he should have the charge of the sanctuary, and that he should appoint rulers over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the strong-holds :

43. And that he should have care of the holy places : and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name : and that he should be clothed with purple, and gold :

44. And that it should not be lawful for any of the people, or of the priests, to disannul any of these things, or to gain-say his words, or to call together an assembly in the country without him—or to be clothed with purple, or to wear a buckle of gold.

45. And whosoever shall do otherwise, or shall make void any of these things, shall be punished.

46. And it pleased all the people to establish Simon, and to do according to these words.

47. And Simon accepted thereof, and was well pleased to execute the office of the high priesthood, and to be captain and prince of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests, and to be chief over all.

48. And they commanded, that this writing should be put in tables of brass ; and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary, in a conspicuous place :

49. And that a copy thereof should be put in the treasury, that Simon and his sons may have it.

C H A P. XV.

Antiochus son of Demetrius honours Simon. The Romans write to divers nations in favour of the Jews. Antiochus quarrels with Simon, and sends troops to annoy him.

AN D king Antiochus the son of Demetrius sent letters from the isles of the sea to Simon the priest, and prince of the nation of the Jews, and to all the people :

2. And the contents were these : " King Antiochus to Simon the high priest, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting.

3. " Forasmuch as certain pestilent men have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge the kingdom, and to restore it to its former estate—and I have chosen a great army, and have built ships of war.

4. " And I design to go through the country, that I may take revenge of those, who have destroyed our country, and who have made many cities desolate in my realm.

5. " Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the oblations, which all the kings before me remitted to thee, and what other gifts soever they remitted to thee :

6. " And I give thee leave to coin thy own money in thy country :

7. " And let Jerusalem be holy and free ; and all the armour, which hath been made, and the fortresses, which thou hast built and which thou keepest in thy hands, let them remain to thee.

VOL. II.

8. " And all, that is due to the king, and what should be the king's hereafter, from this present and for ever, is forgiven thee.

9. " And when we shall have recovered our kingdom, we will glorify thee, and thy nation, and the temple, with great glory ; so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth."

10. In the year one hundred and seventy-four, Antiochus entered into the land of his fathers ; and all the forces assembled to him ; so that few were left with Tryphon.

11. And king Antiochus pursued after him : and he fled along by the sea coast, and came to Dora.

12. For he perceived, that evils were gathered together upon him ; and his troops had forsaken him.

13. And Antiochus camped above Dora with a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horsemen :

14. And he invested the city ; and the ships drew near by sea ; and they annoyed the city by land and by sea, and suffered none to come in, or to go out.

15. And Numenius, and those, who had been with him, came from the city of Rome, having letters written to the kings, and countries, the contents whereof were these :

16. " Lucius the consul of the Romans, to king Ptolemee*, greeting.

17. " The ambassadors of the Jews our friends came to us, to renew the former friendship and alliance, being sent from Simon the high priest, and the people of the Jews.

18. " And they brought also a shield of gold, of a thousand pounds.

19. " It hath seemed good therefore to us, to write to the kings, and countries, that they should do them no harm, nor fight against them, their cities, or countries ; and that they should give no aid to those, who fight against them.

20. " And it hath seemed good to us, to receive the shield of them.

21. " If therefore any pestilent men be fled out of their country to you, deliver them to Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their law."

22. These same things were written to king Demetrius, and to Attalus†, and to Ariarathes, and to Arsaces,

23. And to all the countries, and to Lampascus, and to the Spartans, and to Delus, and Myndus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and Samus, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Alicarnassus, and Cos, and Side, and Aradus, and Rhodes, and Phaselis, and Gortyna, and Gnidos, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24. And they wrote a copy thereof to Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Jews.

25. But king Antiochus moved his camp to Dora the second time, assailing it continually, and making engines: and he shut up Tryphon, that he could not go out.

26. And Simon sent to him two thousand chosen men to aid him—silver also, and gold, and abundance of furniture.

27. And he would not receive them, but broke all the covenant, which he had made with him before, and alienated himself from him.

28. And he sent to him Athenobius one of his friends, to treat with him, saying: "Ye hold Joppe, and Gazara, and the castle, which is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my kingdom:

29. " Their borders ye have wasted, and ye have made great havock in the land, and have got the dominion of many places in my kingdom.

30. " Now therefore deliver up the cities, which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places, whereof ye have gotten the dominion, without the borders of Judea.

31. " But if not, give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the havock, which you have made, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come, and fight against you."

32. So Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem, and saw the glory of Simon, and his magnificence in gold, and silver, and his great equipage: and he was astonished, and told him the king's words.

33. And Simon answered him, and said to him: " We have neither taken other men's land; neither do we hold that which is other men's; but the inheritance of our fathers, which was for some time unjustly possessed by our enemies.

34. " But we having opportunity claim the inheritance of our fathers.

35. " And as to thy complaints concerning Joppe, and Gazara, they did great harm to the people, and to our country: yet for these we will give a hundred talents." And Athenobius answered him not a word;

36. But returning in a rage to the king, he made report to him of these words, and of the glory of Simon, and of all, that he had seen: and the king was exceedingly angry.

37. And Tryphon fled away by ship to Orthosias.

38. And the king appointed Cendebeus captain of the sea coast, and gave him an army of footmen and horsemen.

39. And he commanded him to march with his army towards Judea: and he commanded him to build up Gedor, and to fortify the gates of the city, and to war against the people. But the king himself pursued after Tryphon.

40. And Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to ravage Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and to kill, and to build Gedor,

41. And he placed there horsemen, and an army; that they might issue forth, and make incursions upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

The sons of Simon defeat the troops of Antiochus. Simon, with two of his sons, are treacherously murdered by Ptolemy his son-in-law.

THEN John* came up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus had done against their people.

2. And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said to them: " I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have fought against the enemies of Israel from our youth even to this day: and things have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes.

3. " And now I am old; but be ye instead of me, and my brethren; and go out, and fight for our nation: and the help from heaven be with you."

4. Then he chose out of the country twenty thousand fighting men, and horsemen: and they went forth against Cendebeus: and they rested in Modin.

5. And they arose in the morning, and went into the plain: and behold, a very great army of footmen and horsemen came against them: and there was a running river between them.

6. And he† and his people pitched their camp over-against them: and he saw, that the people were afraid to go over the river; so he went over first: then the men seeing him, passed over after him.

7. And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: but the horsemen of the enemies were very numerous.

8. And they sounded the holy trumpets: and Cendebeus and his army were put to flight: and there fell many of them wounded, and the rest fled into the stronghold.

9. At that time Judas, John's brother, was wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came to Cedron†, which he had built:

10. And they fled even to the towers, which were in the fields of Azotus, and he burned them with fire. And there fell of them two thousand men: and he returned into Judea in peace.

11. Now Ptolemy the son of Abobus was appointed captain in the plain of Jericho: and he had abundance of silver and gold:

12. For he was son-in-law of the high priest.

13. And his heart was lifted up: and he delighted to make himself master of the country: and he purposed treachery against Simon, and his sons, to destroy them.

14. Now Simon, as he was going through the cities, which were in the country of Judea, and taking care for the good ordering of them, went down to Jericho, he, and Mathathias, and Judas, his sons, in the year one hundred and seventy seven, the eleventh month: the same is the month Sabbath.

15. And the son of Abobus received them deceitfully into a little fortress, which is called Doth, which he had built: and he made them a great feast, and hid men there.

* John. He was afterwards surnamed Hircanus, and succeeded his father in both his dignities of high priest and prince. He conquered the Edomites, and obliged them to a conformity with the Jews in religion; and destroyed the schismatical temple of the Samaritans.

† He, viz. John.

† Cedron. Otherwise called Gedor, the city, that Cendebeus was fortifying.

16. And when Simon and his sons had drunk plentifully, Ptolemee and his men rose up, and took their weapons, and entered into the banquetting-place, and slew him and his two sons, and some of his servants.

17. And he committed a great treachery in Israel, and rendered evil for good.

18. And Ptolemee wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him an army to slay him, and he would deliver him the country, and their cities, and tributes.

19. And he sent others to Gazara, to kill John, and to the tribunes he sent letters, to come to him, and that he would give them silver, and gold, and gifts.

20. And he sent others to take Jerusalem, and the mountain of the temple.

21. Now one running before, told John in Gazara, that his father and his brethren were slain, and that he hath sent men to kill thee also.

22. But when he heard it, he was exceedingly afraid: and he apprehended the men, who came to kill him; and he put them to death: for he knew, that they sought to make him away.

23. And as concerning the rest of the acts of John, and his wars, and the worthy deeds, which he bravely achieved, and the building of the walls, which he made, and the things, that he did:

24. Behold, these are written in the book of the days of the priesthood, from the time, when he was made high priest after his father.

The Second Book of MACHABEES†.

CHAP. I.

Letters of the Jews of Jerusalem to those, who were in Egypt. They give thanks for their delivery from Antiochus: and exhort their brethren to keep the feast of the dedication of the altar, and of the miraculous fire.

TO the brethren, the Jews, who are throughout Egypt, the brethren, the Jews, who are in Jerusalem, and in the land of Judea, send health, and good peace.

2. "May God be gracious to you, and remember his covenant, which he made with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants:

3. "And give you all a heart to worship him, and to do his will with a great heart, and a willing mind.

4. "May he open your heart in his law, and in his commandments, and send you peace.

5. "May he hear your prayers, and be reconciled unto you, and never forsake you in the evil time.

6. "And now here we are praying for you.

7. "When Demetrius reigned, in the year one hundred and sixty-nine, we Jews wrote to you, in the trouble and violence, which came upon us in those years, after Jason withdrew himself from the holy land, and from the kingdom.

8. "They burnt the gate, and shed innocent blood: then we prayed to the Lord, and were heard; and we offered sacrifices, and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and set forth the loaves.

9. "And now celebrate ye the days of Scenopegia† in the month of Casleu.

† Second, &c. This second book of Machabees is not a continuation of the history contained in the first; nor does it come down so low as the first does: but relates many of the same facts more at large, and adds other remarkable particulars, omitted in the first book, relating to the state of the Jews, as well before, as under the persecution of Antiochus. The author, who is not the same with that of the first book, has given (as we learn from chap. ii. 20. &c.) a short abstract of what Jason of Cyrene had written in the five volumes, concerning Judas and his brethren. He wrote in Greek, and begins with two letters, sent by the Jews of Jerusalem, to their brethren in Egypt.

† Scenopegia, viz. The Encenia, or feast of the dedication

10. "In the year one hundred and eighty-eight, the people, who are at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the senate, and Judas, to Aristobulus, the preceptor of king Ptolemee, who is of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews, who are in Egypt, health, and welfare.

11. "Having been delivered by God out of great dangers, we give him great thanks, forasmuch as we have been in war with such a king*.

12. "For he made numbers of men swarm out of Persia, who have fought against us, and the holy city.

13. "For when the leader himself was in Persia, and with him a very great army, he fell in the temple of Nanea|| being deceived by the counsel of the priests of Nanea.

14. "For Antiochus, with his friends, came to the place as if he would marry her, and that he might receive great sums of money under the title of a dowry.

15. "And when the priests of Nanea had set it forth, and he with a small company had entered into the compartments of the temple, they shut the temple.

16. "When Antiochus had come in: and opening a secret entrance of the temple, they cast stones, and slew the leader, and those, who were with him, and hewed them in pieces; and cutting off their heads, they threw them forth.

17. "Blessed be God in all things, who hath delivered up the wicked.

18. "Therefore whereas we purpose to keep the purification of the temple on the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu, we thought it necessary to signify it to you; that ye also may keep the day of Scenoof the altar, called here Scenopegia, or feast of tabernacles, from being celebrated with the like solemnity.

* Such a king, viz. Antiochus Sidetes, who began to make war upon the Jews, whilst Simon was yet alive, 1 Mach. xv. 39; and afterwards besieged Jerusalem under John Hircanus. So that the Judas here mentioned, ver. 20, is not Judas Machabees, who was dead long before the year 188; but either Judas the eldest son of John Hircanus, or Judas the Effie, renowned for the gift of prophecy, who flourished about that time.

pegla, and the day of the fire, which was given when Nehemias offered sacrifice, after the temple and the altar were built.

19. "For when our fathers were led into Persia*, the priests, who then were worshippers of God, took privately the fire from the altar, and hid it in a valley, where there was a deep pit without water; and there they kept it safe; so that the place was unknown to all men.

20. "But when many years had passed, and it pleased God that Nehemias should be sent by the king of Persia, he sent some of the posterity of those priests, who had hid it, to seek for the fire: and as they told us, they found no fire, but thick water.

21. "Then he bade them draw it up, and bring it to him: and the priest Nehemias commanded the sacrifices, which were laid on, to be sprinkled with the same water, both the wood, and the things, which were laid upon it.

22. "And when this was done, and the time came, when the sun shone out, which before was in a cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that all wondered.

23. "And all the priests made prayer, while the sacrifice was consuming, Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering.

24. "And the prayer of Nehemias was after this manner: 'O Lord God, Creator of all things, dreadful and strong, just and merciful, who alone art the good king,

25. 'Who alone art gracious, who alone art just, and Almighty, and eternal, who deliverest Israel from all evil, who didst choose the fathers, and didst sanctify them:

26. 'Receive the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and preserve thy own portion, and sanctify it.

27. 'Gather together our scattered people: deliver those, who are slaves to the Gentiles, and look upon those, who are despised and abhorred; that the Gentiles may know, that thou art our God.

28. 'Punish those, who oppress us, and who treat us injuriously with pride.

29. 'Establish thy people in thy holy place, as Moses hath spoken.'

30. "And the priests sung hymns, till the sacrifice was consumed.

31. "And when the sacrifice was consumed, Nehemias commanded the water, which was left, to be poured out upon the great stones:

32. "Which being done, there was kindled a flame from them: but it was consumed by the light, which shone from the altar.

33. "And when this matter became public, it was told to the king of Persia, that in the place, where the priests, who were led away, had hidden the fire, there appeared water, with which Nehemias, and those, who were with him, had purified the sacrifices.

34. "And the king considering, and diligently examining the matter, made a temple† for it, that he might prove what had happened.

35. "And when he had proved it, he gave the priests many goods, and divers presents: and he took and distributed them to them with his own hand.

36. "And Nehemias called this place Nephthar, which is interpreted, purification. But many call it Nepht.

CHAP. II.

A continuation of the second letter. Of Jeremiah's hiding the ark at the time of the captivity. The author's preface.

"NOW it is found in the descriptions† of Jeremiah the prophet, that he commanded those, who went into captivity, to take the fire, as it hath been signified, and how he gave charge to those, who were carried away into captivity:

2. "And how he gave them the law, that they should not forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not err in their minds, seeing the idols of gold, and silver, and the ornaments of them.

3. "And with other such like speeches, he exhorted them, that they would not remove the law from their heart."

4. It was also contained in the same writing, how the prophet, being warned by God, commanded, that the tabernacle and the ark should accompany him, till he came forth to the mountain, where Moses went up, and saw the inheritance of God.

5. And when Jeremiah came thither, he found a hollow cave: and he carried in thither the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the door.

6. Then some of those, who followed him, came up to mark the place: but they could not find it.

7. And when Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying: "The place shall be unknown, till God gather together the congregation of the people, and receive them to mercy.

8. "And then the Lord will shew these things, and the majesty of the Lord shall appear, and there shall be a cloud, as it was also shewn to Moses, and as he shewed it when Solomon prayed that the place might be sanctified to the great God.

9. "For he treated wisdom in a magnificent manner, and like a wise man, he offered the sacrifice of the dedication, and of the finishing of the temple.

10. "And as Moses prayed to the Lord, and he came down from heaven, and consumed the holocaust; so Solomon also prayed, and fire came down from heaven, and consumed the holocaust.

11. "And Moses said: 'Because the sin-offering was not eaten, it was consumed.'

12. "So Solomon also celebrated the dedication eight days.

13. "And these same things were set down in the memoirs and commentaries of Nehemias: and how he made a library, and gathered together out of the countries, the books both of the prophets, and of David.

the place, where the fire was hidden, to separate it from profane uses, to the end, that it might be respected as a holy place.

and the epistles of the kings, and concerning the holy gifts.

14. "And in like manner Judas also gathered together all such things, as were lost by the war we had; and they are in our possession.

15. "Wherefore if ye want these things, send some, who may bring them to you.

16. "As we are then about to celebrate the purification*, we have written unto you: and ye shall do well, if ye keep the same days.

17. "And we hope that God, who hath delivered his people, and hath rendered to all the inheritance, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary,

18. "As he promised in the law, will shortly have mercy upon us, and will gather us together from every land under heaven, into the holy place.

19. "For he hath delivered us out of great perils, and hath cleansed the place."

20. Now as concerning Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar,

21. As also the wars against Antiochus the illustrious, and his son Eupator:

22. And the manifestations that came from heaven to those, who behaved themselves manfully on the behalf of the Jews—so that being but a few, they made themselves masters of the whole country, and put to flight the barbarous multitude:

23. And recovered again the most renowned temple in all the world, and delivered the city, and restored the laws that were abolished, the Lord with all clemency shewing mercy to them—

24. And all such things, as have been comprised in five books by Jason of Cyrene, we have attempted to abridge in one book.

25. For considering the multitude of books, and the difficulty, which those find, who desire to undertake the narrations of histories, because of the multitude of the matter:

26. We have taken this care, that those, who are willing to read, might have delight: and that the studious might the more easily commit all to memory: and that all, who read, might receive profit.

27. And as to ourselves indeed, in undertaking this work of abridging, we have taken in hand no easy task, yea rather a business full of watchfulness and sweat.

28. But as those, who prepare a feast, and seek to satisfy the will of others; so we, for the sake of many, willingly undergo the labour,

29. Leaving to the authors the exact handling of every particular, and as for ourselves, according to the plan proposed, studying to be brief.

30. For as the master builder of a new house must have care of the whole building: but he, that taketh care to paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning of it: so must it be judged of us.

31. For to collect all that is to be known, to put the discourse in order, and curiously to discuss every particular point, is the duty of the author of a history.

32. But to pursue brevity of speech, and to avoid nice declarations of things, is to be granted to him, who maketh an abridgment.

33. Here then we will begin the narration: and let this be enough by way of a preface; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story itself.

C H A P. III.

Heliodorus is sent by king Seleucus, to take away the treasures deposited in the temple. He is struck by God, and healed by the prayers of the high priest.

THEREFORE when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws as yet were very well kept, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and the hatred his soul had for evil,

1. It came to pass, that even the kings themselves, and the princes, esteemed the place worthy of the highest honour, and glorified the temple with very great gifts.

2. So that Seleucus*, king of Asia, allowed out of his revenues all the charges belonging to the ministry of the sacrifices.

3. But one Simon, of the tribe of Benjamin, who was appointed overseer of the temple, strove, in opposition to the high priest, to bring about some unjust thing, in the city.

4. And when he could not overcome Onias, he went to Apollonius the son of Thraseas, who at that time was governor of Cœlœsyria and Phenicia;

5. And told him, that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of immense sums of money, and the common store was infinite, which did not belong to the account of the sacrifices: and that it was possible to bring all into the king's hands.

6. Now when Apollonius had given the king notice concerning the money that he was told of, he called Heliodorus, who had the charge over his affairs, and sent him with commission to bring him the foresaid money.

7. So Heliodorus forthwith began his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Cœlœsyria and Phenicia, but indeed to fulfil the king's purpose.

8. And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received in the city by the high priest, he told him what information had been given concerning the money: and declared the cause for which he was come; and asked if these things were so indeed.

9. Then the high priest told him, that these were sums deposited, and provisions for the subsistence of the widows and the fatherless:

10. And that some part of that, which wicked Simon had given intelligence of, belonged to Hircanus

* Seleucus, son of Antiochus the great, and elder brother of Antiochus Epiphanes.

* The purification. That is, the feast of the purifying or cleansing of the temple.

† No easy task. The Spirit of God, that assists the sacred penmen, does not exempt them from labour, in seeking out the matter, which they are to treat of, and the order and manner, in which they are to deliver it. See St. Luke, i. 3.

son of Tobias, a man of great dignity : and that the whole was four hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold :

12. But that, to deceive those, who had trusted to the place and temple, which is honoured throughout the whole world, for the reverence and holiness of it, was a thing, which could not by any means be done.

13. But he, by reason of the orders he had received from the king, said, that by all means the money must be carried to the king.

14. So on the day he had appointed, Heliodorus entered in, to order this matter. But there was no small terror throughout the whole city.

15. And the priests prostrated themselves before the altar in their priests' vestments, and called upon him from heaven, who made the law concerning things given to be kept, that he would preserve them safe, for those, who had deposited them.

16. Now whosoever saw the countenance of the high priest, was wounded in heart : for his face, and the changing of his colour, declared the inward sorrow of his mind.

17. For the man was so compassed with sadness and horror of the body, that it was manifest to those, who beheld him, what sorrow he had in his heart.

18. Others also came flocking together out of their houses, praying and making public supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt.

19. And the women, girded with hair-cloth about their breasts, came together in the streets. And the virgins also, who were shut up, came forth, some to Onias, and some to the walls ; and others looked out of the windows :

20. And all holding up their hands towards heaven, made supplication.

21. For the expectation of the mixt multitude, and of the high priest, who was in an agony, would have moved any one to pity.

22. And these indeed called upon Almighty God, to preserve the things, which had been committed to him, safe and sure for those, who had committed them.

23. But Heliodorus executed that, which he had resolved on, himself being present in the same place, with his guard about the treasury.

24. But the Spirit of the Almighty God gave a great evidence of his presence ; so that all, who had presumed to obey him, falling down by the power of God, were struck with fainting and dread.

25. For there appeared to them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, adorned with a very rich covering : and he ran fiercely, and struck Heliodorus with his fore feet : and he, who sat upon him, seemed to have armour of gold.

26. Moreover there appeared two other young men beautiful and strong, bright and glorious, and in comely apparel ; who stood by him, on either side, and scourged him, without ceasing, with many stripes.

27. And Heliodorus suddenly fell to the ground : and they took him up, covered with great darkness ; and having put him into a litter, they carried him out.

28. So he, who came with many servants, and all his guard, into the foresaid treasury, was carried out ; no one being able to help him, the manifest power of God being known.

29. And he indeed, by the power of God, lay speechless, and without all hope of recovery.

30. But they praised the Lord, because he had glorified his place : and the temple, which, a little before, was full of fear and trouble, when the Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

31. Then some of the friends of Heliodorus forthwith begged of Onias, that he would call upon the most High, to grant him his life, who was ready to give up the ghost.

32. So the high priest considering, that the king might perhaps suspect, that some mischief had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice of health for the recovery of the man.

33. And when the high priest was praying, the same young men, in the same clothing, stood by Heliodorus, and said to him : " Give thanks to Onias the priest : because for his sake, the Lord hath granted thee life.

34. " And thou having been scourged by God, declare unto all men the great works and the power of God." And having spoken thus, they appeared no more.

35. So Heliodorus, after he had offered a sacrifice to God, and made great vows to him, who had granted him life, and given thanks to Onias, taking his troop with him, returned to the king.

36. And he testified to all men the works of the great God, which he had seen with his own eyes.

37. And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once more to Jerusalem, he said :

38. " If thou have any enemy or traitor to thy kingdom, send him thither ; and thou shalt receive him again scourged, if so be he escape : for there is undoubtedly in that place a certain power of God.

39. " For he, who hath his dwelling in the heavens, is the visiter and protector of that place : and he striketh and destroyeth those, who come to do evil to it."

40. And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury, fell out in this manner.

CHAP. IV.

Onias has recourse to the king. The ambition and wickedness of Jason and Menelaus. Onias is treacherously murdered.

BUT Simon, of whom we spoke before, who was the betrayer of the money, and of his country, spoke ill of Onias, as if he had incited Heliodorus to do these things, and had been the promoter of evils :

2. And he presumed to call him a traitor to the kingdom, who provided for the city, and defended his nation, and was zealous for the law of God.

3. But when the enmities proceeded so far, that murders also were committed by some of Simon's friends ;

4. Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, who was the governor of Celsyria, and Phenicia, was outrageous, which increased the malice of Simon, went to the king,

5. Not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but with a view to the common good of all the people.

6. For he saw, that, except the king took care, it was impossible, that matters should be settled in peace, or that Simon would cease from his folly.

7. But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, who was called the illustrious, had taken possession of the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias ambitiously sought the high-priesthood ;

8. And went to the king, promising him three hundred and sixty talents of silver, and out of other revenues four-score talents.

9. Besides this he promised also a hundred and fifty more, if he might have licence to set him up a place for exercise, and a place for youth, and to entice those, who were at Jerusalem, Antiochians.

10. Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten the rule into his hands, forthwith he began to bring over his countrymen to the fashion of the heathens.

11. And abolishing those things, which had been decreed of special favour by the kings in behalf of the Jews, by the means of John the father of that Eupolemus, who went ambassador to Rome, to make amity and alliance, he disannulled the lawful ordinances of the citizens, and brought in fashions, which were perverse.

12. For he had the boldness to set up, under the very castle, a place of exercise, and to put all the choicest youths in brothel houses.

13. Now this was not a bare beginning, but an increase, and progress of heathenish and foreign manners, through the abominable and unheard of wickedness of Jason, that ungodly wretch and no priest.

14. Inasmuch that the priests were not now occupied about the offices of the altar, but despising the temple and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be partakers of the games, and of the unlawful allowance thereof, and of the exercise of the discus.

15. And setting nought by the honours of their fathers, they esteemed the Grecian glories for the best :

16. For the sake of which they incurred a dangerous contention, and followed earnestly their ordinances : and in all things they coveted to be like those, who were their enemies and murderers.

17. For acting wickedly against the laws of God doth not pass unpunished : but this the time following will declare.

18. Now when the game, which was used every fifth year, was kept at Tyre, the king being present,

19. The wicked Jason sent from Jerusalem sinful men to carry three hundred didrachmas of silver for the sacrifice of Hercules ; but the bearers thereof desired it might not be bellowed on the sacrifices ; because it was not necessary ; but might be deputed for other charges.

20. So the money was appointed by him, who sent it, to the sacrifice of Hercules—but because of those, who carried it, was employed for the making of galleys.

21. Now when Apollonius the son of Mneitheus was sent into Egypt, to treat with the nobles of king Philometor, and Antiochus understood, that he was wholly excluded from the affairs of the kingdom, consulting his own interest, he departed thence, and came to Joppa, and from thence to Jerusalem :

22. Where he was received in a magnificent manner by Jason, and the city ; and came in with torch-lights, and with praises : and from thence he returned with his army into Phenicia.

23. Three years afterwards Jason sent Menelaus brother of the aforesaid Simon, to carry money to the king, and to bring answers from him concerning certain necessary affairs.

24. But he being recommended to the king, when he had magnified the appearance of his power, got the high priesthood for himself, by offering more than Jason, by three hundred talents of silver.

25. So having received the king's mandate, he returned bringing nothing worthy of the high priest-hood : but having the mind of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast.

26. Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being himself undermined, was driven out a fugitive into the country of the Ammanites.

27. So Menelaus got the principality : but as for the money he had promised to the king, he took no care, when Solstratus the governor of the castle called for it :

28. (For to him appertained the gathering of the taxes) : wherefore they were both called before the king.

29. And Menelaus was removed from the priesthood, Lyfimachus his brother succeeding : and Solstratus was made governor of the Cyprians.

30. When these things were doing, it happened, that they of Tharsus and Mallos raised a sedition, because they were given for a gift to Antiochus the king's concubine.

31. The king therefore went in all haste to appease them, leaving Andronicus one of his nobles for his deputy.

32. Then Menelaus supposing, that he had found a convenient time, having stolen certain vessels of gold out of the temple, gave them to Andronicus ; and others he had sold at Tyre, and in the neighbouring cities :

33. Which when Onias knew of a certainty, he re-proved him, keeping himself in a safe place at Antioch beside Daphne.

34. Whereupon Menelaus coming to Andronicus, desired him to kill Onias. And he went to Onias, and gave him his right hand with an oath, and (though he was suspected by him) persuaded him to come forth out of the sanctuary, and immediately slew him, without any regard to justice.

35. For which cause not only the Jews, but also the other nations, conceived indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of so great a man.

36. And when the king was come back from the places of Cilicia, the Jews, who were at Antioch, and also the Greeks went to him—complaining of the unjust murder of Onias.

37. Antiochus therefore was grieved in his mind for Onias ; and being moved to pity, shed tears, remembering the sobriety and modesty of the deceased.

38. And being inflamed to anger, he commanded Andronicus to be stripped of his purple, and to be led about through all the city : and that in the same place, wherein he had committed the impiety against Onias, the sacrilegious wretch should be put to death, the Lord repaying him his deserved punishment.

39. Now when many sacrileges had been committed by Lysimachus in the temple, by the counsel of Menelaus, and the rumour of it was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, a great quantity of gold being already carried away.

40. Wherefore the multitude making an insurrection, and their minds being filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began to use violence, one Tyrannus being captain, a man far gone both in age, and in madness.

41. But when they perceived the attempt of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, some strong clubs: and some threw ashes upon Lysimachus.

42. And many of them were wounded, and some struck down to the ground; but all were put to flight: and as for the sacrilegious fellow himself, they slew him beside the treasury.

43. Now concerning these matters an accusation was laid against Menelaus.

44. And when the king was come to Tyre, three men were sent from the ancients to plead the cause before him.

45. But Menelaus being convicted, promised Ptolemee to give him much money, to persuade the king to favour him.

46. So Ptolemee went to the king in a certain court, where he was, as it were to cool himself, and brought him to be of another mind:

47. So Menelaus, who was guilty of all the evil, was acquitted by him of the accusations: and those poor men, who, if they had pleaded their cause even before Scythians, should have been judged innocent, were condemned to death.

48. Thus those, who prosecuted the cause for the city, and for the people, and the sacred vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

49. Wherefore even the Tyrians being moved with indignation, were very liberal towards their burial.

50. And so through the covetousness of those, who were in power, Menelaus continued in authority, increasing in malice to the betraying of the citizens.

C H A P. V.

Wonderful signs are seen in the air. Jason's wickedness and end. Antiochus takes Jerusalem, and plunders the temple.

AT the same time Antiochus prepared for a second journey into Egypt.

1. And it came to pass, that throughout the whole city of Jerusalem, for the space of forty days, there were seen horsemen running in the air, in gilded raiment, and armed with spears, like bands of soldiers,

2. And horses set in order by ranks, running and encountering one against another, with the shakings of shields, and a multitude of men in helmets, with drawn swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden armour, and of harness of all sorts.

3. Wherefore all men prayed, that these prodigies might turn to good.

4. Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as if Antiochus had been dead, Jason taking with him no fewer than a thousand men, suddenly assaulted the city: and though the citizens ran together to the wall, the city at length was taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

5. But Jason slew his countrymen without mercy, not considering that prosperity against one's own kindred is a very great evil, thinking they had been enemies, and not citizens, whom he conquered.

6. Yet he did not get the principality, but received confusion at the end, for the reward of his treachery, and fled again into the country of the Ammonites.

7. At the last having been shut up by Aretas the king of the Arabians, in order for his destruction, flying from city to city, hated by all men, as a forsaker of the laws, and had in abomination, as an enemy of his country and countrymen, he was thrust out into Egypt:

8. And he, who had driven many out of their country, perished in a strange land, going to Lacedemon, as if for kindred sake he should have refuge there:

9. But he, who had cast out many unburied, was himself cast forth both unlamented and unburied, neither having foreign burial, nor being partaker of the sepulchre of his fathers.

10. Now when these things were done, the king suspected, that the Jews would forsake the alliance: whereupon departing out of Egypt with a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms.

11. And commanded the soldiers to kill, and not to spare any, who came in their way, and to go up into the houses to slay.

12. Thus there was a slaughter of young and old, a destruction of women and children, and killing of virgins and infants.

13. And there were slain in the space of three whole days fourscore thousand; forty thousand were made prisoners, and as many sold.

14. But this was not enough: he presumed also to enter into the temple, the most holy in all the world, Menelaus, that traitor to the laws, and to his country, being his guide.

15. And taking in his wicked hands the holy vessels, which were given by other kings and cities for the ornament and the glory of the place, he unworthily handled and profaned them.

16. Thus Antiochus going astray in mind, did not consider, that God was angry for a while, because of the sins of the inhabitants of the city: and therefore this contempt had happened to the place:

17. Otherwise, had they not been involved in many sins, as Heliodorus, who was sent by king Seleucus to rob the treasury, so this man also as soon as he had come, had been forthwith scourged, and put back from his presumption.

18. But God did not choose the people for the place's sake—but the place for the people's sake.

19. And therefore the place also itself was made partaker of the evils of the people: but afterward shall communicate in the good things thereof, and as it was forsaken in the wrath of Almighty God, shall be exalted again with great glory, when the great Lord shall be reconciled.

20. So when Antiochus had taken away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he went went back in all haste to Antioch, thinking through pride, that he might now make the land navigable, and the sea passable on foot: such was the haughtiness of his mind.

* Ptolemee, The son of Dorymeus, a favourite of the king.

22. He left also governors to afflict the people: at Jerusalem, Philip, a Phrygian by birth, but in manners more barbarous than he, who set him there:

23. And in Garizim, Andronicus and Menelaus, who bore a more heavy hand upon the citizens than the rest.

24. And whereas he was set against the Jews, he sent that hateful prince Apollonius, with an army of two and twenty thousand men, commanding him to kill all, who were of perfect age, and to sell the women and the younger sort:

25. Who, when he was come to Jerusalem, pretending peace, rested till the holy day of the sabbath: and then the Jews keeping holiday, he commanded his men to take arms.

26. And he slew all, who were come forth to see: and running through the city with armed men, he destroyed a very great multitude.

27. But Judas Machabeus, who was the tenth*, had withdrawn himself into a desert place, and there lived among wild beasts in the mountains with his company: and they continued feeding on herbs, that they might not be partakers of the pollution.

C H A P. VI.

Antiochus commands the law to be abolished; sets up an idol in the temple; and persecutes the faithful. The martyrdom of Eleazar.

BUT not long after, the king sent a certain old man of Antioch, to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers and of God:

2. And to defile the temple, which was in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that in Garizim† of Jupiter Hospitalis, according as those were, who inhabited the place.

3. And very bad was this invasion of evils, and grievous to all:

4. For the temple was full of the riot and revellings of the Gentiles—and of men lying with lewd women. And women thrust themselves of their own accord into the holy places, and brought in things, which were not lawful.

5. The altar also was filled with unlawful things, which were forbidden by the laws.

6. And neither were the sabbaths kept, nor the solemn days of the fathers observed; neither did any man plainly profess himself to be a Jew.

7. But they were led by bitter constraint on the king's birth-day to the sacrifices: and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were compelled to go about crowned with ivy in honour of Bacchus.

8. And there went out a decree into the neighbouring cities of the Gentiles, by the suggestion of the Ptolemeans, that they also should act in like manner against the Jews, to oblige them to sacrifice:

9. And whosoever would not conform themselves to the ways of the heathens, should be put to death. Then was misery to be seen.

10. For two women were accused of having circumcised their children; whom, when they had openly led about through the city with the infants hanging at their breasts, they threw down headlong from the walls.

11. And others, who had met together in caves, which were near, and were keeping the sabbath-day privately, being discovered by Philip‡, were burnt with fire, because they made a conscience to help themselves with their hands, by reason of the religious observance of the day.

12. Now I beseech those, who shall read this book, that they be not shocked at these calamities; but that they consider the things, which happened, not as being for the destruction, but for the correction of our nation.

13. For it is a token of great goodness, when sinners are not suffered to go on in their ways for a long time, but are presently punished.

14. For, not as with other nations (whom the Lord patiently expecteth, that when the day of judgment shall come, he may punish them in the fulness of their sins)

15. Doth he also deal with us, so as to suffer our sins to come to their height, and then take vengeance on us.

16. And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: but though he chastise his people with adversity, he forsaketh them not.

17. But let this suffice, in a few words, for a warning to the readers. And now we must come to the narration.

18. Eleazar, one of the chief of the scribes, a man advanced in years, and of a comely countenance, was pressed to open his mouth to eat swine's flesh.

19. But he, choosing rather a most glorious death than a hateful life, went forward of his own accord to the torment.

20. And considering in what manner he was to come to it, patiently bearing, he determined not to do any unlawful things for the love of life.

21. But those, who stood by, being moved with wicked pity§, for the old friendship they had with the man, taking him aside, desired, that flesh might be brought, which it was lawful for him to eat, that he might pretend as if he had eaten, as the king had commanded, of the flesh of the sacrifice:

22. That by so doing he might be delivered from death: and for the sake of their old friendship with the man, they did him this courtesy.

23. But he began to consider the dignity of his age, and his ancient years, and the inbred honour of his grey head, and his good life and conversation from a child : and he answered without delay, according to the ordinances of the holy law made by God, saying, that he would rather be sent into the other world.

24. " For it doth not become our age," said he, " to dissimble : whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, at the age of fourscore and ten years, was gone over to the life of the heathens :

25. " And so they, through my dissimulation, and for a little time of a corruptible life, should be deceived ; and hereby I should bring a stain, and a curse upon my old age.

26. " For though, for the present time, I should be delivered from the punishments of men, yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive nor dead.

27. " Wherefore by departing manfully out of this life, I shall shew myself worthy of my old age :

28. " And I shall leave an example of fortitude to young men, if with a ready mind and constancy I suffer an honourable death, for the most venerable and most holy laws." And having spoken thus, he was forthwith carried to execution.

29. And those, who led him, and had been a little before more mild, were changed to wrath, for the words he had spoken, which they thought were uttered out of arrogancy.

30. But when he was now ready to die with the stripes, he groaned, and said : " O Lord, who hast the holy knowledge, thou knowest manifestly, that whereas I might be delivered from death, I suffer grievous pains in body : but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear thee."

1. Thus did this man die, leaving not only to young men, but also to the whole nation, the memory of his death, for an example of virtue and fortitude.

C H A P. VII.

The glorious martyrdom of the seven brethren, and their mother.

IT came to pass also, that seven brethren, together with their mother, were apprehended, and compelled by the king to eat swine's flesh against the law, for which end they were tormented with whips and scourges.

2. But one of them, who was the eldest, said thus : " What wouldst thou ask, or learn of us ? we are ready to die rather than to transgress the laws of God, received from our fathers."

3. Then the king being angry, commanded frying-pans, and brazen cauldrons to be made hot ; which forthwith being heated,

4. He commanded to cut out the tongue of him, who had spoken first ; and the skin of his head being drawn off, to chop off also the extremities of his hands and feet, the rest of his brethren ; and his mother looking on.

5. And when he was now maimed in all parts, he commanded him, being yet alive, to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the frying-pan : and while he was suffering therein long torments, the rest, together with the mother, exhorted one another to die manfully,

6. Saying : " The Lord God will look upon the truth, and will take pleasure in us, as Moses declared in the profession of the canticle : ' And in his servants he will take pleasure.'"

7. So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the next to make him a mocking-stock : and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him if he would eat, before he were punished throughout the whole body in every limb.

8. But he answered in his own language, and said : " I will not do it." Wherefore he also, in the next place, received the torments of the first :

9. And when he was at the last gasp, he said thus : " Thou indeed, O most wicked man, destroyest us out of this present life : but the King of the world will raise us up, who die for his laws, in the resurrection of eternal life."

10. After him, the third was made a mocking-stock : and when he was required, he quickly put forth his tongue, and courageously stretched out his hands :

11. And said with confidence : " These I have from heaven : but for the laws of God I now despise them ; because I hope to receive them again from him."

12. So that the king, and those, who were with him, wondered at the young man's courage ; because he esteemed the torments as nothing.

13. And after he was thus dead, they tormented the fourth in like manner.

14. And when he was now ready to die, he spoke thus : " It is better, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God, to be raised up again by him. For, as to thee, thou shalt have no resurrection unto life."

15. And when they had brought the fifth, they tormented him. But he, looking upon the king,

16. Said : " Whereas thou hast power among men, though thou art corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt : but think not, that our nation is forsaken by God.

17. " But stay patiently a while, and thou shalt see his great power, in what manner he will torment thee, and thy seed."

18. After him they brought the sixth ; and he being ready to die, spoke thus : " Be not deceived without cause : for we suffer these things for ourselves, having sinned against our God ; and things worthy of admiration are done to us :

19. " But do not think that thou shalt escape unpunished, for that thou hast attempted to fight against God."

20. Now the mother was to be admired above measure, and worthy to be remembered by good men, who beheld her seven sons slain in the space of one day, and bore it with a good courage, for the hope that she had in God :

21. And she bravely exhorted every one of them in her own language, being filled with wisdom : and joining a man's heart to a woman's thoughts,

22. She said to them : " I know not, how ye were formed in my womb : for I neither gave you breath, nor soul, nor life ; neither did I frame the limbs of every one of you.

23. " But the Creator of the world, who formed the nativity of man, and who found out the origin of all, he will restore to you again, in his mercy, both breath and life, as now ye despise yourselves. for the sake of his laws."

24. Now Antiochus thinking himself despised, and withal suspecting words of reproach, when the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with an oath, that he would make him a rich and a happy man, and, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers, would take him for a friend, and furnish him with all things necessary.

25. But when the young man was not moved with these things, the king called the mother, and counselled her to deal with the young man to save his life.

26. And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised, that she would counsel her son.

27. So bearing herself towards him, mocking the cruel tyrant, she said in her own language: "My son, have pity upon me, who bore thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age.

28. "I beseech thee, my son, look upon heaven and earth, and all, that is in them: and consider, that God made them out of nothing, and mankind also:

29. "So thou shalt not fear this tormentor; but being made a worthy partner with thy brethren, receive death, that in that mercy I may receive thee again with thy brethren."

30. While she was yet speaking these words, the young man said: "For whom do ye stay? I will not obey the commandment of the king, but the commandment of the law, which was given us by Moses.

31. "But thou, who hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32. "For we suffer thus for our sins.

33. "And though the Lord our God is angry with us a little while for our chastisement and correction—yet he will be reconciled again to his servants.

34. "But thou, O ungracious, and of all others the most wicked, be not lifted up without cause with vain hopes, while thou art raging against his servants.

35. "For thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of the Almighty God, who beareth all things.

36. "For my brethren having now undergone a short pain, are under the covenant of eternal life: but thou by the judgment of God shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.

37. "But I, like my brethren, offer up my life and my body for the laws of our fathers: calling upon God to be speedily merciful to our nation, and that thou by torments and stripes mayest confess, that he alone is God.

38. "But in me and in my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which hath justly been brought upon all our nation, shall cease."

39. Then the king being incensed with anger, raged against him more cruelly than all the rest, taking it grievously, that he was mocked.

40. So this man also died undesired, wholly trusting in the Lord.

41. And last of all, after the sons, the mother also was consumed.

42. But now there is enough said of the sacrifices, and of the excessive cruelties.

C H A P. VIII.

Judas Machabeus gathering an army, gains divers victories.

BUT Judas Machabeus, and those, who were with him, went privately into the towns: and calling together their kinsmen and friends, and taking unto them such as continued in the Jews' religion, they assembled six thousand men.

1. And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon his people, who were trodden down by all, and would have pity on the temple, which was defiled by the wicked:

2. That he would have pity also upon the city, which was destroyed, which was ready to be made even with the ground, and would hear the voice of the blood, which cried to him:

3. That he would remember also the most unjust deaths of innocent children, and the blasphemies offered to his name, and would shew his indignation on this occasion.

4. Now when Machabeus had gathered a multitude, he could not be withstood by the heathens: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

5. So coming unawares upon the towns and cities, he set them on fire; and taking possession of the most commodious places, he made no small slaughter of the enemies.

6. And especially in the nights, he went upon these expeditions; and the fame of his valour was spread abroad every where.

7. Then Philip* seeing, that the man gained ground by little and little, and that things for the most part succeeded prosperously with him, wrote to Ptolemy the governor of Cœlæsyria and Phenicia, to send aid to the king's affairs.

8. And he with all speed sent Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of his special friends, giving him no fewer than twenty thousand† armed men of different nations, to root out the whole race of the Jews, joining also with him Gorgias a good soldier, and of great experience in matters of war.

9. And Nicanor purposed to raise for the king the tribute of two thousand talents, which was to be given to the Romans, by making so much money of the captive Jews.

10. Wherefore he sent immediately to the cities upon the sea coast, to invite men together to buy up the Jewish slaves, promising that they should have ninety slaves for one talent; not reflecting on the vengeance, which was to follow him from the Almighty.

11. Now when Judas found, that Nicanor was coming, he imparted to the Jews, who were with him, that the enemy was at hand.

* Philip seeing &c. The governor of Jerusalem found himself unable to cope with Judas, especially after the victories he had obtained over Apollonius and Seron. 1 Mach. iii.

† Twenty thousand. The whole number of the forces, sent at that time into Judea, was forty thousand footmen and seven thousand horsemen, 1 Mach. iii. 30. But only twenty thousand are here taken notice of, because there were no more with Nicanor at the time of the battle.

13. And some of them being afraid, and distrusting the justice of God, fled away.

14. Others sold all, that they had left, and withal besought the Lord, that he would deliver them from the wicked Nicanor, who had sold them, before he came near them :

15. And if not for their sakes, yet for the covenant, which he had made with their fathers, and for the sake of his holy and glorious name, which was invoked upon them.

16. But Machabeus, calling together seven † thousand, who were with him, exhorted them not to be reconciled to the enemies, nor to fear the multitude of the enemies, who came wrongfully against them, but to fight manfully—

17. Setting before their eyes the injury they had unjustly done the holy place, and also the injury they had done to the city, which had been shamefully abused, besides their destroying the ordinances of the fathers.

18. "For," said he, "they trust in their weapons, and in their boldness : but we trust in the Almighty Lord, who, at a beck, can utterly destroy both those, who come against us, and the whole world."

19. Moreover he put them in mind also of the helps their fathers had received from God ; and how, under Sennacherib, a hundred and eighty five thousand had been destroyed :—

20. And of the battle, which they had fought against the Galatians ‡ in Babylonia ; how they, being in all but six thousand, when it came to the point, and the Macedonians their companions were at a stand, slew a hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help they had from heaven ; and for this they received many favours.

21. With these words they were greatly encouraged, and disposed even to die for the laws and their country.

22. So he appointed his brethren captains over each division of his army, Simon, and Joseph, and Jonathan, giving to each one fifteen hundred men.

23. And after the holy book had been read to them by Esdras, and he had given them for a watch-word, 'The help of God : ' himself leading the first band, he joined battle with Nicanor :

24. And the Almighty being their helper, they slew above nine thousand men † : and having wounded and disabled the greater part of Nicanor's army, they obliged them to flee.

25. And they took the money of those, who came to buy them ; and they pursued them on every side.

26. But they came back for want of time : for it was the day before the sabbath : and therefore they did not continue the pursuit.

27. But when they had gathered together their arms and their spoils, they kept the sabbath : blessing the Lord, who had delivered them that day, distilling the beginning of mercy upon them.

28. Then after the sabbath they divided the spoils to the feeble, and the orphans, and the widows : and the rest they took for themselves and their servants.

29. When this was done, and they had all made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord, to be reconciled to his servants unto the end.

30. Moreover they slew above twenty thousand of those, who were with Timotheus and Bacchides, who fought against them : and they made themselves masters of the high strong-holds : and they divided among them many spoils, giving equal portions to the feeble, the fatherless, and the widows, yea and the aged also.

31. And when they had carefully gathered together their arms, they laid them all up in convenient places : and the residue of their spoils they carried to Jerusalem :

32. They slew also Philarches, who was with Timotheus, a wicked man, who had many ways afflicted the Jews.

33. And when they kept the feast for the victory at Jerusalem, they burnt Calluthenes, who had set fire to the holy gates, who had taken refuge in a certain house, rendering to him a worthy reward for his impieties :

34. But as for that most wicked man Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to the sale of the Jews—

35. Being through the help of the Lord brought down by them, of whom he had made no account, laying aside his glorious apparel, fleeing through the midland country, he came alone to Antioch, being rendered very unhappy by the destruction of his army.

36. And he, who had promised to levy the tribute for the Romans, by the means of the captives of Jerusalem, now professed, that the Jews had God for their protector : and therefore they could not be hurt ; because they followed the laws appointed by him.

C H A P. IX.

The wretched end and fruitless repentance of king Antiochus.

AT that time Antiochus returned with dishonour out of Persia.

2. For he had entered into the city, called Persepolis*, and attempted to rob the temple, and to oppress the city : but the multitude running together to arms, put them to flight : and so it fell out, that Antiochus being put to flight, returned with disgrace.

3. Now when he was come about Ecbatana, he received the news of what had happened to Nicanor and Timotheus.

4. And swelling with anger, he thought to revenge upon the Jews the injury done by those, who had put him to flight. And therefore he commanded his chariot to be driven, without stopping in his journey, the judgment of heaven urging him forward ; because he had spoken so proudly, that he would come to Jerusalem, and make it a common burying-place of the Jews.

5. But the Lord the God of Israel, who seeth all things, struck him with an incurable and an invincible plague. For as soon as he had ended these words, a dreadful pain in his bowels came upon him, and bitter torments of the inner parts.

6. And indeed very justly, seeing he had tormented the bowels of others with many and new torments, albeit he by no means ceased from his wickedness.

7. Moreover being filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding the matter to be hastened, it happened as he was going with violence, that he fell from the chariot, so that his limbs were much pained by a grievous bruising of the body.

8. Thus he, who seemed to himself to command even the waves of the sea, being proud above the condition of man, and to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, now being cast down to the ground, was carried in a litter, bearing witness to the manifest power of God in himself:

9. So that worms swarmed out of the body of this man: and while he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell off, and the filthiness of his smell was noisome to the army.

10. And the man, who thought a little before he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry, for his intolerable stench.

11. And by this means, being brought from his great pride, he began to come to the knowledge of himself, being admonished by the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment.

12. And when he himself could not now abide his own smell, he spoke thus: "It is just to be subject to God, and that a mortal man should not equal himself to God."

13. Then this wicked man prayed to the Lord, of whom he was not like* to obtain mercy.

14. And the city, to which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying-place, he now desireth to make free:

15. And the Jews, whom he said he would not account worthy to be so much as buried, but would give them up to be devoured by the birds and wild beasts, and would utterly destroy them with their children, he now promiseth to make equal with the Athenians.

16. The holy temple also, which before he had spoiled, he promiseth to adorn with goodly gifts, and to multiply the holy vessels, and to allow out of his revenues the charges pertaining to the sacrifices.

17. Yea also, that he would become a Jew himself, and would go through every place of the earth, and declare the power of God.

18. But his pains not ceasing (for the just judgment of God was come upon him) despairing of life, he wrote to the Jews, in the manner of a supplication, a letter in these words:

19. "To his very good subjects the Jews, Antiochus king and ruler wisheth much health, and welfare, and happiness.

20. "If ye and your children be well, and if all matters go with you to your mind, we give very great thanks.

21. "As for me, being infirm, but yet kindly remembering you, returning out of the places of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to take care for the common good:

22. "Not distrusting my life, but having great hope to escape the sickness.

23. "But considering, that my father also, at what time he led an army into the higher countries, appointed who should reign after him:

24. "To the end, that if any thing contrary to expectation should fall out, or any bad tidings should be brought, those, who were in the countries, knowing to whom the whole government was left, might not be troubled.

25. "Moreover, considering that neighbouring princes and borderers wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my son Antiochus king, whom I often recommended to many of you, when I went into the higher provinces: and I have written to him what I have joined here below.

26. "I pray you therefore, and request of you, that remembering favours both public and private, ye will every man of you continue to be faithful to me, and to my son.

27. "For I trust, that he will behave with moderation and humanity, and following my intentions, will be gracious unto you."

28. Thus the murderer and blasphemer being grievously struck, as himself had treated others, died a miserable death in a strange country, among the mountains.

26. But Philip, who was brought up with him, carried away his body: and out of fear of the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemee Philometor.

C H A P. X.

The purification of the temple and city. Other exploits of Judas. His victory over Timotheus.

BUT Machabees, and those, who were with him, by the protection of the Lord, recovered the temple and the city again:

2. But he threw down the altars, which the heathens had set up in the streets, as also the temples of the idols.

3. And having purified the temple, they made another altar: and taking fire out of fiery stones, they offered sacrifices after two years, and set forth incense, and lamps, and the loaves of proposition.

4. And when they had done these things, they besought the Lord, lying prostrate on the ground, that they might no more fall into such evils: but if they should at any time sin, that they might be chastised by him more gently, and not be delivered up to barbarians and blasphemous men.

5. Now upon the same day, when the temple had been polluted by the strangers, on the very same day it was cleansed again, to wit, on the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu.

6. And they kept eight days with joy, after the manner of the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long before they had kept the feast of the tabernacles, when they were in the mountains, and in dens, like wild beasts.

* Of whom he was not like, &c. Because his repentance was not for the offence committed against God—but merely on account of his present sufferings.

7. Therefore they now carried boughs, and green branches, and palms for him, who had given them good success in cleansing his place.

8. And they ordained by a common statute and decree, that all the nation of the Jews should keep those days every year.

9. And this was the end of Antiochus, who was called the Illustrious.

10. But now we will relate the acts of Eupator the son of that wicked Antiochus, abridging the account of the evils, which happened in the wars.

11. For when he was come to the crown, he appointed over the affairs of his realm, one Lyfias, general of the army of Phenicia and Syria.

12. For Ptolemee, who was called Macer, was determined to be strictly just to the Jews, and especially by reason of the wrong, which had been done them, and to deal peaceably with them.

13. But being accused for this to Eupator by his friends, and being oftentimes called traitor, because he had left Cyprus, which Philometor had committed to him, and coming over to Antiochus the illustrious, had revolted also from him, he put an end to his life by poison.

14. But Gorgias, who was governor of the holds, taking with him the strangers, often fought against the Jews.

15. And the Jews†, who occupied the most commodious holds, received those, who were driven out of Jerusalem, and attempted to make war.

16. Then those, who were with Machabeus, beseeching the Lord by prayers to be their helper, made a strong attack upon the strong-holds of the Idumeans.

17. And assaulting them with great force, won the holds, killed those, who came in the way, and slew all together, no fewer than twenty thousand.

18. And whereas some were fled into very strong towers, having all manner of provision to sustain a siege—

19. Machabeus left Simon, and Joseph, and Zacheus, and those, who were with them, in sufficient number to besiege them, and departed to those expeditions, which urged more.

20. Now those, who were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were persuaded for the sake of money by some, who were in the towers: and taking seventy thousand didrachmas, let some of them escape.

21. But when it was told Machabeus what was done, he assembled the rulers of the people, and accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, having let their adversaries escape.

22. So he put these traitors to death, and forthwith took the two towers.

23. And having good success in arms and in all things he took in hand, he slew more than twenty thousand in the two holds.

24. But Timotheus, who before had been overcome by the Jews, having called together a multitude of forein troops, and assembled horsemen out of Asia, came as if he would take Judea by force of arms.

25. But Machabeus and those, who were with him, when he drew near, prayed to the Lord, sprinkling earth upon their heads and girding their loins with hair-cloth.

26. And lying prostrate at the foot of the altar, besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law saith.

27. And so, after prayer taking their arms, they went forth further from the city; and when they were come very near the enemies, they rested.

28. But as soon as the sun was risen, both sides joined battle; the one part having with their valour the Lord for a surety of victory and success; but the other side making their rage their leader in battle.

29. But when they were in the heat of the engagement, there appeared to the enemies from heaven five men upon horses, comely, with golden brutes, conducting the Jews:

30. Two of whom took Machabeus between them, and covered him on every side with their arms, and kept him safe; but cast darts and fire-balls against the enemy; so that they fell down, being both confounded with blindness, and filled with trouble.

31. And there were slain twenty thousand five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32. But Timotheus fled into Gazara, a strong-hold, where Chereas was governor.

33. Then Machabeus, and those, who were with him, cheerfully laid siege to the fortress four days.

34. But those, who were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and cast forth abominable words.

35. But when the fifth day appeared, twenty young men, of those, who were with Machabeus, insinuated in their minds, because of the blasphemy, approached manfully to the wall, and pushing forward with fierce courage got up on it:

36. Moreover others also getting up after them, went to set fire to the towers and the gates, and to burn the blasphemers alive.

37. And having for two days together pillaged and sacked the fortress, they killed Timotheus, who was found hidden in a certain place: they slew also his brother Chereas, and Apollopheanes.

38. And when this was done, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgiving, who had done great things in Israel, and given them the victory.

C H A P. XII.

Lyfias is overthrown by Judas. He sues for peace.

A Short time after this, Lyfias the king's lieutenant, and cousin, and who had chief charge over all the affairs, being greatly displeased with what had happened,

2. Gathered together fourscore thousand men, and all the horsemen, and came against the Jews, thinking to take the city, and make it a habitation of the Gentiles.

† The Jews, &c. He speaks of those, who had fallen from their religion, and were enemies of their country, who joining with the Idumeans or Edumites, kept possession of the strong-holds, and from thence annoyed their countrymen.

3. And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other temples of the Gentiles, and to let the high priesthood to sale every year :

4. Never considering the power of God, but puffed up in mind, and trusting in the multitude of his foot-soldiers, and the thousands of his horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

5. So he came into Judea ; and approaching to Bethsura, which was in a narrow place, the space of five furlongs from Jerusalem, he laid siege to that fortress.

6. But when Machabeus and those, who were with him, understood, that the strong holds were besieged, they and all the people besought the Lord with lamentations and tears, that he would send a good angel to save Israel.

7. Then Machabeus himself first taking his arms, exhorted the rest to expose themselves together with him, to the danger, and to succour their brethren.

8. And when they were going forth together with a willing mind, there appeared at Jerusalem a horseman going before them in white clothing, with golden armour, shaking a spear.

9. Then they all together blessed the merciful Lord, and took great courage ; being ready to break through not only men, but also the fiercest beasts, and walls of iron.

10. So they went on courageously, having a helper from heaven, and the Lord, who shewed mercy to them.

11. And rushing violently upon the enemy, like lions, they slew of them eleven thousand footmen, and one thousand six hundred horsemen :

12. And put all the rest to flight, and many of them being wounded, escaped naked : yea and Lyfias himself fled away shamefully, and escaped.

13. And as he was a man of understanding, considering with himself, the loss he had suffered, and perceiving, that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because they relied upon the help of the Almighty God, he sent to them ;

14. And promised, that he would agree to all things, that are just, and that he would persuade the king to be their friend.

15. Then Machabeus consented to the request of Lyfias, providing for the common good in all things ; and whatsoever Machabeus wrote to Lyfias, concerning the Jews, the king allowed of.

16. For there were letters written to the Jews from Lyfias, to this effect : " Lyfias to the people of the Jews, greeting.

17. " John and Abesalom, who were sent from you, delivering your writings, requested, that I would accomplish those things, which were signified by them.

18. Therefore whatsoever things could be reported to the king, I have represented to him : and he hath granted as much as the matter permitted.

19. " If therefore ye will keep yourselves loyal in all affairs, hereafter also I will endeavour to be a means of your good.

20. " But as concerning other particulars, I have given orders by word both to these and to them, who are sent by me, to commune with you.

21. " Fare ye well. In the year† one hundred and forty-eight, the four and twentieth day of the month of Diocorus."

22. But the king's letter contained these words : " King Antiochus to Lyfias his brother, greeting.

23. " Our father being translated amongst the gods, we are desirous, that those, who are in our realm, should live quietly, and apply themselves diligently to their own concerns :

24. " And we have heard, that the Jews would not consent to my father to turn to the rites of the Greeks, but that they would keep to their own manner of living ; and therefore that they request us to allow them to live after their own laws.

25. " Wherefore being desirous, that this nation also should be at rest, we have ordained and decreed, that the temple should be restored to them, and that they may live according to the custom of their ancestors.

26. " Thou shalt do well therefore to send to them, and grant them peace, that our pleasure being known, they may be of good comfort, and look to their own affairs."

27. But the king's letter to the Jews, was in this manner : " King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews, and to the rest of the Jews, greeting.

28. " If ye be well, ye are as we desire : we ourselves also are well.

29. " Menelaus came to us, saying, that ye desired to come down to your countrymen, who are with us.

30. " We grant therefore a safe-conduct to all, who come and go, until the thirtieth day of the month of Xanthicus ;

31. " And that the Jews may use their own kind of meats, and their own laws, as before : and that none of them, any manner of ways be molested for things, which have been done by ignorance.

32. " And we have sent also Menelaus to speak to you.

33. " Fare ye well. In the year one hundred and forty eight, the fifteenth day of the month of Xanthicus."

34. The Romans also sent them a letter to this effect : " Quintus Memmius and Titus Manilius, ambassadors of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greeting :

35. " Whatsoever Lyfias the king's cousin hath granted you, we also have granted.

36. " But touching such things as he thought should be referred to the king, after ye have diligently conferred among yourselves, send some one forthwith, that we may decree as it is convenient for you : for we are going to Antioch.

37. " And therefore make haste to write back, that we may know of what mind ye are.

* In the year 148. viz. According to the computation followed by the Greeks ; which was different from that of the Hebrews, followed by the writer of the first book of Machabees, however by this date, as well as by other circumstances, it appears, that the expedition of Lyfias, mentioned in this chapter, is different from that, which is recorded, 1. Mach. vi.

38. "Fare ye well: In the year one hundred and forty-eight the fifteenth day of the month of Xanthicus."

C H A P. XII.

The Jews are still molested by their neighbours. Judas gains divers victories over them. He orders sacrifice and prayers for the dead.

WHEN these covenants were made, Lyfias went to the king; and the Jews gave themselves to husbandry.

2. But those, who were behind, viz. Timotheus, and Apollonius the son of Genneus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them, Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to live in peace, and to be quiet.

3. The men of Joppe also were guilty of this kind of wickedness: they desired the Jews, who dwelt among them, to go, with their wives and children, into the boats, which they had prepared, as though they had no enmity to them.

4. Which when they had consented to, according to the common decree of the city, suspecting nothing because of the peace: when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no fewer than two hundred of them.

5. But as soon as Judas heard of this cruelty done to his countrymen, he commanded the men, who were with him: and after having called upon God the just judge,

6. He came against those murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire in the night, burnt the boats, and slew with the sword those, who escaped from the fire.

7. And when he had done these things in this manner, he departed, as if he would return again, and root out all the Joppites.

8. But when he understood, that the men of Jamnia also designed to do in like manner to the Jews, who dwelt among them,

9. He came upon the Jamnites also by night, and set the haven on fire, with the ships, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs off.

14. And when they were now gone from thence nine furlongs, and were marching towards Timotheus, five thousand footmen, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians set upon them.

11. And after a hard fight, in which, by the help of God, they got the victory, the rest of the Arabians being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising to give him pastures, and to assist him in other things.

12. And Judas, thinking that they might be profitable indeed in many things, promised them peace; and after having joined hands, they departed to their tents.

13. He also laid siege to a certain strong city, encompassed with bridges and walls, and inhabited by multitudes of different nations, the name of which is Calphin.

14. But those, who were within it, trusting in the strength of the walls, and the provision of victuals, behaved in a more negligent manner, and provoked Judas with railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15. But Machabeus calling upon the great Lord of the world, who, without any rams or engines of war, threw down the walls of Jericho in the time of Josue, fiercely assaulted the walls.

16. And having taken the city by the will of the Lord, he made an unspeakable slaughter, so that a pool adjoining, of two furlongs broad, seemed to run with the blood of the slain.

17. From thence they departed seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa, to the Jews, who are called Tubianites.

18. But as for Timotheus, they found him not in those places: for before he had dispatched any thing, he went back, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold.

19. But Dositheus and Sosipater, who were captains with Machabeus, slew those, who were left by Timotheus in the hold, to the number of ten thousand men.

20. And Machabeus having set in order about six thousand men, and divided them by bands, went forth against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand five hundred horsemen.

21. Now when Timotheus had knowledge of the coming of Judas, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage before him into a fortress, called Carnion: for it was impregnable, and hard to come by, by reason of the straitness of the places.

22. But when the first band of Judas came in sight, the enemies were struck with a panic fear, by the presence of God, who seeth all things; and they were to flight, running one from another, so that they were often thrown down by their own companions, and wounded with the points of their own swords.

23. But Judas pursued them close, punishing the profane wretches, of whom he slew thirty thousand men.

24. And Timotheus himself fell into the hands of the band of Dositheus and Sosipater; and with many prayers he besought them to let him go with his life, because he had the parents and brethren of many of the Jews, who, by his death, might happen to be decimated.

25. And when he had given his faith, that he would restore them according to the agreement, they let him go without hurt, for the saving of their brethren.

26. Then Judas went away to Carnion, where he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27. And after he had put to flight and destroyed these, he removed his army to Ephron, a strong city, wherein there dwelt a multitude of divers nations: stout young men, standing upon the walls, made a vigorous resistance: and in this place there were many engines of war, and a provision of darts.

28. But when they had called upon the Almighty, who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies, they took the city, and slew five and twenty thousand of those, who were within.

29. From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30. But the Jews, who were among the Scythians,

* Scythopolis. Formerly called Bethsan.

mans, testifying that they were used kindly by them, and that even in the times of their adversity, they had treated them with humanity—

31. They gave them thanks, exhorting them to be still friendly to their nation: and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks being at hand.

32. And after pentecost, they marched against Gorgias the governor of Idumea.

33. And he came out with three thousand footmen, and four hundred horsemen.

34. And when they had joined battle, it happened, that a few of the Jews were slain.

35. But Dosithæus a horseman, one of Bacenor's sons, a valiant man, took hold of Gorgias: and when he would have taken him alive, a certain horseman of the Thracians came upon him, and cut off his shoulder: and so Gorgias escaped to Maresa.

36. But when those, who were with Esdras, had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord to be their helper, and leader of the battle.

37. Then beginning in his own language, and singing hymns with a loud voice, he put Gorgias's soldiers to flight.

38. So Judas having gathered together his army, came into the city Odollam: and when the seventh day came, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the sabbath in the same place.

39. And the day following Judas came with his company, to take away the bodies of those, who were slain, and to bury them with their kintmen, in the sepulchres of their fathers.

40. And they found, under the coats of the slain, some of the donaries* of the idols of Jamnia, which the law forbiddeth to the Jews: so that all plainly saw, that for this cause they were slain.

41. Then they all blessed the just judgment of the Lord, who had discovered the things, which were hidden.

42. And so betaking themselves to prayers, they besought him, that the sin, which had been committed, might be forgotten. But the most valiant Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they saw before their eyes what had happened, because of the sins of those, who were slain.

43. And making a gathering, he sent twelve thousand drachms of silver to Jerusalem for sacrifice, to be offered for the sins of the dead, thinking well and religiously concerning the resurrection:

44. (For if he had not hoped, that those, who were slain, should rise again, it would have seemed superfluous and vain to pray for the dead)

45. And because he considered, that those, who had fallen asleep with godliness†, had great grace laid up for them.

* Of the donaries, &c. That is, of the voice offerings, which had been hung up in the temples of the idols, which they had taken away, when they burnt the port of Jamnia, v. 9, contrary to the prohibition of the law, Deut. vii. 25.

† With godliness. Judas hoped, that these men, who died fighting for the cause of God and religion, might find mercy: either because they might be excused from mortal sin by ignorance; or might have repented of their sin, at least at their death.

46. It is therefore a holy and wholesome thought, to pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from sins.

C H A P. XIII.

Antiochus and Lysias again invade Judea. Menelaus is put to death. The king's great army is worsted twice. The peace is renewed.

IN the year one hundred and forty-nine, Judas understood, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a multitude against Judea,

2. And with him Lysias the regent, who had charge over the affairs of the realm, having with him a hundred and ten thousand† footmen, five thousand horsemen, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3. Menelaus also joined himself with them; and with great deceitfulness besought Antiochus, not for the welfare of his country, but in hopes, that he should be appointed chief ruler.

4. But the King of kings stirred up the mind of Antiochus against this wicked man, and upon Lysias's suggesting, that he was the cause of all the evils, he commanded (as the custom is with them) that he should be apprehended and put to death in the same place.

5. Now there was in that place a tower fifty cubits high, having a heap of ashes on every side: this had a prospect steep down.

6. From thence he commanded the sacrilegious wretch to be thrown down into the ashes, all men thrusting him forward unto death.

7. And by such a law it happened, that Menelaus the transgressor of the law was put to death: not having so much as burial in the earth;

8. And indeed very justly: for inasmuch as he had committed many sins against the altar of God, the fire and ashes of which were holy—he was condemned to die in ashes.

9. But the king, with his mind full of rage, came on to shew himself worse to the Jews than his father was:

10. Which when Judas understood, he commanded the people to call upon the Lord day and night, that as he had always done, so now also he would help them:

11. Because they were afraid to be deprived of the law, and of their country, and of the holy temple: and that he would not suffer the people, who had of late taken breath for a little while, to be again in subjection to blasphemous nations.

12. So when they had all done this together, and had craved mercy of the Lord, with weeping and fasting, lying prostrate on the ground for three days continually, Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready.

13. But he with the ancients determined, before the king should bring his army into Judea, and make himself master of the city, to go out, and to commit the event of the thing to the judgment of the Lord.

† A hundred and ten thousand, &c. The difference between the numbers here set down, and those recorded 1. Mach. iv. is easily accounted for; if we consider that such armies as these are liable to be at one time more numerous than at another—either by sending away large detachments, or receiving fresh supplies of troops, according to different exigencies or occurrence. Some also suspect, that the ancient copyists, in transcribing this place, may, by an easy slip, have substituted one numeral letter for another.

14. So committing all to God the Creator of the world, and having exhorted his people to fight manfully, and to stand up even to death for the laws, the temple, the city, their country, and citizens—he placed his army about Modin.

15. And having given his company for a watch-word, "The victory of God," with most valiant chosen young men, he set upon the king's quarter by night, and slew four thousand men in the camp, and the greatest of the elephants, with those, who had been upon him.

16. And having filled the camp of the enemies with exceeding great fear and tumult, they went off with good success.

17. Now this was done at the break of day, by the protection and help of the Lord.

18. But the king having taken a taste of the hardness of the Jews, attempted to take the strong places by policy:

19. And he marched with his army to Bethsura, which was a strong-hold of the Jews: but he was repulsed; he failed; he lost his men.

20. Now Judas sent necessities to those, who were within.

21. But Rhodocus, one of the Jews' army, disclosed the secrets to the enemies; so he was sought out, and taken up, and put in prison.

22. Again the king treated with those, who were in Bethsura; gave his right hand; took theirs, and went away.

23. He fought with Judas, and was overcome. And when he understood, that Philip, who had been left over the affairs, had rebelled at Antioch, he was in a consternation of mind, and intreating the Jews, and yielding to them, he swore to all things, that seemed reasonable, and being reconciled, offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and left gifts.

24. He embraced Machabeus, and made him governor and prince from Ptolemais unto the Gerrenians.

25. But when he was come to Ptolemais, the men of that city were much displeased with the conditions of the peace, being angry, for fear they should break the covenant.

26. Then Lysias went up to the judgment-seat, and set forth the reason, and appeased the people, and returned to Antioch: and thus matters went with regard to the king's coming and his return.

C H A P. XIV.

Demetrius challenges the kingdom. Alcimus applies to him to be made high priest; Nicanor is sent into Judea: his dealings with Judas: his threats. The history of Razius.

BUT after the space of three years, Judas, and those, who were with him, understood, that Demetrius the son of Seleucus was come up with a great power, and a navy by the haven of Tripolis, to places proper for his purpose;

2. And had made himself master of the countries against Antiochus, and his general Lysias.

3. Now one Alcimus, who had been chief priest, but had wilfully defiled himself in the time of mingling with the heathen, seeing that there was no safety for him, nor access to the altar,

4. Came to king Demetrius in the year one hundred and fifty, presenting unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and besides these, some boughs, which seemed to belong to the temple. And that day indeed he held his peace.

5. But having gotten a convenient time to further his madness, being called to counsel by Demetrius, and asked what the Jews relied upon, and what were their counsels,

6. He answered thereunto: "Those, among the Jews, who are called Assideans, of whom Judas Machabeus is captain, nourish wars, and raise seditions, and will not suffer the realm to be in peace.

7. "For I also being deprived of my ancestors' glory (I mean of the high priesthood) am now come hither:

8. "Principally indeed out of fidelity to the king's interests, but in the next place also to provide for the good of my countrymen: for all our nation suffereth much from the evil proceedings of those men.

9. "Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, take care, I beseech thee, both of the country, and of our nation, according to thy humanity, which is known to all men.

10. "For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible, that the state should be quiet."

11. Now when this man had spoken to this effect, the rest also of the king's friends, who were enemies of Judas, incensed Demetrius against him.

12. And forthwith he sent Nicanor, the commander over the elephants, governor into Judea:

13. Giving him in charge, to take Judas himself, and disperse all those, who were with him, and to make Alcimus the high-priest of the great temple.

14. Then the Gentiles, who had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the miseries and calamities of the Jews to be the matter of their affairs.

15. Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the nations were assembled against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him, who chose his people to keep them for ever, and who protecteth his portion by evident signs.

16. Then at the commandment of their captain, they forthwith removed from the place where they were, and went to the town of Dessau, to meet them.

17. Now Simon the brother of Judas had joined battle with Nicanor; but was frightened with the sudden coming of the adversaries.

18. Nevertheless Nicanor hearing of the valour of Judas's companions, and the greatness of courage, with which they fought for their country, was afraid to try the matter by the sword.

19. Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodotus, and Matthias before, to present and receive the right hand.

20. And when there had been a consultation thereupon, and the captain had acquainted the multitude with it, they were all of one mind to consent to covenant.

21. So they appointed a day, upon which they might commune together by themselves: and seats were brought out, and set for each one.

22. But Judas ordered armed men to be ready in convenient places, lest some mischief might be sudden.

practised by the enemies: so they made an agreeable conference.

23. And Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no wrong, but sent away the flocks of the multitudes, that had been gathered together.

24. And Judas was always dear to him from the heart; and he was well affected to the man.

25. And he desired him to marry a wife, and to have children. So he married, was quiet, and they lived in common.

26. But Alcimus seeing the love they had one to another, and the covenants, came to Demetrius, and told him, that Nicanor favoured the enemy's interest; because he meant to make Judas, who was a traitor to the kingdom, his successor.

27. Then the king being in a rage, and provoked with this man's wicked accusations, wrote to Nicanor, signifying, that he was greatly displeased with the covenant of friendship: and that he commanded him nevertheless to send Machabeus prisoner in all haste to Antioch.

28. When this was known, Nicanor was in a consternation, and took it grievously, that he should make void the articles, which were agreed upon, having received no injury from the man.

29. But because he could not oppose the king, he watched an opportunity to comply with the orders.

30. But when Machabeus perceived, that Nicanor was more stern to him, and that when they met together as usual, he behaved himself in a rough manner; and was sensible that this rough behaviour came not of good, he gathered together a few of his men, and hid himself from Nicanor.

31. But he finding himself notably prevented by the man, came to the great and holy temple; and commanded the priests, who were offering the accustomed sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32. And when they swore unto him, that they knew not where the man was, whom he sought, he stretched out his hand to the temple,

33. And swore, saying: "Unless ye deliver Judas prisoner to me, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and will beat down the altar, and will dedicate this temple to Bacchus."

34. And when he had spoken thus, he departed. But the priests stretching forth their hands to heaven, called upon him, who was ever the defender of their nation, saying in this manner:

35. "Thou, O Lord of all things, who wantest nothing, wast pleased, that the temple of thy habitation should be amongst us.

36. "Therefore now, O Lord, the holy of all holies, keep this house for ever undefiled, which was lately cleansed."

37. Now Razias, one of the ancients of Jerusalem, was accused to Nicanor, a man, who was a lover of the city, and of good report, who, for his kindness, was called the father of the Jews.

38. This man, for a long time, had held fast his purpose of keeping himself pure in the Jews' religion, and was ready to expose his body and life, that he might persevere therein.

39. So Nicanor being willing to declare the hatred, which he bore the Jews, sent five hundred soldiers to take him.

40. For he thought, by ensnaring him, to hurt the Jews very much.

41. Now as the multitude sought to rush into his house, and to break open the door, and to set fire to it, when he was ready to be taken, he struck himself * with his sword:

42. Choosing to die nobly, rather than to fall into the hands of the wicked, and to suffer abuses unbecoming his noble birth.

43. But whereas through haste he missed of giving himself a sure wound, and the crowd was breaking into the doors, he ran boldly to the wall, and manfully threw himself down to the crowd:

44. But they quickly making room for his fall, he came upon the midst of the neck †.

45. And as he had yet breath in him, being inflamed in mind, he arose: and while his blood ran down with a great stream, and he was grievously wounded, he ran through the crowd:

46. And standing upon a steep rock, when he was now almost without blood, grasping his bowels, with both hands he cast them upon the throng, calling upon the Lord of life and spirit, to restore these to him again: and so he departed this life.

C H A P. XV.

Judas encouraged by a vision, gains a glorious victory over Nicanor. The conclusion.

BUT when Nicanor understood, that Judas was in the places of Samaria, he purposed to set upon him with all violence on the sabbath-day.

2. And when the Jews, who were constrained to follow him, said: "Do not act so fiercely, and barbarously; but give honour to the day, that is sanctified: and reverence him, who beholdeth all things:"

3. That unhappy man asked, if there were a mighty One in heaven, who had commanded the sabbath-day to be kept.

4. And when they answered: "There is the living Lord himself in heaven, the mighty One, that commanded the seventh day to be kept."

5. Then he said: "And I am mighty upon the earth; and I command to take arms, and to do the king's business." Nevertheless he prevailed not to accomplish his design.

6. So Nicanor being puffed up with exceeding great pride, thought to set up a public monument of his victory over Judas.

7. But Machabeus ever trusted with all hope, that God would help them.

8. And he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the Gentiles, but to remember the help they had before received from heaven, and now to hope for victory from the Almighty.

* He struck himself, &c. This fact of Razias is of the number of those, which are by no means to be imitated; and which can no otherwise be justified, than by an extraordinary impulse of God, the sovereign master of life and death.

† He came upon the midst of the neck. Venit per medium cervicem. In the Greek it is, κενόν, which signifies a void place, where there is no building.

9. And speaking to them out of the law, and the prophets, and with all putting them in mind of the battles they had fought before, he made them more cheerful.

10. Then after he had encouraged them, he shewed withal the falshood of the Gentiles, and their breach of oaths.

11. So he armed every one of them, not with defence of shield and spear, but with very good speeches and exhortations, and told them a dream worthy to be believed, whereby he rejoiced them all.

12. Now the vision was in this manner: Onias, who had been high priest, a good and virtuous man, modest in his looks, gentle in his manners, and graceful in his speech, and exercised from a child in all virtues, holding up his hands, prayed for all the people of the Jews.

13. After this there appeared also another man, admirable for age and glory, and environed with great beauty and majesty.

14. Then Onias answering, said: "This is a lover of his brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he, who prayeth much for the people, and for all the holy city, Jerusalem the prophet of God."

15. Whereupon Jeremias stretched forth his right hand, and gave to Judas a sword of gold, saying:

16. "Take this holy sword a gift from God, where-with thou shalt overthrow the adversaries of my people Israel."

17. Thus being exhorted with the words of Judas, which were very good, and proper to stir up the courage, and strengthen the hearts of the young men, they resolved to fight, and to set upon them manfully; that valour might decide the matter; because the holy city and the temple were in danger.

18. For their concern was less for their wives and children, and for their brethren and kinsfolks; but their greatest and principal fear was for the holiness of the temple.

19. And those also, who were in the city, had no small concern for those, who were to be engaged in battle.

20. And when now all expected what judgment would be given, and the enemies were at hand, and the army was set in array, the beasts and the horsemen ranged in convenient places,

21. Machabeus considering the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretching out his hands to heaven, called upon the Lord, who worketh wonders, who giveth victory to those, who are worthy, not according to the power of their arms, but according as it seemeth good to him.

22. And in his prayer he said after this manner: "Thou, O Lord, who didst send thy angel in the time of Ezechias king of Juda, and didst kill a hundred and eighty five thousand of the army of Sennacherib:

23. "Send now also, O Lord of heaven, thy good angel before us, for the fear and dread of the greatness of thy arm,

24. "That they may be afraid, who come with blasphemy against thy holy people." And thus he concluded his prayer.

25. But Nicanor, and those, who were with him, came forward, with trumpets and songs.

26. But Judas, and those, who were with him, encountered them, calling upon God by prayers.

27. So fighting with their hands, but praying to the Lord with their hearts, they slew no fewer than five and thirty thousand, being greatly cheered with the presence of God.

28. And when the battle was over, and they were returning with joy, they understood, that Nicanor was slain in his armour.

29. Then making a shout, and a great noise, they blessed the Almighty Lord in their own language.

30. And Judas, who was altogether ready, in body and mind, to die for his countrymen, commanded that Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, should be cut off, and carried to Jerusalem.

31. And when he was come thither, having called together his countrymen, and the priests to the altar, he sent also for those, who were in the castle:

32. And shewing them the head of Nicanor, and the wicked hand, which he had stretched out, with proud brags against the holy house of the Almighty God:

33. He commanded also, that the tongue of the wicked Nicanor should be cut out, and given by pieces to birds; and the hand of the furious man to be hanged up over-against the temple.

34. Then all blessed the Lord of heaven, saying: "Blessed be he, who hath kept his own place undenied."

35. And he hung up Nicanor's head in the top of the castle, that it might be an evident and manifest sign of the help of God.

36. And they all ordained by a common decree, by no means to let pass this day without solemnity:

37. But to celebrate the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, called in the Syrian language, the day before Mardocheai's day.

38. So these things being done with relation to Nicanor, and from that time the city being possessed by the Hebrews, I also will here make an end of my narration:

39. Which if I have done well, and as it becometh the history, it is what I desired: but if not so perfectly*, it must be pardoned me.

40. For as it is hurtful to drink wine, always or always water, but pleasant to use sometimes the one, and sometimes the other: so if the speech be always nicely framed, it will not be grateful to the readers. But here it shall be ended.

* If not so perfectly, &c. This is not said with regard to the truth of the narration; but with regard to the stile and manner of writing; which in the sacred penmen is not always the most accurate: See St. Paul, 1 Cor. chap. xi. ver. 6.

N. B. The third and fourth book of Machabees—as also the third and fourth book of Esdras (which some call the first and second of Esdras) and the prayer of Manasses—are here omitted; because they have never been received by the church.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST,

ACCORDING TO

St. MATTHEW.

CHAP. I.

The genealogy of Christ: he is conceived and born of a virgin.

THE book of the generation of JESUS CHRIST, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2. Abraham begot Isaac. And Isaac begot Jacob. And Jacob begot Judas and his brethren.

3. And Judas begot Phares and Zara of Thamar. And Phares begot Esron. And Esron begot Aram.

4. And Aram begot Aminadab. And Aminadab begot Naasson. And Naasson begot Salmon.

5. And Salmon begot Booz of Rahab. And Booz begot Obed of Ruth. And Obed begot Jesse.

6. And Jesse begot David the king. And David the king begot Solomon, of her, who had been the wife of Urias.

7. And Solomon begot Roboam. And Roboam begot Abias. And Abias begot Afa.

8. And Afa begot Josaphat. And Josaphat begot Joram. And Joram begot Ozias.

9. And Ozias begot Joatham. And Joatham begot Achaz. And Achaz begot Ezechias.

10. And Ezechias begot Manasses. And Manasses begot Amon. And Amon begot Josias.

11. And Josias begot Jechonias and his brethren about the time they were carried away to Babylon.

12. And after they were carried to Babylon, Jechonias begot Salathiel. And Salathiel begot Zorobabel.

13. And Zorobabel begot Abiud. And Abiud begot Eliacim. And Eliacim begot Azor.

14. And Azor begot Sadoc. And Sadoc begot Achim. And Achim begot Eliud.

15. And Eliud begot Eleazar. And Eleazar begot Mathan. And Mathan begot Jacob.

16. And Jacob begot Joseph the husband of Mary*, of whom was born JESUS, who is called CHRIST.

17. So all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourteen generations. And from David until the carrying away to Babylon, are fourteen generations. And from the carrying away to Babylon till Christ, are fourteen generations.

18. Now the birth of Christ was in this wise. When his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child by the Holy Ghost.

19. Whereupon Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing publicly to expose her, was minded to put her away privately.

20. But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared to him in his sleep, saying: "Joseph, son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife; for that which is conceived in her, is of the Holy Ghost."

21. "And she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins."

22. Now all this was done that the word might be fulfilled, which the Lord spoke by the prophet, saying:

23. "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and bring forth a son; and they shall call his name Emmanuel," which being interpreted is, "God with us."

24. And Joseph rising up from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had commanded him, and took unto him his wife.

25. And he knew her not, till she brought forth her first-born son: and he called his name Jesus.

CHAP. II.

The offerings of the wise men: the flight into Egypt: the massacre of the innocents.

NOW when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Juda, in the days of king Herod, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem.

2. Saying: "Where is he, who is born king of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east, and have come to adore him."

3. And king Herod hearing this, was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4. And assembling together all the chief priests and the scribes of the people, he enquired of them, where Christ should be born.

5. But they said to him: "In Bethlehem of Juda." For so it is written by the prophet:

6. "And thou, Bethlehem, the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come forth a ruler, who shall rule my people Israel."

7. Then Herod privately calling the wise men, en-

* Till she brought forth her first-born son. From these words, Helvidius and other heretics most impiously inferred, that the blessed Virgin Mary had other children besides Christ: but St. Jerome shews by divers examples, that this expression of the evangelist was an idiom usual among the Hebrews, to denote by the word until, only what is done, without any regard to the future: Thus it is said, Gen. viii. ver. 6, and 7, that Noe sent forth a raven, which went forth, and did not return till the waters were dried up on the earth. That is, did not return any more. Also Isaia. xlv. 4. God says: I am till you grow old. Who dare infer, that God should then cease to be? God saith to his divine Son: Sit on my right hand till I make thy enemies thy foot stool. Shall he sit no longer, after his enemies are subdued? Yea, and for all eternity. St. Jerome also proves by scripture examples, that an only-begotten son was also called first-born, or first-begotten; because, according to the law the first-born males were to be consecrated to God: Sanctify unto me, saith the Lord, every first-born, that openeth the womb among the children of Israel, &c. Exod. xiii. 2.

* The husband of Mary. The evangelist gives us rather the pedigree of St. Joseph, than that of the blessed virgin, to conform to the custom of the Hebrews, who in their genealogies took no notice of women: but as they were near akin, the pedigree of the one sheweth that of the other.

quired of them diligently the time of the star's appearing to them :

8. And sending them into Bethlehem, said : " Go, and search diligently after the child ; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I also may come and adore him."

9. And when they had heard the king, they went their way : and behold, the star, which they had seen in the east, went before them, until it came and stood over where the child was.

10. And seeing the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy,

11. And going into the house, they found the child with Mary his mother : and falling down they adored him : and opening their treasures, they offered him gifts—gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

12. And having received an answer in sleep, that they should not return to Herod, they went back another way into their country.

13. And after they were departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in sleep to Joseph, saying : " Arise, and take the child and his mother, and fly into Egypt ; and be there until I shall tell thee : for it will come to pass, that Herod will seek the child to destroy him."

14. And he arose, and took the child and his mother by night, and retired into Egypt : and he was there until the death of Herod :

15. That the word might be fulfilled, which the Lord spoke by the prophet saying : " Out of Egypt have I called my son."

16. Then Herod perceiving that he was deluded by the wise men, was exceedingly angry : and sending killed all the male-children, that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time, which he had diligently enquired of the wise men.

17. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying :

18. " A voice in Rama was heard, lamentation and great mourning : Rachel bewailing her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not."

19. But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in sleep to Joseph in Egypt,

20. Saying : " Arise, and take the child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel. For they are dead, who sought the life of the child."

21. And he arose, and took the child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22. But hearing that Archelaus reigned in Judea, in the room of Herod his father, he was afraid to go thither : and being warned in sleep, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee.

23. And he came, and dwelt in a city called Nazareth ; that what was said by the prophets might be fulfilled : " He shall be called a Nazarene."

C H A P. III.

The preaching of John : Christ is baptized.

NOW in those days came John the baptist preaching in the desert of Judea :

* Do penance. Penitentiam agite, penitentes. Which word, according to the use of the scriptures, and the holy father, does not only signify repentance and amendment of life, but also punishing past sins by fasting, and such like penitential exercises.

2. And saying : " Do penance* : for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

3. For this is he, who was spoken of by Isaias the prophet, saying : " A voice of one crying in the desert : ' Prepare ye the way of the Lord ; make straight his paths.'"

4. And the same John had his garment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins ; and his food was locusts and wild honey.

5. Then went out to him Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the country about Jordan :

6. And they were baptized by him in the Jordan, confessing their sins.

7. And when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees† coming to his baptism, he said to them : " Ye brood of vipers, who hath shewed you to flee from the wrath to come ?

8. " Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of penance.

9. " And think not to say within yourselves : ' We have Abraham for our father.' For I tell you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children to Abraham.

10. " For now the axe is laid to the root of the tree. Every tree therefore, that doth not yield good fruit, shall be cut down, and cast into the fire.

11. " I indeed baptize you with water unto penance : but He, who shall come after me, is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear : He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire.

12. " Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his floor, and gather his wheat into the barn ; but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire."

13. Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized by him.

14. But John stayed him, saying : " I ought to be baptized by thee ; and comest thou to me ?"

15. And Jesus answering, said to him : " Suffer now. For so it becometh us to fulfil all justice. Then he suffered him.

16. And Jesus being baptized, forthwith came out of the water : and lo, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him.

17. And behold, a voice from heaven, saying : " This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased."

C H A P. IV.

Christ's fast of forty days : he is tempted. He begins to preach—to call disciples to him—and to work miracles.

THEN Jesus was led by the spirit into the desert, to be tempted by the devil.

2. And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterwards hungry.

3. And the tempter coming, said to him : " If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread."

4. But he answered, and said : " It is written, ' Not by bread alone doth man live, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.'"

5. Then the devil took him up into the holy city, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6. And said to him : " If thou be the son of God,

* Pharisees and Sadducees. These were two sects among the Jews ; of which the former were for the most part hypocrites—the latter a kind of freethinkers in matters of religion.

cast thyself down; for it is written: 'He hath given his angels charge of thee; and in their hands, shall they bear thee up; lest perhaps thou hurt thy foot against a stone.'

7. Jesus said to him: "It is written again, 'Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.'"

8. Again the devil took him up into a very high mountain; and shewed him† all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

9. And said to him: "All these will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down, and adore me."

10. Then Jesus saith to him: "Begone, Satan: for it is written: 'The Lord thy God shalt thou adore, and him only shalt thou serve.'"

11. Then the devil left him: and behold, angels came and ministered to him.

12. And when Jesus had heard, that John was delivered up, he retired into Galilee.

13. And leaving the city Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum on the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthaliim;

14. That the word might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet:

15. "The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthaliim, the way of the sea beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles:

16. "The people, that sat in darkness, saw great light: and to those, who sat in the region of the shadow of death, light is sprung up."

17. From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say: "Do penance; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

18. And Jesus walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, (for they were fishers.)

19. And he saith to them: "Come after me, and I will make you become fishers of men."

20. And they immediately leaving their nets, followed him.

21. And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22. And they forthwith left their nets and their father, and followed him.

23. And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom: and healing all diseases and all infirmities among the people.

24. And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought to him all sick people, who were taken with divers diseases and torments, and such as were possessed by devils, and lunatics, those, who had the palsy: and he healed them.

25. And great multitudes followed him from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond the Jordan.

† Shewed him, &c. That is, pointed out to him, where each kingdom lay; and set forth in words what was most glorious and admirable in each of them. Or also set before his eyes, as it were in a large map, a lively representation of all those kingdoms.

Christ's sermon upon the mount. The eight beatitudes.

AND seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was seated, his disciples came to him:

2. And opening his mouth, he taught them, saying:

3. "Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4. "Blessed are the meek: for they shall possess the land.

5. "Blessed are those, who mourn: for they shall be comforted.

6. "Blessed are those, who hunger and thirst after justice: for they shall be filled.

7. "Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8. "Blessed are the clean of heart: for they shall see God.

9. "Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10. "Blessed are those, who suffer persecution for justice: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11. "Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all, that is evil against you, untruly, for my sake:

12. "Be glad and rejoice, for your reward is very great in heaven. For so they persecuted the prophets, who were before you.

13. "Ye are the salt of the earth. But if the salt lose its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is good for nothing any more, but to be cast out, and to be trodden on by men.

14. "Ye are the light of the world. A city seated on a mountain cannot be hidden.

15. "Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but upon a candlestick, that it may give light to all, who are in the house.

16. "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father, who is in heaven.

17. "Do not think, that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18. "For amen || I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall not pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19. "Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven. But whosoever shall do and teach, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20. "For I tell you, that except your justice exceed that of the scribes and of the Pharisees, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

* The poor in spirit. That is, the humble, and those whose spirit is not set upon riches.

† To fulfil. By accomplishing all the figures and prophecies, and perfecting all, that was imperfect.

|| Amen. That is, assuredly of a truth. This Hebrew word, Amen, is here retained by the example and authority of all the four evangelists, who have retained it. It is used by our Lord as a strong asseveration and affirmation of the truth.

‡ The scribes and of the Pharisees. The scribes were the

21. "Ye have heard that it was said to them of old : 'Thou shalt not kill. And whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgment*.'"

22. "But I say to you, that whosoever is angry with his brother, shall be in danger of the judgment. And whosoever shall say to his brother, 'Raca†' shall be in danger of the council. And whosoever shall say, 'Thou fool,‡' shall be in danger of hell fire.

23. "Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there shall remember, that thy brother hath any thing against thee—

24. "Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go first to be reconciled to thy brother : and then come and offer thy gift.

25. "Be at agreement with thy adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him, lest perhaps the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26. "Amen I say to thee, thou shalt not go out from thence, till thou pay the last farthing.

27. "Ye have heard, that it was said to them of old : 'Thou shalt not commit adultery.'"

28. "But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath already committed adultery with her in his heart.

29. "And if thy right eye cause thee to offend||, pluck it out, and cast it from thee. For it is better for thee, that one of thy members should perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30. "And if thy right hand cause thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee : for it is better for thee, that one of thy members should perish, than that thy whole body should go into hell.

31. "It hath also been said : 'Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorce.'"

32. "But I say to you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, excepting for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery : and whosoever shall marry her, who is put away, committeth adultery.

33. "Again ye have heard, that it was said to them of old : 'Thou shalt not forswear thyself : but thou shalt perform thy oaths to the Lord.'"

34. "But I say to you not to swear at all§ : neither by heaven ; for it is the throne of God :

35. "Nor by the earth ; for it is his foot-stool : nor by Jerusalem ; for it is the city of the great King.

doctors of the law of Moses : the Pharisees were a precise set of men, making profession of a more exact observance of the law ; and upon that account greatly esteemed among the people.

* In danger of the judgment, &c. i. e. Shall be liable to be brought before the lower court, among the Jews, which took cognizance of such crimes : whereas the council or Sanhedrim was a higher court and had greater authority.

† Raca. A word expressing great indignation or contempt.

‡ Thou fool. This was then looked upon as a heinous injury ; and therefore is here so severely condemned.

|| Cause thee to offend. That is, if it be a stumbling block or occasion of sin to thee. By which we are taught to fly the immediate occasions of sin, though they be as dear to us or as necessary, as a hand or an eye.

§ Not to swear at all. 'Tis not forbidden to swear in truth, justice and judgment ; in the honour of God, or our own or neighbour's just defense : but only to swear rashly, or profanely, in common discourse, and without necessity.

36. "Neither shalt thou swear by thy head ; because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37. "But let your speech be : 'Yea, yea : no, no ;' for whatsoever is more than these, cometh from evil.

38. "Ye have heard, that it hath been said : 'An eye for an eye—a tooth for a tooth.'"

39. "But I say to you not to resist evil¶ : but if any man strike thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also :

40. "And if any man will go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41. "And whosoever shall force thee to go one mile, go with him other two.

42. "Give to him, who asketh of thee ; and from him, who would borrow of thee, turn not away.

43. "Ye have heard, that it hath been said : 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thy enemy.'"

44. "But I say to you, love your enemies : do good to those, who hate you : and pray for those, who persecute and calumniate you :

45. "That ye may be the children of your Father, who is in heaven, who maketh his sun to rise upon the good and bad, and raineth upon the just and the unjust.

46. "For if ye love those who love you, what reward shall ye have ? do not even the publicans the same ?

47. "And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more ? do not also the heathens the same ?

48. "Be ye therefore perfect, as also your heavenly Father is perfect.

CHAP. VI.

A continuation of the sermon on the mount.

"TAKE heed that ye do not your justice before men, to be seen by them : otherwise ye shall not have a reward from your Father, who is in heaven.

2. "Therefore when thou dost an alms-deed, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be honoured by men. Amen I say to you, they have received their reward.

3. "But when thou dost alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doth :

4. "That thy alms may be in secret : and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will repay thee.

5. "And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites, who love to stand and pray in the synagogues and corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men : Amen I say to you, they have received their reward.

6. "But thou, when thou shalt pray, enter into thy chamber ; and having shut the door, pray to thy Father in secret : and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will reward thee

7. "And when ye pray, speak not much, as the hea-

¶ Not to resist evil, &c. What is here commanded, is christian patience under injuries and affronts, and to be willing even to suffer still more, rather than to indulge the desire of revenge : but what is further added, does not strictly oblige according to the letter ; for neither did Christ, nor St. Paul turn the other cheek. St. John xviii. and Acts xxiii.

 The publicans. These were the gatherers of the public taxes—a set of men, odious and infamous among the Jews for their extortions and injustice.

do. For they think, that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8. "Be not ye therefore like them. For your Father knoweth what ye stand in need of, before ye ask him.

9. "Ye therefore shall pray in this manner: Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name*.

10. "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.

11. "Give us this day our supersubstantial bread†:

12. "And forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors.

13. "And lead us not into temptation‡. But deliver us from evil. Amen.

14. "For if ye forgive men their offences, your heavenly Father will forgive you also your offences.

15. "But if ye will not forgive men, neither will your Father forgive you your offences.

16. "And when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear to men to fast. Amen I say to you, they have received their reward.

17. "But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and wash thy face:

18. "That thou appear not to men to fast, but to thy Father, who is in secret: and thy Father, who seeth in secret, will reward thee.

19. "Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth; where rust and moth consume, and where thieves break through and steal.

20. "But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven: where neither rust nor moth doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.

21. "For where thy treasure is, there is thy heart also.

22. "The light of thy body is thy eye. If thy eye be simple, thy whole body shall be lightsome.

23. "But if thy eye be evil, thy whole body shall be darksome. If then the light, that is in thee, be darkness, the darkness itself how great shall it be?

24. "No man can serve two masters. For either he will hate the one, and love the other: or he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon§.

25. "Therefore I say to you, be not solicitous for your life, what ye shall eat—nor for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food—and the body more than the raiment?

26. "Behold the birds of the air; for they neither sow, nor do they reap, nor gather into barns: yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye of much more value than they?

27. "And which of you, by taking thought, can add to his stature one cubit?

28. "And for raiment why are ye solicitous? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they labour not, neither do they spin.

* Hallowed. That is, blessed and glorified.

† Supersubstantial bread. In St. Luke the same word is rendered daily bread. It is understood of the bread of life, which we receive in the blessed sacrament.

‡ Lead us not into temptation. That is, suffer us not to be overcome by temptation.

§ Mammon. That is, riches, worldly interest.

29. "And yet I say to you, that not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed as one of these.

30. "Now if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more you, O ye of little faith?

31. "Be not solicitous therefore, saying: 'What shall we eat, or what shall we drink, or wherewith shall we be clothed?'

32. "For after all these things do the heathens seek. For your Father knoweth, that ye have need of all these things.

33. "Seek ye therefore first the kingdom of God, and his justice: and all these things shall be added unto you.

34. "Be not therefore solicitous for to-morrow; for the morrow will be solicitous for itself. Sufficient for the day is the evil thereof.

C H A P. VII.

The third part of the Sermon on the mount.

"JUDGE not, that ye may not be judged.

2. "For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3. "And why seeest thou the mote, that is in thy brother's eye—and seeest not the beam, that is in thy own eye?

4. "Or how sayest thou to thy brother: 'Let me cast the mote out of thy eye;' and behold, a beam is in thy own eye?

5. "Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thy own eye: and then shalt thou see to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6. "Give not that which is holy to dogs; neither cast ye your pearls before swine; lest they trample them under their feet, and turning upon you, they tear you.

7. "Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall find: knock, and it shall be opened to you.

8. "For every one, who asketh, receiveth: and he, who seeketh, findeth: and to him, who knocketh, it shall be opened.

9. "Or what man is there among you, of whom if his son ask bread, will he reach him a stone?

10. "Or if he ask a fish, will he reach him a serpent?

11. "If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children; how much more will your Father, who is in heaven, give good things to those, who ask him?

12. "All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them. For this is the law and the prophets.

13. "Enter ye in at the narrow gate: for wide is the gate and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction; and many there are who go in thereat.

14. "How narrow is the gate, and strait is the way, that leadeth to life: and few there are, who find it!

15. "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep; but inwardly they are ravenous wolves.

16. "By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17. "Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and the evil tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit; neither can an evil tree bring forth good fruit.

19. "Every tree, which bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire.

20. "Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21. "Not every one who saith to me, 'Lord, Lord!' shall enter into the kingdom of heaven: but he, who doth the will of my Father, who is in heaven—he shall enter into the kingdom of heaven.

22. "Many will say to me in that day: 'Lord, Lord! have not we prophesied in thy name, and cast out devils in thy name, and done many wonderful works in thy name?'

23. "And then will I profess unto them: 'I never knew you: depart from me, ye who work iniquity.'

24. "Therefore whosoever hears these my words, and doth them, shall be likened to a wise man, who built his house upon a rock.

25. "And the rain fell; and the floods came; and the winds blew; and they beat upon that house; and it fell not; for it was founded on a rock.

26. "And every one, who heareth these my words, and doth them not, shall be like a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand.

27. "And the rain fell; and the floods came; and the winds blew; and they beat upon that house; and it fell; and great was the fall thereof."

28. And it came to pass, when Jesus had fully ended these words, the people were in admiration at his doctrine.

29. For he was teaching them as one having power, and not as the scribes and pharisees.

CHAP. VIII.

Christ cleanses the leper; heals the centurion's servant, Peter's mother-in-law, and many others: he stills the storm at sea; drives the devils out of two men possessed; and suffers them to go into the swine.

AND when he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him:

2. And behold, a leper came and worshipped him, saying: "Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."

3. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying: "I will. Be thou made clean." And immediately his leprosy was cleansed."

4. And Jesus said to him: "See thou tell no man: but go, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift, which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them."

5. And when he had entered into Capharnaum, there came to him a centurion, beseeching him,

6. And saying: "Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, and is grievously tormented."

7. And Jesus said to him: "I will come and heal him."

8. And the centurion making answer, said: "Lord, I am not worthy, that thou shouldst enter under my roof: but only say the word, and my servant shall be healed.

9. "For I also am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, 'Go,' and he goeth; and to another, 'Come,' and he cometh; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he doth it.

10. And when Jesus heard this, he marvelled and said unto those, who followed him: "Amen I say to you, I have not found so great faith in Israel.

11. "And I say unto you, that many shall come from the east and the west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven:

12. "But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into exterior darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

13. And Jesus said to the centurion: "Go, and as thou hast believed, so be it done to thee." And the servant was healed at the same hour.

14. And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother lying, and sick of a fever:

15. And he touched her hand; and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered to them.

16. And when evening was come, they brought him many, who were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word: and all, who were sick, he healed;

17. That the word might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the prophet Isaias, saying: "He took our infirmities, and bore our diseases."

18. And Jesus seeing great multitudes about him, gave orders to pass over the water.

19. And a certain scribe came and said to him: "Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou shalt go."

20. And Jesus saith to him: "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air nests: but the Son of man has not where to lay his head."

21. And another of his disciples said to him: "Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father."

22. But Jesus said to him: "Follow me: and the dead bury their dead."

23. And when he entered into the ship, his disciples followed him.

24. And behold, a great tempest arose in the sea, so that the ship was covered with waves; but he was asleep.

25. And his disciples came to him, and awaked him, saying: "Lord, save us: we perish."

26. And Jesus saith to them: "Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith?" Then rising up, he commanded the winds, and the sea, and there came a great calm.

27. But the men wondered, saying: "What manner of man is this; for the winds and the sea obey him."

28. And when he was come on the other side of the water, into the country of the Gerasens, there met him two, who were possessed with devils, coming out of the sepulchres, exceedingly fierce, so that none could pass by that way.

29. And behold, they cried out, saying: "What have we to do with thee, Jesus Son of God? Art thou come hither to torment us before the time?"

30. And there was, not far from them, a herd of many swine feeding.

31. And the devils besought him, saying: "If thou cast us out hence, send us into the herd of swine."

32. And he said to them: "Go." So they going out went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea: and they perished in the waters.

33. And those, who kept them, fled; and coming into the city, told every thing, and concerning those who had been possessed by the devils.

34. And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him, that he would depart from their coasts.

C H A P. IX.

Christ heals one sick of the palsy; calls Matthew; cures the issue of blood; raises to life the daughter of Jairus; gives sight to two blind; and heals a dumb man possessed by the devil.

AND entering into a ship, he passed over the water, and came into his own city.

2. And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy lying on a bed. And Jesus seeing their faith, said to the man sick of the palsy: "Son, be of good heart; thy sins are forgiven thee."

3. And behold, some of the scribes said within themselves: "He blasphemeth."

4. And Jesus seeing their thoughts, said: "Why do ye think evil in your hearts?"

5. "Whether is easier, to say: 'Thy sins are forgiven thee:' or to say, 'Arise and walk?'"

6. "But that ye may know, that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, then saith he to the man sick of the palsy: 'Arise; take up thy bed; and go into thy house.'"

7. And he arose, and went into his house.

8. And the multitude seeing it, feared, and glorified God, who had given such power to men.

9. And when Jesus passed on from thence, he saw a man sitting in the custom-house, at table named Matthew: and saith to him: "Follow me." And he rose up, and followed him.

10. And it came to pass, as he was sitting at table in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came, and sat down with Jesus and his disciples.

11. And the Pharisees seeing it, said to his disciples: "Why doth your master eat with publicans and sinners?"

12. But Jesus hearing it, said: "Those, who are in health, need not a physician; but those, who are sick."

13. "Go then and learn what this meaneth, 'I will have mercy, and not sacrifice.' For I am not come to call the just, but sinners."

14. Then came to him the disciples of John, saying: "Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but thy disciples do not fast?"

15. And Jesus said to them: "Can the children of the bridegroom mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them; and then they shall fast."

16. "And no man putteth a piece of new cloth to an old garment: for it taketh away the fulness thereof from the garment: and there is made a greater rent."

17. "Neither do they put new wine into old bottles: otherwise the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish. But new wine they put into new bottles: and both are preserved."

18. As he was speaking these things to them, behold, a certain ruler came up, and adored him, saying: "Lord, my daughter is just now dead: but come, lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live."

19. And Jesus rising up, followed him, with his disciples.

20. And behold, a woman who was troubled with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment.

21. For she said within herself: "If I shall but touch his garment, I shall be healed."

22. But Jesus turning about and seeing her, said: "Be of good heart, daughter: thy faith hath made thee whole." And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23. And when Jesus came into the house of the ruler, and saw the minstrels and the multitude making a noise,

24. He said: "Give place, for the girl is not dead, but sleepeth." And they laughed him to scorn.

25. And when the multitude was put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand. And the maid arose.

26. And the same hereof went abroad into all that country.

27. And as Jesus passed from thence, there followed him two blind men, crying out, and saying: "Have mercy on us, O son of David."

28. And when he had come to the house, the blind men came to him. And Jesus saith to them: "Do ye believe, that I can do this unto you?" They say to him: "Yea, Lord."

29. Then he touched their eyes, saying: "According to your faith, be it done unto you."

30. And their eyes were opened: and Jesus strictly charged them, saying: "See that no man know this."

31. But they going out, spread his fame abroad in all that country.

32. And when they had gone out, behold, they brought him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33. And after the devil was cast out, the dumb man spake, and the multitude wondered, saying: "Never was the like seen in Israel."

34. But the Pharisees said: "By the prince of devils, he casteth out devils."

35. And Jesus went about all the cities, and towns, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease.

36. And seeing the multitudes, he had compassion on them: because they were distressed, and lying like sheep, that have no shepherd.

37. Then he saith to his disciples: "The harvest indeed is great, but the labourers are few."

38. "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest."

C H A P. X.

Christ sends out his twelve apostles, with the power of miracles. The lessons he gives them.

AND when he had called his twelve disciples together, he gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of diseases, and all manner of sicknesses.

2. Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: the first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother.

3. James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Matthew the publican, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus.

4. Simon Chananeus, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5. These twelve Jesus sent; and commanded them, saying: "Go not into the way of the Gentiles; and into the cities of the Samaritans enter not.

6. "But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7. "And going preach, saying: 'The kingdom of heaven is at hand.'

8. "Heal the sick; raise the dead; cleanse the lepers; cast out devils: gratis have you received, gratis give.

9. "Do not possess gold, nor silver, nor money in your purses—

10. "Nor scrip for your journey, nor two coats, nor shoes, nor a staff: for the workman is worthy of his meat.

11. "And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy: and there abide till ye go thence.

12. "And when ye come into a house, salute it, saying: 'Peace be to this house.'

13. "And if that house be worthy, your peace shall come upon it: but if it be not worthy, your peace shall return to you.

14. "And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words—going forth out of that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet.

15. "Amen, I say to you, it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16. "Behold, I send you as sheep in the midst of wolves. Be ye therefore wise as serpents, and simple as doves.

17. "But beware of men: for they will deliver you up in councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues.

18. "And ye shall be brought before governors; and before kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the gentiles.

19. "But when they shall deliver you up, take no thought how or what to speak: for it shall be given you in that hour what to speak.

20. "For it is not ye, who speak, but the Spirit of your Father, that speaketh in you.

21. "The brother also shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the son: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and shall put them to death.

22. "And ye shall be hated by all men for my name's sake: but he, who shall persevere unto the end, he shall be saved.

23. "And when they shall persecute you in this city, flee into another. Amen I say to you, ye shall not finish all the cities of Israel, till the Son of man come.

24. "The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

25. "It is enough for the disciple, that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more them of his household?

* Simple. That is, harmless, plain, sincere, and without guile.

26. "Therefore fear them not: for nothing is covered, that shall not be revealed, nor hidden, that shall not be known.

27. "That, which I tell you in the dark, speak in the light: and that, which you hear in the secret, preach ye upon the house-tops.

28. "And fear not those, who kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him, who can destroy both soul and body in hell.

29. "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing, and not one of them shall fall on the ground without your father.

30. "But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

31. "Fear not therefore: better are you than many sparrows.

32. "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, I will also confess him before my Father, who is in heaven.

33. "But whosoever shall deny me before men, I will also deny him before my Father, who is in heaven.

34. "Do not think, that I am come to send peace upon earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

35. "For I am come to set a man at variance against his father; and the daughter against her mother; and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

36. "And a man's enemies shall be those of his household.

37. "He, who loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me: and he, who loveth his daughter more than me, is not worthy of me.

38. "And he, who taketh not up his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

39. "He, who findeth his life, shall lose it; and he, who shall lose his life for my sake, shall find it.

40. "He, who receiveth you, receiveth me: and he, who receiveth me, receiveth him, who sent me.

41. "He, who receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive the reward of a prophet: and he, who receiveth a just man in the name of a just man, shall receive the reward of a just man.

42. "And whosoever shall give to drink to one of these little ones, a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, Amen I say to you, he shall not lose his reward."

C H A P. XI.

John sends his disciples to Christ, who upbraids the Jews with their incredulity, and calls to him such as are sensible of their burdens.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, that he departed from thence, to teach and preach in their cities.

2. Now, when John had heard in prison the works of Christ, sending two of his disciples he said to him:

3. "Art thou he, that art to come, or do we look for another?"

4. And Jesus making answer, said to them: "Go,

* I am come to set a man at variance, &c. Not that this was the end or design of the coming of our Saviour; but that his coming, and his doctrine would have this effect, by reason of the obstinate resistance, which many would make, and their persecuting all such, as should adhere to him.

and relate to John what ye have heard and seen.
5. "The blind see; the lame walk; the lepers are cleansed; the deaf hear; the dead rise again; the poor have the gospel preached to them.

6. "And blessed is he, who shall not be scandalized in me."^{*}

7. And when they went their way, Jesus began to say to the multitude, concerning John: "What went ye out into the desert to see? a reed shaken with the wind?

8. "But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft garments? Behold, those, who are clothed in soft garments, are in the houses of kings.

9. "But what went ye out to see? a prophet? yea I tell you, and more than a prophet.

10. "For this is he, of whom it is written: 'Behold, I send my angel before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.'

11. "Amen I say to you, there hath not risen among those, who are born of women, a greater than John the baptist: yet he that is the lesser in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

12. "And from the days of John the baptist until now, the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence[†]; and the violent bear it away.

13. "For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John:

14. "And if ye will receive it, he is Elias[‡], that is to come.

15. "He, who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16. "But whereunto shall I esteem this generation to be like? It is like to children sitting in the market-place, who cry out to their companions;

17. "And say: 'We have piped to you, and ye have not danced: we have lamented, and ye have not mourned.'

18. "For John came neither eating nor drinking: and they say: 'He hath a devil.'

19. "The Son of man ^{eat and drink} and drinkin^g: and they say: 'Behold a man, who is a glutton and a wine-drinker, a friend of publicans and sinners.' And wisdom is justified by her children."

20. Then began he to upbraid the cities, wherein were done the most of his mighty works, because they had not done penance.

21. "Wo to thee, Corozain; wo to thee, Bethsaida: for if in Tyre and Sidon the mighty works had been done, which have been done in you, they would long ago have done penance in sack-cloth and ashes:

22. "But I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment, than for you.

23. "And thou, Capharnaum, shalt thou be exalted up to heaven? thou shalt go down even unto hell. For if the mighty works had been done in Sodom, which have been done in thee, perhaps it would have remained until this day.

24. "But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee."

25. At that time Jesus answered, and said: "I give thanks to thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hidden these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them to little ones.

26. "Yea, Father; for so hath it seemed good in thy sight.

27. "All things are delivered to me by my Father. And no one knoweth the Son, but the Father: neither doth any one know the Father, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

28. "Come to me, all ye, who labour, and are heavy laden; and I will refresh you.

29. "Take up my yoke upon you, and learn of me; because I am meek, and humble of heart: and ye shall find rest to your souls.

30. "For my yoke is sweet and my burden light."

C H A P. XII.

Christ reproves the blindness of the pharisees, and confutes their attributing his miracles to satan.

AT that time Jesus went through the corn on the sabbath-day: and his disciples being hungry, began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

2. And the pharisees seeing them, said to him: "Behold, thy disciples do that, which is not lawful to do on the sabbath-days."

3. But he said to them: "Have ye not read what David did when he was hungry, and those, who were with him:

4. "How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the loaves of proposition^{||}, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those, who were with him, but for the priests only?

5. "Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath-days the priests in the temple break the sabbath, and are without blame?

6. "But I tell you that there is here a greater than the temple.

7. "And if ye knew what this meaneth, 'I will have mercy, and not sacrifice:' ye would never have condemned the innocent.

8. "For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath-day."

9. And when he had departed from thence, he came into their synagogue.

10. And behold, there was a man who had his hand withered: and they asked him, saying: "Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-days?" that they might accuse him.

11. But he said to them: "What man shall there be among you, who hath one sheep—and if the same fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not take hold of it, and lift it up?

12. "How much better is a man than a sheep?

^{||} The loaves of proposition. So were called the twelve loaves, which were placed before the sanctuary in the temple of God.

^{*} Scandalized in me. That is, who shall not take occasion of scandal or offence from my humility, and the disgraceful death of the cross, which I shall endure.

[†] Suffereth violence, &c. It is not to be obtained but by main force, by using violence upon ourselves, and by mortification and penance.

[‡] He is Elias, &c. Not in person, but in spirit. Luke i. 17.

Therefore it is lawful to do a good deed on the sabbath day."

12. Then he saith to the man: "Stretch forth thy hand." And he stretched it forth, and it was restored to health like the other.

14. And the pharisees going out made a consultation against him, how they might destroy him.

15. But Jesus knowing it, retired from thence: and many followed him; and he healed them all.

16. And he charged them, that they should not make him known.

17. That the word might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying:

18. "Behold my servant, whom I have chosen, my beloved, in whom my soul hath been well pleased. I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the gentiles.

19. "He shall not contend, nor cry out: neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20. "The bruised reed he shall not break; and smoking flax he shall not extinguish; till he send forth judgment unto victory.

21. "And in his name the gentiles shall hope."

22. Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, so that he both spoke and saw.

23. And all the multitudes were amazed, and said: "Is not this the son of David?"

24. But the pharisees hearing it, said: "This man casteth not out devils but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils."

25. And Jesus knowing their thoughts, said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself shall be made desolate: and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.

26. "And if satan cast out satan, he is divided against himself: how then shall his kingdom stand?

27. "And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they shall be your judges.

28. "But if I by the Spirit of God cast out devils, then is the kingdom of God come unto you.

29. "Or how can any one enter into the house of the strong man, and rifle his goods, unless he first bind the strong man? and then he will rifle his house.

30. "He, who is not with me, is against me: and he, who gathereth not with me, scattereth.

31. "Therefore I say to you: Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven men; but the blasphemy against the spirit* shall not be forgiven.

32. "And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but he, that shall

* The blasphemy against the spirit. The sin here spoken of, is that blasphemy, by which the pharisees attributed the miracles of Christ, wrought by the spirit of God, to Beelzebub the prince of devils. Now this kind of sin is usually accompanied with so much obstinacy, and such wilful opposition to the spirit of God, and the known truth, that men, who are guilty of it, are seldom or never converted; and therefore are never forgiven, because they will not repent. Otherwise there is no sin, which God cannot, or will not forgive, to such as sincerely repent, and have recourse to the keys of the church.

Speak against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him neither in this world, nor in the world to come.

33. "Either make the tree good, and its fruit good, or make the tree evil, and its fruit evil. For by the fruit the tree is known.

34. "O generation of vipers, how can ye speak good things, whereas ye are evil? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35. "A good man out of a good treasure bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of an evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.

36. "But I say unto you, that every idle word†, which men shall speak, they shall render an account for it in the day of judgment.

37. "For by thy words thou shalt be justified; and by thy words thou shalt be condemned."

38. Then some of the scribes and pharisees answered him, saying: "Master, we would see a sign‡ from thee."

39. But he answering, said to them: "An evil and adulterous generation seeketh for a sign: and a sign shall not be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet.

40. "For as Jonas was in the whale's belly three days and three nights: so shall the Son of man be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights§.

41. "The men of Nineve shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they did penance at the preaching of Jonas: and behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

42. "The queen of the south shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon: and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

43. "And when an unclean spirit has gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeketh rest, and findeth none.

44. "Then he saith: 'I will return into my house, from whence I came out.' And coming he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45. "Then he goeth, and taketh with him seven other spirits more wicked than himself: and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is made worse than the first. So shall it be also to this wicked generation."

46. As he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, seeking to speak to him.

47. And one said to him: "Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, seeking thee."

† Not in the world to come. From these words, St. Augustine (De Civ. l. xxi. c. 13.) and St. Gregory (Dialog. iv. c. 39.) infer, that some sins may be remitted in the world to come; and consequently, that there is a purgatory or a middle place.

‡ Every idle word. This shews there must be a place of temporal punishment hereafter, where these slighter faults shall be punished.

§ A sign. That is, a miracle from heaven, St. Luke xi. v. 16.

¶ Three days, &c. Not complete days and nights; but part of three days, and three nights, taken according to the manner, in which the Hebrews counted their days and nights, viz. from evening to evening.

48. But he answered, and said to him, said: "Who is my mother?"

49. And stretching forth his hand towards his disciples, he said: "Behold my mother and my brethren."

50. "For whosoever shall do the will of my Father, who is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother."

C H A P. XIII.

The parables of the sower of the cockle; of the mustard seed, &c.

THE same day Jesus going out of the house, sat by the sea-side.

2. And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat: and all the multitude stood on the shore.

3. And he spoke to them many things in parables, saying: "Behold, the sower went forth to sow."

4. "And while he soweth, some fell by the way side: and the birds of the air came, and ate them up."

5. "And other some fell upon stony ground, where they had not much earth: and they sprung up immediately, because they had no depth of earth."

6. "And when the sun was up, they were scorched: and because they had not root, they withered away."

7. "And others fell among thorns: and the thorns grew up, and choked them."

8. "And others fell upon good ground: and they brought forth fruit, some a hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, and some thirty-fold."

9. "He, who hath ears to hear, let him hear."

10. And his disciples came and said to him: "Why speakest thou to them in parables?"

11. He answered, and said to them: "Because to you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven: but to them it is not given."

12. "For he, who hath, to him shall be given: but he, who hath not, from him shall be taken away even that, which he hath."

13. "Therefore do I speak to them in parables: because, seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand."

14. "And the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled in them, who saith: 'By hearing, ye shall hear, and shall not understand: and seeing ye shall see, and shall not receive.'

15. "For the heart of this people has grown gross, and with their ears they have been dull of hearing: and their eyes they have shut: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them."

16. "But blessed are your eyes, because they see—and your ears, because they hear."

17. "For, amen I say to you, many prophets and just men have desired to see the things, which ye see, and have not seen them—and to hear the things, which ye hear, and have not heard them."

18. "Ye therefore the parable of the sower."

19. "When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, there cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that, which was sown in his heart: this is he, who received the seed by the way-side."

20. "And he, who received the seed upon stony ground, is he, who heareth the word, and immediately receiveth it with joy."

21. "But hath he not root in himself, but is only for a time: and when there ariseth tribulation and persecution because of the word, he is presently scandalized."

22. "And he, who received the seed among the thorns, is he, who heareth the word, and the care of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choketh up the word; and he becometh fruitless."

23. "But he, who received the seed into good ground, is he, who heareth the word, and understandeth, and beareth fruit, and yieldeth one a hundred-fold, and another sixty, and another thirty."

24. Another parable he proposed to them, saying: "The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man, who sowed good seed in his field."

25. "But while men were asleep, his enemy came, and overflowed cockle among the wheat; and went his way."

26. "And when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared also the cockle."

27. "Then the servants of the master of the house came, and said to him: 'Master, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it cockle?'

28. "And he said to them: 'An enemy hath done this.' And the servants said to him: 'Wilt thou, that we go and gather it up?'

29. "And he said: 'No; lest while ye gather up the cockle, ye root up the wheat also together with it.'

30. "Let both grow until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers: 'Gather up first the cockle, and bind it into bundles to burn: but gather the wheat into my barn.'

31. Another parable he proposed to them, saying: "The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field:

32. "Which indeed is the least of all seeds; but when it is grown up, it is greater than any herbs, and becometh a tree; so that the birds of the air come, and dwell in the branches thereof."

33. Another parable he spoke to them: "The kingdom of heaven is like to leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, until the whole was leavened."

34. All these things Jesus spoke in parables to the multitudes: and without parables he did not speak to them;

35. That the word might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the prophet, saying: "I will open my mouth in parables: I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world."

* Who is my mother? This was not spoken by way of slighting his mother: but to shew, that we are never to suffer ourselves to be taken from the service of God, by any inordinate affection to our earthly parents: and that what our Lord chiefly regarded in his mother, was, her doing the will of his Father in heaven. It may also further allude to the reprobation of the Jews, his carnal kindred, and the election of the Gentiles.

36. Then having sent away the multitudes, he came into the house, and his disciples came to him, saying: "Explain to us the parable of the cockle of the field."

37. He made answer, and said to them: "He, who soweth good seed, is the Son of man."

38. "And the field is the world. And the good seed are the children of the kingdom. And the cockle are the children of the wicked one."

39. "And the enemy, that sowed them, is the devil. But the harvest is the end of the world. And the reapers are the angels."

40. "Even as cockle therefore is gathered up, and burnt with fire, so shall it be at the end of the world."

41. "The Son of man shall send his angels; and they shall gather out of his kingdom all scandals, and those, who work iniquity;

42. "And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

43. "Then shall the just shine as the sun, in the kingdom of their Father. He, who hath ears to hear, let him hear."

44. "The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in a field; which, when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth, and selleth all, that he hath, and buyeth that field."

45. "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a merchant, seeking good pearls;

46. "Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went his way, and sold all, that he had, and bought it."

47. "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like to a net cast into the sea, and gathering together all kinds of fishes:

48. "Which, when it was filled, they drew out, and sitting by the shore, they chose out the good into vessels; but the bad they cast forth."

49. "So shall it be at the end of the world. The angels shall go out, and shall separate the wicked from among the just:

50. "And shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

51. "Have ye understood all these things?" They say to him: "Yea."

52. He said unto them: "Therefore every scribe instructed in the kingdom of heaven, is like to a master of a house, who bringeth forth out of his treasure new things and old."

53. And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed from thence.

54. And coming into his own country, he taught them in their synagogues, so that they wondered, and said: "How came this man by this wisdom, and these mighty works?"

55. "Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary, and his brethren * James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Jude?"

* His brethren. These were the children of Mary the wife of Cleophas, sister to our blessed lady (St. Mat. xxviii. 55. St. John xix. 25.) and therefore, according to the usual style of Scripture, they were called brethren, that is, near relations to our Saviour.

56. "And his sisters, are they not all with him? Whence then hath he all these things?"

57. And they were scandalized in his regard. Jesus said to them: "A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house."

58. And he wrought not many miracles there, because of their unbelief.

C H A P. XIV.

Herod puts John to death. Christ feeds 5000 in the desert. He walks upon the sea, and heals all the diseases with the touch of his garment.

AT the time Herod the tetrarch † heard of the fame of Jesus:

2. And he said to his servants: "This is John the baptist: he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works shew forth themselves in him."

3. For Herod had apprehended John, and kept him, and put him in prison, because of Herodias, brother's wife.

4. For John said to him: "It is not lawful for thee to have her."

5. And when he would have put him to death, he feared the people: because they esteemed him a prophet.

6. But on Herod's birth-day, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.

7. Whereupon he promised with an oath, to give her whatsoever she would ask of him.

8. But she being instructed before by her mother said: "Give me here in a dish the head of John the baptist."

9. And the king was struck sad: yet because of his oath, and of those, who sat with him at table, he commanded it to be given her.

10. And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison.

11. And his head was brought in a dish: and it was given to the damsel; and she brought it to her mother.

12. And his disciples came and took the body, and buried it, and came and told Jesus:

13. Which when Jesus had heard, he retired from thence by ship into a desert place apart: and the people having heard of it, followed him on foot out of the cities.

14. And he coming forth saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, and healed their sick.

15. And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying: "This is a desert place; and the hour is now past: send away the multitudes, that going into the towns, they may buy themselves victuals."

16. But Jesus said to them: "They have no need to go: give ye them to eat."

17. They answered him: "We have here but five loaves and two fishes."

18. He said to them: "Bring them hither to me."

19. And when they had commanded the multitudes to sit down upon the grass, he took the five loaves and the two fishes; and looking up to heaven, he blessed and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes :

20. And they did all eat, and were filled : and they took up what remained, twelve full baskets of fragments.

21. And the number of those, who had eaten, was five thousand men, besides women and children.

22. And forthwith Jesus obliged his disciples to get up into the ship, and to go before him over the water, while he sent the multitude away.

23. And when he had dismissed the multitude, he went up into a mountain alone to pray. And when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24. But the ship in the midst of the sea was tossed with the waves : for the wind was contrary.

25. And in the fourth watch of the night, he came to them walking upon the sea.

26. And when they saw him walking upon the sea, they were troubled, saying : " It is an apparition." And they cried out for fear.

27. And immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying : " Be of good heart : it is I ; be not afraid."

28. And Peter making answer, said : " Lord, if it be thou, bid me come to thee upon the waters."

29. And he said : " Come." And Peter going down out of the ship, walked upon the water to come to Jesus.

30. But seeing the wind strong, he was afraid : and when he began to sink, he cried out, saying : " Lord, save me."

31. And immediately Jesus stretching forth his hand, took hold of him, and said to him : " O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt ?"

32. And when they had come up into the ship, the wind ceased.

33. Then those, who were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying : " Of a truth thou art the Son of God."

34. And when they were gone over, they came into the country of Genesar.

35. And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country, and brought to him all that were diseased.

36. And they besought him, that they might touch but the hem of his garment. And as many as touched, were made whole.

Christ reproves the scribes. He cures the daughter of the woman of Chanaan, and many others ; and feeds 4000 with seven loaves.

THEN came to him from Jerusalem scribes and pharisees, saying :

2. " Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the ancients ? For they wash not their hands, when they eat bread."

3. But he answering, said to them : " Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God for your tradition ? For God said :

4. ' Honour thy father and mother : ' And he that shall curse father or mother, let him die the death."

5. " But ye say : ' Whosoever shall say to his father or mother : ' The gift ' whatsoever proceedeth from me, shall profit thee."

* The gift. That is, the offerings, that I shall make to
VOL. II.

6. " And he shall not honour his father or his mother : and ye have made void the commandment of God for your tradition.

7. " Ye hypocrites, well hath Isaiah prophesied of you, saying :

8. ' This people honoureth me with their lips : but their heart is far from me.

9. ' And in vain do they worship me, teaching doctrines and commandments of men."

10. And having called together the multitudes unto him, he said to them : " Hear ye and understand."

11. " Not that, which goeth into the mouth, defileth a man, but what cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man."

12. Then came his disciples, and said to him : " Dost thou know, that the pharisees, when they heard this word, were scandalized ?"

13. But he answering, said : " Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14. " Let them alone : they are blind, and leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, they both fall into the pit."

15. And Peter answering, said to him : " Explain to us this parable."

16. But he said : " Are ye also yet without understanding ?

17. " Do ye not understand, that whatsoever entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the privy ?

18. " But the things, which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart : and those things defile a man.

God, shall be instead of that which should be expended for thy profit. This tradition of the pharisees was calculated to enrich themselves ; by exempting children from giving any further assistance to their parents, if they once offered to the temple and the priests, that which should have been the support of their parents. But this was a violation of the law of God, and of nature, which our Saviour here condemns.

† Commandments of men. The doctrines and commandments here reprehended are such as are either contrary to the law of God (as that of neglecting parents, under pretence of giving to God) or at least are frivolous, unprofitable, and no ways conducing to true piety, as that of often washing hands, &c. without regard to the purity of the heart. But as to the rules and ordinances of holy church, touching fasts, festivals, &c. these are no ways repugnant, but highly agreeable, to God's holy word, and all christian piety : neither are they to be counted among the doctrines and commandments of men ; because they proceed not from mere human authority, but from that, which Christ has established in his church ; whose pastors he has commanded us to hear and obey, even as himself. St. Luke x. 16. St. Matt. xviii. 17.

† Not that, which goeth in, &c. No uncleanness in meat, nor any dirt contracted by eating it with unwashed hands, can defile the soul—but sin alone, or a disobedience of the heart to the ordinance and will of God. And thus, when Adam took the forbidden fruit, it was not the apple, which entered into the mouth, but the disobedience to the law of God, which defiled him. The same may be said if a Jew, in the time of the old law, had eaten swine's flesh ; or a christian convert, in the days of the apostles, contrary to their ordinance, had eaten blood ; or if any of the faithful at present should transgress the ordinance of God's church, by breaking the fasts : for in all these cases, the soul would be defiled ; not indeed by that, which goeth into the mouth ; but by the disobedience of the heart, in wilfully transgressing the ordinance of God, or of those who have their authority from him.

19. "For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false testimonies, blasphemies.

20. "These are the things, which defile a man. But to eat with unwashed hands doth not defile a man."

21. And Jesus went from thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22. And behold, a woman of Chanaan, who came out of those coasts, crying out, said to him: "Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David: my daughter is grievously troubled by a devil."

23. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying: "Send her away; for she crieth after us."

24. And he answering, said: "I was not sent but othe sheep, who are lost of the house of Israel.

25. But she came and worshipped him, saying: "Lord, help me."

26. But he answered, and said: "It is not good to take the bread of the children, and to cast it to the dogs."

27. And she said: "Yea, Lord: for the whelps also eat of the crumbs, that fall from the table of their masters."

28. Then Jesus answering, said to her: "O woman, great is thy faith: be it done to thee as thou wilt." And her daughter was cured from that hour.

29. And when Jesus had departed from thence, he came nigh the sea of Galilee: and going up into a mountain, he sat there.

30. And there came to him great multitudes, having with them the dumb, the blind, the lame, the maimed, and many others: and they cast them down at his feet: and he healed them:

31. So that the multitudes wondered, seeing the dumb speak, the lame walk, the blind see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32. Then Jesus called together his disciples, and said: "I have compassion on the multitude; because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way."

33. And the disciples say unto him: "Whence then should we have so many loaves in the desert, as to fill so great a multitude?"

34. And Jesus said to them: "How many loaves have ye?" But they said: "Seven, and a few little fishes."

35. And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36. And taking the seven loaves and the fishes, and giving thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples gave to the people.

37. And they did all eat, and had their fill. And they took up seven baskets full, of what remained of the fragments.

38. And those, who did eat, were four thousand men, beside children and women.

39. And having sent away the multitude, he took a ship, and came into the coasts of Magedan.

C H A P. XVI.

Christ refuses to shew the pharisees a sign from heaven.

Peter's confession is renewed. He is rebuked for opposing Christ's passion. All his followers must deny themselves.

AND there came to him the pharisees and the sadducees tempting: and they asked him to shew them a sign from heaven.

2. But he answered, and said to them: "When it is evening, ye say: 'It will be fair weather; for the sky is red.'

3. "And in the morning: 'To-day there will be a storm; for the sky is red and lowering.' Ye know then how to discern the face of the sky: and can you not know the signs of the times?"

4. "A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign: and a sign shall not be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet." And he left them, and went away.

5. And when his disciples were come over the water, they had forgotten to take bread.

6. And he said to them: "Take heed, and beware of the leaven, of the pharisees, and of the sadducees."

7. But they thought within themselves, saying: "Because we have taken no bread."

8. And Jesus knowing it, said: "Why do ye think within yourselves, O ye of little faith, because ye have no bread?"

9. "Do ye not yet understand, neither do ye remember the five loaves among the five thousand men, and how many baskets ye took up?"

10. "Nor the seven loaves, among the four thousand men, and how many baskets ye took up?"

11. "Why do ye not understand, that it was not concerning bread I said to you: 'beware of the leaven of the pharisees, and of the Sadducees?'"

12. Then they understood, that he said not that they should beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the pharisees and of the sadducees.

13. And Jesus came into the quarters of Cesarea Philippi: and he asked his disciples, saying: "Whom do men say that the Son of man is?"

14. And they said: "Some say that thou art John the baptist, and others Elias, and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets."

15. Jesus saith to them: "But whom do ye say that I am?"

16. Simon Peter answered, and said: "Thou art Christ the son of the living God."

17. And Jesus answering, said to him: "Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona: because flesh and blood hath not revealed it to thee, but my Father, who is in heaven.

18. "And I say to thee: That thou art Peter*:

* Thou art Peter, &c. As St. Peter, by divine revelation, here made a solemn profession of his faith of the divinity of Christ; so in recompence of this faith and profession, our Lord here declares to him the dignity, to which he is pleased to raise him, viz. That he, to whom he had already given the name of Peter, signifying a rock, St. John 1. 42. should be a rock indeed, of invincible strength, for the support of the building of the church; in which building he should be, next to Christ himself, the chief foundation stone, in quality of chief pastor, ruler, and governor; and should have accordingly all fullness of ecclesiastical power, signified by the keys of the kingdom of heaven.

and upon this rock † I will build my church: and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19. "And I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven. And whatsoever thou shalt bind upon earth, it shall be bound also in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose ‖ upon earth, it shall be loosed also in heaven."

20. Then he charged his disciples, that they should tell no one, that he was Jesus the Christ.

21. From that time forth Jesus began to shew to his disciples, that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things from the ancients, and the scribes, and the chief priests, and be put to death, and the third day rise again.

22. And Peter taking him, began to rebuke him, saying: "Lord, be it far from thee, this shall not be unto thee."

23. But he turning, said to Peter: "Get thee behind me, Satan; thou art a scandal unto me: because thou savourest not the things, that are of God, but the things, that are of men."

24. Then Jesus said to his disciples: "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me."

25. "For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and he who shall lose his life for my sake, shall find it."

26. "For what doth it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

27. "For the son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels: and then will he render to every man according to his works."

28. "Amen I say to you, there are some of those, that stand here, who shall not taste death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom."

C H A P. XVII.

The transfiguration of Christ: He cures the lunatic child; foretells his passion; and pays the didrachma.

AND after six days Jesus taketh unto him Peter and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart:

† Upon this rock, &c. The words of Christ to Peter, spoken in the vulgar language of the Jews, which our Lord made use of, were the same as if he had said in English, "Thou art a Rock, and upon this rock I will build my church." So that, by the plain course of the words, Peter is here declared to be the rock, upon which the church was to be built; Christ himself being both the principal foundation and founder of the same. Where also note, that Christ, by building his house, that is, his church, upon a rock, has thereby secured it against all storms and floods, like the wise builder, St. Matt. vii. 24. 25.

‡ The gates of hell. That is, the powers of darkness, and whatever Satan can do, either by himself, or his agents. For as the church is here likened to a house, or fortress, built on a rock; so the adverse powers are likened to a contrary house or fortress, the gates of which, i. e. the whole strength, and all the efforts it can make, can never be able to prevail over the city or church of Christ. By this promise we are fully assured, that neither idolatry, heresy, nor any pernicious error whatsoever shall at any time prevail over the church of Christ.

§ Loose on earth. The loosing the bands of temporal punishments due to sins, is called an indulgence; the power of which is here granted.

¶ Satan. This word signifies in Hebrew an adversary; and is here applied to Peter, because he opposed our Saviour's passion.

2. And he was transfigured before them. And his face did shine as the sun; and his garments became white as snow.

3. And behold, there appeared to them Moses and Elias talking with him.

4. Then Peter answering, said to Jesus: "Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt let us make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias."

5. And as he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them. And lo, a voice out of the cloud, saying: "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well-pleased: hear ye him."

6. And the disciples hearing, fell upon their face, and were very much afraid.

7. And Jesus came, and touched them: and said to them: "Arise, and be not afraid."

8. And when they lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, but only Jesus.

9. And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying: "Tell the vision to no man, till the son of man be risen from the dead."

10. And his disciples asked him, saying: "Why then do the scribes say, that Elias must come first?"

11. But he, answering, said to them: "Elias indeed shall come, and restore all things."

12. "But I say to you, that Elias is already come: and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they had a mind. So also the Son of man shall suffer from them."

13. Then the disciples understood, that he had spoken to them of John the baptist.

14. And when he had come to the multitude, there came to him a man falling down on his knees before him, saying: "Lord, have pity on my son; for he is lunatic; and suffereth much: for he falleth often into the fire, and often into the water."

15. "And I brought him to thy disciples; and they could not cure him."

16. Then Jesus answered, and said: "O unbelieving and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither to me."

17. And Jesus rebuked him: and the devil went out of him: and the child was cured from that hour.

18. Then came the disciples to Jesus secretly, and said: "Why could not we cast him out?"

19. Jesus said to them: "Because of your unbelief. For amen I say to you, if ye have faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye shall say to this mountain: 'Remove from hence to yonder place;' and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible to you."

20. "But this kind is not cast out but by prayer and fasting."

21. And while they abode together in Galilee, Jesus said to them: "The son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men."

22. "And they shall kill him; and the third day he shall rise again." And they were troubled exceedingly.

* As a grain of mustard seed. That is, a perfect faith; which in its properties, and its fruits, resembles the grain of mustard-seed, in the parable, chap. xiii. 31.

23. And when they were come to Capharnaum, those, who received the didrachmas†, came to Peter, and said to him: "Doth not your master pay the didrachma?"

24. He said: "Yes." And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying: "What is thy opinion, Simon? Of whom do the kings of the earth take tribute or custom? of their own children, or of strangers?"

25. And he said: "Of strangers." Jesus said to him: "Then are the children free."

26. "But that we may not scandalize them, go thou to the sea, and cast in a hook: and that fish, which shall first come up, take: and when thou hast opened its mouth, thou shalt find a stater: take that, and give it to them for me and thee."

C H A P. XVIII.

Christ teaches humility—to beware of scandal—and to flee the occasions of sin—to denounce to the church incorrigible sinners—and to look upon such as refuse to hear the church as heathens. He promises to his disciples the power of binding and loosing; and that he will be in the midst of their assemblies. No forgiveness for those, who will not forgive.

AT that hour, the disciples came to Jesus, saying: "Who, thinkest thou, is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?"

2. And Jesus calling unto him a little child, set him in the midst of them,

3. And said: "Amen I say to you, unless ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven."

4. "Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven."

5. "And he, who shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me."

6. "But he, who shall scandalize* one of these little ones, who believe in me, it were better for him, that a mill-stone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea."

7. "Wo to the world because of scandals. For it must needs be‡, that scandals come: but nevertheless wo to that man, by whom the scandal cometh."

8. "And if thy hand, or thy foot scandalize thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee to enter into life, maimed or lame, than having two hands or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire."

9. "And if thy eye scandalize thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee with one eye to enter into life, than having two eyes, to be cast into hell-fire."

10. "Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones: for I say to you, that their angels in heaven always see the face of my Father, who is in heaven."

† The didrachmas. A didrachma was half a sicle, or half a stater; that is, about 15d. English; which was a tax laid upon every head for the service of the temple.

* Shall scandalize. That is, shall put a stumbling-block in their way, and cause them to fall into sin.

‡ It must needs be, &c. Viz. considering the wickedness and corruption of the world.

‡ Scandalize thee. That is, cause thee to offend.

11. "For the Son of man is come to save that, which was lost."

12. "What think ye? If a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them should go astray; doth he not leave the ninety-nine in the mountains, and go to seek that, which is gone astray?"

13. "And if it happen that he find it, amen I say to you, he rejoiceth more for that than, for the ninety-nine, which went not astray."

14. "Even so, it is not the will of your Father, who is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish."

15. "But if thy brother shall offend against thee, go, and reprove him between thee and him alone. If he shall hear thee, thou shalt gain thy brother."

16. "But if he will not hear thee, take with thee one or two more; that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may stand."

17. "And if he will not hear them, tell the church: And if he will not hear the church, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican."

18. "Amen I say to you, whatsoever ye shall bind upon earth, shall be bound also in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose upon earth, shall be loosed also in heaven."

19. "Again I say to you, that if two of you shall agree upon earth, concerning any thing whatsoever they shall ask, it shall be done for them by my Father, who is in heaven."

20. "For where there are two or three gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them."

21. Then Peter came unto him, and said: "Lord, how often shall my brother offend against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?"

22. Jesus said to him: "I say not to thee, till seven times; but till seventy times seven times."

23. "Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened to a king, who would take an account of his servants."

24. "And when he had begun to take the account, one was brought to him, who owed him ten thousand talents §."

25. "And as he had not wherewith to pay it, his lord commanded, that he should be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment be made."

26. "But that servant falling down, besought him, saying: 'Have patience with me; and I will pay thee all.'

27. "And the lord of that servant being moved with compassion, let him go, and forgave him the debt."

28. "But when that servant was gone out, he found one of his fellow servants, who owed him a hundred pence; and laying hold of him, he throttled him, saying: 'Pay what thou owest.'

§ There am I in the midst of them. This is understood of such assemblies only, as are gathered in the name and authority of Christ, and in the unity of the church of Christ. St. Cyprian, de unitate ecclesiae.

§ Talents. A talent was seven hundred and fifty ounces of silver, which, at the rate of five shillings to the ounce, is a hundred and eighty seven pounds ten shillings sterling.

 Pence. The Roman penny was the eighth part of an ounce, that is, about seven pence half-penny English.

29. "And his fellow-servant falling down, besought him, saying: 'Have patience with me; and I will pay thee all.'"

30. "And he would not: but went and cast him in to prison, till he should pay the debt."

31. "Now his fellow servants seeing what was done, were very much grieved: and they came, and told their lord all that was done."

32. "Then his lord called him; and said to him: 'Thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all the debt, because thou besoughtest me.'"

33. "Shouldst not thou then have had compassion also on thy fellow-servant, even as I had compassion on thee?"

34. "And his Lord being angry, delivered him to the torturers, until he should pay all the debt:"

35. "So also shall my heavenly Father do to you, if ye forgive not every one his brother from your hearts."

C H A P. XIX.

Christ declares matrimony to be indissoluble: he recommends the making one's self an eunuch for the kingdom of heaven: and parting with all things for him. He shews the danger of riches, and the reward of leaving all to follow him.

AND it came to pass when Jesus had ended these words, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judæa beyond Jordan.

2. And great multitudes followed him: and he healed them there.

3. And the pharisees came to him tempting him, and saying: "Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?"

4. And he answered, and said to them: "Have ye not read, that he, who made man in the beginning, made them male and female? And he said:

5. 'For this cause, shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they two shall be in one flesh.'

6. "Wherefore they are no more two, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder."

7. They say to him: "Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorce, and to put away?"

8. He saith to them: "Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, permitted you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so."

9. "And I say to you, whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and he, who shall marry her, who is put away, committeth adultery."

10. His disciples say unto him: "If the case of a man with his wife be so, it is not good to marry."

11. He said to them: "All men receive not this word:—but those to whom it is given."

† Except it be, &c. In the case of fornication, that is, of adultery, the wife may be put away: but even then the husband cannot marry another as long as the wife is living.

‡ All men receive not this word. Protestants have corrupted the text, by rendering it, all men cannot receive this saying: to excuse the sacrilegious marriages of their first reformers.

VOL. II.

12. "For there are eunuchs, who were born so from their mother's womb: and there are eunuchs, who were made so by men: and there are eunuchs, who have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He, who can receive it, let him receive it."

13. Then were little children presented to him, that he should lay his hands upon them, and pray. And the disciples rebuked them.

14. But Jesus said to them: "Suffer the little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for the kingdom of heaven is for such."

15. And when he had laid his hands upon them, he departed thence.

16. And behold, one came and said to him: "Good master, what good shall I do, that I may have life everlasting?"

17. And he said to him: "Why askest thou me concerning good? One is good, God: But if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments."

18. He saith to him: "Which?" And Jesus said: "Thou shalt do no murder: Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not steal: Thou shalt not bear false witness:

19. "Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself."

20. The young man saith to him: "All these have I kept from my youth; what is yet wanting to me?"

21. Jesus saith to him: "If thou wilt be perfect, go, sell what thou hast, and give to the poor; and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me."

22. And when the young man had heard this word, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23. Then Jesus said to his disciples: "Amen I say to you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven."

24. "And again I say to you: It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven."

25. And when the disciples had heard this, they wondered very much, saying: "Who then can be saved?"

26. And Jesus beholding, said to them: "With men this is impossible: but with God, all things are possible."

27. Then Peter answering, said to him: "Behold, we have left all things, and have followed thee: what therefore shall we have?"

28. And Jesus said to them: "Amen I say to you, that ye, who have followed me, in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit on the seat of his majesty, ye also shall sit on twelve seats, judging the twelve tribes of Israel."

29. "And every one, who hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my name's sake, shall receive a hundred-fold, and shall possess life everlasting."

30. "But many who are first, shall be last: and the last shall be first."

C H A P. XX.

The parable of the labourers in the vineyard. The ambition of the two sons of Zebedee. Christ gives sight to two blind men.

4 F

THE kingdom of heaven, is like to a master of a family, who went out early in the morning, to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2. "And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3. "And he went out about the third hour; and saw others standing idle in the market-place.

4. "And he said to them: 'Go ye also into my vineyard, and I will give you what shall be just.'

5. "And they went their way. And again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour; and did in like manner.

6. "But about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing; and he saith to them: 'Why stand ye here all the day idle?'

7. "They say to him: 'Because no man hath hired us.' He saith to them: 'Go ye also into my vineyard.'

8. "And when evening had come, the lord of the vineyard saith to his steward: 'Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last even to the first.'

9. "When therefore those came, who had come about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10. "But when the first also came, they thought that they should have received more: and they likewise received every man a penny.

11. "And when they received it, they murmured against the master of the house,

12. "Saying: 'Those last have worked but one hour; and thou hast made them equal to us, who have borne the burden of the day and the heats.'

13. "But he answered one of them, and said: 'Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst thou not agree with me for a penny?'

14. 'Take what is thine, and go thy way: I will also give to this last even as to thee.

15. 'Or, is it not lawful for me to do what I will? is thy eye evil, because I am good?'

16. "So shall the last be first, and the first last. For many are called, but few are chosen."

17. And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart, and said to them:

18. "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem: and the Son of man shall be betrayed to the chief priests and to the scribes: and they shall condemn him to death;

19. "And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to be mocked, and to be scourged, and to be crucified: and the third day he shall rise again."

20. Then came to him the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, worshipping, and desiring something of him.

21. And he said to her: "What wilt thou?" She saith to him: "Say, that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left, in thy kingdom."

22. But Jesus answered, and said: "Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink of the chalice that I shall drink?" They say to him: "We can."

* What I will, viz. with my own, and in matters that depend on my own bounty.

23. He saith to them: "Of my chalice indeed ye shall drink: but to sit on my right or left hand, is mine to give you, but to those, for whom it is prepared by my Father."

24. And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

25. But Jesus called them to him, and said: "Ye know, that the princes of the gentiles lord it over them, and those, who are the greater, exercise power upon them.

26. "It shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be the greater among you, let him be your minister.

27. "And he, who would be the first among you, shall be your servant.

28. "Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a redemption for many."

29. And when they went out from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30. And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, heard that Jesus passed by; and they cried out saying: "O Lord, thou son of David, have mercy on us."

31. And the multitude rebuked them, that they should hold their peace. But they cried out the more saying: "O Lord, thou son of David, have mercy on us."

32. And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said: "What will ye that I should do to you?"

33. They say to him: "Lord, that our eyes may be opened."

34. And Jesus, having compassion on them, touched their eyes. And immediately they received sight, and followed him.

CHAP. XXXI.

Christ rides into Jerusalem upon an ass: he casts the buyers and sellers out of the temple; curses the fig tree; and puts to silence the priests and scribes.

AND when they drew nigh to Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto Mount Olivet, then Jesus sent two disciples,

2. Saying to them: "Go ye into the village, which is over against you; and immediately ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them to me.

3. "And if any man shall say any thing to you, say ye, that the Lord hath need of them: and forthwith he will let them go."

4. Now all this was done, that the word might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the prophet, saying:

5. "Tell ye the daughter of Sion: 'Behold, thy king cometh to thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass and a colt, the foal of her that is used to the yoke.'

6. And the disciples going, did as Jesus commanded them.

7. And they brought the ass and the colt; and laid their garments upon them, and made him sit thereon.

8. And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way: and others cut down boughs from the trees, and strewed them in the way:

9. And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying: "Hosanna to the son of David;

Blessed is he, who cometh in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest."

10. And when he had come into Jerusalem, the whole city was moved, saying: "Who is this?"

11. And the people said: "This is Jesus the prophet, from Nazareth of Galilee."

12. And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all, who were selling, and buying in the temple; and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the chairs of those, who sold doves:

13. And he saith to them: "It is written: 'My house shall be called the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.'"

14. And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple: and he healed them.

15. And when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things, that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying: "Hosanna to the son of David;" they were moved with indignation.

16. And said to him: "Hearst thou what these say?" And Jesus said to them: "Yea, have ye never read: 'Out of the mouth of infants and of sucklings, thou hast perfected praise?'"

17. And leaving them, he went out of the city into Bethania, and remained there.

18. And in the morning as he returned into the city, he was hungry.

19. And seeing a fig-tree by the way-side, he came to it, and found nothing on it but leaves only; and he saith to it: "For fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever." And immediately the fig-tree withered away.

20. And the disciples seeing it, wondered, saying: "How is it presently withered away?"

21. And Jesus answering, said to them: "Amen I say to you, if ye shall have faith, and stagger not, not only this of the fig-tree shall ye do, but also if ye shall say to this mountain: 'Take up, and cast thyself into the sea,' it shall be done."

22. "And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer believing, ye shall receive."

23. And when he had come into the temple, the chief-priests and the ancients of the people came to him, as he was teaching, and said: "By what authority dost thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?"

24. Jesus answering said to them: "I also will ask you one word, which, if ye shall tell me, I will also tell you by what authority I do these things."

25. "The baptism of John whence was it? from heaven, or from men?" But they thought within themselves, saying:

26. "If we shall say: 'From heaven,' he will say to us: 'Why then did not ye believe him?' But if we shall say, 'From men,' we are afraid of the multitude:" for all held John as a prophet.

27. And answering Jesus, they said: "We know not." And he said to them: "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things."

28. "But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and coming to the first, he said: 'Son, go work to-day in my vineyard.'"

29. "And he answering, said: 'I will not.' But afterwards, being moved with repentance, he went.

30. "And coming to the other, he said in like manner. And he answering, said: 'I go, sir.' And he went not."

31. "Which of the two did the father's will?" They say to him: "The first." Jesus saith to them: "Amen I say to you, that the publicans and the harlots shall go into the kingdom of God before you."

32. "For John came to you in the way of justice; and ye did not believe him. But the publicans and the harlots believed him; but ye seeing it, did not even afterwards repent, that ye might believe him."

33. "Hear ye another parable: There was a certain master of a family, who planted a vineyard, and made a hedge round about it, and dug in it a wine-press, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen; and went into a strange country."

34. "And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it."

35. "And the husbandmen laid hands on his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another."

36. "Again he sent other servants more than the former: and they did to them in like manner."

37. "And last of all he sent to them his son, saying: 'They will reverence my son.'"

38. "But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves: 'This is the heir; come, let us kill him; and we shall have his inheritance.'"

39. "And taking him, they cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him."

40. "When the lord therefore of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?"

41. They say to him: "He will bring those evil men to an evil end; and will let out his vineyard to other husbandmen, who shall render him the fruit in due season."

42. Jesus saith to them: "Have ye never read in the scriptures: 'The stone, which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner? By the Lord this hath been done, and it is wonderful in our eyes.'"

43. "Therefore I say to you, the kingdom of God shall be taken from you; and shall be given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof."

44. "And whosoever shall fall on this stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder."

45. And when the chief priests and pharisees had heard his parables, they understood that he spoke of them.

46. And seeking to lay hands on him, they feared the multitudes: because they held him as a prophet.

C H A P. XXII.

The parable of the marriage feast: Christ orders tribute to be paid to Caesar: he confutes the Sadducees; shows which is the first commandment in the law; and confounds the pharisees.

AND Jesus answered, and spoke to them again in parables, saying:

1. "The kingdom of heaven is like to a king, who made a marriage for his son."

3. "And he sent his servants, to call those who were invited to the marriage: and they would not come.

4. "Again he sent other servants, saying: 'Tell those who were invited: Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my beeves and fatlings are killed: and all things are ready: come ye to the wedding.'

5. "But they neglected, and went their ways, one to his farm, and another to his merchandise.

6. "And the rest laid hands on his servants, and having treated them contumeliously, put them to death.

7. "But when the king heard of it, he was angry; and sending his armies, he destroyed those murderers, and burnt their city.

8. "Then he saith to his servants: 'The wedding indeed is ready; but those, who were invited, were not worthy.

9. 'Go ye therefore into the highways; and as many as ye shall find, invite to the wedding.'

10. "And his servants going out into the highways, gathered together all, whom they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11. "And the king went in to see the guests: and he saw there a man, who had not on a wedding-garment.

12. "And he saith to him: 'Friend, how camest thou in hither not having on a wedding-garment?' But he was silent.

13. "Then the king said to the waiters: 'Bind him hand and foot, and cast him into the exterior darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'

14. "For many are called, but few are chosen."

15. Then the pharisees went, and consulted among themselves, how to ensnare him in his speech.

16. And they send to him their disciples with the Herodians*, saying: "Master, we know, that thou art a true speaker, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou dost not regard the person of men.

17. "Tell us therefore, what dost thou think, is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar, or not?"

18. But Jesus knowing their wickedness, said: "Why do ye tempt me, ye hypocrites?

19. "Shew me the coin of the tribute." And they offered him a penny.

20. And Jesus saith to them: "Whose image and inscription is this?"

21. They say to him: "Cæsar's." Then he saith to them: "Render therefore to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's: and to God, the things that are God's."

22. And when they heard this, they wondered; and leaving him went their way.

23. The same day the sadducees came to him, who say there is no resurrection; and asked him,

24. Saying: "Master, Moses said: 'If a man die, having no son, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up issue to his brother.'

25. "Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first having married a wife, died; and not having issue, left his wife to his brother.

* The Herodians. That is, some who belonged to Herod, and who joined with him in enforcing for the necessity of paying tribute to Cæsar, that is, to the Roman emperor. Some are of opinion, there was a sect among the Jews, called Herodians, from their maintaining, that Herod was the Messiah.

26. "In like manner the second, and the third, and so on to the seventh.

27. "And last of all, the woman died also.

28. "At the resurrection therefore, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her."

29. And Jesus answering, said to them: "Ye err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30. "For in the resurrection they shall neither marry, nor be given in marriage: but shall be as the angels of God in heaven:

31. "But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that, which was spoken by God, saying to you:

32. 'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?' He is not the God of the dead, but of the living."

33. And when the multitudes heard this, they were in admiration at his doctrine.

34. And when the pharisees heard, that he had silenced the sadducees, they came together:

35. And one of them, a doctor of the law, asked him, tempting him:

36. "Master, which is the great commandment in the law?"

37. Jesus said to him: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with thy whole mind."

38. "This is the greatest and first commandment:

39. "And the second is like to this: 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.'

40. "On these two commandments depend the whole law and the prophets."

41. And the pharisees being gathered together, Jesus asked them,

42. Saying: "What think ye of Christ? whose son is he?" They say to him: "David's."

43. He saith to them: "How then doth David in spirit call him Lord; saying:

44. 'The Lord said to my Lord: 'Sit on my right hand, until I make thy enemies thy footstool?'

45. "If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?"

46. And no man was able to answer him a word: neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

CHAP. XXIII.

Christ admonishes the people to follow the good doctrine, and the bad example, of the scribes and pharisees; he warns his disciples not to imitate their ambition; and denounces divers woes against them for their hypocrisy and blindness.

THEN Jesus spoke to the multitude and to his disciples,

2. Saying: "The scribes and the pharisees have sitten on the chair of Moses.

3. "All therefore whatsoever they shall say to you, observe and do: but according to their works do ye not: for they say, and do not.

4. "For they bind heavy and insupportable burdens, and lay them on men's shoulders: but with a finger of their own they will not move them.

5. "And all their works they do to be seen by men.

For they make their phylacteries * broad, and enlarge their fringes.

6. " And they love the first places at feasts, and the first chairs in the synagogues,

7. " And salutations in the market-place, and to be called by men, ' Rabbi.' "

8. " But be not ye called Rabbi. For one is your master; and ye are all brethren.

9. " And call none your father † upon earth: for is your father, who is in heaven.

10. " Neither be ye called masters †: for one is your one master, Christ.

11. " He, who is the greatest among you, shall be your servant.

12. " And whosoever shall exalt himself, shall be humbled: and he, who shall humble himself, shall be exalted.

13. " But wo to you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites! because ye shut the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye go not in yourselves: and those, who are going in, ye suffer not to enter.

14. " Wo to you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites! because ye devour the houses of widows, making long prayers: therefore ye shall receive the greater judgment.

15. " Wo to you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites! because ye go round about sea and land to make one proselyte: and when he is made, ye make him the child of hell twofold more than yourselves.

16. " Wo to you, blind guides, who say: ' Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing: but he, who shall swear by the gold of the temple, is a debtor.' "

17. " Ye foolish and blind! for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple, that sanctifieth the gold?

18. " And whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is a debtor: "

19. " Ye blind! for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20. " Whosoever therefore sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things, which are upon it:

21. " And whosoever shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him, who dwelleth in it.

22. " And he, who sweareth by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him, who sitteth thereon.

23. " Wo to you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites! who pay tithe of mint, and anise, and cummin, and have let alone the weightier things of the law, judgment, and mercy, and faith. These things ye ought to have done, and not to leave those others undone.

24. " Blind guides, who strain out a gnat, and swallow a camel.

* Phylacteries, i.e. Parchments, on which they wrote the ten commandments, and carried them on their foreheads before their eyes: which the pharisees affected to wear broader than other men; so to seem more zealous for the law.

† Call none your father—neither be ye called masters. The meaning is, that our Father in heaven is incomparably more to be regarded, than any father upon earth: and no master to be followed, who would lead us away from Christ. But this does not hinder but that we are by the law of God to have a due respect both for our carnal and spiritual fathers (1 Cor. iv. 15.) and for our masters and teachers.

25. " Wo to you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites! because ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the dish: but within ye are full of extortion and uncleanness.

26. " Thou blind pharisee! first make clean the inside of the cup and of the dish, that the outside may become clean.

27. " Wo to you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites! because ye are like to whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear to men beautiful, but within are full of dead men's bones, and of all filthiness.

28. " So ye also outwardly indeed appear to men just: but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29. " Wo to you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites! who build the sepulchres † of the prophets, and adorn the monuments of the just,

30. " And say: ' If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them, in the blood of the prophets.' "

31. " Wherefore ye are witnesses against yourselves, that ye are the sons of those, who killed the prophets.

32. " Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.

33. " Ye serpents, generation of vipers, how will ye escape the judgment of hell?

34. " Therefore behold, I send to you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye will put to death, and crucify: and some ye will scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

35. " That upon you may come † all the just blood, that hath been shed upon the earth, from the blood of Abel the just, even unto the blood of Zacharias the son of Barachias, whom ye killed between the temple and the altar.

36. " Amen I say to you, all these things shall come upon this generation.

37. " O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou, that killest the prophets and stonest those, that are sent unto thee—how often would I have gathered together thy children, as the hen gathereth her chickens, under her wings, and thou wouldst not?

38. " Behold, your house shall be left to you desolate.

39. " For I say to you, ye shall not see me henceforth till ye say: ' Blessed is he, who cometh in the name of the Lord.' "

C H A P. XXIV.

Christ foretels the destruction of the temple—with the signs, that shall come before it, and before the last judgment. We must always watch.

† Build the sepulchres, &c. This is not blamed, as if it were in itself evil to build or adorn the monuments of the prophets: but the hypocrisy of the pharisees is here taxed; who, while they pretended to honour the memory of the prophets, were persecuting even unto death the Lord of the prophets.

‡ That upon you may come, &c. Not that they should suffer more than their own sins richly deserved: but that the justice of God should now fall upon them, with such a final vengeance, once for all, as might comprise all the different kinds of judgments and punishments, that had at any time before been inflicted for shedding just blood.

AND Jesus having come out of the temple, went away. And his disciples came to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2. And he answering, said to them: "Do ye see all these things? Amen I say to you, there shall not be left here a stone, upon a stone, which shall not be thrown down."

3. And as he was sitting on mount Olivet, the disciples came to him privately, saying: "Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the consummation of the world?"

4. And Jesus answering, said to them: "Take heed that no man seduce you:

5. "For many will come in my name, saying: 'I am Christ:' and they will seduce many.

6. "And ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars. See, that ye be not troubled. For these things must come to pass; but the end is not yet.

7. "For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be pestilences, and famines, and earthquakes in places.

8. "Now all these are the beginnings of sorrows.

9. "Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall put you to death: and ye shall be hated by all nations for my name's sake.

10. "And then shall many be scandalized, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11. "And many false prophets shall arise, and shall seduce many.

12. "And because iniquity hath abounded, the charity of many shall grow cold.

13. "But he, who shall persevere to the end, he shall be saved:

14. "And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the whole world, for a testimony to all nations: and then shall the consummation come.

15. "When therefore ye shall see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place: he, who readeth, let him understand.

16. "Then let those, who are in Judea, flee to the mountains:

17. "And let him, who is on the house top, not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18. "And let him, who is in the field, not go back to take his coat.

19. "And wo to those, who are with child, and who give suck in those days.

20. "But pray, that your flight be not in the winter, or on the sabbath.

21. "For there shall be then great tribulation, such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, neither shall be.

22. "And unless those days had been shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the sake of the elect, those days shall be shortened.

23. "Then if any man shall say to you: 'Lo, here is Christ,' or 'there:' do not believe him.

24. "For there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders, insomuch as to deceive (if it be possible) even the elect.

25. "Behold, I have told it to you before hand.

26. "If therefore they shall say to you: 'Behold, he is in the desert;' go ye not out: 'Behold, he is in the closets,' believe it not.

27. "For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and appeareth even unto the west: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28. "Wheresoever the body shall be, there shall the eagles also be gathered together.

29. "And immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened; and the moon shall not give her light; and the stars shall fall from heaven; and the powers of the heavens shall be moved:

30. "And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn: and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven, with great power and majesty.

31. "And he shall send his angel with a trumpet, and a great voice: and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the farthest parts of the heavens, to the utmost bounds of them.

32. "Now learn a parable from the fig-tree: when its branch is now tender, and the leaves come forth, ye know, that summer is nigh.

33. "So also ye, when ye shall see all these things, know, that it is near, even at the doors.

34. "Amen I say to you, this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

35. "Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away.

36. "But of that day and hour no one knoweth, no not the angels of heaven, but the Father alone.

37. "And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38. "For as in the days before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day, when Noe entered into the ark:

39. "And they knew not till the flood came, and took them all away: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40. "Then shall two be in the field: the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

41. "Two women shall be grinding at the mill: the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

42. "Watch ye therefore, because ye know not at what hour your Lord will come.

43. "But this know ye, that if the master of the house knew at what hour the thief would come, he would certainly watch, and would not suffer his house to be broken open.

44. "Wherefore be ye also ready; because at what hour ye know not, the Son of man will come.

45. "Who, thinkest thou, is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath set over his family, to give them meat in season?

46. "Blessed is that servant, whom, when his lord shall come, he shall find so doing.

* Wheresoever, &c. The coming of Christ shall be sudden, and manifest to all the world, like lightning: and wheresoever he shall come, thither shall all mankind be gathered to him, as eagles are gathered about a dead body.

+ The stars. Or flaming meteors resembling stars.

† The sign, &c. The cross of Christ.

|| Shall pass away: Because they shall be changed at the end of the world, into a new heaven and new earth.

47. "Amen I say to you, he shall set him over all his goods."

48. "But if that evil servant shall say in his heart: 'My lord is long a coming:'"

49. "And shall begin to strike his fellow-servants, and shall eat, and drink with drunkards—"

50. "The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him: and at an hour, which he knoweth not."

51. "And shall separate him, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

C H A P. XXV.

The parable of the ten virgins, and of the talents: the description of the last judgment.

"THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be like to ten virgins, who, taking their lamps, went out to meet the bridegroom and the bride."

2. "Now five of them were foolish, and five were wise."

3. "But the five foolish, having taken their lamps, took no oil with them:"

4. "But the wise took oil in their vessels with the lamps."

5. "And while the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept."

6. "And at midnight there was a cry made: 'Behold, the bridegroom cometh, go ye forth to meet him.'"

7. "Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps."

8. "And the foolish said to the wise: 'Give us of your oil, for our lamps have gone out.'"

9. "The wise answered, saying: 'Lest there be not enough for us and for you: go ye rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.'"

10. "Now while they went to buy, the bridegroom came: and those who were ready, went in with him to the marriage; and the door was shut."

11. "But at last came also the other virgins, saying: 'Lord, Lord, open to us.'"

12. "But he answering, said: 'Amen I say to you, I know you not.'"

13. "Watch ye therefore; because ye know not the day nor the hour."

14. "For even as a man going into a far country, called his servants, and delivered to them his goods."

15. "And to one he gave five talents, and to another two, and to another one—to every one according to his proper ability: and immediately he departed."

16. "And he, who had received the five talents, went his way, and traded with the same, and gained other five."

17. "And in like manner, he, who had received the two, gained other two."

18. "But he, who had received the one, going his way, digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money."

19. "But after a long time the lord of those servants came, and reckoned with them."

20. "And he, who had received the five talents, coming, brought other five talents, saying: 'Lord, thou deliveredst to me five talents; behold, I have gained other five over and above.'"

21. "His lord said to him: 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant: because thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.'"

22. "And he also, who had received the two talents, came, and said: 'Lord, thou deliveredst two talents to me: behold I have gained other two.'"

23. "His lord said to him: 'Well done, good and faithful servant: because thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.'"

24. "But he, who had received one talent, came and said: 'Lord I know that thou art a hard man: thou reapest, where thou hast not sown, and gatherest, where thou hast not strewed.'"

25. "And being afraid, I went, and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, here thou hast that, which is thine.'"

26. "And his lord answering, said to him: 'Wicked and slothful servant! thou knewest that I reap, where I sow not, and gather, where I have not strewed:'"

27. "Thou oughtest therefore to have committed my money to the bankers; and at my coming I should have received my own with usury."

28. "Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it him, who hath ten talents."

29. "For to every one, who hath, shall be given, and he shall abound: but from him, who hath not, that also, which he seemeth to have, shall be taken away."

30. "And the unprofitable servant cast ye out into the exterior darkness. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

31. "And when the Son of man shall come in his majesty, and all the angels with him, then shall he sit upon the seat of his majesty:"

32. "And all nations shall be gathered together before him: and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats:"

33. "And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left."

34. "Then shall the king say to those, who shall be on his right hand: 'Come, ye blessed of my Father; possess the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.'"

35. "For I was hungry—and ye gave me to eat: I was thirsty—and ye gave me to drink: I was a stranger—and ye took me in:"

36. "Naked—and ye clothed me: sick—and ye visited me: I was in prison—and ye came to me."

37. "Then shall the just answer him, saying: 'Lord, when did we see thee hungry, and fed thee; thirsty, and gave thee drink?'"

38. "And when did we see thee a stranger, and took thee in; or naked, and clothed thee?"

39. "Or when did we see thee sick or in prison, and came to thee?"

40. "And the king answering, shall say to them: 'Amen I say to you, as long as ye did it to one of these my least brethren, ye did it to me.'"

41. "Then shall he say to those also, who shall be on his left hand: 'Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, which was prepared for the devil and his angels.'

42. 'For I was hungry—and ye gave me not to eat: I was thirsty—and ye gave me not to drink.'

43. 'I was a stranger—and ye took me not in; naked and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison—and ye did not visit me.'

44. "Then shall they also answer him, saying: 'Lord, when did we see thee hungry or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister to thee?'

45. "Then he shall answer them, saying: 'Amen I say to you, as long as ye did it not to one of these least ones, neither did ye do it to me.'

46. "And these shall go into everlasting punishment: but the just, into life everlasting."

C H A P. XXVI.

The Jews conspire against Christ. He is anointed by Mary. The treason of Judas. The last supper. The prayer in the garden. The apprehension of our Lord. His treatment in the house of Caiphas.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had ended all these words, he said to his disciples:

2. "Ye know, that after two days, shall be the pasch, and the Son of man shall be delivered up to be crucified."

3. Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the ancients of the people into the palace of the high-priest, who was called Caiphas:

4. And they consulted together, that by subtilty they might apprehend Jesus, and put him to death.

5. But they said: "Not on the festival-day, lest there should be a tumult among the people."

6. And when Jesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper,

7. There came to him a woman having an alabastr-box of precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he was at table.

8. And the disciples seeing it, had indignation, saying: "To what purpose is this waste?"

9. "For this might have been sold for much, and given to the poor."

10. And Jesus knowing it, said to them: "Why do ye trouble this woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11. "For the poor ye have always with you: but me ye have not always*.

12. "For she in pouring this ointment upon my body, hath done it for my burial.

13. "Amen, I say to you, wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also, which she hath done, shall be told for a memory of her."

14. Then went one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, to the chief priests:

15. And he said to them: "What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you?" But they appointed him thirty pieces of silver.

* Me ye have not always, viz. in a visible manner, as when conversant here on earth, and as we have the poor, whom we may daily assist and relieve.

16. And from thenceforth he sought opportunity to betray him.

17. And on the first day of the azymest, the disciples came to Jesus, saying: "Where wilt thou, that we prepare for thee to eat the pasch?"

18. But Jesus said: "Go ye into the city to a certain man, and say to him: 'The master saith: 'My time is near at hand: I will keep the pasch at thy house with my disciples.'"

19. And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them, and they prepared the pasch.

20. Now when it was evening, he sat down with his twelve disciples.

21. And while they were eating, he said: "Amen I say to you, that one of you is about to betray me."

22. And they being very much troubled, began every one to say: "Is it I, Lord?"

23. But he answering, said: "He, who dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24. "The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but wo to that man, by whom the son of man shall be betrayed: It were better for that man, if he had not been born."

25. And Judas, who betrayed him, answering, said: "Is it I, Rabbi?" he saith to him: "Thou hast said it."

26. And whilst they were at supper, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and broke, and gave to his disciples, and said: "Take ye, and eat: This is my body."||

27. And taking the chalice he gave thanks; and gave to them, saying: "Drink ye all of this.

28. "For this is my blood of the new testament,†† which shall be shed for many for the remission of sins.

29. "And I say to you, I will not drink from henceforth of this fruit of the vine †† until that day, when I shall drink it new with you in the kingdom of my father."

† Feast of unleavened bread.

†† The paschal lamb.

|| This is my body. He does not say, this is the figure of my body—but this is my body, (a Council of Nice, A.D. vi.) Neither does he say, in this, or with this is my body; but absolutely, this is my body; which plainly implies transubstantiation.

§ Drink ye all of this. This was spoken to the twelve apostles; who were the all then present; and they all drank of it, says St. Mark, xiv. 23. But it no ways follows from these words, spoken to the apostles, that all the faithful are here commanded to drink of the chalice; any more than that all the faithful are commanded to consecrate, offer, and administer this sacrament; because Christ, upon this same occasion, and, as I may say, with the same breath, bid the apostles do so; in these words, St. Luke, xxii. 19. Do this in commemoration of me.

†† Blood of the new testament. As the old testament was dedicated with the blood of victims, by Moses, in these words; this is the blood of the testament, &c. Hebrews, ix. 20. so here is the dedication and institution of the new testament, in the blood of Christ, here mystically shed, by these words; this is the blood of the new testament, &c.

†† Fruit of the vine. These words, by the account of St. Luke, xxii. 18. were not spoken of the sacramental cup, but of the wine, that was drank with the paschal lamb. Though the sacramental cup might also be called the fruit of the vine, because it was consecrated from wine, and retains the likeness, and all the accidents, or qualities of wine.

30. And when they had sung a hymn, they went out to mount Olivet.

31. Then Jesus saith to them : " Ye shall all be scandalized in me this night. For it is written : ' I will strike the shepherd ; and the sheep of the flock shall be dispersed.' "

32. " But after I shall have risen again, I will go before you into Galilee. "

33. And Peter answering, said to him : " Though all men shall be scandalized in thee, I will never be scandalized. "

34. Jesus said to him : " Amen I say to thee, that in this night, before the cock crow, thou wilt deny me thrice. "

35. Peter saith to him : " Though I should die with thee, I will not deny thee. " And in like manner said all the disciples.

36. Then Jesus came with them to a country place, which is called Gethsemani ; and he said to his disciples : " Sit ye here, till I go yonder, and pray. "

37. And taking with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, he began to grow sorrowful, and to be sad.

38. Then he saith to them : " My soul is sorrowful even unto death : stay ye here, and watch with me. "

39. And going a little further, he fell upon his face, praying, and saying : " O my Father, if it be possible, let this chalice pass from me. Nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. "

40. And he cometh to his disciples, and findeth them asleep : and he saith to Peter : " What ! could ye not watch one hour with me ? "

41. " Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. "

42. Again he went the second time, and praying, saying : " O my Father, if this chalice may not pass away, but I must drink it, thy will be done. "

43. And he cometh again, and findeth them asleep : for their eyes were heavy.

44. And leaving them, he went away again : and he prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45. Then he cometh to his disciples, and saith to them : " Sleep on now, and take your rest : behold, the hour is at hand ; and the Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of sinners. "

46. " Rise, let us go : behold, he is at hand, who will betray me. "

47. As he yet spoke, behold, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude, with swords and clubs, sent from the chief priests and the ancients of the people.

48. And he, who betrayed him, gave them a sign, saying : " Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he ; hold him fast. "

49. And forthwith coming to Jesus, he said : " Hail, Rabbi. " And he kissed him.

50. And Jesus said to him : " Friend, whereto art thou come ? " Then they came up, and laid hands on Jesus, and held him.

51. And behold, one of those, who were with Jesus, stretching forth his hand, drew out his sword ; and striking the servant of the high-priest, cut off his ear.

52. Then Jesus saith to him : " Put up again thy sword into its place ; for all, who take the sword, shall perish with the sword. "

53. " Thinkest thou, that I cannot ask my Father, and he will give me presently more than twelve legions of angels ? "

54. " How then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that so it must be done ? "

55. In that same hour Jesus said to the multitudes : " Ye are come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to apprehend me : I sat daily with you teaching in the temple ; and ye laid not hands on me. "

56. Now all this was done, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then the disciples all leaving him, fled away.

57. But they holding Jesus, led him to Caiphas the high-priest, where the scribes and the ancients were assembled :

58. But Peter followed him afar off, to the high-priest's palace ; and going in, he sat with the servants, to see the end.

59. Now the chief priests and the whole council sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death :

60. And they found not, though many false witnesses had come in. And last of all there came in two false witnesses ;

61. And they said : " This man said : ' I am able to destroy the temple of God, and in three days to rebuild it. ' "

62. And the high-priest rising up, said to him : " Answerest thou nothing to the things, which these witness against thee ? "

63. But Jesus held his peace. And the high-priest said to him : " I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us, if thou be the Christ the Son of God ? "

64. Jesus saith to him : " I have said it. Nevertheless I say to you, hereafter ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, and coming in the clouds of heaven. "

65. Then the high-priest rent his garments, saying : " He hath blasphemed ; what further need have we of witnesses ? Behold now ye have heard the blasphemy :

66. " What think ye ? " But they answering, said : " He is guilty of death. "

67. Then they did spit in his face, and buffeted him ; and others struck his face with the palms of their hands,

68. Saying : " Prophecy unto us, O Christ ; who is he that struck thee ? "

69. But Peter sat without in the palace : and there came to him a servant-maid, saying : " Thou also wait with Jesus the Galilean. "

70. But he denied before them all, saying : " I know not what thou sayest. "

71. And as he went out of the gate, another maid saw him : and she saith to those who were there : " This man also was with Jesus of Nazareth. "

72. And again he denied with an oath : " I do not know the man. "

* Scandalized in me, &c. For as much as my being apprehended shall make you all run away, and forsake me.

73. And after a little while those, who stood by, came and said to Peter: "Surely thou also art one of them: for even thy speech doth discover thee."

74. Then he began to curse and to swear, that he knew not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

75. And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which he had said: "Before the cock crow, thou wilt deny me thrice." And going forth, he wept bitterly.

C H A P. XXVII.

The continuation of the history of the passion of Christ. His death and burial.

AND when morning was come, all the chief priests and ancients of the people took council against Jesus, to put him to death.

2. And they brought him bound, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.

3. Then Judas, who betrayed him, seeing that he was condemned, repenting himself, brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the ancients,

4. Saying: "I have sinned in betraying innocent blood." But they said: "What is that to us? look thou to it."

5. And casting down the pieces of silver in the temple, he departed; and went, and hanged himself with a halter.

6. But the chief priests having taken the pieces of silver, said: "It is not lawful to put them into the corbana*; because it is the price of blood."

7. And after they had consulted together, they bought with them the potter's field, to be a burying place for strangers.

8. Wherefore that field was called, "Haceldama," that is, "The field of blood," even to this day.

9. Then was fulfilled that, which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying: "And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him, who was valued, whom they prized of the children of Israel.

10. "And they gave them unto the potter's field, as the Lord appointed to me."

11. And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying: "Art thou the king of the Jews?" Jesus saith to him: "Thou sayest it."

12. And when he was accused by the chief priests and ancients, he answered nothing.

13. Then Pilate saith to him: "Dost not thou hear how great testimonies they allege against thee?"

14. And he answered him not to any word: so that the governor wondered exceedingly.

15. Now upon the solemn day the governor was accustomed to release to the people one prisoner, whom they would.

16. And he had then a notorious prisoner, who was called Barabbas.

17. They therefore being gathered together, Pilate said: "Whom will ye, that I release to you, Barabbas, or Jesus, who is called Christ?"

18. For he knew, that for envy they had delivered him.

19. And as he was sitting on the judgment-seat, his wife sent to him, saying: "Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him."

20. But the chief priests and ancients persuaded the people, that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21. And the governor answering, said to them: "Which will ye have of the two, to be released unto you?" But they said, "Barabbas."

22. Pilate saith to them: "What shall I do then with Jesus, who is called Christ?" They all say: "Let him be crucified."

23. The governor said to them: "Why, what evil hath he done?" But they cried out the more, saying: "Let him be crucified."

24. And Pilate seeing, that he prevailed nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, taking water washed his hands before the people, saying: "I am innocent of the blood of this just man: look ye to it."

25. And all the people answering, said: "His blood be upon us, and upon our children."

26. Then he released to them Barabbas; and having scourged Jesus, delivered him to them to be crucified.

27. Then the soldiers of the governor taking Jesus into the hall, gathered together unto him the whole band:

28. And stripping him, they put a scarlet cloak about him.

29. And plating a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand. And bowing the knee before him, they mocked him, saying: "Hail, king of the Jews."

30. And spitting upon him, they took the reed, and struck his head.

31. And after they had mocked him, they took off the cloak from him, and put on him his own garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32. And going out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they forced to take up his cross.

33. And they came to the place, which is called Golgotha, which is, the place of Calvary.

34. And they gave him wine to drink mingled with gall. And when he had tasted, he would not drink.

35. And after they had crucified him, they divided his garments casting lots; that the word might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the prophet, saying: "They divided my garments among them: and upon my vesture they cast lots."

36. And they sat down, and watched him.

37. And they put over his head his cause written: "THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS."

38. Then were there crucified with him two thieves; the one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

39. And those, who passed by, blasphemed him, wagging their heads,

40. And saying: "Vah, thou, who destroyest the temple of God, and in three days buildest it up again, save thy own self: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross."

41. In like manner also the chief priests, with the scribes and ancients, mocking, said:

42. "He saved others; himself he cannot save: if he

* Corbana. A place in the temple, where the people put in their gifts or offerings.

be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43. "He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said: 'I am the son of God.'"

44. And the self-same thing the thieves also, who were crucified with him, reproached him with.

45. Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the earth, until the ninth hour.

46. And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying: "Eli, Eli, lamma sabachthani?" that is, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

47. And some of those who stood there, and heard, said: "Thou man callest for Elias."

48. And immediately one of them running, took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar; and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49. And the others said: "Stay; let us see whether Elias will come to deliver him."

50. And Jesus again crying with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51. And behold, the veil of the temple was rent in two, from the top even to the bottom: and the earth quaked, and the rocks were rent.

52. And the graves were opened: and many bodies of the saints, that had slept, arose:

53. And coming out of the tombs after his resurrection, came into the holy city, and appeared to many.

54. Now the centurion and those who were with him, watching Jesus, having seen the earthquake and the things that were done, were greatly afraid, saying: "Indeed this was the Son of God."

55. And there were there many women afar off, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him:

56. Among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

57. And when it was evening, there came a certain rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was a disciple of Jesus.

58. He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded, that the body should be delivered.

59. And Joseph taking the body, wrapt it up in a clean linen cloth;

60. And laid it in his own new monument, which he had hewed out in a rock. And he rolled a great stone to the door of the monument, and went his way:

61. And there were there Mary Magdalene and the other Mary sitting over-against the sepulchre.

62. And the next day, which followed the day of the preparation*, the chief priests and the pharisees came together to Pilate,

63. Saying: "Sir, we have remembered, that that seducer said, while he was yet alive: 'After three days I will rise again.'"

64. "Command therefore the sepulchre to be guarded until the third day; lest his disciples come, and steal

* The day of the preparation—the eve of the sabbath—so called, because, on that day they prepared all things necessary; not being allowed so much as to dress their meat on the sabbath day.

him away, and say to the people: 'He has risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first.'"

65. Pilate said to them: "Ye have a guard: go, guard it as ye know."

66. And they departing, made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting guards.

C H A P. XXVIII.

The resurrection of Christ. His commission to his disciples.

AND in the end of the sabbath, when it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

2. And behold, there was a great earthquake. For an angel of the Lord descended from heaven: and coming, rolled back the stone, and sat upon it:

3. And his countenance was as lightning, and his raiment as snow.

4. And for fear of him, the guards were struck with terror, and became as dead men.

5. And the angel answering said to the women: "Fear not ye; for I know, that ye seek Jesus, who was crucified.

6. "He is not here; for he has risen, as he said. Come, and see the place, where the Lord was laid.

7. "And going quickly, tell ye his disciples, that he has risen: and behold, he will go before you into Galilee: there ye shall see him. Lo, I have foretold it to you."

8. And they went out quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy, running to tell his disciples.

9. And behold, Jesus met them, saying: "All hail." But they came up, and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.

10. Then Jesus said to them: "Be not afraid. Go, tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee; there they shall see me."

11. Now when they had departed, behold, some of the guards came into the city, and told the chief priests all the things, which had been done.

12. And they being assembled together with the ancients, taking counsel, gave a great sum of money to the soldiers,

13. Saying: "Say ye, 'His disciples came by night, and stole him away, when we were asleep.'"

14. "And if the governor shall hear of this, we will persuade him, and secure you."

15. So they taking the money, did as they were taught: and this word was spread among the Jews even unto this day.

16. And the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain, where Jesus had appointed them.

17. And seeing him, they adored: but some doubted.

18. And Jesus coming spoke to them, saying: "All power† is given to me in heaven and in earth.

† All power, &c. See here the warrant and commission of the apostles and their successors, the bishops and pastors of Christ's church. He received from his Father all power in heaven and in earth: and in virtue of this power, he sends them (even as his Father sent him, St. John xx. 21.) to teach and disciple nations not one, but all nations, and instruct them in all truths: and that he may assist them effectually in the execution of this commission, he promises to be with them (not for three or four hundred years only) but all days, even

19. "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost ;

20. "Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you : and behold, I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

The HOLY GOSPEL of JESUS CHRIST,

ACCORDING TO

St. MARK.

CHAP. I.

The preaching of John the baptist. Christ is baptized by him. He calls his disciples, and works many miracles.

THE beginning of the gospel of JESUS CHRIST the Son of God.

2. As it is written in Isaiah the prophet : "Behold, I send my angel before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.

3. "The voice of one crying in the desert : 'Prepare ye the way of the Lord : make his paths straight.'"

4. John was in the desert, baptizing, and preaching the baptism of penance for the remission of sins.

5. And there went out to him all the country of Judea, and all they of Jerusalem ; and were baptized by him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins.

6. And John was clothed with camels' hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins : and he ate locusts and wild honey : and he preached, saying :

7. "There cometh after me, one mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and loose.

8. "I have baptized you with water : but He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost."

9. And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee ; and was baptized by John in the Jordan.

10. And forthwith coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit as a dove descending, and remaining on him.

11. And there came a voice from heaven : "Thou art my beloved Son : in thee I am well pleased."

12. And immediately the Spirit drove him out into the desert.

13. And he was in the desert forty days, and forty nights ; and was tempted by satan ; and he was with beasts ; and the angels ministered to him.

14. And after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,

15. And saying : "The time is accomplished ; and the kingdom of God is at hand : repent, and believe the gospel."

16. And as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother, casting nets into the sea (for they were fishermen.)

17. And Jesus said to them : "Come after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men."

18. And immediately leaving their nets, they followed him.

19. And going on from thence a little farther, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20. And forthwith he called them. And they left their father Zebedee in the ship with his hired men, and followed him.

21. And they enter into Capharnaum : and forthwith on the sabbath-day, going into the synagogue, he taught them.

22. And they were astonished at his doctrine : for he taught them as one, who had authority, and not as the scribes.

23. And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit : and he cried out,

24. Saying : "What have we to do with thee, Jesus of Nazareth ? art thou come to destroy us ? I know who thou art, the Holy One of God."

25. And Jesus threatened him, saying : "Speak no more, and go out of the man."

26. And the unclean spirit tearing him, and crying out with a loud voice, went out of him.

27. And they were all amazed, inasmuch that they questioned among themselves, saying : "What thing is this ? what is this new doctrine ? for with authority he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him."

28. And the fame of him was spread forthwith through all the country of Galilee.

29. And immediately going out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30. And Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever : and forthwith they tell him of her.

31. And he came, and lifted her up, taking her by the hand : and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32. And when it was evening after sun-set, they brought all to him, who were diseased, and who were possessed with devils.

33. And all the city was gathered together at the door.

34. And he healed many, who were sick of divers diseases : and he cast out many devils : and he suffered them not to speak, because they knew him.

35. And rising very early in the morning, going to the consummation of the world. How then could the catholic church ever go astray ; having always with her pastors, as is here promised, Christ himself, who is the way, the truth, the life ? St. John xiv. 6.

out he went into a desert place : and there he prayed.

36. And Simon and those, who were with him, followed after him.

37. And when they had found him, they said to him : " All men seek for thee."

38. And he saith to them : " Let us go into the neighbouring towns and cities, that I may preach there also ; for to this purpose have I come."

39. And he preached in their synagogues, and in all Galilee, and cast out devils.

40. And there came a leper to him, beseeching him : and kneeling down, said to him : " If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."

41. And Jesus having compassion on him, stretched forth his hand ; and touching him, saith to him : " I will. Be thou made clean."

42. And when he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him : and he was made clean.

43. And he strictly charged him, and forthwith sent him away.

44. And he saith to him : " See that thou tell no man : but go, shew thyself to the high-priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things, which Moses commanded, for a testimony to them."

45. But he being gone out, began to publish and to blaze abroad the matter ; so that now he could not openly go into the city, but was without in desert places : and they flocked to him from all sides.

C H A P. II.

Christ heals the sick of the palsy ; calls Matthew ; and excuses his disciples.

AND again he entered into Capernaum after some days.

2. And it was heard, that he was in the house ; and many came together, so that there was no room, no not even at the door : and he spoke to them the word.

3. And they came to him bringing one sick of the palsy, who was carried by four.

4. And when they could not offer him to him for the multitude, they uncovered the roof, where he was : and opening it, they let down the bed, wherein the man sick of the palsy lay.

5. And when Jesus saw their faith, he saith to the sick of the palsy : " Son, thy sins are forgiven thee."

6. And there were some of the scribes sitting there, and thinking in their hearts :

7. " Why doth this man speak thus ? he blasphemeth. Who can forgive sins, but God only."

8. And Jesus presently knowing in his spirit, that they so thought within themselves, saith to them : " Why think ye these things in your hearts ?

9. " Which is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy : ' Thy sins are forgiven thee ;' or to say : ' Arise ; take up thy bed, and walk ?

10. " But that ye may know, that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins," (he saith to the sick of the palsy)

11. " I say to thee : ' Arise ; take up thy bed ; and go thy way into thy house.'"

12. And immediately he arose : and taking up his bed, went his way in the sight of all : so that all wondered and glorified God, saying : " We never saw the like."

13. And he went forth again to the sea side : and all the multitude came to him, and he taught them.

14. And when he was passing by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the receipt of custom : and he saith to him : " Follow me." And rising up, he followed him.

15. And it came to pass, that as he sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat down together with Jesus and his disciples : for there were many, who also followed him.

16. And the scribes and the pharisees seeing that he did eat with publicans and sinners, said to his disciples : " Why doth your master eat and drink with publicans and sinners ?"

17. Jesus hearing this, saith to them : " Those, who are well, have no need of a physician—but those, who are sick. For I came not to call the just, but sinners."

18. Now the disciples of John, and the pharisees used to fast : and they come, and say to him : " Why do the disciples of John and of the pharisees fast ; but thy disciples do not fast ?"

19. And Jesus saith to them : " Can the children of the marriage fast, as long as the bridegroom is with them ? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20. " But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them : and then they shall fast in those days.

21. " No man soweth a piece of new cloth to an old garment : otherwise the new piecing taketh away from the old, and there is made a greater rent.

22. " And no man putteth new wine into old bottles : otherwise the wine will burst the bottles, and both the wine will be spilled, and the bottles will be lost. But new wine must be put into new bottles."

23. And it came to pass again, as the Lord walked through the corn fields on the sabbath, that his disciples began to go forward, and to pluck the ears of corn.

24. And the pharisees said to him : " Behold, why do they on the sabbath-day that, which is not lawful ?"

25. And he said to them : " Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was hungry, he, and those who were with him.

26. " How he went into the house of God, under Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the loaves of proposition, which it was not lawful to eat but for the priests ; and gave to those, who were with him ?"

27. And he said to them : " The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath.

28. " Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath."

C H A P. III.

Christ heals the withered hand : He chooses the twelve : He confutes the blasphemy of the pharisees.

AND he entered again into the synagogue : and there was a man there, who had a withered hand.

2. And they watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath-day ; that they might accuse him.

3. And he saith to the man, who had the withered hand : " Stand up in the midst."

4 I.

4. And he saith to them : " Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath-day, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy?" But they held their peace.

5. And looking round about on them with anger, being grieved for the blindness of their hearts, he saith to the man : " Stretch forth thy hand." And he stretched it forth; and his hand was restored unto him.

6. And the pharisees going out immediately, made a consultation with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7. But Jesus retired with his disciples to the sea; and a great multitude followed him, from Galilee and Judea,

8. And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond the Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing the things which he did, came to him.

9. And he spoke to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him, because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10. For he healed many, so that they pressed upon him to touch him, as many as had evils.

11. And the unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him: and they cried, saying:

12. " Thou art the Son of God." And he strictly charged them, that they should not make him known.

13. And going up into a mountain, he called unto him, whom he would himself: and they came to him.

14. And he caused that twelve should be with him; and that he might send them to preach.

15. And he gave them power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils.

16. And to Simon he gave the name of Peter:

17. And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James, and he named them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder:

18. And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James of Alphaeus, and Thaddeus, and Simon Chananeus,

19. And Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

20. And they come to a house: and the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21. And when his friends had heard of it, they went out to lay hold of him: for they said: " He is become mad."

22. And the scribes, who were come down from Jerusalem, said: " He hath Beelzebub; and by the prince of the devils he casteth out devils."

23. And after he had called them together, he said to them in parables: " How can satan cast out satan?"

24. " And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25. " And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

26. " And if satan be risen up against himself, he is divided, and cannot stand, but hath an end.

27. " No man can enter into the house of a strong man, and rob him of his goods, unless he first bind the strong man; and then shall he plunder his house.

28. " Amen I say to you, that all sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and the blasphemies wherewith they shall blaspheme:

29. " But he, who shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost, shall never have forgiveness, but shall be guilty of an everlasting sin."

30. Because they said: " He hath an unclean spirit."

31. And his mother and his brethren came; standing without, sent to him, calling him

32. And the multitude sat about him: and they said to him: " Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee."

33. And answering them, he said: " Who is my mother and my brethren?"

34. And looking round about on those, who sat about him, he saith: " Behold my mother and my brethren."

35. " For whosoever shall do the will of God, he is my brother, and my sister, and mother."

CHAPTER IV.

The parable of the sower. Christ stills the tempest at sea.

AND he began again to teach by the sea-side: and a great multitude was gathered together unto him, so that he went up into a ship, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude was upon the land by the sea side.

2. And he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his doctrine:

3. " Hear ye: behold, a sower went out to sow."

4. " And whilst he was sowing, some fell by the way side, and the birds of the air came, and ate it up."

5. " And other some fell upon stony ground, where it had not much earth: and it shot up immediately, because it had no depth of earth:

6. " And when the sun was risen, it was scorched, and because it had no root, it withered away.

7. " And some fell among thorns: and the thorns grew up, and choked it: and it yielded no fruit.

8. " And some fell upon good ground: and brought forth fruit, that grew up, and increased, and yielded, one thirty, another sixty, and another a hundred."

9. And he said: " He, who hath ears to hear, let him hear."

10. And when he was alone, the twelve, who were with him, asked him the parable.

11. And he said to them: " To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but to those, who are without, all things are done in parables:

12. " That seeing they may see*, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand: lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them."

13. And he saith to them: " Know ye not this parable? how then shall ye know all parables?"

14. " He, who soweth, soweth the word.

15. " And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and as soon as they have heard, immediately satan cometh, and taketh away the word, that was sown in their hearts.

16. " And these likewise are they, who are sown on the stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with joy:

17. " And they have no root in themselves, but are

* That seeing they may see. In punishment of their wilfully shutting their eyes, (St. Matt. xiii. 15.) God justly withdrew those light and graces, which otherwise he would have given them, for their effectual conversion.

for a time: and then when tribulation and persecution arise for the word's sake, they are presently scandalized.

8. "And others there are, who are sown among thorns: these are they who hear the word,

9. "And the cares of the world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts after other things entering in choke the word, and it is made fruitless.

10. "And these are they, who are sown upon the good ground, who hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, the one thirty, another sixty, and another a hundred."

11. And he said to them: "Doth a candle come in to be put under a bushel, or under a bed—and not to be set on a candlestick?

12. "For there is nothing hidden, which shall not be made manifest: neither was it made secret, but that it may come abroad.

13. "If any man have ears to hear, let him hear."

14. And he said to them: "Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye shall mete, it shall be measured to you again; and more shall be given to you.

15. "For he, who hath, to him shall be given: and he, who hath not, that also, which he hath, shall be taken away from him."

16. And he said: "So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the earth,

17. "And should sleep, and rise, night and day, and the seed should spring, and grow up while he knoweth not.

18. "For the earth of itself bringeth forth fruit, first the blade, then the ear, afterwards the full corn in the ear,

19. "And when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come."

20. And he said: "To what shall we liken the kingdom of God? or to what parable shall we compare it?

21. "It is as a grain of mustard-seed; which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds, that are in the earth:

22. "And when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the birds of the air may dwell under the shadow thereof."

23. And with many such parables, he spoke to them the word, according as they were able to hear.

24. And without parable he did not speak unto them: but apart, he explained all things to his disciples.

25. And he saith to them that day, when evening was come: "Let us pass over to the other side."

26. And sending away the multitude, they take him even as he was in the ship: and there were other ships with him.

27. And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship; so that the ship was filled.

28. And he was in the hinder part of the ship sleeping upon a pillow; and they awake him, and say to him: "Master, doth it not concern thee that we perish?"

29. And rising up, he rebuked the wind, and said to the sea: "Peace, be still." And the wind ceased: and there was made a great calm.

30. And he said to them: "Why are ye fearful? have ye not faith yet?" And they feared exceedingly: and they said one to another: "Who is this (thinkest thou) that both wind and sea obey him?"

C H A P. V.

Christ casts out a legion of devils; he heals the issue of blood; and raises the daughter of Jairus to life.

AND they came over the strait of the sea into the country of the Gerasæns.

1. And when he went out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

2. Who had his dwelling in the tombs; and no man now could bind him, not even with chains:

3. For having been often bound with fetters and chains, he had burst the chains, and broken the fetters in pieces; and no man could tame him.

4. And he was always day and night in the tombs, and in the mountains, crying and cutting himself with stones.

5. And seeing Jesus afar off, he ran, and worshipped him:

6. And crying with a loud voice, he said: "What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou son of the most high God: I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not."

7. For he said to him: "Go out of the man, thou unclean spirit."

8. And he asked him: "What is thy name?" And he saith to him: "My name is Legion; for we are many."

9. And he besought him much, that he would not drive him away out of the country.

10. And there was there near the mountain a great herd of swine, feeding.

11. And the spirits besought him, saying: "Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them."

12. And Jesus immediately gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd with great violence was carried headlong into the sea, being about two thousand; and were stilled in the sea:

13. And those, who fed them, fled, and told it in the city, and in the fields. And they went out to see what was done:

14. And they come to Jesus: and they see him, who was troubled with the devil, sitting, clothed, and well in his wits: and they were afraid.

15. And those, who had seen it, told them in what manner he had been dealt with, who had the devil—and concerning the swine.

16. And they began to pray him to depart from their coasts.

17. And when he went up into the ship, he, who had been troubled with the devil, began to beseech him, that he might be with him.

18. And he admitted him not; but saith to him: "Go into the house to thy friends; and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had mercy on thee."

19. And he went his way, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men wondered.

21. And when Jesus had passed again in the ship over the strait, a great multitude assembled together unto him: and he was nigh unto the sea.

22. And there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, named Jairus: and seeing him, he falleth down at his feet.

23. And he besought him much, saying: "My daughter is at the point of death; come, lay thy hand upon her, that she may be safe, and may live."

24. And he went with him; and a great multitude followed him; and they thronged him.

25. And a woman, who was under an issue of blood twelve years,

26. And had suffered many things from several physicians, and had spent all, that she had, and was nothing the better, but rather worse:

27. When she had heard of Jesus, came in the crowd behind him, and touched his garment.

28. For she said: "If I shall but touch his garment, I shall be whole."

29. And forthwith the fountain of her blood was dried up: and she felt in her body, that she was healed of the evil.

30. And immediately Jesus knowing in himself the virtue, which had proceeded from him, turning to the multitude, said: "Who hath touched my garments?"

31. And his disciples said to him: "Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, 'Who hath touched me?'"

32. And he looked about to see her, who had done this.

33. But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came, and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34. And he said to her: "Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be thou whole of thy disease."

35. While he was yet speaking, some come from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying: "Thy daughter is dead: why dost thou trouble the master any farther?"

36. But Jesus having heard the word, which was spoken, saith to the ruler of the synagogue: "Fear not; only believe."

37. And he admitted not any man to follow him, but Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38. And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he seeth a tumult, and people weeping and wailing much.

39. And going in, he saith to them: "Why make ye this noise, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth."

40. And they laughed him to scorn. But he having put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and those who were with him; and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

41. And taking the damsel by the hand, he saith to her: "Talitha cumi," which is, being interpreted, "Damsel, (I say to thee) arise."

42. And immediately the damsel rose up, and walked: now she was twelve years old: and they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43. And he charged them strictly, that no man should know it; and commanded, that something should be given her to eat.

CHAP. VI.

Christ teaches at Nazareth. He sends forth the twelve apostles: he feeds five thousand with five loaves; and walks upon the sea.

AND going out from thence, he went into his own country: and his disciples followed him.

2. And when the sabbath-day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him, were in admiration at his doctrine, saying: "How cometh this man by all these things? and what wisdom is this, which is given to him, and such mighty works, as are wrought by his hands?"

3. "Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joseph, and Jude, and Simon? are not also his sisters here with us?" And they were scandalized in regard of him.

4. And Jesus said to them: "A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and in his own house, and among his own kindred."

5. And he could not do any mighty work there, only that he healed a few, who were sick, laying his hands upon them.

6. And he wondered because of their unbelief: and he went through the villages round about teaching.

7. And he called the twelve; and began to send them two and two, and gave them power over unclean spirits.

8. And he commanded them, that they should take nothing for their journey, but a staff only: no shoes, no bread, nor money in their purse;

9. But to be shod with sandals; and that they should not put on two coats.

10. And he said to them: "Whosoever ye shall enter into a house, there abide till ye depart from the place."

11. "And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, going forth from thence, shake off the dust from your feet for a testimony to them."

12. And going forth they preached, that men should do penance:

13. And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many, who were sick; and healed them.

14. And king Herod heard (for his name was made manifest): and he said: "John the baptist is risen again from the dead; and therefore mighty works shew forth themselves in him."

15. And others said: "He is Elias." But others said: "He is a prophet, as one of the prophets."

16. Which Herod hearing, said: "John, whom I beheaded, he is risen again from the dead."

17. For Herod himself had sent, and apprehended John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias the wife of Philip his brother; because he had married her.

* He could not. Not for want of power on his side; but for want of a due disposition on theirs.

18. For John said to Herod : " It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife."

19. Now Herodias laid snares for him ; and was desirous to put him to death, and could not.

20. For Herod feared John, knowing him to be a just and holy man ; and kept him : and when he heard him, he did many things : and he heard him willingly.

21. And when a convenient day was come, Herod made a supper for his birth-day, for the princes, and tribunes, and chief men of Galilee.

22. And when the daughter of the same Herodias had come in, and had danced, and pleased Herod, and those who were at table with him : the king said to the damsel : " Ask of me what thou wilt, and I will give it thee."

23. And he swore to her : " Whatsoever thou shalt ask, I will give thee, though it be the half of my kingdom."

24. And when she was gone out, she said to her mother : " What shall I ask?" But she said : " The head of John the baptist."

25. And she came in immediately with haste to the king ; and asked, saying : " I will, that forthwith thou give me in a dish the head of John the baptist."

26. And the king was struck sad : yet because of his oath, and because of those who were with him at table, he would not displease her :

27. But sending an executioner, he commanded that his head should be brought in a dish. And he beheaded him in the prison,

28. And brought his head in a dish ; and gave it to the damsel : and the damsel gave it to her mother :

29. Which his disciples hearing, came, and took his body ; and laid it in a tomb.

30. And the apostles coming together unto Jesus, related to him all things, that they had done and taught.

31. And he said to them : " Come ye apart into a desert place, and rest a little." For there were many coming and going : and they had not so much as time to eat.

32. And going up into a ship, they went into a desert place apart.

33. And they saw them going away, and many knew : and they ran flocking thither on foot from all the cities, and were there before them.

34. And Jesus going out saw a great multitude : and he had compassion on them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd : and he began to teach them many things.

35. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came to him, saying : " This is a desert place, and the hour is now past :

36. " Send them away, that going into the next villages and towns, they may buy themselves meat to eat."

37. But he answering said to them : " Give ye them to eat." And they said to him : " Let us go and buy bread for two hundred pence ; and we will give them to eat."

38. And he saith to them : " How many loaves have ye? go and see." And when they knew, they say : " Five, and two fishes."

VOL. II.

39. And he commanded them to make them all sit down by companies upon the green grass.

40. And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds and by fifties.

41. And when he had taken the five loaves, and the two fishes, looking up to heaven, he blessed, and broke the loaves ; and gave to his disciples to set before them : and the two fishes he divided among them all.

42. And they all did eat, and had their fill.

43. And they took up the leavings, twelve full baskets of fragments, and of the fishes.

44. And those who did eat, were five thousand men.

45. And immediately he obliged his disciples to go up into the ship, that they might go before him over the water to Bethsaida ; while he dismissed the people.

46. And when he had dismissed them, he went up to the mountain to pray.

47. And when it was late, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48. And seeing them labouring in rowing (for the wind was against them) and about the fourth watch of the night, he cometh to them walking upon the sea ; and he would have passed by them.

49. But they seeing him walking upon the sea, thought it was an apparition ; and they cried out.

50. For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he spoke with them, and said to them : " Have a good heart ; it is I ; fear ye not."

51. And he went up to them into the ship : and the wind ceased. And they were far more astonished within themselves.

52. For they understood not concerning the loaves : for their heart was blinded.

53. And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Genesareth, and set to the shore.

54. And when they were gone out of the ship, immediately they knew him :

55. And running through that whole country, they began to carry about in beds, those who were sick, where they heard he was.

56. And whithersoever he entered, into towns, or into villages, or cities, they laid the sick in the streets ; and besought him, that they might touch but the hem of his garment : and as many as touched him, were made whole.

C H A P. VII.

Christ rebukes the pharisees. He heals the daughter of the woman of Chanaun, and the man, who was deaf and dumb.

AND there assemble together unto him the pharisees, and some of the scribes, coming from Jerusalem.

2. And when they had seen some of his disciples eat bread with common, that is, with unwashed hands, they found fault.

3. For the pharisees and all the Jews eat not without often washing their hands, holding the tradition of the ancients :

4. And when they come from the market, unless they be washed, they eat not : and many other things there are, which have been delivered to them to observe, the washings of cups, and of pots, and of brazen vessels, and of beds.

4 K

5. And the pharisees and scribes asked him: "Why do not thy disciples walk according to the tradition of the ancients, but eat bread with common hands?"

6. But he answering, said to them: "Well did I say prophesy of you, hypocrites, as it is written: 'This people honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.'

7. 'And in vain do they worship me, teaching doctrines and precepts of men'."

8. "For leaving the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, the washings of pots and of cups: and many other things ye do like to these."

9. And he said to them: "Well do ye make void the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition."

10. "For Moses said: 'Honour thy father and thy mother:' and, 'He, who shall curse father or mother, dying, let him die the death.'

11. "But ye say: 'If a man shall say to his father or mother, Corban (that is, a gift) whatsoever is from me, shall profit thee:'

12. "And farther ye suffer him not to do any thing for his father or mother;

13. "Making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have given forth. And many other such like things ye do."

14. And calling again the multitude unto him, he said to them: "Hear ye me all, and understand."

15. "There is nothing from without a man entering into him, that can defile him: but the things, which come from a man, those are they, that defile a man."

16. "If any man have ears to hear, let him hear."

17. And when he had come into the house from the multitude, his disciples asked him the meaning of the parable.

18. And he said to them: "Are ye also so unwise? understand ye not that whatsoever thing from without entereth into a man, it cannot defile him:

19. "Because it entereth not into his heart, but goeth into the belly, and goeth out into the privy, purging all meats?"

20. And he said, that "the things which come out from a man, they defile a man."

21. "For from within out of the heart of men proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22. "Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness.

23. "All these evil things come from within, and defile a man."

24. And he arose from thence, and went into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon: and entering into a house, he would have no man know it: but he could not be hidden.

25. For a certain woman heard of him, whose daughter had an unclean spirit; and presently came in, and fell down at his feet.

26. For the woman was a Gentile, a Syrophenician born. And she besought him to cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

27. And he said to her: "Let the children first be filled: for it is not good to take the bread of the children, and cast it to the dogs."

28. But she answered, and said to him: "Yea, Lord; for the whelps also eat under the table of the children's crumbs."

29. And he said to her: "For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter."

30. And when she had come to her house, she found the girl lying upon the bed, and that the devil was gone out.

31. And again going out of the coasts of Tyre, he came by Sidon to the sea of Galilee through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

32. And they bring to him one, who was deaf and dumb: and they besought him to lay his hand upon him.

33. And taking him aside from the multitude, he put his fingers into his ears, and spitting, he touched his tongue:

34. And looking up to heaven, he groaned, and said to him: "Ephphetha," that is, Be opened.

35. And immediately his ears were opened; and the string of his tongue was loosed; and he spoke right.

36. And he charged them, that they should tell no man. But the more he charged them, to much the more a great deal did they publish it:

37. And so much the more did they wonder, saying: "He hath done all things well: he hath made both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak."

C H A P. VIII.

Christ feeds four thousand. He gives sight to the blind. He forgives his passion.

IN those days again, when there was a great multitude, and had nothing to eat; calling his disciples together, he saith to them:

2. "I have compassion on the multitude; for behold, they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:

3. "And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint in the way: for some of them came from afar off."

4. And his disciples answered him: "From whence can any one satisfy them here with bread in the wilderness?"

5. And he asked them: "How many loaves have ye?" And they said: "Seven."

6. And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and taking the seven loaves, giving thanks he broke, and gave to his disciples to set before them: and they set them before the people.

7. And they had a few little fishes: and he blessed them, and commanded them to be set before them.

8. And they did eat and were filled; and they took up that, which was left of the fragments, seven baskets.

9. And those, who had eaten, were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

10. And immediately going up into a ship with his disciples, he came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11. And the pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him.

* Doctrines and precepts of men. See the annotations, Matthew xv. 9. 11.

12. And sighing deeply in spirit, he saith: "Why doth this generation seek a sign? Amen I say to you, a sign shall not be given to this generation."

13. And leaving them, he went up again into the ship, and passed to the other side of the water.

14. And they forgot to take bread: and they had but one loaf with them in the ship.

15. And he charged them, saying: "Take heed and beware of the leaven of the pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod."

16. And they reasoned among themselves, saying: "Because we have no bread."

17. Which Jesus knowing, saith to them: "Why do ye reason, because ye have no bread? do ye not yet know nor understand? have ye still your heart blinded?"

18. "Having eyes see ye not? and having ears hear ye not? neither do ye remember,

19. "When I broke the five loaves among five thousand: how many baskets full of fragments took ye up?" They say to him: "Twelve."

20. "And when the seven loaves among four thousand, how many baskets of fragments took ye up?" And they say to him: "Seven."

21. And he said to them: "How do ye not yet understand?"

22. And they came to Bethsaida: and they bring to him a blind man: and they besought him to touch him.

23. And taking the blind man by the hand, he led him out of the town: and spitting upon his eyes, laying his hands on him, he asked him, if he saw any thing.

24. And looking up, he said: "I see men as trees, walking."

25. After that he laid his hands again upon his eyes; and he began to see, and was restored, so that he saw all things clearly.

26. And he sent him to his house, saying: "Go into thy house; and if thou enter into the town, tell no body."

27. And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the town of Cesarea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying to them: "Whom do men say that I am?"

28. And they answered him, saying: "John the baptist;" but some "Elias," and others "as one of the prophets."

29. Then he saith to them: "But whom do ye say that I am?" Peter answering, said to him: "Thou art the Christ."

30. And he strictly charged them, that they should not tell any man of him.

31. And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the ancients, and by the high-priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.

32. And he spoke the word openly. And Peter taking him, began to rebuke him.

33. But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, threatened Peter, saying: "Go behind me, satan; because thou savourest not the things, that are of God, but the things, that are of men."

34. And calling together the multitude with his disciples, he said to them: "If any man will follow me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

35. "For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, and for the gospel, shall save it.

36. "For what shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

37. "Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

38. "For whosoever shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation;—the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, when he shall come in the glory of his Father with the holy angels."

39. And he said to them: "Amen I say to you, that there are some of those, who stand here, who shall not taste death, till they see the kingdom of God coming in power."

C H A P. IX.

Christ is transfigured. He casts out the dumb spirit. He teaches humility, and to avoid scandal.

AND after six days, Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John; and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves, and was transfigured before them.

2. And his garments became shining, and exceeding white as snow, so as no fuller on earth can make white.

3. And there appeared to them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.

4. And Peter answering, said to Jesus: "Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias."

5. For he knew not what he said: for they were struck with fear:

6. And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying: "This is my most beloved Son: hear ye him."

7. And immediately looking about, they saw no man any more but Jesus only with them.

8. And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them not to tell any man what things they had seen, till the Son of man shall have risen again from the dead.

9. And they kept the word to themselves; questioning together what that should mean: "When he shall have risen from the dead."

10. And they asked him, saying: "Why then do the pharisees and scribes say, that Elias must come first?"

11. And he answered, and said to them: "Elias, when he shall come first, shall restore all things: and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be despised.

12. "But I say to you, that Elias also is come (and they have done to him whatsoever they would) as it is written of him."

13. And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

14. And presently all the people seeing Jesus, were astonished and struck with fear; and running to him, they saluted him.

15. And he asked them, "what do ye question about among you?"

16. And one of the multitude answering, said: "Master, I have brought to thee my son, who hath a dumb spirit,

17. "And wheresoever he taketh him, he dasheth him: and he foameth, and gnatheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spoke to thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not."

18. And Jesus answering them, said: "O incredulous generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him to me."

19. And they brought him. And when he had seen him, immediately the spirit troubled him: and being thrown down upon the ground, he rolled about foaming.

20. And he asked his father: "How long time is it, since this hath happened unto him?" But he said: "From his infancy:

21. "And oftentimes hath he cast him into the fire, and into waters, to destroy him. But if thou can do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us."

22. And Jesus saith to him: "If thou can believe, all things are possible to him, who believeth."

23. And immediately the father of the boy crying out, with tears said: "I do believe, Lord; help thou my unbelief."

24. And when Jesus saw the multitude running together, he threatened the unclean spirit, saying to him: "Thou deaf and dumb spirit, I command thee, go out of him: and enter no more into him."

25. And crying out, and greatly tearing him, he went out of him: and he became as one dead, inasmuch that many said: "He is dead."

26. But Jesus taking him by the hand, lifted him up; and he arose.

27. And when he had come into the house, his disciples asked him privately: "Why could not we cast him out?"

28. And he said to them: "This kind can go out by nothing, but by prayer and fasting."

29. And departing from thence, they passed through Galilee: and he would not, that any man should know it.

30. And he taught his disciples, and said to them: "The Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men; and they shall kill him; and after he is killed, he shall rise again the third day."

31. But they understood not the word: and they were afraid to ask him.

32. And they came to Capharnaum. And when they were in the house, he asked them: "What did ye treat of in the way?"

33. But they held their peace. For in the way they had disputed among themselves, which of them should be the greatest.

34. And sitting down, he called the twelve, and saith to them: "If any man desire to be first, he shall be the last of all, and the servant of all."

35. And taking a child, he set him in the midst of them. And when he had embraced him, he saith to them:

36. "Whosoever shall receive one such child as this in my name, receiveth me. And whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him, who sent me."

37. John answered him, saying: "Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, who followeth not us: and we forbade him."

38. But Jesus said: "Do not forbid him: for there is no man, who doth a miracle in my name, that can soon speak ill of me.

39. "For he, who is not against you, is for you.

40. "For whosoever shall give you to drink a cup of water in my name, because ye belong to Christ: Amen I say to you, he shall not lose his reward.

41. "And whosoever shall scandalize one of these little ones, who believe in me—it were better for him, that a mill-stone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

42. "And if thy hand scandalize thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life, maimed—than, having two hands, to go into hell, into the fire that cannot be quenched:

43. "Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not extinguished.

44. "And if thy foot scandalize thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter lame into life everlasting, than, having two feet, to be cast into the hell of unquenchable fire:

45. "Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not extinguished.

46. "And if thy eye scandalize thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee with one eye to enter into the kingdom of God, than, having two eyes, to be cast into the hell of fire:

47. "Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not extinguished.

48. "For every one shall be salted with fire: and every victim shall be salted with salt.

49. "Salt is good: but if the salt become unsavoury, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in you, and have peace among you."

C H A P. X.

Marriage is not to be dissolved. The danger of riches. The ambition of the sons of Lebedee. A blind man is restored to his sight.

AND rising up from thence, he cometh into the coasts of Judea beyond the Jordan: and the people flock to him again. And as he was accustomed, he taught them again.

2. And the pharisees coming to him, asked him: "Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife?" tempting him.

3. But he answering, saith to them: "What did Moses command you?"

4. And they said: "Moses permitted to write a bill of divorce, and to put her away."

5. And Jesus answering, said to them: "Because of the hardness of your heart, he wrote you that precept.

6. "But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.

7. "For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother; and shall cleave to his wife.

8. "And they two shall be in one flesh. Therefore now they are not two, but one flesh.

9. "What therefore God joined together, let no man put asunder."

10. And in the house again his disciples asked him concerning the same thing.

11. And he saith to them: "Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her."

12. "And if the wife shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery."

13. And they brought to him young children, that he might touch them. And the disciples rebuked those, who brought them.

14. And when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said to them: "Suffer the little children to come to me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God."

15. "Amen I say to you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God, as a little child, shall not enter into it."

16. And embracing them, and laying his hands upon them, he blessed them.

17. And when he had gone forth into the way, a certain man running up and kneeling before him, asked him: "Good Master, what shall I do, that I may receive life everlasting?"

18. And Jesus said to him: "Why callest thou me good? None is good * but one, that is, God."

19. "Thou knowest the commandments: 'Do not commit adultery; do not kill; do not steal; bear not false witness; do no fraud; honour thy father and mother.'"

20. But he answering, said to him: "Master, all these things I have observed from my youth."

21. And Jesus looking on him, loved him, and said to him: "One thing is wanting unto thee: go, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor; and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me."

22. But he being struck sad at that saying, went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23. And Jesus looking round about, saith to his disciples: "How hardly shall those, who have riches, enter into the kingdom of God!"

24. And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answering again, saith to them: "Children, how hard is it for those, who trust in riches, to enter into the kingdom of God!"

25. "It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

26. And they wondered the more, saying among themselves: "Who then can be saved?"

27. And Jesus looking on them, saith: "With men it is impossible; but not with God: for all things are possible with God."

28. And Peter began to say to him: "Behold, we have left all things, and have followed thee."

29. Jesus answering, said: "Amen I say to you, there is no man, who hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or children, or lands, for my sake and for the gospel—

30. "Who shall not receive a hundred times as much, now in this time; houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come, life everlasting."

31. "But many, who are first, shall be last, and the last first."

32. And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem: and Jesus went before them, and they were astonished; and following were afraid. And taking again the twelve, he began to tell them the things, that should befall him.

33. Saying: "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed to the chief priests, and to the scribes and ancients: and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles."

34. "And they shall mock him, and spit on him, and scourge him, and kill him: and the third day he shall rise again."

35. And James and John the sons of Zebedee, came to him, saying: "Master, we desire, that whatsoever we shall ask, thou wouldst do it for us:"

36. But he said to them: "What would ye, that I should do for you?"

37. And they said: "Grant to us, that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory."

38. And Jesus said to them: "Ye know not what ye ask. Can you drink of the chalice, which I drink of—or be baptized with the baptism, wherewith I am baptized?"

39. But they said to him: "We can." And Jesus saith to them: "Ye shall indeed drink of the chalice, that I drink of: and with the baptism, wherewith I am baptized, ye shall be baptized."

40. "But to sit on my right hand, or on my left, is not mine to give to you, but to those, for whom it is prepared."

41. And the ten hearing it, began to be much displeased at James and John.

42. But Jesus calling them, saith to them: "Ye know, that those, who seem to rule over the Gentiles, lord it over them: and their princes have power over them."

43. "But it is not so among you: but whosoever will be greater, shall be your minister."

44. "And whosoever will be first among you, shall be the servant of all."

45. "For the Son of man also has not come to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a redemption for many."

46. And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho, with his disciples, and a very great multitude, Bartimeus the blind man, the son of Timeus, sat by the way-side, begging.

47. And when he had heard, that he was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and to say: "Jesus, son of David, have mercy on me."

48. And many rebuked him, that he might hold his peace. But he cried a great deal the more: "Son of David, have mercy on me."

49. And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be

* None is good—of himself, entirely and essentially, but God alone: men may be good also, but only by participation of God's goodness.

called. And they call the blind man, saying to him : " Be of better comfort : arise, he calleth thee."

50. And he casting off his garment, leaped up, and came to him.

51. And Jesus answering, said to him : " What wilt thou, that I should do to thee?" And the blind man said to him : " Rabboni, that I may see."

52. And Jesus saith to him : " Go thy way ; thy faith hath made thee whole." And immediately he saw, and followed him in the way.

C H A P. XI.

Christ enters into Jerusalem upon an ass ; curses the barren fig-tree ; and drives the buyers and sellers out of the temple.

AND when they were drawing near to Jerusalem, and to Bethania, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth two of his disciples,

2. And saith to them : " Go into the village, that is over-against you, and immediately at your coming in thither, you shall find a colt tied, upon which no man yet hath sat : loose him, and bring him.

3. " And if any man shall say to you : ' What are ye doing ? ' say ye, that the Lord hath need of him ; and immediately he will let him come hither."

4. And going their way, they found the colt tied before the gate without, in the meeting of two ways : and they loose him.

5. And some of those, who stood there, said to them : " What do ye loosing the colt ?"

6. And they said to them, as Jesus had commanded them ; and they let him go with them.

7. And they brought the colt to Jesus : and they lay their garments on him : and he sat upon him.

8. And many spread their garments in the way : and others cut down boughs from the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9. And those, who went before, and those, who followed, cried, saying : " Hosanna :

10. " Blessed is he, who cometh in the name of the Lord : blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh : Hosanna in the highest."

11. And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple : and having viewed all things round about, when now the hour of evening was come, he went out to Bethania with the twelve.

12. And the next day, when they came out from Bethania, he was hungry.

13. And when he had seen afar off a fig tree having leaves, he came to try, if haply he might find any thing on it. And when he was come to it, he found nothing but leaves ; for it was not the time for figs.

14. And answering, he said to it : " May no man hereafter eat fruit of thee any more forever." And his disciples heard it.

15. And they came to Jerusalem. And when he had entered into the temple, he began to cast out those, who sold and bought in the temple : and he overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the chairs of those, who sold doves.

16. And he suffered not, that any man should carry a vessel through the temple :

17. And he taught, saying to them : " Is it not written, ' My house shall be called the house of prayer to all nations ? But ye have made it a den of thieves.'"

18. Which when the chief priests and the scribes had heard, they sought how they might destroy him : for they feared him, because the whole multitude was in admiration at his doctrine.

19. And when evening had come, he went forth out of the city.

20. And when they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.

21. And Peter remembering, said to him : " Rabbi, behold, the fig-tree, which thou didst curse, is withered away."

22. And Jesus answering, saith to them : " Have the faith of God.

23. " Amen I say to you, that whosoever shall say to this mountain : ' Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea,' and shall not stagger in his heart, but believe, that whatsoever he shall say, shall be done ; it shall be done for him.

24. " Therefore I say to you, all things, whatsoever you ask when ye pray, believe that ye shall receive, and they shall come unto you.

25. " And when ye shall stand to pray, forgive, if ye have aught against any man ; that your Father also, who is in heaven, may forgive you your sins."

26. " But if ye will not forgive, neither will your Father, who is in heaven, forgive you your sins."

27. And they come again to Jerusalem. And when he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the ancients.

28. And they say to him : " By what authority dost thou these things ? and who hath given thee this authority to do these things ?"

29. And Jesus answering, said to them : " I will also ask of you one question, and answer ye me : and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30. " The baptism of John was it from heaven, or from men ? Answer me."

31. But they thought with themselves, saying : " If we say from heaven, he will say, ' Why then did ye not believe him ?'

32. " If we say, ' From men,' we fear the people." For all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed.

33. And they answering, said to Jesus : " We know not." And Jesus answering, saith to them : " Neither do I tell you, by what authority I do these things."

C H A P. XII.

The parable of the vineyard and husbandman. Caesar's right to tribute. The sadducees are confuted. The first commandment. The widow's mite.

AND he began to speak to them in parables : " A certain man planted a vineyard ; and made a hedge round it ; and dug a place for the wine-vat ; and built a tower ; and let it to husbandmen ; and went into a far country.

2. " And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant to receive from the husbandmen, of the fruit of the vineyard.

3. "And they having laid hands on him, beat him; and sent him away empty.

4. "And again he sent to them another servant: and him they wounded in the head, and used him reproachfully.

5. "And again he sent another, and him they killed; and many others, of whom some they beat and others they killed.

6. "Having therefore yet one son, most dear to him; he sent him also to them last of all, saying: 'They will reverence my son.'

7. "But the husbandmen said one to another: 'This is the heir: come, let us kill him; and the inheritance shall be ours.'

8. "And laying hold on him, they killed him; and cast him out of the vineyard.

9. "What therefore, will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come, and destroy these husbandmen; and will give the vineyard to others.

10. "And have ye not read this scripture: 'The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner:'

11. "By the Lord hath this been done, and it is wonderful in our eyes."

12. And they sought to lay hands on him; but they feared the people. For they knew that he spoke this parable against them. And leaving him, they went their way.

13. And they send to him some of the pharisees and of the Herodians; to catch him in his words.

14. And coming, they say to him: "Master, we know that thou art a true speaker, and carest not for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to give tribute to Cæsar; or shall we not give it?"

15. But he knowing their dissimulation, saith to them: "Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may see it."

16. And they brought it to him. And he saith to them: "Whose is this image, and inscription?" They say to him: "Cæsar's."

17. And Jesus answering, said to them: "Render therefore to Cæsar the things, that are Cæsar's, and to God the things, that are God's." And they marvelled at him.

18. And there came to him the sadducees, who say there is no resurrection: and they asked him, saying:

19. "Master, Moses wrote unto us, that if any man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed to his brother.

20. "Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died leaving no issue.

21. "And the second took her and died: and neither did he leave any issue. And the third in like manner.

22. "And the seven took her in like manner; and did not leave issue. Last of all the woman also died.

23. "In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise again, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife."

24. And Jesus answering, saith to them: "Do ye not therefore err, not understanding the scriptures, nor the power of God?"

25. "For when they shall rise again from the dead, they shall neither marry, nor be given in marriage; but are as the angels in heaven.

26. "And as concerning the dead, that they rise again, have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spoke to him, saying: 'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?'

27. "He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. Ye therefore do greatly err."

28. And there came one of the scribes, who had heard them reasoning together, and seeing, that he had answered them well, asked him which was the first commandment of all.

29. And Jesus answered him: "The first commandment of all is, 'Hear, O Israel: the Lord thy God, is one God.

30. 'And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with thy whole mind, and with thy whole strength.' This is the first commandment.

31. "And the second is like to it: 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.' There is no other commandment greater than these."

32. And the scribe said to him: "Well master, thou hast said the truth, that there is one God, and there is no other besides him;

33. "And that he should be loved with the whole heart, and with the whole understanding, and with the whole soul, and with the whole strength; and to love one's neighbour as himself, is a greater thing than all holocausts and sacrifices."

34. And Jesus seeing that he had answered wisely, said to him: "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35. And Jesus answering, said, teaching in the temple: "How do the scribes say, that Christ is the son of David?"

36. "For David himself saith by the Holy Ghost: 'The Lord said to my Lord, 'Sit on my right hand, until I make thy enemies thy foot-stool.'

37. "David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son?" And a great multitude heard him gladly.

38. And he said to them in his doctrine: "Beware of the scribes, who love to walk in long robes, and to be saluted in the market-place;

39. "And to sit in the first chairs in the synagogues, and to have the highest places at suppers;

40. "Who devour the houses of widows under the pretence of long prayer: these shall receive greater judgment."

41. And Jesus sitting over-against the treasury, beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many, who were rich, cast in much.

42. And there came a certain poor widow; and she cast in two mites, which make a farthing.

43. And calling his disciples together, he saith to them: "Amen I say to you, this poor widow hath cast in more than all those who have cast into the treasury.

44. "For they all did cast in of their abundance:

but she, of her want, cast in all she had, even her whole living."

C H A P. XIII.

Christ foretells the destruction of the temple, and the signs, that shall forerun the day of judgment.

AND as he was going out of the temple, one of his disciples saith to him: "Master, behold what manner of stones, and what buildings are here."

2. And Jesus answering, said to him: "Seest thou all these great buildings? There shall not be left a stone upon a stone, that shall not be thrown down."

3. And as he sat on the mount of Olives over-against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew asked him apart:

4. "Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign, when all these things shall begin to be fulfilled?"

5. And Jesus answering, began to say to them: "Take heed lest any man deceive you."

6. "For many shall come in my name, saying: 'I am he:' and they shall deceive many."

7. "And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, fear ye not: for such things must needs be; but the end is not yet."

8. "For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and famines. These things are the beginning of sorrows."

9. "But look to yourselves. For they shall deliver you up to councils: and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall stand before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony unto them."

10. "And unto all nations the gospel must first be preached."

11. "And when they shall lead you, delivering you up, be not thoughtful before-hand what ye shall speak: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye. For it is not ye, who speak, but the Holy Ghost."

12. "And the brother shall betray his brother unto death, and the father his son: and children shall rise up against the parents, and shall put them to death."

13. "And ye shall be hated by all men for my name's sake. But he, who shall endure unto the end, he shall be saved."

14. And when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, standing where it ought not: let him, who readeth, understand: then let those, who are in Judea, flee to the mountains:

15. "And let him, who is on the house-top, not go down into the house, nor enter therein to take any thing out of his house:

16. "And let him, who shall be in the field, not turn back again to take up his garment."

17. "And woe to those who are with child, and who give suck in those days."

18. "But pray ye that these things happen not in winter."

19. "For in those days shall be such tribulations as were not from the beginning of the creation, which God created until now, neither shall be."

20. "And unless the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh should be saved: but for the sake of the elect, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.

21. "And then if any man shall say to you: 'Lo, here is Christ;' or 'lo, he is there:': do not believe."

22. "For there will rise up false Christs and false prophets: and they shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect."

23. "Take ye heed therefore: behold, I have foretold you all things."

24. "But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened; and the moon shall not give her light;

25. "And the stars of heaven shall be falling down; and the powers, that are in heaven, shall be moved."

26. "And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds, with great power and glory."

27. "And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven."

28. "Now of the fig-tree learn ye a parable. When the branch thereof is now tender, and the leaves are come forth, ye know that summer is very near:

29. "So ye also, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know ye that it is very nigh, even at the door."

30. "Amen I say to you, that this generation shall not pass, until all these things be done."

31. "Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away."

32. "But of that day or hour no man knoweth, neither the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but the Father."

33. "Take ye heed, watch, and pray: for ye know not when the time is."

34. "Even as a man, who going into a far country, left his house—and gave authority to his servants over every work, and commanded the porter to watch."

35. "Watch ye therefore (for ye know not when the lord of the house cometh: at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning)."

36. "Lest coming on a sudden, he find you sleeping."

37. "And what I say to you, I say to all: watch."

C H A P. XIV.

The first part of the history of the passion of Christ.

NOW the feast of the passch, and of the azymst was after two days: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might by some vile lay hold on him, and kill him.

2. But they said: "Not on the festival day, lest there should be a tumult among the people."

3. And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, and was at meat—there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of precious spikenard: and breaking the alabaster box, she poured it out upon his head.

4. Now there were some, who had indignation within themselves, and said: "Why was this waste of the ointment made?"

* Not the Son. Not that the Son of God is absolutely ignorant of the day of judgment; but that he knoweth it not, as our teacher: i. e. knoweth it not so as to teach it to us, as not being expedient.

† The feast of the unleavened bread.

5. "For this ointment might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and given to the poor." And they murmured against her.

6. But Jesus said: "Let her alone: why do ye molest her? She hath wrought a good work upon me.

7. "For, the poor ye have always with you; and whensoever ye will, ye may do them good; but me ye have not always.

8. "She hath done what she could: she is come before-hand to anoint my body for the burial.

9. "Amen I say to you, wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also, which she hath done, shall be told for a memorial of her."

10. And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went to the chief priests, to betray him to them.

11. And they hearing it, were glad; and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12. Now on the first day of the unleavened bread, when they sacrificed the pasch, the disciples say to him: "Whither wilt thou that we go, and prepare for thee to eat the pasch?"

13. And he sendeth two of his disciples, and saith to them: "Go ye into the city: and there shall meet you a man carrying a pitcher of water; follow him:

14. "And whithersoever he shall go in, say to the master of the house: 'The master saith, 'Where is my refectory, where I may eat the pasch with my disciples?'

15. "And he will shew you a large dining-room furnished: and there prepare ye for us."

16. And his disciples went their way, and came into the city: and they found as he had told them: and they prepared the pasch.

17. And when evening had come, he cometh with the twelve.

18. And when they were at table, and eating, Jesus saith: "Amen I say to you, one of you, that eateth with me, shall betray me."

19. But they began to be sorrowful, and to say to him one by one: "Is it I?"

20. And he said to them: "One of the twelve, who dippereth his hand in the dish with me.

21. "And the Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man, by whom the Son of man shall be betrayed. It were better for him, if that man had not been born."

22. And while they were eating, Jesus took bread: and blessing broke, and gave to them, and said: "Take ye, This is my body."

23. And having taken the chalice, giving thanks he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24. And he said to them: "This is my blood of the new testament, which shall be shed for many.

25. "Amen I say unto you, that I will drink no more of this fruit of the vine, until that day, when I shall drink it new in the kingdom of God."

26. And when they had sung a hymn, they went forth to the mount of olives.

27. And Jesus saith to them: "Ye will all be scandalized in me this night: for it is written: 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep shall be dispersed.'

VOL. II.

28. "But after I shall have risen again, I will go before you into Galilee."

29. But Peter saith to him: "Although all shall be scandalized in thee, yet not I."

30. And Jesus saith to him: "Amen I say to thee, to-day even in this night, before the cock crow twice*, thou shalt deny me thrice."

31. But he spake the more vehemently: "Although I should die together with thee, I will not deny thee." And in like manner also said they all.

32. And they come to a farm called Gethsemani. And he saith to his disciples: "Sit ye here, while I pray."

33. And he taketh Peter, and James, and John with him: and he began to fear, and to be heavy.

34. And he saith to them: "My soul is sorrowful even unto death: stay ye here and watch."

35. And when he had gone forward a little, he fell flat on the ground: and he prayed that, if it could be, the hour might pass from him:

36. And he said: "Abba, Father, all things are possible to thee; take away this chalice from me; but not what I will, but what thou wilt."

37. And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping. And he saith to Peter: "Simon, sleepest thou? couldst thou not watch one hour?"

38. "Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

39. And going away again, he prayed, saying the same words.

40. And when he returned, he found them again asleep (for their eyes were heavy): and they knew not what to answer him.

41. And he cometh the third time, and saith to them: "Sleep ye now, and take your rest. It is enough: the hour is come: behold, the Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42. "Rise up, let us go. Behold, he, who will betray me, is at hand."

43. And while he was yet speaking, cometh Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve—and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the ancients.

44. And he, who betrayed him, had given them a sign, saying: "Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: lay hold on him, and lead him away carefully."

45. And when he had come, immediately going up to him, he saith: "Hail, Rabbi:" and he kissed him.

46. But they laid hands on him, and held him.

47. And one of those, who stood by, drawing a sword, struck a servant of the chief priest, and cut off his ear.

48. And Jesus answering, said to them: "Are ye come out as against a robber, with swords and staves to apprehend me?"

49. "I was daily with you in the temple teaching,

* Crow twice. The cocks crow at two different times of the night: viz. about midnight for the first time: and then about the time commonly called the cock-crowing: And this was the cock-crowing our Saviour spoke of: and therefore the other evangelists take no notice of the first crowing.

and ye did not lay hands on me. But, that the scriptures may be fulfilled."

50. Then his disciples leaving him, all fled away.

51. And a certain young man followed him, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body: and they laid hold on him.

52. But he casting off the linen cloth, fled from them naked.

53. And they brought Jesus to the high-priest: and all the priests, and the scribes, and the ancients were assembled together.

54. And Peter followed him afar off even into the palace of the high-priest: and he sat with the servants at the fire, and warmed himself.

55. And the chief priests and all the council sought for evidence against Jesus, that they might put him to death: and they found none.

56. For many bore false witness against him: and their evidence did not agree.

57. And some rising up, bore false witness against him saying:

58. "We heard him say, I will destroy this temple made with hands: and within three days I will build another not made with hands."

59. And their witness did not agree.

60. And the high-priest rising up in the midst, asked Jesus, saying: "Answerest thou nothing to the things, that are laid to thy charge by these men?"

61. But he held his peace and answered nothing. Again the high-priest asked him, and said to him: "Art thou the Christ, the Son of the blessed God?"

62. And Jesus said to him: "I am. And ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, and coming with the clouds of heaven."

63. Then the high-priest rending his garments, saith: "What need we any farther witness?"

64. "Ye have heard the blasphemy. What think ye?" And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65. And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say to him: "Prophesy:" and the servants struck him with the palms of their hands.

66. Now when Peter was in the court below, there cometh one of the maid-servants of the high-priest:

67. And when she had seen Peter warming himself, looking on him she saith: "Thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth."

68. But he denied, saying: "I neither know nor understand what thou sayest." And he went forth before the court: and the cock crew.

69. And again a maid-servant seeing him, began to say to the standers-by: "This is one of them."

70. But he denied again. And after a while, those who stood by, said again to Peter: "Surely thou art one of them: for thou art also a Galilean."

71. But he began to curse and to swear, saying: "I know not this man, of whom ye speak."

72. And immediately the cock crew again. And Peter remembered the word, that Jesus had said to him: "Before the cock crew twice, thou shalt deny me thrice." And he began to weep.

CHAP. XV.

The continuation of the history of the passion.

AND straitway in the morning the chief priests holding a consultation with the ancients, and the scribes, and the whole council, bound Jesus, and led him away, and delivered him to Pilate.

2. And Pilate asked him: "Art thou the king of the Jews?" but he answering, saith to him: "Thou sayest it."

3. And the chief priests accused him in many things.

4. And Pilate again asked him, saying: "Answerest thou nothing? Behold, in how many things they accuse thee."

5. But Jesus still answered nothing: so that Pilate wondered.

6. Now on the festival day he was wont to release unto them one of the prisoners, whomsoever they demanded.

7. And there was one called Barabbas, who was in prison with some seditious men, who in the sedition had committed murder.

8. And when the multitude had come up, they began to desire, that he would do, as he had ever done unto them.

9. And Pilate answered them, and said: "Will ye that I release to you the king of the Jews?"

10. For he knew, that the chief priests had delivered him up out of envy.

11. But the chief priests moved the people, that they should rather release Barabbas to them.

12. And Pilate again answering, saith to them: "What will ye then, that I do to the king of the Jews?"

13. But they again cried out: "Crucify him."

14. And Pilate saith to them: "Why, what hath he done?" But they cried out the more: "Crucify him."

15. So Pilate being willing to satisfy the people, released to them Barabbas, and delivered up Jesus, whom he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16. And the soldiers led him into the court of the palace: and they call together the whole band.

17. And they clothe him with purple, and plating a crown of thorns, they put it upon him:

18. And they began to salute him: "Hail, king of the Jews."

19. And they struck his head with a reed: and they did spit on him, and bowing their knees, they worshipped him.

20. And after they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own garments on him: and they led him out to crucify him.

21. And they forced one Simon of Cyrene, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and of Rufus, to take up his cross.

22. And they bring him into the place called Golgotha, which, being interpreted, is, The place of Calvary.

23. And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he took it not.

24. And crucifying him, they divided his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.

25. And it was the third hour * : and they crucified him :

26. And the inscription of his cause was written over : " THE KING OF THE JEWS."

27. And with him they crucify two thieves, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.

28. And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith : " And with the wicked he was reputed."

29. And those who passed by, blasphemed him, wagging their heads, and saying : " Vah, thou, that destroyest the temple of God, and in three days buildest it up again—

30. " Save thyself, coming down from the cross."

31. In like manner also the chief priests with the scribes mocking said one to another : " He saved others ; himself he cannot save.

32. " Let Christ the king of Israel come down now from the cross, that we may see and believe." And those, who were crucified with him, reviled him.

33. And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole earth, until the ninth hour.

34. And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying : " Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabacthani?" Which is, being interpreted, " My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

35. And some of the standers-by hearing, said : " Behold, he calleth Elias."

36. And one running and filling a sponge with vinegar, and putting it upon a reed, gave him to drink, saying : " Stay, let us see if Elias will come to take him down."

37. And Jesus having cried out with a loud voice, gave up the ghost.

38. And the veil of the temple was rent in two, from the top to the bottom.

39. And the centurion, who stood over-against him, seeing that, crying out in this manner he had given up the ghost, said : " Indeed this man was the Son of God."

40. And there were also women looking on afar off : among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less, and of Joseph, and Salome ;

41. Who also, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered to him, and many other women, who came up with him to Jerusalem.

42. And when evening was now come (because it was the passover, that is, the day before the sabbath,)

43. Joseph of Arimathea, a noble counsellor, who was also himself looking for the kingdom of God, came and went in boldly to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

44. But Pilate wondered, that he should be already dead. And sending for the centurion, he asked him, if he were already dead.

45. And when he had understood it by the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.

46. And Joseph buying fine linen, and taking him down, wrapped him up in the fine linen, and laid him in a sepulchre, which was hewed out of a rock : and he rolled a stone to the door of the sepulchre.

* The third hour. The ancient account divided the day into four parts, which were named from the hour from which they began, the first, third, sixth, and ninth hour. Our Lord was crucified a little before noon—before the third hour had quite expired, but when the sixth hour was near at hand.

47. And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joseph, beheld where he was laid.

C H A P. XVI.

Christ's resurrection and ascension.

AND when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Salome bought sweet spices, that coming they might anoint Jesus.

2. And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they come to the sepulchre, the sun being now risen †.

3. And they said one to another : " Who shall roll us back the stone from the door of the sepulchre?"

4. And looking, they saw the stone rolled back. For it was very great.

5. And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed with a white robe : and they were astonished.

6. And he saith to them : " Be not affrighted : ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified : he has risen : he is not here : behold the place, where they laid him.

7. " But go tell his disciples, and Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee : there ye shall see him, as he told you."

8. But they going out, fled from the sepulchre : for a trembling and fear had seized them : and they said nothing to any man : for they were afraid.

9. But he rising early the first day of the week, appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils.

10. She went, and told those, who had been with him, who were mourning and weeping.

11. And they hearing that he was alive, and had been seen by her, did not believe.

12. And after that, he appeared in another form to two of them walking, as they were going into the country.

13. And they going told it to the rest : neither did they believe them.

14. At length he appeared to the eleven, as they were at table : and he upbraided them with their incredulity and hardness of heart ; because they did not believe them, who had seen him, after he had risen again.

15. And he said to them : " Go ye into the whole world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

16. " He, who believeth and is baptized, shall be saved : but he, who believeth not, shall be condemned.

17. " And these signs shall follow those, who believe : In my name they shall cast out devils : they shall speak with new tongues :

18. " They shall take up serpents : and if they shall drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them : they shall lay their hands upon the sick, and they shall recover."

19. And the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God.

20. But they going forth preached every where : the Lord co-operating with them, and confirming the word with signs, that followed.

† The sun being now risen. They set out before it was light, to go to the sepulchre : but the sun had risen when they arrived there. Or perhaps the sun here spoken of, is the sun of justice, Christ Jesus our Lord, who had risen before their coming.

The HOLY GOSPEL of JESUS CHRIST,

ACCORDING TO

St. L U K E.

CHAP. I.

The conception of John the baptist, and of Christ: the visitation and canticle of the blessed virgin: the birth of the baptist: and the canticle of Zachary.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a narration of the things, that have been accomplished among us—

2. According as they have delivered them unto us, who from the beginning were eye-witnesses and ministers of the word—

3. It seemed good to me also, having diligently attained to all things from the beginning, to write to thee in order, most excellent Theophilus.

4. That thou mayest know the truth of those words, in which thou hast been instructed.

5. There was in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zachary, of the course of Abia*, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name Elizabeth.

6. And they were both just before God, walking in all the commandments and justifications of the Lord without blame.

7. And they had no son, because Elizabeth was barren: and they both were well advanced in years.

8. And it came to pass, that while he executed the priestly office before God, in the order of his course,

9. According to the custom of the priestly office, it was his lot to offer incense, going into the temple of the Lord;

10. And all the multitude of the people was praying without at the hour of incense.

11. And there appeared to him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12. And Zachary seeing him was troubled: and fear fell upon him:

13. But the angel said to him: "Fear not, Zachary; for thy prayer is heard: and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son; and thou shalt call his name John;

14. "And thou shalt have joy and gladness: and many shall rejoice at his birth.

15. "For he shall be great before the Lord; and shall drink no wine nor strong drink: and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost even from his mother's womb.

16. "And he shall convert many of the children of Israel to the Lord their God.

17. "And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias; that he may turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the incredulous to the wisdom of the just, to prepare for the Lord a perfect people."

18. And Zachary said to the angel: "Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man: and my wife is advanced in years."

19. And the angel answering, said to him: "I am Gabriel, who stand before God; and am sent to speak to thee, and to bring thee these good tidings.

20. "And behold, thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be able to speak until the day wherein these things shall come to pass; because thou hast not believed my words, which shall be fulfilled in their time."

21. And the people were waiting for Zachary: and they wondered, that he tarried so long in the temple.

22. And when he came out, he could not speak to them: and they understood that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he made signs to them, and remained dumb.

23. And it came to pass, after the days of his office were accomplished, that he departed to his own house.

24. And after those days, his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying:

25. "Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days, wherein he hath had regard to take away my reproach among men."

26. And in the sixth month, the angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee called Nazareth,

27. To a virgin espoused to a man, whose name was Joseph, of the house of David: and the virgin's name was Mary.

28. And the angel having come in, said to her: "Hail, full of grace, the Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women."

29. And when she had heard, she was troubled at his saying, and thought with herself what manner of salutation this should be.

30. And the angel said to her: "Fear not, Mary; for thou hast found grace with God.

31. "Behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and shalt bring forth a son: and thou shalt call his name Jesus.

32. "He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the most High: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of David his father: and he shall reign in the house of Jacob for ever:

33. "And of his kingdom there shall be no end."

34. And Mary said to the angel: "How shall this be done, because I know not man?"

35. And the angel answering, said to her: "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the most High shall overshadow thee. And therefore also the Holy, which shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God.

* Of the course of Abia, i. e. of the rank of Abia, which word in the Greek is commonly put for the employment of one day; but here for the functions of a whole week. For by the appointment of David, 1. Paral. 24. the descendants from Aaron were divided into twenty-four families, of which the eighth was Abia, from whom descended this Zacharias, who at this time was in the week of his priestly functions.

36. "And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her, who is called barren;

37. "Because no word shall be impossible with God."

38. And Mary said: "Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it done to me according to thy word." And the angel departed from her.

39. And Mary rising up in those days, went into the mountainous country with haste, into a city of Judæa:

40. And she entered into the house of Zachary, and saluted Elizabeth.

41. And it came to pass, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the infant leaped in her womb: and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost:

42. And she cried out with a loud voice, and said: "Blessed art thou among women; and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43. "And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44. "For behold, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in my ears, the infant in my womb leaped for joy.

45. "And blessed art thou, who hast believed, because those things shall be accomplished, that were spoken to thee by the Lord."

46. And Mary said: "My soul doth magnify the Lord:

47. "And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48. "Because he hath regarded the humility of his handmaid: for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed".

49. "For he, who is mighty, hath done great things to me; and holy is his name.

50. "And his mercy is from generation to generations, to those who fear him

51. "He hath shewed might in his arm: he hath scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.

52. "He hath put down the mighty from their seat, and hath exalted the humble.

53. "He hath filled the hungry with good things: and the rich he hath sent away empty.

54. "He hath received Israel his servant, being mindful of his mercy.

55. "As he spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed for ever."

56. And Mary abode with her about three months: and she returned to her own house.

57. Now Elizabeth's full time of being delivered was come: and she brought forth a son.

58. And her neighbours and kinsfolks heard, that the Lord hath shewed his great mercy towards her: and they congratulated with her.

59. And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child: and they called him by his father's name Zachary.

60. And his mother answering, said "Not so: but he shall be called John."

61. And they said to her: "There is none of thy kindred, who is called by this name."

62. And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.

63. And demanding a table-book, he wrote, saying: "John is his name." And they all wondered.

64. And immediately his mouth was opened, and his tongue loosed: and he spoke, blessing God.

65. And fear came upon all their neighbours: and all these words were divulged over all the mountainous country of Judæa.

66. And all those, who had heard them, laid them up in their heart, saying: "What kind of child, think ye, shall this be?" For the hand of the Lord was with him.

67. And Zachary his father was filled with the Holy Ghost: and he prophesied, saying:

68. "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; because he hath visited and wrought the redemption of his people;

69. "And hath raised up a horn of salvation to us, in the house of David his servant.

70. "As he spoke by the mouth of his holy prophets, who are from the beginning.

71. "Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all who hate us;

72. "To perform mercy to our fathers; and to remember his holy covenant—

73. "The oath, which he swore to Abraham our father, that he would grant to us;

74. "That being delivered from the hand of our enemies, we may serve him without fear,

75. "In holiness and justice before him all our days.

76. "And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the most High; for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways—

77. "To give knowledge of salvation to his people, unto the remission of their sins.

78. "Through the bowels of the mercy of our God: in which the Orient † from on high, hath visited us

79. "To enlighten those, who sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death; to direct our feet into the way of peace."

80. And the child grew up, and was strengthened in spirit; and was in the deserts until the day of his manifestation to Israel.

C H A P. II.

The birth of Christ: his presentation in the temple: Simeon's prophecy. Christ, at twelve years of age, is found among the doctors.

AND it came to pass, that in those days there went out a decree from Cæsar Augustus, that the whole world should be enrolled.

2. This enrolling was first made by Cyrenus the governor of Syria.

* Shall call me blessed. These words are a prediction of that honour, which the church in all ages should pay to the blessed virgin. Let protestants examine, whether they are any way concerned in this prophecy.

† Horn of salvation. i. e. A powerful salvation; as Dr. Wetham translates it: for in the scripture by horn is generally understood strength and power.

‡ The Orient. † is one of the titles of the Messiah, the true light of the world, and the sun of justice.

3. And all went to be enrolled, every one into his own city.

4. And Joseph also went up from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth into Judea to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem: because he was of the house and family of David.

5. To be enrolled with Mary his espoused wife, who was with-child.

6. And it came to pass, that when they were there, her days were accomplished, that she should be delivered.

7. And she brought forth her first-born son*, and wrapped him up in swadling cloths, and laid him in a manger: because there was no room for them in the inn.

8. And there were in the same country shepherds watching, and keeping the night-watches over their flock.

9. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the brightness of God shone round about them; and they feared with a great fear.

10. And the angel said to them: "Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, that shall be to all people:

11. "For this day is born to you a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David.

12. "And this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the infant wrapt in swadling cloths, and laid in a manger."

13. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, and saying:

14. "Glory to God in the highest; and on earth peace to men of good will."

15. And it came to pass, that after the angels departed from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another: "Let us go over to Bethlehem, and let us see this word, that is come to pass, which the Lord hath shewed to us."

16. And they came with haste: and they found Mary and Joseph, and the infant lying in a manger.

17. And seeing, they understood of the word, that had been spoken to them concerning this child.

18. And all those, who heard, wondered—and at those things, which were told them by the shepherd.

19. But Mary kept all these words, pondering them in her heart.

20. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God, for all the things they had heard, and seen, as it was told unto them.

21. And after eight days were accomplished, that the child should be circumcised, his name was called Jesus, which was called by the angel, before he was conceived in the womb.

22. And after the days of her purification, according to the law of Moses, were accomplished; they carried him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord.

23. As it is written in the law of the Lord: "Every male opening the womb shall be called holy to the Lord."

24. And to offer a sacrifice, according as it is written in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtle doves or two young pigeons.

25. And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, named Simeon: and this man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Ghost was in him.

26. And he had received an answer from the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Christ of the Lord.

27. And he came by the spirit into the temple. And when his parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him according to the custom of the law;

28. He also took him into his arms, and blessed God, and said:

29. "Now thou dost dismiss thy servant, O Lord, according to thy word, in peace:

30. "Because my eyes have seen thy salvation,

31. "Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32. "A light to the revelation of the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel."

33. And his father and mother were wondering at these things, which were spoken concerning him.

34. And Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary his mother: "Behold, this child is set for the fall†, and for the resurrection of many in Israel, and for a sign, which shall be contradicted,

35. "And thy own soul a sword shall pierce, that out of many hearts thoughts may be revealed."

36. And there was a prophetess, called Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was far advanced in years, and had lived with her husband seven years from her virginity.

37. And she was a widow until fourscore and four years: who departed not from the temple, by fasting and prayer serving night and day.

38. Now she at the same hour coming in, gave praise to the Lord; and spake of him to all, who looked for the redemption of Israel.

39. And after they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city of Nazareth.

40. And the child grew, and waxed strong, full of wisdom: and the grace of God was in him.

41. And his parents went every year to Jerusalem, at the solemn day of the passover.

42. And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem, according to the custom of the feast.

43. And after they had fulfilled the days, when they returned, the child Jesus remained in Jerusalem: and his parents knew it not.

44. And thinking that he was in the company, they came a day's journey, and sought him among their kinsfolks and acquaintance.

45. And not finding him, they returned into Jerusalem, seeking him.

* Her first-born. The meaning is not that she had afterwards any other child: but it is a way of speech among the Hebrews, to call the first-born, who are the only children.

† For the fall. Not that God sent his Son for the fall of any man: but that many, by their own perverseness, in wilfully refusing to receive and obey him, would take occasion of falling.

46. And it came to pass, that after three days, they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, hearing them, and asking them questions.

47. And all, who heard him, were astonished at his wisdom, and his answers.

48. And seeing him, they wondered. And his mother said to him: "Son, why hast thou done so to us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing."

49. And he said to them: "How is it that ye sought me? Did ye not know, that I must be about the things that are my Father's?"

50. And they understood not the word, that he spoke unto them.

51. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and was subject to them. And his mother kept all these words in her heart.

52. And Jesus increased in wisdom, and age, and grace with God and men.

C H A P. III.

John's mission and preaching. Christ is baptized by him.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip his brother tetrarch of Iturea, and the country of Trachonitis, and Lyfankas tetrarch of Abilina,

1. Under the high priests Annas and Caiphas: the word of the Lord came to John, the son of Zachary, in the desert.

2. And he came into all the country about the Jordan, preaching the baptism of penance for the remission of sins;

3. As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet: "A voice of one crying in the wilderness: 'Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.'"

4. "Every valley shall be filled: and every mountain and hill shall be brought low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways plain:

5. "And all flesh shall see the salvation of God."

6. He said therefore to the multitudes, that came forth to be baptized by him: "Ye offspring of vipers, who hath shewed you to flee from the wrath to come?"

7. "Bring forth therefore fruitworthy of penance, and do not begin to say: 'We have Abraham for our father.' For I say to you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children to Abraham."

8. "For now the axe is laid to the root of the trees. Every tree therefore, that bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be cut down, and cast into the fire."

9. And the people asked him, saying: "What then shall we do?"

10. And he answering, said to them: "He, who hath two coats, let him give to him, who hath none: and he, who hath meat, let him do in like manner."

11. And the publicans also came to be baptized, and said to him: "Master, what shall we do?"

12. But he said to them: "Do nothing more than that, which is appointed you."

13. And the soldiers also asked him, saying: "And what shall we do?" And he said to them: "Do violence to no man: neither calumniate any man: and be content with your pay."

14. And as the people were of opinion, and all were thinking in their hearts of John, that perhaps he might be the Christ:

15. John answered, saying to them all: "I indeed baptize you with water: but there shall come one mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to loose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:

16. "Whose fan is in his hand; and he will purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his barn: but the chaff he will burn with unquenchable fire."

17. And many other things, exhorting, did he preach to the people.

18. But Herod the tetrarch, when he was reprovèd by him for Herodias, his brother's wife, and for all the evils, which Herod had done;

19. He added this also above all, and shut up John in prison.

20. Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, and Jesus also being baptized and praying, heaven was opened:

21. And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape as a dove upon him: and a voice came from heaven: "Thou art my beloved Son: In thee I am well pleased."

22. And Jesus himself was beginning about the age of thirty years; being (as it was supposed) the son of Joseph, who was of Heli*, who was of Mathat;

23. Who was of Levi, who was of Melchi, who was of Janne, who was of Joseph;

24. Who was of Mathathias, who was of Amos, who was of Nahum, who was of Heli, who was of Nagge;

25. Who was of Mahath, who was of Mathathias, who was of Semei, who was of Joseph, who was of Juda;

26. Who was of Joanna, who was of Reza, who was of Zorobabel, who was of Salathiel, who was of Neri;

27. Who was of Melchi, who was of Addi, who was of Cosan, who was of Elmadan, who was of Her;

28. Who was of Jesus, who was of Eliezer, who was of Jorim, who was of Mathat, who was of Levi;

29. Who was of Simeon, who was of Judas, who was of Joseph, who was of Jona, who was of Eliakim;

30. Who was of Melea, who was of Menna, who was of Mathatha, who was of Nathan, who was of David;

31. Who was of Jesse, who was of Obed, who was of Booz, who was of Salmon, who was of Naasson;

32. Who was of Aminadab, who was of Aram, who was of Esron, who was of Phares, who was of Judas;

33. Who was of Jacob, who was of Isaac, who was of Abraham, who was of Thare, who was of Nachor;

34. Who was of Sarug, who was of Ragau, who

* Heli was of Heli. St. Joseph, who by nature was the son of Jacob (St. Matt. i. 16.) in the account of the law was so of Heli. For Heli and Jacob were brothers, by the same manner: and Heli, who was the elder, dying without issue, Jacob, as the law directed, married his widow; in consequence of which marriage, his son Joseph was reputed in the law the son of Heli.

was of Phaleg, who was of Heber, who was of Sale ;
 36. Who was of Cainan, who was of Arphaxad, who was of Sem, who was of Noe, who was of Lamech ;
 37. Who was of Mathusale, who was of Henoch, who was of Jared, who was of Malaleel, who was of Cainan ;
 38. Who was of Henos, who was of Seth, who was of Adam, who was of God.

C H A P. IV.

Christ's fasting, and temptation. He is persecuted in Nazareth : his miracles in Capharnaum.

AND Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost, returned from the Jordan ; and was led by the spirit into the desert,

2. For the space of forty days ; and was tempted by the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days : and when they were ended, he was hungry.

3. And the devil said to him : " If thou be the Son of God, command this stone, that it be made bread."

4. And Jesus answered him : " It is written, that man liveth not by bread alone, but by every word of God."

5. And the devil led him into a high mountain, and shewed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time :

6. And he said to him : " To thee will I give all this power, and the glory of them ; for to me they are delivered ; and to whom I will, I give them."

7. " If thou therefore will adore before me, all shall be thine."

8. And Jesus answering, said to him : " It is written : ' Thou shalt adore the Lord thy God ; and him only shalt thou serve.'"

9. And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple : and he said to him : " If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence."

10. " For it is written, that ' he hath given his angels charge over thee, that they keep thee :

11. ' And that in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.'"

12. And Jesus answering, said to him : " It is said :
 ' Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.'"

13. And when all the temptation was ended, the devil departed from him for a time.

14. And Jesus returned in the power of the spirit into Galilee ; and the fame of him went out through the whole country.

15. And he taught in their synagogues, and was extolled by all.

16. And he came to Nazareth, where he was brought up : and he went into the synagogue according to his custom on the sabbath-day ; and he rose up to read :

17. And the book of Isaias the prophet was delivered unto him. And as he unfolded the book, he found the place where it was written :

18. " The spirit of the Lord is upon me : wherefore
 he hath anointed me, to preach the gospel to the poor ;
 he hath sent me, to heal the contrite of heart ;

19. " To preach deliverance to the captives, and sight to the blind ; to set at liberty those who are bruised ; to preach the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of reward."

20. And when he had folded the book, he restored it to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all in the synagogue were fixed on him.

21. And he began to say to them : " This day is fulfilled this scripture in your ears."

22. And all gave testimony to him : and they wondered at the words of grace, which proceeded from his mouth : and they said : " Is not this the son of Joseph ?"

23. And he said to them : " Doubtless ye will say to me this similitude : ' Physician, heal thyself : as great things as we have heard done in Capharnaum, do thou here in thy own country.'"

24. And he said : " Amen I say to you, that no prophet is accepted in his own country."

25. " In truth I say to you, there were many widows in the days of Elias in Israel, when heaven was shut up three years and six months—when there was great famine throughout all the land :

26. " And to none of them was Elias sent, but to a widow at Sarepta of Sidon."

27. " And there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet : and none of them was cleansed, but Naaman the Syrian."

28. And all they in the synagogue, hearing these things, were filled with anger.

29. And they rose up, and thrust him out of the city : and they brought him to the brow of the hill, whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong.

30. But he passing through the midst of them, went his way.

31. And he went down into Capharnaum, a city of Galilee ; and there he taught them on the sabbath-day.

32. And they were astonished at his doctrine ; for his word was with power.

33. And in the synagogue there was a man, who had an unclean devil ; and he cried out with a loud voice,

34. Saying : " Let us alone : what have we to do with thee, Jesus of Nazareth ? art thou come to destroy us ? I know thee, who thou art, the Holy one of God."

35. And Jesus rebuked him, saying : " Hold thy peace, and go out of him." And when the devil had thrown him into the midst, he went out of him, and hurt him not at all.

36. And there came fear upon all : and they talked among themselves, saying : " What word is this ! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they go out."

37. And the fame of him was published in every place of the country.

38. And Jesus rising up out of the synagogue, went into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever : and they besought him for her.

39. And standing over her, he commanded the fever ; and it left her. And immediately rising, she ministered to them.

40. And when the sun was down, all those, who had any sick with divers diseases, brought them to him. But he laying his hands on every one of them, healed them.

41. And devils went out of many, crying out, and saying: "Thou art the Son of God." And he rebuking them, suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

42. And when it was day, going out he went into a desert place: and the multitudes sought him, and came to him: and they detained him, that he should not depart from them.

43. And he said to them: "I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent."

44. And he was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

C H A P. V.

The miraculous draught of fishes. The cure of the leper and of the paralytic. The call of Matthew.

AND it came to pass, that when the multitudes pressed upon him, to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Genesareth.

2. And he saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3. And going up into one of the ships, which was Simon's, he desired him to thrust out a little from the land. And sitting down, he taught the multitudes out of the ship.

4. Now when he had ceased to speak, he said to Simon: "Launch out into the deep; and let down your nets for a draught."

5. And Simon answering, said to him: "Master, we have laboured all the night, and have taken nothing: but at thy word I will let down the net."

6. And when they had done this, they enclosed a very great multitude of fishes: and their net was breaking:

7. And they beckoned to their partners, who were in the other ship, that they should come, and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they were almost sinking.

8. Which when Simon Peter saw, he fell down at Jesus's knees, saying: "Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord."

9. For he was wholly astonished, and all, who were with him, at the draught of the fishes, which they had taken:

10. And so were also James and John the sons of Zebedee, who were Simon's partners. And Jesus saith to Simon: "Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt be taking men."

11. And when they had brought their ships to land, leaving all things, they followed him.

12. And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosy, who seeing Jesus, and falling on his face, besought him, saying: "Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean."

13. And stretching forth his hand, he touched him, saying: "I will, be thou cleansed." And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14. And he charged him to tell no man: but, "Go; VOL. II.

shew thyself to the priest; and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony to them."

15. But the fame of him went abroad the more: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities.

16. And he retired into the desert, and prayed.

17. And it came to pass on a certain day, that he sat teaching. And there were pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, who had come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was to heal them.

18. And behold, men brought in a bed a man, who had the palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19. And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went up on the roof, and let him down through the tiles with his bed, into the midst, before Jesus.

20. And when he saw their faith, he said: "Man, thy sins are forgiven thee."

21. And the scribes and the pharisees began to think, saying: "Who is this, who speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?"

22. And when Jesus knew their thoughts, answering he said to them: "What is it ye think in your hearts?"

23. "Which is it easier to say: 'Thy sins are forgiven thee:' or to say: 'Arise, and walk?'"

24. "But that ye may know, that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he said to the sick of the palsy) I say to thee: 'Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thy house.'"

25. And immediately rising up before them, he took up the bed on which he lay: and he went away into his own house, glorifying God.

26. And all were astonished; and they glorified God. And they were filled with fear, saying: "We have seen wonderful things to-day."

27. And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican named Levi, sitting at the custom-house, and he saith to him: "Follow me."

28. And leaving all things, he rose up and followed him.

29. And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans, and of others, who were at table with them.

30. But the pharisees and scribes murmured, saying to his disciples: "Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?"

31. And Jesus answering, said to them: "Those, who are whole, need not the physician: but those, who are sick.

32. "I came not to call the just, but sinners to penance."

33. And they said to him: "Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and the disciples of the pharisees in like manner—but thine eat and drink?"

34. And he said to them: "Can ye make the children of the bridegroom fast, while the bridegroom is with them?"

35. "But the days will come, when the bridegroom
4 U

(shall be taken a from them : then shall they fast in those days."

36. And he sh. also a similitude to them, that no man putteth a piece from a new garment upon an old garment : otherwise he both rendeth the new, and the place taken from the new agreeth not with the old.

37. "And no man putteth new wine into old bottles : otherwise the new wine will burst the bottles, and it will be spilled ; and the bottles will be lost.

38. "But new wine must be put into new bottles : and both are preferred."

39. "And no man drinking old, hath presently a mind to new : for he saith, 'The old is better.'"

C H A P. VI.

Christ excuses his disciples : he cures upon the sabbath-day ; chooses the twelve ; and makes a sermon to them.

AND it came to pass, on the second first sabbath*, that he went through the corn-fields ; his disciples plucked ears of corn ; and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2. And some of the pharisees said to them : "Why do ye that, which is not lawful on the sabbath day?"

3. And Jesus answering them, said : "Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was hungry, and they that were with him—

4. "How he went into the house of God, and took and eat the bread of proposition, and gave to them that were with him, which is not lawful to eat, but only for the priests?"

5. And he said to them : "The Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath."

6. And it came to pass also, on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught. And there was a man, whose right hand was withered.

7. And the scribes and pharisees watched, to see if he would heal on the sabbath ; that they might find an accusation against him.

8. But he knew their thoughts ; and said to the man, who had the withered hand : "Arise ; and stand forth in the midst." And he arose, and stood forth.

9. Then Jesus said to them : "I ask you, if it be lawful on the sabbath days to do good or to do evil—to save life or to destroy?"

10. And looking round about on them all, he said to the man : "Stretch forth thy hand." And he stretched it forth : and his hand was restored.

11. And they were filled with madness : and they talked one with another, what they might do with Jesus.

12. And it came to pass, in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray : and he passed the whole night in the prayer of God.

13. And when it was day, he called to him his disciples, and he chose twelve of them (whom also he named apostles :)

14. Simon, whom he surnamed Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15. Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon, who is called Zelotes,

16. And Jude the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, who was the traitor.

17. And coming down with them, he stood in an open plain, and the company of his disciples, and a very great multitude of people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and the sea-coast both of Tyre and Sidon,

18. Who had come to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases. And those who were troubled with unclean spirits, were cured.

19. And all the multitude sought to touch him ; for virtue went out from him, and healed all.

20. And he lifting up his eyes on his disciples, said : "Blessed are ye poor : for your's is the kingdom of God."

21. "Blessed are ye, who hunger now : for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye, who weep now : for ye shall laugh.

22. "Blessed shall ye be, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23. "Be glad in that day and rejoice : for behold, your reward is great in heaven. For according to these things did their fathers to the prophets.

24. "But woe to you, who are rich : for ye have your consolation.

25. "Woe to you, who are filled : for ye shall hunger. Woe to you, who laugh now : for ye shall mourn and weep.

26. "Woe to you, when men shall bless you : for according to these things did their fathers to the false prophets.

27. "But I say to you, who hear : Love your enemies ; do good to those, who hate you.

28. "Bless those, who curse you ; and pray for those, who calumniate you.

29. "And to him, who striketh thee on the cheek, offer also the other. And him, who taketh away from thee thy cloak, hinder not to take thy coat also.

30. "Give to every one, who asketh thee ; and of him, who taketh away thy goods, ask them not again.

31. "And as ye would, that men should do to you, do ye also to them in like manner.

32. "And if ye love those, who love you, what thanks have you ? for sinners also love those, who love them.

33. "And if ye do good to those, who do good to you ; what thanks have ye ? for sinners also do this.

34. "And if ye lend to those, of whom ye hope to receive ; what thanks have ye ? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much.

35. "But love ye your enemies : do good, and lend, hoping for nothing thereby : and your reward shall be great : and ye shall be the sons of the Most High ; for he is kind to the unthankful, and to the evil.

36. "Be ye therefore merciful, as your father also is merciful.

37. "Judge not, and ye shall not be judged : condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned. Forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.

38. "Give, and it shall be given to you : good measure, and pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall they give into your bosom. For with the same measure that you shall mete withal, it shall be measured to you again."

39. And he spake also to them a similitude: "Can the blind lead the blind? do they not both fall into the ditch?"

40. "The disciple is not above his master: but every one shall be perfect, if he be as his master."

41. "And why seeest thou the mote in thy brother's eye: but the beam that is in thy own eye, thou considerest not?"

42. "Or how canst thou say to thy brother: 'Brother, let me pull the mote out of thy eye: when thou thyself seest not the beam in thy own eye? Then hypocrite, cast first the beam out of thy own eye: and then shalt thou see clearly to take out the mote from thy brother's eye.'

43. "For there is no good tree, that bringeth forth evil fruit—nor an evil tree, that bringeth forth good fruit."

44. "For every tree is known by its fruit. For men do not gather figs from thorns: nor from a bramble-bush do they gather grapes."

45. "A good man, out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that, which is good: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth that, which is evil. For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh."

46. "And why call ye me 'Lord, Lord,' and do not the things, which I say?"

47. "Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my words, and doth them—I will shew you to whom he is like."

48. "He is like to a man building a house, who digged deep, and laid the foundation upon a rock. And when a flood came, the stream beat vehemently upon that house: and it could not shake it: for it was founded on a rock."

49. "But he, who heareth, and doth not, is like to a man building his house upon the earth without a foundation; against which the stream beat vehemently; and immediately it fell: and the ruin of that house was great."

C H A P. VII.

Christ heals the centurion's servant; raises the widow's son to life; answers the messengers sent by John; and absolves the penitent sinner.

AND when he had finished all his words in the hearing of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2. And the servant of a certain centurion, who was dear to him, was sick, and ready to die.

3. And when he had heard of Jesus, he sent to him the ancients of the Jews, desiring him to come, and heal his servant.

4. And when they came to Jesus, they besought him earnestly, saying to him: "He is worthy that thou shouldst do this for him."

5. "For he loveth our nation; and he hath built us a synagogue."

6. And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent his friends to him, saying: "Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy, that thou shouldst enter under my roof."

7. "Wherefore neither did I think myself worthy to come to thee: but say the word, and my servant shall be healed."

8. "For I also am a man subject to authority, having under me soldiers: and I say to one: 'Go;' and he goeth; and to another: 'Come;' and he cometh; and to my servant: 'Do this;' and he doth it."

9. Which when Jesus heard, he marvelled: and turning about to the multitude, that followed him, he said: "Amen I say to you: I have not found so great faith even in Israel."

10. And those, who were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole, who had been sick.

11. And it came to pass, after this, that he went into a city called Naim: and there went with him his disciples, and a great multitude.

12. And when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, a dead man was carried out, the only son of his mother: and she was a widow: and much people of the city were with her.

13. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said to her: "Weep not."

14. And he came near, and touched the bier. And those, who carried it, stood still. And he said: "Young man, I say to thee, arise."

15. And he, who was dead, sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

16. And there came a fear on them all: and they glorified God, saying: "A great prophet is risen up among us: and God hath visited his people."

17. And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the country round about.

18. And John's disciples told him of all these things.

19. And John called to him two of his disciples, and sent them to Jesus, saying: "Art thou he, who is to come; or look we for another?"

20. And when the men were come to him, they said: "John the baptist hath sent us to thee, saying: 'Art thou he, who is to come; or look we for another?'"

21. (And in that same hour he cured many of their diseases, and hurts, and evil spirits; and to many who were blind, he gave sight.)

22. And answering, he said to them: "Go, and relate to John what ye have heard and seen: The blind see; the lame walk; the lepers are made clean; the deaf hear; the dead rise again; to the poor the gospel is preached:

23. "And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be scandalized in me."

24. And when the messengers of John had departed, he began to speak to the multitudes concerning John: "What went ye out into the desert to see? a reed shaken with the wind?"

25. "But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft garments? Behold, those, who are in costly apparel, and live delicately, are in the houses of kings."

26. "But what went ye out to see? a prophet?"

Yea, I say to you, and more than a prophet.

27. "This is he, of whom it is written: 'Behold, I send my angel before thy face, who shall prepare thy way before thee.'

28. "For I say to you: Amongst those, who are born of women, there is not a greater prophet than John the baptist. But he, who is lesser in the kingdom of God, is greater than he."

29. And all the people hearing, and the publicans justified God*, being baptised with the baptism of John.

30. But the pharisees and the lawyers despised the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptised by him.

31. And the Lord said: "Whereunto then shal I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?"

32. "They are like to children sitting in the market place, and speaking one to another, and saying: 'We have piped to you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned, and ye have not wept.'

33. "For John the baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say: 'He hath a devil.'

34. "The Son of man is come eating and drinking: and ye say: 'Behold a man, who is a glutton, and a drinker of wine—and a friend of publicans and sinners.'

35. "And wisdom is justified by all her children."

36. And one of the pharisees desired him to eat with him. And he went into the house of the pharisee, and sat down to meat.

37. And behold, a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew, that he sat at meat in the pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment:

38. And standing behind at his feet, she began to wash his feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39. And the pharisee, who had invited him, seeing it, spoke within himself, saying: "This man, if he were a prophet, would know surely who and what kind of woman this is, who toucheth him; for she is a sinner."

40. And Jesus answering, said to him: "Simon, I have something to say to thee." But he said: "Master, say it."

41. "A certain creditor had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty.

42. "And whereas they had not wherewith to pay, he forgave them both. Which therefore of the two loveth him most?"

43. Simon answering, said: "I suppose, that he, to whom he forgave most." And he said to him: "Thou hast judged rightly."

44. And turning to the woman, he said to Simon: "Dost thou see this woman? I entered into thy house; thou gavest me no water for my feet; but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with her hair.

45. "Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since she came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

46. "My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she with ointment hath anointed my feet.

47. "Wherefore I say to thee: Many sins are forgiven her; for she hath loved much. But to whom less is forgiven, he loveth less."

48. And he said to her: "Thy sins are forgiven thee."

49. And the twelve, who sat at meat with him, began to say within themselves: "Who is this, who forgiveth sins also?"

50. And he said to the woman: "Thy faith hath made thee safe; go in peace."

CHAP. VIII.

The parable of the seed. Christ stills the storm at sea; casts out the legion; heals the issue of blood; and raises the dead maid to life.

AND it came to pass afterwards, that he travelled through the cities and towns, preaching and publishing the gospel of the kingdom of God—and the twelve with him:

2. And certain women, who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary, called Magdalene, out of whom seven devils had gone forth,

3. And Joanna the wife of Chusa, Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, who ministered unto him of their substance.

4. And when a very great multitude was gathered together, and hastened out of the cities to him, he spoke by a similitude.

5. "A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side: and it was trodden down; and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6. "And some fell upon a rock: and as soon as it had sprung up, it withered away, because it had no moisture.

7. "And some fell among thorns: and the thorns growing up with it, choked it.

8. "And some fell upon good ground; and sprung up, and yielded fruit a hundred fold." Saying these things he cried out: "He, who hath ears to hear, let him hear."

9. And his disciples asked him what his parable might be.

10. To whom he said: "To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to the rest in parables: that seeing they may not see*, and hearing they may not understand.

11. "Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

12. "And those, by the way side, are those, who hear; then the devil cometh, and taketh the word out of their heart, lest believing they should be saved.

13. "Now those upon the rock, are those, who when they hear, receive the word with joy: and these have no roots; who believe for a while, and in time of temptation fall away.

14. "And that, which fell among thorns, is those, who have heard, and going their way, are choked with the cares, and riches, and pleasures of this life, and yield no fruit.

15. "But that on the good ground, is those, who in a good and perfect heart, hearing the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit in patience.

16. "Now no man, who lighteth a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it upon a candlestick, that those, who come in, may see the light.

17. "For there is not any thing secret, that shall not be made manifest; nor hidden, that shall not be known, and come abroad.

18. "Take heed therefore, how ye hear. For whatsoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, that also, which he thinketh he hath, shall be taken away from him."

19. And his mother and brethren came to him: and they could not come at him for the crowd.

20. And it was told him: "Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee."

21. And he answered, and said to them: "My mother and my brethren are those, who hear the word of God, and do it."

22. And it came to pass, on a certain day, that he went into a little ship with his disciples: and he said to them: "Let us go over to the other side of the lake." And they launched forth.

23. And when they were sailing, he slept: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake, and they were filled, and were in danger.

24. And they came and awaked him, saying: "Master, we perish." But he arising, rebuked the wind, and the raging of the water; and it ceased, and there was a calm.

25. And he said to them: "Where is your faith?" And they being afraid, wondered, saying one to another: "Who is this, (think you) that he commandeth both the winds and the sea, and they obey him?"

26. And they sailed to the country of the Gerasens, which is over-against Galilee.

27. And when he had come forth to the land, there met him a certain man, who had a devil now a very long time: and he wore no clothes; neither did he abide in a house, but in the tombs.

28. And when he saw Jesus, he fell down before him; and crying out with a loud voice, he said: "What have I to do with thee, Jesus, Son of the most high God? I beseech thee, do not torment me."

29. For he commanded the unclean spirit to go out of the man. For many times it seized him: and he was bound with chains, and kept in fetters: and he broke the bonds, and was driven by the devil into the deserts.

30. And Jesus asked him, saying: "What is thy name?" But he said: "Legion:" because many devils had entered into him.

31. And they besought him, that he would not command them to go into the deep.

32. And there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain; and they besought him, that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.

33. The devils therefore went out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were stifled.

34. Which when they, that fed them, saw done, they fled away, and told it in the city and in the villages.

35. And they went out to see what was done: and they came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils had departed, sitting at his feet, clothed, and of a sound mind: and they were afraid.

36. And those also, who had seen it, told them, how he had been healed from the legion.

37. And all the multitude of the country of the Gerasens besought him to depart from them: for they were taken with great fear. And he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38. Now the man, out of whom the devils had departed, besought him, that he might be with him. But Jesus sent him away, saying:

39. "Return to thy house, and tell how great things God hath done to thee." And he went through the whole city, publishing, how great things Jesus had done to him.

40. And it came to pass, that when Jesus had returned, the multitude received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41. And behold, there came a man, whose name was Jairus; and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at the feet of Jesus, beseeching him, that he would come into his house.

42. For he had an only daughter almost twelve years old; and she was dying. And it happened, as he went, that he was thronged by the multitudes.

43. And there was a certain woman having an issue of blood twelve years, who had bestowed all her substance on physicians, and could not be healed by any:

44. She came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stopped.

45. And Jesus said: "Who is it, that touched me?" And when all denied, Peter and those who were with him, said: "Master, the multitudes throng thee, and press thee: and dost thou say: 'Who touched me?'"

46. And Jesus said: "Some body hath touched me: for I know that virtue is gone out from me."

47. And the woman, seeing that she was not hidden, came trembling, and fell down before his feet; and declared before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, and how she was immediately healed.

48. But he said to her: "Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go thy way in peace."

49. While he was yet speaking, there cometh one to the ruler of the synagogue, saying to him: "Thy daughter is dead; trouble him not."

50. But Jesus hearing this word, answered the father of the maid: "Fear not; believe only, and she shall be safe."

51. And when he had come to the house, he suffered no man to go with him, but Peter, and James, and John, and the father and mother of the maiden.

52. And all wept and mourned for her. But he said: "Weep not; the maid is not dead, but sleepeth."

53. And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54. But he taking her by the hand, cried out, saying: "Maid, arise."

55. And her spirit returned: and she rose immediately. And he bid them give her to eat.

56. And her parents were astonished : but he charged them to tell no man what was done

C H A P. IX.

Christ sends forth his apostles ; feeds 5000 with five loaves ; is transfigured ; and casts out a devil.

THEN calling together the twelve apostles, he gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2. And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3. And he said to them : "Take nothing for your journey—neither staff—nor scrip—~~nor~~ bread—nor money ; neither have two coats.

4. "And whatsoever house ye shall enter into, abide there, and depart not from thence.

5. "And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off even the dust of your feet for a testimony against them."

6. And going out they went about through the towns, preaching the gospel and healing every where.

7. Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him : and he was in a doubt, because it was said

8. By some, that John had risen from the dead ; by some others, that Elias had appeared ; and by others, that one of the ancient prophets had risen again.

9. And Herod said : "John I have beheaded : but who is this, of whom I hear such things?" And he sought to see him.

10. And the apostles, when they had returned, told him all they had done : and he took them, and went aside into a desert place apart, which belongeth to Bethsaida.

11. Which when the people knew, they followed him : and he received them, and spoke to them of the kingdom of God, and healed those, who had need of healing.

12. Now the day began to decline. And the twelve came and said to him : "Send away the multitude, that going into the towns and villages round about, they may lodge and get victuals ; for we are here in a desert place."

13. But he said to them : "Give ye them to eat." And they said : "We have no more than five loaves and two fishes : unless we should go and buy food for all this multitude."

14. Now there were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples : "Make them sit down by fifties in a company."

15. And they did so ; and made them all sit down.

16. And taking the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed them : and he broke, and distributed to his disciples, to set before the multitude.

17. And they did all eat, and were filled. And there were taken up of fragments, that remained to them, twelve baskets.

18. And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples also were with him ; and he asked them, saying : "Whom do the people say that I am?"

19. But they answered, and said : "John the baptist ; but some say Elias ; and others say, that one of the former prophets is risen again."

20. And he said to them : "But whom do ye say that I am?" So Peter answering, said : "The Christ of God."

21. But he strictly charging them, commanded, they should tell this to no man,

22. Saying : "The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the ancients, and chief priests, and scribes ; and be killed, and rise again the third day."

23. And he said to all : "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24. "For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it : for he, who shall lose his life for my sake, shall save it.

25. "For what doth it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, and cast away himself?

26. "For whosoever shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his glory, and that of his Father, and of the holy angels.

27. "But I tell you of a truth : There are some standing here, who shall not taste death, till they see the kingdom of God."

28. And it came to pass, about eight days after these words, that he took Peter, and James, and John, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29. And while he prayed, the appearance of his countenance was altered ; and his raiment became white and glittering.

30. And behold, two men were talking with him. And they were Moses and Elias,

31. Appearing in glory : and they spoke of his decease, that he should accomplish in Jerusalem.

32. But Peter and those who were with him, were heavy with sleep. And waking, they saw his glory, and the two men, who stood with him.

33. And it came to pass, that as they were departing from him, Peter said to Jesus : "Master, it is good for us to be here : and let us make three tabernacles—one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias : not knowing what he said.

34. And as he spoke these things, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them : and they were afraid, when they entered into the cloud.

35. And a voice came out of the cloud, saying : "This is my beloved Son ; hear him."

36. And while the voice was uttered, Jesus was found alone. And they held their peace ; and told no man in those days any of these things, which they had seen.

37. And it came to pass, that on the day following, when they came down from the mountain, there met him a great multitude.

38. And behold, a man among the crowd cried out, saying : "Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son : for he is my only one.

39. "And lo, a spirit seizeth him ; and he suddenly crieth out ; and he throweth him down, and teareth him so that he foameth, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him :

40. "And I desired thy disciples to cast him out ; and they could not."

41. And Jesus answering said: "O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither."

42. And as he was coming to him, the devil threw him down and tore him.

43. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and cured the boy, and restored him to his father.

44. And all were astonished at the mighty power of God: but while they all wondered at all the things he did, he said to his disciples: "Lay ye up in your hearts these words: for it shall come to pass, that the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men."

45. But they understood not this word: and it was hidden from them, so that they perceived it not. And they were afraid to ask him concerning this word.

46. And there entered a thought into them, which of them should be greater.

47. But Jesus seeing the thoughts of their hearts, took a child and set him by him;

48. And said to them: "Whosoever shall receive this child in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him, who sent me. For he, who is the least among you all, he is the greatest."

49. And John answering, said: "Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us."

50. And Jesus said to him: "Forbid him not: for he, who is not against you, is for you."

51. And it came to pass, when the days of his assumption were accomplishing, that he steadfastly set his face to Jerusalem.

52. And he sent messengers before his face; and going they entered into a city of the Samaritans, to prepare for him.

53. And they received him not, because his face was of one going to Jerusalem.

54. And when his disciples James and John had seen this, they said: "Lord, wilt thou, that we command fire to come down from heaven and consume them?"

55. And turning, he rebuked them, saying: "Ye know not of what spirit ye are."

56. "The Son of man came not to destroy souls, but to save." And they went into another town.

57. And it came to pass, as they walked in the way, that a certain man said to him: "I will follow thee, whithersoever thou goest."

58. Jesus said to him: "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head."

59. But he said to another: "Follow me." And he said: "Lord, suffer me first to go, and to bury my father."

60. And Jesus said to him: "Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou, and preach the kingdom of God."

61. And another said: "I will follow thee, Lord; but let me first take my leave of those, who are at my house."

62. Jesus said to him: "No man putting his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God."

*Christ sends forth, and instructs his seventy-two disciples.
The good Samaritan.*

AN D after these things, the Lord appointed also other seventy-two: and he sent them two and two before his face, into every city and place, whither he himself was to come.

2. And he said to them: "The harvest indeed is great; but the labourers are few. Pray ye therefore the lord of the harvest, that he send labourers into his harvest."

3. "Go: behold, I send you as lambs among wolves."

4. "Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes; and salute no man by the way."

5. "Into whatsoever house ye enter, first say: 'Peace be to this house:'

6. "And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon him: but if not, it shall return to you."

7. "And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they have: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Remove not from house to house."

8. "And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you;

9. "And heal the sick, who are therein, and say to them: 'The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.'"

10. "But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, going forth into the streets thereof, say:

11. "Even the very dust of your city, that cleaveth to us, we wipe off against you. Yet know this, that the kingdom of God is at hand."

12. "I say to you, it shall be more tolerable at that day for Sodom, than for that city."

13. "Wo to thee, Corozain—wo to thee, Bethsaida: for if in Tyre and Sidon had been wrought the mighty works that have been wrought in you, they would have done penance long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes."

14. "But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you."

15. "And thou, Capharnaum, which art exalted unto heaven: thou shalt be thrust down to hell."

16. "He, who heareth you, heareth me: and he, who despiseth you, despiseth me. And he, who despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me."

17. And the seventy-two returned with joy, saying: "Lord, the devils also are subject to us in thy name."

18. And he said to them: "I saw Satan as lightning falling from heaven."

19. "Behold, I have given you power to tread upon serpents, and scorpions, and upon all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall hurt you."

20. "But yet rejoice not in this, that spirits are subject unto you: but rejoice in this, that your names are written in heaven."

21. In that same hour he rejoiced in the Holy Ghost, and said: "I give thanks to thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hidden these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them to little ones. Yes, Father: because so it hath pleased thee."

22. "All things are delivered to me by my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, but the Father—and who the Father is, but the Son, and he, to whom the Son will reveal him."

23. And turning to his disciples, he said: "Blessed are the eyes, that see the things which ye see."

24. "For I say to you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see the things, which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear the things, that ye hear, and have not heard them."

25. And behold, a certain lawyer stood up tempting him, and saying: "Master, what must I do, to possess eternal life?"

26. But he said to him: "What is written in the law? how readest thou?"

27. He answering, said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself."

28. And he said to him: "Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live."

29. But he, willing to justify himself, said to Jesus: "And who is my neighbour?"

30. And Jesus answering, said: "A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among robbers, who also stripped him, and having wounded him, went away, leaving him half dead."

31. "And it happened, that a certain priest went down the same way: and seeing him, he passed by."

32. "In like manner also a levite, when he was near the place, and saw him, passed by."

33. "But a certain Samaritan being on his journey, came near him; and seeing him, was moved with compassion."

34. "And going up to him, bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine: and setting him upon his own beast, brought him to an inn, and took care of him."

35. "And the next day he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said: 'Take care of him; and whatsoever thou shalt spend over and above, I at my return will repay thee.'

36. "Which of these three in thy opinion was neighbour to him, who fell among the robbers?"

37. But he said: "He who shewed mercy to him." And Jesus said to him: "Go, and do thou in like manner."

38. Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain town; and a certain woman, named Martha, received him into her house:

39. And she had a sister called Mary, who sat also at the Lord's feet, and heard his word.

40. But Martha was busy about much serving: and she stood, and said: "Lord, hast thou no care, that my sister hath left me alone to serve? speak to her therefore, that she help me."

41. And the Lord answering, said to her: "Martha, Martha, thou art careful, and art troubled about many things."

42. "But one thing is necessary. Mary hath chosen the best part, which shall not be taken away from her."

C H A P. XI.

He teaches his disciples to pray; casts out a dumb devil; confutes the pharisees; and pronounces woes against them for their hypocrisy.

AND it came to pass, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said to him: "Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples."

2. And he said to them: "When ye pray, say: 'Father, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come;'

3. 'Give us this day our daily bread.'

4. 'And forgive us our sins: for we also forgive every one, who is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation.'

5. And he said to them: "Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go to him at midnight, and shall say to him: 'Friend, lend me three loaves;'

6. 'For a friend of mine is come off his journey to me, and I have nothing to set before him.'

7. "And he from within should answer and say: 'Trouble me not: the door is now shut: and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and give thee.'

8. "Yet if he shall continue knocking, I say unto you, although he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend; yet because of his importunity, he will rise, and give him as many as he needeth."

9. "And I say to you, 'Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall find: knock, and it shall be opened to you.'

10. "For every one who asketh, receiveth: and to him, who seeketh, findeth: and to him, who knocketh, shall be opened."

11. "And which of you, if he ask his father an egg, will he give him a stone? or a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?"

12. "Or if he shall ask an egg, will he reach him a scorpion?"

13. "If you then being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father from heaven give the good spirit to those, who ask him?"

14. And he was casting out a devil, and the devil was dumb; and when he had cast out the devil, the dumb spoke: and the multitude admired.

15. But some of them said: "He casteth out devils by Beelzebub the prince of devils."

16. And others tempting, asked of him a sign from heaven.

17. But he seeing their thoughts, said to them: "Every kingdom divided against itself, shall be brought to desolation; and house upon house shall fall."

18. "And if satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say, 'We cast out devils by Beelzebub I cast out devils.'

19. "Now if I cast out devils by Beelzebub, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore shall he be your judges."

20. "But if I by the finger of God cast out devils, doubtless the kingdom of God is come upon you."

21. "When a strong man armed keepeth his castle, those things, which he possesseth, are in peace."

22. "But if a stronger than he come upon him, and overcome him, he will take away all his armour, where in he trusted, and will distribute his spoils."

23. "He, who is not with me, is against me: he, who gathereth not with me, scattereth."

24. "When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through places without water, seeking rest: and not finding, he saith 'I will return into my house, whence I came out.'

25. "And when he has come, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26. "Then he goeth and taketh with him seven other spirits, more wicked than himself; and entering in, they dwell there. And the last state of that man becometh worse than the first."

27. And it came to pass, as he spake these things, that a certain woman from the crowd lifting up her voice said to him: "Blessed is the womb that bore thee, and the paps that gave thee suck."

28. But he said: "Yea rather, blessed are those who hear the word of God, and keep it."

29. And when the people were gathered together, he began to say: "This generation is a wicked generation: they ask a sign; and a sign shall not be given them, but the sign of Jonas the prophet:

30. "For as Jonas was a sign to the Ninivites, so shall the Son of man also be to this generation.

31. "The queen of the south shall rise in the judgment with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: because she came from the ends of the earth, to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, more than Solomon here.

32. "The men of Ninive shall rise in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it; because they did penance at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, more than Jonas here.

33. "No man lighteth a candle, and putteth it in a hidden place, nor under a bushel—but upon a candlestick, that those, who come in, may see the light.

34. "The light of thy body, is thy eye. If thy eye be single, thy whole body will be lightsome: but if it be evil, thy body also will be darksome.

35. "Take heed therefore, that the light, which is in thee, be not darkness.

36. "If then thy whole body be lightsome, having no part of darkness; the whole shall be lightsome, and as a bright lamp shall enlighten thee."

37. And as he was speaking, a certain pharisee prayed him to dine with him. And he went in, and sat down to eat.

38. And the pharisee began to say, thinking within himself, why he was not washed before dinner.

39. And the Lord said to him: "Now do ye pharisees make clean the outside of the cup, and of the platter: but your inside is full of rapine and iniquity.

40. "Foolish men, did not he, who made that, which is without, make also that, which is within?

41. "But yet that, which remaineth, give alms; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

42. "But woe to you pharisees; because ye tithe mint, and rue, and every herb, and pass over judgment and the charity of God. Now these things ye ought to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43. "Woe to you, pharisees; because ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and salutations in the market-place.

44. "Woe to you; because ye are as sepulchres, that appear not, and men, who walk over them, are not aware."

45. Then one of the lawyers answering, said to him: "Master, in saying these things, thou reproachest us also."

46. And he said: "Woe to you, lawyers * also: because ye load men with burdens which they cannot bear; and ye yourselves touch not the packs with one of your fingers.

47. "Woe to you, who build † the monuments of the prophets: and your fathers killed them.

48. "Truly ye bear witness, that ye consent to the doings of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49. "Therefore also the wisdom of God said: 'I will send to them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute:

50. 'That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation.

51. 'From the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, who was slain between the altar and the temple.' Yea I say to you, it shall be required of this generation.

52. "Woe to you, lawyers; for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye yourselves have not entered in; and those, who were entering in, ye have hindered."

53. And as he was saying these things to them, the pharisees and the lawyers began vehemently to urge him, and to oppress his mouth about many things,

54. Lying in wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

C H A P. XII.

Christ warns us against hypocrisy, the fear of the world, and covetousness; and admonishes all to watch.

AND when great multitudes stood about him, so that they trode one upon another, he began to say to his disciples: "Beware ye of the leaven of the pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

2. "For there is nothing covered, which shall not be revealed; nor hidden, which shall not be known.

3. "For whatsoever things ye have spoken in darkness, shall be published in the light: and that, which ye have spoken in the ear in the chambers, shall be proclaimed on the house-tops.

4. "And I say to you, my friends, be not afraid of those, who kill the body, and after that, have no more that they can do.

5. "But I will shew you whom ye shall fear: fear ye him, who after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell. Yea I say to you, fear him.

6. "Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and not one of them is forgotten before God.

7. "But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8. "And I say to you: whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God.

* Woe to you, lawyers. He speaks of the doctors of the law of Moses, commonly called the scribes.

† Woe to you, who build, &c. Not that the building of the monuments of the prophets was in itself blameworthy—but only the intention of these unhappy men; who made use of this outward shew of religion and piety, as a mean to carry on their wicked designs against the Prince of prophets.

9. "But he, who shall deny me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10. "And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but to him, who shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

11. "And when they shall bring you into the synagogues, and to magistrates, and powers, be not solicitous how, or what ye shall answer; or what ye shall say.

12. "For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye must say."

13. And one of the multitude said to him: "Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me."

14. But he said to him: "Man, who hath made me a judge or a divider over you?"

15. And he said to them: "Take heed, and beware of all covetousness: for a man's life doth not consist in the abundance of things which he possesseth."

16. And he spoke a similitude to them, saying: "The land of a certain rich man brought forth plenty of fruits.

17. "And he thought within himself, saying: 'What shall I do, because I have not where to lay up together my fruits?'

18. "And he said: 'This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and will build greater: and into them will I gather all things, which are grown to me, and my goods.

19. "And I will say to my soul: 'Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years: take thy rest, eat, drink, make good cheer.'

20. "But God said to him: 'Thou fool, this night do they require thy soul of thee: and whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?'

21. "So is he, who layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich towards God."

22. And he said to his disciples: "Therefore I say to you, be not solicitous for your life, what ye shall eat; nor for your body, what ye shall put on.

23. "The life is more than the meat: and the body is more than the raiment.

24. "Consider the ravens; for they do not sow, nor do they reap; neither have they store-house, nor barn: and God feedeth them. How much are ye more valuable than they?

25. "And which of you by thinking can add to his stature one cubit?

26. "If then ye be not able to do even the least thing, why are ye solicitous for the rest?

27. "Consider the lilies, how they grow: they labour not, neither do they spin. But I say to you, not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of these.

28. "Now if God clothe in this manner the grass, that is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more you, O ye of little faith?

29. "And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink: and be not lifted up on high.

30. "For all these things do the nations of the world seek after. But your Father knoweth, that ye have need of these things.

31. "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his justice: and all these things shall be added unto you.

32. "Fear not, little flock; for it hath pleased your Father to give you a kingdom.

33. "Sell what ye possess, and give alms. Make to yourselves bags, which grow not old—a treasure in heaven, which faileth not—where no thief approacheth, nor moth corrupteth.

34. "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35. "Let your loins be girt, and lamps burning in your hands,

36. "And ye yourselves like to men, who wait for their lord, when he shall return from the wedding; that when he cometh, and knocketh, they may open to him immediately.

37. "Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord, when he cometh, shall find watching. Amen I say to you, that he will gird himself, and make them sit down to meat, and passing will minister to them.

38. "And if he shall come in the second watch, or if he shall come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39. "But this know ye, that if a master of a family did know at what hour the thief would come, he would surely watch, and would not suffer his house to be broken open.

40. "Be ye then also ready: for at what hour ye think not, the Son of man will come."

41. And Peter said to him: "Lord, dost thou speak this parable to us, or likewise to all?"

42. And the Lord said: "Who (thinkest thou) is the faithful and wise steward, whom his Lord hath set over his family, to give them their measure of wheat in due season?

43. "Blessed is that servant, whom when his lord shall come, he shall find so doing.

44. "Verily I say to you, he will set him over all that he possesseth.

45. "But if that servant shall say in his heart: 'My lord is long a coming;' and shall begin to strike the men-servants and maid-servants, and to eat, and to drink, and be drunk:

46. "The lord of that servant will come in the day, when he looketh not for him, and at the hour, that he knoweth not, and shall separate him, and shall appoint him his portion with unbelievers.

47. "And that servant, who knew the will of his lord, and hath not prepared, and did not according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48. "But he, who knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. And unto whomsoever much is given, of him much shall be required: and to whom they have committed much, of him they will demand the more.

49. "I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I, but that it be kindled?

50. "And I have a baptism, wherewith I am to be baptized: and how am I straitened, until it be accomplished?

51. "Think ye, that I have come to give peace on earth? I tell you no, but separation:

52. "For there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided: three against two, and two against three."

53. "Shall be divided: the father against the son, and the son against the father—the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother—the mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law."

54. And he said also to the multitudes: "When ye see a cloud rising out of the west, presently ye say, 'A shower is coming:' and so it happeneth:"

55. "And when ye see the south-wind blow, ye say, 'There will be heat:' and it cometh to pass."

56. "Ye hypocrites, ye know how to discern the face of the heavens, and of the earth: but how is it, that ye do not discern this time?"

57. "And why, even of yourselves, do ye not judge that, which is just?"

58. "And when thou goest with thy adversary to the ruler, whilst thou art in the way, endeavour to be delivered from him: lest perhaps he draw thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the exactor, and the exactor cast thee into prison."

59. "I say to thee, thou shalt not go out thence, until thou pay the very last mite."

C H A P. XIII.

The necessity of penance. The barren fig-tree. The cure of the crooked woman, &c.

AND there were present at that very time, some who told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices:

2. And he answering, said to them: "Think ye, that these Galileans were sinners above all the men of Galilee, because they suffered such things?"

3. "I say to you, No: but unless ye be penitent, ye shall all likewise perish."

4. "Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower fell in Siloe, and slew them: think ye, that they also were debtors above all the men, who dwell in Jerusalem?"

5. "I tell you, No: but unless ye do penance, ye shall all likewise perish."

6. He spoke also this parable: "A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard: and he came seeking fruit on it, and found none."

7. "And he said to the tiller of the vineyard: 'Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and I find none. Cut it down therefore; why doth it take up the ground?'"

8. "But he answering, said to him: 'Lord, let it alone this year also, until I dig about it, and dung it.'

9. "And if happily it bear fruit: but if not, then after that, thou shalt cut it down."

10. And he was teaching in their synagogue on the sabbath.

11. And behold, there was a woman, who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years: and she was bent down, and could not look upwards at all.

12. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said to her: "Woman, thou art delivered from thy infirmity."

13. And he laid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14. And the ruler of the synagogue (being angry that Jesus had healed on the sabbath) answering, said to the multitude: "There are six days, wherein ye ought to work. In them therefore come, and be healed; and not on the sabbath-day."

15. And the Lord answering him, said: "Ye hypocrites, doth not every one of you on the sabbath-day loose his ox or his ass from the manger, and lead him to water?"

16. "And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom I have bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?"

17. And when he said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the things, which were gloriously done by him.

18. He said therefore: "To what is the kingdom of God like, and whereunto shall I resemble it?"

19. "It is like to a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took and cast into his garden: and it grew, and became a great tree: and the birds of the air lodged in the branches thereof."

20. And again he said: "Whereunto shall I esteem the kingdom of God to be like?"

21. "It is like to leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened."

22. And he went through the cities and towns teaching, and making his journey to Jerusalem.

23. And a certain man said to him: "Lord, are they few, who are saved?" But he said to them:

24. "Strive to enter by the narrow gate: for many, I say to you, shall seek* to enter, and shall not be able."

25. "But when the master of the house shall have gone in, and shall have shut to the door, ye shall begin to stand without, and knock at the door, saying: 'Lord, open to us:' and he answering shall say to you: 'I know you not, whence ye are.'

26. "Then ye shall begin to say: 'We have eaten, and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.'

27. "And he shall say to you: 'I know you not, whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.'

28. "Then shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth: when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out."

29. "And there shall come from the east, and the west, and the north, and the south; and shall sit down in the kingdom of God."

30. "And behold, they are last, who shall be first; and they are first, who shall be last."

31. The same day there came some of the pharisees, saying to him: "Depart, and get thee hence: for Herod hath a mind to kill thee."

32. And he said to them: "Go, and tell that fox: 'Behold, I cast out devils, and do cures to-day, and to-morrow; and the third day I am consummated.'

33. "Nevertheless I must walk to-day, and to-morrow, and the day following; because it cannot be, that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem."

* Shall seek, &c. Shall desire to be saved; but, for want of taking sufficient pains, and being thoroughly in earnest, shall not attain to it.

34. "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the prophets, and stonest those, who are sent to thee, how often would I have gathered thy children, as the bird doth her brood under her wings, and thou wouldst not?"

35. "Behold, your house shall be left to you desolate. And I say to you, that ye shall not see me, till the time come, when ye shall say: 'Blessed is he, who cometh in the name of the Lord.'"

C H A P. XIV.

Christ heals the dropsical man. The parable of the supper.

The necessity of renouncing all to follow Christ.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus went into the house of a certain prince of the pharisees on the sabbath day, to eat bread, that they were watching him:

2. And behold, there was a certain man before him, who had the dropy.

3. And Jesus answering, spoke to the lawyers, and pharisees, saying: "Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath-day?"

4. But they held their peace. But he taking him, healed him, and sent him away.

5. And answering them, he said: "Which of you, whose ass or his ox shall fall into a pit, will not immediately draw him out on the sabbath-day?"

6. And they could not answer him to these things.

7. And he spoke a parable also to those, who were invited, marking how they chose the first seats at the table, saying to them:

8. "When thou art invited to a wedding, sit not down in the highest place; lest perhaps one more honourable than thou be invited by him;

9. "And he, who invited thee and him, come, and say to thee: 'Give place to this man;' and then thou begin with blushing to take the lowest place.

10. "But when thou art invited, go, sit down in the lowest place; that when he, who invited thee, cometh, he may say to thee: 'Friend, go up higher.' Then shalt thou have glory before those, who sit at table with thee.

11. "Because every one, who exalteth himself, shall be humbled; and he, who humbleth himself, shall be exalted."

12. And he said to him also, who had invited him: "When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor thy neighbours, who are rich: lest they also invite thee again, and a recompense be made to thee.

13. "But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, and the blind.

14. "And thou shalt be blessed; because they have not wherewith to make thee recompense: for recompense shall be made thee at the resurrection of the just."

15. When one of those, who sat at table with him, had heard these things, he said to him: "Blessed is he, who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God."

16. But he said to him: "A certain man made a great supper, and invited many.

17. "And he sent his servant at supper time, to say to those, who were invited, that they should come; for now all things were ready.

18. "And they began all at once to make excuse. The first said to him: 'I have bought a farm, and I must needs go out, and see it: I pray thee, hold me excused.'

19. "And another said: 'I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to try them: I pray thee, hold me excused.'

20. "And another said: 'I have married a wife; and therefore I cannot come.'

21. "And the servant returning, told these things to his lord. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant: 'Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city; and bring in hither the poor, and the feeble, and the blind, and the lame.'

22. "And the servant said: 'Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded; and yet there is room.'

23. "And the lord said to the servant: 'Go out into the highways and hedges; and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.'

24. "But I say to you, that none of those men, who were called, shall taste my supper."

25. And there went great multitudes with him; and turning, he said to them:

26. "If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

27. "And whosoever doth not carry his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

28. "For which of you having a mind to build a tower, doth not first sit down and reckon the charges which are necessary, whether he have wherewithal to finish it;

29. "Lest after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all, who see it, begin to mock him,

30. "Saying: 'This man began to build; and was not able to finish.'

31. "Or what king about to go to make war against another king, doth not first sit down, and think, whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him, who with twenty thousand cometh against him.

32. "Or else while the other is yet afar off, he sendeth an embassy, and desireth conditions of peace.

33. "So likewise every one of you, who doth not renounce all, that he possesseth, cannot be my disciple.

34. "Salt is good. But if the salt shall lose its flavour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

35. "It is neither profitable for the land, nor for the dunghill; but shall be cast out. He, who hath ears to hear, let him hear."

C H A P. XV.

The parables of the lost sheep, and of the prodigal son.

NOW the publicans and sinners drew near unto him, to hear him:

2. And the pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying: "This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them."

3. And he spoke to them this parable, saying:

* Note not, &c. The law of Christ does not allow us to hate even our enemies, much less our parents; but the meaning of the text is, that we must be in such disposition of soul, as to be willing to renounce and part with every thing, how near or dear soever it may be to us, that would keep us from Christ.

4. "What man is there of you, who hath a hundred sheep—and if he shall lose one of them, doth he not leave the ninety-nine in the desert, and go after that, which was lost, until he find it?"

5. "And when he hath found it, doth he not lay it upon his shoulders, rejoicing—

6. "And coming home, call together his friends and neighbours, saying to them: 'Rejoice with me: because I have found my sheep, that was lost?'"

7. "I say to you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven upon one sinner, who doth penance, more than upon ninety-nine just, who need not penance.

8. "Or what woman having a silver penny, if she lose one groat, doth not light a candle, to sweep the house, and seek diligently, till she find it?"

9. "And when she hath found it, call together her friends and neighbours, saying: 'Rejoice with me: because I have found the groat, which was lost?'"

10. "So I say unto you, there shall be joy before the angels of God, when one sinner doth penance."

11. "And he said: 'A certain man had two sons.'

12. "And the younger of them said to his father: 'Father, give me the portion of substance that falleth to me. And he divided unto him his substance.'

13. "And not many days after, the younger son gathering all together, went abroad into a far country; and there wasted his substance with living riotously.

14. "And after he had spent all, there came a mighty famine in that country; and he began to be in want.

15. "And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country. And he sent him into his farm to feed swine.

16. "And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17. "And returning to himself, he said: 'How many hired servants in my father's house have plenty of bread, and I here perish with hunger?'

18. "I will arise, and will go to my father, and say to him: 'Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee.'

19. "I am not now worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants."

20. "And rising up, he went to his father. And when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him; and was moved with compassion; and running to him, fell upon his neck, and kissed him.

21. "And the son said to him: 'Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee; I am not now worthy to be called thy son.'

22. "But the father said to his servants: 'Bring forth quickly the first robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

23. "And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and make merry:

24. "Because this my son was dead, and is come to life again: he was lost, and is found." And they began to be merry.

25. "Now his elder son was in the field: and when he came, and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing:

26. "And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27. "And he said to him: 'Thy brother is come: and thy father hath killed the fatted calf; because he hath received him safe.'

28. "And he was angry, and would not go in. His father therefore coming out, began to intreat him.

29. "And he answering, said to his father: 'Behold, for so many years I serve thee; and I have never transgressed thy commandment: and yet thou hast never given me a kid to make merry with my friends:

30. "But as soon as this thy son is come, who hath devoured his substance with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf."

31. "But he said to him: 'Son, thou art always with me; and all I have is thine.

32. "But it was fit, that we should make merry, and be glad; for this thy brother was dead, and is come to life again; he was lost, and is found."

C H A P. XVI.

The Parable of the unjust steward; of Dives and Lazarus.

1. "He said also to his disciples: 'There was a certain rich man, who had a steward: and the same was accused unto him, that he had wasted his goods.

2. "And he called him, and said to him: 'How is it, that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship: for now thou canst not be steward.'

3. "And the steward said within himself: 'What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: to dig I am not able: to beg I am ashamed.

4. "I know what I will do, that when I shall be put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses."

5. "Therefore calling together every one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first: 'How much dost thou owe my lord?'

6. "But he said: 'A hundred barrels of oil.' And he said to him: 'Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.'

7. "Then he said to another: 'And how much dost thou owe?' Who said: 'A hundred quarters of wheat.' He said to him: 'Take thy bill, and write eighty.'

8. "And the lord commended the unjust steward, forasmuch as he had done wisely: for the children of this world are wiser in their generation, than the children of light.

9. "And I say to you: make to yourselves friends of the mammon of iniquity*, that when ye shall fail, they may receive you into everlasting dwellings.

* Mammon of iniquity. Mammon signifies riches. They are here called the mammon of iniquity, because oftentimes ill gotten, ill bestowed, or an occasion of evil; and at the best, are but worldly and false—and not the true riches of a christian.

† They may receive. By this we see, that the poor servants of God, whom we have relieved by our alms, may hereafter, by their intercession, bring our souls to heaven.

* Before the angels. By this it is plain that the spirits in heaven have a concern for us below, and a joy at our repentance, and consequently a knowledge of it.

10. "He, who is faithful in that, which is least,* is faithful also in that, which is greater: and he, who is unjust in that, which is little, is unjust also in that, which is greater.

11. "If then ye have not been faithful in the unjust mammon, who will trust you with that, which is the true?

12. "And if ye have not been faithful in that, which is another's, who will give you that, which is your own?

13. "No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other: or he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

14. Now the pharisees, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

15. And he said to them: "Ye are they, who justify yourselves before men: but God knoweth your hearts: for that, which is high to men, is an abomination before God.

16. "The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the kingdom of God is preached; and every one useth violence towards it.

17. "And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than for one tittle of the law to fail.

18. "Every one, who putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he, who marrieth her, who is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19. "There was a certain rich man, who was clothed in purple and fine linen, and feasted sumptuously every day.

20. "And there was a certain beggar, by name Lazarus, who lay at his gate, full of sores;

21. "Desiring to be filled with the crumbs, which fell from the rich man's table; and no one did give him: moreover, the dogs came, and licked his sores.

22. "And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom†. And the rich man also died: and he was buried in hell.

23. "And lifting up his eyes, when he was in torments, he saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24. "And he cried, and said: 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, to cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.'

25. "And Abraham said to him: 'Son, remember, that thou didst receive good things in thy life time, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26. 'And besides all this, between us and you there is fixed a great chaos: so that those, who would pass from hence to you, cannot, nor from thence come hither.'

27. "And he said: 'Then, father, I beseech thee, that thou wouldst send him to my father's house;

28. 'For I have five brethren; that he may testify to them, lest they also come into this place of torments.'

29. "And Abraham said to him: 'They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.'

* Abraham's bosom. The place of rest, where the souls of the saints resided, till Christ had opened heaven by his death.

30. "But he said: 'No, father Abraham; but if one go to them from the dead, they will do penance.'

31. "And he said to him: 'If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they believe, if one rise again from the dead.'

CHAP. XVII.

Lessons of avoiding scandal; of the efficacy of faith, &c. The ten lepers. The manner of the coming of Christ.

AND he said to his disciples: "It is impossible but that scandals will come: but wo to him, through whom they come.

2. "It were better for him, that a mill-stone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should scandalize one of these little ones.

3. "Take heed to yourselves. If thy brother sin against thee, reprove him: and if he be penitent, forgive him.

4. "And if he sin against thee seven times in a day—and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, 'I repent:' forgive him."

5. And the apostles said to the Lord: "Increase our faith."

6. And the Lord said: "If ye had faith, like a grain of mustard-seed, ye might say to this mulberry-tree, 'Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou transplanted into the sea:' and it should obey you.

7. "But which of you having a servant ploughing or feeding cattle, will say to him, when he is come from the field: 'Immediately go, sit down to meat:'

8. "And will not rather say to him: 'Make ready my supper, and gird thyself, and serve me whilst I eat and drink: and afterwards thou shalt eat and drink?'

9. "Doth he thank that servant, because he did the things, which he had commanded him?

10. "I tell you not. So ye also, when ye shall have done all the things, which are commanded you, say: 'We are unprofitable servants: we have done that, which we ought to do.'

11. And it came to pass, as he was going to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

12. And as he entered into a certain town, there met him ten men, who were lepers; who stood afar off,

13. And lifted up their voice, saying: "Jesus, master, have mercy on us."

14. And when he saw them, he said: "Go, shew yourselves to the priests." And it came to pass, that as they went, they were cleansed.

15. And one of them, when he saw that he was cleansed, went back, and with a loud voice glorified God:

16. And he fell on his face before his feet, giving thanks: and this man was a Samaritan.

17. And Jesus answering said: "Were there not ten made clean? and where are the nine?"

18. "There is no one found to return and give glory to God, but this stranger."

19. And he said to him: "Arise; go thy way; for thy faith hath made thee whole."

* Unprofitable servants. Because our service is of no profit to our master; and he justly claims it as our bounden duty. But though we are unprofitable to him, our serving him is not unprofitable to us: for, he is pleased to give by his grace a value to our good works, which, in consequence of his promise, entitles them to an eternal reward.

20. And when he was asked by the pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come? he answered them and said: "The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:

21. "Neither shall they say: 'Behold, here, or behold, there.' For lo, the kingdom of God is within you."

22. And he said to his disciples: "The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one day of the Son of man; and ye shall not see it."

23. "And they will say to you: 'Lo here, and lo there.' Go ye not after, nor follow them:

24. "For as the lightning that lighteth from under heaven, shineth unto the parts, that are under heaven; so shall the Son of man be in his day."

25. "But first he must suffer many things, and be rejected by this generation."

26. "And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man."

27. "They did eat and drink, they married wives, and were given in marriage, until the day, when Noe entered into the ark: and the flood came, and destroyed them all."

28. "Likewise as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat and drink, they bought and sold, they planted, and built."

29. "And in the day, when Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all."

30. "Even thus shall it be in the day, when the Son of man shall be revealed."

31. "In that hour, he, who shall be on the house-top, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and he, who shall be in the field, in like manner, let him not return back."

32. "Remember Lot's wife."

33. "Whosoever shall seek to save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose it, shall preserve it."

34. "I say to you; in that night, there shall be two men in one bed: the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left."

35. "Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left: two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left."

36. They answering say to him: "Where, Lord?"

37. And he said to them: "Wheresoever the body shall be, thither will the eagles also be gathered together."

C H A P. XVIII.

We must pray always. The pharisee and the publican. The danger of riches. The blind man is restored to sight.

AND he spoke also a parable to them, that we ought always to pray, and not to faint,

1. Saying: "There was a judge in a certain city, who feared not God, nor regarded man."

2. "And there was a certain widow in that city, and she came to him, saying: 'Avenge me of my adversary.'"

3. "And he would not for a long time. But after-

* Avenge. That is, do me justice.

wards he said within himself: 'Although I fear not God, nor regard man,

4. 'Yet because this widow is troublesome to me, I will avenge her, lest continually coming she weary me out.'

5. And the Lord said: "Hear what the unjust judge saith:

6. "And will not God avenge his elect, who cry to him day and night—and have patience in their regard?"

7. "I say to you, he will quickly avenge them. But yet, when the Son of man cometh, shall he find, think you, faith on earth?"

8. He spoke also this parable to some, who trusted in themselves as just, and despised others.

9. "Two men went up into the temple to pray: the one was a pharisee, and the other a publican."

10. "The pharisee standing, prayed thus with himself: 'O God, I give thee thanks, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers; as also is this publican.'

11. "I fast twice in the week: I give tithes of all, that I possess."

12. "And the publican standing afar off, would not so much as lift up his eyes towards heaven; but struck his breast, saying: 'O God, be merciful to me a sinner.'"

13. "I say to you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other: because every one, who exalteth himself, shall be humbled, and he, who humbleth himself, shall be exalted."

14. And they brought to him also infants, that he might touch them. And when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them."

15. But Jesus calling them together, said: "Suffer children to come to me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God."

16. "Amen I say to you: whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a child, shall not enter into it."

17. And a certain ruler asked him, saying: "Good master, what shall I do to possess everlasting life?"

18. And Jesus said to him: "Why dost thou call me good? None is good, but God alone."

19. "Thou knowest the commandments: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not steal: Thou shalt not bear false witness: Honour thy father and mother."

20. And he said: "All these have I kept from my youth."

21. Now when Jesus had heard this, he said to him: "Yet one thing is wanting to thee: sell all; that thou hast, and give to the poor; and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me."

22. He having heard these things, was sorrowful: for he was very rich."

23. And Jesus seeing him become sorrowful, said: "How hardly shall those who have riches, enter into the kingdom of God!"

24. "For it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

25. And those, who heard it, said: "Who then can be saved?"

27. He said to them: "The things, that are impossible with men, are possible with God."

28. Then Peter said: "Behold, we have left all things, and have followed thee."

29. And he said to them: "Amen, I say to you, there is no man, who hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake,

30. "Who shall not receive much more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting."

31. Then Jesus took unto him the twelve, and said to them: "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and all things shall be accomplished, which were written by the prophets concerning the Son of man.

32. "For he shall be delivered to the Gentiles; and shall be mocked, and scourged, and spit upon:

33. "And after they have scourged him, they will put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again."

34. And they understood none of these things: and this word was hidden from them: and they understood not the things that were said.

35. Now it came to pass, that when he drew nigh to Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way-side, begging.

36. And when he heard the multitude passing by, he asked what this meant.

37. And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by.

38. And he cried out saying: "Jesus son of David, have mercy on me."

39. And those, who went before, rebuked him, that he should hold his peace. But he cried out much more: "Son of David, have mercy on me."

40. And Jesus stood and commanded him to be brought to him. And when he had come near, he asked him,

41. Saying: "What wilt thou that I do to thee?" But he said: "Lord, that I may see."

42. And Jesus said to him: "Receive thy sight: thy faith hath made thee whole."

43. And immediately he saw, and followed him, glorifying God. And all the people, when they saw it, gave praise to God.

C H A P. XIX.

Zacheus entertains Christ. The parable of the pounds.

Christ rides upon an ass, and weeps over Jerusalem.

AN D entering in, he walked through Jericho.

2. And behold, there was a man by name Zacheus, who was the chief of the publicans; and he was rich.

3. And he sought to see Jesus, who he was, and he could not for the crowd; because he was little of stature.

4. And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore-tree, that he might see him: for he was to pass that way.

5. And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said to him: "Zacheus, make haste and come down: for to-day I must abide in thy house."

6. And he made haste, and came down, and received him with joy.

7. And when they all saw it, they murmured, saying, that he was gone to be guest with a man, that is a sinner.

8. But Zacheus stood, and said to the Lord: "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wronged any man of any thing, I restore him four-fold."

9. Jesus said to him: "This day is salvation come to this house: because he also is a son of Abraham.

10. "For the Son of man is come to seek, and to save that, which was lost."

11. As they were hearing these things, he added and spoke a parable; because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought, that the kingdom of God should immediately be manifested.

12. He said therefore: "A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13. "And calling his ten servants, he delivered them ten pounds, and said to them: 'Trade till I come.'

14. "But his citizens hated him: and they sent an embassy after him, saying: 'We will not have this man to reign over us.'

15. "And it came to pass, that he returned, having received the kingdom: and he commanded his servants to be called, to whom he had given the money: that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16. "And the first came; saying: 'Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.'

17. "And he said to him: 'Well done, thou good servant; because thou hast been faithful in a little, thou shalt have power over ten cities.'

18. "And the second came, saying: 'Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.'

19. "And he said to him: 'Be thou also over five cities.'

20. "And another came, saying: 'Lord, behold here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in my napkin:

21. "For I feared thee: because thou art an austere man: thou takest up what thou didst not sow down; and thou reapest that, which thou didst not sow."

22. "He saith to him: 'Out of thy own mouth I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest, that I was an austere man, taking up what I laid not down, and reaping that, which I did not sow:

23. "And why then didst thou not give my money into the bank, that at my coming, I might have required it, with usury?"

24. "And he said to those, who stood by: 'Take the pound away from him, and give it to him, who hath the ten pounds.'

25. "And they said to him: 'Lord, he hath ten pounds.'

26. "But I say to you, that to every one, who hath, shall be given; and he shall abound: and from him, who hath not, even that, which he hath, shall be taken from him.

27. "But as for those my enemies, who would not have me reign over them, bring them hither; and slay them before me."

28. And when he had said these things, he went before, going up to Jerusalem.

29. And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethania, at the mountain called Olivet, he sent two of his disciples,

30. Saying : " Go ye into the town, which is over-against you ; entering into it, ye shall find the colt of an ass tied, on which no man hath ever sat : loose him, and bring him hither.

31. " And if any man shall ask you : ' Why do ye loose him ? ' ye shall say thus unto him : ' Because the Lord hath need of his service.' "

32. And those, who were sent, went their way, and found the colt standing, as he had said to them.

33. And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof, said to them : " Why loose ye the colt ? "

34. But they said : " Because the Lord hath need of him." "

35. And they brought him to Jesus. And casting their garments on the colt, they set Jesus thereon.

36. And as he went, they spread their clothes underneath in the way.

37. And when he was now coming near the descent of mount Olivet, the whole multitude of his disciples began with joy to praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works they had seen,

38. Saying : " Blessed be the king, who cometh in the name of the Lord, peace in heaven, and glory on high." "

39. And some of the pharisees from amongst the multitude said to him : " Master, rebuke thy disciples." "

40. And he said to them : " I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would cry out." "

41. And when he drew near, seeing the city, he wept over it, saying :

42. " If thou also had known, and that in this thy day, the things that are for thy peace : but now they are hidden from thy eyes.

43. " For the days shall come upon thee : and thy enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and straiten thee on every side,

44. " And beat thee flat to the ground, and thy children, who are in thee : and they shall not leave in thee a stone upon a stone ; because thou hast not known the time of thy visitation." "

45. And entering into the temple, he began to cast out those, who sold therein, and those, who bought,

46. Saying to them : " It is written : ' My house is the house of prayer.' But ye have made it a den of thieves." "

47. And he was teaching daily in the temple. And the chief priests, and the scribes, and the rulers of the people sought to destroy him :

48. And they found not what to do to him. For all the people were very attentive to hear him.

C H A P. XX.

The parable of the husbandmen. Of paying tribute to Cæsar ; and of the resurrection of the dead.

AN D it came to pass, that on one of the days, as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes with the ancients met together,

2. And spoke to him, saying : " Tell us, by what authority dost thou these things ? or, who is he, that hath given thee this authority ? "

VOL. II.

3. And Jesus answering, said to them : " I will also ask you one thing. Answer me :

4. " The baptism of John, was it from heaven or of men ? "

5. But they thought within themselves, saying : " If we shall say, ' From heaven : ' he will say : ' Why then did ye not believe him ? ' "

6. " But if we say, ' Of men,' the whole people will stone us : for they are persuaded, that John was a prophet." "

7. And they answered, that they knew not whence it was.

8. And Jesus said to them : " Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things." "

9. And he began to speak to the people this parable : " A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen : and he was abroad for a long time.

10. " And at the season, he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard. But they beat him, and sent him away empty.

11. " And again he sent another servant. And they beat him also, and treating him reproachfully, sent him away empty.

12. " And again he sent the third : and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13. " Then the lord of the vineyard said : ' What shall I do ? I will send my beloved son : it may be, when they see him, they will reverence him.' "

14. " But when the husbandmen saw him, they thought within themselves, saying : ' This is the heir ; let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.' "

15. " So casting him out of the vineyard, they killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do to them ? "

16. " He will come, and will destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others." And when they heard this, they said to him : " God forbid." "

17. But he looking on them, said : " What is this then, that is written, ' The stone, which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner ? ' "

18. " Whosoever shall fall upon that stone, shall be bruised : and upon whomsoever it shall fall, it will dash him to pieces." "

19. And the chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on him the same hour : but they feared the people ; for they knew, that he spoke this parable against them.

20. And being upon the watch, they sent spies, who should feign themselves just, that they might take hold of him in his words, that they might deliver him up to the authority and power of the governor.

21. And they asked him, saying : " Master, we know, that thou speakest and teachest rightly : and thou hast no respect of person, but teachest the way of God in truth.

22. " Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Cæsar, or no ? "

23. But he considering their craftiness, said to them : " Why tempt ye me ? "

24. " Shew me a penny. Whose image and inscription hath it ? " They answered and said to him : " Cæsar's." "

25. And he said to them: "Render therefore to Cæsar the things, that are Cæsar's; and to God, the things that are God's."

26. And they could not reprehend his word before the people: and wondering at his answer, they held their peace.

27. And there came to him some of the sadducees, who deny, that there is any resurrection: and they asked him,

28. Saying: "Master, Moses wrote unto us: 'If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he leave no children, that his brother should take her to wife, and raise up seed to his brother.'"

29. "There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30. "And the next took her to wife: and he also died childless.

31. "And the third took her. And in like manner all the seven: and they left no children, and died.

32. "Last of all, the woman died also.

33. "In the resurrection therefore, whose wife of them shall she be? For the seven had her to wife."

34. And Jesus said to them: "The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

35. "But those, who shall be accounted worthy of that world, and of the resurrection from the dead, shall neither be married, nor take wives.

36. "Neither can they die any more: for they are equal to the angels, and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

37. "Now, that the dead rise again, Moses also shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord, 'The God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.'"

38. "For he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all live to him."

39. And some of the scribes answering, said to him: "Master, thou hast said well."

40. And after that they durst not ask him any more questions.

41. But he said to them: "How say they, that Christ is the son of David?"

42. "And David himself saith in the book of psalms: 'The Lord said to my Lord: 'Sit thou on my right hand,

43. 'Till I make thy enemies thy foot-stool.'"

44. "David then calleth him Lord: and how is he his son?"

45. And in the hearing of all the people, he said to his disciples:

46. "Beware of the scribes, who desire to walk in long robes, and love salutations in the market-place, and the first chairs in the synagogues, and the first places at feasts:

47. "Who devour the houses of widows, reigning long prayer. These shall receive greater damnation."

C H A P. XXI.

The widow's mites. The signs, that shall forerun the destruction of Jerusalem, and the end of the world.

AND looking on, he saw the rich men call their gifts into the treasury.

2. And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in two brass mites.

3. And he said: "Verily I say to you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all.

4. "For all these have of their abundance cast into the offerings of God: but she, of her want, hath cast in all the living, that she had."

5. And as some were saying of the temple, that it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said:

6. "These things which ye see, the days will come, in which there shall not be left a stone upon a stone, that shall not be thrown down."

7. And they asked him, saying: "Master, when shall these things be—and what shall be the sign, when they shall begin to come to pass?"

8. And he said: "Take heed that ye be not seduced; for many will come in my name, saying: 'I am he; and the time is at hand:' go ye not therefore after them.

9. "And when ye shall hear of wars and seditions, be not terrified: these things must first come to pass, but the end is not yet presently."

10. Then he said to them: "Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.

11. "And there shall be great earthquakes in divers places, and pestilences, and famines, and terrors from heaven: and there shall be great signs.

12. "But before all these things, they will lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, dragging you before kings and governors for my name's sake:

13. "And it shall happen to you for a testimony.

14. "Lay it up therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before, how you shall answer.

15. "For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to resist and gainsay.

16. "And ye shall be betrayed by your parents, and brethren, and kinsmen, and friends: and some of you they will put to death.

17. "And ye shall be hated by all men for my name's sake:

18. "But a hair of your head shall not perish.

19. "In your patience ye shall possess your souls.

20. "And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed about with an army: then know, that the desolation thereof is at hand.

21. "Then let those, who are in Judea, flee to the mountains: and let those, who are in the midst thereof, depart out: and let not those, who are in the country, enter into it.

22. "For these are the days of vengeance, that all things may be fulfilled, that are written.

23. "But woe to them, who are with child, and give suck in those days: for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.

24. "And they shall fall by the edge of the sword; and shall be led away captives into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down by the Gentiles; till the times of the nations be fulfilled.

25. "And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars: and upon the earth distress of nations, by reason of the confusion of the roaring of the sea and of the waves.

26. "Men withering away for fear and expectation of what shall come upon the whole world : for the powers of heaven shall be moved

27. " And then they shall see the Son of man coming in a cloud, with great power and majesty.

28. " But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads : because your redemption is at hand."

29. And he spoke to them a similitude : " See the fig-tree and all the trees :

30. " When they now shoot forth their fruit, ye know, that summer is nigh.

31. " So ye also, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that the kingdom of God is at hand.

32. " Amen I say to you, this generation shall not pass away, till all things be fulfilled.

33. " Heaven and earth shall pass away : but my words shall not pass away."

34. " And take heed to yourselves, lest perhaps your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and the cares of this life ; and that day come upon you suddenly.

35. " For as a snare, shall it come upon all, who sit upon the face of the whole earth.

36. " Watch ye therefore, praying at all times, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things, that are to come, and to stand before the Son of man."

37. And in the day time he was teaching in the temple : but at night going out, he abode in the mount, that is called Olivet.

38. And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple to hear him.

C H A P. XXII.

The treason of Judas. The last supper. The first part of the history of the passion.

NOW the feast of unleavened bread, which is called the pasch, was at hand.

2. And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put Jesus to death : but they feared the people.

3. And satan entered into Judas, who was surnamed Iscarriot, one of the twelve.

4. And he went, and discoursed with the chief priests and the magistrates, how he might betray him to them.

5. And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.

6. And he promised. And he sought for an opportunity to betray him in the absence of the multitude.

7. And the day of the unleavened bread came, on which it was necessary, that the pasch should be killed.

8. And he sent Peter and John, saying : " Go, and prepare us the pasch, that we may eat."

9. But they said : " Where wilt thou that we prepare ?"

10. " Behold, as ye go into the city, there shall meet you a man carrying a pitcher of water : follow him into the house, which he entereth.

11. " And ye shall say to the master of the house : ' The master saith to thee : ' Where is the guest-chamber, where I may eat the pasch with my disciples ?'

12. " And he will shew you a large dining room furnished ; and there prepare."

13. And they going, found as he had said to them : and they made ready the pasch.

14. And when the hour had come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15. And he said to them : " With desire I have desired to eat this pasch with you, before I suffer.

16. " For I say to you, that from this time I will not eat it, till it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God."

17. And having taken the chalice, he gave thanks, and said : " Take, and divide it among you.

18. " For I say to you, that I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, till the kingdom of God come."

19. And taking bread, he gave thanks, and brake, and gave to them, saying : " This is my body, which is given for you : Do this for a commemoration of me."

20. In like manner the chalice also, after he had supped, saying : " This is the chalice, the new testament in my blood, which shall be shed for you.

21. " But yet behold, the hand of him, who betrayeth me, is with me on the table.

22. " And the Son of man indeed goeth, according to that, which is determined : but woe to that man, by whom he shall be betrayed."

23. And they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it was, that should do this thing.

24. And there was also a strife amongst them, which of them should seem to be greater.

25. And he said to them : " The kings of the Gentiles lord it over them ; and those, who have power over them, are called beneficent.

26. " But ye not so : but he, who is the greatest among you, let him be as the least : and he, who is the leader, as he, who serveth.

27. " For which is greater, he, who sitteth at table, or he, who serveth ? Is not he, who sitteth at table ? but I am in the midst of you, as he, who serveth :

28. " And ye are they, who have continued with me in my temptations :

29. " And I appoint to you, as my Father hath appointed to me, a kingdom :

30. " That ye may eat and drink at my table, in my kingdom : and may sit upon thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel."

31. And the Lord said : " Simon, Simon, behold, satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat.

32. " But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not : and thou being once converted, confirm thy brethren."

33. And he said to him : " Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison, and to death."

34. And he said : " I say to thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, till thou thrice deny that thou knowest me." And he said to them :

35. " When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, did ye want any thing ?"

* Do this for a commemoration of me. This sacrifice and sacrament is to be continued in the church, to the end of the world, to shew forth the death of Christ, until he come. But this commemoration, or remembrance, is by no means inconsistent with the real presence of his body and blood, under these sacramental veils, which represent his death ; on the contrary, the best way we can have, of commemorating and celebrating his death, is by offering in sacrifice, and receiving in sacrament, that body and blood, by which we were redeemed.

36. But they said : " Nothing." Then said he to them : " But now he, who hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a scrip : and he, who hath no sword, let him sell his coat, and buy one.

37. " For I say to you, that this, that is written, must yet be fulfilled in me : ' And with the wicked he was reputed : ' For the things concerning me have an end."

38. But they said : " Lord, behold here are two swords." And he said to them : " It is enough."

39. And going out, he went according to his custom to the mount of Olives. And his disciples also followed him.

40. And when he had come to the place, he said to them : " Pray, lest ye enter into temptation."

41. And he was withdrawn away from them a stone's cast : and kneeling down, he prayed,

42. Saying : " Father, if thou wilt, remove this chalice from me : but yet not my will, but thine be done."

43. And there appeared to him an angel from heaven, strengthening him. And being in an agony, he prayed the longer.

44. And his sweat became as drops of blood trickling down upon the ground.

45. And when he rose up from prayer, and had come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow.

46. And he said to them : " Why sleep ye ? arise, pray, lest ye enter into temptation."

47. As he was yet speaking, behold, a multitude : and he, who was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near to Jesus, to kiss him.

48. And Jesus said to him : " Judas, dost thou betray the Son of man with a kiss ?"

49. And those, who were about him, seeing what would follow, said to him : " Lord, shall we strike with the sword ?"

50. And one of them struck the servant of the high-priest, and cut off his right ear.

51. But Jesus answering, said : " Suffer ye thus far." And when he had touched his ear, he healed him.

52. And Jesus said to the chief priests, and magistrates of the temple, and the ancients, that were come to him : " Are ye come out, as it were against a thief, with swords and clubs ?

53. " When I was daily with you in the temple, ye did not stretch forth your hands against me : but this is your hour, and the power of darkness."

54. Then they laid hold on him, and led him into the high-priest's house : but Peter followed afar off.

55. And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were sitting about it, Peter was in the midst of them ;

56. Whom when a certain servant-maid had seen sitting at the light, and had looked upon him, she said : " This man was also with him."

57. But he denied him, saying : " Woman, I know him not."

58. And after a little while, another * seeing him,

* Another, &c. Observe here, in order to reconcile the four evangelists, that divers persons concurred in charging Peter with being Christ's disciple ; till at length they brought him to deny him thrice. 1. The portress, that let him in, afterwards seeing him at the fire, first put the question to him ; and then positively affirmed, that he was with Christ. 2. Another said : " Thou also art one of them." But Peter said, " O man, I am not."

59. And about the space of one hour after, another man affirmed, saying : " Of a truth, this man also was with him : for he is also a Galilean."

60. And Peter said : " Man, I know not what thou sayest." And immediately while he was yet speaking, the cock crew.

61. And the Lord turning looked on Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said : " Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice."

62. And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

63. And the men, who held him, mocked him, and struck him.

64. And they blindfolded him, and smote him on the face. And they asked him, saying : " Prophecy, what is it that struck thee ?"

65. And many other things, blaspheming, they said against him.

66. And as soon as it was day, the ancients of the people, and the chief priests and scribes came together : and they brought him into their council, saying : " If thou be the Christ, tell us."

67. And he said to them : " If I shall tell you, ye will not believe me :

68. " And if I shall also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go.

69. " But hereafter the Son of man shall be sitting on the right hand of the power of God."

70. Then said they all : " Art thou then the Son of God ?" And he said : " Ye say, that I am."

71. Then they said : " What need we any further testimony ? For we ourselves have heard it from his own mouth."

CHAP. XXIII.

The continuation of the history of the passion.

AND the whole multitude of them rose up, and led him away to Pilate.

2. And they began to accuse him, saying : " We have found this man perverting our nation, and forbidding us give tribute to Cæsar, and saying that he is Christ the king "

3. And Pilate asked him, saying : " Art thou the king of the Jews ?" And he answered, and said : " Thou sayest it."

4. Then Pilate said to the chief priests and to the multitude : " I find no cause in this man."

5. But they were more earnest, saying : " He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee to this place."

6. And Pilate hearing of Galilee, asked if the man was a Galilean ?

7. And when he understood that he belonged to Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him away to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem in those days.

8. And Herod seeing Jesus, was very glad ; for he other maid accused him to the Slanders by ; and gave occasion to the man here mentioned to renew the charge against him, which caused the second denial. 3. Others of the company took notice of his being a Galilean ; and were seconded by the kinsman of Malchus, who affirmed, he had seen him in the garden. And this drew on the third denial.

was desirous for a long time to see him; because he had heard many things of him: and he hoped to see some miracle wrought by him.

9. And he questioned him with many words. But he answered him nothing.

10. And the chief priests and the scribes stood by, earnestly accusing him.

11. And Herod with his soldiers despised him; and mocked him, putting on him a white garment; and sent him back to Pilate.

12. And Herod and Pilate were made friends together that same day: for before they were enemies one to another.

13. Then Pilate, calling together the chief priests, and the magistrates, and the people,

14. Said to them: "Ye have brought this man to me, as one, who perverteth the people: and behold, I having examined him before you, find no cause in this man touching those things, wherein ye accuse him;

15. "No, nor Herod neither: for I sent you to him; and behold, nothing worthy of death is done to him.

16. "I will chastise him therefore, and release him."

17. Now of necessity he was to release to them one, upon the feast-day.

18. But the whole multitude cried out at once, saying: "Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas!"

19. Who, for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, had been cast into prison.

20. And Pilate spoke to them again, desiring to release Jesus.

21. But they cried out, saying: "Crucify him, crucify him."

22. And he said to them the third time: "Why, what evil hath this man done? I find no cause of death in him. I will chastise him therefore, and let him go."

23. But they were urgent with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and their voices prevailed.

24. And Pilate gave sentence, that their petition should be granted.

25. And he released unto them him, who for murder and sedition had been cast into prison, whom they had desired: but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

26. And as they led him away, they laid hold on one Simon of Cyrene, who was coming out of the country: and they laid the cross on him to carry after Jesus.

27. And there followed him a great multitude of people and of women; who bewailed and lamented him.

28. But Jesus turning to them, said: "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not over me: but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29. "For behold, the days shall come, wherein they will say: 'Blessed are the barren, and the wombs, that have not borne, and the paps, that have not given suck.'

30. "Then shall they begin to say to the mountains: 'Fall upon us:' and to the hills: 'Cover us.'

31. "For if in the green wood, they do these things, what shall be done in the dry?"

32. And there were also two other malefactors led with him, to be put to death.

33. And when they had come to the place, which is called Calvary, they crucified him there, and the robbers, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34. And Jesus said: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." But dividing his garments, they cast lots.

35. And the people stood beholding, and the rulers with them derided him, saying: "He saved others: let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God."

36. And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him and offering him vinegar,

37. And saying: "If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself."

38. And there was also a superscription written over him in Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew letters: "THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS."

39. And one of those robbers, who were hanging, blasphemed him, saying: "If thou be Christ, save thyself, and us."

40. But the other answering, rebuked him, saying: "Neither dost thou fear God, seeing thou art under the same condemnation?"

41. "And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done no evil."

42. And he said to Jesus: "Lord, remember me, when thou shalt come into thy kingdom."

43. And Jesus said to him: "Amen I say to thee, this day thou shalt be with me in paradise."*

44. And it was almost the sixth hour: and there was darkness over all the earth, until the ninth hour.

45. And the sun was darkened: and the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.

46. And Jesus crying with a loud voice, said: "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." And saying this, he gave up the ghost.

47. Now the centurion seeing what was done, glorified God, saying: "Indeed this was a just man."

48. And all the multitude of those, who had come together to that sight, and saw the things, that were done, returned striking their breasts.

49. And all his acquaintance, and the women, that had followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50. And behold, a man by name Joseph, who was a counsellor, a good and just man:

51. The same had not consented to their counsel and doings; he was of Arimathea, a city of Judea, who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52. This man went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53. And taking him down, he wrapped him in fine linen, and laid him in a sepulchre, which was hewed in stone, wherein never yet any man had been laid.

54. And it was the day of the + pasceve; and the sabbath drew near.

55. And the women, who had come with him from

* In paradise. That is, in the happy state of rest, joy, and peace everlasting. Christ was pleased by a special privilege, to reward the faith and confession of the good thief, with a full discharge of all his sins, both as to the guilt and punishment; and to introduce him, immediately after death, into the happy society of saints, whose limbo was now made a paradise, by our Lord's going thither.

+ Pasceve. That is the eve, or day of preparation for the sabbath.

Galilee, following after, saw the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

6. And returning they prepared spices and ointments: and on the sabbath day they rested according to the commandment.

C H A P. XXIV.

Christ's resurrection; and manifestation of himself to his disciples.

BUT on the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came to the sepulchre, bringing the spices, which they had prepared.

2. And they found the stone rolled back from the sepulchre.

3. And going in they found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4. And it came to pass, while they were astonished in mind at this, behold, two men stood by them, in shining apparel.

5. And as they were afraid, and bowed down their countenance towards the ground, they said to them: "Why seek ye the living among the dead?"

6. "He is not here, but has risen. Remember, how he spoke to you, when he was yet in Galilee,

7. "Saying: 'The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.'"

8. And they remembered his words.

9. And going back from the sepulchre, they told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest.

10. Now it was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and the other women, who were with them, that told these things to the apostles.

11. And these words seemed to them as an idle tale: and they did not believe them.

12. But Peter rising up, ran to the sepulchre; and stooping down he saw the linen clothes laid by themselves; and went away wondering in himself at that, which had come to pass.

13. And behold, two of them went that same day to a town, which was sixty furlongs from Jerusalem, named Emmaus.

14. And they talked together of all these things, which had happened.

15. And it came to pass, that while they talked and reasoned with one another, Jesus himself also drew near, and went with them.

16. But their eyes were held, that they should not know him.

17. And he said to them: "What are these discourses, that ye hold one with another, as ye walk, and are sad?"

18. And the one, whose name was Cleophas, answering, said to him: "Art thou alone a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things, that have been done there in these days?"

19. And he said to them: "What things?" And they said: "Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet, mighty in work and word, before God, and all the people:

20. "And how our chief priests and rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and crucified him.

21. "But we hoped, that it was he, who should have redeemed Israel: and now besides all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done.

22. "Yea, and certain women also of our company, affrighted us, who, before it was light, were at the sepulchre;

23. "And not finding his body, came, saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who say that he is alive.

24. "And some of our people went to the sepulchre, and found it so as the women had said; but him they found not."

25. Then he said to them: "O foolish, and slow of heart, to believe in all the things, which the prophets have spoken.

26. "Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and so to enter into his glory?"

27. And beginning from Moses, and all the prophets, he expounded to them in all the scriptures, the things that were concerning him.

28. And they drew nigh to the town, whither they were going: and he made as though he would go farther.

29. But they constrained him, saying: "Stay with us, because it is towards evening: and the day is now far spent." And he went in with them.

30. And it came to pass, while he was at table with them, he took bread, and blessed, and brake, and gave to them.

31. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he vanished out of their sight.

32. And they said one to the other: "Was not our heart burning within us, while he was speaking in the way, and opened to us the scriptures?"

33. And they rose in the same hour, and went back to Jerusalem: and they found the eleven gathered together, and those, who were with them,

34. Saying: "The Lord has risen indeed, and has appeared to Simon."

35. And they told what things were done in the way—and how they knew him in the breaking of bread.

36. Now while they were speaking these things, Jesus stood in the midst of them, and saith to them: "Peace be to you: it is I; fear not."

37. But they being troubled and affrighted, supposed that they saw a spirit.

38. And he said to them: "Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?"

39. "See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself; feel, and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me to have."

40. And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41. But while they yet believed not, and wondered for joy, he said: "Have ye here any thing to eat?"

42. And they offered him a piece of a broiled fish, and a honeycomb.

43. And when he had eaten before them, taking the remains, he gave to them.

44. And he said to them: "These are the words, which I spoke to you while I was yet with you, that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me."

45. Then he opened their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures.

46. And he said to them: "Thus it is written; and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise again from the dead the third day:

47. "And that penance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

48. "And ye are witnesses of these things.

49. "And I send the promise of my father* upon you: but stay ye in the city, till ye be endued with power from on high."

50. And he led them out as far as to Bethania: and lifting up his hands, he blessed them.

51. And it came to pass, while he blessed them, that he departed from them, and was carried up to heaven.

52. And they adoring, went back to Jerusalem with great joy.

53. And they were continually in the temple praising and blessing God. Amen.

The HOLY GOSPEL of JESUS CHRIST,

ACCORDING TO

St. JOHN.

CHAP. I.

The divinity and incarnation of Christ. John bears witness of him. He begins to call his disciples.

IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2. The same was in the beginning with God.

3. All things were made by him: and without him was made nothing, that was made.

4. In him was life, and the life was the light of men:

5. And the light shineth in darkness: and the darkness did not comprehend it.

6. There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7. This man came for a witness, to bear witness of the light, that all men might believe through him.

8. He was not the light; but was to bear witness of the light.

9. That was the true light, which enlighteneth every man, that cometh into this world.

10. He was in the world; and the world was made by him; and the world knew him not.

11. He came unto his own; and his own received him not.

12. But as many as received him, to them he gave power to be made the sons of God, to those, who believe in his name;

13. Who are born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us (and we saw his glory, the glory as of the only-begotten of the father) full of grace and truth.

15. John beareth witness of him; and crieth out, saying: "This was he, of whom I spoke: 'He, who shall come after me, is preferred before me; because he was before me.'"

16. "And of his fullness we all have received, and grace for grace.

17. "For the law was given by Moses: grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18. "No man hath seen God at any time: the only-begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him."

19. And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent from Jerusalem priests and Levites to him, to ask him: "Who art thou?"

20. And he confessed, and did not deny: and he confessed: "I am not the Christ."

21. And they asked him: "What then? Art thou Elias?" And he said: "I am not." "Art thou the prophet?" and he answered: "No."

22. Then they said to him: "Who art thou, that we may give an answer to those who sent us? What sayest thou of thyself?"

23. He said: "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness: 'Make straight the way of the Lord, as the prophet Isaiah said.'"

24. And those, who were sent, were of the pharisees.

25. And they asked him, and said to him: "Why then dost thou baptize, if thou be not Christ, nor Elias, nor the prophet?"

26. John answered them, saying: "I baptize with water: but there hath stood one in the midst of you, whom ye know not.

27. "The same is he, who shall come after me, who is preferred before me; the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to loose."

28. These things were done in Bethania beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29. The next day John saw Jesus coming to him, and he saith: "Behold the lamb of God! behold, he, who taketh away the sin of the world!"

30. "This is he, of whom I said: 'After me cometh a man, who is preferred before me: because he was before me.'"

31. "And I knew him not; but that he may be made manifest in Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water."

32. And John gave testimony, saying: "I saw the Spirit coming down as a dove from heaven; and he remained upon him.

33. "And I knew him not; but he, who sent me to baptize with water, said to me: 'He, upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, he it is, who baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.'

34. "And I saw: and I gave testimony, that this is the Son of God."

35. Again the following day, John stood, and two of his disciples.

36. And looking upon Jesus, as he was walking, he saith: "Behold, the lamb of God."

37. And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38. And Jesus turning, and seeing them following him, saith to them: "What seek ye?" They said to him: "Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, master) where dwellest thou?"

39. He saith to them: "Come and see." They came and saw where he abode: and they staid with him that day: now it was about the tenth hour.

40. And Andrew the brother of Simon Peter was one of the two, who had heard of John, and followed him.

41. He first findeth his brother Simon, and saith to him: "We have found the Messiah," which is, being interpreted, the Christ.

42. And he brought him to Jesus. And Jesus looking upon him, said: "Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas," which is interpreted, Peter.

43. On the following day he would go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip. And Jesus saith to him: "Follow me."

44. Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45. Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith to him: "We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets did write, Jesus the son of Joseph of Nazareth."

46. And Nathanael said to him: "Can any thing of good come from Nazareth?" Philip saith to him: "Come and see."

47. Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and he saith of him: "Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile."

48. Nathanael said to him: "Whence knowest thou me?" Jesus answered, and said to him: "Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee."

49. Nathanael answered him, and said: "Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the king of Israel."

50. Jesus answered and said to him: "Because I said unto thee, 'I saw thee under the fig-tree,' thou believest: greater things than these shalt thou see."

51. And he saith to him: "Amen, amen I say to you, ye shall see the heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man."

C H A P. II.

Christ changes water into wine: he casts the sellers out of the temple.

AND the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee: and the mother of Jesus was there.

2. And Jesus also was invited and his disciples, to the marriage.

3. And the wine failing, the mother of Jesus saith to him: "They have no wine."

4. And Jesus saith to her: "Woman, what is that to me * and to thee? my hour is not yet come."

5. His mother saith to the waiters: "Whatsoever he shall say to you, do ye."

6. Now there were set there six water-pots of stone, according to the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three measures each.

7. Jesus saith to them: "Fill the water-pots with water." And they filled them up to the brim.

8. And Jesus saith to them: "Draw out now, and carry to the chief steward of the feast." And they carried it.

9. And when the chief steward had tasted the water made wine, and knew not whence it was, but the waiters knew, who had drawn the water; the chief steward calleth the bridegroom,

10. And saith to him: "Every man at first setteth forth good wine, and when men have well drank, then that, which is worse. But thou hast kept the good wine until now."

11. This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee: and he manifested his glory: and his disciples believed in him.

12. After this he went down to Capharnaum, he and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and they remained there not many days.

13. And the pasch of the Jews was at hand: and Jesus went up to Jerusalem:

14. And he found in the temple those, who sold oxen, and sheep, and doves, and the changers of money sitting.

15. And when he had made as it were a scourge of little cords, he drove them all out of the temple—the sheep also and the oxen: and he poured out the changers' money; and the tables he overthrew.

16. And he said to those, that sold doves: "Take these things hence, and make not the house of my Father, a house of traffic."

17. And his disciples remembered, that it was written: "The zeal of thy house hath eaten me up."

18. Then the Jews answered, and said to him: "What sign dost thou shew us, seeing thou dost these things?"

19. Jesus answered, and said to them: "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up."

20. The Jews then said: "Six and forty years was this temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days?"

21. But he spoke of the temple of his body.

22. When therefore he had risen again from the dead, his disciples remembered, that he had said this, and they believed the scripture, and the word that Jesus had said.

23. Now when he was at Jerusalem, at the pasch,

* What is that to me, &c. Our Saviour, by these words, which, at first sight, appear harsh, did not intend to rebuke his mother (at whose request he wrought this first miracle) but only to give a lesson to his disciples, that in the functions of their ministry, they should not be put out of their way, by any considerations of flesh and blood.

upon the festival day, many believed in his name, seeing his miracles, which he did.

24. But Jesus did not trust himself to them, because he knew all men,

25. And because he needed not that any should give testimony of man: for he knew what was in man.

C H A P. III.

Christ's discourse with Nicodemus. John's testimony.

AND there was a man of the pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews.

2. This man came to Jesus by night, and said to him: "Rabbi, we know, that thou hast come a teacher from God: for no man can do these miracles, which thou dost, unless God be with him."

3. Jesus answered, and said to him: "Amen, amen I say to thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

4. Nicodemus saith to him: "How can a man be born, when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born again?"

5. Jesus answered: "Amen, amen I say to thee, except a man be born again of water and the Holy Ghost, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God."

6. "That, which is born of the flesh, is flesh; and that, which is born of the Spirit, is spirit."

7. "Wonder not that I said to thee: 'Ye must be born again.'"

8. "The Spirit breatheth where he will: and thou hearest his voice: but thou knowest not whence he cometh, nor whither he goeth: so is every one who is born of the Spirit."

9. Nicodemus answered, and said to him: "How can these things be done?"

10. Jesus answered, and said to him: "Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?"

11. "Amen, amen I say to thee; we speak what we know, and we testify what we have seen: and ye receive not our testimony."

12. "If I have spoken to you earthly things, and ye believe not: how will ye believe, if I shall speak to you heavenly things?"

13. "And no man hath ascended into heaven, but he, who descended from heaven, the Son of man, who is in heaven."

14. "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the desert, so must the Son of man be lifted up:

15. "That whosoever believeth in him, may not perish, but may have life everlasting."

16. "For God so loved the world, as to give his only-begotten Son; that whosoever believeth in him, may not perish, but may have life everlasting."

17. "For God sent not his Son into the world, to judge the world, but that the world may be saved by him."

18. "He, who believeth in him, is not judged†. But he, who doth not believe, is already judged: because he believeth not in the name of the only-begotten Son of God.

19. "And this is the judgment‡; because the light has come into the world; and men loved darkness, rather than the light: for their works were evil."

20. "For every one, who doth evil, hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, that his works may not be reproved."

21. "But he, who doth truth||, cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, because they are done in God."

22. After these things, Jesus and his disciples came into the land of Judea: and there he abode with them, and baptized.

23. And John also was baptizing in Ennon near Salim; because there was much water there; and they came, and were baptized.

24. For John was not yet cast into prison.

25. And there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews, concerning purification:

26. And they came to John, and said to him: "Rabbi, he, who was with thee beyond the Jordan, to whom thou gavest testimony, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him."

27. John answered, and said: "A man cannot receive any thing, except it be given him from heaven."

28. "Ye yourselves do bear me witness, that I said, 'I am not the Christ; but that I am sent before him.'"

29. "He, who hath the bride, is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, who standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth with joy, because of the bridegroom's voice. This my joy therefore is fulfilled."

30. "He must increase; but I must decrease."

31. "He, who cometh from above, is above all. He, who is of the earth, of the earth he is, and of the earth he speaketh. He, who cometh from heaven, is above all."

32. "And what he hath seen, and heard, that he testifieth: and no man receiveth his testimony."

33. "He, who hath received his testimony, hath attested by his seal that God is true."

34. "For he, whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God doth not give the spirit by measure:

35. "The Father loveth the Son: and he hath given all things into his hand."

36. "He, who believeth in the Son, hath life everlasting: but he, who believeth not the Son, shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him."

C H A P. IV.

Christ talks with the Samaritan woman. He heals the ruler's son.

WHEN therefore Jesus understood, that the pharisees had heard, that Jesus maketh more disciples, and baptizeth more than John,

2. (Though Jesus himself did not baptize, but his disciples,)

3. He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

† Is not judged. He, who believeth, viz. by a faith, working through charity, is not judged, that is, is not condemned; but the obstinate unbeliever is judged, that is, condemned already, by retrenching himself from the society of Christ and his church.

‡ The judgment. That is, the cause of his condemnation.
|| He, who doth truth, i. e. He, who asseeth according to truth, which here signifies the law of God. Thy law is truth. Ps. 118. ver. 142.

4. And it was necessary he should pass through Samaria.

5. He cometh therefore to a city of Samaria, which is called Sichem; near the piece of ground, which Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

6. Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well. It was about the sixth hour.

7. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith to her: "Give me to drink."

8. (For his disciples had gone into the city to buy food.)

9. Then that Samaritan woman saith to him: "How dost thou, being a Jew, ask of me to drink, who am a Samaritan woman?" For the Jews do not communicate with the Samaritans.

10. Jesus answered, and said to her: "If thou did know the gift of God, and who it is, that saith to thee: 'Give me to drink;' thou perhaps wouldst have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water."

11. The woman saith to him: "Sir, thou hast nothing wherewith to draw; and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou living water?"

12. "Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?"

13. Jesus answered, and said to her: "Whosoever drinketh of this water, shall thirst again: but he, who shall drink of the water, which I shall give him, shall not thirst for ever."

14. "But the water, which I shall give him, shall become in him a fountain of water springing up into everlasting life."

15. The woman saith to him: "Sir, give me this water, that I may not thirst, nor come hither to draw."

16. Jesus saith to her: "Go, call thy husband, and come hither."

17. The woman answered, and said: "I have no husband." Jesus said to her: "Thou hast said well: 'I have no husband:'"

18. "For thou hast had five husbands; and he, whom thou now hast, is not thy husband. This thou hast said truly."

19. The woman saith to him: "Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet."

20. "Our fathers adored on this mountain*, and ye say, that at Jerusalem is the place, where men must adore."

21. Jesus saith to her: "Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither on this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, adore the Father."

22. "Ye adore that, which ye know not: we adore that, which we know: for salvation is of the Jews."

23. "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true adorer shall adore the Father in spirit and in truth. For the Father also seeketh such to adore him."

24. "God is a spirit; and those, who adore him, must adore him in spirit and in truth."

25. The woman saith to him: "I know, that the Messiah cometh (who is called Christ); therefore when he is come, he will tell us all things."

26. Jesus saith to her: "I am he, who am speaking with thee."

27. And immediately his disciples came: and they wondered, that he talked with the woman. Yet no man said: "What seekest thou, or why talkest thou with her?"

28. The woman therefore left her water-pot, and went away into the city, and saith to those men:

29. "Come, and see a man who hath told me all things, that ever I did. Is not he the Christ?"

30. Then they went out of the city, and came to him.

31. In the mean time the disciples prayed him, saying: "Rabbi, eat."

32. But he said to them: "I have food to eat, which ye know not of."

33. The disciples therefore said one to another: "Hath any man brought him any thing to eat?"

34. Jesus saith to them: "My food is to do the will of him, who sent me, that I may perfect his work."

35. "Do not ye say, there are yet four months, and then the harvest cometh? Behold, I say to you, lift up your eyes, and see the countries, for they are white already to harvest."

36. "And he, who reapeth, receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto everlasting life: that both he, who soweth, and he, who reapeth, may rejoice together."

37. "For in this is that saying true: that it is one man, who soweth, and it is another, who reapeth."

38. "I have sent you to reap that, in which ye did not labour: others have laboured, and ye have entered into their labours."

39. Now of that city many of the Samaritans believed in him, for the word of the woman giving testimony: "He told me all, that ever I did."

40. So when the Samaritans were come to him, they desired him that he would stay there. And he said there two days.

41. And many more believed in him, because of his own word.

42. And they said to the woman: "We now believe, not for thy saying: for we ourselves have heard him, and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world."

43. Now after two days he departed thence; and went into Galilee.

44. For Jesus himself gave testimony, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45. And when he had come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things he had done at Jerusalem on the festival day: for they also went to the festival day.

46. He came again therefore into Cana of Galilee, where he had made the water wine. And there was a certain ruler, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47. He having heard that Jesus was come from Judea into Galilee, went to him, and prayed him to come down and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48. Then Jesus said to him: "Unless ye see signs and wonders, ye believe not."

* This mountain. Garizim, where the Samaritans had their schismatical temple.

49. The ruler saith to him: "Sir, come down before my son die."

50. Jesus saith to him: "Go thy way; thy son liveth." The man believed the word, which Jesus said to him, and went his way.

51. And as he was going down, his servants met him: and they brought word, saying: "That his son lived."

52. He asked therefore of them the hour, wherein he grew better. And they said to him: "Yesterday at the seventh hour, the fever left him."

53. The father therefore knew that it was at the same hour, that Jesus said to him: "Thy son liveth:" and himself believed, and his whole house.

54. This is again the second miracle, that Jesus did, when he had come out of Judea into Galilee.

C H A P. V.

Christ heals on the sabbath the man languishing thirty-eight years; his discourse upon this occasion.

AFTER this was a festival day of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2. Now there is at Jerusalem a pond, called *Probatika, which in Hebrew is named Bethsaida, having five porches.

3. In these lay a great multitude of sick, of blind, of lame, of withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4. And an angel of the Lord went down at certain times into the pond: and the water was moved. And he, who went down first into the pond, after the motion of the water, was made whole of whatsoever infirmity he lay under.

5. And there was a certain man there, who had been eight and thirty years under his infirmity.

6. Him when Jesus had seen lying, and knew, that he had been now a long time, he saith to him: "Wilt thou be made whole?"

7. The infirm man answered him: "Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pond: for while I am coming, another goeth down before me."

8. Jesus saith to him: "Arise; take up thy bed; and walk."

9. And immediately the man was made whole: and he took up his bed, and walked. And it was the sabbath that day.

10. The Jews therefore said to him, who was cured: "It is the sabbath: it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed."

11. He answered them: "He, who made me whole, said to me: 'Take up thy bed, and walk.'"

12. They asked him therefore: "Who is that man, who said to thee: 'Take up thy bed, and walk?'"

13. But he, who was healed, knew not who it was. For Jesus went aside from the multitude, that was standing in the place.

14. Afterwards Jesus findeth him in the temple, and saith to him: "Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest some worse thing happen to thee."

* Probatika. That is, the sheep-pond: perhaps so called because the sheep were washed therein, which were to be offered up in sacrifice in the temple, or because it was near the sheep-gate.

15. The man went his way, and told the Jews, that it was Jesus, who had made him whole.

16. Therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus; because he did these things on the sabbath.

17. But Jesus answered them: "My father worketh until now: and I work."

18. Hereupon therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he did not only break the sabbath, but also said, God was his Father, making himself equal to God. Then Jesus answered, and said to them:

19. "Amen, amen I say unto you: the Son cannot do any thing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doth, these the Son also doth in like manner.

20. "For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him: all things, which himself doth: and greater works than these, will he shew him, that ye may wonder.

21. "For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and giveth life: so the Son also giveth life, to whom he will.

22. "For neither doth the Father judge any man; but hath committed all judgment to the Son;

23. "That all men may honour the Son, as they honour the Father. He, who honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father, who hath sent him.

24. "Amen, amen I say unto you, he, who heareth my word, and believeth him, who sent me, hath everlasting life; and cometh not into judgment, but is passed from death to life.

25. "Amen, amen, I say unto you, that the hour cometh, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and those, who hear, shall live.

26. "For as the Father hath life in himself; so he hath given to the Son also to have life in himself:

27. "And he hath given him authority to execute judgment; because he is the Son of man.

28. "Wonder not at this; for the hour cometh, wherein all, that are in the graves, shall hear the voice of the Son of God.

29. "And those, who have done good, shall come forth unto the resurrection of life; but those, who have done evil, unto the resurrection of judgment†.

30. "I can do nothing of myself. As I hear, so I judge: and my judgment is just: because I seek not my own will, but the will of him, who sent me.

31. "If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32. "There is another, who beareth witness of me, and I know, that the witness, which he witnesseth of me is true.

33. "Ye sent to John; and he gave testimony to the truth.

34. "But I receive not testimony from man: but I say these things, that ye may be saved.

35. "He was a burning and a shining light. And ye were willing for a time to rejoice in his light.

36. "But I have a greater testimony than that of John. For the works, which the Father hath given me to perfect—the works themselves, which I do, give testimony of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37. "And the Father himself, who hath sent me

† Judgment. That is, condemnation.

hath given testimony of me: neither have ye heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38. "And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39. "Search the scriptures; for ye think in them to have life everlasting; and the same are they, that give testimony of me:

40. "And ye will not come to me, that ye may have life.

41. "I receive not glory from men.

42. "But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43. "I have come in the name of my Father; and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44. "How can ye believe, who receive glory one from another: and the glory, which is from God alone, ye do not seek?

45. "Think not, that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one, who accuseth you—Moses, in whom ye trust.

46. "For if ye did believe Moses, ye would perhaps believe me also. For he wrote of me.

47. "But if ye do not believe his writings, how will ye believe my words?"

CHAP. VI.

Christ feeds five thousand with five loaves: he walks upon the sea, and discourses of the bread of life.

AFTER this Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is that of Tiberias:

2. And a great multitude followed him; because they saw the miracles, which he did on those, who were diseased.

3. And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4. Now the passch, the festival day of the Jews, was near at hand.

5. When Jesus therefore had lifted up his eyes, and seen, that a very great multitude cometh to him, he said to Philip: "Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?"

6. And this he said to try him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7. Philip answered him: "Two-hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little."

8. One of his disciples, Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, saith to him:

9. "There is a boy here, who hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are these among so many?"

10. Then Jesus said: "Make the men sit down." Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11. And Jesus took the loaves: and when he had given thanks, he distributed to those, who were set down: in like manner also of the fishes, as much as they would.

12. And when they were filled, he said to his disciples: "Gather up the fragments, which remain, lest they be lost."

13. So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above to those, who had eaten.

14. Then those men, when they had seen what a miracle Jesus had done, said: "This is, of a truth, the prophet, who is to come into the world."

15. When Jesus therefore perceived, that they would come to take him by force, and make him king, he fled again into the mountain himself alone.

16. And when evening had come, his disciples went down to the sea.

17. And when they had entered into a ship, they went over the sea to Capharnaum: and it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18. And the sea arose, by reason of a great wind, that blew.

19. So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing near to the ship: and they were afraid.

20. But he saith to them: "It is I: be not afraid."

21. They were willing therefore to take him into the ship: and presently the ship was at the land, to which they were going.

22. The next day the multitude, that stood on the other side of the sea, saw, that there was no other ship there but one, and that Jesus had not entered into the ship with his disciples, but that his disciples were gone away alone:

23. But other ships came in from Tiberias, near to the place, where they had eaten the bread, the Lord giving thanks.

24. When the people therefore saw, that Jesus was not there, nor his disciples, they took shipping, and came to Capharnaum, seeking for Jesus.

25. And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said to him: "Rabbi, when comest thou hither?"

26. Jesus answered them, and said: "Amen, amen I say to you: ye seek me, not because ye have seen miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27. "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man will give you. For him hath God the Father sealed."

28. They said therefore to him: "What shall we do, that we may work the works of God?"

29. Jesus answered, and said to them: "This is the work of God, that ye believe in him, whom he hath sent."

30. They said therefore to him: "What sign then dost thou shew, that we may see, and may believe thee? what dost thou work?"

31. "Our fathers did eat manna in the desert, as it is written: 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'"

32. Then Jesus said to them: "Amen, amen I say to you: Moses gave you not bread from heaven, but my

* Or, You search the scriptures. Scrutamini scripturas. It is not a command for all to read the scriptures; but a reproach to the pharisees, that, reading the scriptures as they did, and thinking to find everlasting life in them, they would not receive him, to whom all those scriptures gave testimony, and through whom alone they could have that true life.

Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33. "For the bread of God is that, which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life to the world."

34. Then they said to him: "Lord, give us always this bread."

35. And Jesus said to them: "I am the bread of life: he, who cometh to me, shall not hunger; and he, who believeth in me, shall never thirst."

36. "But I said to you, that ye also have seen me, and do not believe."

37. "All that the Father giveth me, shall come to me; and him, who cometh to me, I will not cast out:

38. "Because I came down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him, who sent me."

39. "Now this is the will of the Father who sent me; that of all, that he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again in the last day."

40. "And this is the will of my Father that sent me; that every one, who seeth the Son, and believeth in him, may have everlasting life, and I will raise him up in the last day."

41. The Jews then murmured at him, because he had said: "I am the living bread, which came down from heaven."

42. And they said: "Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How then saith he: 'I came down from heaven?'"

43. Jesus therefore answered, and said to them: "Murmur not among yourselves."

44. "No man can come to me, except the Father, who hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day."

45. "It is written in the prophets: 'And they shall all be taught of God.' Every one, who hath heard of the Father, and hath learned, cometh to me."

46. "Not that any man hath seen the Father, but he, who is of God, he hath seen the Father."

47. "Amen, amen I say unto you: he, who believeth in me, hath everlasting life."

48. "I am the bread of life."

49. "Your fathers did eat manna in the desert, and they died."

50. "This is the bread descending down from heaven: that if any one eat of it, he may not die."

51. "I am the living bread, which came down from heaven."

52. "If any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread, which I will give, is my flesh for the life of the world."

53. The Jews therefore debated among themselves, saying: "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?"

54. Then Jesus said to them: "Amen, amen I say unto you: unless ye eat the flesh of the son of man, and drink his blood, ye shall not have life in you."

* Draw him. Not by compulsion, nor by laying the free-will under any necessity, but by the strong and sweet motions of his heavenly grace.

+ Unless ye eat—and drink, &c. To receive both the body and blood of Christ, is a divine precept, intimated in this text; which the faithful fulfil, tho' they receive but in one kind, because in one kind they receive both body and blood, which cannot be separated from each other. Hence life eternal is here

55. "He, who eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day."

56. "For my flesh is meat indeed: and my blood is drink indeed."

57. "He, who eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, abideth in me, and I in him."

58. "As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he, who eateth me, the same also shall live by me."

59. "This is the bread, which came down from heaven. Not as your fathers did eat manna, and died. He, who eateth this bread, shall live for ever."

60. These things he said, teaching in the synagogue, in Capharnaum.

61. Many therefore of his disciples hearing it, said: "This saying is hard, and who can hear it?"

62. But Jesus knowing in himself, that his disciples murmured at this, said to them: "Doth this scandalize you?"

63. "If then ye shall see † the Son of man ascend up where he was before?"

64. "It is the spirit, that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing. || The words, that I have spoken to you, are spirit and life."

65. "But there are some of you, who believe not." For Jesus knew from the beginning, who they were, that did not believe, and who he was, that would betray him.

66. And he said: "Therefore did I say to you, that no man can come to me, unless it be given him by my Father."

67. After this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

68. Then Jesus said to the twelve: "Will ye also go away?"

69. And Simon Peter answered him: "Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life."

promised to the worthy receiving, though but in one kind, ver. 52. If any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread, which I will give, is my flesh for the life of the world, ver. 58. He, who eateth me, shall live by me, ver. 59. He, who eateth this bread, shall live for ever.

† If then ye shall see, &c. Christ by mentioning his ascension, by this instance of his power and divinity, would confirm the truth of what he had before asserted; and at the same time correct their gross apprehension of eating his flesh, and drinking his blood, in a vulgar and carnal manner, by letting them know, he should take his whole body living with him to heaven; and consequently not suffer it to be, as they supposed, divided, mangled, and consumed upon earth.

|| The flesh profiteth nothing. Dead flesh, separated from the spirit, in the gross manner they supposed they were to eat his flesh, would profit nothing. Neither doth man's flesh, that is to say, man's natural and carnal apprehension (which refuses to be subject to the spirit and words of Christ) profit any thing. But it would be the height of blasphemy, to say, the living flesh of Christ (which we receive in the blessed sacrament, with his spirit, that is, with his soul and divinity) profiteth nothing. For if Christ's flesh had profited us nothing, he would never have taken flesh for us, nor died in the flesh for us.

§ Are spirit and life. By proposing to you a heavenly sacrament, in which ye shall receive, in a wonderful manner, spirit, grace, and life in its very fountain.

70. "And we have believed, and have known, that thou art the Christ the Son of God."

71. Jesus answered them: "Have not I chosen you twelve? and one of you is a devil."

72. Now he meant Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon: for this same was about to betray him, whereas he was one of the twelve.

CHAP. VII.

Christ goes up to the feast of the tabernacles: he teaches in the temple.

AFTER these things Jesus walked in Galilee; for he would not walk in Judea: because the Jews sought to kill him.

2. Now the feast of the Jews, called of the tabernacles, was at hand.

3. And his brethren said to him: "Pass from hence, and go into Judea; that thy disciples also may see thy works, which thou dost."

4. "For there is no man, who doth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly: if thou do these things, manifest thyself to the world."

5. For neither did his brethren believe in him.

6. Then Jesus said to them: "My time is not yet come; but your time is always ready."

7. "The world cannot hate you: but me it hateth: because I give testimony of it, that the works thereof are evil."

8. "Go ye up to this festival day; but I go not up to this festival day; because my time is not yet fulfilled."

9. When he had said these things, he himself staid in Galilee.

10. But after his brethren had gone up, then he also went up to the feast, not publicly, but as it were in private.

11. The Jews therefore sought him on the festival day, and said: "Where is he?"

12. And there was much murmuring among the multitude concerning him. For some said: "He is a good man." And others said: "No, but he seduceth the people."

13. Yet no man spoke openly of him, for fear of the Jews.

14. Now about the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15. And the Jews wondered, saying: "How doth this man know letters, having never learned?"

16. Jesus answered them, and said: "My doctrine is not mine, but of him, who sent me."

17. "If any man will do the will of him, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be from God, or whether I speak from myself."

18. "He, who speaketh from himself, seeketh his own glory: but he, who seeketh the glory of him, who sent him, he is true; and there is no injustice in him:"

19. "Did not Moses give you the law; and none of you keepeth the law?"

20. "Why seek ye to kill me?" The multitude answered, and said: "Thou hast a devil: who seeketh to kill thee?"

21. Jesus answered, and said to them: "One work I have done; and ye all wonder:"

22. "Therefore Moses gave you circumcision: (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers,) and on the sabbath-day ye circumcise a man.

23. "If a man receive circumcision on the sabbath-day, that the law of Moses may not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have healed the whole man on the sabbath-day?"

24. "Judge not according to the appearance; but judge a just judgment."

25. Then some of Jerusalem said: "Is not this he, whom they seek to kill?"

26. "And behold, he speaketh openly: and they say nothing to him. Have the rulers known for a truth, that this is the Christ?"

27. "But we know this man, whence he is: he when the Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is."

28. Jesus therefore cried out in the temple, teaching and saying: "Ye both know me, and ye know whom I am: and I am not come of myself; but he, who sent me, is true, whom ye know not."

29. "I know him: because I am from him, and he hath sent me."

30. They sought therefore to apprehend him: but no man laid hands on him; because his hour was not yet come.

31. But of the people many believed in him, and said: "When the Christ cometh, shall he do more miracles than these, which this man doth?"

32. The pharisees heard the people murmuring these things concerning him: and the rulers and pharisees sent ministers to apprehend him.

33. Jesus therefore said to them: "Yet a little while I am with you: and I go to him, who sent me."

34. "Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: where I am, ye cannot come."

35. The Jews therefore said among themselves: "Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go to the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?"

36. "What is this saying, that he hath said: 'Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?'"

37. Now on the last great day of the festivity, Jesus stood, and cried out, saying: "If any man thirst, let him come to me, and drink."

38. "He, who believeth in me, as the scripture saith, 'Out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.'"

39. Now this he said of the spirit, which those should receive, who believed in him: for as yet the spirit was not given; because Jesus was not yet glorified.

40. Of that multitude therefore, when they had heard these words of his, some said: "This is the prophet indeed."

41. Others said: "This is the Christ." But some said: "Doth the Christ come out of Galilee?"

42. Doth not the scripture say: "That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of Bethlehem, the town where David was?"

43. So there arose a dissension among the people because of him.

44. And some of them would have apprehended him: but no man laid hands upon him.

45. So the ministers came to the chief priests and the pharisees. And they said to them: "Why have ye not brought him?"

46. The ministers answered: "Never did man speak, like this man."

47. Then the pharisees answered them: "Are ye also seduced?"

48. "Hath any one of the rulers believed in him, or of the pharisees?"

49. "But this multitude, that knoweth not the law, is accursed."

50. Nicodemus said to them, he who came to him by night, who was one of them:

51. "Doth our law judge any man, unless it first hear him, and know what he doth?"

52. They answered, and said to him: "Art thou also a Galilean? Search the scriptures, and see, that out of Galilee a prophet riseth not."

53. And every man returned to his own house.

C H A P. VIII.

The woman taken in adultery. Christ justifies his doctrine.

AND Jesus went to mount Olivet.

2. And early in the morning he came again into the temple; and all the people came to him: and he sat down, and taught them.

3. And the scribes and pharisees bring to him a woman taken in adultery: and they set her in the midst;

4. And said to him: "Master, this woman was even now taken in adultery."

5. "Now Moses in the law commanded us to stone such a one. But what sayest thou?"

6. And this they said tempting him, that they might accuse him. But Jesus, stooping down, wrote with his finger on the ground.

7. And when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said to them: "He, who is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her."

8. And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9. But they hearing this, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest. And Jesus alone remained, and the woman standing in the midst.

10. Then Jesus lifting up himself, said to her: "Woman, where are they that accused thee? Hath no man condemned thee?"

11. And she said: "No man, Lord." And Jesus said: "Neither will I condemn thee. Go, and now sin no more."

12. And again Jesus spoke to them, saying: "I am the light of the world: he, who followeth me, walketh not in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

13. The pharisees therefore said to him: "Thou givest testimony of thyself: thy testimony is not true."

14. Jesus answered, and said to them: "Although I give testimony of myself, my testimony is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but ye know not whence I come, or whither I go."

15. "Ye judge according to the flesh: I judge not any man."

16. "And if I do judge, my judgment is true, because I am not alone: but I and the Father who sent me."

17. "And in your law it is written, that the testimony of two men is true."

18. "I am one, who give testimony of myself: and the Father, who sent me, giveth testimony of me."

19. They said therefore to him: "Where is thy Father?" Jesus answered: "Neither me do ye know, nor my Father: if ye did know me, ye would know my Father also."

20. These words Jesus spoke in the treasury, teaching in the temple: and no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

21. Then Jesus said to them again: "I go my way: and ye shall seek me, and ye shall die in your sin. Whither I go, ye cannot come."

22. The Jews therefore said: "Will he kill himself?" because he said: "Whither I go, ye cannot come."

23. And he said to them: "Ye are from beneath: I am from above. Ye are of this world; I am not of this world."

24. "Therefore I said to you, that ye shall die in your sins. For if ye believe not, that I am he, ye shall die in your sin."

25. They said therefore to him: "Who art thou?" Jesus said to them: "The beginning, who also speak to you."

26. "I have many things to speak, and to judge of you. But he, who sent me, is true: and the things, I have heard from him, the same I speak in the world."

27. Now they did not know, that he said God was his Father.

28. Jesus therefore said to them: "When ye shall have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know, that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as the Father hath taught me, I speak these things."

29. "And he, who sent me, is with me, and he hath not left me alone: for I do always the things, that please him."

30. As he spoke these things, many believed in him.

31. Then Jesus said to those Jews, who believed him: "If ye continue in my word, ye shall be my disciples indeed,"

32. "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

33. They answered him: "We are the seed of Abraham; and we have never been slaves to any man: how sayest thou: 'Ye shall be free?'"

34. Jesus answered them: "Amen, amen I say unto you, that whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin."

35. "Now the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the son abideth for ever."

36. "If therefore the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed."

37. "I know, that ye are the children of Abraham: but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you."

38. "I speak that, which I have seen with my Father: and ye do the things, which ye have seen with your father."

39. They answered, and said to him: "Abraham is our father." Jesus saith to them: "If ye be the children of Abraham, do the works of Abraham."

40. "But now ye seek to kill me—a man, who have spoken the truth to you, which I have heard from God. This Abraham did not.

41. "Ye do the deeds of your father." They said then to him: "We are not born of fornication: we have one Father, God."

42. But Jesus said to them: "If God were your Father, verily ye would love me. For I proceeded and came from God: for I came not of myself; but he sent me.

43. "Why do ye not know my speech? Because ye cannot hear my word.

44. "Ye are of your father, the devil; and the desires of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning; and he abode not in the truth; because truth is not in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

45. "But if I say the truth, ye believe me not.

46. "Which of you shall convince me of sin? If I say the truth to you, why do ye not believe me?

47. "He, who is of God, heareth the words of God. Therefore ye hear them not; because ye are not of God."

48. The Jews therefore answered, and said to him: "Do we not say well, that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil?"

49. Jesus answered: "I have not a devil: but I honour my Father, and ye have dishonoured me.

50. "But I seek not my own glory: there is one, who seeketh and judgeth.

51. "Amen, amen I say to you: if any man keep my word, he shall not see death for ever."

52. The Jews therefore said: "Now we know, that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets: and thou sayest: 'If any man keep my word, he shall not taste death for ever.'

53. "Art thou greater than our father Abraham, who is dead? and the prophets are dead. Whom dost thou make thyself?"

54. Jesus answered: "If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father, who glorifieth me, of whom ye say, that he is your God.

55. "And ye have not known him: but I know him. And if I should say, that I know him not, I should be like to you, a liar. But I know him, and keep his word.

56. "Abraham your father rejoiced, that he might see my day: he saw it, and was glad."

57. The Jews then said to him: "Thou art not yet fifty years old; and hast thou seen Abraham?"

58. Jesus said to them: "Amen, amen I say to you, before Abraham was made, I am."

59. Then they took up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple.

C H A P. IX.

He gives sight to the man born blind.

AND Jesus passing by, saw a man, who was blind from his birth:

2. And his disciples asked him: "Rabbi, who hath sinned—this man, or his parents—that he should be born blind?"

3. Jesus answered: "Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4. "I must work the works of him, who sent me, whilst it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5. "As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world."

6. When he had said these things, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and spread the clay upon his eyes;

7. And said to him: "Go wash in the pool of Siloe," (which is interpreted, Sent.) He went therefore, and washed, and he came seeing.

8. The neighbours therefore, and those, who had seen him before, that he was a beggar, said: "Is not this he, who sat, and begged?" Some said: "This is he."

9. And others, "No; but he is like him." But he said: "I am he."

10. They said therefore to him: "How were thy eyes opened?"

11. He answered: "That man, who is called Jesus, made clay, and anointed my eyes, and said to me: 'Go to the pool of Siloe, and wash.' And I went: I washed; and I see."

12. And they said to him: "Where is he?" He saith: "I know not."

13. They bring him, who had been blind, to the pharisees.

14. Now it was the sabbath, when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15. Again therefore the pharisees asked him, how he had received his sight. But he said to them: "He put clay upon my eyes; and I washed; and I see."

16. Some therefore of the pharisees said: "This man is not of God, who keepeth not the sabbath." But others said: "How can a man, who is a sinner, do such miracles?" And there was a division among them.

17. They say therefore to the blind man again: "What sayest thou of him, who hath opened thy eyes?" And he said: "He is a prophet."

18. The Jews then did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him, who had received his sight,

19. And asked them, saying: "Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? How then doth he now see?"

20. His parents answered them, and said: "We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21. "But how he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: ask himself: he is of age; let him speak for himself."

22. These things his parents said, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had already agreed among themselves, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.

23. Therefore did his parents say: "He is of age; ask him."

24. They therefore called the man again, who had been blind, and said to him: "Give glory to God. We know, that this man is a sinner."

25. He said then to them : " If he be a sinner, I know not : one thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see."

26. Then they said to him : " What did he to thee ? How did he open thy eyes ?"

27. He answered them : " I have told you already, and ye have heard : why would ye hear it again ? will ye also become his disciples ?"

28. They reviled him therefore, and said : " Be thou his disciple : but we are the disciples of Moses."

29. " We know that God spake to Moses : but as to this man, we know not from whence he is."

30. The man answered, and said to them : " Why, herein is a wonderful thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and he hath opened my eyes."

31. " Now we know, that God doth not hear sinners : but if a man be a worshipper of God, and doth his will, him he heareth."

32. " From the beginning of the world, it hath not been heard, that any man hath opened the eyes of one born blind."

33. " Unless this man were of God, he could not do any thing."

34. They answered, and said to him : " Thou wast wholly born in sins, and dost thou teach us ?" And they cast him out.

35. Jesus heard, that they had cast him out : and when he had found him, he said to him : " Dost thou believe in the Son of God ?"

36. He answered, and said : " Who is he, Lord, that I may believe in him ?"

37. And Jesus said to him : " Thou hast both seen him ; and it is he, who talketh with thee."

38. And he said : " I believe, Lord." And falling down, he adored him.

39. And Jesus said : " For judgment I have come † into this world ; that those, who see not, may see ; and those, who see, may become blind."

40. And some of the pharisees, who were with him, heard : and they said to him : " Are we also blind ?"

41. Jesus said to them : " If ye were blind*, ye should not have sin : but now ye say : ' We see,' your sin remaineth :"

C H A P. X.

Christ is the door, and the good shepherd. He and his Father are one.

" A MEN, amen I say to you : he, who entereth not by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up another way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2. " But he, who entereth in by the door, is the shepherd of the sheep ;

3. " To whom the porter openeth ; and the sheep hear his voice : and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

† I have come. Not that Christ came for that end, that any one should be made blind : but that the Jews, by the abuse of his coming, and by their not receiving him, brought upon themselves this judgment of blindness.

* If ye were blind, &c. If ye were invincibly ignorant, and had neither read the scriptures, nor seen my miracles, ye would not be guilty of the sin of infidelity : but now, as ye boast of your knowledge of the scriptures, ye are inexcusable.

4. " And when he hath let out his own sheep, he goeth before them : and the sheep follow him ; because they know his voice.

5. " But a stranger they follow not, but fly from him ; because they know not the voice of strangers."

6. This parable Jesus spake to them. But they understood not what he was speaking to them.

7. Jesus therefore said to them again : " Amen, amen I say to you, I am the door of the sheep.

8. " All those, who came, are thieves and robbers, and the sheep heard them not.

9. " I am the door. If any one enter by me, he shall be saved : and he shall go in, and go out, and shall find pastures.

10. " The thief cometh not, but to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I have come, that they may have life, and may have it more abundantly.

11. " I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd giveth his life for his sheep.

12. " But the hireling, and he, who is not the shepherd, whose own sheep they are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and flieth : and the wolf snatcheth, and scattereth the sheep :

13. " And the hireling flieth, because he is a hireling : and he hath no care for the sheep.

14. " I am the good shepherd : and I know mine, and mine know me.

15. " As the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father : and I lay down my life for my sheep.

16. " And other sheep I have, who are not of this fold : them also I must bring : and they shall hear my voice ; and there shall be one fold and one shepherd.

17. " Therefore doth the Father love me : because I lay down my life, that I may take it again.

18. " No man taketh it away from me : but I lay it down of myself ; and I have power to lay it down : and I have power to take it up again. This commandment have I received from my Father."

19. A dissension rose again among the Jews for these words.

20. And many of them said : " He hath a devil, and is mad : why hear ye him ?"

21. Others said : " These are not the words of one, who hath a devil : can a devil open the eyes of the blind ?"

22. And it was the feast of the dedication at Jerusalem : and it was winter.

23. And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch.

24. The Jews therefore came round about him, and said to him : " How long dost thou hold our souls in suspense ? if thou be the Christ, tell us plainly."

25. Jesus answered them : " I speak to you, and ye believe not : the works, that I do in the name of my Father, they give testimony of me :

26. " But ye do not believe ; because ye are not of my sheep.

27. " My sheep hear my voice : and I know them, and they follow me :

28. " And I give them life everlasting ; and they shall not perish for ever : and no man shall snatch them out of my hand.

29. "That, which my Father hath given me, is greater than all: and no one can snatch them out of the hand of my Father.

30. "I and the Father are one."

31. The Jews then took up stones, to stone him.

32. Jesus answered them: "Many good works I have shewn to you from my Father: for which of those works do ye stone me?"

33. The Jews answered him: "For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy: and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God."

34. Jesus answered them: "Is it not written in your law: 'I said ye are gods?'"

35. "If he called them gods, to whom the word of God was spoken, and the scripture cannot be made void:

36. "Do ye say of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world: 'Thou blasphemest:' because I said: 'I am the Son of God?'"

37. "If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not;

38. "But if I do—though ye will not believe me, believe the works, that ye may know and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in the Father."

39. They sought therefore to take him: and he escaped out of their hands.

40. And he went away again beyond the Jordan into that place, where John was baptizing first; and there he abode:

41. And many resorted to him, and they said: "John indeed did no sign.

42. "But all things whatsoever John said of this man, were true." And many believed in him.

C H A P. XI.

Christ raises Lazarus to life. The Jews resolve on his death.

NOW there was a certain man sick, named Lazarus, of Bethania, of the town of Mary, and of Martha her sister.

2. (And Mary was she, who anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair: whose brother Lazarus was sick).

3. His sisters therefore sent to him, saying: "Lord, behold, he, whom thou lovest, is sick."

4. And Jesus hearing it, said to them: "This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God: that the Son of God may be glorified by it."

5. Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister Mary, and Lazarus.

6. When he had heard therefore, that he was sick, he still remained in the same place two days.

7. Then after that he said to his disciples: "Let us go into Judea again."

8. The disciples say to him: "Rabbi, the Jews but just now sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?"

9. Jesus answered: "Are there not twelve hours of the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not; because he seeth the light of this world:

10. "But if he walk in the night, he stumbleth; because the light is not in him."

11. These things he said: and after that he said to them: "Lazarus our friend sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep."

12. His disciples therefore said: "Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well."

13. But Jesus spoke of his death: and they thought, that he spoke of the repose of sleep.

14. Then therefore Jesus said to them plainly: "Lazarus is dead:

15. "And I am glad, for your sake, that I was not there, that ye may believe; but let us go to him."

16. Then Thomas, who is called Didymus, said to his fellow-disciples: "Let us also go, that we may die with him."

17. So Jesus came; and found, that he had been four days already in the grave.

18. (Now Bethania was near Jerusalem, about sixteen furlongs off).

19. And many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

20. Martha therefore, as soon as she heard, that Jesus was come, went to meet him: but Mary sat at home.

21. And Martha said to Jesus: "Lord, if he had been here, my brother had not died:

22. "But now also I know, that whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee."

23. Jesus saith to her: "Thy brother shall rise again."

24. Martha saith to him: "I know, that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day."

25. Jesus said to her: "I am the resurrection and the life: he, who believeth in me, although he be dead, shall live:

26. "And every one, who liveth, and believeth in me, shall not die for ever. Believest thou this?"

27. She saith to him: "Yea, Lord; I have believed, that thou art Christ the Son of the living God, who art come into this world."

28. And when she had said these things, she went, and called her sister Mary secretly, saying: "The Master is come, and calleth for thee."

29. She, as soon as she heard this, riseth quickly, and cometh to him.

30. For Jesus had not yet come into the town: but he was still in that place, where Martha had met him.

31. The Jews therefore, who were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, as she rose up speedily, and went out, followed her, saying: "She goeth to the grave, to weep there."

32. When Mary therefore had come, where Jesus was, seeing him, she fell down at his feet, and said to him: "Lord, if thou had been here, my brother had not died."

33. When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews, who were come with her, weeping, he groaned in the spirit, and troubled himself,

34. And said: "Where have ye laid him?" They say to him: "Lord, come and see."

35. And Jesus wept.

36. The Jews therefore said: "Behold, how he loved him."

37. But some of them said: "Could not he, who opened the eyes of the man born blind, have caused, that this man should not die?"

38. Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, cometh to the sepulchre: now it was a cave: and a stone was laid over it.

39. Jesus saith: "Take away the stone." Martha the sister of him, who was dead, saith unto him: "Lord, by this time he stinketh; for he is now dead four days."

40. Jesus saith to her: "Did not I say to thee, that if thou wilt believe, thou shalt see the glory of God?"

41. They took therefore the stone away: and Jesus lifting up his eyes, said: "Father, I give thee thanks; that thou hast heard me."

42. "And I knew, that thou hearest me always; but because of the people, who stand about, have I said it; that they may believe, that thou hast sent me."

43. When he had said these things, he cried with a loud voice: "Lazarus, come forth."

44. And presently he, who had been dead, came forth, bound feet and hands with winding bands, and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus said to them. "Loose him, and let him go."

45. Many therefore of the Jews, who had come to Mary and Martha, and had seen the things that Jesus did, believed in him.

46. But some of them went to the pharisees, and told them the things, that Jesus had done.

47. The chief priests therefore and the pharisees gathered a council, and said: "What do we, for this man doth many miracles?"

48. "If we let him alone so, all men will believe in him: and the Romans will come, and take away our place and nation."

49. But one of them named Caiphas, being the high-priest of that year, said to them: "Ye know nothing at all."

50. "Neither do ye consider that it is expedient for you, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not."

51. And this he spoke not of himself: but being the high-priest of that year, he prophesied, that Jesus should die for the nation;

52. And not only for the nation; but to gather together in one the children of God, who were dispersed.

53. From that day therefore, they devised to put him to death.

54. Wherefore Jesus walked no more openly among the Jews; but he went into a country near the desert, unto a city, which is called Ephrem; and there he abode with his disciples.

55. And the pasch of the Jews was at hand: and many from the country went up to Jerusalem before the pasch, to purify themselves.

56. They sought therefore for Jesus: and they discoursed one with another, standing in the temple: "What think ye, that he is not come to the festival day?" And the chief priests and the pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man knew where he was, he should tell, that they might apprehend him.

C H A P. XII.

The anointing of Christ's feet. His riding into Jerusalem upon an ass. A voice from heaven.

NOW Jesus six days before the pasch, came to Bethania, where Lazarus had been dead, whom Jesus raised to life.

2. And they made him a supper there: and Martha served; but Lazarus was one of those, who were at table with him.

3. Mary therefore took a pound of ointment of right spikenard, of great price; and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4. Then one of his disciples, Judas Iskariot, he, who was about to betray him, said:

5. "Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?"

6. Now, he said this, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the purse, carried what was put therein.

7. But Jesus said: "Let her alone, that she may keep it against the day of my burial."

8. "For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always."

9. A great multitude therefore of the Jews knew, that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus's sake only, but that they might see Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead.

10. But the chief priests thought to kill Lazarus also:

11. Because many of the Jews by reason of him, went away, and believed in Jesus.

12. And on the next day, a great multitude, that was come to the festival day, when they had heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem,

13. Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried: "Hosanna, blessed is he, who cometh in the name of the Lord, the King of Israel."

14. And Jesus found a young ass, and sat upon it, as it is written:

15. "Fear not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy king cometh sitting on an ass's colt."

16. These things his disciples did not know at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered, that these things were written of him: and that they had done these things to him.

17. The multitude therefore gave testimony, which was with him, when he called Lazarus out of the grave, and raised him from the dead.

18. For which reason also the people came to meet him: because they heard, that he had done this miracle.

19. The pharisees therefore said among themselves: "Do ye see that we prevail nothing? Behold, the whole world is gone after him."

20. Now there were certain Gentiles among those, who came up to adore on the festival day.

21. These therefore came to Philip, who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, "Sir, we would see Jesus."

22. Philip cometh, and telleth Andrew. Again Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

23. But Jesus answered them, saying: "The hour is come, that the son of man should be glorified."

* See the annotation on St. Matthew, xxvi. 11.

24. "Amen, amen I say to you, unless the grain of wheat fall into the ground, and die,

25. "Itself remaineth alone. But if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. He, who loveth his life, shall lose it: and he, who hateth his life in this world, keepeth it unto life everlasting.

26. "If any man minister to me, let him follow me: and where I am, there also shall my minister be. If any man minister to me, him will my Father honour.

27. "Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? 'Father, save me from this hour.' But for this cause I came unto this hour.

28. "Father, glorify thy name." A voice therefore came from heaven: "I have both glorified it, and I will glorify it again."

29. The multitude therefore, that stood, and heard, said that it thundered. Others said: "An angel spoke to him."

30. Jesus answered, and said: "This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31. "Now is the judgment of the world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32. "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all things to myself."

33. (Now this he said, signifying what death he should die.)

34. The multitude answered him: "We have heard out of the law, that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou: 'The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?'"

35. Jesus therefore said to them: "Yet a little while, the light is among you. Walk while ye have the light, that the darkness overtake you not; and he, who walketh in darkness, knoweth not whither he goeth.

36. "While ye have the light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light." These things Jesus spoke; and he went away, and hid himself from them.

37. And whereas he had done so many miracles before them, they believed not in him:

38. That the saying of Isaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he said: "Lord, who hath believed our hearing? And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?"

39. Therefore they could not believe*, because Isaias said again:

40. "He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them:"

41. These things said Isaias, when he saw his glory, and spoke of him.

42. However many of the chief men also believed in him: but because of the pharisees, they did not confess it, that they might not be cast out of the synagogue.

43. For they loved the glory of men, more than the glory of God.

44. But Jesus cried out, and said: "He, who believeth in me, doth not believe in me, but in him, who sent me.

45. "And he, who seeth me, seeth him, who sent me.

46. "I am come a light into the world; that who-soever believeth in me, may not remain in darkness.

47. "And if any man hear my words, and keep them not, I do not judge him: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48. "He, who despiseth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one, who judgeth him. The word, which I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49. "For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father, who sent me, he gave me command what I should say, and what I should speak.

50. "And I know that his command is life everlasting. The things therefore, that I speak, even as the Father said unto me, so do I speak."

CHAP. XIII.

Christ washes his disciples' feet: the treason of Judas: the new commandment of love.

BEFORE the festival day of the pasch, Jesus knowing that his hour was come, that he should pass out of this world to the Father; having loved his own, who were in the world, he loved them to the end.

2. And when supper was done, (the devil having now put into the heart of Judas the son of Simon the Iscariot, to betray him)

3. Knowing that the Father had given him all things into his hands, and that he came from God, and goeth to God:

4. He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments: and having taken a towel, he girded himself:

5. After that he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the feet of the disciples, and to wipe them with the towel, wherewith he was girded.

6. He cometh therefore to Simon Peter. And Peter saith to him: "Lord, dost thou wash my feet?"

7. Jesus answered, and said to him: "What I do, thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter."

8. Peter saith to him: "Thou shalt never wash my feet." Jesus answered him: "If I wash thee not, thou shalt have no part with me."

9. Simon Peter saith to him: "Lord, not only my feet, but also my hands and my head."

10. Jesus saith to him: "He, who is washed, needeth not but to wash his feet, but is clean wholly. And ye are clean, but not all."

11. For he knew, who he was, that would betray him: therefore he said: "Ye are not all clean."

12. Then after he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, being set down again, he said to them: "Know ye, what I have done to you?"

13. "Ye call me, Master, and Lord: and ye say well, for so I am.

14. "If then I, being Lord and Master, have washed your feet; ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15. "For I have given you an example, that as I have done to you, so ye do also.

16. "Amen, amen I say to you: the servant is not greater than his Lord: neither is the apostle greater than he, who sent him.

* They could not believe. Because they would not, saith St. August. Tr. 33. in Joan. See the annotation, St. Mark iv. 12.

17. "If ye know these things, ye shall be blessed, if ye do them."

18. "I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled: 'He, who eateth bread with me, shall lift up his heel against me.'"

19. "At present I tell you before it come to pass: that when it shall come to pass, ye may believe, that I am the Messiah."

20. "Amen, amen I say to you, he, who receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me: and he, who receiveth me, receiveth him, who sent me."

21. When Jesus had said these things, he was troubled in spirit: and he testified, and said: "Amen, amen I say to you, one of you will betray me."

22. The disciples therefore looked one upon another, doubting of whom he spoke.

23. Now there was leaning on Jesus's bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24. Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him; and said to him: "Who is it, of whom he speaketh?"

25. He therefore leaning on the breast of Jesus, saith to him: "Lord, who is it?"

26. Jesus answered: "He it is, to whom I shall reach bread dipped." And when he had dipped the bread, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27. And after the morsel, satan entered into him. And Jesus said to him: "That, which thou doest, do quickly*."

28. Now no man at the table knew, for what intent he said this to him.

29. For some thought, because Judas had the purse, that Jesus had said to him: "Buy those things, which we have need of for the festival day:" or that he should give something to the poor.

30. He then having received the morsel, went out immediately. And it was night.

31. When therefore he had gone out, Jesus said: "Now is the Son of man glorified: and God is glorified in him."

32. "If God be glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself: and immediately will he glorify him."

33. "Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said to the Jews: 'Whither I go, ye cannot come:' so now I say to you."

34. "I give you a new commandment: That ye love one another: as I have loved you, that ye also love one another."

35. "By this shall all men know, that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one for another."

36. Simon Peter saith to him: "Lord, whither goest thou?" Jesus answered: "Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now: but thou shalt follow me afterwards."

37. Peter saith to him: "Why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thee."

38. Jesus answered him: "Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Amen, amen I say to thee, the cock shall not crow, till thou deny me thrice."

C H A P. XIV.

Christ's discourse after his last supper.

"LE T not your heart be troubled. Ye believe in God; believe also in me."

2. "In my Father's house there are many mansions. If not, I would have told you; that I go to prepare a place for you."

3. "And if I shall go, and prepare a place for you; I will come again, and will take you to myself, that where I am, ye also may be."

4. "And whither I go, ye know, and the way ye know."

5. Thomas saith to him: "Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?"

6. Jesus saith to him: "I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No man cometh to the Father, but by me."

7. "If ye had known me, ye would surely have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye shall know him, and ye have seen him."

8. Philip saith to him: "Lord, shew us the Father; and it is enough for us."

9. Jesus saith to him: "Have I been so long a time with you; and have ye not known me? Philip, he, who seeth me, seeth the Father also. How sayest thou: 'Shew us the Father?'"

10. "Do ye not believe, that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words, that I speak to you, I speak not of myself. But the Father, who abideth in me, he doth the works."

11. "Believe ye not, that I am in the Father, and the Father in me?"

12. "Otherwise believe for the very works' sake. Amen, amen I say to you, he, who believeth in me, the works, that I do, he shall do also; and greater than these shall he do: because I go to the Father."

13. "And whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, that will I do; that the Father may be glorified in the Son."

14. "If ye shall ask me any thing in my name, that I will do."

15. "If ye love me, keep my commandments."

16. "And I will ask the Father, and he shall give you another Paraclete†, that he may abide with you for ever‡—"

17. "The Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, nor knoweth him: but ye shall know him; because he shall abide with you, and shall be in you."

18. "I will not leave you orphans: I will come to you."

19. "Yet a little while: and the world seeth me

* That, which thou doest, do quickly. It is not a licence, much less a command, to go about his treason, but a signification to him, that Christ would not hinder, or resist what he was about, do it as soon as he pleased; but was both ready and desirous to suffer for our redemption.

† Paraclete. That is, a comforter—or also an advocate; inasmuch as by inspiring prayer, he prays, as it were, in us, and pleads for us.

‡ For ever. Hence it is evident, that this Spirit of truth was not only promised to the persons of the apostles, but also to their successors through all generations.

no more. But ye see me : because I live, and ye shall live.

20. " In that day ye shall know, that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21. " He, who hath my commandments, and keepeth them—he it is, who loveth me. And he, who loveth me, shall be loved by my Father : and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him."

22. Judas saith to him, not the Iscariot : " Lord, how is it, that thou wilt manifest thyself to us, and not to the world ?"

23. Jesus answered, and said to him : " If any one love me, he will keep my word ; and my Father will love him ; and we will come to him ; and will make our abode with him :

24. " He, who loveth me not, keepeth not my words. And the word, which ye have heard, is not mine ; but the Father's, who sent me.

25. " These things have I spoken to you, remaining with you.

26. " But the Paraclete, the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things*, and bring all things to your mind, whatsoever I shall have said to you.

27. " Peace I leave with you : my peace I give to you : not as the world giveth, do I give to you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor let it be afraid.

28. " Ye have heard, that I said to you, ' I go away, and I come again to you.' If ye loved me, ye would indeed be glad, because I go to the Father : for the Father is greater than I.†

29. " And now I have told you, before it come to pass ; that when it shall come to pass, ye may believe.

30. " Now I will not speak many things with you : for the prince of this world cometh ; and in him he hath not any thing.

31. " But that the world may know, that I love the Father, and as the Father hath given me commandment, so I do. Arise, let us go hence."

C H A P. XV.

A continuation of Christ's discourse to his disciples.

" I AM the true vine ; and my Father is the husbandman.

2. " Every branch in me, that beareth not fruit, he will take away : and every one, which beareth fruit, he will purge it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3. " Now ye are clean by reason of the word, which I have spoken to you.

4. " Remain in me—and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it abide in the vine : so neither can ye, unless ye abide in me.

* Teach you all things. Note, that the Holy Ghost is here promised to the apostles and their successors, particularly in order to teach them all truth, and to preserve them from error.

† Greater than I. Christ, as man, is inferior to the Father ; and even as God, has his being from him, by an eternal procession ; but this without any detriment to his being perfectly equal, inasmuch as he has the self-same divinity.

5. " I am the vine—ye the branches : he, who abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit : for without me, ye can do nothing.

6. " If any one remain not in me, he shall be cast forth as a branch, and shall wither ; and they shall gather him up, and cast him into the fire ; and he burneth.

7. " If ye remain in me, and my words remain in you, ye shall ask whatever ye will, and it shall be done to you.

8. " In this is my Father glorified, that ye bring forth very much fruit, and become my disciples.

9. " As the Father hath loved me, I also have loved you. Remain in my love.

10. " If ye keep my commandments, ye will remain in my love ; as I also have kept my Father's commandments, and do remain in his love.

11. " These things I have spoken to you ; that my joy may be in you, and your joy may be filled.

12. " This is my commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13. " Greater love than this no man hath, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14. " Ye are my friends, if ye do the things that I command you.

15. " I will not now call you servants : for the servant knoweth not what his lord doth. But I have called you friends ; because all things whatsoever I have heard from my Father, I have made known to you.

16. " Ye have not chosen me : but I have chosen you ; and have appointed you, that ye should go, and should bring forth fruit : and your fruit should remain ; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17. " These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18. " If the world hate you, know ye, that it hath hated me before you.

19. " If ye had been of the world, the world would love its own : but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore do the world hate you.

20. " Remember my word, that I said to you : ' The servant is not greater than his lord.' If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you : if they have kept my word, they will keep yours also.

21. " But all these things they will do to you for my name's sake : because they know not him, who sent me.

22. " If I had not come, and spoken to them, they would not have sin : but now they have no excuse for their sin.

23. " He, who hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24. " If I had not done among them the works, that no other man hath done, they would not have sin : but now they have both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25. " But that the word may be fulfilled, which is written in their law : ' They have hated me without cause.'

26. " But when the Paraclete shall come, whom I will send^a you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceedeth from the Father, he shall give testimony of me:

27. "And ye shall give testimony; because ye are, with me from the beginning.

C H A P. XVI.

The conclusion of Christ's last discourse to his disciples.

"THESE things have I spoken to you, that ye may not be scandalized.

2. "They will put you out of the synagogues: yea, the hour cometh, when whosoever killeth you, will think, that he doth a service to God.

3. "And these things will they do to you; because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4. "But these things I have told you; that when the hour of them shall come, ye may remember, that I told you.

5. "But I told you not these things from the beginning; because I was with you: and now I go to him, who sent me; and none of you asketh me: 'Whither goest thou?'

6. "But because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

7. "But I tell you the truth: it is expedient for you, that I go: for if I go not, the Paraclete will not come to you: but if I go, I will send him to you.

8. "And when he shall come, he will convince the world of sin[†], and of justice, and of judgment:

9. "Of sin indeed: because they have not believed in me:

10. "And of justice; because I go to the Father; and ye shall see me no longer:

11. "And of judgment; because the prince of this world is already judged.

12. "I have yet many things to say to you: but ye cannot bear them now.

13. "But when he, the Spirit of truth, shall come, he will teach you all truth[‡]. For he shall not speak of himself; but what things soever he shall hear, he shall speak: and the things, which are to come, he will shew you.

14. "He shall glorify me; because he shall receive of mine, and will declare it to you.

15. "All things whatsoever the Father hath, are mine. Therefore I said, that he shall receive of mine, and will declare it to you.

16. "A little while, and now ye shall not see me: and again a little while, and ye shall see me: because I go to the Father."

17. Then some of his disciples said one to another:

^a Whom I will send. This proves, against the modern Greeks, that the Holy Ghost proceedeth from the Son, as well as from the Father: otherwise he could not be sent by the Son.

[†] He will convince the world of sin, &c. The Holy Ghost, by his coming, brought over many thousands, 1st, to a sense of their sin in not believing in Christ. 2dly, to a conviction of the justice of Christ, now sitting at the right hand of his Father. And 3dly, to a right apprehension of the judgment prepared for those, who choose to follow Satan, who is already judged and condemned.

[‡] Will teach you all truth. See the annotation on chap. xiv. 26.

"What is this, that he saith to us: 'A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again a little while, and ye shall see me,' and 'because I go to the Father?'"

18. They said therefore: "What is this, that he saith, 'A little while?' we know not what he speaketh."

19. And Jesus knew, that they were desirous to ask him; and he said to them: "Of this do ye enquire among yourselves, because I said: 'A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again a little while, and ye shall see me.'"

20. "Amen, amen I say to you, that ye shall lament and weep; but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful; but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21. "A woman, when she is in labour, hath sorrow; because her hour is come: but when she hath brought forth the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy, that a man is born into the world.

22. "So also ye now indeed have sorrow; but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice: and your joy no man shall take from you."

23. "And in that day, ye shall not ask me any thing. Amen, amen I say to you: if ye ask the Father any thing in my name, he will give it to you.

24. "Hitherto, ye have not asked any thing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive; that your joy may be full.

25. "These things I have spoken to you in proverbs. The hour cometh, when I will no more speak to you in proverbs; but will shew you plainly of the Father.

26. "In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not to you, that I will ask the Father for you:

27. "For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed, that I came forth from God.

28. "I came forth from the Father, and have come into the world: again I leave the world, and I go to the Father."

29. His disciples say to him: "Behold, now thou speakest plainly, and speakest no proverb.

30. "Now we know, that thou knowest all things, and that for thee it is not needful, that any man ask thee. By this we believe, that thou camest forth from God."

31. Jesus answered them: "Now, do ye believe?"

32. "Behold, the hour cometh, and is now come, that ye shall be dispersed every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33. "These things I have spoken to you, that in me ye may have peace. In the world ye shall have distress: but have confidence, I have overcome the world."

C H A P. XVII.

Christ's prayer for his disciples.

THESE things Jesus spoke, and lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said: "Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son may glorify thee.

2. "As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he may give life everlasting to all, whom thou hast given him.

3. "And this is life everlasting, that they may know thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.

4. "I have glorified thee upon the earth : I have finished the work, which thou gavest me to do :

5. "And now glorify thou me, O Father, with thyself, with the glory, which I had with thee, before the world was.

6. "I have manifested thy name to the men, whom thou hast given me, out of the world. Thine they were, and to me thou gavest them : and they have kept thy word.

7. "Now they have known, that all things, which thou hast given me, are from thee :

8. "Because the words, which thou gavest me, I have given to them : and they have received them, and have known for certain, that I came forth from thee ; and they have believed, that thou didst send me.

9. "I pray for them : I pray not for the world, but for them, whom thou hast given me : because they are thine :

10. "And all mine are thine, and thine are mine : and I am glorified in them.

11. "And now I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name, whom thou hast given me : that they may be one, as we also are.

12. "While I was with them, I kept them in thy name. Those, whom thou gavest me, I have kept : and none of them hath perished, except the son of perdition, that the scripture may be fulfilled.

13. "And now I come to thee : and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy filled in themselves.

14. "I have given them thy word, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world ; as I also am not of the world.

15. "I do not ask, that thou take them away out of the world, but that thou preserve them from evil.

16. "They are not of the world ; as I also am not of the world.

17. "Sanctify them in truth. Thy word is truth.

18. "As thou hast sent me into the world, I also have sent them into the world.

19. "And for them do I sanctify myself ; that they also may be sanctified in truth.

20. "And not for them only do I pray, but for those also, who through their word, shall believe in me :

21. "That they all may be one, as thou, Father, in me, and I in thee : that they also may be one in us : that the world may believe, that thou hast sent me.

22. "And the glory, which thou hast given me, I have given to them ; that they may be one, as we also are one.

23. "I in them, and thou in me : that they may be made perfect in one ; and the world may know, that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast also loved me.

24. "Father, I will, that where I am, those also, whom thou hast given me, may be with me ; that they may see my glory, which thou hast given me ; because thou hast loved me before the foundation of the world.

25. "Just Father, the world hath not known thee ; but I have known thee : and these have known, that thou hast sent me.

26. "And I have made known thy name to them, and will make it known : that the love, wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them."

C H A P. XVIII.

The history of the passion of Christ.

WHEN Jesus had said these things, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where there was a garden, into which he entered with his disciples.

2. Now Judas also, who betrayed him, knew the place : because Jesus had often resorted thither, together with his disciples.

3. Judas therefore having received a band of men, and servants from the chief priests and the pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns, and torches, and weapons.

4. Jesus therefore knowing all things, that were to come upon him, went forward, and said to them, "Whom seek ye ?"

5. They answered him : "Jesus of Nazareth." Jesus saith to them : "I am he." And Judas also, who betrayed him, stood with them.

6. As soon then as he had said to them, "I am he," they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7. Again therefore he asked them : "Whom seek ye ?" And they said : "Jesus of Nazareth."

8. Jesus answered : "I have told you, that I am he. If therefore ye seek me, let these go their way."

9. That the word might be fulfilled, which he said : "Of them, whom thou hast given me, I have lost any one."

10. Then Simon Peter having a sword, drew it, and struck the servant of the high-priest, and cut off his right ear. And the name of the servant was Malchus.

11. Then Jesus said to Peter : "Put up thy sword into the scabbard. The chalice, which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it ?"

12. Then the band, and the tribune, and the servants of the Jews, took Jesus, and bound him.

13. And they led him away to Annas first, for he was father-in-law to Caiphas, who was the high priest of that year.

14. Now Caiphas was he, who had given the counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient, that one man should die for the people.

15. And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. And that disciple was known to the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the court of the high priest.

16. But Peter stood at the door without. Then the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out, and spoke to the portress, and brought in Peter.

17. And the maid, who was portress, said to Peter : "Art not thou also one of this man's disciples ?" He saith : "I am not."

18. Now the servants and officers stood at a fire of coals, because it was cold ; and warmed themselves. And with them was Peter also standing, and warming himself.

19. The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples and of his doctrine.

20. Jesus answered him: "I have spoken openly to the world: I have always taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither all the Jews resort; and in private I have spoken nothing."

21. "Why askest thou me? ask those who have heard what I have spoken to them: behold, they know what things I have said."

22. And when he had said these things, one of the officers standing by, gave Jesus a blow, saying: "Answerest thou the high priest so?"

Jesus answered him: "If I have spoken ill, give me any of the evil: but if well, why striketh thou me?"

23. And Annas sent him bound to Caiphas the high priest.

24. And Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore to him: "Art not thou also one of his disciples?" He denied it, and said: "I am not."

25. One of the servants of the high priest, a kinsman to him, whose ear Peter cut off, saith to him: "Did not I see thee in the garden with him?"

26. Then Peter again denied: and immediately the cock crew.

27. Then they led Jesus from Caiphas to the governor's hall. And it was morning: and they went not into the hall, that they might not be defiled, but that they might eat the pasch.

28. Pilate therefore went out to them, and said: "What accusation bring ye against this man?"

29. They answered and said to him: "If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up to thee."

30. Pilate then said to them: "Take him ye, and judge him according to your law." The Jews therefore said to him: "It is not lawful for us to put any one to death."

31. That the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he said, signifying what death he should die.

32. Pilate therefore went into the hall again, and called Jesus, and said to him: "Art thou the king of the Jews?"

33. Jesus answered: "Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or have others told it thee of me?"

34. Pilate answered: "Am I a Jew? Thy nation and the chief priests have delivered thee up to me: what hast thou done?"

35. Jesus answered: "My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, my servants would certainly strive, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now my kingdom is not from hence."

36. Pilate therefore said to him: "Art thou a king then?" Jesus answered: "Thou sayest, that I am a king. For this was I born, and for this came I into the world: that I should give testimony to the truth. Every one, that is of the truth, heareth my voice."

37. Pilate saith to him: "What is truth?" And when he had said this, he went forth again to the Jews, and saith to them: "I find no cause in him."

38. "But ye have a custom, that I should release one unto you at the pasch: will ye therefore, that I release unto you the king of the Jews?"

39. Then cried they all again, saying: "Not this man, but Barabbas." And Barabbas was a robber.

C H A P X I X.

The continuation of the history of the passion of Christ.

THEN therefore Pilate took Jesus, and scourged him.

1. And the soldiers, plating a crown of thorns, put it upon his head: and about him they put a purple garment.

2. And they came to him, and said: "Hail, king of the Jews:" and they gave him blows.

3. Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith to them: "Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know, that I find no cause in him."

4. (So Jesus came forth, bearing the crown of thorns, and the purple garment.) And he saith to them: "Behold the man."

5. When the chief priests therefore and the officers had seen him, they cried out, saying: "Crucify him, crucify him." Pilate saith to them: "Take him ye, and crucify him: for I find no cause in him."

6. The Jews answered him: "We have a law: and according to the law he ought to die; because he made himself the Son of God."

7. When Pilate therefore had heard this saying, he feared the more.

8. And he entered into the hall again: and he said to Jesus: "Whence art thou?" But Jesus gave him no answer.

9. Pilate therefore saith to him: "Speakest thou not to me? knowest thou not, that I have power to crucify thee, and I have power to release thee?"

10. Jesus answered: "Thou shouldst not have any power against me, unless it were given thee from above. Therefore he, who hath delivered me to thee, hath the greater sin."

11. And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him. But the Jews cried out, saying: "If thou release this man, thou art not Cæsar's friend. For whosoever maketh himself a king, speaketh against Cæsar."

12. Now when Pilate had heard these words, he brought Jesus forth: and sat down in the judgment-seat, in the place that is called Lithostrotos, and in Hebrew Gabbatha.

13. And it was the parasceve of the pasch*, about the sixth hour, and he saith to the Jews: "Behold your king."

14. But they cried out: "Away with him; away with him; crucify him." Pilate saith to them: "Shall I crucify your king?" The chief priests answered: "We have no king but Cæsar."

15. Then therefore he delivered him to them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him forth.

16. And bearing his own cross, he went forth to that

* The parasceve of the pasch, that is, the day before the paschal sabbath. The eve of every sabbath was called the parasceve or day of preparation. But this was the eve of a high sabbath, viz. that, which fell in the paschal week.

place, which is called Calvary, but in Hebrew G^{ol}-gotha :

18. Where they crucified him, and with him two others, one on each side, and Jesus in the midst.

19. And Pilate wrote a title also : and he put it upon the cross. And the writing was, "JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS."

20. This title therefore many of the Jews read : because the place, where Jesus was crucified, was near to the city : and it was written in Hebrew, in Greek, and in Latin.

21. Then the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate : "Write not, 'The king of the Jews;' but that he said : 'I am the king of the Jews.'"

22. Pilate answered : "What I have written, I have written."

23. Then the soldiers, when they had crucified him, took his garments (and they made four parts, to every soldier a part) and also his coat. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.

24. They said then one to another : "Let us not cut it ; but let us cast lots for it, whose it shall be ;" that the scripture might be fulfilled, saying : "They have parted my garments among them : and upon my vesture they have cast lot." And the soldiers indeed did these things.

25. Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26. When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing, whom he loved, he saith to his mother : "Woman, behold thy son."

27. After that, he saith to the disciple : "Behold thy mother." And from that hour the disciple took her to his own.

28. Afterwards Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, said : "I thirst."

29. Now there was a vessel set there full of vinegar. And they putting a sponge full of vinegar about hyssop, offered it to his mouth.

30. When Jesus therefore had taken the vinegar, he said : "It is consummated." And bowing his head, he gave up the ghost.

31. Then the Jews (because it was the parascève) that the bodies might not remain upon the cross on the sabbath-day (for that was a great sabbath-day) besought Pilate, that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32. The soldiers therefore came : and they broke the legs of the first, and of the other, who was crucified with him.

33. But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs.

34. But one of the soldiers opened his side with a spear, and immediately there came out blood and water.

35. And he, who saw it, gave testimony : and his testimony is true. And he knoweth, that he saith true ; that ye also may believe.

36. For these things were done, that the scripture might be fulfilled : "Ye shall not break a bone of him."

37. And again another scripture saith : "They shall look on him, whom they pierced."

38. And after these things Joseph of Arimathea (because he was a disciple of Jesus, but in private, for fear of the Jews) besought Pilate, that he might take away the body of Jesus. And Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took away the body of Jesus.

39. And Nicodemus also came, he, who at first came to Jesus by night, bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds weight.

40. They took therefore the body of Jesus, and bound it in linen cloths, with the spices, as it is the custom with the Jews to bury.

41. And there was in the place, where he was crucified, a garden—and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein no man had yet been laid.

42. There therefore, by reason of the parascève of the Jews, they laid Jesus ; because the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CH A P. XX.

Christ's resurrection, and manifestation to his disciples.

AND on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene cometh in the morning, it being yet dark, to the sepulchre : and she saw the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2. She ran therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and said to them : "They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre ; and we know not where they have laid him."

3. Peter therefore went out, and that other disciple, and they came to the sepulchre.

4. And they both did run together : and that other disciple out-ran Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5. And when he stooped down, he saw the linen cloths lying : but yet he went not in.

6. Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and saw the linen cloths lying.

7. And the napkin, that had been about his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but apart, wrapt up into one place.

8. Then that other disciple also went in, who came first to the sepulchre : and he saw, and believed :

9. For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10. So the disciples went away again to their home.

11. But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping : while she was then weeping, she stooped down and looked into the sepulchre :

12. And she saw two angels in white, sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had been laid.

13. They say to her : "Woman, why weepest thou?" She saith to them : "Because they have taken away my Lord ; and I know not where they have laid him."

14. When she had said these words, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing : and she knew not, that it was Jesus.

15. Jesus saith to her : "Woman, why weepest thou?" whom seekest thou?" She thinking, that it was the gardener, saith to him : "Sir, if thou have taken him away, tell me where thou hast laid him : and I will him away."

16. Jesus saith to her: "Mary." She turning saith to him: "Rabboni" (that is to say, master.)

17. Jesus saith to her: "Do not touch me; for I have not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say to them, 'I ascend to my Father and to your Father, to my God and your God.'"

18. Mary Magdalene cometh, telling the disciples: "I have seen the Lord; and these things he said to me."

19. Now when it was late that same day, being the first day of the week, and the doors were shut*, where the disciples were gathered together for fear of the Jews, Jesus came, and stood in the midst, and said to them: "Peace be to you."

20. And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the Lord.

21. And he said to them again: "Peace be to you. As the Father hath sent me, I also send you."

22. When he had said this, he breathed on them: and he said to them: "Receive ye the Holy Ghost:

23. "Whose sins † ye shall forgive, they are forgiven them: and whose ye shall retain, they are retained."

24. Now Thomas one of the twelve, who is called Didymus, was not with them, when Jesus came.

25. The other disciples therefore said to him: "We have seen the Lord." But he said to them: "Unless I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the place of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe."

26. And after eight days, his disciples were again within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said: "Peace be to you."

27. Then he saith to Thomas: "Put in thy finger hither, and see my hands; and bring hither thy hand, and put it into my side; and be not incredulous, but faithful."

28. Thomas answered, and said to him: "My Lord, and my God."

29. Jesus saith to him: "Because thou hast seen me, Thomas, thou hast believed: blessed are those, who have not seen, and have believed."

30. Many other signs also did Jesus in the sight of his disciples, which are not written in this book.

31. But these are written, that ye may believe, that Jesus is the Christ the Son of God: and that believing, ye may have life in his name.

C H A P. XXI.

Christ manifests himself to his disciples by the sea side, and gives Peter the charge of his sheep.

AFTER this Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples, at the sea of Tiberias. And he shewed himself after this manner.

* The doors were shut. The same power which could bring Christ's whole body, entire in all its dimensions, through the doors, can without the least question make the same body really present in the sacrament; though both the one and the other be above our comprehension.

† Whose sins, &c. See here the commission, stamped by the broad seal of heaven, by virtue of which the pastors of Christ's church absolve repenting sinners upon their confession.

2. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, who is called Didymus, and Nathanael, who was of Cana, in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples.

3. Simon Peter saith to them: "I go a fishing." They say to him: "We also come with thee." And they went forth, and entered into a ship: and that night they caught nothing.

4. But when the morning was come, Jesus stood on the shore: yet the disciples knew not, that it was Jesus.

5. And Jesus said to them: "Children, have ye any meat?" They answered him: "No."

6. He saith to them, "Cast the net on the right side of the ship; and ye shall find." They cast therefore: and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7. That disciple therefore, whom Jesus loved, said to Peter: "It is the Lord." Simon Peter, when he heard that it was the Lord, girt his coat about him (for he was naked) and cast himself into the sea.

8. But the other disciples came in the ship (for they were not far from the land, but as it were, two hundred cubits) drawing the net with fishes.

9. As soon then as they came to land, they saw hot coals lying, and a fish laid thereon, and bread.

10. Jesus saith to them: "Bring hither of the fishes, which ye have now caught."

11. Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, one hundred and fifty-three. And although there were so many, the net was not broken.

12. Jesus saith to them: "Come, and dine." And none of them, who were at meat, durst ask him: "Who art thou?" knowing that it was the Lord.

13. And Jesus cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish in like manner.

14. This is now the third time, that Jesus was manifested to his disciples, after he had risen from the dead.

15. When therefore they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter: "Simon son of John, lovest thou me more than these?" He saith to him: "Yea, Lord, thou knowest, that I love thee." He saith to him: "Feed my lambs."

16. He saith to him again: "Simon son of John, lovest thou me?" He saith to him: "Yea, Lord, thou knowest, that I love thee." He saith to him: "Feed my lambs."

17. He saith to him the third time: "Simon son of John, lovest thou me?" Peter was grieved, because he said to him the third time: "Lovest thou me?" And he said to him: "Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest, that I love thee." He said to him: "Feed my sheep†.

18. "Amen, amen I say to thee, when thou wast younger, thou didst gird thyself, and didst walk where thou wouldst: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldst not."

† Feed my sheep. Our Lord had promised the spiritual supremacy to St. Peter, St. Matt. xvi. 19: and here he fulfils that promise, by charging him with the superintendency of all his sheep, without exception—and consequently of his whole flock, that is, of his whole church.

19. And this he said, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had said this, he saith to him : "Follow me."

20. Peter turning about, saw that disciple, whom Jesus loved, following, who also had leaned on his breast at the supper, and said : "Lord, who is he, that shall betray thee?"

21. Him therefore when Peter had seen, he saith to Jesus : "Lord, and what shall this man do?"

22. Jesus saith to him : "So I will have him to remain till I come : what is it to thee ? follow thou me."

23. This saying therefore went abroad among the brethren, that that disciple dieth not." And Jesus did not say to him : "He dieth not ;" but, "So I will have him to remain till I come : what is it to thee ?"

24. This is that disciple, who giveth testimony of these things, and hath written these things : and we know, that his testimony is true.

25. But there are also many other things, which Jesus did : which if they were written every one, the world itself, I think, would not be able to contain the books, that should be written.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

CHAP. I.

The ascension of Christ. Matthias is chosen in place of Judas.

THE former treatise I made, O Theophilus, of all things, which Jesus began to do and to teach,

2. Until the day, on which, giving commands by the Holy Ghost to the apostles, whom he had chosen, he was taken up.

3. To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion, by many proofs, for forty days appearing to them, and speaking of the kingdom of God.

4. And eating with them, he commanded them, that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but should wait for the promise of the Father, which ye have heard, (saith he) by my mouth.

5. "For John indeed baptized with water : but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence."

6. They therefore, who were come together, asked him, saying : "Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?"

7. But he said to them : "It is not for you to know the times or moments, which the Father hath put in his own power :

8. "But ye shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost coming upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and even to the uttermost part of the earth."

9. And when he had said these things, while they looked on, he was raised up : and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10. And while they were beholding him going up to heaven, behold, two men stood by them in white garments,

11. Who also said : "Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking up to heaven ? This Jesus, who is taken up from you into heaven, so shall he come as ye have seen him going into heaven."

12. Then they returned to Jerusalem, from the mount, that is called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, within a sabbath-day's journey.

13. And when they had entered in, they went up into an upper room, where there remained Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James of Alphaeus and Simon Zelotes, and Jude of James.

14. All these were persevering with one mind in prayer with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and his brethren.

15. In those days Peter rising up in the midst of the brethren, said : (now the number of persons together, was about a hundred and twenty,)

16. "Men brethren, the scripture must be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost foretold by the mouth of David, concerning Judas, who was the leader of them, that apprehended Jesus :

17. "Who was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

18. "And he indeed hath possessed a field of the ward of iniquity, and being hanged, burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19. "And it became known to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem : so that the same field is called in this tongue, Haceldama, that is, The field of blood.

20. "For it is written in the book of psalms : 'Let their habitation become desolate, and let there be none to dwell therein : and let another take his bishoprick.'

21. "Wherefore of these men, who have been with us all the time that the Lord Jesus came in and went out among us,

22. Beginning from the baptism of John until the day wherein he was taken up from us, one of these must be made a witness with us of his resurrection."

23. And they appointed two, Joseph, called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24. And praying they said : "Thou, O Lord, who knowest the hearts of all men, shew, which of these two thou hast chosen,

25. To take the place of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas hath by transgression fallen, that he might go to his own place."

26. And they gave them lots : and the lot fell upon Matthias : and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAP. II.

The disciples receive the Holy Ghost. Peter's sermon to the people. The pity of the first converts.

AND when the days of the pentecost were accomplished, they were all together in the same place :

2. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, a mighty wind coming, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting.

3. And there appeared to them cloven tongues, as it were of fire, and it sat upon each of them :

4. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they began to speak with divers tongues, according as the Holy Ghost gave them to speak.

5. Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem, Jews, devout men out of every nation under heaven.

6. And when this voice was made, the multitude came together, and was confounded in mind, because that every one heard them speaking in his own tongue.

7. And they were all amazed and wondered, saying : " Behold, are not all these, who speak, Galileans ?

8. " And how have we every one heard our own tongue, wherein we were born ?

9. " Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and inhabitants of Mesopotamia, Judea, and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia,

10. Phrygia, and Pamphilia, Egypt, and the parts of Lybia about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome,

11. " Jews also, and proselytes, Cretes, and Arabians : we have heard them speak in our own tongues the wonderful works of God."

12. And they were all astonished, and wondered, saying one to another : " What meaneth this ?"

13. But others mocking said : " These men are full of new wine."

14. But Peter standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spoke to them : " Ye men of Judea, and all you, who dwell in Jerusalem, be this known to you, and with your ears receive my words.

15. " For these are not drunk, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day :

16. " But this is that which was spoken of by the prophet Joel.

17. " And it shall come to pass in the last days," (saith the Lord) " I will pour out of my spirit upon all flesh : and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams.

18. " And upon my servants indeed, and upon my hand-maids will I pour out in those days of my spirit, and they shall prophesy :

19. " And I will shew wonders in the heaven above, and signs on the earth beneath ; blood and fire, and vapour of smoke :

20. " The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and manifest day of the Lord cometh.

21. " And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, shall be saved."

22. " Ye men of Israel, hear these words : Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you, by miracles and wonders, and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye also know ;

23. " This same being delivered up, by the determinate* counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have crucified and put to death by the hands of wicked men :

24. " Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the sorrows† of hell, as it was impossible, that he should be detained by it.

25. " For David saith concerning him : " I foresaw the Lord always before my face : because he is at my right hand, that I may not be moved :

26. " For this my heart hath been glad, and my tongue hath rejoiced : moreover my flesh also shall rest in hope :

27. " Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, nor suffer thy Holy One to see corruption :

28. " Thou hast made known to me the ways of life : thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance."

29. " Ye men brethren, let me freely speak to you of the patriarch David ; that he died, and was buried ; and his sepulchre is with us to this present day.

30. " Whereas therefore he was a prophet, and knew, that God had sworn to him with an oath, that of the fruit of his loins one should sit upon his throne :

31. " Foreseeing he spoke of the resurrection of Christ ; for neither was he left in hell ; neither did his flesh see corruption.

32. " This Jesus hath God raised up again, whereof we all are witnesses.

33. " Being exalted therefore by the right hand of God, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear.

34. " For David did not ascend into heaven : but he himself said : " The Lord said to my Lord : " Sit thou on my right hand,

35. " Until I make thy enemies thy footstool."

36. " Therefore let all the house of Israel know most assuredly, that God hath made him Lord and Christ, this same Jesus, whom ye have crucified."

37. Now when they had heard these things, they had compunction in their heart ; and they said to Peter and to the rest of the apostles : " What shall we do, men brethren ?"

38. But Peter said to them : " Do penance, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins ; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

39. " For the promise is to you, and to your children, and to all, who are far off, whomsoever the Lord our God shall call."

40. And with a great many other words did he testify and exhort them, saying : " Save yourselves from this perverse generation."

41. Those therefore, who received his word, were baptized ; and they were added to them in that day, about three thousand souls.

42. And they were persevering in the doctrine of their own malice and the insigation of the devil ; not the will and determination of God, who was by no means the author of their wickedness ; though he permitted it ; because he could and did draw out of it so great a good, viz. the salvation of man.

† Having loosed the sorrows, &c. Having overcome the grievous pains of death, and all the power of hell.

* By the determinate, &c. God delivered up his Son—and his Son delivered up himself, for the love of us, and for the sake of our salvation ; and to Christ's being delivered up, was holy, and was God's own determination. But those, who betrayed and crucified him, did wickedly, following therein the apostles, and in the communication of the breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43. And fear came upon every soul : and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles in Jerusalem : and there was great fear in all.

44. And all those, who believed, were together, and had all things common.

45. They sold their possessions and goods, and divided them to all, according as every one had need.

46. And continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, they took their meat with gladness and simplicity of heart :

47. Praising God together, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added daily to their society such as should be saved.

C H A P. III.

The miracle upon the lame man, followed by the conversion of many.

NOW Peter and John went up to the temple, at the ninth hour of prayer.

2. And a certain man, who was lame from his mother's womb, was carried ; whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple, which is called the Beautiful, that he might beg alms of those, who went into the temple.

3. He, when he had seen Peter and John about to go into the temple, begged to receive an alms.

4. But Peter with John fixing his eyes upon him, said : " Look upon us."

5. And he looked earnestly upon them, hoping that he should receive something from them.

6. But Peter said : " Silver and gold I have none : but what I have, I give thee : in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk."

7. And having taken him by the right hand, he lifted him up, and forthwith his feet and soles became firm.

8. And he leaping up, stood, and walked ; and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9. And all the people saw him walking and praising God.

10. And they knew him, that it was he, who sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple : and they were filled with wonder and amazement, at that, which had happened to him.

11. And as he held Peter and John, all the people amazed, ran to them to the porch, which is called Solomon's.

12. Which Peter seeing, made answer to the people : " Ye men of Israel, why wonder ye at this ? or why look ye upon us, as if by our strength or power, we had made this man to walk ?

13. " The God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus, whom ye indeed delivered up and denied before the face of Pilate, when he judged, he should be released.

14. " But ye denied the Holy and the Just One, and desired a murderer to be gramed unto you.

15. " But the Author of life ye killed, whom God hath raised from the dead, of which we are witnesses.

16. " And his name, through the faith of his name, hath made this man strong, whom ye have seen and known ; and the faith, which is by him, hath given the perfect soundness in the sight of you all.

17. " And now, brethren, I know, that ye did it through ignorance, as also your rulers.

18. " But those things, which God had foretold by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19. " Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out :

20. " That, when the times of refreshment shall come from the presence of the Lord, and he shall send him, who hath been preached unto you, Jesus Christ,

21. " Whom heaven indeed must receive until the times of the restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of his holy prophets from the beginning of the world.

22. " For Moses indeed said : ' A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you, out of your brethren, like unto me : him ye shall hear according to all things whatsoever he shall speak to you.

23. " And it shall be, that every soul, which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people."

24. " And all the prophets from Samuel and onwards, who have spoken, have foretold these days.

25. " Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant, which God made to our fathers, saying to Abraham : ' And in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.'

26. " To you first God raising up his Son, sent him to bless you ; that every one should convert himself from his wickedness."

C H A P. IV.

Peter and John are apprehended. Their constancy. The church is increased.

AND when they were speaking to the people, the priests, and the officer of the temple, and the Sadducees came upon them.

2. Being grieved that they taught the people, and declared in Jesus the resurrection from the dead :

3. And they laid hands on them, and put them in custody till the next day : for now it was evening.

4. But many of those, who had heard the word, believed : and the number of the men was made for thousand.

5. And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and ancients, and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem ;

6. And Annas the high priest, and Caiphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the priestly race.

7. And setting them in the midst, they asked : " By what power, or in what name have ye done this ?"

8. Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said to them : " Ye rulers of the people and ancients, hear ;

9. " If we this day be examined concerning the good deed done to the infirm man, by what means he hath been made whole ;

10. " Be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God hath raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11. "This is the stone, which was rejected by you the builders; which is become the head of the corner:

12. "Nor is there salvation in any other. For there is no other name under heaven given to men, whereby we must be saved."

13. Now they, seeing the constancy of Peter and John, knowing that they were illiterate and ignorant men, they wondered; and they knew them, that they had been with Jesus:

14. Seeing also the man standing with them, who had been healed, they could say nothing against it.

15. But they commanded them to go aside out of the council: and they conferred among themselves,

16. Saying: "What shall we do to these men? for a miracle indeed hath been done by them, conspicuous to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: it is manifest, and we cannot deny it.

17. "But that it may be no farther divulged among the people, let us threaten them, that they speak no more in this name to any man."

18. And calling them they charged them not to speak at all, nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19. But Peter and John answering, said to them: "If it be just in the sight of God, to hear you rather than God, judge ye.

20. "For we cannot but speak the things, which we have seen and heard."

21. But they threatening them, sent them away: not finding how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified what had been done, in that, which had come to pass.

22. For the man was above forty years old, in whom that miraculous cure had been wrought.

23. And being let go, they came to their own company, and related all, that the chief priests and ancients had said to them.

24. Who, when they had heard them, with one accord lifted up their voice to God, and said: "Lord, thou art he, who didst make heaven and earth, the sea, and all things, which are in them.

25. "Who in the Holy Ghost by the mouth of our father David thy servant, hast said: 'Why have the Gentiles raged, and the people devised vain things:

26. "The kings of the earth stood up, and the princes assembled together against the Lord, and against his Christ?"

27. "For there were truly assembled in this city against thy holy Son Jesus whom thou hast anointed, Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel,

28. "To do what thy hand and thy counsel decreed to be done.

29. "And now, Lord, behold their threatenings, and grant to thy servants, with all confidence to speak thy word,

30. "In this, that thou stretch forth thy hand to cures, and signs, and wonders, to be done by the name of thy holy Son Jesus."

31. And when they had prayed, the place was shaken, wherein they were assembled: and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost; and they spoke the word of God with confidence.

32. And the multitude of the believers had but one heart and one soul: neither did any one of them say, that of the things which he possessed, any thing was his own; but all things were common to them.

33. And with great power did the apostles give testimony of the resurrection of Jesus Christ our Lord: and great grace was in them all.

34. For neither was there any one among them, who wanted. For as many as were owners of lands or houses, sold them, and brought the price of the things they sold,

35. And laid it down before the feet of the apostles. And distribution was made to every man, according as he had need.

36. And Joseph, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which, being interpreted, is, The son of consolation) a Levite, a Cyprian born,

37. Having land, sold it, and brought the price, and laid it at the feet of the apostles.

C H A P. V.

The judgment of God upon Ananias and Saphira. The apostles are cast into prison.

BUT a certain man named Ananias, with Saphira his wife, sold a field;

2. And by fraud kept part of the price of the field, his wife being conscious of it; and bringing a certain part of it, laid it at the feet of the apostles.

3. But Peter said: "Ananias, why hath satan tempted thy heart, that thou shouldst lie to the Holy Ghost, and by fraud keep part of the price of the field?

4. "Whilst it remained, did it not remain to thee? and being sold, was it not in thy power? Why hast thou conceived this thing in thy heart? Thou hast not lied to men, but to God."

5. And Ananias hearing these words, fell down, and gave up the Ghost. And great fear came upon all that heard it.

6. And the young men rising up, removed him, and carrying him out, buried him.

7. And it came to pass, about the space of three hours after, his wife also not knowing what had happened, came in.

8. And Peter said to her "Tell me, woman, whether you sold the field for so much?" And she said: "Yea, for so much."

9. And Peter said unto her "Why have ye agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of those, who have buried thy husband, are at the door, and they shall carry thee out."

10. Immediately she fell down before his feet, and gave up the ghost. And the young men coming in, found her dead; and carried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11. And there came great fear upon the whole church, and upon all, who heard these things.

12. And by the hands of the apostles many signs and wonders were done among the people. And they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13. But of the rest no one durst join himself to them; but the people magnified them.

14. And the multitude of men and women, who believed in the Lord, was more increased.

15. Inasmuch that they brought out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that when Peter came, his shadow at the least might overshadow any of them, and they might be delivered from their infirmities.

16. And there came also together to Jerusalem a multitude out of the neighbouring cities, bringing sick persons, and such as were troubled with unclean spirits; who were all healed.

17. Then the high priest rising up, and all who were with him (which is the heresy of the Sadducees) were filled with indignation.

18. And they laid hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19. But an angel of the Lord by night opening the doors of the prison, and leading them out, said:

20. "Go, and standing speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life."

21. And they having heard this, entered early in the morning into the temple, and taught. Now the high priest being arrived, and those, who were with him, assembled the council, and all the ancients of the children of Israel: and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22. But when the officers came, and having opened the prison, found them not, returning back they told,

23. Saying: "The prison indeed we found shut with all diligence, and the keepers standing before the doors: but opening it, we found no man within."

24. Now when the magistrate of the temple, and the chief priest heard these words, they were in doubt what was become of them.

25. But a certain man coming told them: "Behold, the men, whom ye put in prison, are standing in the temple, and teaching the people."

26. Then went the magistrate with the officers, and brought them without violence; for they feared the people, lest they themselves should be stoned.

27. And when they had brought them, they set them, before the council. And the high priest spoke to them,

28. Saying: "Commanding, we commanded you, that ye should not teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and ye have a mind to bring the blood of this man upon us."

29. Peter then answering, and the apostles, said: "We ought to obey God rather than men."

30. "The God of our fathers hath raised up Jesus, whom ye put to death, hanging him upon a tree.

31. "This Prince, and Saviour, God hath exalted with his right hand, to give repentance to Israel, and remission of sins.

32. "And we are witnesses of these things, and the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to all those, who obey him."

33. When they had heard these things, they were cut to the heart: and they thought to put them to death.

34. But one in the council rising up, a pharisee, by name, Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, respected by all the people, commanded the men to be put forth a little while.

35. And he said to them: "Ye men of Israel, consider with yourselves, what ye are about to do to these men.

36. "For before these days rose up Theodas, assuming himself to be somebody, with whom joined a number of men, about four hundred: who was slain; all, who believed him, were dispersed, and reduced to nothing.

37. "After this man, rose up Judas the Galilee, in the days of the enrolling, and drew away the people after him; he also perished: and all, whosoever consorted to him, were dispersed.

38. "And now therefore, I say to you, refrain from these men, and let them alone; for if this deed or work be of men, it will fall to nothing:

39. "But if it be of God, ye are not able to overthrow it: lest perhaps ye be found to oppose God." And he consented to him.

40. And calling in the apostles, after they had been scourged, they charged them not to speak at all in the name of Jesus; and they dismissed them.

41. And they indeed went from the presence of the council rejoicing, that they were accounted worthy to suffer reproach for the name of Jesus.

42. And they ceased not every day in the temple, from house to house, to teach and preach Christ Jesus.

CHAP. VI.

The ordaining of the seven deacons. The zeal of Stephen.

AND in those days, the number of the disciples increasing, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians* against the Hebrews, for that their widows were neglected in the daily ministrations.

2. Then the twelve calling together the multitude of the disciples, said: "It is not fit that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3. "Therefore brethren, look ye out among us seven men of good reputation, full of the Holy Ghost, and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4. "But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word."

5. And the discourse pleased all the multitude. And they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch.

6. These they placed in the presence of the apostles, and they praying imposed hands upon them.

7. And the word of the Lord increased: and the number of the disciples was multiplied very much in Jerusalem: a great multitude also of the priests obeyed the faith.

8. Now Stephen, full of grace and fortitude, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9. But certain men of the synagogue, which is called of the Libertines, and of the Cyreneans, and of the Alexandrians, and of those, who were of Cilicia and Asia, rose up, disputing with Stephen:

10. And they were not able to resist the wisdom of the spirit, with which he spoke.

* Grecians. So they called the Jews, who were born and brought up in Greece.

11. Then they suborned men to say, that they had heard him speaking words of blasphemy against Moses and against God.

12. They stirred up therefore the people, and the ancients, and the scribes: and running together, they took him, and brought him before the council.

13. And they set up false witnesses, who said: "This man ceaseeth not to speak words against the holy place, and the law."

14. "For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the traditions, which Moses delivered to us."

15. And all those, who sat in the council, looking earnestly upon him, saw his face as it were the face of an angel.

C H A P. VII.

Stephen's speech before the council: his martyrdom.

THEN the high priest said: "Are these things so?"

2. And he said: "Ye men, brethren and fathers, give ear. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charan.

3. "And he said to him: 'Go forth out of thy country and from thy kindred, and come into the land, which I will shew thee.'

4. "Then he went out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charan. And from thence, after his father was dead, he removed him into this land, in which ye now dwell.

5. "And he gave him no inheritance in it, no not the space of a foot: but he promised to give it him in possession, and to his seed after him, when he had got a son.

6. "And God said to him: 'That his seed should sojourn in a strange country, and that they should bring them under bondage, and treat them ill for four hundred years:

7. 'And the nation, which they shall serve, I will judge,' saith the Lord: 'and after these things they shall go out, and shall serve me in this place.'

8. "And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so he begot Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day: and Isaac begot Jacob—and Jacob the twelve patriarchs.

9. "And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: and God was with him.

10. "And he delivered him out of all his tribulations; and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and he appointed him governor over Egypt, and over all his house.

11. "Now there came a famine over all Egypt, and Chanaan, and great tribulation: and our fathers found no food.

12. "But when Jacob had heard, that there was corn in Egypt, he sent our fathers the first time:

13. "And at the second time Joseph was known by his brethren: and his kindred was made known to Pharaoh.

14. "And Joseph sending, called thither Jacob his father, and all his kindred, seventy-five souls.

15. "So Jacob went down into Egypt: and he died, and our fathers.

VOL. II.

16. "And they were translated to Sichem, and were laid in the sepulchre, which Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Hemon, the son of Sichem.

17. "And when the time of the promise drew near, which God had promised to Abraham, the people increased and were multiplied in Egypt;

18. "Till another king arose in Egypt, who knew not Joseph.

19. "This same dealing deceitfully with our race, afflicted our fathers, that they should expose their children, to the end they might not be kept alive.

20. "At the same time was Moses born; and he was acceptable to God; and he was nourished three months in his father's house.

21. "But he being exposed, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22. "And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians: and he was powerful in his words, and in his deeds.

23. "And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24. "And having seen a certain man suffer an injury, he defended him: and striking the Egyptian, he avenged him, who suffered the injury.

25. "And he thought, that his brethren understood, that God by his hand would save them: but they understood it not.

26. "And the next day he shewed himself to those, who were at strife; and would have reconciled them in peace, saying: 'Men, ye are brethren; why hurt ye one another?'

27. "But he, who did the injury to his neighbour, thrust him away, saying: 'Who hath appointed thee prince and judge over us?'

28. 'Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst yesterday kill the Egyptian?'

29. "And Moses fled upon this word; and became a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30. "And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the desert of mount Sina, an Angel in a flame of fire, in a bush.

31. "And Moses seeing it, wondered at the sight. And as he drew near, to view it, the voice of the Lord came to him, saying:

32. 'I am the God of thy fathers—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.' And Moses being terrified, durst not behold.

33. "And the Lord said to him: "Loose thy shoes from off thy feet: for the place, whereon thou standest, is holy ground.

34. "Seeing I have seen the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt: and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, and I will send thee into Egypt."

35. "This Moses, whom they refused, saying: 'Who hath appointed thee prince and judge? him God sent a prince and redeemer, by the hand of the angel, who appeared to him in the bush.

36. "He brought them out, doing wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the desert, for forty years.

37. "This is that Moses, who said to the children of Israel: 'A prophet will God raise up to you out of your own brethren, as myself: him shall ye hear.'

38. "This is he, who was in the church in the wilderness, with the angel, who spoke to him on mount Sinai, and with our fathers; who received the words of life to give to us.

39. "To whom our fathers would not be obedient; but repulsed him, and in their hearts returned back into Egypt,

40. "Saying to Aaron: 'Make us gods, to go before us: for as to this Moses, who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is become of him.'

41. "And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice to the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42. "And God turned, and gave them up to serve the host of heaven, as it is written in the book of the prophets: 'Did ye offer victims and sacrifices to me for forty years in the desert, O house of Israel?

43. 'And ye took unto you the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Rempham, figures which ye made to adore them. And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.'

44. "The tabernacle of the testimony was with our fathers in the desert, as God ordained for them, speaking to Moses, that he should make it, according to the form, which he had seen.

45. "Which also our fathers receiving, brought in with Jesus*, into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God expelled from the face of our fathers; until the days of David;

46. "Who found grace in the sight of God, and desired, that he might find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47. "But Solomon built him a house.

48. "But the most High dwelleth not in houses† made by hands, as the prophet saith:

49. 'Heaven is my throne: and the earth is my foot-stool. What house will ye build for me,' saith the Lord, 'or what is the place of my rest?

50. 'Hath not my hand made all these things?'

51. "With a stiff neck and uncircumcised heart and ears, ye always resist the Holy Ghost; as your Fathers did, so do ye also.

52. "Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? And they have slain those, who foretold of the coming of the Just One: of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53. "Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it."

54. Now hearing these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed with their teeth at him.

* Jesus, that is, Josue, so called in Greek.

† Dwelleth not in houses, &c. that is, so as to stand in need of earthly dwellings, or to be contained, or circumscribed by them. Though, otherwise, by his immanent divinity, he is in our houses, and every where else: and Christ in his humanity dwelt in houses; and is now on our altars.

55. But he being full of the Holy Ghost, looking stedfastly to heaven, saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God. And he said: "Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing at the right hand of God."

56. And they crying out with a loud voice, stopped their ears; and with one accord rushed in violently upon him.

57. And having cast him out of the city, they stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man, whose name was Saul.

58. And they stoned Stephen invoking and saying: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit."

59. And kneeling down he cried out with a loud voice saying: "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge." And when he had said this, he fell asleep in the Lord. And Saul was consenting to his death.

CHAPTER VIII.

Philip converts the Samaritans, and baptizes the church.
AND at that time, there was raised a great persecution against the church, which was at Jerusalem: and they were all dispersed through the country of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2. And devout men took care of Stephen's funeral, and made great mourning over him.

3. But Saul ravaged the church, entering into houses, and haling away men and women, committed them to prison.

4. Those therefore, who were dispersed, went about preaching the word of God.

5. And Philip going down to the city of Samaria, preached Christ to them.

6. And the people were attentive to those things which were said by Philip, with one accord hearing, and seeing the miracles, which he did.

7. For unclean spirits crying out with a loud voice, went out of many, who were possessed with them.

8. And many, taken with the palsy, and who were lame, were healed.

9. And there was great joy in that city. But a certain man, named Simon, who before had been a magician in the city, seducing the people of Samaria, gave out that he was some great one:

10. To whom all hearkened from the least to the greatest, saying: "This man is the power of God, which is called great."

11. And they were attentive to him, because for a long time he had bewitched them with his sorceries.

12. But when they had believed Philip preaching of the kingdom of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, men and women were baptized.

13. Then Simon himself believed also: and being baptized, he adhered to Philip. Seeing also wonders and miracles done, he was struck with amazement.

14. Now when the apostles, who were in Jerusalem, had heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent to them Peter and John:

15. Who, when they were come, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost.

16. For he was not yet come upon any one of them: but they were only baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

17. Then they laid their hands upon them*, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18. And when Simon saw, that by the imposition of the hands of the apostles, the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,

19. Saying: "Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I shall lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost." But Peter said to him:

20. "May thy money perish with thee: because thou hast esteemed the gift of God to be purchased with money.

21. "Thou hast no part, nor lot in this matter. For thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22. "Do penance therefore from this thy wickedness: and pray to God, that perhaps this thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

23. "For I see thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bonds of iniquity."

24. Then Simon answering, said: "Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things, which you have said, may come upon me."

25. And they indeed having testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to many countries of the Samaritans.

26. And an angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying: "Arise, and go towards the south, to the way, which goeth down from Jerusalem to Gaza: this is desert."

27. And rising up he went. And behold, a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch, of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had charge over all her treasures, had come to Jerusalem to adore.

28. And he was returning sitting on his chariot, and reading Isaias the prophet.

29. And the Spirit said to Philip: "Go near, and join thyself to that chariot."

30. And Philip running thither, heard him reading the prophet Isaias, and he said: "Thinkest thou, that thou understandest what thou readest?"

31. And he said: "And how can I, unless some one shew me?" and he desired Philip to come up, and sit with him.

32. And the place of the scripture, which he read, was this: "As a sheep, he was led to the slaughter: and like a lamb without voice before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

33. "In humility his judgment was taken away. Who shall declare his generation; for his life shall be taken away from the earth?"

34. And the eunuch answering Philip, said: "I beseech thee, of whom doth the prophet speak this? of himself, or of some other?"

35. And Philip opening his mouth, and beginning at that scripture, preached to him Jesus.

36. And as they went on the way, they came to a certain water: and the eunuch saith: "See here is water; what hindereth me from being baptized?"

* They laid their hands upon them, &c. See here how the apostles administered the sacrament of confirmation, by imposition of hands and prayer—and how the faithful thereby received the Holy Ghost.

37. And Philip said: "If thou believe with thy whole heart, thou mayest." And he answering, said "I believe, that Jesus Christ is the son of God."

38. And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, Philip and the eunuch: and he baptized him.

39. And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord took away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more. And he went on his way rejoicing.

40. "But Philip was found in Azotus; and passing through, he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

C H A P. IX.

Paul's conversion and zeal. Peter heals Eneas, and raises Tabitha to life.

AND Saul as yet breathing out threatnings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest;

2. And asked of him letters to Damascus, to the synagogues; that if he found any men and women of this way, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.

3. And as he went on his journey, it came to pass, that he drew near to Damascus: and suddenly a light from heaven shone round about him.

4. And falling on the ground, he heard a voice saying to him: "Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute me?"

5. And he said: "Who art thou, Lord?" And he said: "I am Jesus, whom thou dost persecute. It is hard for thee to kick against the goad."

6. And he trembling and astonished, said: "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

7. And the Lord said to him: "Arise, and go into the city, and there it shall be told thee, what thou must do." Now the men, who went in company with him, stood amazed, hearing indeed a voice, but seeing no one.

8. And Saul arose from the ground, and his eyes being open, he saw nothing. But they leading him by the hands, brought him into Damascus.

9. And he was there three days, without sight: and he neither ate nor drank.

10. Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, by name Ananias: and the Lord said to him in a vision: "Ananias." And he said: "Behold, I am here, Lord."

11. And the Lord said to him: "Arise, and go into the street, that is called Strait: and seek in the house of Judas, one named Saul of Tarsus. For behold, he prayeth."

12. (And he saw a man named Ananias coming in, and laying his hands upon him, that he might receive his sight.)

13. But Ananias answered: "Lord, I have heard from many, of this man, how great evils he hath done to thy saints in Jerusalem:

14. "And here he hath authority from the chief priests, to bind all, who invoke thy name."

15. And the Lord said to him: "Go; for this man is a vessel of election to me, to carry my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel.

16. "For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for the sake of my name."

17. And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house: and laying his hands on him, he said: "Saul, brother, the Lord Jesus hath sent me, he, who appeared to thee in the way, as thou comest; that thou mayest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost."

18. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it were scales; and he received his sight; and rising up, he was baptized.

19. And when he had taken meat, he was strengthened. And he was with the disciples, who were at Damascus, for some days.

20. And immediately he preached Jesus in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21. And all were astonished, who heard him, and said: "Is not this he, who in Jerusalem attacked violently those, who called upon that name; and came hither for this purpose, that he might lead them bound to the chief priests?"

22. But Saul increased much more in strength, and confounded the Jews, who dwelt at Damascus, affirming that this is the Christ.

23. And when many days were passed, the Jews consulted together to kill him.

24. But their lying in wait was made known to Saul. And they guarded the gates also day and night, that they might kill him.

25. But the disciples taking him by night, conveyed him away by the wall, letting him down in a basket.

26. And when he was come into Jerusalem, he offered to join himself to the disciples: and all were afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.

27. But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and related to them how he had seen the Lord in the way; and that he had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had acted confidently in the name of Jesus.

28. And he was with them coming in and going out in Jerusalem, and acting confidently in the name of the Lord.

29. He spoke also to the Gentiles, and disputed with the Grecians: but they sought to kill him.

30. Which when the brethren had known, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him away to Tarsus.

31. The church indeed had peace throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria; and was increased, walking in the fear of the Lord; and was filled with the consolation of the Holy Ghost.

32. And it came to pass, that Peter, as he passed through, visiting all, came to the saints, who dwelt at Lydda.

33. And he found there a certain man named Eneas, lying on his bed for eight years, who was ill of the palsy.

34. And Peter said to him: "Eneas, the Lord Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed." And immediately he arose.

35. And all, who dwelt at Lydda and Saron, saw him: and they were converted to the Lord.

36. And in Joppe there was a certain disciple named Tabitha, which, being interpreted, is called Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and alms-deeds, which she performed.

37. And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick and died; whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38. And Lydda being near to Joppe, the disciples hearing that Peter was there, sent two men to him with this request: "Delay not to come even to us."

39. And Peter rising up came with them. And when he was arrived, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood round about him weeping, and shewing him the coats and garments, which Dorcas had made them.

40. And having put them all out, Peter kneeling down prayed, and turning to the body, he said: "Tabitha, arise." And she opened her eyes: and having seen Peter, sat up.

41. And giving her his hand, he raised her up. And when he had called the saints and the widows, he presented her alive.

42. And it was made known throughout all Joppe, and many believed in the Lord.

43. And it came to pass, that he staid many days in Joppe, with one Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

Cornelius is received into the church. Peter's vision.

NOW there was a certain man in Cesarea, named Cornelius, a centurion of the band, which is called the Italian—

1. A religious man, and one, who feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always:

2. He saw in a vision manifestly, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and saying to him: "Cornelius."

3. And he beholding him, being seized with fear, said: "What is it, Lord?" and he said to him: "Thy prayers and thy alms have ascended for a memorial in the sight of God."

4. "And now send men to Joppe, and call hither one Simon, who is surnamed Peter:

5. "He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side. He shall tell thee what thou must do."

6. And when the angel, who spoke to him, had departed, he called two of his household servants, and a soldier, who feared the Lord, of those, who were under him.

7. To whom when he had related all, he sent them to Joppe.

8. And on the next day, while they were going on their journey, and drawing near to the city, Peter went up to the higher parts of the house, to pray, about the sixth hour.

9. And being hungry, he was desirous to taste somewhat. And as they were preparing, there came upon him an ecstacy of mind:

10. And he saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, let down by the four corners from heaven to the earth,

12. In which were all manner of four footed beasts, and creeping things of the earth, and fowls of the air.

13. And there came a voice to him : " Arise, Peter, kill and eat."

14. But Peter said : " Far be it from me, Lord ; for I have never eaten any common and unclean thing."

15. And the voice spake to him again the second time : " That, which God hath purified, do not thou call common."

16. And this was done thrice : and presently the vessel was taken up again into heaven.

17. Now whilst Peter was doubting within himself, what the vision, which he had seen, should mean ; behold, the men, who were sent by Cornelius, enquiring for Simon's house, stood at the gate.

18. And when they had called, they asked, if Simon, who is surnamed Peter, lodged there.

19. And as Peter was thinking on the vision, the Spirit said to him : " Behold, three men seek thee."

20. " Arise therefore, go down, and go with them, doubting nothing : for I have sent them."

21. Then Peter going down to the men, said : " Behold, I am he whom ye seek ; what is the cause, for which ye are come ?"

22. And they said : " Cornelius, a centurion, a just man, and one who feareth God, and who hath good testimony from all the nation of the Jews, received an answer of a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words from thee."

23. Then bringing them in, he lodged them. And the day following, he arose, and went with them : and some of the brethren from Joppe accompanied him.

24. And the day after he entered into Cesarea. Now Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kinsmen, and special friends.

25. And it came to pass, when Peter was come in, Cornelius met him, and falling down at his feet, worshipped.

26. But Peter raised him up, saying : " Rise, I myself also am a man."

27. And talking with him, he went in, and found many, who were come together.

28. And he said to them : " Ye know how abominable a thing it is for a man, who is a Jew, to keep company, or to come to one of another nation : but God hath shewed to me, not to call any man common or unclean."

29. " Wherefore making no doubt, I came when I was sent for. I ask therefore, for what cause you have sent for me ?"

30. And Cornelius said : " Four days ago, until this hour, I was praying in my house at the ninth hour, and behold, a man stood before me in white apparel, and said :

31. ' Cornelius, thy prayer is heard ; and thy alms are remembered in the sight of God.

32. ' Send therefore to Joppe, and call hither Simon, who is surnamed Peter : he lodgeth in the house of Simon, a tanner by the sea side.

33. ' Immediately therefore I sent to thee : and thou hast done well in coming. Now therefore all we are present in thy sight, to hear all things whatsoever are commanded thee by the Lord."

VOL. II.

34. Then Peter opening his mouth, said : " In truth, I perceive that God is no respecter of persons.

35. " But in every nation*, he that feareth him, and worketh justice, is acceptable to him.

36. " God sent the word to the children of Israel, preaching peace through Jesus Christ : (he is Lord of all.)

37. " Ye know the word, which hath been published through all Judea ; for it began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached,

38. " Jesus of Nazareth : how God anointed him with the Holy Ghost, and with power ; who went about doing good, and healing all, who were oppressed by the devil ; for God was with him.

39. " And we are witnesses of all things, which he did in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem, whom they killed, hanging him upon a tree.

40. " Him God raised up the third day, and gave him to be made manifest, 41. " Not to all the people, but to witnesses pre-ordained of God, even to us, who ate and drank with him after he rose again from the dead.

42. " And he commanded us, to preach to the people, and to testify, that it is he, who hath been appointed by God, to be the judge of the living and of the dead.

43. " To him all the prophets give testimony, that through his name all receive remission of sins, who believe in him."

44. While Peter was yet speaking these words, the Holy Ghost fell upon all those, who were hearing the word.

45. And the faithful of the circumcision, who had come with Peter, were astonished, because the grace of the Holy Ghost was also poured out upon the Gentiles.

46. For they heard them speaking with tongues, and magnifying God.

47. Then Peter answered : " Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, who have received the Holy Ghost as well as we ?"

48. And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. Then they entreated him to stay with them some days.

C H A P. XI.

Peter defends his having received the Gentiles into the church. Many are converted at Antioch.

AND the apostles and brethren, who were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God.

2. And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they who were of the circumcision, disputed against him,

3. Saying : " Why didst thou go in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them ?"

* In every nation, &c. That is to say, not only Jews, but Gentiles also, of what nation soever, are acceptable to God, if they fear him, and work justice. But then true faith is always to be pre-supposed, without which (as in St. Paul, Heb. xi, 6.) it is impossible to please God. Beware then of the error of those, who would infer from this passage, that men of all religions may be pleasing to God. For since none but the true religion can be from God, all other religions must be from the father of lies, and therefore highly displeasing to the God of truth.

4. But Peter began and declared to them the matter in order, saying:

5. "I was in the city of Joppe praying, and I saw in an ecstasy of mind, a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners, and it came even to me.

6. "Into which looking I considered, and saw four-footed creatures of the earth, and beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air:

7. "And I heard also a voice saying to me: 'Arise, Peter, kill and eat.'

8. "And I said: 'By no means, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth.'

9. "And the voice answered the second time from heaven: 'What God hath made clean, call not thou common.'

10. "And this was done three times: and all were taken up again into heaven.

11. "And behold, immediately there were three men come to the house, wherein I was, sent to me from Cæsarea.

12. "And the Spirit said to me, that I should go with them, nothing doubting. And these six brethren went with me also: and we entered into the man's house.

13. "And he told us, how he had seen an angel in his house, standing and saying to him: 'Send to Joppe, and call hither Simon, who is surnamed Peter,

14. 'Who shall speak to thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.'

15. "And when I had begun to speak, the Holy Ghost fell upon them, as upon us also in the beginning.

16. "And I remembered the word of the Lord, as he said: 'John indeed baptized with water: but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.'

17. "If then God gave to them the same grace, as to us also, who have believed in the Lord Jesus Christ: who was I, that I could oppose God?"

18. When they had heard these things, they held their peace; and glorified God, saying: "God then hath also to the Gentiles given repentance unto life."

19. And those indeed, who had been dispersed, by the persecution, which arose on occasion of Stephen, went about as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none, but to the Jews only.

20. But some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they had entered into Antioch, spoke also to the Greeks, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21. And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believing were converted to the Lord.

22. And the report of these things came to the ears of the church, which was at Jerusalem: and they sent Barnabas as far as Antioch,

23. Who, when he was come, and had seen the grace of God, rejoiced; and exhorted them all with purpose of heart to continue in the Lord.

24. For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost, and of faith. And a great multitude was added to the Lord.

25. And Barnabas went to Tarsus, to seek Saul; whom, when he had found, he brought to Antioch.

26. And they conversed there in the church, a whole year: and they taught a great multitude; so that at Antioch the disciples were first named Christians.

27. And in these days there came prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch.

28. And one of them, named Agabus, rising up, signified by the spirit, that there should be a great famine over the whole world, which came to pass under Claudius.

29. And the disciples, every man according to his ability, resolved to send relief to the brethren, who dwelt in Judea:

30. Which also they did, sending it to the ancient by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAP. XII.

Herod's persecution. Peter's deliverance by an angel. Herod's punishment.

AND at the same time Herod the king stretched forth his hands, to afflict some of the church.

2. And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3. And seeing, that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded farther to take Peter also. Now it was in the days of the azymes*:

4. Whom, as soon as he had apprehended, he put into prison, delivering him to four quaternions of soldiers, to be kept, intending after the passch to bring him forth to the people.

5. Peter therefore was kept in prison. But prayer was made without ceasing by the church to God for him.

6. And when Herod would have brought him forth, that very night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the guards before the door kept the prison.

7. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shone in the room: and he striking Peter on the side, roused him up, saying: "Arise quickly." And the chains fell off from his hands.

8. And the angel said to him: "Gird thyself; and put on thy sandals." And he did so. And he said to him: "Cast thy garment about thee; and follow me."

9. And going out, he followed him, and knew not that it was true, which was done by the angel; but thought he saw a vision.

10. And having passed through the first and the second ward, they came to the iron gate, which leadeth to the city, which of itself opened to them. And going out, they passed on through one street: and immediately the angel departed from him.

11. And Peter coming to himself, said: "Now I know indeed, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews."

12. And considering, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, who was surnamed Mark, where many were assembled, and praying.

13. And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hear, named Rhoda.

14. And as soon as she knew Peter's voice, she open-

* Azymes. The festival of the unleavened bread, or the passch, which answers to our Easter.

ed not the gate for joy ; but running in, she told, that Peter stood before the gate.

15. But they said to her : " Thou art mad." But she affirmed, that it was so. Then said they : " It is his angel."

16. But Peter continued knocking. And when they had opened, they saw him, and were astonished.

17. But he, beckoning to them with his hand to hold their peace, told, how the Lord had brought him out of prison : and he said : " Tell these things to James and to the brethren." And being gone out, he went into another place.

18. As soon as it was day, there was no small confusion among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19. And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not ; having examined the keepers, he commanded they should be put to death : and going down from Judea to Cesarea, he stayed there.

20. And he was angry with the Tyrians and the Sidonians. But they with one accord came to him : and having gained Blastus, who was the king's chamberlain, they desired peace, because their countries were nourished by him.

21. And upon a day appointed, Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat on the judgment-seat, and made an oration to them.

22. And the people with acclamations cried out : " It is the voice of a god, and not of a man."

23. And forthwith an angel of the Lord struck him, because he had given the honour to God : and, eaten up by worms, he expired.

24. But the word of the Lord increased and multiplied.

25. And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, having fulfilled their ministry, taking with them John, who was surnamed Mark.

C H A P. XIII.

Saul and Barnabas are sent forth by the Holy Ghost. They preach in Cyprus and in Antioch of Pisidia.

NOW there were in the church, which was at Antioch, prophets and teachers, among whom was Barnabas, and Simon, who was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen, who was the foster-brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

2. And as they were ministering to the Lord, and fasting, the Holy Ghost said to them : " Separate me Saul and Barnabas, for the work to which I have taken them."

3. Then they fasting, and praying, and imposing their hands upon them, sent them away.

4. So they being sent by the Holy Ghost, went to Seleucia : and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5. And when they were come to Salamina, they preached the word of God, in the synagogues of the Jews. And they had also John in their ministry.

6. And when they had gone through the whole island, as far as Paphos, they found a certain man, a magician, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesu,

7. Who was with the pro-consul Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. This man sending for Barnabas and Saul, desired to hear the word of God.

8. But Elymas the magician (for so his name is interpreted) withstood them, seeking to turn away the pro-consul from the faith.

9. Then Saul, who also is Paul, filled with the Holy Ghost, looking upon him,

10. Said : " O thou full of all guile, and of all deceit, child of the devil, enemy of all justice, thou dost not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord.

11. " And now behold the hand of the Lord upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a time." And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness, and going about, he sought some one to lead him by the hand.

12. Then the pro-consul, when he had seen what was done, believed, admiring at the doctrine of the Lord.

13. And when Paul, and those who were with him, had sailed from Paphos, they came to Perge in Pamphylia. But John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.

14. But they passing through Perge, came to Antioch in Pisidia : and entering into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, they sat down.

15. And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying : " Ye men brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation to make to the people, speak."

16. Then Paul rising up, and with his hand bespeaking silence, said : " Ye men of Israel, and ye who fear God, give ear :

17. " The God of the people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people, when they were sojourners in the land of Egypt, and with an high arm brought them out from thence ;

18. " And for the space of forty years endured their manners in the desert.

19. " And destroying seven nations in the land of Chanaan, divided their land to them, by lot,

20. " As it were after four hundred and fifty years : and after these things, he gave them judges, until Samael the prophet.

21. " And afterwards they desired a king : and God gave them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, forty years.

22. " And when he had removed him, he raised them up David to be king : to whom giving testimony, he said : ' I have found David the son of Jesse, a man according to my own heart, who shall do all my wills.'

23. " Of this man's seed God according to his promise hath raised up to Israel a Saviour, Jesus.

24. " John first preaching, before his coming, the baptism of penance to all the people of Israel.

25. " And when John was fulfilling his course, he said : ' I am not he, whom ye think me to be : but behold, he cometh after me, the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to loose.'

26. " Men brethren, sons of the race of Abraham, and whosoever among you fear God, to you the word of this salvation is sent.

27. " For those who inhabited Jerusalem, and the rulers thereof, not knowing him, nor the voices of the prophets, which are read every sabbath, judging him, have fulfilled them,

28. "And finding no cause of death in him, they petitioned of Pilate, that they might put him to death."

29. "And when they had fulfilled all things, which were written of him, taking him down from the tree, they laid him in a sepulchre."

30. "But God raised him up from the dead the third day; who was seen for many days by those,"

31. "Who went up together with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who to this present time are witnesses of him to the people."

32. "And we declare to you, that the promise, which was made to our fathers,"

33. "This same hath God fulfilled to our children, raising up Jesus again, as in the second psalm also is written: 'Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee.'"

34. "And that he raised him up from the dead to return now no more to corruption, he said thus: 'That I will give you the holy* faithful things of David.'"

35. "And therefore in another place also he saith: 'Thou shalt not suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.'"

36. "For David, after he had served in his generation, according to the will of God, slept; and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption."

37. "But he, whom God hath raised from the dead, saw no corruption."

38. "Be it known therefore to you, men brethren, that through him forgiveness of sins is preached to you; and from all the things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses,"

39. "In him every one, who believeth, is justified."

40. "Beware therefore lest that come upon you, which is spoken by the prophets:

41. 'Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye will not believe, if any man shall tell it you.'"

42. And as they went out, they desired them, that on the next sabbath, they would speak these words to them."

43. And when the synagogue was broken up, many of the Jews, and of the strangers, who served God, followed Paul and Barnabas; who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God."

44. But the next sabbath-day, the whole city almost came together to hear the word of God."

45. And when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and contradicted those things, which were said by Paul, blaspheming."

46. Then Paul and Barnabas said boldly: "To you it behoved us to speak first the word of God: but seeing ye reject it, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life; behold, we turn to the Gentiles."

47. "For so the Lord hath commanded us: 'I have set thee to be the light of the Gentiles; that thou mayest be for salvation unto the utmost part of the earth.'"

48. And the Gentiles hearing this, were glad; and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life, believed."

49. And the word of the Lord was published throughout the whole country."

50. But the Jews stirred up religious and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised a persecution against Paul and Barnabas: and cast them out of their territories."

51. But they shaking off the dust of their feet against them, came to Iconium."

52. And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost."

C H A P. XIV.

Paul and Barnabas preach in Iconium and Lystra: Paul heals a cripple: they are taken for gods. Paul is stoned. They preach in Derbe and Perge.

AND it came to pass in Iconium, that they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and spoke, so that a great multitude both of the Jews and of the Greeks did believe."

2. But the unbelieving Jews stirred up, and incensed the minds of the Gentiles against the brethren."

3. A long time therefore they staid there, acting confidently in the Lord, who gave testimony to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands."

4. And the multitude of the city was divided: and some indeed held with the Jews, and some with the apostles."

5. And when there was an assault made by the Gentiles and the Jews with their rulers, to treat them contumeliously, and to stone them:

6. They understanding this, fled to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and to the whole country round about, and were there preaching the gospel."

7. Now there sat a certain man at Lystra disabled in his feet, lame from his mother's womb, who never had walked."

8. This man heard Paul speaking: who looking upon him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

9. Said with a loud voice: "Stand upright on thy feet." And he leaped up and walked."

10. And when the multitudes had seen what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice in the Lycaonian tongue, saying: "The gods in the likeness of men, are come down to us."

11. And they called Barnabas, Jupiter: but Paul, Mercury: because he was the chief speaker."

12. The priest also of Jupiter, that was before the city, bringing oxen and garlands before the gate, would have offered sacrifice with the people."

13. Which when the apostles Barnabas and Paul had heard, rending their clothes, they ran among the people, crying out,

14. And saying: "O men, why do ye these things? We also are mortals, men like unto you, preaching to you to be converted from these vain things to the living God, who made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are in them:

15. "Who in past generations, suffered all nations to walk in their own way."

16. "Nevertheless he left not himself without testimony, doing good from heaven, giving rains, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness."

17. And speaking these things, they scarcely restrained the people from sacrificing to them.

18. Now there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitude, and having stoned Paul, they dragged him out of the city, thinking him to be dead.

19. But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up and entered into the city, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

20. And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch:

21. Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith: for that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God.

22. And when they had ordained for them priests in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, in whom they believed:

23. And passing through Pisidia, they came into Pamphylia.

24. And having spoken the word of the Lord in Perge, they went down to Attalia:

25. And thence they sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been delivered to the grace of God, unto the work which they accomplished.

26. And when they were arrived, and had assembled the church, they related what great things God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles.

27. And they staid no little time with the disciples.

A dissension about circumcision. The decision and letter of the council of Jerusalem.

AND some coming down from Judea, taught the brethren: "That unless ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved."

2. And when Paul and Barnabas had no small contest with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain others of the other side, should go up to the apostles and priests to Jerusalem, about this question.

3. They therefore being brought on their way by the church, passed through Phenice and Samaria, relating the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy to all the brethren.

4. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received by the church, and by the apostles and ancients, declaring how great things God had done with them.

5. But there rose up some of the sect of the pharisees, that believed, saying: "They must be circumcised, and be commanded to observe the law of Moses."

6. And the apostles and ancients came together to consider of this matter.

7. And when there was much disputing, Peter rising up, said to them: "Men brethren, ye know, that in former days, God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

VOL. II.

8. "And God, who knoweth the hearts, gave them testimony, giving to them the Holy Ghost as well as to us:

9. "And made no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10. "Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the necks of the disciples, which neither our fathers, nor we were able to bear?

11. "But by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we believe to be saved, even as they."

12. And all the multitude held their peace: and gave ear to Barnabas and Paul, relating what great signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13. And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying: "Men brethren, hear me.

14. "Simon hath told in what manner God first visited the Gentiles to take out of them a people to his name.

15. "And to this agree the words of the prophets, as it is written:

16. "After these things I will return, and will rebuild the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down, and I will rebuild the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:

17. "That the rest of men may seek after the Lord, and all nations upon whom my name is invoked, faith the Lord, who doth these things."

18. "To the Lord is known his own work from the beginning of the world.

19. "Wherefore I judge that they, who from among the Gentiles are converted to God, are not to be troubled.

20. "But that we write to them, that they refrain themselves from the pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21. "For Moses from ancient times, hath in every city them that preach him in the synagogues, where he is read every sabbath."

22. Then it pleased the apostles and ancients, with the whole church, to choose men of their own company, and to send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; Judas who was surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren,

23. Writing by their hands. "The apostles and ancients brethren, to the brethren of the Gentiles, who are at Antioch, and in Syria, and Cilicia, greeting.

24. "For as much as we have heard that some, who went out from us, have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, to whom we gave no commands:

25. "It hath seemed good to us assembled together, to choose out men, and send them to you with our dearly beloved Barnabas and Paul,

26. "Men who have given their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27. "We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves also will by word of mouth tell you the same things.

28. "For it hath seemed good to the Holy Ghost and to us, to lay no further burden upon you than these necessary things:

29. "That ye abstain from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled*, and from fornication : from which things keeping yourselves, you shall do well. Fare ye well."

30. They therefore being dismissed, went down to Antioch : and when they had gathered together the multitude, they delivered the epistle.

31. Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation :

32. But Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, comforted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33. And having staid there some time, they were dismissed with peace by the brethren to those who had sent them.

34. But it seemed good to Silas to remain there : and Judas alone went back to Jerusalem.

35. But Paul and Barnabas continued at Antioch, teaching and preaching with many others the word of the Lord.

36. And after some days, Paul said to Barnabas : " Let us return, and visit the brethren in all the cities, wherein we have preached the word of the Lord, to see how they do."

37. And Barnabas had a mind to take along with him John also, who was surnamed Mark :

38. But Paul desired that he (as having departed from them out of Pamphylia, and not gone with them to the work) might not be received.

39. And there was a dissension, so that they departed one from another : and Barnabas indeed having taken with him Mark, sailed to Cyprus.

40. But Paul choosing Silas, departed, being delivered by the brethren to the grace of God.

41. And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches—commanding them to keep the precepts of the apostles and the ancients.

C H A P. XVI.

Paul visits the churches. He is called to preach in Macedonia. He is scourged at Philippi.

AND he came to Derbe and Lystra. And behold, there was a certain disciple there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewish woman, who believed, his father being a Gentile.

2. To this man the brethren, who were in Lystra and Iconium, gave a good testimony.

3. Him Paul would have to go along with him : and taking him, he circumcised him, because of the Jews, who were in those places. For they all knew, that his father was a Gentile.

4. And as they passed through the cities, they delivered to them the decrees to keep, which were decreed by the apostles and ancients, who were at Jerusalem.

5. The churches indeed were confirmed in faith, and increased in number daily.

6. Now having passed through Phrygia, and the country of Galatia, they were forbidden by the Holy Ghost, to preach the word of God in Asia.

7. And when they had come into Mysia, they abated, to bring the Jews more easily to admit of the society of the Gentiles ; and to exercise the latter in obedience. But this prohibition was but temporary, and has long since ceased to oblige—more especially in the western churches.

tempted to go into Bithynia : and the Spirit of Jesus permitted them not.

8. And when they had passed through Mysia, they went down to Troas :

9. And a vision was shewn to Paul in the night, a man of Macedonia standing, and beseeching him, and saying : " Pass over into Macedonia, and help us."

10. And as soon as he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go into Macedonia, being assured that God had called us to preach the gospel to them.

11. So sailing from Troas, we came with a direct course to Samothracia, and the day following to Neapolis :

12. And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of part of Macedonia, a colony. And we were in this city some days conferring together.

13. And upon the sabbath-day, we went forth without the gate by a river side, where it seemed, that there was prayer : and sitting down, we spoke to the women, who were assembled.

14. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one, who worshipped God, heard us, whose heart the Lord opened, to attend to the things, which were spoken by Paul.

15. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying : " If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and remain." And she constrained us.

16. And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain girl, possessed with a pythonical spirit*, came, who brought her masters much gain by divining.

17. This same following Paul and us, cried out, saying : " These men are the servants of the most high God, who shew you the way to salvation."

18. And this she did many days. But Paul being grieved, turned and said to the spirit : " I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to go out of her." And he went out the same hour.

19. But her masters seeing that the hope of their gain was gone, having apprehended Paul and Silas, they brought them into the market-place to the rulers.

20. And presenting them to the magistrate, said : " These men disturb our city, being Jews :

21. " And preach a fashion, which it is not lawful for us to receive, nor observe, being Romans."

22. And the people ran together against them : and their garments being torn off, the magistrates commanded them to be beaten with rods.

23. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them securely :

24. Who having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

25. And at midnight, Paul and Silas praying, praised God. And those, who were in prison, heard them.

26. And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken. And immediately all the doors were opened; and every one's hands were loosed.

* A pythonical spirit. That is, a spirit pretending to divine and tell fortunes.

27. And the keeper of the prison being awakened, and seeing the doors of the prison open, having drawn his sword, would have killed himself, imagining, that the prisoners had fled.

28. But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying: "Do thyself no harm: for we are all here."

29. Then calling for a light, he went in, and trembling fell down at the feet of Paul and Silas.

30. And bringing them out, he said: "Masters, what must I do, that I may be saved?"

31. And they said: "Believe in the Lord Jesus; and thou shalt be saved, and thy house."

32. And they spoke the word of the Lord to him and to all, who were in his house.

33. And he, taking them the same hour of the night, washed their wounds: and he was baptized, and presently all his family.

34. And when he had brought them into his own house, he laid the table for them, and rejoiced with all his family, believing God.

35. And when it was day, the magistrates sent the serjeants, saying: "Dismiss those men."

36. And the keeper of the prison told these words to Paul: "The magistrates have sent, that ye should be dismissed; now therefore depart, and go in peace."

37. But Paul said to them: "After having whipped us publicly, uncondemned, men, who are Romans, they sent us to prison: and now do they thrust us out privately? Not so: but let them come,

38. "And they themselves send us out." And the serjeants told these words to the magistrates. And they were afraid, having heard they were Romans.

39. And coming, they intreated them; and leading them out, they desired them to depart out of the city.

40. And coming out of the prison, they entered into the house of Lydia: and having seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

C H A P. XVII.

Paul preaches to the Thessalonians and Bereans. His discourse to the Athenians.

AND when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a synagogue of the Jews.

2. And Paul, according to his custom, went in to them: and for three sabbath-days he reasoned with them out of the scriptures,

3. Opening and insinuating, that the Christ was to suffer, and to rise again from the dead: and that this is Jesus the Christ, whom I preach to you.

4. And some of them believed, and were associated to Paul and Silas; and of those who served God, and of the Gentiles a great multitude, and noble women not a few.

5. But the Jews, moved with envy, taking with them some wicked men of the vulgar sort, and making a tumult, set the city in an uproar; and besetting Jason's house, sought to bring them out to the people.

6. And when they had not found them, they haled Jason and certain brethren to the rulers of the city, crying out: "Those, who disturb the city", are come hither also,

7. "Whom Jason hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying, that there is another king, Jesus."

8. And they stirred up the people, and the rulers of the city hearing these things.

9. And having received satisfaction from Jason, and the rest, they let them go.

10. But the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night to Berea: who, when they were come thither, entered into the synagogue of the Jews.

11. Now these were more noble than those of Thessalonica, who received the word with all eagerness, daily searching the scriptures, whether these things were so.

12. And many indeed of them believed, and of honourable women, who were Gentiles, and of men not a few.

13. But when the Jews in Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was also preached by Paul at Berea, they came thither also, stirring up and troubling the multitude.

14. And then the brethren immediately sent away Paul, to go to the sea-side: but Silas and Timothy remained there.

15. And those, who conducted Paul, brought him as far as Athens: and receiving a commandment from him to Silas and Timothy, that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

16. Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was excited within him, seeing the city given up to idolatry.

17. He disputed therefore in the synagogue with the Jews, and with those, who served God, and in the market-place, every day with those, who were present.

18. And some Epicurean and Stoic philosophers disputed with him, and some said: "What is it that this babbler would say?" But others: "He seemeth to be a publisher of new gods:" because he preached to them Jesus, and the resurrection.

19. And taking him, they brought him to the Areopagus, saying: "May we know what this new doctrine is, which thou speakest of?"

20. "For thou bringest certain new things to our ears. We would know therefore what these things mean."

21. (Now all the Athenians, and strangers that were there, employed themselves in nothing else but either in telling or in hearing something new.)

22. But Paul standing in the midst of the Areopagus, said: "Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23. "For passing by, and seeing your idols, I found

+ More noble. The Jews of Berea are justly commended, for their eagerly embracing the truth, and searching the scriptures, to find out the texts alleged by the apostle; which was a far more generous proceeding than that of their countrymen at Thessalonica, who persecuted the preachers of the gospel, without examining the grounds they alleged for what they taught.

an altar also, on which was written : ' TO THE UNKNOWN GOD.' What therefore ye worship without knowing it, this I preach to you.

24. "God, who made the world and all things therein, seeing He is the Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples* made with hands :

25. "Nor is he served by the hands of men, as though he needed any thing, seeing it is he, who giveth to all life, and breath, and all things :

26. "And hath made of one, all mankind, to dwell upon the whole face of the earth, determining appointed times, and the limits of their habitation.

27. "That they should seek God, if haply they may feel after him or find him ; although he be not far from every one of us :

28. "For in him we live, and we move, and we are : as some also of your own poets said : ' For we are also his offspring.'

29. "Being therefore the offspring of God, we must not suppose the Divinity to be like unto gold or silver, or stone, the praving of art and device of man.

30. "And God indeed having overlooked the times of this ignorance, now declareth to men, that all should every where do penance.

31. "Because he hath appointed a day, wherein he will judge the world in equity, by the man, whom he hath appointed, giving faith to all, by raising him up from the dead."

32. And when they had heard of the resurrection of the dead, some indeed mocked ; but other, said : " We will hear thee again concerning this matter."

33. So Paul went out from among them.

34. But certain men adhered to him, and believed : among whom was also Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

C H A P. XVIII.

Paul founds the church of Corinth ; and preaches at Ephesus, &c. Apollo goes to Corinth.

AF T E R these things departing from Athens, he came to Corinth.

2. And finding a certain Jew, named Aquila, a native of Pontus, who had lately come from Italy, with Priscilla his wife (because Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome) he came to them.

3. And because he was of the same trade, he remained with them, and wrought : (now they were tent-makers by trade.)

4. And he disputed in the synagogue every sabbath, interpoling the name of the Lord Jesus : and he persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5. And when Silas and Timothy were come from Macedonia, Paul was earnest in preaching, testifying to the Jews, that Jesus is the Christ.

6. But they contradicting and blaspheming, shaking his garments, he said to them : " Your blood be upon your own heads : I am clean : from henceforth I will go to the Gentiles."

7. And departing thence, he entered into the house

* Dwelleth not in temples. The Deity is not contained in temples ; so as to need them for his dwelling, or any other use, as the heathens imagined. Yet by his omnipresence he is both there and every where.

of a certain man, named Titus Justus, one, who worshipped God, whose house joined to the synagogue.

8. And Crispus the ruler of the synagogue believed in the Lord with all his house : and many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were baptized.

9. And the Lord said to Paul in the night by vision : " Fear not, but speak, and hold not thy peace."

10. " Because I am with thee : and no man shall set upon thee to hurt thee : for I have much people in this city."

11. And he staid there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12. But when Gallio was pro-consul of Achaia, Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and brought him to the judgment-seat,

13. Saying : " This man persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law."

14. And when Paul was beginning to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews : " If it were some manner of wrong, or a heinous deed, O Jews, it would be reasonable I should bear with you."

15. " But if they be questions of a word, and names, and of your law, look ye to it : I will not judge of such matters."

16. And he drove them from the judgment-seat.

17. And all lying hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, struck him before the judgment-seat, and Gallio cared for none of those things.

18. But Paul, when he had staid yet many days, taking leave of the brethren, he sailed from thence into Syria, (and with him Priscilla and Aquila,) having shorn his head in Cenchrea : for he had a vow.

19. And he came to Ephesus, and left them there. But he himself entering into the synagogue, disputed with the Jews.

20. And when they intreated him, to make a longer stay, he consented not :

21. But taking his leave, and saying, " I will return to you again, God willing : " he departed from Ephesus.

22. And going down to Cesarea, he went up, and saluted the church, and so came down to Antioch.

23. And after he had spent some time there, he departed, passing in order through the country of Galatia and Phrygia, strengthening all the disciples.

24. Now a certain Jew, named Apollo, a native of Alexandria, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus, mighty in the scriptures.

25. This man was instructed in the way of the Lord, and being fervent in spirit, spoke and taught diligently the things, which are of Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John.

26. This man therefore began to speak boldly in the synagogue. Whom when Priscilla and Aquila heard, they took him to them, and expounded more exactly to him the way of the Lord.

27. And whereas he was desirous to go to Achaia, the brethren exhorting, wrote to the disciples to receive him. Who, when he was come, helped them much, who had believed :

28. For he vigorously convinced the Jews in public, shewing, by the scriptures, Jesus to be the Christ.

C H A P. XIX.

Paul establishes the church at Ephesus. The tumult of the silversmiths.

AND it came to pass, when Apollo was at Corinth, that Paul having passed through the upper parts, came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples :

2. And he said to them : " Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed ? " But they said to him : " We have not so much as heard, whether there be a Holy Ghost."

3. And he said : " In what then were ye baptized ? " Who said : " In John's baptism."

4. Then Paul said : " John baptized the people with the baptism of penance, saying : ' That they should believe in him, who was to come after him, that is to say, in Jesus.' "

5. Having heard these things, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6. And when Paul had imposed his hands on them, the Holy Ghost came upon them ; and they spoke tongues and prophesied.

7. And all the men were about twelve.

8. And entering into the synagogue, he spoke boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading concerning the kingdom of God.

9. But when some were hardened, and believed not, but spoke ill of the way of the Lord before the multitude, departing from them, he separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

10. And this continued for two years, so that all, who dwelt in Asia, heard the word of the Lord, Jews and Gentiles.

11. And God wrought special miracles by the hand of Paul.

12. So that even there were brought from his body to the sick, handkerchiefs and aprons : and the diseases departed from them, and the wicked spirits went out of them.

13. Now some of the Jewish exorcists, who went about, attempted to speak over those, who had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying : " I conjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preacheth."

14. And there were certain men, seven sons of Sceva a Jew, a chief priest, who did this.

15. But an evil spirit answering, said to them : " Jesus I know : and Paul I know : but who are ye ? "

16. And the man, in whom the evil spirit was, leaping upon them, and mastering them both, prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house, naked and wounded.

17. And this was known to all the Jews and the Gentiles, who dwelt at Ephesus : and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18. And many of those, who believed, came confessing and declaring their deeds.

19. And many of those, who had followed curious arts, brought their books together, and burnt them before all : and the price of them being computed, they found the money to be fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20. So mightily increased the word of God, and was confirmed.

21. Now these things being ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, as soon as he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying : " After I have been there, I must also see Rome."

22. And sending into Macedonia two of those, who ministered to him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself remained for a time in Asia.

23. Now at that time there arose no small disturbance about the way of the Lord.

24. For a certain man, named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver temples for Diana, brought no small gain to the craftsmen :

25. Whom having called together, with the workmen of like occupation, he said : " Ye men, ye know that our gain is by this trade :

26. " Now ye see, and hear, that this Paul by persuasion hath drawn away a great multitude, not only at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, saying : ' That they are no gods, which are made with hands.' "

27. " So that not only this our craft is in danger of being vilified, but also the temple of great Diana shall be set at nought ; yea and her majesty shall begin to be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth."

28. Having heard these things, they were full of anger, and cried out, saying : " Great is Diana of the Ephesians."

29. And the whole city was filled with confusion : and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, companions of Paul.

30. And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31. And some also of the rulers of Asia, who were his friends, sent unto him, desiring, that he would not venture himself into the theatre.

32. Now some cried out one thing, some another : for the assembly was confused : and the greater part knew not for what cause they were come together.

33. And they drew forth Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews thrusting him forward. And Alexander beckoning with his hand for silence, would have given the people satisfaction.

34. But as soon as they perceived him to be a Jew, all with one voice, for the space of about two hours, cried out : " Great is Diana of the Ephesians."

35. And when the town-clerk had appeased the multitudes, he said : " Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there, who knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great Diana, and of Jupiter's offspring ?

36. " Seeing therefore these things cannot be contradicted, ye ought to be quiet, and do nothing rashly.

37. " For ye have brought hither these men, neither guilty of sacrilege, nor of blasphemy against your goddesses.

38. " But if Demetrius and the craftsmen, who are with him, have a cause against any man, the courts of justice are open, and there are proconsuls : let them accuse one another.

39. " And if ye enquire after any other matter, it may be decided in a lawful assembly.

40. " For we are in danger of being charged with this day's uproar : there being no man guilty (of whom we can give an account) of this concourse." And when he had said these things, he dismissed the assembly.

C H A P. XX.

Paul passes through Macedonia and Greece: he raises a dead man to life at Troas. His discourse to the clergy of Ephesus.

AN D after the tumult ceased, Paul calling to him the disciples, and exhorting them, took his leave, and set forward to go into Macedonia.

2. And when he had gone over those parts, and had exhorted them with many words, he came into Greece:

3. Where when he had spent three months, the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria: so he took a resolution to return through Macedonia.

4. And there accompanied him Sopater the son of Pyrrhus, of Berea: and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus: and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy: and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus.

5. These having gone before, waited for us at Troas.

6. But we sailed from Philippi after the days of the azymes, and came to them to Troas in five days, where we staid seven days.

7. And on the first day of the week, when we assembled to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, being to depart on the morrow: and he continued his speech until midnight.

8. And there were a great number of lamps in the upper chamber, where we were assembled.

9. And a certain young man, named Eutychus, sitting on the window, being oppressed with a heavy sleep, as Paul was long preaching, by occasion of his sleep, fell from the third loft down, and was taken up dead.

10. To whom when Paul went down, and laid himself upon him: and embracing him, said, "Be not troubled, for his soul is in him."

11. Then going up, and breaking bread, and tasting, and having talked a long while to them until daylight, so he departed.

12. And they brought the youth alive, and were not a little comforted.

13. But we going aboard the ship, sailed to Assos, from whence we were to take in Paul: for so he had appointed, himself purposing to travel by land.

14. And when he had met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15. And sailing from thence, next day we came over against Chius: and in another day we arrived at Samos: and the day following we came to Miletus.

16. For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, lest he should be delayed any time in Asia. For he hastened on, if it were possible for him to keep the day of pentecost at Jerusalem.

17. And sending from Miletus to Ephesus, he called the ancients of the church.

18. And when they were come to him, and were together, he said to them: "Ye know from the first day, that I came into Asia, in what manner I have been with you for all the time;

19. "Serving the Lord with all humility, and with tears, and temptations, which came upon me from the snares of the Jews:

20. "How I have kept back nothing, which was profitable to you, but have preached it to you, and taught you publicly, and from house to house:

21. "Testifying both to Jews and Gentiles penitence towards God, and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.

22. "And now behold, bound in the spirit, I go to Jerusalem; not knowing the things, which shall befall me there:

23. "Save that the Holy Ghost in every city witnesseth to me, saying: that chains and afflictions wait for me at Jerusalem.

24. "But I fear none of these things: neither count my life more precious than myself, so that I might consummate my course, and the ministry of the word, which I have received from the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25. "And now behold, I know that ye all, from whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, will see my face no more.

26. "Wherefore I take you to witness this day, I am clear from the blood of all.

27. "For I have not been wanting to declare to you all the counsel of God.

28. "Take heed to yourselves, and to all the flock, which the Holy Ghost hath placed you bishops, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

29. "I know, that after my departure ravening wolves will enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30. "And of your own selves will rise up men speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31. "Therefore watch, keeping in memory, that for three years I ceased not night and day, with admonishing every one of you.

32. "And now I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, who is able to build up, and to give an inheritance among all the sanctified.

33. "I have not coveted any man's silver, gold, or apparel, as

34. "Ye yourselves know: that as for such things, these hands have furnished.

35. "I have shewed you all things, that labouring in this manner, we must receive the weak, and remember the word of the Lord Jesus, how he said: 'It is more blessed to give, than to receive.'

36. And when he had said these things, kneeled down, he prayed with them all.

37. And there was much weeping among them, and falling on Paul's neck, they kissed him,

38. Being very much grieved for the word, which he had said, that they should see his face no more. And they conducted him to the ship.

C H A P. XXI.

Paul goes up to Jerusalem. He is apprehended by the Jews in the temple.

AN D when it came to pass, that being parted from them, we set sail, we came with a direct course to Coos, and the day following to Rhodes, and from thence to Patara.

2. And having found a ship bound for Phenice, we went aboard, and set to sail.

3. And when we had discovered Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed into Syria, and came to Tyre : for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4. And finding disciples, we stayed there seven days ; who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5. And the days being expired, departing we went forward, they all bringing us on our way, with their wives and children, till we were out of the city : and kneeling down on the shore, we prayed.

6. And when we had taken leave of one another, we took ship : and they returned home.

7. But we having finished the voyage by sea, from Tyre came down to Ptolemais : and saluting the brethren, we staid one day with them.

8. And the next day departing, we came to Cæsarea. And entering into the house of Philip the evangelist*, who was one of the seven, we staid with him.

9. And he had four daughters virgins, who did prophesy.

10. And as we staid there for some days, there came from Judæa a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11. And when he had come to us, he took Paul's girdle : and binding his own feet and hands, he said : " These things saith the Holy Ghost : ' The man whose girdle this is, thus shall the Jews bind in Jerusalem, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.' "

12. And when we had heard this, both we and those, who were of that place, begged of him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13. Then Paul answered, and said : " What do ye mean, weeping and afflicting my heart ? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die in Jerusalem, for the name of the Lord Jesus. "

14. And when we could not persuade him, we ceased, saying : " The will of the Lord be done. "

15. And after those days, being prepared, we went up to Jerusalem.

16. And there went also with us some of the disciples from Cæsarea, bringing with them one Mnason, a Cyprian, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17. And when we had come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18. And the day following, Paul went in with us to James : and all the ancients were assembled.

19. And when he had saluted them, he related particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20. But they hearing it, glorified God ; and said to him : " Thou seest, brother, how many thousands there are among the Jews, who have believed : and they are all zealous for the law. "

21. " Now they have heard of thee, that thou teachest those Jews, who are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses ; saying, that they ought not to circumcise their children, nor to walk according to the custom. "

22. " What is it therefore ? The multitude must indeed come together : for they will hear, that thou art come. "

23. " Do therefore this that we say to thee : we have four men, who have a vow upon them. "

24. " Take these, and purify thyself with them ; and bestow on them, that they may shave their heads ; and all will know, that the things, which they have heard of thee, are false : but that thou thyself also walkest keeping the law. "

25. " As for those of the Gentiles, who have believed, we have written, decreeing, that they should refrain themselves from that, which has been offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication. "

26. Then Paul took the men ; and the next day being purified with them, entered into the temple, giving notice of the accomplishment of the days of purification, until an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27. But when the seven days were drawing to an end, the Jews, who were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands upon him, crying out :

28. " Men of Israel, help : this is the man, who teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place ; and moreover hath brought in Gentiles into the temple, and hath violated this holy place. "

29. For they had seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with him, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.

30. And the whole city was in an uproar : and there was a concourse of people. And having seized on Paul, they drew him out of the temple : and immediately the doors were shut.

31. And as they were seeking to kill him, it was told the tribune of the band, that all Jerusalem was in confusion.

32. Who forthwith taking with him soldiers and centurions, ran down to them. And when they saw the tribune and the soldiers, they left off beating Paul.

33. Then the tribune coming near, took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains : and demanded who he was, and what he had done ?

34. And some cried out one thing, some another, among the multitude. And when he could not know the certainty, because of the tumult, he commanded him to be brought into the castle.

35. And when he was come to the stairs, it happened, that he was borne up by the soldiers, because of the violence of the people.

36. For the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, " Away with him. "

37. And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he said to the tribune : " May I speak something to thee ? " Who said : " Canst thou speak Greek ? "

* The evangelist. That is, the preacher of the gospel : the same, who before converted the Samaritans, and baptized the eunuch, chap. viii ; being one of the seven first deacons.

† Keeping the law. The law, though now no longer obligatory, was for a time observed by the christian Jews—to bury, as it were, the synagogue with honour.

38. "Art not thou that Egyptian, who before these days didst raise a tumult, and didst lead forth into the desert four thousand men, who were murderers?"

39. But Paul said to him: "I am indeed a Jew, a man of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city. And I beseech thee, permit me to speak to the people."

40. And when he had given him leave, Paul standing on the stairs, beckoned with his hand to the people. And a great silence being made, he spoke to them in the Hebrew tongue, saying:

C H A P. XXII.

Paul declares to the people the history of his conversion. He escapes scourging by claiming the privilege of a Roman.

"MEN brethren, and fathers, hear ye the account, which I now give you."

2. And when they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew tongue, they kept the more silence.

3. And he saith: "I am a man, who am a Jew, born at Tarsus in Cilicia; but brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, taught according to the truth of the law of the fathers, zealous for the law, as also ye all are this day:

4. "And I persecuted this way unto death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women;

5. "As the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the ancients; from whom also taking letters, I went to the brethren at Damascus, to bring them bound from thence to Jerusalem, that they might be punished.

6. "And it came to pass, as I was going, and drawing near to Damascus at mid-day, that suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me:

7. "And falling on the ground, I heard a voice saying to me: 'Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?'

8. "And I answered: 'Who art thou, Lord?' And he said to me: 'I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.'

9. "And those, who were with me, saw indeed the light, but they heard not the voice* of him, who spoke with me.

10. "And I said: 'What shall I do, Lord?' And the Lord said to me: 'Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things, which thou must do.'

11. "And whereas I did not see for the brightness of that light, being led by the hand by my companions, I came to Damascus.

12. "And one Ananias, a man according to the law, having a good character from all the Jews dwelling there,

13. "Coming to me, and standing by me, said to me: 'Brother Saul, receive thy sight.' And I the same hour looked upon him.

14. "And he said: 'The God of our fathers hath pre-ordained thee, that thou shouldst know his will, and see the Just One, and shouldst hear the voice from his mouth.

15. "For thou shalt be his witness to all men, of those things, which thou hast seen and heard.

16. "And now, why delayest thou? Rise up, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling upon his name."

17. "And it came to pass, when I had come again to Jerusalem, and was praying in the temple, that I was in a trance,

18. "And saw him saying unto me: 'Make haste, and go quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.'

19. "And I said: 'Lord, they know that I cast into prison, and beat in every synagogue, those who believed in thee.

20. "And when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I stood by, and consented, and kept the garments of those, who killed him.'

21. "And he said to me: 'Go; for unto the nations afar off will I send thee.'

22. And they heard him until this word, and then lifted up their voice, saying: 'Away with such a one from the earth: for it is not fit, that he should live.'

23. And as they cried out, and threw off their garments, and cast dust into the air,

24. The tribune commanded him to be brought into the castle, and to be scourged, and to be tortured; that he might know for what cause they cried out thus against him.

25. And when they had bound him with thongs, Paul saith to the centurion standing by him: "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man, who is a Roman, and uncondemned?"

26. Which having heard, the centurion went to the tribune, and told him, saying: "What art thou about to do? For this man is a Roman citizen."

27. Then the tribune came, and said to him: "Tell me, if thou be a Roman?" But he said: "Yea."

28. And the tribune answered: "I obtained the being free of this city with a great sum." And Paul said: "But I was born free."

29. Immediately therefore those, who were about to torture him, departed from him. The tribune also was afraid, after he understood, that he was a Roman citizen, and because he had bound him.

30. But on the next day, being desirous to know more diligently, for what cause he was accused by the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the priests to come together, and all the council: and bringing forth Paul, he set him before them.

C H A P. XXIII.

Paul stands before the council: the Jews conspire his death. He is sent away to Cesarea.

AND Paul looking upon the council, said: "Men brethren, I have converted with an entire good conscience before God, until this present day."

2. And the high priest Ananias commanded them who stood by him, to strike him on the mouth.

3. Then Paul said to him: "God shall strike thee, thou whited wall. For sittest thou there to judge me according to the law; and contrary to the law, commandest me to be struck?"

4. And those, who stood by, said: "Dost thou revile the high priest of God?"

5. And Paul said: "I knew not, brethren, that

* Heard not the voice. That is, they distinguished not the words; though they heard a voice. Acts ix. 7.

he is the high priest. For it is written: 'Thou shalt not speak evil of the prince of thy people.'

6. And Paul, knowing that the one part were sadducees, and the other pharisees, cried out in the council: "Men brethren, I am a pharisee, the son of pharisees: concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead, I am called in question."

7. And when he had said this, there arose a dissension between the pharisees and the sadducees; and the multitude was divided.

8. For the sadducees say, that there is no resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit: but the pharisees confess both.

9. Now a great clamour was raised. And some of the pharisees rising up, contended, saying: "We find no evil in this man. What if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel?"

10. And when there arose a great dissension, the tribune fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11. And the night following, the Lord standing by him, said: "Be constant: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome."

12. And when it was day, some of the Jews assembled together, and bound themselves with a curse, saying: that they would neither eat nor drink, till they had killed Paul.

13. And they were more than forty men, who had made this conspiracy.

14. And they came to the chief priests and the ancients, and said: "We have bound ourselves under a curse, that we will eat nothing, till we kill Paul."

15. "Now therefore do ye with the council, signify to the tribune, that he bring him forth to you, as if ye meant to know something more certain concerning him. And we, before he come near, are ready to kill him."

16. And when Paul's sister's son had heard of their lying in wait, he came, and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17. Then Paul calling to him one of the centurions, said: "Bring this young man to the tribune, for he hath something to tell him."

18. So he took him, and brought him to the tribune, and said: "Paul the prisoner desired me to bring this young man to thee, who hath something to say to thee."

19. And the tribune taking him by the hand, went aside with him privately, and asked him: "What is it, that thou hast to tell me?"

20. And he said: "The Jews have agreed to desire thee, that thou wouldst bring forth Paul to-morrow into the council, as if they meant to enquire something more certain concerning him:

21. "But do not thou give credit to them: for there lie in wait for him more than forty men of them, who have bound themselves by oath, neither to eat nor to drink, till they kill him: and they are now ready waiting for thy promise."

22. The tribune therefore dismissed the young man, charging him to tell no man, that he had made known these things to him.

23. Then having called two centurions, he said to them: "Make ready two hundred soldiers, that they may go as far as Cesarea, and seventy horsemen, and two hundred spearmen from the third hour of the night.

24. "And provide beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe to Felix the governor."

25. (For he feared lest the Jews might take him away by force, and kill him, and he should afterwards be slandered as if he were to receive money.)

26. And he wrote a letter after this manner: "Claudius Lysias to the most excellent governor Felix, greeting.

27. "This man having been seized by the Jews, and ready to be killed by them, I rescued, coming in with an army, having understood that he is a Roman:

28. "And being desirous to know the cause, which they objected to him, I brought him forth into their council.

29. "Whom I found to be accused of questions concerning their law—but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bands.

30. "And when it was told me, that they had prepared an ambush for him, I sent him to thee, signifying also to his accusers to plead before thee. Farewel."

31. Then the soldiers, according as it was commanded them, taking Paul, brought him by night to Antipatris.

32. And the next day, leaving the horsemen to go with him, they returned to the castle.

33. Who when they had come to Cesarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34. And when he had read it, and had asked of what province he was, and understood that he was of Cilicia:—

35. "I will hear thee," said he, "when thy accusers come." And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment-hall.

C H A P. XXIV.

Paul defends his innocence before Felix the governor. He preaches the faith to him.

AND after five days the high priest Ananias came down, with some of the ancients, and one Tertullus an orator, who went to the governor against Paul.

2. And Paul being cited, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying: "Whereas through thee we live in much peace, and many things are rectified by thy foresight;

3. "We accept it always and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness.

4. "But that I be no further tedious to thee, I beseech thee of thy clemency to hear us in a few words.

5. "We have found this a perilent man, and raising seditions among all the Jews throughout the whole world, and author of the sedition of the sect of the Nazarenes:

6. "Who also attempted to profane the temple; whom we apprehended, and would have judged according to our law.

7. "But Lysias the tribune, coming upon us, took him away with great violence out of our hands,

8. "Commanding his accusers to come to thee; from whom, thou being judge, mayest know all these things, of which we accuse him."

9. And the Jews also assented, and said, that these things were so.

10. Then Paul answered, (the governor making a sign to him to speak;) "Knowing that for many years thou hast been judge over this nation, I will with good courage answer for myself.

11. "For thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days, since I went up to adore in Jerusalem:

12. "And neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man, or causing any concourse of the people, neither in the synagogues—

13. "Nor in the city: neither can they prove to thee the things, of which they now accuse me.

14. "But this I confess to thee, that according to the sect, which they call a heresy, so do I serve the Father, and my God, believing all things, which are written in the law and the prophets:

15. "Having hope in God, which these also themselves look for, that there shall be a resurrection of the just and unjust.

16. "In this I myself also study to have always a conscience without offence towards God, and towards men.

17. "Now after many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings, and vows.

18. "In which they found me purified in the temple—not with a crowd nor with a tumult:

19. "But certain Jews of Asia, who ought to be present before thee, and to accuse, if they had any thing against me:

20. "Or let these men themselves say, if they found in me any iniquity, when standing before the council,

21. "Except it be for this one voice only, that I cried out standing among them: 'Concerning the resurrection of the dead am I judged this day by you.'

22. And Felix put them off, having most certain knowledge of this way, saying: "When Lysias the tribune shall come down, I will hear you."

23. And he commanded a centurion to keep him, and to let him be easy, and that he should not hinder any of his friends to minister to him.

24. And after some days, Felix coming with Drusilla his wife, who was a Jewess, called for Paul, and heard from him the faith, which is in Christ Jesus,

25. And as he treated of justice, and chastity, and of the judgment to come, Felix being terrified, answered: "For this time, go thy way: but at a convenient time I will send for thee."

26. Hoping also withal, that money would be given him by Paul; for which account he also frequently sent for him, and spoke with him.

27. But when two years were ended, Felix had for successor Porcius Festus. And being willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, he left Paul bound.

C H A P. XXV.

Paul appeals to Cesar. King Agrippa desires to hear him.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he went up to Jerusalem from Cesarea.

2. And the chief priests, and principal men of the Jews went to him against Paul: and they besought him, Requesting favour against him, that he would command him to be brought to Jerusalem, lying in wait to kill him in the way.

4. But Festus answered: "That Paul was to be kept in Cesarea; and that he himself should go very shortly thither.

5. "Let those therefore," saith he, "among you, who are able, go down with me, and accuse him, if there be any crime in the man."

6. And having staid among them no more than eight or ten days, he went down to Cesarea: and the next day he sat in the judgment-seat; and commanded Paul to be brought.

7. And when he was brought, the Jews who were come down from Jerusalem, stood about him, objecting many and grievous accusations, which they could not prove.

8. Paul answered for himself: "Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Cesar, have I offended in any thing."

9. But Festus, being willing to gratify the Jews, answered Paul, and said: "Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?"

10. Then Paul said: "I stand at Cesar's tribunal, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews I have done no injury, as thou very well knowest.

11. "For if I have injured them, or have committed any thing, which deserveth death, I refuse not to die. But if there be nothing of these things, whereof they accuse me, no man can deliver me to them: I appeal to Cesar."

12. Then Festus having conferred with the council, answered: "Hast thou appealed to Cesar? To Cesar shalt thou go."

13. And after some days, king Agrippa and Bernice came down to Cesarea to salute Festus.

14. And as they staid there many days, Festus told the king concerning Paul, saying: "There is a certain man left prisoner by Felix,

15. "Concerning whom when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the ancients of the Jews came to me, demanding condemnation against him.

16. "To whom I answered: 'It is not the custom of the Romans to condemn any man, before he, who is accused, have his accusers present, and have liberty of making his defence, to clear himself of the things laid to his charge.'

17. "When therefore they were come hither, without any delay, on the day following, I sat on the judgment-seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth:

18. "Against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought in no cause, wherein I could suspect any evil:

19. "But had certain questions of their own superstition against him, and of one Jesus deceased, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20. "And as I was in a doubt of this manner of question, I asked him, whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things."

21. "But Paul appealing to be reserved to the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar."

22. Then Agrippa said to Festus: "I would also hear the man myself." "To-morrow," said he, "thou shalt hear him."

23. And on the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice were come with great pomp, and had entered into the hall of audience, with the tribunes and principal men of the city, Festus commanding it, Paul was brought forth.

24. And Festus saith: "King Agrippa, and all ye men, who are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews made their request to me at Jerusalem, petitioning and crying out; that he ought not to live any longer."

25. "Yet have I found nothing that he hath committed worthy of death. But he himself appealing to Augustus, I have determined to send him."

26. "Concerning whom I have nothing certain to write to my Lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and especially before thee, O king Agrippa, that examination being made, I may have something to write."

27. "For it seemeth to me unreasonable, to send a prisoner, and not to signify the things laid to his charge."

C H A P. XXVI.

Paul gives an account to Agrippa of his life, conversion, and calling.

THEN Agrippa said to Paul: "Thou art permitted to speak for thyself." Then Paul stretching forth his hand, began to make his answer.

2. "I think myself happy, O king Agrippa, that I am to answer for myself this day before thee, concerning all the things, of which I am accused by the Jews."

3. "Especially as thou knowest all, both customs and questions, which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently."

4. "And my life indeed from my youth, which was from the beginning among my own nation in Jerusalem, all the Jews do know:"

5. "Having known me from the beginning (if they will give testimony) that according to the most sure sect of our religion, I lived a pharisee."

6. "And now I stand under judgment for the hope of the promise, which God made to our fathers:"

7. "Unto which, our twelve tribes, serving night and day, hope to come. For which hope, O king, I am accused by the Jews."

8. "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?"

9. "And I myself was indeed persuaded, that I ought to do many things in opposition to the name of Jesus of Nazareth."

10. "Which also I did at Jerusalem, and many of the saints I shut up in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I brought the sentence."

11. "And I punished them often in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme: and being yet more mad against them, I persecuted them even unto foreign cities."

12. "Whereupon when I was going to Damascus with authority and permission of the chief priests,

13. "At mid-day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me, and those, who were in company with me."

14. "And when we were all fallen down to the ground, I heard a voice speaking to me in the Hebrew tongue: 'Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kick against the goad.'

15. "And I said: 'Who art thou, Lord?' And the Lord answered: 'I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest—'

16. "But rise up, and stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared to thee, that I may make thee a minister and a witness of those things, which thou hast seen, and of those things, for which I will appear to thee,"

17. "Delivering thee from the people, and from the nations, unto which now I send thee,"

18. "To open their eyes, that they may be converted from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and a lot among the saints by the faith, which is in me."

19. "Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not incredulous to the heavenly vision:"

20. "But shewed first to those, who are at Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judea, and to the Gentiles, that they should do penance, and turn to God, doing works worthy of penance."

21. "For this cause the Jews, when I was in the temple, having apprehended me, attempted to kill me."

22. "But being aided by the help of God, I continue to this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying no other thing than those, which the prophets and Moses did say, should come to pass:"

23. "That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first, who should rise from the dead, and should shew light to the people, and to the Gentiles."

24. Now as he was speaking these things, and giving an account, Festus said with a loud voice: "Paul, thou art beside thyself: much learning doth make thee mad."

25. And Paul said: "I am not mad, most excellent Festus: but I speak words of truth and sobriety."

26. "For the king knoweth of these things, to whom also I speak with confidence. For I am persuaded, that none of these things are hidden from him. For neither were any of these things done in a corner."

27. "Believest thou the prophets, O king Agrippa? I know, that thou believest."

28. Then Agrippa said to Paul: "In a little thou persuadest me to become a christian."

29. And Paul said: "I would to God, that both in little and in much, not only thou, but also all, who hear me this day, should become such as I also am, except these chains."

30. And the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and those, who sat with them."

31. And when they were gone aside, they conferred with one another, saying: "This man hath done nothing, that deserveth death or chains."

32. And Agrippa said to Festus: "This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed to Cæsar."

C H A P. XXVII.

Paul is shipped for Rome. His voyage and shipwreck.

AN D when it was determined, that he should sail into Italy, and that Paul with the other prisoners should be delivered to a centurion named Julius, of the band Augusta,

2. Going on board a ship of Adrumetum, we weighed anchor, being about to sail by the coast of Asia, Aristarchus the Macedonian, of Thessalonica, continuing with us.

3. And the next day we came to Sidon. And Julius treating Paul courteously, permitted him to go to his friends, and to take care of himself.

4. And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus; because the winds were contrary.

5. And having sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Lystra, which is in Lycia:

6. And there the centurion finding a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy, he put us aboard her.

7. And when for many days we had sailed slowly, and were scarcely come over-against Gnidus, the wind not permitting, we sailed near Crete by Salmone.

8. And with much ado sailing by it, we came to a certain place, which is called Good-havens, near to which was the city of Thalassa.

9. And when much time was spent, and when sailing now was dangerous, because the fast was now past, Paul comforted them,

10. Saying to them: "Ye men, I see, that the voyage begins to be with danger and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives."

11. But the centurion believed the pilot and the master of the ship, more than those things, which were said by Paul.

12. And whereas it was not a commodious haven to winter in, the greatest part gave counsel to sail thence, if by any means they might reach Phenice to winter there, which is a haven of Crete, looking towards the south-west and north-west.

13. And the south wind blowing gently, thinking that they had obtained their purpose, when they had loosed from Asia, they sailed close by Crete.

14. But not long after, there arose against her a tempestuous wind called Euro-aquilo,

15. And when the ship was carried away and could not bear against the wind, giving up the ship to the winds, we were driven.

16. And running under a certain island, which is called Cauda, we had much work to come by the boat.

17. Which being taken up, they used helps, under-girding the ship; and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, they let down the sail-yard, and so were driven.

18. And we being mightily tossed with the tempest, the next day they threw over board.

19. And the third day they cast out with their own hands the tackling of the ship.

20. And neither sun nor stars appearing for many days, and no small storm threatening, all hopes of our safety were now lost.

21. And after they had fasted a long time, Paul standing in the midst of them, said: "Ye should indeed, O ye men, have hearkened to me, and not have put off from Crete, and to have suffered this harm and loss.

22. "And now I exhort you to be of good cheer. For there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but only of the ship.

23. "For an angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, stood by me this night,

24. "Saying: 'Fear not, Paul, thou must be brought before Cæsar: and behold, God hath given thee all them who sail with thee.'

25. "Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall so be, as it hath been told me.

26. "But we must come into a certain island."

27. Now after the fourteenth night was come, as we were sailing in the Adria about midnight, the ship-men deemed, that they discovered some country.

28. And they sounded, and found twenty fathoms; and going on a little farther, they found fifteen fathoms.

29. Then fearing lest we should fall upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30. But as the ship-men sought to fly out of the ship, having let down the boat into the sea, under pretence as though they would have cast anchors out of the fore-ship,

31. Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers: "Unless these stay in the ship, ye cannot be saved."

32. Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33. And when it began to be light, Paul besought them all to take food, saying: "This day is the fourteenth day, that ye have waited, and continued sailing, taking nothing.

34. "Wherefore I pray you to take some food for your health's sake: for there shall not a hair of the head of any of you perish."

35. And when he had said these things, taking bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36. Then were they all of better cheer, and they also took food.

37. And we were in all in the ship, two hundred and seventy six souls.

38. And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, casting out the wheat into the sea.

39. And when it was day, they knew not the land, but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into which they thought, if they could, to thrust in the ship.

40. And when they had weighed the anchors, they committed themselves to the sea, loosing also the rudder-bands: and hoisting up the main-sail to the wind, they made towards the shore.

41. And when we had fallen into a place, where two seas met, they ran the ship a-ground: and the fore-part indeed, sticking fast, remained immovable: but the hinder-part was broken with the violence of the sea.

42. And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners; lest any of them, swimming out, should escape.

43. But the centurion, willing to save Paul, forbade it to be done: and he commanded those, who could swim, to cast themselves first out, and save themselves, and get to land:

44. And the rest, some they carried on planks, and some on those things, which belonged to the ship. And so it came to pass, that every soul got safe to land.

C H A P. XXVIII.

Paul, after three months stay in Malta, continues his voyage, and arrives at Rome. His conference there with the Jews.

AND when we had escaped, then we knew, that the island was called Melita. But the barbarians shewed us no small courtesy.

2. For having kindled a fire, they refreshed us all, because of the rain falling, and of the cold.

3. And when Paul had gathered together a bundle of sticks, and had laid them on the fire, a viper coming out of the heat, fastened on his hand.

4. And when the barbarians saw the beast hanging on his hand, they said one to another: "Undoubtedly this man is a murderer, who, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth him not to live."

4. And he indeed shaking off the beast into the fire, suffered no harm.

6. But they supposed, that he would begin to swell up, and that he would suddenly fall down and die. And they waiting for it a long time, and seeing that no harm was done to him, changing their minds, they said, he was a god.

7. Now in those places, were possessions of the chief man of the island, named Publius, who received us; and for three days entertained us courteously.

8. And it happened, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody flux. To whom Paul entered in: and when he had prayed, and laid his hands on him, he healed him.

9. Which being done, all, who had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10. Who also honoured us with many honours, and when we were set sail, they laden us with such things as were necessary.

11. And after three months, we sailed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was the Castors.

12. And when we had come to Syracuse, we staid there three days.

13. From thence coasting we came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blowing, we came the second day to Puteoli;

14. Where meeting with brethren, we were invited to stay with them seven days: and so we went for Rome.

15. And from thence when the brethren had heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii forum, and the Three taverns; whom when Paul saw, he gave thanks to God, and took courage.

VOL. II.

16. And when we had come to Rome, Paul was permitted to dwell by himself, with a soldier to guard him.

17. And after the third day, he called together the chief of the Jews. And when they were assembled, he said to them: "Men brethren, I having done nothing against the people, or the custom of our fathers, was delivered up a prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans;

18. "Who, when they had examined me, would have let me go, for that there was no cause of death in me.

19. "But the Jews opposing it, I was forced to appeal to Cæsar; not that I had any thing to accuse my nation of.

20. "For this cause therefore I desired to see you, and to speak to you. Because that for the hope of Israel, I am bound with this chain."

21. But they said to him: "We neither received letters concerning thee out of Judea; neither did any of the brethren, who came hither, relate or speak any evil of thee.

22. "But we desire to hear from thee, what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know, that it is every where contradicted."

23. And when they had appointed him a day, there came very many to him to his lodgings; to whom he expounded, testifying the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, out of the law of Moses and the prophets, from morning till evening.

24. And some believed the things, which were said: and some believed not.

25. And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, Paul saying this one word: "Well did the Holy Ghost speak to our fathers by Isaiah the prophet,

26. "Saying: 'Go to this people and say to them: 'With the ear ye shall hear, and shall not understand: and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive.

27. "For the heart of this people is grown gross, and with their ears have they heard heavily, and their eyes they have shut: lest perhaps they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them."

28. "Be it known therefore to you, that this salvation of God is sent to the Gentiles; and they will hear it."

29. And when he had said these words, the Jews went out from him, having a great debate among themselves.

30. And he remained two whole years in his own hired lodging: and he received all, that came in to him.

31. Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching the things, which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, without prohibition.

The Epistle of St. P A U L, the Apostle, to the R O M A N S.

C H A P. I.

He commends the faith of the Romans, whom he longs to see. The philosophy of the heathens, being void of faith and humility, betrayed them to shameful sins.

PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God,

2. "Which he had promised before by his prophets in the holy scriptures,

3. "Concerning his Son, who was made to him of the seed of David, according to the flesh ;

4. "Who was predestinated* the Son of God in power, according to the spirit of sanctification, by the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ from the dead :

5. "By whom we have received grace and apostleship for obedience to the faith, in all nations for his name ;

6. "Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ :

7. "To all, who are at Rome the beloved of God, called to be saints. Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

8. "First, I give thanks to my God through Jesus Christ for you all ; because your faith is spoken of in the whole world.

9. "For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make a commemoration of you

10. "Always in my prayers : begging, that by any means I may at length have a prosperous journey, by the will of God, in coming to you.

11. "For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual grace to strengthen you :

12. "That is to say, that I may be comforted together in you, by that, which is common to us both, your faith and mine.

13. "And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that I have often purposed to come to you (and have been hindered hitherto) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other nations.

14. "To the Greeks and to the barbarians, to the wise and to the unwise, I am a debtor :

15. "So (as much as is in me) I am ready to preach the gospel to you also, who are at Rome.

16. "For I am not ashamed of the gospel. For it is the power of God unto salvation : to every one, who believeth, to the Jew first, and to the Greek.

17. "For the justice of God is revealed therein from faith to faith : as it is written : ' The just man liveth by faith.'

18. "For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven, against all impiety and injustice of those men, who detain the truth of God in injustice :

19. "Because that, which is known of God, is manifest in them. For God hath manifested it to them.

* Predestinated, &c. Christ, as man, was predestinated to be the Son of God ; and declared to be so (as the apostle here signifies) first by power, that is, by his working stupendous miracles ; secondly, by the spirit of sanctification, that is, by his sanctity or holiness ; thirdly, by his resurrection, or raising himself from the dead.

20. "For the invisible things of him, from the creation of the world, are clearly seen, being understood by the things, which are made—his eternal power also and divinity ; so that they are inexcusable.

21. "Because, when they had known God, they have not glorified him as God, nor gave thanks ; but became vain in their thoughts ; and their foolish heart was darkened :

22. "For professing themselves to be wise, they became fools.

23. "And they changed the glory of the incorruptible God, into the likeness of the image of a corruptible man, and of birds, and of four-footed beasts, and of creeping things.

24. "Wherefore God gave them up to the desires of their heart, to uncleanness ; to dishonour their own bodies among themselves :

25. "Who changed the truth of God into a lie ; and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26. "For this cause God delivered them up* to shameful affections. For their women have changed the natural use, into that use, which is against nature :

27. "And in like manner the men also, leaving the natural use of the women, have burned in their lust one towards another, men with men working that which is filthy, and receiving in themselves the recompence, which was due to their error.

28. "And as they liked not to have God in their knowledge ; God delivered them up to a reprobate sense, to do those things, which are not convenient.

29. "Being filled with all iniquity, malice, fornication, covetousness, wickedness, full of envy, murder, contention, deceit, malignity, whisperers,

30. "Detractors, hateful to God, contumelious, proud, haughty, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31. "Foolish, dissolute, without affection, without fidelity, without mercy.

32. "Who, having known the justice of God, did not understand that those, who do such things, are worthy of death : and not only those, who do them, but also such, as consent to those, who do them.

C H A P. II.

The Jews are censured, who make their boast of the law, and keep it not. He declares, who are the true Jews.

WHEREFORE thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art, who judgest. For wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself : for thou dost the same things, which thou judgest.

2. "For we know, that the judgment of God is according to truth against those, who do such things.

3. "And thinkest thou this, O man, who judgest those, who do such things, and dost the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God ?

4. "Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness,

* God delivered them up. Not by being author of their sins, but by withdrawing his grace, and so permitting them, in punishment of their pride, to fall into those shameful sins.

and patience, and long-suffering? Knowest thou not, that the benignity of God leadeth thee to penance?

5. "But according to thy hardness, and impenitent heart, thou treasurest up to thyself wrath, against the day of wrath, and revelation of the just judgment of God:

6. "Who will render to every man according to his works:

7. "To those, indeed, who, according to patience in good work, seek glory, and honour, and incorruption, life everlasting:

8. "But to those, who are contentious, and who obey not the truth, but give credit to iniquity, wrath and indignation.

9. "Tribulation and anguish upon every soul of man, that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Greek.

10. "But glory, and honour, and peace to every one, who worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

11. "For there is no respect of persons with God.

12. "For whosoever have sinned without the law, shall perish without the law: and whosoever have sinned under the law, shall be judged by the law.

13. "For not the hearers of the law are just before God; but the doers of the law shall be justified.

14. "For when the Gentiles, who have not the law, do by nature those things, which are of the law, these having not the law, are a law to themselves:

15. "Who shew the work of the law written in their hearts; their conscience bearing witness to them, and their thoughts within themselves accusing them, or else defending them.

16. "In the day, when God shall judge the secrets of men, by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.

17. "But if thou be called a Jew, and rest in the law, and make thy boast of God,

18. "And know his will, and approve the things, which are more profitable, being instructed by the law,

19. "Be confident, that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of those, who are in darkness,

20. "An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of infants, having the form of knowledge and of truth in the law.

21. "Thou therefore, who teachest another, teachest not thyself: thou, who preachest, that men should not steal, stealest:

22. "Thou, who sayest, men should not commit adultery, committest adultery: thou, who abhorrest idols, committest sacrilege:

23. "Thou, who makest thy boast of the law, by transgression of the law, dishonourest God.

24. "(For the name of God through you is blasphemed among the Gentiles,* as it is written.)

25. "Circumcision profiteth indeed, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26. "If then the uncircumcised keep the ordinances of the law; shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27. "And shall not that, which by nature is uncircumcision, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law?

28. "For he is not a Jew, who is so outwardly; nor is that circumcision, which is outwardly in the flesh:

29. "But he is a Jew, who is one inwardly; and the circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

C H A P. III.

The advantages of the Jews. All men are sinners, and none can be justified by the works of the law, but only by the grace of Christ.

"WHAT advantage then hath the Jew, or what is the profit of circumcision?

2. "Much every way. First indeed, because the oracles of God were committed to them.

3. "For what if some of them have not believed? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect? God forbid.

4. "But God* is true, and every man a liar, as it is written: 'That thou mayest be justified in thy words, and mayest overcome when thou art judged.'

5. "But if our injustice commend the justice of God, what shall we say? Is God unjust, who executeth wrath?

6. "(I speak according to man.) God forbid; otherwise how shall God judge this world?

7. "For if the truth of God have more abounded through my lie, unto his glory; why am I also yet judged as a sinner?

8. "And not rather (as we are slandered, and as some affirm that we say) let us do evil, that there may come good: whose damnation is just.

9. "What then? Do we excel them? No, not so. For we have charged both Jews and Greeks, that they are all under sin;

10. "As it is written: 'There is not any man just†:

11. 'There is none, that understandeth; there is none, that seeketh after God.

12. 'All have turned out of the way; they are become unprofitable together; there is none, that doth good, there is not so much as one.

13. 'Their throat is an open sepulchre: with their tongues they have dealt deceitfully. The venom of asps is under their lips:

14. 'Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.

15. 'Their feet are swift to shed blood.

16. 'Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17. 'And the way of peace they have not known.

18. 'There is no fear of God before their eyes.'

19. "Now we know, that what things soever the law speaketh, it speaketh to those, who are in the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may be made subject to God:

* God only is essentially true. All men in their own capacity are liable to lies and errors: nevertheless God, who is the truth, will make good his promise of keeping his church in all truth. See St. John, xvi. 13.

† There is not any man just, viz. by virtue either of the law of nature, or of the law of Moses—but only by faith and grace.

20. "Because by the works of the law, no flesh shall be justified in his sight. For by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21. "But now without the law the justice of God is made manifest; being witnessed by the law and the prophets.

22. "Even the justice of God by faith of Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all those, who believe in him; for there is no distinction.

23. "For all have sinned; and do need the glory of God.

24. "Being justified gratis by his grace, through the redemption, that is in Christ Jesus;

25. "Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to the manifestation of his justice, for the remission of past sins,

26. "Through the forbearance of God, for the manifestation of his justice in this time; that he himself may be just, and the justifier of him, who is of the faith of Jesus Christ.

27. "Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what law? Of works? No, but by the law of faith.

28. "For we account a man to be justified by faith* without the works of the law.

29. "Is he the God of the Jews only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also.

30. "For it is one God, who justifieth circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31. "Do we then destroy the law through faith? God forbid: but we establish the law.

C H A P. IV.

Abraham was not justified by works, done as of himself; but by grace, and by faith; and that before he was circumcised. Gentiles by faith are his children.

"WHAT shall we say then, that Abraham hath found, who is our father according to the flesh?

2. "For if Abraham were justified by works†, he hath glory, but not before God‡.

3. "For what faith the scripture? Abraham believed God; and it was reputed|| to him unto justice.

4. "Now to him, who worketh§, the reward is not reckoned according to grace, but according to debt.

5. "But to him, who worketh not, yet believeth in him, who justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reputed to justice, according to the purpose of the grace of God.

6. "As David also termeth the blessedness of a man, to whom God reputeth justice without works:

7. "Blessed are they, whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8. "Blessed is the man, to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin.†

9. "This blessedness then, doth it abide in the circumcision†† only, or in the uncircumcision also? For we say, that faith was reputed to Abraham unto justice.

10. "How then was it reputed? When he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11. "And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the justice of the faith, which is in uncircumcision: that he might be the father of all the believers uncircumcised, that to them also it may be reputed to justice:

12. "And might be the father of circumcision, not to them only that are of the circumcision, but to them also, who follow the steps of the faith, that our father Abraham had, being as yet uncircumcised.

13. "For not through the law was the promise to Abraham, or to his seed, that he should be heir of the world; but through the justice of faith.

14. "For if those, who are of the law, be heirs††, faith is made void; the promise is made of no effect.

15. "For the law worketh wrath§§. For where there is no law, there is no transgression.

16. "Therefore is it of faith, that according to grace, the promise might be firm to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also, which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

17. "(As it is written: 'I have made thee a father of many nations,') before God, whom he believed, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things, which are not, as those which are.

18. "Who against hope believed in hope, that he might be made the father of many nations, according his own strength. Such a one, says the apostle, challengeth his reward as a debt due to his own performances: whereas he, who worketh not, that is, who presumeth not upon any works done by his own strength, but seeketh justice through faith and grace, is freely justified by God's grace.

 Covered, &c. This covering, and not imputing, mean, that our sins are quite blotted out by the blood of the Lamb, who taketh away the sins of the world; so that we are no longer to be charged with them, because they are no more.

†† In the circumcision, &c. That is, is it only for the Jews, who are circumcised? No, says the apostle, but also for the uncircumcised Gentiles; who, by faith and grace, may come to justice; as Abraham did before he was circumcised.

†† Be heirs. That is, if those alone, who follow the ceremonies of the law, be heirs of the blessings promised to Abraham; then that faith, which was so much praised in him, will be found to be of little value. And the very promise will be made void, by which he was promised to be the father, not of the Jews only, but of all nations of believers.

§§ The law worketh wrath. The law, abstracting from faith and grace, worketh wrath occasionally, by being an occasion of many transgressions, which provoke God's wrath.

* By faith, &c. The faith, to which the apostle here attributes man's justification, is not a presumptuous assurance of our being justified; but a firm and lively belief of all, that God has revealed or promised; Heb. xi. A faith working thro' charity in Jesus Christ. Gal. v. 16. In short, a faith which embraces hope, love, repentance, and the use of the sacraments. And the works, which he here excludes, are only the works of the law; that is, such as are done by the law of nature, or that of Moses, antecedent to the faith of Christ—but by no means such as follow faith, and proceed from it.

† By works. Done by his own strength, without the grace of God, and faith in him.

‡ Not before God. Whatever glory or applause such works might procure from men, they would be of no value in the sight of God.

§ Reputed, &c. By God, who reputeth nothing otherwise than it is. However, we may gather from this word, that when we are justified, our justification proceedeth from God's free grace and bounty—and not from any efficacy, which any act of ours could have of its own nature, abstracted from God's grace.

§. To him, who worketh, viz. As of his own fund, or by to that, which was said to him: 'So shall thy seed be.'

19. "And he was not weak in faith; neither did he consider his own body now dead, whereas he was almost a hundred years old, nor the dead womb of Sara.

20. "In the promise also of God he staggered not by distrust; but was strengthened in faith, giving glory to God.

21. "Most fully knowing, that whatsoever he has promised, he is able also to perform.

22. "And therefore it was reputed to him unto justice.

23. "Now it is not written only for him, that it was reputed to him unto justice—

24. "But for us also, to whom it shall be reputed, if we believe in him, who raised up Jesus Christ our Lord from the dead;

25. "Who was delivered up for our sins, and rose again for our justification.

C H A P. V.

The grounds we have for hope in Christ. Sin and death came by Adam; grace and life by Christ.

"THEREFORE being justified by faith, let us have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ.

2. "By whom also we have access through faith into this grace, wherein we stand, and glory in the hope of the glory of the sons of God.

3. "And not only so; but we glory also in tribulations, knowing that tribulation worketh patience—

4. "And patience trial—and trial hope.

5. "And hope confoundeth not: because the charity of God is poured out into our hearts, by the Holy Ghost, who is given to us.

6. "For why did Christ, when as yet we were weak, according to the time, die for the ungodly?

7. "For scarcely for a just man will one die: yet perhaps for a good man some one would venture to die.

8. "But God commendeth his charity towards us: because when as yet we were sinners, according to the time,

9. "Christ died for us: much more therefore being now justified by his blood, shall we be saved from wrath through him.

10. "For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son: much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved by his life.

11. "And not only so: but also we glory in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received reconciliation.

12. "Wherefore as by one man* sin entered into this world, and by sin death; and so death passed upon all men, in whom all have sinned.

13. "For until the law, sin was in the world: but sin was not imputed†, when the law was not.

14. "But death reigned from Adam unto Moses, even over those, who had not sinned after the similitude

* By one man. Adam, from whom we all contracted original sin.

† Not imputed. That is men knew not, or made no account of sin: neither was it imputed to them, in the manner it was afterwards, when they transgressed the known written law of God.

of the transgression of Adam, who is a figure of him, that was to come.

15. "But not as the offence, so also is the gift. For if by the offence of one, many have died, much more the grace of God and the gift in the grace of one man Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16. "And not as it was by one sin, so also is the gift. For the judgment indeed was by one, unto condemnation: but the grace is of many offences, unto justification.

17. "For if by one man's offence death reigned through one: much more, those who receive abundance of grace, and of the gift, and of justice, shall reign in life through one Jesus Christ.

18. "Therefore as by the offence of one, unto all men to condemnation: so also by the justice of one, unto all men unto justification of life.

19. "For as by the disobedience of one man, many were made sinners: so also by the obedience of one, many shall be made just.

20. "Now the law entered in, that sin might abound†. But where sin abounded, grace hath abounded more:

21. "That as sin hath reigned unto death: so also grace might reign by justice unto everlasting life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

C H A P. VI.

The christian must die to sin, and live to God.

"W H A T shall we say then? shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2. "God forbid. For how shall we, who are dead to sin, live any longer therein?

3. "Know ye not, that we all, who are baptized in Christ Jesus, are baptized in his death?

4. "For we are buried together with him by baptism unto death: that as Christ is risen from the dead by the glory of the Father, so we also may walk in newness of life.

5. "For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, in like manner we shall be of his resurrection.

6. "Knowing this, that our old man‡ is crucified with him, that the body of sin may be destroyed, and that we may serve sin no longer.

7. "For he, who is dead, is justified from sin.

8. "Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe, that we shall live also together with Christ.

9. "Knowing that Christ rising again from the dead, dieth now no more; death shall no more have dominion over him.

10. "For in that he died to sin, he died once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11. "So do ye also reckon yourselves to be dead indeed to sin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

† That sin might abound. Not as if the law were given on purpose for sin to abound; but that it so happened through man's perversity, taking occasion of sinning more, from the prohibition of sin.

‡ Old man—body of sin. Our corrupt state, subject to sin and concupiscence, coming to us from Adam, is called our old man (as our state, reformed in and by Christ, is called the new man.) And the vices and sins, which then ruled in us, are named the body of sin.

12. "Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, so as to obey its lusts thereof.

13. "Neither yield ye your members as instruments of iniquity unto sin; but present yourselves to God as those, who are alive from the dead; and your members as instruments of justice unto God.

14. "For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15. "What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16. "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are, whom ye obey, whether it be of sin, unto death, or of obedience, unto justice?

17. "But thanks be to God, that ye were the servants of sin, but have obeyed from the heart, unto that form of doctrine, into which ye have been delivered.

18. "Being then made free from sin, ye are become the servants of justice.

19. "I speak a human thing, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members to serve uncleanness and iniquity, unto iniquity; so now yield your members to serve justice, unto sanctification.

20. "For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from justice.

21. "What fruit therefore, had ye then in those things, of which ye are now ashamed? For the end of them is death.

22. "But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end everlasting life.

23. "For the wages of sin, is death. But the grace of God, everlasting life, in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

We are released by Christ from the law, and from the guilt of sin, though the inclination to it still tempt us.

"KNOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to those, who know the law) how the law hath dominion over a man, as long as it liveth*?

1. "For the woman, who hath a husband, while her husband liveth, is bound to the law. But if her husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

2. "Wherefore, while her husband liveth, she shall be called an adulteress, if she be with another man: but if her husband be dead, she is freed from the law of her husband: so that she is not an adulteress, if she be with another man.

3. "Therefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye may belong to another, who has risen again from the dead, that we may bring forth fruit to God.

4. "For when we were in the flesh, the passions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death.

5. "But now we are loosed from the law of death, wherein we were detained: so that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

6. "What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. But I did not know sin, but by the law: for I had not known concupiscence, if the law had not said: 'Thou shalt not covet.'

7. "But sin taking occasion^{||} by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law, sin was dead.

8. "And I lived some time without the law. But when the commandment came, sin revived.

9. "And I died: and the commandment, which was ordained to life, the same was found to be unto death to me.

10. "For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, seduced me, and by it killed me.

11. "Wherefore the law indeed is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

12. "Was that then which is good, made death to me? God forbid. But sin, that it may appear sin[†], by that, which is good, wrought death in me; that sin by the commandment might become sinful above measure.

13. For we know, that the law is spiritual; but I am carnal, sold under sin.

14. "For that, which I work, I understand not. For I do not that good, which I will[†]; but the evil, which I hate, that I do.

15. "If then I do that, which I will not, I consent to the law, that it is good.

16. "Now then it is no more I, who do it; but sin, which dwelleth in me.

17. "For I know, that there dwelleth not in me, that is to say, in my flesh, that, which is good. For to will, is present with me; but to accomplish that which is good, I find not.

18. "For the good, which I will, I do not; but the evil, which I will not, that I do.

19. "Now if I do that, which I will not, it is no more I, who do it, but sin, which dwelleth in me.

20. "I find then a law, that when I have a will to do good, evil is present with me.

21. "For I am delighted with the law of God, according to the inward man:

22. "But I see another law in my members, fighting against the law of my mind, and captivating me in the law of sin, that is in my members.

23. "Unhappy man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

^{||} Sin taking occasion. Sin, or concupiscence, which is called sin, because it is from sin, and leads to sin, which was asleep before, was awakened by the prohibition: the law not being the cause thereof, nor properly giving occasion to it; but occasion being taken by our corrupt nature, to resist the commandment laid upon us.

[†] That it may appear sin; or, that sin may appear, viz. to be the monster it is, which is even capable to take occasion from that, which is good, to work death.

[‡] I do not that good, which I will, &c. The apostle here describes the disorderly motions of passion and concupiscence; which oftentimes in us get the start of reason: and by means of which even good men suffer in the inferior appetite what their will abhors; and are much hindered in the accomplishment of the desires of their spirit and mind. But these evil motions (though they are called the law of sin, because they come from original sin, and violently tempt and incline to sin) as long as the will does not consent to them, are not sins, because they are not voluntary.

* It liveth, or, as long as he liveth,

25. "The grace of God by Jesus Christ our Lord. Therefore I myself, with the mind, serve the law of God; but with the flesh, the law of sin.

C H A P. VIII.

There is no condemnation to those, who, being justified by Christ, walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit. Their strong hope, and love of God.

"TH E R E is therefore now no condemnation to those, who are in Christ Jesus, who walk not according to the flesh.

2. "For the law of the spirit of life, in Christ Jesus, hath delivered me from the law of sin and of death.

3. "For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh; God sending his own Son, in the likeness of sinful flesh, even of sin condemned sin in the flesh;

4. "That the justification of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit.

5. "For those, who are according to the flesh, relish the things, which are of the flesh; but those, who are according to the spirit, mind the things, which are of the spirit.

6. "For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the spirit is life and peace.

7. "Because the wisdom of the flesh is an enemy to God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither can it be.

8. "And those, who are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9. "But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10. "And if Christ be in you; the body indeed is dead, because of sin; but the spirit liveth, because of justification.

11. "And if the Spirit of him, who raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you; he, who raised up Jesus Christ from the dead, shall quicken also your mortal bodies, because of his Spirit dwelling in you.

12. "Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh.

13. "For if ye live according to the flesh, ye shall die; but if by the spirit ye mortify the deeds of the flesh, ye shall live.

14. "For whosoever are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15. "For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again in fear; but ye have received the spirit of adoption of sons, whereby we cry: 'Abba,' (Father.)

16. "For the Spirit himself* giveth testimony to our spirit, that we are the sons of God.

* The Spirit himself, &c. By the inward motions of divine love, and the peace of conscience, which the children of God experience, they have a kind of testimony of God's favour; by which they are much strengthened in their hope of their justification and salvation; but yet not so as to pretend to an absolute assurance; which is not usually granted in this mortal life; during which we are taught to work out our salvation with fear and trembling, Phil. ii. 12. And that he, who thinketh himself to stand, must take heed lest he fall, 1. Cor. x. 12. See also Rom. xi. 20, 21, 22.

17. "And if sons, heirs also; heirs indeed of God, and joint heirs with Christ: yet so if we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

18. "For I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory to come, that shall be revealed in us.

19. "For the expectation of the creature† waiteth for the revelation of the sons of God.

20. "For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him, who made it subject, in hope:

21. "Because the creature also itself shall be delivered from the servitude of corruption, into the liberty of the glory of the children of God.

22. "For we know, that every creature groaneth, and is in labour even till now.

23. "And not only it, but ourselves also, who have the first fruits of the spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption of the sons of God, the redemption of our body.

24. "For we are saved by hope. But hope, which is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he hope for?

25. "But if we hope for that, which we see not, we wait for it with patience.

26. "Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity. For we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit himself asketh for us|| with unspeakable groanings.

27. "And he, who searcheth the hearts, knoweth what the Spirit desireth: because he asketh for the saints according to God.

28. "And we know, that to those, who love God, all things work together unto good to such as according to his purpose are called to be saints.

29. "For whom he foreknew, he also predestinated† to be made conformable to the image of his Son: that he might be the first-born among many brethren.

30. "And whom he predestinated, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

31. "What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who is against us?

32. "He, who spared not even his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how hath he not also, with him, given us all things?

† The expectation of the creature, &c. He speaks of the corporeal creation, made for the use and service of man; and, by occasion of his sin, made subject to vanity, that is, to a perpetual instability, tending to corruption and other defects: so that by a figure of speech, it is here said to groan and be in labour, and to long for its deliverance, which is then to come, when sin shall reign no more; and God shall make a new heaven and a new earth.

|| Asketh for us. The Spirit is said to ask, and desire for the saints, and to pray in us; inasmuch as he inspirith prayer, and teacheth us to pray.

† He also predestinated, &c. That is, God hath pre-ordained, that all his elect should be conformable to the image of his Son. We must not here offer to dive into the secrets of God's eternal election; only firmly believe that all our good, in time, and eternity, flows originally from God's free goodness; and all our evil from man's free will.

33. "Who shall lay any thing to the charge of the elect of God? God, who justifieth.

34. "Who is he, that shall condemn? Christ Jesus, who died, yea who rose also again, who is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

35. "Who then shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation? or distress? or famine? or nakedness? or danger? or persecution? or the sword?

36. "(As it is written: 'For thy sake we are put to death, all the day long. We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.')

37. "But in all these things we overcome, because of him, who hath loved us.

38. "For I am sure* that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor might,

39. "Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

The apostle's concern for the Jews. God's election is free, and not confined to their nation.

"I SPEAK the truth in Christ; I lie not, my conscience bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost:

2. "That I have great sadness, and continual sorrow in my heart.

3. "For I wished myself to be an anathema† from Christ, for my brethren, who are my kinsmen according to the flesh,

4. "Who are Israelites, to whom belongeth the adoption of children, and the glory, and the covenant, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises:

5. "Whose are the fathers, and of whom is Christ according to the flesh, who is over all things, God blessed for ever, Amen.

6. "Not as though the word of God hath failed. For all are not Israelites‡, who are of Israel:

7. "Neither are all those, who are the seed of Abraham, children; but in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

8. "That is to say, not those, who are the children of the flesh, are the children of God: but those, who are the children of the promise, are counted for the seed.

9. "For this is the word of the promise: 'According to this time will I come; and Sara shall have a son.'

10. "And not only she. But when Rebecca also had conceived at once, by Isaac our father.

* *I am sure, That is, I am persuaded: as it is in the Greek, ᾠσιμην.*

† Anathema—a curse. The apostle's concern and love for his countrymen, the Jews, was so great, that he was willing to suffer even an anathema, or curse, for their sake—or any evil that could come upon him, without his offending God.

‡ All are not Israelites, &c. Not all, who are the carnal seed of Israel, are true Israelites, in God's account: who, as by his free grace he heretofore preferred Isaac before Ishmael, and Jacob before Esau, so could, and did by the like free grace, election, and mercy, raise up spiritual children by faith to Abraham and Israel, from among the Gentiles, and prefer them before the carnal Jews.

11. "For when the children were not yet born||, nor had done any good or evil, (that the purpose of God according to election might stand)

12. "Not of works, but of him who calleth, it was said to her: 'The elder shall serve the younger.'

13. "As it is written: 'Jacob I have loved: but Esau I have hated.'

14. "What shall we say then? Is there injustice with God? God forbid.

15. "For he saith to Moses: 'I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy; and I will shew mercy, to whom I will shew mercy.'

16. "So then it is not of him, who willeth, nor of him, who runneth, but of God, who sheweth mercy.

17. "For the scripture saith to Pharaoh: 'To this purpose‡ have I raised thee up, that I may shew my power in thee; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.'

18. "Therefore he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will, he hardeneth|||.

19. "Thou wilt say therefore to me: 'Why doth he then find fault? for who resisteth his will?'

20. "O man, who art thou, that repliest against God? shall the thing formed, say to him, who formed it: 'Why hast thou made me thus?'

21. "Or hath not the potter's power over the clay, of the same lump, to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22. "And if (God), willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much patience vessels of wrath, fitted to destruction,

23. "That he might shew the riches of his glory upon the vessels of mercy, which he hath prepared unto glory:

|| Not yet born, &c. By this example of these two twins, and the preference of the younger to the elder, the drift of the apostle is, to shew that God, in his election, mercy, and grace, is not tied to any particular nation, as the Jews imagined, nor to any prerogative of birth, or any foregoing merits. For, antecedently to his grace, he sees no merits in any, but finds all involved in sin, in the common mass of condemnation, and all children of wrath; there is no one, whom he might not justly leave in that mass: so that whomsoever he delivers from it, he delivers in his mercy; and whomsoever he leaves in it, he leaves in his justice. As when, of two equally criminal, a king is pleased out of pure mercy to pardon one, while he suffers justice to take place in the execution of the other.

§ Not of him, who willeth, &c. That is, by any power or strength of his own, abstracting from the grace of God.

‡ To this purpose, &c. Not that God made him on purpose, that he should sin, and so be damned: but foreseeing his obstinacy in sin, and the abuse of his own free will, he raised him up to be a mighty king, to make a more remarkable example of him; and that his power may be better known and his justice, in punishing him, published throughout the earth.

||| He hardeneth. Not by being the cause, or author of his sin, but by withholding his grace, and so leaving him in his sin, in punishment of his past demerits.

§ The potter. This similitude is used, only to shew, that we are not to dispute with our Maker; nor to reason with him, why he does not give as great grace to one, as to another: for since the whole mass of our clay is vitiated by sin, it is owing to his goodness and mercy, that he makes out of it so many vessels of honour; and it is no more than just, that others, in punishment of their unexpired sins, should be given up to be vessels of dishonour.

24. "Even us, whom also he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles,

25. "As he saith in Osee: 'I will call them my people, who were not my people; and her beloved, that was not beloved; and her, that had not obtained mercy, one that hath obtained mercy.'

26. "And it shall be in the place, where it was said to them: 'Ye are not my people; there they shall be called the children of the living God.'

27. "And Isaias crieth out concerning Israel: 'If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant* shall be saved.'

28. "For he shall finish his word, and cut it short in justice: because a short word shall the Lord make upon the earth.'

29. "And as Isaias foretold: 'Unless the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been made as Sodom, and we had been like unto Gomorrha.'

30. "What then shall we say? That the Gentiles, who followed not after justice, have attained to justice: even the justice that is of faith.

31. "But Israel, by following after the law of justice, is not come to the law of justice.

32. "Why so? because they sought it not by faith, but as it were of works: for they stumbled at the stumbling-stone.

33. "As it is written: 'Behold, I lay in Sion a stumbling-stone, and a rock of scandal: and whosoever believeth in him, shall not be confounded.'

C H A P. X.

The end of the law is faith in Christ; which the Jews refusing to submit to, cannot be justified.

"BR E T H R E N, the will of my heart, indeed, and my prayer to God, is for them unto salvation.

2. "For I bear them witness, that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3. "For they not knowing the justice of God†, and seeking to establish their own, have not submitted themselves to the justice of God.

4. "For the end of the law is Christ, unto justice to every one, who believeth.

5. "For Moses wrote, that the justice, which is of the law, 'The man, who shall do it, shall live by it.'

6. "But the justice, which is of faith, speaketh thus: 'Say not in thy heart: 'Who shall ascend into heaven?' that is, to bring Christ down:

7. 'Or who shall descend into the deep?' that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.

8. "But what saith the scripture? 'The word is near thee, even in thy mouth and in thy heart.' This is the word of faith, which we preach:

9. "That if thou confests with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and believe in thy heart, that God hath rais-

* A remnant. That is, a small number only of the children of Israel shall be converted and saved. How perversely is this text quoted for the salvation of men of all religions, when it speaks only of the converts of the children of Israel!

† The justice of God. That is, the justice, which God giveth us through Christ: as on the other hand, the Jews' own justice is that, which they pretended to by their own strength, or by the observance of the law without faith in Christ.

ed him up from the dead, thou shalt be saved||.

10. "For with the heart, we believe unto justice: but with the mouth, confession is made unto salvation.

11. "For the scripture saith: 'Whosoever believeth in him, shall not be confounded.'

12. "For there is no distinction of the Jew and the Greek: for the same is Lord over all, rich to all that call upon him.

13. "For 'whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, shall be saved.'||

14. "How then shall they call on him, in whom they have not believed? Or how shall they believe him, of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher?

15. "And how can they preach, unless they be sent? as it is written: 'How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the gospel of peace, of those who bring glad tidings of good things?'

16. "But all do not obey the gospel. For Isaias saith: 'Lord, who hath believed our report?'

17. "Faith then cometh by hearing: and hearing by the word of Christ.

18. "But I say: Have they not heard? Yes verily 'their sound went over all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the whole world.'

19. "But I say: Hath not Israel known? First Moses saith: 'I will provoke you to jealousy by that, which is not a nation; by a foolish nation, I will anger you.'

20. "But Isaias is bold, and saith: 'I was found by those, who did not seek me: I appeared openly to those, who asked not after me.'

21. "But to Israel he saith: 'All the day long have I spread forth my hands to a people, that believeth not, and contradiceth me.'

C H A P. XI.

God hath not cast off all Israel. The gentiles must not be proud; but stand in faith, and fear.

"ISAY then: Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2. "God hath not cast away his people, which he foreknew. Know ye not what the scripture saith of Elias; how he calleth on God against Israel?

3. "Lord, they have slain thy prophets, and have dug down thy altars: and I am left alone, and they seek my life.'

4. "But what saith the divine answer to him? 'I have reserved to myself seven thousand† men, who have not bowed their knees to Baal.'

|| Thou shalt be saved. To confess the Lord Jesus, and to call upon the name of the Lord, (v. 13.) is not barely the professing a belief in the person of Christ: but moreover implies a belief of his whole doctrine, and an obedience to his law; without which the calling him Lord will save no man. St. Matt. vii. 21.

§ Unless they be sent. Note this against all new teachers, who have all usurped to themselves the ministry without any lawful mission, derived by succession from the apostles, to whom Christ said, John xx. 21. As my Father hath sent me, I also send you.

† Seven thousand, &c. This is very ill alleged by some against the perpetual visibility of the church of Christ; the more, because, however the number of the faithful might b

5. "Even so then at this present time also, there is a remnant saved, according to the election of grace.

6. "And if by grace, it is not now by works; otherwise grace is no more grace :

7. "What then? That, which Israel sought, he hath not obtained : but the election hath obtained it ; and the rest have been blinded.

8. "As it is written : ' God hath given them the spirit of insensibility ; eyes, that they should not see, and ears, that they should not hear : until this present day.'

9. "And David saith : ' Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling block, and a recompence to them.

10. ' Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see : and bow down their back always.'

11. "I say then, have they so stumbled, that they should fall ||| ? God forbid. But by their offence, salvation is come to the Gentiles, that they may be emulous of them.

12. "Now if the offence of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them, the riches of the Gentiles : how much more the fulness of them ?

13. "For I say to you Gentiles : As long indeed as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I will honour my ministry ;

14. "If by any means I may provoke to emulation those, who are my flesh, and may save some of them.

15. "For if the loss of them be the reconciliation of the world ; what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead ?

16. "For if the first fruit be holy, so is the lump also : and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17. "And if some of the branches be broken, and thou being a wild-olive-tree, be ingrafted in them, and be made partaker of the root and of the fatness of the olive-tree ;

18. "Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19. "Thou wilt say then : ' The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.'

20. "Well : because of unbelief they were broken off. But thou standest by faith* : be not high-minded ; but fear.

abridged by the persecution of Jezabel, in the kingdom of the ten tribes ; the church was at the same time in a most flourishing condition (under Aza and Josaphat) in the kingdom of Judah.

|| It is not now by works, &c. If salvation were to come by works, done by nature, without faith and grace, salvation would not be a grace or favour, but a debt : but such dead works are, indeed, of no value in the sight of God towards salvation. It is not the same with regard to works done with, and by God's grace : for to such works as these he has promised eternal salvation.

§ God hath given them, &c. Not by his working or acting in them ; but by his permission, and by withdrawing his grace in punishment of their obstinacy.

|| That they should fall. The nation of the Jews is not absolutely and without remedy cast off for ever ; but in part only (many thousands of them having been at first converted) and for a time : which fall of theirs God has been pleased to turn to the good of the Gentiles.

21. "For if God have not spared the natural branches ; fear lest he also spare not thee.

22. "See therefore the goodness and the severity of God ; towards them indeed, who have fallen, the severity ; but towards thee, the goodness of God, if thou continue in goodness : otherwise thou also shalt be cut off†.

23. "And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be ingrafted. For God is able to ingraft them again.

24. "For if thou were cut out of the wild olive-tree, which is natural to thee—and, contrary to nature, were ingrafted into the good olive-tree—how much more shall they, who are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree ?

25. "For I would not have you ignorant, brethren, of this mystery (lest ye should be wise in your own conceits) that blindness in part has happened in Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles should come in.

26. "And so all Israel should be saved, as it is written : ' There shall come out of Sion, he, who shall deliver, and shall turn away impiety from Jacob.

27. ' And this is to them my covenant : when I shall take away their sin.

28. ' According to the gospel indeed, they are enemies for your sake : but according to election, they are most dear for the sake of the fathers.

29. "For the gifts and the calling of God are without repentance.

30. "For as ye also in times past did not believe God, but now have obtained mercy, through their unbelief ;

31. "So these also now have not believed, for your mercy, that they also may obtain mercy.

32. "For God hath concluded all in unbelief*, that he may have mercy on all.

33. "O the depth of the riches of the wisdom and of the knowledge of God ! How incomprehensible are his judgments, and how unsearchable his ways !

34. "For who hath known the mind of the Lord ? Or who hath been his counsellor ?

35. "Or who hath first given to him, and recompence shall be made him ?

* Thou standest by faith : be not high-minded ; but fear. We see here, that he, who standeth by faith, may fall from it, and therefore must live in fear, and not in the vain presumption and security of modern sectaries.

† Otherwise thou also shalt be cut off. The Gentiles are here admonished not to be proud, nor to glory against the Jews ; but to take occasion rather from their fall, to fear, and to be humble, lest they be cast off. Not that the whole church of Christ can ever fall from him ; having been secured by so many divine promises in holy writ : but that each one in particular may fall ; and therefore all in general are to be admonished to beware of that, which may happen to any one in particular.

‡ For the gifts and the calling of God are without his repenting himself of them ; for the promises of God are unchangeable, nor can he repent of conferring his gifts.

§ Concluded all in unbelief. He hath found all nations, both Jews, and Gentiles, in unbelief and sin ; not by his causing, but by the abuse of their own free-will ; so that their calling and election are purely owing to his mercy.

36. "For of him, and by him, and in him are all things: to him be glory for ever. Amen.

Lessons of christian virtues.

"I BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercy of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, pleasing to God, your reasonable service.

2. "And be not conformed to this world; but be ye reformed in the newness of your mind: that ye may prove what is the good, and the acceptable, and the perfect will of God.

3. "For I say, through the grace, which is given me, to all, who are among you, not to be more wise, than it behoveth to be wise—but to be wise unto sobriety, and according as God hath divided to every one the measure of faith.

4. "For as in one body we have many members, but all the members have not the same office:

5. "So we being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6. "And having gifts different, according to the grace, which is given us, whether prophecy, according to the proportion of faith;

7. "Or ministry, in ministering; or he, who teacheth, in teaching;

8. "He, who exhorteth, in exhorting—he, who giveth, with simplicity—he, who ruleth, with solicitude—he, who sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

9. "Love without dissimulation. Hating that, which is evil—adhering to that which is good:

10. "Loving one another with brotherly love; in honour preventing one another:

11. "In solicitude not slothful: in spirit fervent; serving the Lord:

12. "Rejoicing in hope: patient in tribulation: instant in prayer:

13. "Communicating to the necessities of the saints: pursuing hospitality.

14. "Bless those, who persecute you: bless, and curse not.

15. "Rejoice with those, who rejoice: weep with those, who weep:

16. "Being of one mind one to another: not high minded, but condescending to the humble. Be not wise in your own conceits:

17. "Render to no man evil for evil: provide things good not only in the sight of God, but also in the sight of all men.

18. "If it be possible, as much as is in you, have peace with all men.

19. "Revenge not yourselves, my dearly beloved: but give place to wrath; for it is written: 'Revenge is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.'

20. "But 'if thy enemy be hungry, give him to eat: if he thirst, give him drink: for doing this, thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.'

21. "Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil by good.

C H A P. XIII.

Lessons of obedience to superiors, and mutual charity.

"LET every soul be subject to higher powers: for there is no power but from God: and those, who are, are ordained of God.

2. "Therefore he, who resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God. And those, who resist, purchase to themselves damnation.

3. "For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? Do that, which is good: and thou shalt have praise from the same.

4. "For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that, which is evil, fear: for he beareth not the sword in vain. For he is the minister of God—and avenger to execute wrath upon him, who doth evil.

5. "Wherefore be subject of necessity, not only for wrath, but also for conscience-sake.

6. "For therefore also ye pay tribute: for they are the ministers of God, serving unto this purpose.

7. "Render therefore to all their dues; tribute, to whom tribute is due; custom, to whom custom; fear, to whom fear; honour, to whom honour.

8. "Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he, who loveth his neighbour, hath fulfilled the law.

9. "For Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steal: Thou shalt not bear false witness: Thou shalt not covet: and if there be any other commandment, it is comprised in this word, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10. "The love of our neighbour worketh no evil. Love therefore is the fulfilling of the law.

11. "And that knowing the time: that it is now the hour for us to rise from sleep. For now our salvation is nearer, than when we believed.

12. "The night is passed, and the day is at hand. Let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and put on the armour of light.

13. "Let us walk honestly as in the day: not in rioting and drunkenness—not in chambering and impurities—not in contention and envy:

14. "But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh in its concupiscences.

The strong must bear with the weak. Cautions against judging, and giving scandal.

"NOW him, who is weak in faith, take unto you; not in disputes about thoughts.

2. "For one believeth, that he may eat all things: but he, who is weak, let him eat herbs.

* Eat all things, viz. without observing the distinction of clean and unclean meats, prescribed by the law of Moses; which was now no longer obligatory. Some weak christians, converted from among the Jews, as we here gather from the apostle, made a scruple of eating such meats as were deemed unclean by the law; such as swine's flesh, &c. which the stronger sort of Christians did eat without scruple. Now the apostle, to reconcile them together, exhorts the former not to judge or condemn the latter, for using their Christian liberty; and the latter to take care not to despise, or scandalize their weaker brethren, either by bringing them to eat what in their

4. "Who art thou, who judgest another man's servant? To his own master he standeth, or falleth: and he shall stand: for God is able to make him stand."

5. "For one judgeth between day and day†; and another judgeth every day: let every man abound in his own sense."

6. "He, who regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord. And he, who eateth, eateth to the Lord: for he giveth thanks to God. And he, who eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth thanks to God."

7. "For none of us liveth to himself: and no man dieth to himself."

8. "For whether we live, we live to the Lord; or whether we die, we die to the Lord. Therefore whether we live, or whether we die, we are the Lord's."

9. "For to this end, Christ died, and rose again; that he might be Lord both of the dead and of the living."

10. "But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou despise thy brother? For we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ."

11. "For it is written: 'As I live,' saith the Lord, 'every knee shall bow to me; and every tongue shall confess to God.'"

12. "So then every one of us, shall render account to God for himself."

13. "Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that ye put not a stumbling-block or a scandal in your brother's way."

14. "I know, and am confident, in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself: but to him, who esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean."

15. "But if, because of thy meat, thy brother be grieved; thou walkest not now according to charity. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died."

16. "Let not then our good be evil spoken of."

17. "For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but justice, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost."

18. "For he, who in this serveth Christ, pleaseth God, and is approved of men."

19. "Therefore let us follow after the things, which are of peace; and keep the things, which are of edification one towards another."

20. "Destroy not the work of God for meat. All things indeed are clean: but it is evil for that man, who eateth with offence."

21. "It is good not to eat flesh, and not to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother is offended, or scandalized, or made weak."

C H A P. XV.

He exhorts them to be all of one mind; and promises to come and see them.

"NOW we, who are stronger, ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves."

2. "Let every one of you please his neighbour for his good, unto edification."

3. "For Christ did not please himself; but as it is written: 'The reproaches of those, who reproached thee, fell upon me.'"

4. "For what things soever were written, were written for our instruction; that, through patience, and the comfort of the scriptures, we might have hope."

5. "Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of one mind one towards another, according to Jesus Christ:

6. "That with one mind, and with one mouth, ye may glorify God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ."

7. "Wherefore receive one another; as Christ also hath received you, to the honour of God."

8. "For I say, that Christ Jesus was minister of the circumcision§ for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made to the fathers."

9. "But that the Gentiles are to glorify God for his mercy, as it is written: 'Therefore will I confess to thee, O Lord, among the Gentiles, and will sing to thy name.'"

10. "And again he saith: 'Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.'"

11. "And again: 'Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and magnify him, all ye people.'"

12. "And again Isaiah saith: 'There shall be a root of Jesse; and he, who shall rise up to rule the Gentiles, in him the Gentiles shall hope.'"

13. "Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing; that ye may abound in hope, and in the power of the Holy Ghost."

14. "And I myself also, my brethren, am assured of you, that ye also are full of love, replenished with all knowledge, so that ye are able to admonish one another."

15. "But I have written to you, brethren, more boldly in some sort, as putting you in mind; because of the grace, which is given me from God,"

16. "That I should be the minister of Christ Jesus among the Gentiles; sanctifying the gospel of God, that the oblation of the Gentiles may be made acceptable, and sanctified in the Holy Ghost."

17. "I have therefore glory in Christ Jesus towards God."

20. "And I have so preached this gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation;

21. "But as it is written: 'Those to whom he was not spoken of, shall see, and those who have not heard, shall understand.'

22. "For which cause also, I was hindered very much from coming to you, and have been kept away till now.

23. "But now having no more place in these countries, and having a great desire these many years past to come to you:

24. "When I shall begin to take my journey into Spain, I hope, that as I pass, I shall see you, and be brought on my way thither by you, if first, in part, I shall have enjoyed you.

25. "But now I shall go to Jerusalem, to minister to the saints.

26. "For it hath pleased those of Macedonia and Achaia, to make some contribution for the poor saints, who are in Jerusalem.

27. "For it hath pleased them; and they are their debtors. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things; they ought also in carnal things to minister to them.

28. "When therefore I shall have accomplished this, and consigned to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

29. "And I know, that when I come to you, I shall come in the abundance of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30. "I beseech you therefore, brethren, through our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the charity of the Holy Ghost, that ye assist me in your prayers for me to God:

31. "That I may be delivered from the unbelievers, who are in Judea, and that the oblation of my service may be acceptable in Jerusalem to the saints:

32. "That I may come to you with joy, by the will of God, and may be refreshed with you.

33. "Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

The first Epistle of St. PAUL, to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

He reproveth their dissensions about their teachers; the world was to be saved by preaching of the cross, and not by human wisdom or eloquence.

PAUL called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Sosthenes, a brother,

2. "To the church of God, which is at Corinth, to those, who are sanctified, in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all, who invoke the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, in every place of theirs and ours—

3. "Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. "I give thanks to my God always for you, for the grace of God, which is given you in Christ Jesus,

5. "That in all things ye are made rich in him, in every word, and in all knowledge :

6. "As the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you :

7. "So that nothing is wanting to you in any grace, waiting for the manifestation of our Lord Jesus Christ ;

8. "Who also will confirm you unto the end without crime, in the day of the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9. "God is faithful; by whom ye are called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10. "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing; and that there be no schisms among you: but that ye be perfect in the same mind, and in the same judgment.

11. "For it hath been signified unto me, my brethren, of you, by those, who are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12. "Now this I say, that every one of you saith: 'I indeed am of Paul: and I am of Apollo: and I of Cephas: and I of Christ.'

13. "Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14. "I give God thanks, that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Caius:

15. "Lest any should say, that ye were baptized in my name.

16. "And I baptized also the household of Stephanas; besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17. "For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel; not with wisdom of speech, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18. "For the word of the cross, to those indeed, who perish, is foolishness; but to those, who are saved, that unto us, it is the power of God.

19. "For it is written: 'I will destroy the wisdom of the wise; and the prudence of the prudent I will reject.'

20. "Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the disputer of this world? Hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21. "For seeing, that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God; it pleased God, by the foolishness of preaching, to save those, who believe.

22. "For both the Jews require signs; and the Greeks seek after wisdom:

23. "But we preach Christ crucified—to the Jews a stumbling-block, and to the Gentiles, foolishness:

24. "But to those, who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God.

25. "For the foolishness* of God is wiser than men: and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26. "For see your vocation, brethren, that not many are wise, according to the flesh—not many mighty, not many noble:

27. "But the foolish things of the world hath God chosen, that he may confound the wise: and the weak things of the world hath God chosen, that he may confound the strong:

28. "And the mean things of the world, and the things, which are contemptible, hath God chosen, and things, which are not, that he might bring to nought things that are:

29. "That no flesh should glory in his sight.

30. "But from him are ye in Christ Jesus, who is made to us from God wisdom, and justice, and sanctification, and redemption:

31. "That, as it is written, 'He, who glorieth, may glory in the Lord.'

CHAP. II.

His preaching was not in loftiness of words; but in sign and power. And the wisdom he taught, was not to be understood by the worldly wise, or sensual man, but only by the spiritual man.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, came not in loftiness of speech or of wisdom; declaring to you the testimony of Christ.

2. "For I judged not myself to know any thing among you, but Jesus Christ—and him crucified.

3. "And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling:

4. "And my speech and my preaching was not in the persuasive words of human wisdom, but in the shewing of the spirit and power:

5. "That your faith might not stand on the wisdom of men, but on the power of God.

6. "Howbeit we speak wisdom among the perfect; yet not the wisdom of this world, neither of the princes of this world, who are destroyed:

7. "But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, which is hidden, which God ordained before the world, unto our glory:

8. "Which none of the princes of this world knew: for if they had known it, they would never have crucified the Lord of glory.

9. "But, as it is written: 'The eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man, what things God hath prepared for them, that love him."

10. "But to us God hath revealed them, by his Spirit. For the Spirit searcheth all things, even the profound things of God.

11. "For what man knoweth the things of a man, but the spirit of a man, which is in him? So the things also, which are of God, no man knoweth, but the Spirit of God.

12. "Now we have received not the spirit of this world, but the Spirit which is of God; that we may know the things, which are given us from God:

13. "Which things also we speak, not in the learned words of human wisdom; but in the doctrine of the Spirit, comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14. "But the sensual man* perceiveth not the things, which are of the spirit of God: for it is foolishness to him, and he cannot understand: because it is spiritually examined.

15. "But the spiritual man* judgeth all things: and he himself is judged by no one.

16. "For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

C H A P. III.

They must not contend about their teachers; who are but God's ministers, and accountable to him. Their words shall be tried by fire.

"AND I, brethren, could not speak to you as to spiritual, but as to carnal. As to little ones in Christ,

2. "I gave you milk to drink, not meat; for ye were not able as yet: but neither indeed are ye now able: for ye are yet carnal.

3. "For whereas there is among you envying and contention, are ye not carnal, and walk according to man?

4. "For while one, saith: 'I indeed am of Paul;' and another, 'I am of Apollo;' are ye not men? What then is Apollo, and what is Paul?

5. "The ministers of him, whom ye have believed; and to every one, as the Lord hath given.

6. "I have planted; Apollo watered: but God gave the increase.

7. "So then neither he, who planteth, is any thing, nor he, who watereth; but God, who giveth the increase.

8. "Now he, who planteth, and he, who watereth, are one. And every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labour.

* The sensual man,—the spiritual man. The sensual man is either he, who is taken up with sensual pleasures, with carnal and worldly affections; or he, who measureth heavenly mysteries by natural reason, sense, and human wisdom only. Now such a one has little or no notion of the things of God. Whereas the spiritual man, who, in the sublime points of religion, takes not human sense for his guide—but divine grace, the faith of the church, and the spirit of God—makes a right judgment of all these matters; and sees and condemns the errors of carnal men, who have no means or right to judge or condemn him.

9. "For we are God's coadjutors: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

10. "According to the grace of God, which is given to me, as a wise architect, I have laid the foundation: and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed, how he buildeth thereupon.

11. "For no one can lay another foundation, but that which is laid; which is Christ Jesus.

12. "Now if any man build upon this foundation†, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13. "Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day of the Lord shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire: and the fire shall try every man's work, of what sort it is.

14. "If any man's work abide, which he hath built thereupon; he shall receive a reward.

15. "If any man's work burn, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved, yet so as by fire.

16. "Know ye not, that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you.

17. "But if any man violate the temple of God; him shall God destroy. For the temple of God is holy; which ye are.

18. "Let no man deceive himself: if any man among you seem to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19. "For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written: 'I will catch the wise in their own craftiness.'

20. "And again: 'The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.'

21. "Let no man therefore glory in men.

22. "For all things are yours, whether it be Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come: for all are yours:

23. "And ye are Christ's: and Christ is God's.

C H A P. IV.

God's ministers are not to be judged. He taxes their boasting of their preachers; and describes the treatment the apostles every where met with.

"LET a man so account of us as of the ministers of Christ, and the dispensers of the mysteries of God.

† Upon this foundation. The foundation is Christ and his doctrine—or the true faith in him, working through charity. The building upon this foundation, gold, silver, and precious stones, signifies the more perfect preaching and practice of the gospel: the wood, hay, and stubble, such preaching as was that of the Corinthian teachers (who affected the pomp of words and human eloquence) and such practice as is mixed with much imperfection, and many lesser sins. Now the day of the Lord, and his fiery trial (in the particular judgment, immediately after death) shall make manifest of what sort every man's work has been; of which, during this life, it is hard to make a judgment. For then the fire of God's judgment shall try every man's work. And those, whose works, like wood, hay, and stubble, cannot abide the fire, shall suffer loss; these works being found to be of no value: yet they themselves, having built upon the right foundation (by living and dying in the true faith, and in the state of grace, though with some imperfection,) shall be saved, yet so as by fire; being liable to this punishment, by reason of the wood, hay, and stubble, which were mixed with their building.

2. "Here now it is required among the dispensers, that a man be found faithful.

3. "But as to me, it is a thing of the least account to be judged by you, or by human judgment: but neither do I judge myself.

4. "For I am not conscious to myself of any thing: yet in this I am not justified: but he, who judgeth me, is the Lord.

5. "Therefore judge not before the time; until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise from God.

6. "But these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollo, for your sakes; that in us ye may learn, that one be not puffed up against the other for another, above that which is written.

7. "For who distinguisheth thee? And what hast thou, that thou hast not received? And if thou have received, why dost thou glory, as if thou had not received it?

8. "Now ye are satiated, now ye are become rich: ye reign without us; and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9. "For I think, that God hath set forth us apostles, the last, as it were men appointed to death: because we are made a spectacle to the world, and to angels, and to men.

10. "We are fools for Christ's sake; but ye are wise in Christ: we are weak, but ye are strong: ye are honourable, but we without honour.

11. "Even unto this hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no fixed abode:

12. "And we labour working with our own hands: we are reviled, and we bless: we are persecuted, and we suffer it.

13. "We are ill spoken of, and we intreat: we are made as the refuse of this world—the off-scouring of all even till now.

14. "I write not these things to shame you; but I admonish you, as my dearest children:

15. "For if ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet not many fathers. For in Christ Jesus, I have begotten you by the gospel:

16. "Wherefore I beseech you, be ye followers of me, as I also am of Christ.

17. "For this cause have I sent to you Timothy, who is my dearest son and faithful in the Lord; who will put you in mind of my ways, which are in Christ Jesus; as I teach every where in every church.

18. "Some are so puffed up, as though I would not come to you.

19. "But I will come to you shortly, if it please the Lord; and will know, not the speech of those, who are puffed up, but the power.

20. "For the kingdom of God is not in speech, but in power.

21. "What will ye? shall I come to you with a rod; or in charity, and in the spirit of meekness?

C H A P. V.

He excommunicates the incestuous adulterers, and admonishes them, to purge out the old leaven.

"IT is heard for certain, that there is fornication among you, and such fornication; as the like is not among the heathens; that one should have his father's wife.

2. "And ye are puffed up; and have not rather mourned, that he might be taken away from among you, who hath done this deed.

3. "I indeed absent in body, but present in spirit, have already judged, as though I were present, him, who hath so done,

4. "In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, ye being gathered together and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus,

5. "To deliver such a one to satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

6. "Your glorying is not good. Know ye not, that a little leaven corrupteth the whole lump?

7. "Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new paste, as ye are unleavened. For Christ, our pasch, is sacrificed.

8. "Therefore let us feast, not with the old leaven, nor with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9. "I wrote to you in an epistle, not to keep company with fornicators.

10. "I mean not with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or the extortioners, or the servers of idols; otherwise ye must have gone out of this world.

11. "But now I have written to you, not to keep company, if any man who is called a brother, be a fornicator, or covetous, or a server of idols, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one, not so much as to eat.

12. "For what have I to do, to judge those, who are without? Do not ye judge them that are within?

13. "For those, who are without, God will judge. Put away the evil one from among yourselves.

C H A P. VI.

He blames them for going to law before unbelievers. Of sin that exclude from the kingdom of heaven. The evil of fornication.

"DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law, before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2. "Know ye not, that the saints shall judge this world? And if the world shall be judged by you; are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3. "Know ye not, that we shall judge angels? how much more things of this world?

4. "If therefore ye shall have judgments about the things of the world; set those to judge, who are the most despised in the church.

5. "I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not among you any one wise man, who is able to judge between his brethren—

6. "But brother goeth to law with brother—and that before unbelievers?"

7. "Already indeed there is plainly a fault * among you, that ye have law-suits one with another. Why do ye not rather take the injury? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?"

8. "But ye do wrong and defraud; and that to your brethren."

9. "Know ye not, that the unjust shall not possess the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers,

10. "Nor the effeminate, nor sodomites, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shall possess the kingdom of God."

11. "And such some of you were; but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God."

12. "All things are lawful † to me; but all things are not expedient. All things are lawful to me; but I will not be brought under the power of any."

13. "The meat for the belly, and the belly for the meats: but God shall destroy both it and them; but the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body."

14. "Now God hath both raised up the Lord, and will raise us up also by his power."

15. "Know ye not, that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I then, taking the members of Christ, make them the members of a harlot? God forbid."

16. "Or know ye not, that he, who adheres to an harlot, is made one body? 'For they shall be,' saith he, 'two in one flesh.'"

17. "But he, who adheres to the Lord, is one spirit."

18. "Fly fornication. Every sin that a man doth, is without the body: but he, who committeth fornication, sinneth against his own body."

19. "Or know ye not, that your members are the temple of the Holy Ghost, who is in you, whom ye have from God, and ye are not your own?"

20. "For ye are bought with a great price. Glorify and bear God in your body."

C H A P. VII.

Lessons relating to marriage and celibacy. Virginity is preferable to a married state.

"NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote to me: It is good for a man not to touch a woman."

2. "But for fear of fornication, let every man have his own wife†, and let every woman have her own husband."

* A fault. Law suits can hardly ever be without a fault, on one side or the other—and oftentimes on both sides.

† All things are lawful, &c. that is, all indifferent things are indeed lawful, in as much as they are not prohibited; but oftentimes they are not expedient; as in the case of law suits, &c. And much less would it be expedient to be enslaved, by an irregular affection to any thing, how indifferent soever.

‡ Have his own wife, that is, keep to his wife, which he hath. His meaning is not to exhort the unmarried to marry; on the contrary, he would have them rather continue as they are, v. 8. But he speaks here to them that are already married; who must not depart from one another, nor refuse the marriage debt one to another.

VOL. II.

3. "Let the husband render the debt to his wife; and the wife also in like manner to the husband."

4. "The wife hath not power of her own body; but the husband. And in like manner the husband also hath not power of his own body; but the wife."

5. "Defraud not one another, unless, perhaps, by consent, for a time, that ye may give yourselves to prayer: and return together again, lest satan tempt you for your incontinency."

6. "But I speak this by indulgence‡, not by commandment."

7. "For I would that all men were even as myself; but every one hath his proper gift from God; one after this manner, and another after that."

8. "But I say to the unmarried, and to the widows: it is good for them, if they so continue—even as I."

9. "But if they do not contain† themselves, let them marry. For it is better to marry than to burn."

10. "But to those, who are married, not I, but the Lord commandeth—that the wife depart not from her husband."

11. "And if she depart, that she remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband. And let not the husband put away his wife."

12. "For to the rest I speak, not the Lord‡‡. If any brother have a wife, who believeth not, and she consent to dwell with him; let him not put her away."

13. "And if any woman have a husband, who believeth not, and he consent to dwell with her; let her not put away her husband."

14. "For the unbelieving husband is sanctified|| by the believing wife; and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the believing husband: otherwise your children should be unclean; but now they are holy."

15. "But if the unbeliever depart, let him depart. For a brother or sister is not under bondage in such cases. But God hath called us in peace."

16. "For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? Or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?"

17. "But as the Lord hath distributed to every one, as God hath called every one, so let him walk: and so I teach in all churches."

18. "Is any man called, being circumcised? let him not procure uncircumcision. Is any man called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised."

19. "Circumcision is nothing; and uncircumcision is nothing: but the keeping of the commandments of God."

§ By indulgence; that is, by a condescension to your weaknesses.

†† If they do not contain, &c. This is spoken of such as are free—and not of such as, by vow, have given their first faith to God: to whom, if they will use proper means to obtain it, God will never refuse the gift of continency. The Protestants have corrupted this text, by rendering it, if they cannot contain.

‡‡ I speak, not the Lord; viz. By any express commandment, or ordinance.

|| Is sanctified. The meaning is not, that the faith of the husband or of the wife is of itself sufficient to put the unbelieving party, or their children, in the state of grace and salvation; but that it is very often an occasion of their sanctification, by bringing them to the true faith.

5 M

20. "Let every man abide in the same calling, in which he was called.

21. "Art thou called, being a bond-man? care not for it; but if thou may be made free, use it rather.

22. "For he, who is called in the Lord, being a bond-man, is the freeman of the Lord. Likewise he, who is called, being free, is the bond-man of Christ.

23. "Ye are bought with a price; be not made the bond-slaves of men.

24. "Brethren, let every man wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25. "Now concerning virgins, I have no commandment of the Lord; but I give counsel, as having obtained mercy of the Lord, to be faithful.

26. "I think therefore, that this is good for the present necessity, that it is good for a man so to be.

27. "Art thou bound to a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28. "But if thou take a wife, thou hast not sinned. And if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: nevertheless, such shall have tribulation of the flesh. But I spare you.

29. "This therefore I say, brethren: the time is short: it remaineth, that those also, who have wives, be as those who have not:

30. "And those who weep, as those who weep not: and those who rejoice, as those who are not rejoicing; and those who buy, as if they were not possessing any thing:

31. "And those who use this world, as if they used it not; for the figure of this world passeth away.

32. "But I would have you to be without solicitude. He, who is without a wife, is solicitous for the things, which belong to the Lord, how he may please God.

33. "But he, who is with a wife, is solicitous for the things of the world, how he may please his wife: and he is divided.

34. "And the unmarried woman and the virgin think on the things of the Lord; that she may be holy both in body and in spirit. But she, who is married, thinketh on the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35. "And this I speak for your profit: not to cast a snare upon you, but for that, which is decent, and which may give you power, to attend upon the Lord, without impediment.

36. "But if any man think, that he seemeth dishonoured with regard to his virgin, for that she is above the age, and it must so be: let him do what he will: he sinneth not*, if she marry.

37. "For he, who hath determined, being steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but having power of his own will; and hath judged this in his heart, to keep his virgin, doth well.

38. "Therefore both he, who giveth his virgin in marriage, doth well: and he, who giveth her not, doth better.

39. "A woman is bound by the law, as long as her husband liveth: but if her husband die, she is at liberty: let her marry to whom she will; only in the Lord.

40. "But more blessed shall she be, if she so remain according to my counsel: and I think, that I also follow the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

Though an idol be nothing, yet things offered up to idols: not to be eaten, for fear of scandal.

"NOW concerning those things, which are sacrificed to idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up; but charity edifieth.

2. "And if any man think that he knoweth a thing, he hath not yet known, as he ought to know.

3. "But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

4. "But as for the meats, which are offered in sacrifice to idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no God but one.

5. "For though there be, that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth, (for there be gods many and lords many);

6. "Yet to us there is but one God, the Father, whom we adore, and we unto him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ—by whom are all things, and we by him.

7. "But knowledge is not in every one. For until this present, with a conscience of the idol, as a thing sacrificed to an idol: and their conscience, being weak, is defiled.

8. "But meat doth not commend us to God. neither, if we eat, shall we have the more: nor, if we eat not, shall we have the less.

9. "But take heed, lest perhaps this your liberty come a stumbling-block to the weak.

10. "For if a man see him, who hath knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple; shall not his conscience, being weak, be emboldened to eat those things, which are sacrificed to idols?

11. "And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12. "Now when ye sin thus against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13. "Wherefore if meat scandalize || my brethren, I will never eat flesh, lest I should scandalize my brethren.

CHAP. IX.

The apostle did not make use of his power, of being maintained at the charges of those, to whom he preached, that he might give no hindrance to the gospel. Of running the race, and striving for the mastery.

"AM I not I free? Am not I an apostle? Have I not seen Christ Jesus our Lord? Are not ye my work in the Lord?

2. "And if I be not an apostle to others, but to you I am. For ye are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord.

* Let him do what he will: he sinneth not, &c. The meaning is not, as libertines would have it, that persons may do what they will, and not sin; provided they afterwards marry; but that the father, with regard to the giving his virgin in marriage, may do as he pleaseth: and that it will be no sin to him, if she marry.

+ Knowledge puffeth up, &c. Knowledge without charity and humility, serveth only to puff persons up.

† Gods many, &c. reputed for such among the heathens. || If I eat scandalize; that is, if my eating cause my brethren to sin.

3. " My defence with those, who examine me, is this :
 4. " Have not we power to eat and to drink ?
 5. " Have we not power to lead about a woman, a sister*, as well as the rest of the apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas ?
 6. " Or I only and Barnabas have we not power to do this ?

7. " Who serveth as a soldier at any time, at his own charges ? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof ? Who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock ?

8. " Speak I these things according to man ? Or doth not the law also say these things ?

9. " For it is written in the law of Moses : ' Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox, who treadeth out the corn.' Doth God take care for oxen ?

10. " Or doth he say this indeed for our sakes ? For these things were written for our sakes : that he, who plougheth, should plough in hope : and he, who thresheth, in hope to receive fruit.

11. " If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter, if we reap your carnal things ?

12. " If others be partakers of this power over you ; why not we rather ? Nevertheless we have not used this power : but we bear all things, lest we should give any hindrance to the gospel of Christ.

13. " Know ye not, that those, who work in the holy place, eat the things, which are of the holy place— and those, who serve the altar, partake with the altar ?

14. " So also the Lord ordained, that those who preach the gospel, should live by the gospel.

15. " But I have used none of these things. Neither have I written these things, that they should be so done to me ; for it is good for me to die, rather than that any one should make void my glory.

16. " For if I preach the gospel, it is no glory† to me : for a necessity lieth upon me : for wo is unto me, if I preach not the gospel.

17. " For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward ; but if against my will, a dispensation is committed to me.

18. " What is my reward then ? That preaching the gospel, I may deliver the gospel without charge ; that I abuse not my power in the gospel.

19. " For whereas I was free as to all, I made myself the servant of all ; that I might gain more persons.

20. " And I became to the Jews as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews :

21. " To those, who are under the law, as if I were under the law, (whereas myself was not under the law) that I might gain those, who were under the law. To those, who were without the law, as if I were without the law (whereas I was not without the law of God, but was in the law of Christ) that I might gain those, who were without the law.

* A woman, a sister. Protestants have corrupted this text, by rendering it, a sister, a wife ; whereas, 'tis certain St. Paul had a wife [chap. vi. 7. 8.] and that he only speaks of such devout women, as, according to the custom of the Jewish nation, waited upon the preacher of the gospel, and supplied them with necessaries.

† It is no glory. This is, I have nothing to glory of.

22. " To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak. I became all things to all men, that I might save all.

23. " And I do all things for the gospel's sake ; that I may be made partaker thereof.

24. " Know ye not, that those, who run in the race, all run indeed, but one receiveth the prize ? So run, that ye may obtain.

25. " And every one, who striveth for the mastery, refraineth himself from all things : and they indeed, that they may receive a corruptible crown ; but we an incorruptible one.

26. " I therefore so run, not as at an uncertainty : I so fight, not as one beating the air.

27. " But I chastise† my body, and bring it into subjection : lest perhaps, when I have preached to others, I myself should become reprobate.

C H A P. X.

By the example of the Israelites, he shews, that we are not to build too much upon favours received ; but avoid their sins, and fly from the service of idols, and from things offered to devils.

" F O R I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea :

2. " And all in Moses‖ were baptized, in the cloud and in the sea ;

3. " And they all ate the same spiritual food ;

4. " And all drank the same spiritual drink : (and they drank of the spiritual rock, that followed them : and the rock was Christ.)

5. " But with the most of them God was not well pleased : for they were overthrown in the desert.

6. " Now these things were done in a figure of us, that we should not covet evil things, as they also coveted.

7. " Neither become ye idolaters, as some of them : as it is written : ' The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.' "

8. " Neither let us commit fornication ; as some of them committed fornication ; and there fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9. " Neither let us tempt Christ : as some of them tempted, and perished by the serpents.

10. " Neither do ye murmur : as some of them murmured, and were destroyed by the destroyer.

11. " Now all these things happened to them in figure : and they are written for our correction, upon whom the ends of the world‡ are come.

† I chastise, &c. What will our new sectaries say to this, with all their presumptuous security ? Let them open their eyes now at least, and see that their faith, which excludes all fear, is not the faith of St. Paul. See chap. x. 12.

‖ In Moses. Under the conduct of Moses they received baptism in figure, by passing under the cloud, and through the sea : and they partook of the body and blood of Christ in figure, by eating of the manna, (called here a spiritual food, because it was a figure of the true bread, which comes down from heaven) and drinking the water, miraculously brought out of the rock, called here a spiritual rock ; because it was also a figure of Christ.

‡ The ends of the world ; that is, the last ages.

12. "Wherefore let him, who thinketh himself to stand, take heed lest he fall.

13. "Let no temptation take hold on you*, but such as is human. And God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that, which ye are able; but will make also with temptation issue†, that ye may be able to bear it.

14. "Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from the service of idols.

15. "I speak as to wise men: judge ye yourselves what I say.

16. "The chalice of benediction, which we bless‡, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? And the bread, which we break, is it not the partaking of the body of the Lord?

17. "For we being many, are one bread||, one body, all, who partake of one bread.

18. "Behold Israel according to the flesh: are not those, who eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19. "What then? Do I say, that what is offered in sacrifice to idols, is any thing? Or, that the idol is any thing?

20. "But the things, which the heathens sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God. And I would not, that ye should be made partakers with devils.

21. "Ye cannot drink the chalice of the Lord, and the chalice of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the table of the Lord, and of the table of devils.

22. "Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than he? All things are lawful for me; but all things are not expedient.

23. All things are lawful for me; but all things do not edify.

24. "Let no man seek his own, but that which is for the welfare of another.

25. "Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, eat; asking no question for conscience sake.

26. "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof."

27. "If any of the infidels invite you, and ye be willing to go; eat of any thing that is set before you; asking no question for conscience sake.

28. "But if any man say: 'This hath been sacrificed to idols;' do not eat of it for his sake, who told it, and for conscience sake."

29. "Conscience, I say, not thy own, but the other's.

* Or, no temptation hath taken hold of you, or come upon you as yet, but what is human, or incident to man.

† Issue, or a way to escape.

‡ Which we bless. Here the apostle puts them in mind of their partaking of the body and blood of Christ in the sacred mysteries, and becoming thereby one mystical body with Christ. From whence he infers, ver. 21. that those, who are made partakers with Christ, by the eucharistic sacrifice, and sacrament, must not be made partakers with devils, by eating of the meats sacrificed to them.

|| One bread; or as it may be rendered, agreeably both to the Latin and Greek, because the bread is one, we all, being many, are one body, who partake of that one bread. For it is by our communicating with Christ, and with one another, in this blessed sacrament, that we are formed into one mystical body; and made, as it were, one bread, compounded of many grains of corn, closely united together.

For why is my liberty judged by another man's conscience?

30. "If I partake with thanksgiving; why am I evil spoken of for that, for which I give thanks?

31. "Therefore, whether ye eat or drink, or whatsoever else ye do—do all things for the glory of God.

32. "Give no offence to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God:

33. "As I also please all men in all things, not seeking that, which is profitable to myself, but to many; that they may be saved.

CHAP. XI.

Women must have a covering over their heads. He blames the abuses of their love-feasts; and upon that occasion, treats of the blessed sacrament.

"B E ye followers of me, as I also am of Christ.

1. "Now I praise you, brethren, that in all things ye are mindful of me, and keep my ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

2. "But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ, is God.

3. "Every man praying or prophesying with his head covered, disgraceth his head.

4. "But every woman praying or prophesying with her head not covered, disgraceth her head: for it is the same as if she were shaven.

5. "For if a woman be not covered, let her be shorn. But if it be a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her cover her head.

6. "The man indeed ought not to cover his head; because he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

7. "For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

8. "For the man was not created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

9. "Therefore ought the woman to have a power over her head, because of the angels.

10. "But yet neither is the man without the woman, nor the woman without the man, in the Lord.

11. "For as the woman is of the man, so also is the man by the woman; but all things of God.

12. "Judge ye yourselves: doth it become a woman, to pray to God, uncovered?

13. "Doth not even nature itself teach you, that a man indeed, if he nourish his hair, it is a shame to him?

14. "But if a woman nourish her hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given to her for a covering.

15. "But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, nor the church of God.

16. "Now this I ordain: not praising you, that ye come together, not for the better, but for the worse.

17. "For first of all, I hear that when ye come together in the church, there are divisions among you, and in part I believe it.

§ A power; that is, a veil or covering, as a sign that she is under the power of her husband; and this, the apostle adds, because of the angels, who are present in the assemblies of the faithful.

19. "For there must be also heresies* : that those also, who are approved, may be made manifest among you.
20. "When ye come together therefore into one place, it is not now to eat the Lord's supper†.

21. "For every one taketh before his own supper to eat. And one indeed is hungry ; and another is drunk.

22. "What, have ye not houses to eat, and to drink in ? Or despise ye the church of God—and put those to shame, who have not ? What shall I say to you ? Do I praise you ? In this I praise you not.

23. "For I have received of the Lord that, which also I delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus, the night in which he was betrayed, took bread,

24. "And giving thanks, broke, and said : ' Take ye, and eat : this is my body which shall be delivered for you : do this for the commemoration of me.'

25. "In like manner also the chalice, after he had supped, saying : ' This chalice is the new testament in my blood : this do ye, as often as ye shall drink it, for the commemoration of me.'

26. "For as often as ye shall eat this bread, and drink this chalice, ye shall shew the death of the Lord, until he come.

27. "Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, or drink ‡ the chalice of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body|| and of the blood of the Lord.

28. "But let a man prove himself : and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of the chalice.§

29. "For he, who eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh judgment to himself, not discerning the body || of the Lord.

30. "Therefore are there many infirm and weak among you, and many sleep.

31. "But if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

32. "But while we are judged, we are chastised by the Lord ; that we be not condemned with this world.

33. "Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait for one another.

34. "If any man be hungry, let him eat at home ; that ye come not together unto judgment. And the rest I will set in order, when I come.

C H A P. XII.

Of the diversity of spiritual gifts. The members of the mys-

* There must be heresies, by reason of the pride and perversity of man's heart—not by God's will or appointment ; who nevertheless draws good out of this evil, man seeking, by that occasion, who are the good and firm Christians, and making their faith more remarkable.

† The Lord's supper. So the apostle here calls the charity feasts, observed by the primitive Christians ; and reprehends the abuses of the Corinthians, on these occasions : which were the more criminal, because these feasts were accompanied with the celebrating the eucharistic sacrifice and sacrament.

‡ Or drink. Here the protestant testament is corrupted, by putting and drink (contrary to the original, καὶ πίνω) instead of or drink.

|| Guilty of the body &c. not discerning the body, &c. This demonstrates the real presence of the body and blood of Christ, even to the unworthy communicant ; who otherwise could not be guilty of the body and blood of Christ, or justly condemned for not discerning the Lord's body.

§ Drink of the chalice. This is not said by way of command ; but by way of allowance, viz. where and when it is possible to the practice and discipline of the church.

tical body, like those of the natural body, must mutually cherish one another.

" NOW concerning spiritual things, my brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2. "Ye know, that when ye were heathens, ye went to dumb idols, according as ye were led.

3. "Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man, speaking by the spirit of God, saith anathema to Jesus. And no man can say, the Lord Jesus, but by the Holy Ghost.

4. "Now there are diversities of graces—but the same spirit.

5. "And there are diversities of ministries—but the same Lord.

6. "And there are diversities of operations—but the same God, who worketh all in all.

7. "But the manifestation of the spirit is given to every man unto profit.

8. "To one indeed, by the spirit, is given the word of wisdom ; and to another, the word of knowledge according to the same spirit.

9. "To another, faith in the same spirit : to another, the grace of healing in one spirit ;

10. "To another, the working of miracles ; to another prophecy ; to another the discerning of spirits ; to another divers kinds of tongues ; to another interpretation of speeches.

11. "But all these things one and the same spirit worketh, dividing to every one, according as he will.

12. "For as the body is one, and hath many members—and all the members of the body, whereas they are many, yet are one body ; so also is Christ.

13. "For in one spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews, or Gentiles, whether bond or free ; and in one spirit we have all been made to drink.

14. "For the body also is not one member, but many.

15. "If the foot should say : ' Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body : ' is it therefore not of the body ?

16. "And if the ear should say : ' Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body : ' is it therefore not of the body ?

17. "If the whole body were the eye ; where would be the hearing ? If the whole were hearing ; where would be the smelling ?

18. "But now God hath set the members, every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19. "And if they all were one member, where would be the body ?

20. "But now there are many members indeed, yet one body.

21. "And the eye cannot say to the hand : ' I need not thy help : ' nor again the head to the feet : ' I have no need of you.'

22. "Yea much more those, which seem to be the more feeble members of the body, are more necessary.

23. "And such as we think to be the less honourable members of the body, upon these we bestow more abundant honour : and those, which are our uncomely parts, have more abundant comeliness.

24. "But our comely parts have no need ; but God hath tempered the body together, giving the more abundant honour to that, which wanted.

25. "That there might be no schism in the body, but the members might be mutually careful one for another.

26. "And if one member suffer any thing, all the members suffer with it; or if one member glory, all the members rejoice with it.

27. "Now ye are the body of Christ, and members of member.

28. "And God indeed hath set some in the church, first, apostles; secondly, prophets; thirdly, teachers; after that miracles; then the graces of healings, helps, governments, kinds of tongues, interpretations of speeches.

29. "Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers?

30. "Are all workers of miracles? Have all the grace of healing? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret?

31. "But be zealous for the better gifts. And I yet shew to you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Charity is to be preferred before all other gift.

"IF I speak with the tongues of men, and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2. "And if I should have prophecy, and should know all mysteries, and all knowledge—and if I should have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity—I am nothing.

3. "And if I should distribute all my goods to feed the poor, and if I should deliver my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4. "Charity is patient, is kind; charity envieth not; dealeth not perversely; is not puffed up;

5. "Is not ambitious; seeketh not her own; is not provoked to anger; thinketh no evil;

6. "Rejoiceth not in iniquity; but rejoiceth with the truth;

7. "Beareth all things; believeth all things; hopeth all things; endureth all things.

8. "Charity never faileth: whether prophecies shall be made void, or tongues shall cease, or knowledge shall be destroyed.

9. "For we know in part; and we prophesy in part.

10. "But when that, which is perfect, shall come, that, which is in part, shall be done away.

11. "When I was a child, I spoke as a child; I understood as a child; I thought as a child. But when I became a man, I put away the things of a child.

12. "We see now through a glass in an obscure manner; but then face to face. Now I know in part; but then I shall know, even as I am known.

13. "And now there remain, faith, hope, and charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAP. XIV.

The gift of prophesying is to be preferred before that of speaking strange tongues.

"FOLLOW after charity; be zealous for spiritual gifts; but rather that ye may prophesy*.

* Prophecy. That is, declare or expound the mysteries of

2. "For he, who speaketh in a tongue, speaketh not to men, but to God: for no man heareth. But by the Spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3. "But he, who prophesieth, speaketh to man unto edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4. "He, who speaketh in a tongue, edifieth himself; but he, who prophesieth, edifieth the church.

5. "And I would have you all to speak with tongues, but rather to prophecy. For greater is he, who prophesieth, than he, who speaketh with tongues: unless perhaps he interpret, that the church may receive edification.

6. "But now, brethren, if I come to you, speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either in revelation, or in knowledge, or in prophecy, or in doctrine?

7. "Even things without life, which give sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction of sounds, how shall it be known, what is piped or harped?

8. "For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9. "So likewise ye, unless ye utter by the tongue plain speech, how shall it be known what is spoken? For ye shall be speaking into the air.

10. "There are (for example) so many kinds of tongues in this world: and none is without a voice.

11. "If then I know not the power of the voice, I shall be to him, to whom I speak, a barbarian, and he, who speaketh, a barbarian to me.

12. "So ye also, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spirits, seek to abound unto the edifying of the church.

13. "And therefore let him, who speaketh a tongue, pray, that he may interpret.

14. "For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is without fruit.

15. "What is it then? I will pray with the spirit; I will pray also with the understanding: I will sing with the spirit; I will sing also with the understanding.

16. "Else if thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he, who holdeth the place of the unlearned, say, 'Amen' to thy blessing? because he knoweth not what thou sayest.

17. "For thou indeed givest thanks well: but the other is not edified.

18. "I thank my God, I speak with all your tongues.

19. "But in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that I may instruct

+ Not to men, viz. So as to be heard, that is, so as to be understood by them.

† Of spirits. Of spiritual gifts.

¶ Amen. The unlearned, not knowing, that ye are then blessing, will not be qualified to join with you, by saying Amen to your blessing. The use or abuse of strange tongues, of which the apostle here speaks, does not regard the public liturgy of the church (in which strange tongues were never used) but certain conferences of the faithful, ver. 26, &c. in which, meeting together, they discovered to one another their various miraculous gifts of the Spirit, common in those primitive times; among which the apostle prefers that of prophesying before that of speaking strange tongues, because it was more to the public edification. Where also note, that the Latin, used in our liturgy, is so far from being a strange or unknown tongue, that it is perhaps the best known tongue in the world.

others also—than ten thousand words in a tongue.

20. "Brethren, do not become children in sense, but in malice be children, and in sense be perfect.

21. "In the law it is written: 'In other tongues and other lips I will speak to this people: and neither so will they hear me,' saith the Lord.

22. "Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to believers, but to unbelievers: but prophecies, not to unbelievers, but to believers.

23. "If therefore the whole church come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in unlearned persons or unbelievers—will not they say, that ye are mad?

24. "But if all prophesy, and there come in one, who believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all.

25. "The secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so, falling down on his face, he will adore God, affirming that God is among you indeed.

26. "How is it, then, brethren? When ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation; let all things be done unto edification.

27. "If any speak in a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and in course; and let one interpret.

28. "But if there be no interpreter, let him hold his peace in the church, and speak to himself and to God.

29. "And let the prophets speak, two or three: and let the rest judge.

30. "But if any thing be revealed to another sitting, let the first hold his peace.

31. "For ye may all prophesy one by one; that all may learn, and all may be exhorted:

32. "And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33. "For he is not the God of dissension, but of peace: as also I teach in all the churches of the saints.

34. "Let women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted to them to speak, but to be subject, as also the law saith.

35. "But if they would learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home. For it is a shame for a woman to speak in the church.

36. "Or did the word of God come out from you? Or came it only unto you?

37. "If any man seem to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him know the things, which I write to you, that they are the commands of the Lord.

38. "But if any man know not, he shall not be known.

39. "Wherefore, brethren, be zealous to prophesy: and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40. "But let all things be done decently, and according to order.

C H A P. XV.

Christ's resurrection and ours; the manner of our resurrection.

NOW I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel, which I preached to you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand.

1. "By which also ye are saved: if ye hold fast after what manner I preached to you, unless ye have believed in vain.

2. "For I delivered to you first of all, which I also received—how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures:

3. "And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures:

4. "And that he was seen by Cephas; and after that by the eleven.

5. "Then was he seen by more than five hundred brethren at once; of whom many remain until this present; and some are fallen asleep.

6. "After that, he was seen by James, then by all the apostles:

7. "And last of all, he was seen also by me, as by one born out of due time.

8. "For I am the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle; because I persecuted the church of God.

9. "But by the grace of God, I am what I am; and his grace in me hath not been void; but I have laboured more abundantly than all they—yet not I, but the grace of God with me:

10. "For whether I, or they; so we preach, and so ye have believed.

11. "Now if Christ be preached, that he arose again from the dead—how do some among you say, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

12. "But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then Christ has not risen again.

13. "And if Christ have not risen again, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

14. "Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God: because we have given testimony against God, that he hath raised up Christ; whom he hath not raised up, if the dead rise not again.

15. "For if the dead rise not again, neither has Christ risen again.

16. "And if Christ have not risen again, your faith is vain; for ye are yet in your sins.

17. "Therefore those also, who have slept in Christ, have perished.

18. "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

19. "But now Christ has risen from the dead, the first-fruits of those who sleep.

20. "For by a man came death: and by a man the resurrection of the dead.

21. "And as in Adam all die, so also in Christ all shall be made alive.

22. "But every one in his own order: the first-fruits Christ; then those who are of Christ, who have believed in his coming:

23. "Afterwards the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God and the Father, when he shall have brought to nought all principality, and power, and virtue.

24. "For he must reign, 'until he have put all enemies under his feet.'

25. "And the enemy, death, shall be destroyed last: 'for he hath put all things under his feet.' And where-as he saith,

27. "All things are put under him;" undoubtedly, he is excepted, who put all things under him.

28. "And when all things shall be subdued unto him; then the son also himself shall be subject to him, who put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29. "Otherwise what shall those do, who are baptized for the dead*, if the dead rise not again at all? why are they then baptized for them?

30. "Why also are we in danger every hour?

31. "I die daily, I protest by your glory, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord:

32. "If (according to man) I fought with beasts at Ephesus, what doth it profit me if the dead rise not again? 'Let us eat and drink: for to-morrow we shall die.'

33. "Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.

34. "Awake, ye just, and sin not. For some have not the knowledge of God; I speak it to your shame.

35. "But some man will say: 'How do the dead rise again? or with what manner of body shall they come?'

36. "Senseless man, that, which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die first.

37. "And that, which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be; but bare grain, as of wheat, or of some of the rest.

38. "But God giveth it a body as he will: and to every seed its proper body.

39. "All flesh is not the same flesh: but some is that of men, another of beasts, another of birds, another of fishes.

40. "And there are bodies celestial, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and that of the terrestrial another.

41. "There is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars. For star differeth from star in glory:

42. "So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it shall rise in incorruption.

43. "It is sown in dishonour; it shall rise in glory: it is sown in weakness; it shall rise in power:

44. "It is sown an animal body; it shall rise a spiritual body. If there be an animal body, there is also a spiritual body, as it is written:

45. "The first man Adam was made a living soul: the last Adam a quickening spirit.

46. "But not first that which is spiritual, but that which is animal: afterwards that which is spiritual.

47. "The first man was of the earth, earthly: the second man from heaven, heavenly.

48. "Such as is the earthly, such also are the earthly: and such as is the heavenly, such also are those who are heavenly.

49. "Therefore as we have borne the image of the earthly, let us bear also the image of the heavenly.

50. "Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot possess the kingdom of God: neither shall corruption possess incorruption.

51. "Behold, I tell you a mystery: we shall all indeed rise again: but we shall not all be changed.

52. "In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall rise again, incorruptible: and we shall be changed.

53. "For this corruptible must put on incorruption: and this mortal must put on immortality.

54. "And when this mortal hath put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying, which is written: 'Death is swallowed up in victory.'

55. "O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting?"

56. "Now the sting of death is sin: and the power of sin is the law.

57. "But thanks be to God, who hath given us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58. "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast and immovable; always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

Of collection of alms: admonitions and salutations.

"NOW concerning the collections, which are made for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, so do ye also.

2. "On the first day of the week, let every one of you put apart with himself, laying up what it shall well please him; that when I come, the gatherings be not then to be made.

3. "And when I shall be with you; whomsoever ye shall approve by letters, them will I send to carry your bounty to Jerusalem.

4. "And if it be meet, that I go also, they shall go with me.

5. "Now I will come to you, when I shall have passed through Macedonia: for I shall pass through Macedonia.

6. "And with you perhaps I shall make a stay, or even spend the winter; that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I shall go.

7. "For I will not see you now by the way, for I hope that I shall remain with you some time, if the Lord permit.

8. "But I will stay at Ephesus until pentecost.

9. "For a gate is opened to me, large and evident, and many adversaries.

10. "Now if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear; for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11. "Let no man therefore despise him; but conduct ye him on his way in peace; that he may come to me. For I look for him with the brethren.

12. "As to our brother Apollo, I let you know, that I earnestly intreated him to come to you with the brethren: and indeed it was not his will at all to come at this time. But he will come when he shall have leisure.

13. "Watch ye; stand fast in the faith; do manfully; and be strengthened.

* Baptized for the dead. Some think the apostle here alludes to a ceremony then in use; but others, more probably, to the prayers and penitential labours, performed by the primitive christians for the souls of the faithful departed; or to the baptism of afflictions and sufferings undergone for sinners spiritually dead.

14. "Let all your actions be done in charity.
 15. "And I beseech you, brethren, ye know the house of Stephanas, and of Fortunatus, and of Achaicus, that they are the first-fruits of Achaia, and have dedicated themselves to the ministry of the saints:
 16. "That ye also be subject to such, and to every one, who worketh with us, and laboureth.
 17. "And I rejoice in the presence of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus; for that, which was wanting on your part, they have supplied.
 18. "For they have refreshed both my spirit and yours. Know those therefore, who are such.

19. "The churches of Asia salute you. Aquilla and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church, which is in their house; with whom I also lodge.
 20. "All the brethren salute you. Salute one another with a holy kiss.
 21. "The salutation of me Paul, with my own hand.
 22. "If any man love not our Lord Jesus Christ, let him be anathema. Maranatha*.
 23. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.
 24. "My charity be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen."

The second Epistle of St. PAUL, to the CORINTHIANS.

C H A P. I.

He speaks of his troubles in Asia. His not coming to them was not out of levity. The constancy and sincerity of his doctrine.

"PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy our brother; to the church of God, which is at Corinth, with all the saints, who are in all Achaia:

2. "Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all consolation:

4. "Who comforteth us in all our tribulations; that we also may be able to comfort those, who are in any distress by the exhortation, wherewith we also are exhorted by God.

5. "For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us; so also by Christ doth our comfort abound.

6. "Now whether we be in tribulation, it is for your exhortation and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation; or whether we be exhorted, it is for your exhortation and salvation, which worketh the enduring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer:

7. "That our hope for you may be steadfast; knowing that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8. "For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, of our tribulation, which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure above our strength, so that we were weary even of life.

9. "But we had in ourselves the answer of death; that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God, who raiseth the dead;

10. "Who hath delivered, and doth deliver us out of so great dangers; in whom we hope, that he will yet also deliver us.

11. "Ye helping mutual in prayer for us: that for this gift obtained for us, by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many in our behalf.

12. "For our glory is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity of heart, and sincerity of God, and not in carnal wisdom, but in the grace of God, we have conversed in this world; and more abundantly towards you.

13. "For we write no other things to you, than what ye have read and known. And I hope that ye shall know unto the end:

14. "As also ye have known us in part, that we are your glory; as ye also are ours on the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15. "And in this confidence I had a mind to come to you before, that ye might have a second favour;

16. "And to pass by you into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and by you to be brought on my way towards Judea.

17. "When therefore I had a mind to do this, did I use levity? Or the things that I purpose, do I purpose, according to the flesh, that there should be with me, It is, and It is not.

18. "But God is faithful; for our preaching, which was to you, was not, It is, and It is not.

19. "For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, by me, and Silvanus, and Timothy, was not, It is, and It is not, but It is, was in him†.

20. "For all the promises of God are in him, It is: therefore also by him, amen to God, unto our glory.

21. "Now he, who confirmeth us with you in Christ, and he, who hath anointed us, is God:

22. "Who also hath sealed us, and given the pledge of the Spirit in our hearts.

23. "But I call God to witness upon my soul, that to spare you, I came not as yet to Corinth; not because we lord it over your faith: but we are helpers of your joy: for in faith ye stand.

* Maranatha. It is a Hebrew or Syriac word, and signifies, Our Lord cometh, or, Let our Lord come.

† It is, was in him. There was no inconsistency in the doctrine of the apostles, sometimes, like modern sectaries, saying, It is, and at other times saying, It is not. But their doctrine was ever the same, one uniform yea in Jesus Christ, one Amen, that is, one truth in him.

C H A P. II.

He grants a pardon to the incestuous man, upon his repentance.

BUT I determined this with myself, that I would not come to you again in sorrow.

2. "For if I make you sorrowful; who is he then, who should make me glad, but the same, who is made sorrowful by me?"

3. "And I wrote this same to you: that I may not, when I come, have sorrow upon sorrow, from those, of whom I ought to rejoice: having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4. "For out of much affliction, and anguish of heart, I wrote to you with many tears: not that ye should be made sorrowful, but that ye might know the charity I have more abundantly towards you.

5. "And if any one have caused grief, he hath not grieved me; but in part, that I may not charge you all.

6. "To him, who is such a one, this rebuke is sufficient, which is given by many:

7. "So that on the contrary, ye should rather forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one be swallowed up with over-much sorrow.

8. "Wherefore I beseech you, that ye would confirm your charity towards him.

9. "For to this end also did I write, that I may know the experiment of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10. "And to whom ye have forgiven any thing, I also*. For, what I forgave, if I have forgiven any thing, for your sakes have I done it, in the person of Christ.

11. "That we may not be circumvented by Satan: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12. "And when I had come to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and a door was opened to me in the Lord—

13. "I had no rest in my spirit; because I found not Titus my brother: but bidding them farewell, I went from thence to Macedonia.

14. "Now, thanks be to God, who always causeth us to triumph in Christ Jesus, and maketh manifest the odour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15. "For we are unto God the good odour of Christ in those, who are saved, and in those, who perish.

16. "To some indeed the odour of death † unto death: but to the others the odour of life unto life. And for these things who is so sufficient?

17. "For we are not as many, adulterating the word of God; but with sincerity, but as from God, in the light of God, we speak in Christ.

* I also. The apostle here granted an indulgence, or pardon, in the person and by the authority of Christ, to the incestuous Corinthian, whom before he had put under penance; which pardon consisted in a releasing of part of the temporal punishment due to his sin.

† The odour of death, &c. The preaching of the apostle, which by its fragrant odour brought many to life, was to others, through their own fault, the occasion of death; by their wilfully opposing and resisting that divine call.

C H A P. III.

He needs no commendatory letters. The glory of the ministry of the new testament.

DO we begin again to commend ourselves? Or do we need (as some do) epistles of commendation to you, or from you?

2. "Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, which is known and read by all men:

3. "Ye being made manifest, that ye are the epistle of Christ, ministered by us, and written not with ink, but with the spirit of the living God: not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

4. "And such confidence we have, through Christ towards God:

5. "Not that we are sufficient to think any thing of ourselves, as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is from God:

6. "Who also hath made us fit ministers of the new testament: not in the letter, but in the spirit; for the letter killeth: but the spirit giveth life.

7. "Now if the ministration of death, engraven with letters upon stones, was glorious; so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance, which is done away:

8. "How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather in glory?

9. "For if the ministration of condemnation be glory; much more this ministration of justice aboundeth in glory.

10. "For even that, which was glorious in this part, was not glorified, by reason of the glory which excelleth.

11. "For if that, which is done away, were glorious: much more that, which remaineth, is in glory.

12. "Having therefore such hope, we use much confidence:

13. "And not as Moses put a veil over his face, that the children of Israel might not steadfastly look on the face of that, which is made void.

14. "But their senses were made dull. For, until this day, the self-same veil in the reading of the old testament, remaineth not taken away (because in Christ it is done away.)

15. "But even until this day, when Moses is read, the veil is upon their heart.

16. "But when they shall be converted to the Lord, the veil shall be taken away.

17. "Now the Lord is a spirit: and where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18. "But we all beholding the glory of the Lord with face uncovered, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, as by the spirit of the Lord.

C H A P. IV.

The sincerity of his preaching; his comfort in his afflictions.

THEREFORE seeing we have this ministration, according as we have obtained mercy, we faint not:

2. "But we renounce: the hidden things of dishonesty.

† The letter. Not rightly understood, and taken without the spirit.

ty, not walking in craftiness, nor adulterating the word of God, but by manifestation of the truth, commending ourselves to every man's conscience, in the sight of God.

3. "And if our gospel be also hidden; it is hidden to those, who perish:

4. "In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of unbelievers, that the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should not shine unto them.

5. "For we preach not ourselves, but Jesus Christ our Lord; and ourselves your servants through Jesus.

6. "For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Christ Jesus.

7. "But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency may be of the power of God, and not of us.

8. "In all things we suffer tribulation; but are not distressed: we are straitened; but are not destitute:

9. "We suffer persecution; but are not forsaken; we are cast down; but we perish not:

10. "Always bearing about in our body the dying of Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in our bodies.

11. "For we, who live, are always delivered unto death for Jesus's sake; that the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12. "So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13. "But having the same spirit of faith, as it is written: 'I have believed, therefore I have spoken:' we also believe, and therefore we speak:

14. "Knowing that he, who raised up Jesus, will raise up us also with Jesus, and place us with you.

15. "For all things are for your sakes; that the grace abounding through many, may abound in thanksgiving to the glory of God.

16. "For which cause we faint not: but though our outward man is corrupted, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17. "For our present tribulation, which is momentary and light, worketh for us above measure exceedingly an eternal weight of glory.

18. "While we look not at the things, which are seen, but at the things, which are not seen. For the things, which are seen, are temporal: but the things, which are not seen, are eternal.

C H A P. V.

He is willing to leave his earthly mansion to be with the Lord. His clarity for the Corinthians.

"FOR we know, if our earthly house of this habitation be dissolved, that we have a building of God—a house not made with hands, eternal in heaven.

2. "For in this also we groan, desiring to be clothed over with our habitation, which is from heaven:

3. "Yet so, that we may be found clothed, not naked.

4. "For we also, who are in this tabernacle, do groan being burdened; because we would not be unclothed, but clothed over; that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life.

5. "Now he, who maketh us for this very thing, is God, who hath given us the pledge of the Spirit.

6. "Therefore having always confidence, knowing that, while we are in the body, we are absent from the Lord,

7. "(For we walk by faith and not by sight)

8. "We are confident, I say, and have a good will to be absent rather from the body, and to be present with the Lord*.

9. "And therefore we labour, whether absent or present, to please him.

10. "For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ, that every one may receive the proper things of the body†, according as he hath done; whether it be good or evil.

11. "Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we persuade men: but to God we are manifest. And I trust also, that in your consciences we are manifest.

12. "We commend not ourselves again to you, but give you occasion to glory in our behalf: that ye may have somewhat to answer those, who glory in face, and not in heart.

13. "For whether we be transported in mind, it is to God: or whether we be more moderate, it is for you.

14. "For the charity of Christ presseth us: judging this, that if one died for all, then all were dead.

15. "And Christ died for all: that those also, who live, may not now live to themselves, but to him who died for them, and rose again.

16. "Wherefore henceforth we know no man according to the flesh‡. And if we have known Christ according to the flesh; but now we know him so no longer.

17. "If then any be in Christ a new creature—old things are passed away: behold, all things are made new.

18. "But all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself, by Christ: and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation.

19. "For God indeed was in Christ, reconciling the world to himself, not imputing to them their sins; and he hath placed in us the word of reconciliation.

20. "We are therefore ambassadors for Christ, God as it were exhorting by us. For Christ we beseech you, be ye reconciled to God.

* Absent from the body, and present with the Lord. This demonstrates that the beatitude of the saints is not deferred till the general resurrection: but that in the mean time, and while they are absent from the body, they are present with the Lord.

† The proper things of the body. In the particular judgment, immediately after death, the soul is rewarded or punished according to what she has done in the body.

‡ We know no man according to the flesh. That is, we consider not any man with regard to his nation, family, kindred, or other natural qualities or advantages, but only with relation to Christ, and according to the order of divine charity, in God, and for God. The apostle adds, that even with respect to Christ himself; he now no longer considers him according to the flesh, by taking a satisfaction in his being his countryman; his affection being now purified from all such earthly considerations.

21. "Him, who knew no sin, he hath made sin for us", that we might be made the justice of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

He exhorts them to a correspondence with God's grace, and not to associate with unbelievers.

"AND we helping, do exhort you, that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2. "For he saith: 'In an accepted time, have I heard thee: and in the day of salvation, have I helped thee.' Behold, now is the acceptable time, behold, now is the day of salvation.

3. "Giving no offence to any one, that our ministry be not blamed:

4. "But in all things let us exhibit ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in tribulation, in necessities, in distresses—

5. "In stripes, in prisons, in seditions, in labours, in watchings, in fastings—

6. "In chastity, in knowledge, in long-suffering, in sweetness, in the Holy Ghost, in charity unfeigned—

7. "In the word of truth, in the power of God—by the armour of justice, on the right hand, and on the left—

8. "Through honour and dishonour, through infamy and good name—as seducers, and yet speaking truth—as unknown, and yet known—

9. "As dying, and behold, we live—as chastised, and not killed—

10. "As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing—as needy, yet enriching many—as having nothing, and possessing all things.

11. "Our mouth is open to you, O ye Corinthians; our heart is enlarged.

12. "Ye are not straitened in us: but in your own bowels ye are straitened.

13. "But having the same recompense (I speak as to my children) be ye also enlarged.

14. "Bear not the yoke together with unbelievers. For what participation hath justice with injustice? Or what fellowship hath light with darkness?

15. "And what concord hath Christ with Belial? Or what part hath the faithful with the unbeliever?

16. "And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? For ye are the temple of the living God: as God saith: 'I will dwell in them, and walk among them: and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17. "Wherefore, go out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing.

18. "And I will receive you: and I will be a Father to you: and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty."

CHAP. VII.

The apostle's affection for the Corinthians: his comfort and joy on their account.

"HAVING therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of the flesh and of the spirit, perfecting sanctification in the fear of God.

2. "Receive us. We have injured no one: we have corrupted no one: we have over-reached no one.

3. "I speak not this to your condemnation. For we have said before, that ye are in our hearts, to die together, and to live together.

4. "Great is my confidence with you: great is my glorying for you. I am filled with comfort: I exceedingly abound with joy in all our tribulation.

5. "For also when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest: but we suffered all tribulation—combats without, fears^{*} within.

6. "But God, who comforteth the humble, comforted us by the coming of Titus.

7. "And not by his coming only, but also by the consolation, wherewith he was comforted in you, relating to us your desire, your mourning, your zeal for me: so that I rejoiced the more.

8. "For although I made you sorrowful by my epistle, I do not repent: and if I did repent, seeing that the same epistle (although but for a time) did make you sorrowful:

9. "Now I am glad, not because ye were made sorrowful; but because ye were made sorrowful unto penance. For ye were made sorrowful according to God, that ye might suffer damage by us in nothing.

10. "For the sorrow, which is according to God, worketh penance unto salvation, which is lasting: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11. "For behold this self-same thing, that ye were made sorrowful according to God, how great carefulness doth it work in you: yea defence, yea indignation, yea fear, yea desire, yea zeal, yea revenge; in all things ye have shewed yourselves to be undefiled in the matter.

12. "Wherefore, though I wrote to you, not on the account of him, who did the injury, nor of him who suffered the wrong—but to manifest our solicitude, which we have for you,

13. "Before God: therefore we were comforted. But in our consolation we did the more abundantly rejoice for the joy of Titus; because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14. "And if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I have not been put to shame: but as we have spoken all things to you in truth, so also our boasting, which was made to Titus, is found a truth.

15. "And his bowels are more abundantly towards you; remembering the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16. "I rejoice that in all things, I have confidence in you.

CHAP. VIII.

He exhorts them to contribute bountifully to relieve the poor of Jerusalem.

"NOW we make known to you, brethren, the grace of God, which hath been given in the churches of Macedonia,

2. "That in much experience of tribulation, they have had abundance of joy; and their very deep poverty hath abounded unto the riches of their simplicity[†].

* Sin for us. That is, to be a sin-offering, a victim for sin.

† Simplicity. That is, sincere bounty and charity.

3. "For according to their power, I bear them witness—and beyond their power, they were willing,

4. "With much entreaty begging of us the grace and communication of the ministry, which is done toward the saints.

5. "And not as we hoped, but they gave their own-selves first to the Lord, then to us by the will of God :

6. "Inasmuch, that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so also he would finish in you this same grace :

7. "That as in all things ye abound in faith, and word, and knowledge, and all carefulness—moreover also in your charity toward us; so in this grace also ye may abound.

8. "I speak not as commanding : but by the carefulness of others, approving also the good disposition of your charity.

9. "For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that being rich, he became poor, for your sakes; that through his poverty ye might be rich.

10. "And in this I give counsel : for this is profitable for you, who have begun not only to do, but also to be willing a year ago.

11. "Now therefore perform ye it also indeed ; that, as your mind is forward to be willing, so it may be also to perform, out of that, which ye have.

12. "For if the will be forward, it is accepted according to that, which a man hath, not according to that, which he hath not.

13. "For I mean not, that others should be eased, and ye burdened—but by an equality.

14. "In this present time, let your abundance supply their want : that their abundance also may supply your want ; that there may be an equality ; as it is written :

15. "He, who had much, had nothing over : and he, who had little, had no want."

16. "And thanks be to God, who hath given the same carefulness for you in the heart of Titus.

17. "For indeed he accepted the exhortation : but being more careful, of his own will he went unto you.

18. "We have sent also with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel through all the churches :

19. "And not that only, but he was also ordained by the churches companion of our travels, for this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the Lord, and our determined will :

20. "Avoiding this, lest any man should blame us in this abundance, which is administered by us.

21. "For we foretold what may be good not only before God—but also before men.

22. "And we have sent with them our brother also, whom we have often proved diligent in many things—but now much more diligent, with much confidence in you.

23. "Either for Titus, who is my companion and fellow-labourer towards you, or our brethren, the apostles of the churches, the glory of Christ.

24. "Wherefore shew ye to them, in the sight of the churches, the evidence of your charity, and of our boasting on your behalf.

VOL. II.

C H A P. IX.

A further exhortation to almsgiving : the fruits of it.

"FOR, concerning the ministry, which is done towards the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you.

2. "For I know your ready mind ; for which I boast of you to the Macedonians. That Achaia also was ready a year ago, and your emulation hath provoked a great many.

3. "Now I have sent the brethren, that what we boast of concerning you, be not made void in this behalf, that, (as I have said) ye may be ready :

4. "Lest, when the Macedonians shall come with me, and find you unprepared, we (not to say ye) should be ashamed in this matter.

5. "Therefore I thought it necessary to desire the brethren, that they would go to you before, and prepare this blessing before promised, to be ready, so as a blessing, not as covetousness.

6. "Now this I say : he, who soweth sparingly, shall also reap sparingly : and he, who soweth in blessings, shall also reap of blessings.

7. "Every one as he hath determined in his heart, not with sadness, or of necessity : ' for God loveth a cheerful giver.'

8. "And God is able to make all grace abound in you ; that ye always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound in every good work.

9. "As it is written : ' He hath dispersed abroad : he hath given to the poor : his justice remaineth for ever.'

10. "Now he, who ministereth seed to the sower, will both give you bread to eat, and will multiply your seed, and increase the growth of the fruits of your justice :

11. "That being enriched in all things, ye may abound unto all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12. "For the administration of this service doth not only supply the want of the saints, but aboundeth also by many thanksgivings in the Lord.

13. "By the proof of this ministry, glorifying God in the obedience of your confession to the gospel of Christ, and for the liberality of your communicating to them, and to all.

14. "And in their praying for you, having an affection for you, because of the eminent grace of God in you.

15. "Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

C H A P. X.

To stop the mouths of the false apostles, he sets forth the power of his apostleship.

"NOW I Paul myself beseech you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in presence indeed am lowly among you, but being absent am bold toward you.

2. "But I beseech you, that I may not be bold, when I am present, with that confidence, wherewith I am thought to be bold against some, who think of us, as if we walked according to the flesh.

3. "For walking in the flesh, we do not according to the flesh.

5 P

4. "For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but powerful through God to the destruction of fortifications, subverting of counsels,

5. "And every height, that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every understanding, to the obedience of Christ,

6. "And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience shall be fulfilled:

7. "See the things, which are according to outward appearance. If any man trust to himself, that he is Christ's; let him think this again with himself, that as he is Christ's, so are we also.

8. "For if I also should boast somewhat more of our power, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction; I should not be ashamed.

9. "But that I may not be thought as it were to terrify you by epistles,

10. "(For his epistles indeed," say they, "are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible)"

11. "Let such a one think this, that such as we are in word by epistles, when absent; such are we also indeed, when present.

12. "For we dare not match or compare ourselves with some, who commend themselves: but we measure ourselves by ourselves, and compare ourselves with ourselves.

13. "But we will not glory beyond our measure: but according to the measure of the rule, which God hath measured to us, a measure to reach even to you.

14. "For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as if we reached not to you. For we are come as far as to you in the gospel of Christ.

15. "Not glorying beyond the measure, in other men's labours; but having hope of your increasing faith, to be magnified in you according to our rule abundantly,

16. "Yea, to those places that are beyond you, to preach the gospel, not to glory in another man's rule in those things, that are made ready to our hand.

17. "But he, who glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18. "For not he, who commendeth himself, is approved; but he, whom God commendeth.

C H A P. XI.

He is forced to commend himself and his labours, lest the Corinthians should be imposed upon by the false apostles.

WOULD to God ye could bear with some little of my folly: but do bear with me.

2. "For I am jealous of you with the jealousy of God. For I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3. "But I fear, lest, as the serpent seduced Eve by his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted, and fall from the simplicity, which is in Christ.

4. "For if he, who cometh, preacheth another Christ, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another Spirit, whom ye have not received—

* My folly. So he is his reviling his own praises, which, commonly speaking, is looked upon as a piece of folly and vanity; though the apostle was constrained to do it, for the good of the church committed to his charge.

or another gospel, which ye have not received; ye might well bear with him.

5. "For I suppose, that I have done nothing less than the great apostles.

6. "For though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge; but in all things we have been made manifest to you.

7. "Or did I commit a fault, abasing myself, that ye might be exalted? Because I have preached to you the gospel of God gratis?

8. "I have taken from other churches, receiving wages of them to serve you.

9. "And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was burdensome to no man: for that, which was wanting to me, the brethren supplied, who came from Macedonia: and in all things I have kept myself without being a burden to you; and so I will keep myself.

10. "The truth of Christ is in me, that this glory shall not be kept in me in the regions of Achaia.

11. "Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth it.

12. "But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off the occasion from those, who desire occasion, that in what they glory, they may be found even as we.

13. "For such false apostles are deceitful labourers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ:

14. "And no wonder: for satan himself transformeth himself into an angel of light.

15. "Therefore it is no great thing, if his ministers be transformed as the ministers of justice; whose end shall be according to their works.

16. "I say again, (let no man think me to be foolish; otherwise take me as one foolish, that I also may glory a little).

17. "That which I speak, I speak not according to God, but as it were in foolishness, in this matter of glorying.

18. "Seeing that many glory according to the flesh, I will glory also.

19. "For ye gladly suffer the foolish; whereas yourselves are wise.

20. "For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage—if a man devour you—if a man take from you—if a man be lifted up—if a man strike you on the face.

21. "I speak according to dishonour, as if we had been weak in this part. Wherein if any man be bold (I speak foolishly) I am bold also.

22. "They are Hebrews: so am I. They are Israelites: so am I. They are the seed of Abraham: so am I.

23. "They are the ministers of Christ: (I speak as one less wise) I am more: in many more labours, in prisons more frequently, in stripes above measure, in death often.

24. "Of the Jews five times did I receive forty stripes, save one.

25. "Thrice was I beaten with rods: once I was stoned: thrice I suffered shipwreck: a night and a day I was in the depth of the sea—

26. "In journeys often, in perils of rivers, in perils of cities, in perils from my own nation, in perils from to Gentiles, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils from false brethren—

27. "In labour and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in many fastings, in cold and nakedness.

28. "Besides those things, which are without : my daily instance*, the solicitude for all the churches.

29. "Who is weak, and I am not weak ? Who is scandalized, and I am not on fire ?

30. "If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things, which concern my infirmity.

31. "The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is blessed for ever, knoweth that I lie not.

32. "At Damascus the governor of the nation under Aretas the king, guarded the city of the Damascenes, to apprehend me :

33. "And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and so escaped his hands.

C H A P. XII.

His raptures and revelations. His being buffeted by satan.

His fear for the Corinthians.

"I F I must glory (it is not expedient indeed :) but I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

2. "I know a man in Christ above fourteen years ago (whether in the body I know not, or out of the body I know not, God knoweth) such a one caught up to the third heaven.

3. "And I know such a man, whether in the body, or out of the body, I know not, God knoweth.

4. "How he was caught up into paradise ; and heard secret words, which it is not granted to man to utter.

5. "Of such a one I will glory : but for myself I will glory nothing, but in my infirmities.

6. "For even if I would glory, I should not be foolish : for I shall say the truth. But I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that, which he seeth in me, or any thing he heareth from me.

7. "And lest the greatness of the revelations should puff me up, there was given me a sting of my flesh, an angel of satan to buffet me.

8. "For which thing I thrice besought the Lord, that it might depart from me :

9. "And he said to me : ' My grace is sufficient for thee : for power is made perfect in infirmity†.' Gladly therefore will I glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may dwell in me.

10. "Therefore I take pleasure in my infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake. For when I am weak, then I am powerful.

11. "I have become foolish ; ye have compelled me to it. For I ought to have been commended by you : for in nothing have I been inferior to those, who are above measure apostles : although I am nothing.

12. "Yet the signs of my apostleship have been

* My daily instance. The labours, that come in, and press upon me every day.

† Power is made perfect in infirmity. The strength and power of God more perfectly shine forth in our weakness and infirmity ; because the more weak we are of ourselves, the more illustrious is his grace in supporting us, and giving us the victory under all trials and conflicts.

wrought on you, in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13. "For what is there, that ye have had less than the other churches—but that I myself was not burdensome to you ? Pardon me this injury.

14. "Behold, now the third time I am ready to come to you : and I will not be burdensome to you. For I seek not the things, which are yours, but you. For neither ought the children to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15. "And I most gladly will spend, and be spent myself for your souls : although, loving you more, I be loved less.

16. "But be it so : I did not burden you : but being crafty, I caught you by guile.

17. "Did I circumvent you, by any of those, whom I sent to you ?

18. "I desired Titus, and I sent with him a brother. Did Titus circumvent you ? did we not walk with the same spirit ? did we not in the same steps ?

19. "Of old, think ye that we excuse ourselves to you ? We speak before God in Christ : but all things, my dearly beloved, for your edification.

20. "For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would ; and that I shall be found by you such as ye would not. Lest perhaps contentions, envyings, animosities, dissensions, detractions, whisperings, swellings, seditions, be among you :

21. "Lest again, when I come, God humble me among you : and I bewail many of those, who have sinned before, and have not done penance for the uncleanness, and fornication, and lasciviousness, which they have committed.

C H A P. XIII.

He threatens the impenitent, to provoke them to penance.

BEHOLD, this is the third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2. "I have told you before, and foretel, as present, and now absent, to those, who sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again, I will not spare.

3. "Do ye seek a proof of Christ, who speaketh in me, who towards you is not weak, but is mighty in you ?

4. "For though he was crucified through weakness ; yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him : but we shall live with him by the power of God towards you.

5. "Try your ownelves, if ye be in the faith : prove ye yourselves. Know ye not your ownelves, that Christ Jesus is in you, unless perhaps ye be reprobates ?

6. "But I trust that ye shall know, that we are not reprobates.

7. "Now we pray God, that ye may do no evil, not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is good, and that we may be as reprobates†.

8. "For we can do nothing, against the truth ; but for the truth.

† Reprobates : that is, without proof, by having no occasion of shewing our power in punishing you.

9. "For we rejoice, that we are weak, and ye are strong. This also we pray for, your perfection.

10. "Therefore I write these things being absent, that, being present, I may not deal more severely, according to the power, which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11. "For the rest, brethren, rejoice; be perfect; take exhortation; be of one mind; have peace; and the God of peace and of love will be with you.

12. "Salute one another with a holy kiss. All the saints salute you.

13. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the charity of God, and the communication of the Holy Ghost be with you all. Amen."

The EPISTLE of St. PAUL to the GALATIANS.

CHAP. I.

He blames the Galatians for suffering themselves to be imposed upon by new teachers. The apostle's calling.

"PAUL an apostle, not from men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead,

2. "And all the brethren, who are with me, to the churches of Galatia.

3. "Grace be to you, and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4. "Who gave himself for our sins; that he might deliver us from this present wicked world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5. "To whom is glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6. "I wonder, that ye are so soon removed, from him, who called you to the grace of Christ, to another gospel:

7. "Which is not another; only there are some, who trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8. "But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach a gospel to you, besides that, which we have preached to you, let him be anathema.

9. "As we said before, so I say now again: if any one preach to you a gospel, besides that, which ye have received, let him be anathema.

10. "For do I now persuade men, or God? Or do I seek to please men? If I did yet please men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11. "For I give you to understand, brethren, that the gospel, which was preached by me, is not according to man.

12. "For neither did I receive it from man, nor did I learn it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13. "For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion: how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and laid it waste:

14. "And I made progress in the Jews' religion, above many of my equals in my own nation, being more abundantly zealous for the traditions of my fathers.

15. "But when it pleased him, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16. "To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the Gentiles; immediately I condescended not to flesh and blood:

17. "Neither went I to Jerusalem to the apostles, who were before me: but I went into Arabia: and again I returned to Damascus:

18. "Then three years after, I came to Jerusalem to see Peter, and staid with him fifteen days:

19. "But other of the apostles I saw none; except James the brother of the Lord.

20. "Now the things, which I write to you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21. "Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia.

22. "And I was unknown by face to the churches of Judea, which were in Christ:

23. "But they had heard only: 'He, who persecuted us in times past, doth now preach the faith, which once he impugned.'

24. "And they glorified God in me.

CHAP. II.

The apostle's preaching was approved of by the other apostles. The Gentiles were not to be constrained to the observation of the law.

"THEN fourteen years after, I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with me.

2. "And I went up according to revelation; and communicated to them the gospel, which I preach among the Gentiles, but apart to those, who seemed to be something: lest perhaps I should run, or had run in vain.

3. "But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Gentile, was compelled to be circumcised:

4. "But because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privately to spy our liberty, which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5. "To whom we yielded not by subjection, no not for an hour, that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6. "But of those, who seemed to be something, (what they were some time, it is nothing to me, God accepteth not the person of man) for to me, those, who seemed to be something, added nothing.

7. "But on the contrary, when they had seen, that to me was committed the gospel of the uncircumcision,* as to Peter was that of the circumcision:

8. "(For he, who wrought in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, wrought in me also among the Gentiles)

9. "And when they had known the grace, which

* The gospel of the uncircumcision. The preaching of the gospel to the uncircumcised, that is, to the Gentiles. St. Paul was called in an extraordinary manner to be the apostle of the Gentiles: St. Peter, besides his general commission over the whole flock (John xxi. 15, &c.) had a peculiar charge of the people of the circumcision, that is, of the Jews.

was given to me, James, and Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go to the Gentiles, and they to the circumcision:

10. "Only that we should be mindful of the poor; which same thing also I was careful to do.

11. "But when Cephas had come to Antioch, I withstood* him to the face; because he was to be blamed.

12. "For before that some came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they had come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing those who were of the circumcision.

13. "And to his dissimulation the rest of the Jews consented; so that Barnabas also was led by them into that dissimulation.

14. "But when I saw, that they walked not uprightly unto the truth of the gospel, I said to Cephas, before them all: 'If thou, being a Jew, live after the manner of the Gentiles, and not of the Jews, how dost thou compel the Gentiles to follow the way of Jews?

15. "We by nature are Jews, and not of the Gentiles sinners."

16. "But knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ; we also believe in Christ Jesus, that we may be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law; because by the works of the law no flesh shall be justified.

17. "But if while we seek to be justified in Christ, we ourselves are also found sinners; is Christ then the minister of sin? God forbid.

18. "For if I build up again the things, which I have destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19. "For I, through the law, am dead to the law, that I may live to God: with Christ I am nailed to the cross.

20. "And I live, now not I; but Christ liveth in me. And that I live now in the flesh: I live in the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and delivered himself for me.

21. "I call not away the grace of God. For if justice be by the law, then Christ died in vain.

C H A P. III.

The spirit, and the blessing promised to Abraham, cometh not by the law, but by faith.

"O Senseless Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been set forth, crucified among you?

2. "This only would I learn of you: did you receive the spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

* I withstood, &c. The fault which is here noticed in the conduct of St. Peter, was only a certain imprudence, in withdrawing himself from the table of the Gentiles, for fear of giving offence to the Jewish converts; but this in such circumstances, when his so doing might be of ill consequence to the Gentiles; who might be induced thereby to think themselves obliged to conform to the Jewish way of living, to the prejudice of their christian liberty. Neither was St. Paul's reprehending him any argument against his supremacy; for in such cases an inferior may, and sometimes ought, with respect, to admonish his superior.

VOL. II.

3. "Are ye so foolish, that, whereas ye began in the spirit, ye would now be made perfect by the flesh?

4. "Have ye suffered so great things in vain? If yet in vain?

5. "He therefore, who giveth to you the spirit, and worketh miracles among you; doth he do it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of the faith?

6. "As it is written: 'Abraham believed God, and it was reputed to him unto justice.'

7. "Know ye, therefore, that those who are of faith, are the children of Abraham.

8. "And the scripture, foreseeing that God justifieth the Gentiles by faith, told Abraham before: 'In thee shall all nations be blessed.'

9. "Therefore those, who are of the faith, shall be blessed with faithful Abraham.

10. "For as many as are of the works of the law, are under a curse. For it is written: 'Curst is every one, who continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law, to do them.'

11. "But that by the law no man is justified with God, it is manifest; because the just man liveth by faith.

12. "But the law is not of faith: but he, that doth those things, shall live in them.

13. "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written: 'Curst is every one, who hangeth on a tree:'

14. "That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Jesus: that we may receive the promise of the spirit by faith.

15. "Brethren (I speak after the manner of man) yet a man's testament, if it be confirmed, no man despiseth, nor addeth to it.

16. "To Abraham were the promises made, and to his seed. He saith not: 'And to his seeds,' as of many: but as of one: 'And to thy seed,' who is Christ.

17. "Now this I say, that the testament, which was confirmed by God, the law, which was made after four hundred and thirty years, doth not disannul, to make the promise of no effect.

18. "For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise. But God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19. "Why then was the law? It was set because of transgressions^{||}, till the seed should come, to whom he made the promise, being ordained by angels[†] in the hand of a mediator.

20. "Now a mediator is not of one: but God is one.

21. "Was the law then against the promises of God? God forbid. For if there had been a law given, which could give life, verily justice should have been by the law.

22. "But the scripture hath concluded all under sin[‡], that the promise, by the faith of Jesus Christ, might be given to those who believe.

^{||} Because of transgressions. To restrain them from sin, by fear and threats.

[†] Ordained by angels. The law was delivered by angels, speaking in the name and person of God, to Moses, who was the mediator, on this occasion between God and the people.

[‡] Hath concluded all under sin, i. e. Hath declared all to be under sin, from which they could not be delivered, but by faith in Jesus Christ and his seed.

23. "But before that faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto that faith, which was to be revealed.

24. "Wherefore the law was our pedagogue^{||} in Christ; that we might be justified by faith.

25. "But after that faith has come, we are no longer under a pedagogue.

26. "For ye are all the children of God by faith, in Christ Jesus.

27. "For as many of you as have been baptized in Christ, have put on Christ.

28. "There is neither Jew nor Greek; there is neither bond nor free; there is neither male nor female. For ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29. "And ye be Christ's, then ye are the seed of Abraham, heirs according to the promise.

CHAP. IV.

Christ has freed us from the servitude of the law: we are the free-born sons of Abraham.

NOW I say: as long as the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all:

1. "But is under tutors and governors, until the time appointed by the father.

2. "Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements* of the world.

3. "But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent his Son, made of a woman, made under the law:

4. "That he might redeem those, who were under the law; that we might receive the adoption of sons.

5. "And because ye are sons, God hath sent the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying: 'Abba, Father.'

6. "Wherefore now he is no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, an heir also through God.

7. "But then indeed, not knowing God, ye served those, who by nature are no gods.

8. "But now, after ye have known God, or rather are known by God; how turn ye again to the weak and poor elements, to which ye desire to be in bondage again?

9. "Ye observe days†, and months, and times, and years.

10. "I am afraid of you, lest perhaps I have laboured in vain among you.

11. "Be ye as I, for I also am as you: brethren, I beseech you; ye have not injured me at all.

12. "And ye know how, through infirmity of the flesh, I preached the gospel to you heretofore: and your temptation in my flesh.

^{||} Pedagogue, i. e. Schoolmaster, conductor, or instructor.

^{*} Neither Jews, &c. That is, no distinction of Jew, &c.

^{*} In bondage under the elements, &c. that is, under the first rudiments of religion, in which the carnal Jews were trained up; or under those corporeal creatures, used in their manifold rites, sacrifices, and sacraments.

[†] Ye observe days, &c. He sp. not of the observation of the Lord's day, or other christian festivals; but either of the superstitious observation of days, lucky and unlucky; or else of the Jewish festivals, to the observance of which certain Jewish teachers sought to induce the Galatians.

14. "Ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

15. "Where is then your blessedness? For I bear you witness, that, if it could be done, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and would have given them to me.

16. "Am I then become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17. "They are zealous in your regard not well; but they would exclude you, that ye might be zealous for them.

18. "But be zealous for that which is good; in a good thing always; and not only when I am present with you.

19. "My little children, of whom I am in labour again, until Christ be formed in you.

20. "And I would willingly be present with you now, and change my voice; because I am ashamed for you.

21. "Tell me, ye, who desire to be under the law, have ye not read the law?

22. "For it is written, that Abraham had two sons—the one by a bond-woman, and the other by a free-woman.

23. "But he, who was by the bond-woman, was born according to the flesh; but he, by the free-woman, was by promise.

24. "Which things are said by an allegory. For there are the two testaments. The one indeed on Mount Sinai, which bringeth forth unto bondage, which is Agar.

25. "For Sinai is a mountain in Arabia, which hath an affinity with that, which now is Jerusalem, and is in bondage with her children.

26. "But that Jerusalem, which is above, is free; which is our mother.

27. "For it is written: 'Rejoice, thou barren, who bearest not: break forth and cry, thou, who travailest not: for many are the children of the desolate, more than of her, who hath a husband.'

28. "Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of the promise.

29. "But as then, he, who was born according to the flesh, persecuted him, who was according to the spirit: so also now.

30. "But what saith the scripture? 'Cast out the bond-woman and her son: for the son of the bond-woman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.'

31. "So then, brethren, we are not the children of the bond-woman, but of the free: by the freedom, wherewith Christ hath made us free.

CHAP. V.

He exhorts them to stand to their christian liberty. Of the fruits of the flesh and of the spirit.

STAND firm, and be not held again under the yoke of bondage.

1. "Behold, I Paul tell you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ will profit you nothing.

2. "And I testify again to every man, who circumciseth himself, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

3. "Christ is become of no effect to you, whosoever of you are justified by the law: ye are fallen from grace.

5. "For we in spirit, by faith, wait for the hope of justice.

6. "For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision avail-eth any thing, nor uncircumcision: but faith, which worketh by charity.

7. "Ye did run well; who hath hindered you, that ye should not obey the gospel?"

8. "This persuasion is not from him, who calleth you.

9. "A little leaven corrupteth the whole mass.

10. "I have confidence in you in the Lord; that ye will not be of another mind: but he, who troubleth you, shall bear the judgment, whosoever he be.

11. "And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? The scandal of the cross is therefore made void.

12. "I would they were even I, who trouble you.

13. "For ye, brethren, have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty, for an occasion to the flesh, but by charity of the Spirit serve one another.

14. "For all the law is fulfilled in one sentence: 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.'

15. "But if ye bite and eat one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one by another.

16. "I say then: walk in the spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lusts of the flesh.

17. "For the flesh lusteth against the spirit; and the spirit against the flesh: for these are contrary one to another: so that ye do not the things that ye would.

18. "But if ye be led by the spirit, ye are not under the law.

19. "Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are, fornication, uncleanness, immodesty, luxury,

20. "Idolatry, witchcraft, enmities, contentions, emulations, wrath, quarrels, dissensions, sects,

21. "Envy, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like. Of the which I foretel you, as I have foretold to you, that those who do such things, shall not obtain the kingdom of God.

22. "But the fruit of the Spirit is charity, joy, peace, patience, benignity, goodness, longanimity,

23. "Modesty, faith, modesty, continency, chastity. Against such there is no law.

24. "And those, who are Christ's, have crucified these things, with the vices and concupiscences.

25. "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26. "Let us not become desirous of vain-glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

C H A P. VI.

He exhorts to charity, humility, &c. He glories in nothing but in the cross of Christ.

"BRETHREN, and if a man be overtaken in any fault, ye, who are spiritual, instruct such a one in the spirit of mildness, considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2. "Bear ye one another's burdens: and so shall ye fulfil the law of Christ.

3. "For if any man think himself to be something, whereas he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4. "But let every one prove his own work; and so he shall have glory in himself only, and not in another.

5. "For every one shall bear his own burden.

6. "And let him, who is instructed in the word, communicate to him, who instructeth him, in all good things.

7. "Be not deceived; God is not mocked.

8. "For what things a man shall sow, those also shall he reap. For he, who soweth in his flesh, of the flesh also shall reap corruption. But he, who soweth in the spirit, of the spirit shall reap life everlasting.

9. "And in doing good, let us not fail. For in due time we shall reap, not failing.

10. "Therefore while we have time, let us do good to all men, but especially to those, who are of the household of the faith.

11. "See what a letter I have written to you with my own hand.

12. "For as many as desire to please in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised, only that they may not suffer the persecution of the cross of Christ.

13. "For neither they themselves, who are circumcised, keep the law: but they will have you to be circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14. "But God forbid, that I should glory, but in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ; by whom the world is crucified to me, and I to the world.

15. "For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision avail-eth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature,

16. "And whosoever shall follow this rule, peace be upon them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

17. "From henceforth let no man be troublesome to me: for I bear the marks of the Lord Jesus in my body.

18. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brethren. Amen."

The EPISTLE of St. PAUL, to the EPHESIANS.

C H A P. I.

The great blessings we have received through Christ. He is the head of all the church.

"PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to all the saints, who are at Ephesus; and to the faithful in Christ Jesus.

2. "Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places,* in Christ:

* In heavenly places; or in heavenly things. In celestial things.

4. "As he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and unspotted in his sight in charity.

5. "Who hath predestinated us unto the adoption of children through Jesus Christ unto himself; according to the purpose of his will,

6. "To the praise of the glory of his grace, by which he made us acceptable, through his beloved Son :

7. "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the remission of sins, according to the riches of his grace,

8. "Which hath superabounded in us in all wisdom and prudence :

9. "That he might make known to us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he hath purposed in him,

10. "In the dispensation of the fulness of times, to establish all things in Christ, which are in heaven and on earth, in him :

11. "In whom we also are called by lot, being predestinated according to the purpose of him, who worketh all things according to the counsel of his will :

12. "That we may be to the praise of his glory, who before hoped in Christ :

13. "In whom ye also, when ye had heard the word of truth (the gospel of your salvation) in whom also believing, ye were sealed with the holy Spirit of promise,

14. "Who is the pledge of our inheritance, for the redemption of acquisition†, unto the praise of his glory,

15. "Wherefore I also hearing of your faith, which is in the Lord Jesus, and of your love towards all the saints,

16. "Cease not to give thanks for you, making commemoration of you in my prayers :

17. "That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to you the spirit of wisdom and of revelation, in the knowledge of him :

18. "The eyes of your heart enlightened, that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what are the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints :

19. "And what is the exceeding greatness of his power towards us, who believe according to the operation of the might of his power :

20. "Which he wrought in Christ, raising him up from the dead, and setting him at his own right hand in the heavenly places :

21. "Above all principality, and power, and virtue, and dominion, and every name, that is named, not only in this world, but also in that, which is to come.

22. "And he hath put all things under his feet : and hath made him head over all the church,

23. "Which is his body, and the fulness of him, who is filled all in all.

C H A P. II.

All our good comes through Christ. He is our peace.
AND ye, when ye were dead in your offences and sins,

2. "Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of this air, of the spirit, which now worketh on the children of unbelief,

3. "Among whom also we all conversed in time past, in the desires of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh and of our thoughts, and were by nature the children of wrath, even as the rest :

4. "But God, who is rich in mercy, through his exceeding charity, with which he loved us,

5. "Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together in Christ (by whose grace ye are saved)

6. "And hath raised us up together, and hath made us sit together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus :

7. "That he might shew in the ages to come the abundant riches of his grace, in his bounty towards us in Christ Jesus.

8. "For by grace ye are saved through faith, and this not of yourselves : for it is the gift of God—

9. "Not of works* ; that no man may glory.

10. "For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus in good works ; which God hath prepared, that we should walk in them.

11. "For which cause be mindful, that ye being heretofore Gentiles in the flesh, who are called uncircumcision by that, which is called the circumcision in the flesh, made by hands :

12. "That ye were at that time without Christ, alienated from the conversation of Israel, and strangers to the covenants, having no hope of the promise, and without God in this world.

13. "But now in Christ Jesus, ye, who some time were afar off, are made near by the blood of Christ.

14. "For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and breaking down the middle wall of partition, the enmities in his flesh :

15. "Abolishing the law of commandments in decrees : that he might make the two in himself into one new man, establishing peace ;

16. "And might reconcile both to God in one body by the cross, destroying the enmities by himself.

17. "And coming he preached peace to you, who were afar off, and peace to those, who were near at hand

18. "For through him we have both access in one spirit to the Father.

19. "Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners : but ye are fellow-citizens with the saints, and the domestics of God,

20. "Built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief cornerstone :

21. "In whom all the building framed together, groweth into a holy temple in the Lord :

22. "In whom ye also are built together into a habitation of God in the spirit.

C H A P. III.

The mystery, hidden from former ages, was discovered to the apostle, to be imparted to the Gentiles. He prays, that they may be strengthened in God.

* Not of works, as of our own growth or from ourselves : but as from the grace of God.

† Acquisition, i. e. a purchased possession.

" FOR this cause, I Paul the prisoner of Jesus Christ, for you Gentiles,

2. " If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is given me towards you :

3. " How that, according to revelation, the mystery hath been made known to me, as I have written above in few words :

4. " As ye reading may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ ;

5. " Which in other generations was not made known to the sons of men, as it is now revealed to his holy apostles, and prophets in the Spirit :

6. " That the Gentiles should be coheirs, and of the same body, and joint-partakers of his promise in Christ Jesus by the gospel :

7. " Of which I am made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God, which is given to me according to the operation of his power.

8. " To me, the least of all the saints, is given this grace, to preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

9. " And to enlighten all men, that they may see what is the dispensation of the mystery, which hath been hidden from eternity in God, who created all things :

10. " That the manifold wisdom of God may be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places through the church,

11. " According to the eternal decree, which he made in Christ Jesus our Lord :

12. " In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

13. " Wherefore I beseech you not to be disheartened at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14. " For this cause I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15. " Of whom all paternity* in heaven and earth is named,

16. " That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with power by his spirit unto the inward man ;

17. " That Christ may dwell by faith in your hearts : that being rooted and founded in charity,

18. " Ye may be able to comprehend, with all the saints, what is the breadth, and length, and height, and depth :

19. " To know also the charity of Christ, which surpasseth knowledge, that ye may be filled unto all the fulness of God.

20. " Now to him, who is able to do all things more abundantly, than we ask or understand, according to the power, which worketh in us :

21. " To him be glory in the church, and in Christ Jesus, throughout all generations, world without end. Amen.

C H A P. IV.

He exhorts them to unity ; to put on the new man ; and to fly sin.

* All paternity. Or, the whole family. patris. God is the great Father both of angels and men ; whosoever besides is named father, is so named with subordination to him.

" I Therefore, a prisoner in the Lord, beseech you, that ye walk worthy of the vocation, in which ye are called.

2. " With all humility, and mildness, with patience, supporting one another in charity.

3. " Careful to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4. " One body, and one Spirit ; as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.

5. " One Lord, one faith, one baptism—

6. " One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in us all.

7. " But to every one of us is given grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8. " Wherefore he saith : ' Ascending on high, he led captivity captive : he gave gifts to men.' "

9. " Now that he ascended, what is it, but because he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth ?

10. " He, who descended, is the same also, who ascended above all the heavens, that he might fulfil all things.

11. " And some indeed he gave to be apostles†, and some prophets, and others evangelists, and others pastors and teachers,

12. " For the perfection of the saints, for the work of the ministry, unto the edification of the body of Christ :

13. " Till we all meet† in the unity of faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the age of the fulness of Christ :

14. " That we may not now be children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the wickedness of men, by cunning craftiness, by which they lie in wait to deceive.

15. " But performing the truth in charity, we may in all things grow up in him, who is the head, Christ :

16. " From whom the whole body, compacted and fitly joined together, by what every joint supplieth, according to the operation in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, unto the edifying of itself in charity.

17. " This then I say and testify in the Lord ; that henceforward ye walk not as also the Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind :

18. " Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance, which is in them, because of the blindness of their hearts ;

19. " Who despairing, have given themselves up to lasciviousness, to the working of all uncleanness, unto covetousness.

20. " But ye have not so learned Christ :

21. " If yet ye have heard him, and have been taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus,

22. " To put off, according to the former conversation, the old man, who is corrupted according to the desires of error.

23. " And be ye renewed in the spirit of your mind :

† Some indeed he gave to be apostles—Till we all meet, &c. Note here, that Christ has left in his church a perpetual succession of orthodox pastors and teachers, to preserve the faithful in unity and truth.

24. "And put on the new man, who, according to God, is created in justice, and holiness of truth.
25. "Wherefore putting away lying, speak ye the truth every man with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.
26. "Be angry, and sit not. Let not the sun go down upon your anger.
27. "Give not place to the devil.
28. "Let him, who stole, steal now no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands that, which is good, that he may have to give to him, who is in need.
29. "Let no evil speech proceed from your mouth: but that, which is good to the edification of faith, that it may afford grace to the hearers.
30. "And grieve not the holy Spirit of God; whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.
31. "Let all bitterness, and anger, and indignation, and clamour, and blasphemy be taken away from you, with all malice.
32. "And be ye kind one to another, merciful, forgiving one another—even as God hath forgiven you in Christ.

CHAP. V.

Exhortations to a virtuous life. The mutual duties of man and wife, by the example of Christ, and of the church.

- "BE ye therefore followers of God, as most dear children:
2. "And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath delivered himself for us, an oblation and a sacrifice to God, for an odour of sweetness.
3. "But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not so much as be named among you, as it becometh saints:
4. "Nor obscenity, nor foolish talking, nor scurrility, which is to no purpose; but rather giving of thanks.
5. "For know ye this, and understand, that no fornicator, nor unclean, nor covetous person, which is a serving of idols, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God.
6. "Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the anger of God upon the children of unbelief.
7. "Be ye not therefore partakers with them.
8. "For ye were heretofore darkness, but now light in the Lord. Walk ye as children of the light:
9. "For the fruit of the light is in all goodness, and justice, and truth:
10. "Proving what is acceptable to God:
11. "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness; but rather reprove them.
12. "For the things, that are done by them in private, it is shameful even to speak of.
13. "But all things, which are reprov'd, are made manifest by the light: for all, that is made manifest, is light.
14. "Wherefore he saith: 'Rise, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead; and Christ shall enlighten thee.'
15. "See therefore, brethren, how ye walk circumspectly; not as wise,

16. "But as wise; redeeming the time; for the days are evil.
17. "Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what is the will of God.
18. "And be not drunk with wine, wherein is uncleanness; but be ye filled with the holy Spirit;
19. "Speaking to yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual canticles, singing, and making melody in your hearts to the Lord:
20. "Giving thanks always for all things, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God and the Father.
21. "Being subject one to another in the fear of Christ.
22. "Let women be subject to their husbands, as to the Lord:
23. "For the husband is the head of the wife; as Christ is the head of the church. He is the saviour of his body.
24. "Therefore as the church is subject to Christ; so also let the wives be to their husbands in all things.
25. "Husbands, love your wives, as Christ also loved the Church, and delivered himself up for it;
26. "That he might sanctify it, cleansing it by the laver of water in the word of life;
27. "That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, nor wrinkle, nor any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.
28. "So also ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He, who loveth his wife, loveth himself.
29. "For no man ever hated his own flesh: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, as also Christ doth the church:
30. "For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
31. "For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother; and shall adhere to his wife: and they shall be two in one flesh.
32. "This is a great sacrament: but I speak in Christ and in the church.
33. "Nevertheless let every one of you in particular love his wife as himself: and let the wife reverence her husband.

CHAP. VI.

Duties of children and servants. The Christian's armour.

- "CHILDREN, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is just.
2. "Honour thy father and thy mother; which is the first commandment with a promise:
3. "That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest be longlived upon earth."
4. "And ye fathers, provoke not your children to anger: but bring them up in the discipline and correction of the Lord.
5. "Servants obey your carnal masters, with fear and trembling, in the simplicity of your heart, as to Christ:
6. "Not serving to the eye, as it were pleasing

* As the church is subject to Christ. The church then, according to St. Paul, is ever obedient to Christ; and can never fall from him, or turn an adulteress.

men : but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart,

7. " With a good will, doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men :

8. " Knowing, that whatsoever good every one shall do, the same shall he receive from the Lord, whether he be bond, or free.

9. " And ye masters, do the same things to them, forbearing threatenings : knowing, that the Lord both of them and you is in heaven : and there is no respect of persons with him.

10. " As to the rest, brethren, be strengthened in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11. " Put ye on the armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the snares of the devil.

12. " For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood—but against principalities and powers—against the rulers of the world of this darkness—against the spirits of wickedness in the high places*.

13. " Wherefore take unto you the armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the evil day, and to stand in all things perfect.

14. " Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breast-plate of justice,

15. " And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace :

16. " In all things taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye may be able to extinguish all the fiery darts of the most wicked one :

17. " And take unto you the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the spirit (which is the word of God)

18. " By all prayer and supplication, praying at all times in the spirit ; and in the same watching with all instance and supplication for all the saints ;

19. " And for me, that speech may be given me, that I may open my mouth with confidence, to make known the mystery of the gospel.

20. " For which I am an ambassador in a chain ; so that therein I may be bold to speak according as I ought.

21. " But that ye also may know the things that concern me, and what I am doing, Tychicus, my dearest brother, and faithful minister in the Lord, will make known to you all things :

22. " Whom I have sent to you for this same purpose, that ye may know the things concerning us, and that he may comfort your hearts.

23. " Peace be to the brethren, and charity with faith from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24. " Grace be with all those, who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity†. Amen."

The EPISTLE of St. PAUL, to the PHILIPPIANS.

C H A P. I.

The apostle's affection for the Philippians.

" P A U L and Timothy, the servants of Jesus Christ ; to all the saints in Christ Jesus, who are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons.

2. " Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. " I give thanks to my God, in every remembrance of you,

4. " Always in all my prayers, making supplication for you all with joy ;

5. " For your fellowship in the gospel of Christ, from the first day until now.

6. " Being confident of this very thing, that he, who hath begun a good work in you, will perfect it unto the day of Christ Jesus.

7. " As it is meet for me to think this for you all : because I have you in my heart ; and that in my bands, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my joy.

8. " For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9. " And this I pray, that your charity may more and more abound in knowledge, and in all understanding :

10. " That ye may approve the better things ; that ye may be sincere and without offence unto the day of Christ.

11. " Being filled with the fruit of justice, through Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12. " Now I desire, brethren, ye should know, that the things, which have happened to me, have fallen out rather to the furtherance of the gospel.

13. " So that my bonds are made manifest, in Christ, in all the court, and in all other places :

14. " And many of the brethren in the Lord having taken courage by my chains, are much more bold to speak the word of God without fear ;

15. " Some indeed even out of envy and contention—but some also for good-will preach Christ :

16. " Some out of charity, knowing, that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

17. " And some out of contention preach Christ not sincerely ; imagining, that they raise affliction to my bands.

18. " But what then ? So that every way, whether by occasion, or by truth, Christ be preached : in this also I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19. " For I know, that this shall turn to my salvation, through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ.

20. " According to my expectation and hope ; that in nothing I shall be confounded : but with all confidence, as always, so now also shall Christ be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21. " For to me, to live is Christ ; and to die is gain.

* High places, or heavenly places. That is to say, in the air, the lowest of the celestial regions ; which is full of these spirits of darkness.

† In sincerity ; literally, in incorruption : that is, with a pure and perfect love.

22. "And if to live in the flesh, this is to me* the fruit of labour; and what I shall choose, I know not.

23. "For I am straitened between two; having a desire to be dissolved†, and to be with Christ, being by much the better:

24. "But to remain in the flesh is necessary for you.

25. "And having this confidence: I know that I shall remain and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy of faith:

26. "That your rejoicing may abound in Christ Jesus for me, by my coming to you again.

27. "Only let your conversation be worthy of the gospel of Christ; that whether, when I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of you, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind labouring together for the faith of the gospel:

28. "And that ye be in nothing terrified by the adversaries; which to them is a cause of perdition, but to you of salvation, and this from God:

29. "For to you it is given for Christ, not only to believe in him, but also to suffer for his sake:

30. "Having the same conflict as that, which ye have seen in me, and now have heard of me.

CHAP. II.

He recommends to them unity and humility; and to work out their salvation with fear and trembling.

"IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ—if any comfort of charity—if any fellowship of the spirit—if any bowels of commiseration—

2. "Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be of one mind, having the same charity, being of one accord, agreeing in sentiment.

3. "Let nothing be done through strife, nor by vain-glory: but in humility, let each esteem others better than himself:

4. "Each one not considering the things, which are his own, but those which are other men's.

5. "For let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6. "Who being in the form of God, thought it not robbery, to be equal with God:

7. "But debased himself‡, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men, and in fashion found as a man.

8. "He humbled himself, becoming obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

9. "Wherefore God also hath exalted him, and hath given him a name, which is above every name:

10. "That in the name of Jesus every knee should bow of those, who are in heaven, on earth, and under the earth:

11. "And that every tongue should confess, that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father.

12. "Wherefore, my dearly beloved, (as ye have always obeyed) not as in my presence only, but much

* This is to me, &c. His meaning is, that although his dying immediately for Christ, would be his gain, by putting him presently in possession of heaven; yet he is doubtful what he should choose, because by staying longer in the flesh, he should be more beneficial to the souls of his neighbours.

† Debased himself, exinanivit, made himself as of no account.

more now in my absence, work your salvation with fear and trembling.

13. "For it is God, who worketh in you both to will and to accomplish, both according to his good will.

14. "And do ye all things without murmurings and hesitations:

15. "That ye may be blameless, and sincere children of God, without reproach, in the midst of a depraved and perverse generation; among whom ye shine as lights in the world;

16. "Holding forth the word of life to my glory, in the day of Christ; because I have not run in vain, nor laboured in vain.

17. "Yes, and if I be made a victim upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice and congratulate with you all.

18. "And for the self-same thing do ye also rejoice, and congratulate with me.

19. "And I hope in the Lord Jesus, to send Timothy to you shortly, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know the things concerning you.

20. "For I have no man so of the same mind, who with sincere affection is solicitous for you.

21. "For all seek the things, which are their own; not the things, which are Jesus Christ's.

22. "Now know ye the proof of him, that as a Son with the Father, so hath he served with me in the gospel.

23. "Him therefore I hope to send to you immediately, as soon as I shall see how things go with me.

24. "And I trust in the Lord, that I also myself shall come to you shortly.

25. "But I thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and fellow-labourer and fellow soldier, but your apostle, and the minister to my wants.

26. "For indeed he longed after you all; and was sad, because ye had heard, that he had been sick.

27. "For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him: and not only on him, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28. "Therefore I sent him the more speedily; that seeing him again, ye may rejoice, and I may be without sorrow.

29. "Receive him therefore with all joy in the Lord; and treat with honour such as he is.

30. "Because for the work of Christ, he came nigh unto death: delivering up his life, that he might fulfil that, which was wanting on your part towards my service.

CHAP. III.

He warneth them against false teachers: he esteems all other things lost, that he may gain Christ.

"AS to the rest, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not wearisome, but to you necessary.

2. "Beware of dogs; beware of evil-workers; beware of the concision.

3. "For we are the circumcision, who serve God in spirit, and glory in Christ Jesus, not having confidence in the flesh:

† With fear, &c. Note this against the false faith, and presumptuous security of modern sectaries.

4. " Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other think he may have confidence in the flesh, I more.

5. " Being circumcised the eighth day of the stock of of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews, as to the law a pharisee;

6. " As to zeal, persecuting the church of God; as to the justice that is in the law, conversing without blame.

7. " But what thing was gain to me, those I have counted loss for Christ.

8. " But indeed I esteem all things to be but loss, for the excellent knowledge of Jesus Christ my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them but as dung, that I may gain Christ;

9. " And may be found in him not having my justice, which is of the law, but that, which is of the faith of Christ Jesus: which is of God justice in faith.

10. " That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings; being made conformable to his death:

11. " If by any means I may attain to the resurrection, which is from the dead.

12. " Not as though I had already attained, or were already perfect: but I follow after, if I may by any means apprehend, that in which I am also apprehended by Christ Jesus.

13. " Brethren, I do not count myself to have apprehended. But one thing I do; forgetting the things, which are behind, and stretching forth myself to those, which are before.

14. " I pursue towards the mark, for the prize of the supernal vocation of God in Christ Jesus.

15. " Let us therefore as many as are perfect, be thus minded: and it is any thing ye be otherwise minded, this also God will reveal to you.

16. " Nevertheless whereunto we are already arrived, that we be of the same mind; let us also continue in the same rule.

17. " Be followers of me, brethren; and observe those, who walk so as ye have our model.

18. " For many walk, of whom I have told you often (and now tell you weeping) that they are enemies of the cross of Christ:

19. " Whose end is destruction; whose God is their belly; and whose glory is in their shame; who mind earthly things.

20. " But our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour our Lord Jesus Christ, 21. " Who will reform the body of our lowliness, made like to the body of his glory, according to the operation, whereby also he is able to subdue all things unto himself.

C H A P. IV.

He exhorts them to perseverance in all good; and acknowledges their charitable contributions to him.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved, and most desired, my joy and my crown; to stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved:

2. " I beg of Euodia, and I beseech Syntyche to be of one mind in the Lord.

VOL. II.

3. " And I entreat thee also, my sincere companion*, help those women who have laboured with me in the gospel with Clement and the rest of my fellow-labourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4. " Rejoice in the Lord always; again, I say, rejoice.

5. " Let your modesty be known to all men: the Lord is nigh.

6. " Be not solicitous about any thing: but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your petitions be made known to God.

7. " And the peace of God, which surpasseth all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

8. " For the rest, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are modest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are holy, whatsoever things are amiable, whatsoever things are of good repute—if there be any virtue, if there be any praise of discipline—think on these things.

9. " The things which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, these do ye; and the God of peace shall be with you.

10. " Now I rejoiced in the Lord exceedingly, that now at length, your thought for me hath flourished again, as ye did also think: but ye were busied.

11. " I speak not as it were for want. For I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, to be content therewith.

12. " I know both how to be brought low; and I know how to abound: (every where, and in all things I am instructed) both to be full, and to be hungry; both to abound, and to suffer need.

13. " I can do all things in him, who strengtheneth me.

14. " Nevertheless ye have done well, in communicating with my tribulation.

15. " And ye also know, O Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only:

16. " For unto Thessalonica also, ye sent once and again for my use.

17. " Not that I seek the gift: but I seek the fruit, that may abound to your account.

18. " But I have all, and abound: I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things ye sent, an odour of sweetness, an acceptable sacrifice, well pleasing to God.

19. " And may my God supply all your wants according to his riches, in glory, in Christ Jesus.

20. " Now to God and our Father be glory world without end. Amen.

21. " Salute ye every saint in Christ Jesus.

22. " The brethren, who are with me, salute you: all the saints salute you: especially those who are of Caesar's house.

23. " The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

* Sincere companion. Protestants render it, true yoke-fellow, to insinuate that St. Paul here speaks to his wife; whereas he plainly tells us, 1. Cor. vii. 8, that he had no wife.

The EPISTLE of St. PAUL to the COLOSSIANS.

CHAP. I.

He gives thanks for the grace bestowed upon the Colossians - and prays for them: Christ is the head of the church, and the peace-maker, through his blood. Paul is his minister.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy a brother :

2. " To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ Jesus, who are at Colossæ.

3. " Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ. We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you :

4. " Hearing your faith in Christ Jesus, and the love which ye have towards all the saints.

5. " For the hope, which is laid up for you in heaven; which ye have heard in the word of the truth of the gospel :

6. " Which is come to you, as also it is in the whole world, and bringeth forth fruit, and groweth : even as it doth in you, since the day ye heard and knew the grace of God in truth,

7. " As ye learned of Epaphras our most beloved fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ Jesus,

8. " Who also hath declared to us your love in the spirit.

9. " Therefore we also, from the day, when we heard it, cease not to pray for you, and to beg, that ye may be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom, and spiritual understanding :

10. " That ye may walk worthy of God, in all things pleasing; being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God :

11. " Strengthened with all might according to the power of his glory, in all patience and long-suffering with joy,

12. " Giving thanks to God the Father, who hath made us worthy to be partakers of the lot of the saints in light :

13. " Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his beloved Son,

14. " In whom we have redemption through his blood, the remission of sins :

15. " Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature* :

16. " For in him were all things created in heaven, and on earth, visible, and invisible, whether thrones, or dominations, or principalities, or powers : all things were created by him, and in him :

17. " And he is before all ; and by him all things consist.

18. " And he is the head of the body, the church, who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead : that in all things he may hold the primacy :

19. " Because in him, it hath well-pleased the Father, that all fulness should dwell :

20. " And through him to reconcile all things unto himself, making peace through the blood of his cross, both as to the things that are on earth, and the things, that are in heaven.

21. " And you, whereas ye were some time alienated and enemies in mind, in evil works ;

22. " Yet now he hath reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unspotted, and blameless before him :

23. " If so ye continue in the faith, grounded and settled, and immovable from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, which is preached in all the creation, that is under heaven, whereof I Paul am made a minister :

24. " Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up those things, which are wanting of the sufferings of Christ in my flesh, for his body, which is the church :

25. " Whereof I am made a minister according to the dispensation of God, which is given me towards you, that I may fulfil the word of God :

26. " The mystery, which hath been hidden from ages and generations, but now is made manifest to his saints,

27. " To whom God would make known the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ, in you the hope of glory.

28. " Whom we preach, admonishing every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.

29. " Wherein also I labour, striving according to his working, which he worketh in me in power.

CHAP. II.

He warns them against the impostures of the philosophers, and the Jewish teachers, who would withdraw them from Christ.

FOR I would have you know, what concern I have for you, and for those, who are at Laodicea, and as many as have not seen my face in the flesh :

2. " That their hearts may be comforted, being instructed in charity, and unto all riches of fulness of understanding, unto the knowledge of the mystery of God the Father, and of Christ Jesus ;

3. " In whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4. " Now this I say, that no man may deceive you by loftiness of words.

5. " For though I be absent in body, yet in spirit I am with you ; rejoicing and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith which is in Christ.

6. " As therefore ye have received Jesus Christ the Lord, walk ye in him,

7. " Rooted, and built up in him, and confirmed in the faith, as also ye have learned, abounding in him in thanksgiving.

8. " Beware, lest any man impose upon you by phi-

+ Wanting. There is no want in the sufferings of Christ in himself as head : but many sufferings are still wanting, or are still to come, in his body the church, and his members the faithful.

lophony, and vain deceit; according to the tradition of men, according to the rudiments of the world, and not according to Christ:

9. "For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the God-head corporally:

10. "And ye are filled in him, who is the head of all principality and power:

11. "In whom also ye are circumcised with a circumcision not made by hand in the despoiling of the body of the flesh, but in the circumcision of Christ:

12. "Buried with him in baptism, in whom also ye have risen again by the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him up from the dead.

13. "And you, when ye were dead in your sins, and the uncircumcision of your flesh, he hath quickened together with him, forgiving you all offences:

14. "Blotting out the hand-writing of the decree, which was against us, which was contrary to us: and the same he took out of the way, fastening it to the cross:

15. "And diverting principalities and powers, he made a shew of them confidently, triumphing openly over them in himself.

16. "Let no man therefore judge you in meat*, or in drink, or in respect of a festival day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbaths:

17. "Which are a shadow of things to come: but the body is of Christ.

18. "Let no man seduce you, willing† in humility and religion of angels, walking in the things, which he hath not seen, in vain puffed up by the sense of his flesh:

19. "And not holding the head, from which all the body, by joints and bands being supplied with nourishment, and compacted, groweth unto the increase of God.

20. "If then ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of this world; why do ye yet decree as though living in the world?

21. "Touch not‡, taste not, handle not:

* In meat, &c. He means, with regard to the Jewish observations of the distinction of clean and unclean meats—and of their festivals, new moons, and sabbaths, as being no longer obligatory.

† Willing, &c. That is by a self-willed, self-invented, superstitious worship, falsely pretending humility, but really proceeding from pride. Such was the worship, which many of the philosophers (against whom St. Paul speaks, v. 8.) paid to angels or demons, by sacrificing to them, as carriers of intelligence between God and men; pretending humility in so doing, as if God was too great to be addressed by men; and setting aside the mediatorship of Jesus Christ; who is the head both of angels and men. Such also was the worship paid by the ancient heretics, disciples of Simon and Menander, to the angels, whom they believed to be the makers and lords of this lower world. This is certain, that those, whom the apostle here condemns, did not hold the head, (v. 19.) that is, Jesus Christ, and his mediatorship: and therefore what he writes here no ways touches the catholic doctrine and practice of desiring our good angels to pray to God for us, through Jesus Christ. St. Jerome (Epist. ad Algas.) understands by the religion or service of angels, the Jewish religion given by angels; and supposes all, that is here said, to be directed against the Jewish teachers, who sought to subject the new christians to the observances of the Mosaic law.

‡ Touch not, &c. The meaning is, that christians should not subject themselves, either to the ordinances of the old law, forbidding touching or tasting things unclean; or to the super-

22. "Which all are unto destruction by the very use, according to the precepts and doctrines of men:

23. "Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in superstition, and humility, and not sparing the body, not in any honour to the filling of the flesh.

C H A P. III.

He exhorts them to put off the old man, and to put on the new. The duties of wives and husbands, children and servants.

"THEREFORE, if ye have risen with Christ, see: the things, which are above; where Christ is sitting at the right hand of God:

1. "Mind the things, which are above; not the things, which are on the earth.

2. "For ye are dead: and your life is hidden with Christ in God.

3. "When Christ shall appear, who is your life; then shall you also appear with him in glory.

4. "Mortify therefore your members, which are upon the earth: fornication, uncleanness, lust, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is the service of idols:

5. "For which things the wrath of God cometh upon the children of unbelief:

6. "In which ye also walked some time, when ye lived in them.

7. "But now put ye also all away—anger, indignation, malice, blasphemy, filthy speech out of your mouth.

8. "Lie not one to another; stripping yourselves of the old man with his deeds,

9. "And putting on the new, him, who is renewed unto knowledge, according to the image of him, who created him.

10. "Where there is neither Gentile nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, barbarian nor Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.

11. "Put ye on therefore, as the elect of God, holy, and beloved, the love of mercy, benignity, humility, modesty, patience.

12. "Bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if any have a complaint against another: even as the Lord hath forgiven you, so do ye also.

13. "But also all these things have charity, which is the bond of perfection:

14. "And let the peace of Christ rejoice in your hearts, wherein also ye are called in one body: and be ye thankful.

15. "Let the word of Christ dwell in you abundantly, in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms, hymns, and spiritual canticles, singing in grace in your hearts to God.

16. "All whatsoever ye do in word or in work, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

17. "Wives, be subject to your husbands, as it becometh in the Lord.

stitious inventions of heretics, imposing such restraints, under pretence of wisdom, humility, or mortification; but without any warrant, either of Christ in the gospel, or of the Holy Ghost in the church.

19. "Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter towards them.

20. "Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is pleasing to the Lord.

21. "Fathers, provoke not your children to anger; lest they be discouraged.

22. "Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh, not serving to the eye, as pleasing men, but in simplicity of heart, fearing God.

23. "Whosoever ye do, do it from the heart, as to the Lord, and not to men.

24. "Knowing, that ye shall receive of the Lord the reward of inheritance. Serve ye the Lord Christ.

25. "For he, who doth an injury, shall receive for that, which he hath unjustly: and there is no respect of persons with God.

CHAP. IV.

He recommends earnest prayer, and wisdom. Various salutations.

"MASTERS, do to your servants that, which is just and equal: knowing, that ye also have a matter in heaven.

2. "Be instant in prayer; watching in it with thanksgiving:

3. "Praying without ceasing for us also, that God may open to us a door of speech to speak the mystery of Christ (for which also I am in bonds)

4. "That I may make it manifest as I ought to speak.

5. "Walk with wisdom towards those, who are without:—redeeming the time.

6. "Let your speech be always in grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7. "All the things, which concern me, Tychicus, our dearest brother, and faithful minister, and fellow-servant in the Lord, will make known to you:

8. "Whom I have sent to you for this same purpose, that he may know the things which concern you, and comfort your hearts,

9. "With Onesimus, a most beloved and faithful brother, who is one of you. All things, which are done here, they shall make known to you.

10. "Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you, and Mark the cousin-german of Barnabas, touching whom ye have received commandments: if he come to you, receive him:

11. "And Jesus, who is called Justus; who are of the circumcision: these only are my helpers in the kingdom of God, who have been a comfort to me.

12. "Epaphras saluteth you, who is one of you, a servant of Christ Jesus, who is always solicitous for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect, and full in all the will of God.

13. "For I hear him testify, that he hath much labour for you, and for those who are at Laodicea, and those at Hierapolis.

14. "Luke the physician most dearly beloved, saluteth you; and Demas.

15. "Salute the brethren who are at Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the church, that is in his house.

16. "And when this epistle shall be read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and read you that, which is of the Laodiceans.

17. "And say to Archipus: Take heed to the ministry, which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18. "The salutation of Paul with my own hand. Be mindful of my chains: Grace be with you. Amen."

The first EPISTLE of St. PAUL, to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

He gives thanks for the graces bestowed on the Thessalonians.

"PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy to the church of the Thessalonians, in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. "Grace be to you and peace. We give thanks to God always for you all; making a remembrance of you in our prayers without ceasing,

3. "Being mindful of the work of your faith, and labour, and charity, and of the enduring of the hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, before God and our Father:

4. "Knowing, brethren beloved of God, your election:

5. "For our gospel hath not been to you in word only, but in power also, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much fulness, as ye know what manner of men we have been among you for your sakes.

6. "And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord; receiving the word in much tribulation, with the joy of the Holy Ghost:

7. "So that ye were made a pattern to all, who believe in Macedonia and in Achaia.

8. "For from you was spread abroad the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and in Achaia, but also in every place, your faith which is towards God, is gone forth, so that we need not to speak any thing.

9. "For they themselves relate of us, what manner of entrance we had unto you; and how ye were converted to God from idols, to serve the living and true God,

10. "And to wait for his Son from heaven (whom he raised from the dead) Jesus, who hath delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

The sincerity of the apostle's preaching the gospel to them; and of their receiving it.

"FOR yourselves, brethren, know our entrance unto you, that it was not in vain:

2. "But having suffered before, and being shamefully treated (as ye know) at Philippi, we had confidence in our God, to speak to you the gospel of God in much carefulness.

3. "For our exhortation was not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor in deceit,

4. "But as we were approved of God, that the gospel should be committed to us: even so we speak, not so pleasing men, but God, who proveth our hearts.

5. "For neither have we used, at any time, the speech of flattery, as ye know: nor taken an occasion of covetousness: God is witness:

6. "Nor sought we glory of men, neither of you, nor of others.

7. "Whereas we might have been burdensome to you, as the apostles of Christ: but we became little ones in the midst of you, as if a nurse should cherish her children:

8. "So desirous of you, we would gladly have imparted to you not only the gospel of God, but also our own souls: because ye were become most dear to us.

9. "For ye remember, brethren, our labour and toil: working night and day, lest we should be burdensome to any of you, we preached among you the gospel of God.

10. "Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily, justly, and without blame we have been among you, who have believed:

11. "As ye know, in what manner, entreating and convincing you, (as a father doth his children.)

12. "We testified to every one of you, that ye were worthy of God, who hath called you to his kingdom and glory.

13. "And ye also give thanks to God without ceasing: for when ye had received from us the word of the testimony of God, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it truly is) the word of God, who worketh in you, who have believed.

14. "For ye, brethren, are become followers of the churches of God, which are in Judea, in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered the same things from your own countrymen, even as they have from the Jews:

15. "Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and the prophets, and have persecuted us: and they please not God, and are adversaries to all men,

16. "Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they may be saved, to fill up their sins always: for the wrath of God is come upon them to the end.

17. "But we, brethren, being taken away from you for a short time, in sight, not in heart, have hastened the more abundantly to see your face with great desire:

18. "For we would have come to you, even I Paul once and again; but Satan hindered us.

19. "For what is our hope or joy, or crown of glory? Are not ye, in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?

20. "For ye are our glory and joy.

C H A P. III.

The apostle's concern and love for the Thessalonians.

"FOR which cause forbearing no longer, we thought it good to remain at Athens alone:

2. "And we sent Timothy our brother, and a minister of God in the gospel of Christ, to confirm you, and exhort you concerning your faith:

3. "That no man should be moved in these tribulations: for yourselves know, that we are appointed thereunto.

4. "For even when we were with you, we foretold you that we should suffer tribulations, as also it is come to pass; and ye know.

5. "For this cause also I forbearing no longer, sent to know your faith; lest perhaps he that tempteth, should have tempted you, and our labour should be made vain.

6. "But now when Timothy came to us from you, and related to us your faith and charity, and that ye have a good remembrance of us always, desiring to see us, as we also to see you:

7. "Therefore we were comforted, brethren, in you, in all our distress and tribulation, by your faith;

8. "For now we live, if ye stand in the Lord.

9. "For what thanks can we return to God for you, in all the joy, wherewith we rejoice for you before our God,

10. "Night and day, praying more abundantly, that we may see your face, and may accomplish those things, which are wanting to your faith?

11. "Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ direct our way unto you.

12. "And may the Lord multiply you, and make you abound in charity towards one another, and towards all men: as we do also towards you,

13. "To confirm your hearts without blame, in holiness, before God and our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. Amen.

C H A P. IV.

He exhorts them to purity and mutual charity: he treats of the resurrection of the dead.

"FOR the rest therefore, brethren, we pray and beseech you in the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received from us, how ye ought to walk, and to please God, so also ye would walk, that ye may abound the more.

2. "For ye know what commandments I have given to you by the Lord Jesus.

3. "For this is the will of God, your sanctification; that ye should abstain from fornication;

4. "That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour:

5. "Not in the passion of lust, like the Gentiles, who know not God:

6. "And that no man over-reach, nor deceive his brother in business: because the Lord is the avenger of all such things; as we have told you before, and have testified.

7. "For God hath not called us to uncleanness, but to holiness.

8. "He therefore, who despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God; who also hath given his holy Spirit in us.

9. "Now concerning fraternal charity, we have no need to write to you: for yourselves have learned of God to love one another.

10. "For indeed ye do it towards all the brethren in all Macedonia. But we entreat you, brethren, that ye abound more,

11. "And that ye use your endeavour to be quiet, and that ye do your own business, and work with your own hands, as we commanded you; and that ye walk honestly towards those, who are without; and that ye want nothing of any man's.

12. "And we will not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning those who are asleep, that you be not sorrowful, even as others, who have no hope.

13. "For if we believe, that Jesus died, and rose again, even so those, who have slept through Jesus, God will bring with him.

14. "For this we say unto you in the word of the Lord, that we, who are alive, who remain unto the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent those, who have slept.

15. "For the Lord himself shall come down from heaven with commandment, and with the voice of the archangel; and with the trumpet of God: and the dead, who are in Christ, shall rise first.

16. "Then we, who are alive, who are left, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet Christ in the air; and so shall we be always with the Lord.

17. "Wherefore comfort ye one another with these words.

CHAP. V.

The day of the Lord shall come, when least expected. Exhortations to several duties.

"BUT of the times, and moments, brethren, ye need not, that we should write to you.

2. "For yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord shall so come, as a thief in the night.

3. "For when they shall say: 'Peace and security;' then shall sudden destruction come upon them, as the pains upon her, who is with child: and they shall not escape.

4. "But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief;

5. "For ye all are the children of light, and children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6. "Therefore let us not sleep, as others do: but let us watch and be sober.

7. "For those, who sleep, sleep in the night: and those, who are drunk, are drunk in the night.

8. "But let us, who are of the day, be sober, having on the breast-plate of faith and charity, and for a helmet, the hope of salvation:

9. "For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to the purchasing of salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10. "Who died for us: that whether we wake or sleep, we may live together with him.

11. "Wherefore comfort one another; and edify one another, as ye also do.

12. "And we beseech you, brethren, to know those who labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you:

13. "That ye esteem them more abundantly in charity for their work: have peace with them.

14. "And we beseech you, brethren, rebuke the unquiet; comfort the feeble-minded; support the weak; be patient towards all men.

15. "See that none render evil for evil to any one; but ever follow that, which is good towards each other, and towards all men.

16. "Always rejoice.

17. "Pray without ceasing.

18. "In all things give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you all.

19. "Extinguish not the Spirit.

20. "Despise not prophecies.

21. "But prove all things; hold that which is good.

22. "From all appearance of evil refrain yourselves.

23. "And may the God of peace himself sanctify you in all things; that your whole spirit, and soul, and body be preserved blameless for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

24. "He is faithful, who hath called you; who will also perform.

25. "Brethren, pray for us.

26. "Salute all the brethren with a holy kiss.

27. "I charge you, by the Lord, that this epistle be read to all the holy brethren.

28. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen."

The second EPISTLE of St. PAUL, to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

He gives thanks to God for their faith and constancy; and prays for their advancement in all good.

"PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy; to the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. "Grace be to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. "We are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren, as it is meet, because your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you towards each other, aboundeth:

4. "So that we ourselves also glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience, and faith, in all your persecutions and tribulations, which ye endure,

5. "For an example of the just judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which also ye suffer.

6. "Seeing it is a just thing with God to repay tribulation to those, who trouble you:

7. "And to you, who are troubled, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with the angels of his power,

8. "In a flame of fire, yielding vengeance to those, who know not God, and who obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

9. "Who shall suffer eternal pains in destruction, from the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his power:

10. "When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made wonderful in all those, who have believed: because our testimony was believed upon you in that day.

11. "Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would make you worthy of his calling, and

* The unquiet; that is, such as are irregular and disorderly.

fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith in power ;

12. " That the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

C H A P. II.

The day of the Lord is not to come, till the man of sin be revealed. The apostles' traditions are to be observed.

" AN D we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of our gathering together unto him :

2. " That ye be not easily moved from your sense, nor be terrified, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by epistle, as sent from us, as if the day of the Lord were at hand.

3. " Let no man deceive you by any means : for unless there come a revolt first, and the man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition,

4. " Who opposeth, and is lifted up above all that is called God, or that is worshipped, so that he sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself as if he were God.

5. " Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things ?

6. " And now ye know what withholdeth, that he may be revealed in his time.

7. " For the mystery of iniquity already worketh : only that he, who now holdeth, do hold, until he be taken out of the way :

8. " And then that wicked one shall be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus shall kill with the spirit of his mouth ; and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming : him,

9. " Whose coming is according to the working of satan, in all power, and signs, and lying wonders,

10. " And in all seduction of iniquity to those, who perish ; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. Therefore God shall send them the operation of error, to believe lying,

11. " That all may be judged, who have not believed the truth, but have consented to iniquity.

12. " But we ought to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of God, for that God hath chosen you first-fruits unto salvation, in sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth :

§ A revolt. This revolt, or falling off, is generally understood, by the ancient fathers, of a revolt from the Roman empire, which was first to be destroyed, before the coming of Antichrist. It may, perhaps, be understood also of a revolt of many nations from the catholic church ; which has, in part, happened already, by the means of Mahomet, Luther, &c. and, it may be supposed, will be more general in the days of Antichrist.

† The man of sin. Here must be meant some particular man, as is evident from the frequent repetition of the Greek article, the man of sin, the son of perdition, the adversary or opposer, ο αντιπαρστης. It agrees to the great Antichrist, who will come before the end of the world ; but by no means to any christian bishop, much less to a succession of christian bishops. Some interpret it of Mahomet.

‡ In the temple. Either that of Jerusalem, which some think, he will rebuild ; or in some christian church, which he will pervert to his own worship : as Mahomet has done by the churches of the east.

§ God shall send : that is, God shall suffer them to be deceived by lying wonders, and false miracles, in punishment of their not entertaining the love of truth.

13. " Whereunto also he hath called you by our gospel, unto the purchasing of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

14. " Therefore, brethren, stand firm, and hold the traditions, which ye have learned, whether by word, or by our epistle.

15. " Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God and our Father, who hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope in grace,

16. " Exhort your hearts, and confirm you in every good work and word.

C H A P. III.

He begs their prayers, and warns them against idleness.

" FOR the rest, brethren, pray for us, that the word of God may run* and may be glorified, even as among you.

2. " And that we may be delivered from troublesome and evil men : for all men have not faith.

3. " But God is faithful, who will strengthen and keep you from evil.

4. " And we have confidence concerning you in the Lord, that the things, which we command, ye both do, and will do.

5. " And the Lord direct your heart, in the charity of God, and in the patience of Christ.

6. " And we charge you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother walking disorderly, and not according to the tradition, which they have received of us.

7. " For yourselves know how ye ought to imitate us : for we were not disorderly among you :

8. " Neither did we eat any man's bread for nothing ; but in labour and in toil we worked night and day, lest we should be burdensome to any of you.

9. " Not as if we had not power ; but that we might give ourselves a pattern to you to imitate us.

10. " For also when we were with you, we declared this to you ; that if any man will not work, neither let him eat.

11. " For we have heard that there are some among you, who walk disorderly, working not at all, but curiously meddling.

12. " Now we charge those, who are such, and beseech them by the Lord Jesus Christ, that, working with silence, they would eat their own bread.

13. " But ye, brethren, be not weary in well-doing.

14. " And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and do not keep company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15. " Yet do not esteem him as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16. " Now the Lord of peace himself give you everlasting peace in every place. The Lord be with you all.

17. " The salutation of Paul with my own hand : which is the sign in every epistle. So I write.

18. " The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen."

§ Traditions. See here, that the unwritten traditions of the apostles are no less to be received than their epistles.

* May run, that is, may spread itself, and have free course.

The first EPISTLE of St. PAUL to TIMOTHY.

CHAP. I.

He puts Timothy in mind of his charge; and blesses God for the mercy he himself had received.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ according to the commandment of God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus our hope,

2. "To Timothy his beloved son in faith: grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

3. As I desired thee to remain at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some not to teach otherwise,

4. "Nor to give heed to fables and endless genealogies: which furnish questions rather than the edification of God, which is in faith.

5. "Now the end of the commandment is charity from a pure heart, and a good conscience, and an unfeigned faith.

6. "From which things some going astray are turned aside to vain babbling,

7. "Desiring to be teachers of the law, understanding neither the things they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8. "But we know, that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

9. "Knowing this, that the law is not made* for the just man, but for the unjust and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for the wicked and defiled, for murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10. "For fornicators, for those, who defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and whatever other thing is contrary to sound doctrine:

11. "Which is according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which hath been committed to my trust.

12. "I give thanks to him, who hath strengthened me, to Christ Jesus our Lord, that he esteemed me faithful, putting me into the ministry;

13. "Who before was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious. But I obtained the mercy of God: because I did it ignorantly in unbelief.

14. "Now the grace of our Lord hath abounded exceedingly with faith and love, which is in Christ Jesus.

15. "A faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance: that Christ Jesus came into this world to save sinners, of whom I am the chief.

16. "But for this cause have I obtained mercy: that in me first Christ Jesus might shew forth all patience, for the information of those, who shall believe in him to life everlasting.

17. "Now to the King of ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

* The law is not, &c. He means, that the just man doth good, and avoideth evil—not as compelled by the law, and merely for fear of the punishment appointed for transgressors; but voluntarily, and out of the love of God and virtue—and would do so, though there were no law.

18. "This charge I commend to thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies, which went before on thee, that thou war in them a good warfare,

19. "Having faith and a good conscience, which some rejecting, have made shipwreck concerning the faith:

20. "Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander; whom I have delivered to Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

Prayers are to be said for all men: because God wills the salvation of all. Women are not to teach.

I desire therefore first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all men—

2. "For kings, and for all, who are in high station, that we may lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all piety and chastity.

3. "For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour,

4. "Who will have all men to be saved, and to come to the knowledge of the truth.

5. "For there is one God, and one Mediator* of God and men, the man Christ Jesus:

6. "Who gave himself a redemption for all, a testimony in due times:

7. "Whereunto I am appointed a preacher and an apostle (I say the truth, I lie not) a doctor of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8. "I will therefore, that men pray in every place, lifting up pure hands without anger and strife.

9. "In like manner women also in decent apparel, adorning themselves with modesty and sobriety, and not with plaited hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array—

10. "But as it becometh women professing piety, with good works.

11. "Let the woman learn in silence, with all subjection.

12. "But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to use authority over the man: but to be in silence.

13. "For Adam was first formed; then Eve:

14. "And Adam was not seduced; but the woman being seduced, was in the transgression.

15. "Yet she shall be saved by bearing children, if she continue in faith, and love, and sanctification with sobriety.

CHAP. III.

What sort of men are to be admitted among the clergy; the church is the pillar of truth.

A Faithful saying: "If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work."

* One Mediator. Christ is the one, and only mediator of redemption; who gave himself, as the apostle writes in the following verse, a redemption for all. He is also the only mediator, who stands in need of no other to recommend his petitions to the Father. But this hinders not but that we may seek the prayers and intercession, as well of the faithful upon earth, as of the saints and angels in heaven for obtaining mercy, grace and salvation through Jesus Christ; as St. Paul himself often desired the help of the prayers of the faithful, without any injury to the mediatorship of Jesus Christ.

2. "It becometh therefore a bishop to be blameless, the husband of one wife, sober, prudent, of good behaviour, chaste, given to hospitality, a teacher—

3. "Not given to wine, no striker, but modest, not litigious, not covetous, but

4. "One, who ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all chastity.

5. "But if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?

6. "Not a new hye": lest being puffed up with pride, he fall into the judgment of the devil.

7. "Moreover he must have a good testimony from those, who are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

8. "Deacons in like manner chaste, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre:

9. "Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10. "And let these also first be proved: and so let them minister having no crime.

11. "The women in like manner, chaste, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12. "Let deacons be the husbands of one wife, who rule well their children, and their own houses.

13. "For those who have ministered well, shall purchase to themselves a good degree, and much confidence in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.

14. "These things I write to thee, hoping that I shall come to thee shortly.

15. "But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself, in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth]].

16. "And evidently great is the mystery of piety, which was manifested in the flesh, was justified in the spirit, appeared to angels, hath been preached to the Gentiles, is believed in the world, is taken up in glory.

C H A P. IV.

He warns him against heretics; and exhorts him to the exercise of piety.

"NOW the spirit manifestly saith, that in the last times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to spirits of error, and doctrines of devils;

2. "Speaking lies in hypocrisy, and having their conscience seared.

3. "Forbidding to marry†, to abstain from meats,

† Of one wife. The meaning is, not that every bishop should have a wife (for St. Paul himself had none) but that no one should be admitted to the holy orders of bishop, priest, or deacon, who had been married more than once.

* Anacolyte. That is, one lately baptized, a raw young convert.

|| The pillar and ground of the truth. Therefore the church of the living God can never uphold error, nor bring in corruption, superstition, and idolatry.

† Forbidding to marry, to abstain from meats, &c. He speaks of the Gnostics, the Marcionites, the Encratites, the Manicheans, and other ancient heretics, who absolutely condemned marriage, and the use of all kind of meat; because they pretended, that all flesh was from an evil principle. Whereas the church of God, so far from condemning marriage, looks upon it as a most holy sacrament; and forbids it to none but such as which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving by the faithful, and by those, who have known the truth.

4. "For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be rejected, which is received with thanksgiving:

5. "For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6. "Proposing these things to the brethren, thou shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished up in the words of faith, and of the good doctrine, which thou hast attained to.

7. "But avoid foolish and old wives' fables; and exercise thyself to piety.

8. "For bodily exercise is profitable a little: but piety is profitable to all things, having promise of the life, which now is, and of that which is to come.

9. "A faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance.

10. "For hereunto we labour and are reviled, because we hope in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of the faithful.

11. "These things command and teach.

12. "Let no man despise thy youth: but be thou an example of the faithful, in word, in conversation, in charity, in faith, in chastity.

13. "Till I come, attend to reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.

14. "Neglect not the grace, which is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the imposition of the hands of the priesthood.

15. "Meditate on these things: be wholly in these things; that thy proficiency may be manifest to all.

16. "Attend to thyself, and to doctrine: be earnest in them. For in doing this, thou shalt both save thyself, and those, who hear thee.

C H A P. V.

He gives him lessons concerning widows; and how he is to behave to his clergy.

"AN ancient man rebuke not, but intreat him as a father—young men, as brethren—

2. "Old women, as mothers—young women, as sisters, in all chastity.

3. "Honour widows, who are widows indeed.

4. "But if any widow have children, or grandchildren, let her learn first to govern her own house, and to make a return of duty to her parents: for this is acceptable before God.

5. "But she, who is a widow indeed, and desolate, let her hope in God, and continue in supplications and prayers, night and day.

6. "For she, who liveth in pleasures, is dead, while she is living.

7. "And this give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8. "But if any man have not care of his own, and especially of those of his house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

9. "Let a widow be chosen not under threescore by vow have chosen the better part; and prohibits not the use of any meats whatsoever in proper times and seasons; though she does not judge all kinds of diet proper for days of fasting and penance.

years of age, who hath been the wife of one husband,
 10. "Having a testimony of her good works, if she have educated children—if she have exercised hospitality—if she have washed the saints' feet—if she have ministered to those, who suffer tribulation—if she have diligently followed every good work.

11. "But the younger widows shun: for when they have grown wanton in Christ, they will marry:

12. "Having damnation, because they have made void their first faith*.

13. "And withal, being idle, they learn to go about from house to house: not only idle, but tattlers also, and busy-bodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14. "I will therefore, that the younger should marry, bear children, be mistresses of families, give no occasion to the adversary to speak evil.

15. "For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16. "If any of the faithful have widows, let him relieve them: and let not the church be burdened: that there may be sufficient for those, who are widows indeed.

17. "Let the priests, who rule well, be esteemed worthy of double honour: especially those who labour in the word and doctrine:

18. "For the scripture saith: 'Thou shalt not muzzle the ox, that treadeth out the corn:' and, 'The labourer is worthy of his reward.'

19. "Against a priest receive not an accusation, but under two or three witnesses.

20. "Those who sin, reprove before all: that the rest also may have fear.

21. "I charge thee before God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without prejudice, doing nothing by declining to either side.

22. "Impose not hands lightly upon any man: neither be partaker of other mens' sins. Keep thyself chaste.

23. "Do not still drink water: but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thy frequent infirmities.

24. "Some men's sins are manifest, going before to judgment: and some men they follow after.

25. "In like manner also good deeds are manifest: and those, that are otherwise, cannot be hidden.

CHAP. VI.

Duties of servants. The danger of covetousness. Lessons for the rich.

"WHOSOEVER are servants under the yoke, let them count their masters worthy of all honour: lest the name and doctrine of the Lord be blasphemed.

2. "But those, who have believing masters, let them not despise them: because they are brethren: but serve them the rather: because they are faithful and beloved, who are partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3. "If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to that doctrine, which is according to piety—

4. "He is proud, knowing nothing, but sick about questions and strifes of words: from which arise envies, contentions, blasphemies, evil suspicions,

5. "Conflicts of men corrupted in mind, and who are destitute of the truth, supposing gain to be piety.

6. "But piety with sufficiency, is great gain:

7. "For we brought nothing into this world: and certainly we can carry nothing out.

8. "But having food, and wherewith to be covered, with these we are content.

9. "For those, who would become rich, fall into temptation, and into the snare of the devil, and into many unprofitable and hurtful desires, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10. "For covetousness is the root of all evils: which some desiring, have erred from the faith, and have entangled themselves in many sorrows.

11. "But thou, O man of God, fly these things: and follow after justice, piety, faith, charity, patience, meekness.

12. "Fight the good fight of faith: lay hold on eternal life, wherunto thou art called, and hast confessed a good confession before many witnesses.

13. "I charge thee before God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who gave testimony under Pontius Pilate, a good confession:

14. "That thou keep the commandment without spot, blameless, unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ:

15. "Which in his times he shall shew, who is the Blessed and only Mighty, the King of kings, and Lord of lords:

16. "Who only hath immortality, and inhabiteth light inaccessible, whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and empire everlasting. Amen.

17. "Charge the rich of this world not to be high-minded, nor to hope in uncertain riches, but in the living God (who giveth us abundantly all things to enjoy)

18. "To do good: to be rich in good works: to distribute readily: to communicate to others.

19. "To lay up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may obtain true life.

20. "O Timothy, keep that, which is committed to thy trust, avoiding the prophane novelties of words, and oppositions of knowledge falsely so called,

21. "Which some promising, have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen."

The second EPISTLE of St. PAUL, to TIMOTHY.

CHAP. I.

He admonishes him to stir up the grace he received by his ordination, and not to be discouraged at his sufferings, but to hold firmly the sound doctrine of the gospel.

* Their first faith. Their vow, by which they had engaged themselves to Christ.

"PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life, which is in Christ Jesus;

2. "To Timothy my dearly beloved son—grace, mercy, peace from God the Father, and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

3. " I give thanks to God, whom I serve from my fore-fathers with a pure conscience, that without ceasing I have a remembrance of thee in my prayers, night and day.

4. " Desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy,

5. " Calling to mind that faith, which is in thee unfeigned, which also dwelt first in thy grand-mother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice; and I am certain that in thee also,

6. " For which cause I admonish thee, that thou stir up the grace of God, which is in thee by the imposition of my hands.

7. " For God hath not given us the spirit of fear—but of power, and of love, and of sobriety.

8. " Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but labour with the gospel according to the power of God;

9. " Who hath delivered us, and called us by his holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the times of the world:

10. " But now is made manifest by the illumination* of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath indeed destroyed death, and hath enlightened life and incorruption by the gospel:

11. " In which I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12. " For which cause I also suffer these things; but I am not confounded. For I know whom I have believed, and I am certain, that he is able to keep that, which I have committed to him, against that day.

13. " Hold the form of sound words, which thou hast heard from me in faith, and in the love, which is in Christ Jesus.

14. " Keep the good deposited in trust to thee by the Holy Ghost, who dwelleth in us.

15. " Thou knowest this, that all those, who are in Asia, are turned away from me; of whom are Phigellus and Hermogenes.

16. " The Lord give mercy to the house of Onesiphorus; because he hath often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain.

17. " But when he was come to Rome, he carefully sought me out, and found me.

18. " The Lord grant to him to find mercy of the Lord in that day: and in how many things he ministered to me at Ephesus, thou very well knowest.

C H A P. II.

He exhorts him to diligence in his office, and patience in sufferings. The danger of the delusions of heretics.

" THOU therefore, my son, be strong in the grace, which is in Christ Jesus:

2. " And the things, which thou hast heard from me before many witnesses, the same commend to faithful men, who shall be fit to teach others also.

3. " Labour as a good soldier of Christ Jesus.

4. " No man, being a soldier to God, entangleth himself with worldly business; that he may please him to whom he hath engaged himself.

* By the illumination; that is, by the bright coming and appearing of our Saviour.

5. " For he also that striveth for the mastery, is not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6. " The husbandman, who laboureth, must first partake of the fruits.

7. " Understand what I say; for the Lord will give thee understanding in all things.

8. " Be mindful, that the Lord Jesus Christ has risen again from the dead, of the seed of David, according to my gospel,

9. " In which I labour even unto chains, as an evil doer; but the word of God is not bound.

10. " Therefore I suffer all things for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation, which is in Christ Jesus, with heavenly glory.

11. " A faithful saying: For if we be dead with him, we shall live also with him.

12. " If we suffer, we shall also reign with him. If we deny him, he also will deny us.

13. " If we believe not, he continueth faithful, he cannot deny himself.

14. " Of these things put them in mind, charging them before the Lord. Contend not in words: for it is to no profit, but to the subversion of the hearers.

15. " Carefully study to present thyself approved unto God, a workman who needeth not to be ashamed, rightly handling the word of truth:

16. But shun profane and vain speeches: for they grow much towards impiety:

17. " And their speech spreadeth like a cancer: of whom are Hymeneus and Phileus,

18. " Who have erred from the truth, saying, that the resurrection is past already, and have subverted the faith of some.

19. " But the sure foundation of God standeth firmly, having this seal: the Lord knoweth who are his; and let every one, who nameth the name of the Lord, depart from iniquity.

20. " But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth: and some indeed unto honour, but some unto dishonour.

21. " If any man therefore shall cleanse himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified and profitable to the Lord, prepared unto every good work.

22. " But flee thou youthful desires; and follow justice, faith, charity, and peace with those, who call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23. " And avoid foolish and unlearned questions; knowing that they beget strifes.

24. " But the servant of the Lord must not wrangle; but be gentle towards all men, fit to teach, patient,

25. " With modesty admonishing those, who resist the truth: if at any time God give them repentance to know the truth,

26. " And they recover themselves from the snares of the devil, by whom they are held captives at his will.

C H A P. III.

The character of heretics of latter days: he exhorts Timothy to constancy. Of the great profit of the knowledge of the scriptures.

" NOW also this, that, in the last days, shall come dangerous times:

2. " Men shall be lovers of themselves, covetous, haughty, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, wicked,

3. "Without affection, without peace, slanderers, incontinent, unmerciful, without kindness,

4. "Traitors, stubborn, puffed up, and lovers of pleasures more than of God :

5. "Having an appearance indeed of piety, but denying the power thereof. Now these avoid :

6. "For of this sort are those, who creep into houses, and lead captives silly women laden with sins, who are led away with divers desires :

7. "Always learning, and never attaining to the knowledge of the truth.

8. "Now as James and Mambres* resisted Moses ; so these also resist the truth, men corrupted in mind, reprobate as to the faith.

9. "But they shall proceed no farther : for their folly shall be manifest to all, as theirs also was.

10. "But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, love, patience,

11. "Persecutions, afflictions : such as came upon me at Antioch, Iconium, and at Lystra—what persecutions I endured ; and out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12. "And all, who will live piously in Christ Jesus, shall suffer persecution.

13. "But evil men and seducers shall grow worse and worse : erring, and driving into error.

14. "But continue thou in the things, which thou hast learned, and which have been committed to thee : knowing of whom thou hast learned them.

15. "And because from thy infancy thou hast known the holy scriptures, which can instruct thee unto salvation, through the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

16. "All scripture† divinely inspired, is profitable to teach, to reprove, to correct, to instruct in justice ;

17. "That the man of God may be perfect, furnished unto every good work.

CHAP. IV.

His charge to Timothy : he tells him of his approaching death, and desires him to come to him.

"I CHARGE thee before God and Jesus Christ, who shall judge the living and the dead, by his coming, and his kingdom :

2. "Preach the word ; be instant in season, out of season ; reprove, intreat, rebuke with all patience and doctrine.

3. "For there shall be a time, when they will not bear sound doctrine ; but according to their own desires they will heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears ;

4. "And will turn away indeed their hearing from the truth, but will be turned to fables.

5. "But be thou vigilant ; labour in all things ; do the work of an evangelist‡ ; fulfil thy ministry. Be sober.

6. "For I am even now ready to be sacrificed ; and the time of my dissolution is at hand.

7. "I have fought a good fight : I have finished my course : I have kept the faith.

8. "For the rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice, which the Lord the just judge will render to me at that day : and not to me only, but to those also, who love his coming. Make haste to come speedily to me.

9. "For Demas hath left me, loving this world, and has departed to Thessalonica—

10. "Crescens into Galatia.—Titus into Dalmatia.

11. "Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee : for he is useful to me for the ministry.

12. "But Tychicus I have sent to Ephesus.

13. "The cloak, which I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, especially the parchments.

14. "Alexander the copper-smith hath done me many evil things : the Lord will render to him according to his works :

15. "Whom do thou also avoid : for he hath greatly opposed our words.

16. "At my first defence no man stood with me, but all forsook me : may it not be laid to their charge.

17. "But the Lord stood by me, and strengthened me, that by me the preaching may be accomplished, and that all the Gentiles may hear : and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

18. "The Lord hath delivered me from every evil work ; and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

19. "Salute Prisca, and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.

20. "Erastus remained at Corinth. And Trophimus I left sick at Miletus.

21. "Make haste to come before winter. Eubulus and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren salute thee.

22. "The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen."

The EPISTLE of St. PAUL, to TITUS.

CHAP. I.

What kind of men he is to ordain priests. Some men are to be sharply rebuked.

"PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of the elect of God, and the acknowledging of the truth, which is according to piety—

* James and Mambres. The magicians of king Pharaoh.
† All scripture. Every part of divine scripture is certainly profitable for all these ends. But if we would have the whole rule of christian faith and practice, we must not be content with those scriptures, which Timothy knew from his infancy, that is, with the old testament alone ; nor yet with the new testament ; without taking along with it the traditions of the apostles, and the interpretation of the church, to which the apostles delivered both the book, and the true meaning of it.

‡ An evangelist, a diligent preacher of the gospel.

3. "But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed to me according to the commandment of God our Saviour :

4. "To Titus, my beloved son, according to the common faith, grace and peace from God the Father, and from Christ Jesus our Saviour.

5. "For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou shouldst set in order the things, which are wanting, and shouldst ordain priests in every city, as I also appointed thee :

6. "If any be without crime, the husband of one wife*, having faithful children, not accused of luxury, nor disobedient.

7. "For a bishop must be without crime, as the steward of God : not proud, not subject to anger, not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre :

8. "But given to hospitality, gentle, sober, just, holy, continent ;

9. "Embracing that faithful word, which is according to doctrine : that he may be able to exhort in sound doctrine, and to convince the gainsayers.

10. "For there are also many disobedient, vain talkers, and seducers—especially those, who are of the circumcision—

11. "Who must be reprov'd, who subvert whole houses, teaching things, which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

12. "One of them, a prophet of their own, said : 'The Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, slothful bellies.'

13. "This testimony is true : wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be found in the faith—

14. "Not attending to Jewish fables, and commandments of men, who turn themselves away from the truth.

15. "All things are clean to the clean : but to the defiled and the unbelievers, nothing is clean : but both their mind and their conscience are defiled.

16. "They confess, that they know God ; but in their deeds they deny him : being abominable, and incredulous, and, to every good work, reprobate.

C H A P. II.

How he is to instruct both old and young. The duty of servants. The christian's rule of life.

"BUT speak thou the things, which become sound doctrine :

2. "That the aged men be sober, chaste, prudent, sound in faith, in charity, in patience :

3. "The aged women, in like manner, in holy attire, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teaching well :

4. "That they may teach the young women prudence, to love their husbands, to love their children.

5. "To be discreet, chaste, sober, having a care of the house, gentle, obedient to their husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed :

6. "Young men in like manner exhort to be sober.

7. "In all things shew thyself an example of good works, in doctrine, in integrity, in gravity.

* Of one wife. See the note upon 1. Tim. iii. 2.
VOL. II.

8. "Sound speech, unblamable, that he, who is on the contrary part, may be afraid, having no evil to say of us.

9. "Exhort servants to be obedient to their masters, in all things pleasing, not contradicting,

10. "Not defrauding, but in all things shewing good fidelity ; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

"ADMONISH them to be subject to princes, and powers ; to obey at a word ; to be ready to every good work :

2. "To speak evil of no man, not to be litigious, but gentle, shewing all mildness toward all men.

3. "For we ourselves also were some time unwise, incredulous, erring, slaves to divers desires and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4. "But when the goodness and kindness of God our Saviour appeared ;

5. "Not by the works of justice, which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the laver of regeneration, and renovation of the Holy Ghost,

6. "Whom he hath poured forth upon us abundantly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour :

7. "That being justified by his grace, we may be heirs according to the hope of life everlasting.

8. "It is a faithful saying : and these things I will have thee to affirm constantly : that those, who believe in God, may be careful to excel in good works. These things are good and profitable to men.

9. "But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law : for they are unprofitable and vain.

10. "A man, who is a heretic, after the first and second admonition, avoid :

11. "Knowing that he, who is such a one, is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned by his own judgment."

12. "When I shall send to thee Artemas or Tychicus, make haste to come to me to Nicopolis : for there I have determined to winter.

* By his own judgment. Other offenders are judged, and call out of the church, by the sentence of the pastors of the same church. Heretics, more unhappy, run out of the church of their own accord ; and, by so doing, give judgment and sentence against their own souls.

13. "Send forward Zenas the lawyer, and Apollo carefully, that nothing be wanting to them.
 14. "And let our men also learn to excel in good works for necessary uses; that they be not unfruitful.

15. "All, who are with me, salute thee: salute those, who love us in the faith. The grace of God be with you all. Amen."

The EPISTLE of St. PAUL to PHILEMON.

He commends the faith and charity of Philemon: and sends back to him his fugitive servant, whom he had converted in prison.

"PAUL, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother: to Philemon, our beloved and fellow-labourer,

2. "And to Appia our dearest sister, and to Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the church which is in thy house:

3. "Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. "I give thanks to my God, always making a remembrance of thee in my prayers,

5. "Hearing of thy charity and faith, which thou hast in the Lord Jesus, and towards all the saints:

6. "That the communication of thy faith may be made evident in the acknowledgment of every good work, which is in you through Christ Jesus:

7. "For I have had great joy and consolation in thy charity: because the bowels of the saints have been refreshed by thee, brother.

8. "Wherefore though I might have much confidence in Christ Jesus, to command thee that, which is to the purpose:

9. "For charity sake I rather beseech, thou being such a one, as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ;

10. "I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my chains,

11. "Who heretofore was unprofitable to thee, but now profitable both to me and to thee:

12. "Whom I have sent back to thee. And do thou receive him as my own bowels:

13. "Whom I would have detained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered to me in the bands of the gospel:

14. "But without thy counsel I would do nothing; that thy good deed might not be as it were of necessity, but voluntary.

15. "For perhaps he therefore departed for a season from thee, that thou mightest receive him for ever:

16. "Not now as a servant, but instead of a servant, a most dear brother, especially to me: but how much more to thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord!

17. "If therefore thou count me a partner, receive him as myself:

18. "And if he have wronged thee in any thing, or be in thy debt: put it to my account.

19. "I Paul have written with my own hand: I will repay it: not to say to thee, that thou owest me thy own self also.

20. "Yea, brother: may I enjoy thee in the Lord; refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21. "Trusting in thy obedience, I have written to thee: knowing, that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22. "But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I hope, that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23. "Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus, salutes thee,

24. "Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow-labourers.

25. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen."

The EPISTLE of St. PAUL, to the HEBREWS.

CHAP. I.

God spoke of old by the prophets, but now by his Son, who is incomparably greater than the angels.

"GOD having spoken on divers occasions, and many ways, in times past, to the fathers by the prophets: last of all,

2. "In these days hath spoken to us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the world:

3. "Who being the splendor of his glory, and the figure* of his substance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, making purgation† of sins, sitteth on the right-hand of the majesty on high;

* The figure, χαρακτωρ. That is, the express image, and most perfect resemblance.

† Making purgation. That is, having purged away our sins by his passion.

4. "Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath inherited a more excellent name above them.

5. "For, to which of the angels hath he said at any time: 'Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee?' And again: 'I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?'

6. "And again, when he introduceth the first begotten into the world, he saith: 'And let all the angels of God adore him.'

7. "And to the angels indeed he saith: 'He, who maketh his angels, spirits: and his ministers, a flame of fire.'

8. "But to the Son: 'Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of justice is the sceptre of thy kingdom.'

9. 'Thou hast loved justice, and hated iniquity:

therefore, God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above them that are partakers with thee.

10. "And: 'Thou in the beginning, O Lord, hast founded the earth: and the heavens are the works of thy hands.'

11. 'They shall perish, but thou shalt continue: and they shall all grow old as a garment:

12. 'And as a vesture shalt thou change them; and they shall be changed: but thou art the self-same; and thy years shall not fail.'

13. "But to which of the angels said he at any time: 'Sit on my right-hand, until I make thy enemies thy footstool?'

14. "Are they not all ministering spirits, sent to minister for those, who shall receive the inheritance of salvation?

C H A P. II.

The transgression of the precepts of the Son of God is far more condemnable, than of those of the old testament given by angels.

"THEREFORE ought we more diligently to observe the things, which we have heard; lest at any time we should let them slip.

2. "For if the word, spoken by the angels, became steadfast—and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward—

3. "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation? which having begun to be declared by the Lord, was confirmed to us, by those, who heard him.

4. "God also bearing them witness by signs and wonders, and divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will.

5. "For God hath not put in subjection to the angels the world to come, of which we speak.

6. "But one in a certain place hath testified, saying: 'What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?'

7. 'Thou hast made him a little less than the angels: thou hast crowned him with glory and honour; and hast set him over the works of thy hands:'

8. "Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he subjected all things to him, he left nothing not subject to him. But now we see not as yet all things subject to him.

9. "But we see Jesus, who was made a little less than the angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that through the grace of God he might taste death for all.

10. "For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, who had brought many children into glory, to make the author of their salvation perfect by suffering†.

11. "For both he, who sanctifieth, and those, who are sanctified, are all from one. For which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren, saying:

12. 'I will declare thy name to my brethren: in the midst of the church will I praise thee.'

13. "And again: 'I will put my trust in him.'

† Perfect by suffering. By suffering, Christ was to enter into his glory, Luke xxiv. 26. which the apostle here calls being made perfect.

And again: 'Behold, I and my children, whom God hath given me.'

14. "Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same; that, through death, he might destroy him, who had the empire of death, that is to say, the devil:

15. "And might deliver those, who, through the fear of death, were all their life-time subject to bondage.

16. "For no where doth he† take hold of the angels: but of the seed of Abraham he taketh hold:

17. "Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like to his brethren, that he might become a merciful and faithful high-priest with God, to make a reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18. "For in that, wherein he himself hath suffered and been tempted, he is able to succour those also, who are tempted.

C H A P. III.

Christ is more excellent than Moses: and therefore we must adhere to him by faith and obedience.

"WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly vocation, consider the apostle and high priest of our profession, Jesus:

1. "Who is faithful to him, who appointed him, as was also Moses in all his house.

3. "For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as he, who hath built the house, hath more honour than the house.

4. "For every house is built by some man: but he, who created all things, is God.

5. "And Moses indeed was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things, which were to be spoken:

6. "But Christ, as a Son in his own house; which house are we, if we retain a firm confidence and the glory of hope unto the end.

7. "Wherefore as the Holy Ghost saith: 'To-day if ye shall hear his voice,

8. 'Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the desert,

9. 'Where your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works

10. 'Forty years: for which cause I was offended with this generation: and I said: 'They always err in heart. And they have not known my ways:

11. 'As I have sworn in my wrath; if they shall enter into my rest.'

12. "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, to depart from the living God.

13. "But exhort one another every day, while to-day is named: lest any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin.

14. "For we are made partakers of Christ: yet so if we hold the beginning of his substance firm unto the end.

15. "While it is said: 'To-day if ye shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in that provocation.'

† No where doth he, &c. That is, he never took upon him the nature of angels, but that of man of the seed of Abraham.

16. "For some, who heard, did provoke: but not all, who came out of Egypt by Moses.

17. "And with whom was he offended forty years? Was it not with those, who sinned, whose carcases were laid in the desert?

18. "And to whom did he swear, that they should not enter into his rest—but to those, who were incredulous?

19. "And we see, that they could not enter in, because of unbelief.

C H A P. IV.

The Christian's rest: we are to enter into it, through Jesus Christ.

"LET us therefore fear, lest perhaps forsaking the promise of entering into his rest, any of you be thought to be wanting.

2. "For to us also it hath been declared, as well as to them: but the word of hearing did not profit them, not being mixed with a faith of those things, which they heard.

3. "For we, who have believed, shall enter into rest; as he said: 'As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest:' and this when the works from the foundation of the world were finished.

4. "For in a certain place, he spoke of the seventh day thus: 'And God rested the seventh day from all his works.'

5. "And in this place again: 'If they shall enter into my rest.'

6. "Seeing then it remaineth, that some are to enter into it, and those, to whom it was first preached, did not enter in, because of unbelief:

7. "Again he limiteth a certain day, saying in David: 'To-day, after so long a time, as it is above said: to-day if you shall hear his voice; harden not your hearts.'

8. "For if Jesus* had given them rest; he would never have afterwards spoken of another day.

9. "There remaineth therefore a rest for the people of God.

10. "For he, who is entered into his rest; he also hath rested from his own works, as God from his.

11. "Let us hasten therefore to enter into that rest; lest any man fall into the same example of unbelief.

12. "For the word of God is living and effectual, and more penetrating, than any two-edged sword: and reaching unto the division of the soul and the spirit, of the joints also, and the marrow; and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13. "Neither is there any creature invisible in his sight: but all things are naked and open to the eyes of him, to whom our speech is.

14. "Having therefore a great high priest, who hath penetrated the heavens, Jesus the Son of God—let us hold fast our confession.

15. "For we have not a high priest, who cannot have compassion on our infirmities: but one tempted in all things; like as we are, yet without sin.

16. "Let us go therefore with confidence to the throne of grace; that we may obtain mercy, and find grace in seasonable aid.

C H A P. V.

The office of a high priest. Christ is our high priest.

"FOR every high priest taken from among men is appointed for men in the things that appertain to God, that he may offer up gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2. "Who can have compassion on those, who are ignorant, and err: because he himself also is encompassed with infirmity:

3. "And therefore he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4. "Neither doth any man take the honour to himself, but he, who is called by God, as Aaron was.

5. "So also Christ did not glorify himself to be made a high priest: but he, who said to him: 'Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.'

6. "As he saith also in another place: 'Thou art a priest for ever, according to the order of Melchisedech.'

7. "Who in the days of his flesh, offering up prayers and supplications, with a strong cry and tears, to him, who was able to save him from death, was heard for his reverence.

8. "And whereas indeed he was the Son of God, he learned obedience by the things, which he suffered:

9. "And being consummated, he became the cause of eternal salvation to all those, who obey him,

10. "Called by God a high priest according to the order of Melchisedech.

11. "Of whom we have much to say, and hard to be intelligibly uttered: because ye have become weak to hear.

12. "For whereas for the time ye ought to be masters; ye have need to be taught again what are the first rudiments of the word of God: and ye have become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13. "For every one, who is a partaker of milk, is unskilful in the word of justice; for he is a little child.

14. "But solid meat is for the perfect, for those, who by use have their senses exercised to the discerning of good and evil.

C H A P. VI.

He warns them of the danger of falling by apostasy: and exhorts them to patience and perseverance.

"WHEREFORE leaving the word of the beginning† of Christ, let us go on to things more perfect—not laying again the foundation of penance from dead works, and of faith towards God,

2. "Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of the imposition of hands, and of the resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.

3. "And this we will do, if God will permit.

4. "For it is impossible‡ for those, who were once enlightened, have tasted also the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost—

† The word of the beginning. The first rudiments of the christian doctrine.

‡ It is impossible, &c. The meaning is, that it is impossible for such as have fallen after baptism, to be again baptized; and very hard for such as have apostatized from the faith, after having received many great graces, to return again to the happy state, from which they fell.

* Jesus. Josue, who in Greek is called Jesus.

5. "Have moreover tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6. "And have fallen away—to be renewed again unto penance, crucifying again to themselves the Son of God, and making a mockery of him.

7. "For the earth, which drinketh in the rain, which cometh often upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for those by whom it is tilled, receiveth blessing from God.

8. "But that, which bringeth forth thorns and briars, is rejected, and very near to a curse, whose end is to be burnt.

9. "But, my dearly beloved, we trust better things of you, and nearer to salvation: though we thus speak.

10. "For God is not unjust, that he should forget your work, and the love, which ye have shewn in his name, ye, who have ministered, and do minister to the saints.

11. "And we desire, that every one of you should shew forth the same carefulness to the accomplishing of hope unto the end:

12. "That ye become not slothful, but followers of those, who through faith and patience shall inherit the promises.

13. "For God making a promise to Abraham, because he had no one greater by whom he might swear, swore by himself,

14. "Saying: 'Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying, I will multiply thee.'

15. "And in after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16. "For men swear by one greater than themselves; and an oath, for confirmation, is the end of all their controversy.

17. "Wherein God meaning more abundantly to shew to the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, interposed an oath:

18. "That by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have the strongest comfort, who have fled for refuge, to hold fast the hope set before us:

19. "Which we have as an anchor to the soul, sure and firm, and which entereth in even within the veil;

20. "Where the forerunner Jesus is entered for us, made a high priest for ever according to the order of Melchisedech.

C H A P. VII.

The priesthood of Christ, according to the order of Melchisedech, exceeds the Levitical priesthood, and puts an end both to that, and to the law.

"FOR this Melchisedech, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him:

2. "To whom also Abraham divided the tithes of all: who indeed first by interpretation is king of justice—and then also king of Salem, that is, king of peace,

3. "Without father*, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life, but likened unto the Son of God, continueth a priest for ever.

4. "Now consider how great this man is, to whom also Abraham the patriarch gave tithes out of the chief things.

5. "And indeed they of the sons of Levi, who receive the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren: though they themselves also came out of the loins of Abraham.

6. "But he, whose pedigree is not numbered among them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him, who had the promises.

7. "And without all contradiction, that, which is less, is blessed by the better.

8. "And here indeed, men, who die, receive tithes: but there it is witnessed, that he liveth.

9. "And (as it may be said) even Levi, who received tithes, paid tithes by Abraham:

10. "For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedech met him.

11. "If then perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law) what further need was there, that another priest should rise according to the order of Melchisedech, and not be called according to the order of Aaron?

12. "For the priesthood being translated, it is necessary, that a translation also be made of the law.

13. "For he, of whom these things are spoken, is of another tribe, of which no one gave attendance at the altar.

14. "For it is evident, that our Lord sprang out of Juda: in which tribe Moses spoke nothing concerning priests.

15. "And it is yet far more evident; if according to the similitude of Melchisedech, there arise another priest,

16. "Who is made not according to the law of a carnal commandment, but according to the power of an indissoluble life:

17. "For he testifieth: 'Thou art a priest for ever, according to the order of Melchisedech:'

18. "There is verily a setting aside of the former commandment, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof:

19. "For the law brought nothing to perfection; but an introduction of a better hope, by which we approach to God.

20. "And in as much as it is not without an oath, (for the others indeed were made priests without an oath;

21. "But this with an oath, by him, who said to him: 'The Lord hath sworn, and he will not repent: thou art a priest for ever:')

22. "By so much is Jesus made a surety of a better testament.

23. "And the others indeed were made many priests†, because, by reason of death, they were not suffered to continue:

* Without father, &c. Not that he had no father, &c. but that neither his father, nor his pedigree, nor his birth, nor his death is set down in scripture.

† Many priests. The apostle notes this difference between the high priests of the law, and our high priest Jesus Christ; that they being removed by death, made way for their successors.

24. "But this, because he continueth for ever, hath an everlasting priesthood;

25. "Whereby he is able also to save for ever those, who come unto God by himself: always living to make intercession* for us.

26. "For it was fitting, that we should have such a high priest, holy, innocent, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens:

27. "Who needeth not daily (as other priests) to offer sacrifices first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, by offering up himself.

28. "For the law maketh men priests, who have infirmity: but the word of the oath, which is after the law, the Son who is perfected for evermore.

C H A P. VIII.

More of the excellence of the priesthood of Christ: and of the new testament.

"NOW of the things spoken, the sum is: 'We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of Majesty in the heavens.

2. 'A minister of the holiest, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord hath pitched, and not man.'

3. 'For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary, that he also should have something to offer:

4. 'If then he were on earth, he would not be a priest: seeing there would be others, who should offer gifts according to the law,

5. 'Who serve unto|| the example and shadow of heavenly things. As it was answered to Moses, when he was to finish the tabernacle: 'See,' saith he, 'that thou make all things according to the pattern, which was shewn thee on the mount.'

6. 'But now he hath obtained a better ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better testament, which is established on better promises.

7. 'For if that first had been faultless, there should not indeed a place have been sought for a second.

8. 'For finding fault with them, he saith: 'Behold, the days shall come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new testament with the house of Israel, and with the house of Juda,

9. 'Not according to the testament, which I made to their fathers, on the day when I took them by the sors; whereas our Lord Jesus is a priest for ever, and hath no successor; but liveth and concurreth for ever with his ministers, the priests of the new testament, in all their functions.

edly, I hat no one priest of the law, nor all of them together, could offer that absolute sacrifice of everlasting redemption, which our one high priest, Jesus Christ, has offered once, and for ever.

* Make intercession. Christ, as man, continually maketh intercession for us, by representing his passion to his Father.

† The holies; that is, the sanctuary.

‡ If then he were on earth, &c. That is, if he were not of a higher condition, than the Levitical order of earthly priests, and had not another kind of sacrifice to offer; he should be excluded by them from the priesthood, and its functions, which by the law were appropriated to their tribe.

|| Who serve unto, &c. The priesthood of the law and its functions were a kind of an example and shadow of what is done by Christ in his church militant and triumphant, of which the tabernacle was a pattern.

hand, to lead them out of the land of Egypt: for they continued not in my testament: and I regarded them not, saith the Lord:

10. 'For this is the testament, which I will make to the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord: I will give my laws into their mind, and I will write them in their heart: and I will be their God, and they shall be my people:

11. 'And they shall not teach § every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying: 'Know the Lord:' for all shall know me from the least to the greatest of them:

12. 'Because I will be merciful to their iniquities: and their sins I will remember no more.'

13. 'Now insaying, 'A new††,' he hath made the former old. And that, which decayeth and groweth old, is near its end.

C H A P. IX.

The sacrifices of the law were far inferior to that of Christ.

"THE former indeed had also justifications of worship, and a worldly sanctuary.

2. 'For the first tabernacle was made, wherein were the candlesticks, and the table, and the setting forth of loaves, which is called the Holy.

3. 'And after the second veil, the tabernacle, which is called the Holy of Holies:

4. 'Having the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant covered about on every part with gold, in which was the golden urn, which had manna, and the rod of Aaron, which had blossomed, and the tables of the covenant:

5. 'And over it were the cherubim of glory overshadowing the propitiatory: of which it is not needful to speak now particularly.

6. 'Now these things being thus ordered; into the first tabernacle the priests indeed always entered, accomplishing the offices of the sacrifices:

7. 'But into the second, the high priest alone, once a year; not without blood, which he offereth for his own, and the people's ignorance:

8. 'The Holy Ghost signifying this, that the way into the sanctuary was not yet made manifest, while the former tabernacle was yet standing:

9. 'Which is a parable of the time then present; according to which, gifts and sacrifices are offered, which cannot, as to the conscience, make him perfect, who serveth, only in meats and in drinks,

10. 'And divers washings, and justifications of the flesh, laid on them until the time of correction‡‡.

11. 'But Christ being present, a high priest of the good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hands, that is, not of this creation:

12. 'Neither by the blood of goats, or of calves,

§ They shall not teach, &c. So great shall be the light and grace of the new testament, that it shall not be necessary to inculcate to the faithful the belief and knowledge of the true God; for they shall all know him.

†† A new: supply covenant.

‡‡ Of correction, viz. when Christ should correct and settle all things.

but by his own blood, entered once into the sanctuary, having obtained eternal redemption*.

13. "For if the blood of goats and of oxen, and the ashes of an heifer being sprinkled, sanctify such as are defiled, to the cleansing of the flesh—

14. "How much more shall the blood of Christ, who, through the Holy Ghost, offered himself without spot to God, cleanse our conscience from dead works, to serve the living God!

15. "And therefore he is the Mediator of the new testament; that by means of his death, for the redemption of those transgressions, which were under the former testament, those, who are called, may receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16. "For where there is a testament, the death of the testator must of necessity intervene:

17. "For a testament is of force, after men are dead: otherwise it is not yet of force, while the testator liveth.

18. "Whereupon neither was the first indeed dedicated without blood.

19. "For when every commandment of the law had been read by Moses to all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop; and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people;

20. "Saying: 'This is the blood of the testament, which God hath enjoined unto you.'

21. "The tabernacle also and all the vessels of the ministry, in like manner, he sprinkled with blood:

22. "And almost all things, according to the law, are cleansed with blood: and without the shedding of blood, there is no remission.

23. "It is necessary therefore, that the patterns of heavenly things should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24. "For Jesus hath not entered into the holy places made with hands, the patterns of the true—but into heaven itself, that he may appear now in the presence of God for us:

25. "Nor yet that he should offer himself often†, as the high priest entereth into the holy places every year with the blood of others:

26. "For then he ought to have suffered often from the beginning of the world: but now once at the end of ages, he hath appeared for the destruction of sin, by the sacrifice of himself.

27. "And as it is appointed for men once to die, and after this the judgment:

* Eternal redemption. By that one sacrifice of his blood, once offered on the cross, Christ our Lord paid and exhibited, once for all, the general price and ransom of all mankind; which no other priest could do; and he himself could do but once; because he could die but once.

† Offer himself often. Christ shall never more offer himself in sacrifice, in that violent, painful, and bloody manner; nor can there be any occasion for it; since by that one sacrifice upon the cross, he has furnished the full ransom, redemption, and remedy for all the sins of the world. But this hinders not, but that he may offer himself daily in the sacred mysteries in an unbloody manner, for the daily application of that one sacrifice of redemption to our souls.

28. "So also Christ was offered once, to exhaust|| the sins of many; the second time he shall appear without sin to those, who expect him, unto salvation.

CHAP. X.

Because of the insufficiency of the sacrifices of the law Christ our high priest shed his own blood for us, offering up once for all the sacrifice of our redemption. He exhorts them to perseverance.

"FOR the law having a shadow of the good things to come, not the very image of the things; can never with those same sacrifices, which they offer continually every year, make the comers thereunto perfect:

2. "For then they would have ceased to be offered: because the worshippers once cleansed should have no conscience of sin any longer:

3. "But in them there is made a remembrance of sins every year.

4. "For it is impossible, that, with the blood of oxen and goats, sins should be taken away.

5. "Therefore coming into the world, he saith: 'Sacrifice and oblation thou wouldst not: but a body thou hast fitted to me:

6. 'Holocausts for sin did not please thee.'

7. "Then said I: 'Behold, I come: in the head of the book it is written of me: that I should do thy will, O God.'

8. "In saying before: 'Sacrifices, and oblations, and holocausts for sin thou wouldst not; neither are they pleasing to thee, which are offered according to the law.'

9. "Then said I: 'Behold, I come to do thy will, O God:' He taketh away the first, that he may establish that, which followeth.

10. "By which will, we are sanctified by the oblation of the body of Jesus Christ once.

11. "And every priest indeed standeth daily ministering, and often offering the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

12. "But he offering one sacrifice for sins, for ever sitteth on the right hand of God,

13. "From henceforth expecting, until his enemies be made his foot-stool.

14. "For by one oblation he hath perfected for ever those, who are sanctified.

15. "And the Holy Ghost also doth testify this to us. For after that he had said:

16. 'And this is the testament, which I will make unto them after those days, saith the Lord, giving my laws in their hearts; and in their minds I will write them:

17. 'And their sins and iniquities I will remember no more.'

|| To exhaust, that is, to empty or draw out to the very bottom, by a plentiful and perfect redemption.

† They would have ceased. If they had been of themselves perfect to all the intents of redemption and remission, as Christ's death is; there would have been no occasion for so often repeating them: as there is no occasion for Christ's dying any more for our sins.

18. "Now where there is a remission of these, there is no more an oblation for sin†.

19. "Having therefore, brethren, a confidence in the entering into the sanctuary by the blood of Christ,

20. "A new and living way, which he hath dedicated for us through the veil, that is to say, his flesh,

21. "And a high priest over the house of God :

22. "Let us draw near with a true heart in fulness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with clean water,

23. "Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering (for he is faithful, who hath promised)

24. "And let us consider one another, to provoke unto charity and to good works :

25. "Not forsaking our assembly, as some are accustomed—but comforting one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

26. "For if we sin wilfully*, after having received the knowledge of the truth, there is now left no sacrifice for sins,

27. "But a certain dreadful expectation of judgment, and the rage of a fire, which shall consume the adversaries.

28. "A man making void the law of Moses, dieth without any mercy under two or three witnesses :

29. "How much more, do ye think, he deserveth worse punishments, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath esteemed the blood of the testament unclean, with which he was sanctified, and hath offered an affront to the Spirit of grace ?

30. "For we know him, who hath said : 'Vengeance belongeth to me ; and I will repay.' And again : 'The Lord shall judge his people.'

31. "It is a dreadful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32. "But call to mind the former days, wherein being illuminated, ye sustained a great conflict of afflictions,

33. "And on the one part indeed, by reproaches and tribulations, made a spectacle : and on the other part, became companions of those, who lived in that manner.

34. "For ye both had compassion on those, who were in chains, and received with joy the plundering of your goods, knowing, that ye have a better and permanent substance.

35. "Do not therefore lose your confidence, which hath a great reward.

36. "For patience is necessary for you : that doing the will of God, ye may receive the promise.

† There is no more an oblation for sin. Where there is a full remission of sins, as in baptism, there is no more occasion for a sin-offering to be made for such sins already remitted : and as for sins committed afterwards, they can only be remitted in virtue of the one oblation of Christ's death.

* If we sin wilfully. He speaks of the sin of wilful apostasy from the known truth ; after which, as we cannot be baptized again, we cannot expect to have that abundant remission of sins, which Christ purchased by his death, applied to our souls in that ample manner, as it is in baptism : but we have rather all manner of reason to look for a dreadful judgment ; the more, because apostates from the known truth seldom or never have the grace to return to it.

37. "For yet a little while, and he, who is to come, will come, and will not delay.

38. "But my just one liveth by faith : but if he withdraw himself, he shall not please my soul.

39. "But we are not the children of withdrawing unto perdition, but of faith to the saving of the soul.

C H A P. XI.

What faith is : its wonderful fruits and efficacy, demonstrated in the fathers.

"NOW faith is the substance of things hoped for—the evidence of things, which are not seen.

2. "For by this the ancients obtained a testimony.

3. "By faith we understand, that the world was framed by the word of God ; that visible things might be made from invisible.

4. "By faith Abel offered to God a sacrifice exceeding that of Cain, by which he obtained a testimony, that he was just—God giving testimony to his gifts ; and by it he being dead, yet speaketh.

5. "By faith Enoch was translated, that he should not see death, and he was not found ; because God had translated him : for before his translation, he had testimony, that he pleased God.

6. "But without faith it is impossible to please God ; for he, who cometh to God, must believe, that he is, and is a rewarder of those, who seek him.

7. "By faith Noe having received an answer concerning those things, which as yet were not seen, moved with fear, framed the ark for the saving of his family, by which he condemned the world ; and was instructed heir of the promise, which is by faith.

8. "By faith he, who is called Abraham†, obeyed to go out into a place, which he was to receive for an inheritance : and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9. "By faith he dwelt in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in cottages with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise.

10. "For he looked for a city, which hath foundations ; whose builder and maker is God.

11. "By faith also Sara herself, being barren, received strength to conceive seed, even past the time of age ; because she believed, that he was faithful, who had promised.

12. "For which cause there sprung, even from one (and him the same as dead) as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea-shore, innumerable.

13. "All these died according to faith, not having received the promises, but beholding them afar off, and saluting them, and confessing, that they are pilgrims and strangers on the earth.

14. "For those, who say these things, do signify that they seek a country.

15. "And truly, if they had been mindful of that, from whence they came out, they had doubtless time to return :

16. "But now they desire a better, that is to say, a heavenly one. Where God is not ashamed to be called their God : for he hath prepared for them a city.

† He, who is called Abraham ; or, Abraham being called.

17. "By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered Isaac; and he, who had received the promises, offered up his only-begotten Son:

18. "To whom it was said: 'In Isaac shall thy seed be called:'

19. "Accounting that God is able to raise up even from the dead: from whence also he received him for a parable.*

20. "By faith also Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, concerning things to come.

21. "By faith Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph: and worshipped the top of his rod.†

22. "By faith Joseph, when he was dying, made mention of the going out of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23. "By faith Moses, when he was born, was hidden three months by his parents; because they saw he was a comely babe; and they feared not the king's edict.

24. "By faith Moses, when he was grown up, denied himself to be the son of Pharaoh's daughter,

25. "Choosing rather to suffer persecution with the people of God, than to have the pleasure of sin for a time,

26. "Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasure of the Egyptians: for he looked unto the reward.

27. "By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the fierceness of the king: for he endured as seeing him, who is invisible.

28. "By faith he celebrated the passch, and the shedding of the blood: that he, who destroyed the first-born, might not touch them.

29. "By faith they passed through the Red sea, as by dry land; which the Egyptians attempting, were swallowed up.

30. "By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, by the going round them seven days.

31. "By faith Rahab the harlot perished not with the unbelievers, receiving the spies with peace.

32. "And what shall I yet say? For the time would fail me, to tell of Gedeon, of Barac, of Samson, of Jephthe, of David, of Samuel, and of the prophets;

33. "Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought justice, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,

34. "Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, recovered from their infirmity, became valiant in war, put to flight the armies of the aliens.

35. "Women received their dead raised to life again. But others were racked, not accepting deliverance, that they might find a better resurrection.

36. "And others had trial of mockeries and stripes, moreover also of hands and prisons:

37. "They were stoned; they were cut asunder; they were tempted; they were put to death by the sword; they wandered about in sheep-skins, in goat skins, being in want, distressed, afflicted:

38. "Of whom the world was not worthy; wandering in deserts, in mountains, and in dens, and in caves of the earth.

39. "And all these being approved by the testimony of faith, received not the promise—

40. "God providing something better for us, that they should not be perfected without us.

C H A P. XII.

Exhortation to constancy under their crosses. The danger of abusing the grace of the new testament.

"AND therefore we also having so great a cloud of witnesses over us, laying aside every weight, and the sin that surrounded us, by patience let us run to the fight proposed unto us:

2. "Looking on Jesus the Author and Finisher of faith, who having joy proposed unto him, underwent the cross, despising the shame, and sitteth on the right hand of the throne of God.

3. "For think diligently upon him, who endureth such opposition from sinners against himself: that ye be not wearied, fainting in your minds.

4. "For ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin:

5. "And ye have forgotten the consolation, which speaketh to you, as to children, saying: 'My son, neglect not the discipline of the Lord: neither be thou wearied, while thou art rebuked by him.'

6. "For whom the Lord loveth, he chastiseth; and he scourgeth every son, whom he receiveth."

7. "Persevere under correction. God offereth himself to you as to sons: for what son is he, whom the Father doth not correct?

8. "But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are made partakers; then are ye bastards and not sons.

9. "Moreover we have had indeed for our instructors, the fathers of our flesh, and we revered them. Shall we not much more obey the Father of spirits, and live?

10. "And they indeed for a few days chastised us according to their own pleasure; but he, for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11. "Now no chastisement for the present seemeth to bring with it joy, but sorrow: but afterwards it will yield, to those, who are exercised by it, the most peaceable fruit of justice.

12. "Wherefore lift up the hands, which hang down, and the feeble knees,

13. "And make straight steps with your feet; that no one halting may go astray; but rather be healed.

14. "Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see God:

Z

* For a parable; that is, as a figure of Christ, slain and coming to life again.

† Worshipped the top of his rod. The apostle here follows the ancient Greek bible, of the seventy interpreters (which translates in this manner, Gen. xlvii. v. 31.) and alleges this fact of Jacob, in paying a relative honour and veneration to the top of the rod or sceptre of Joseph, as to a figure of Christ's sceptre and kingdom, as an instance and argument of his faith. But protestants, who are no friends to this relative honour, have corrupted the text, by translating it, As worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff; as if this circumstance of leaning upon his staff, were any argument of Jacob's faith, or worthy the being thus particularly taken notice of by the Holy Ghost.

15. "Looking diligently, lest any man be wanting to the grace of God—lest any root of bitterness springing up do hinder, and by it many be defiled :

16. "Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one mess sold his first birth-right :

17. "For know ye, that afterwards, when he desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected : for he found no place of repentance*, although with tears he had sought it.

18. "For ye are not come to the mountain, that might be touched, and the burning fire, nor to a whirlwind, and darkness, and tempest,

19. "And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which those, who heard, excused themselves, that the word might not be spoken to them.

20. "For they did not endure that, which was said : 'And if so much as a beast shall touch the mount, it shall be stoned.'

21. "And so terrible was that, which was seen, Moses said : 'I am frightened, and tremble.'

22. "But ye are come to mount Sion, and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to the company of many thousands of angels,

23. "And to the church of the first-born, who are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the just made perfect,

24. "And to Jesus the Mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinkling of blood, which speaketh better than that of Abel.

25. "See, that ye refuse not him, who speaketh. For if those escaped not, who refused him, who spoke upon earth ; much more shall not we, who turn away from him, who speaketh to us from heaven ;

26. "Whose voice then moved the earth : but now he promiseth, saying : 'Yet once ; and I will move not only the earth, but heaven also.'

27. "And in that he saith, 'Yet once :' he signifieth the translation of the moveable things, as of things, which are made, that those things may remain, which are immoveable.

28. "Wherefore we receiving an immoveable kingdom have grace : whereby let us serve, pleasing God with fear and reverence.

29. "For our God is a consuming fire.

‡ His reproach. His cross.

The Catholic* EPISTLE of St. JAMES the APOSTLE.

CHAP. I.

The benefit of tribulations. Prayer with faith. God is the author of all good, but not of evil. We must be slow to anger—and not hearers only, but doers of the word. Of bridling the tongue; and of pure religion.

JA M E S the servant of God, and of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes, which are dispersed, greeting.

2. "My brethren, count it all joy, when ye shall fall into divers temptations :

3. "Knowing, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4. "And patience hath a perfect work ; that ye may be perfect and entire, deficient in nothing.

5. "But if any of you want wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all abundantly, and upbraideth not : and it shall be given him.

6. "But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering : for he, who wavereth, is like a wave of the sea, which is moved and carried about by the wind.

7. "Therefore let not that man think, that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8. "A double-minded man is inconstant in all his ways.

9. "But let the brother of low condition glory in his being exalted ;

10. "But the rich, in his being low ; because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11. "For the sun rose with a burning heat, and parched the grass, and the flower thereof fell off, and the beauty of the shape thereof perished : so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12. "Blessed is the man, who endureth temptation : for when he hath been proved, he shall receive the crown of life, which God hath promised to those, who love him.

13. "Let no man, when he is tempted, say, that he is tempted of God : for God is not a tempter of evils ; and he tempteth no man.

14. "But every man is tempted being drawn away by his own concupiscence, and allured.

15. "Then when concupiscence hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin. But sin, when it is completed, begetteth death.

16. "Do not err therefore, my dearest brethren:

17. "Every best gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no change, nor shadow of vicissitude.

18. "For of his own will hath he begotten us by the word of truth, that we might be some beginning of his creatures.†

19. "Ye know, my dearest brethren. And let every man be swift to hear ; but slow to speak, and slow to anger.

* Catholic. This epistle is called Catholic or universal ; because it is not written to any one particular church or congregation—but to the faithful in general.

† Some beginning : that is, a kind of first-fruits of his creatures.

20. "For the anger of man worketh not the justice of God.

21. "Wherefore, casting away all uncleanness, and abundance of malice, with meekness receive the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22. "But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23. "For if a man be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he shall be compared to a man beholding his natural countenance in a glass.

24. "For he beheld himself, and went his way, and presently forgot what manner of man he was.

25. "But he, who hath looked into the perfect law of liberty, and hath continued in it, not becoming a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work ; this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26. "And if any man think himself to be religious, not bridling his tongue, but deceiving his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27. "Religion pure and unspotted with God and the Father is this : to visit the fatherless and widows in their tribulation, and to keep one's self undefiled from the world.

CHAP. II.

Against respect of persons. The danger of transgressing one point of the law. Faith is dead without works.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory with respect of persons.

2. "For if there come into your assembly a man having a gold ring, in fine apparel, and there come in also a poor man in mean attire,

3. "And ye cast your eyes on him, who is clothed with the fine apparel, and say to him : 'Sit thou here in a good place ;' and say to the poor man : 'Stand thou there, or sit under my foot-stool :'

4. "Do ye not judge within yourselves, and are become judges of unjust thoughts ?

5. "Hearken, my dearest brethren : hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, which God hath promised to those, who love him ?

6. "But ye have dishonoured the poor. Do not the rich oppress you by might ; and do not they draw you before the judgment-seats ?

7. "Do not they blaspheme the good name, that is invoked upon you ?

8. "If then ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scriptures : 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself ;' ye do well ;

9. "But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, being reprov'd by the law as transgressors.

10. "Now, whosoever shall keep the whole law, but offend in one point, is become guilty of all†.

§ With respect of persons. The meaning is, that in matters relating to faith, the administering of the sacraments, and other spiritual functions in God's church, there should be no respect of persons ; but that the souls of the poor should be as much regarded as those of the rich.

† Guilty of all ; that is, he becomes a transgressor of the law in such a manner, that the observing of all other points

11. "For he, who said, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery,' said also, 'Thou shalt not kill.' Now if thou do not commit adultery, but shalt kill: thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12. "So speak ye, and so do, as being to be judged by the law of liberty.

13. "For judgment without mercy to him, who hath not done mercy: and mercy exalteth itself above judgment.

14. "What shall it profit, my brethren, if a man say, he hath faith, but hath not works? Shall faith be able to save him?

15. "And if a brother or sister be naked, and want daily food,

16. "And one of you say to them: 'Go in peace; be ye warmed and filled:' yet give them not those things that are necessary for the body—what shall it profit?

17. "Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself.

18. "But some man will say: 'Thou hast faith; and I have works; shew me thy faith without works; and I will shew thee my faith, by works.'

19. "Thou believest, that there is one God. Thou doest well: the devils also believe and tremble.

20. "But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21. "Was not Abraham our father justified by works, offering up Isaac his son upon the altar?

22. "Seest thou, that faith did co-operate with his works—and by works faith was made perfect?

23. "And the scripture was fulfilled, saying: 'Abraham believed God; and it was reputed to him to justice; and he was called the friend of God.'

24. "Do ye see that by works a man is justified; and not by faith only?

25. "And in like manner also Rahab the harlot, was not she justified by works, receiving the messengers, and sending them out another way?

26. "For as the body without the spirit is dead; so also faith without works is dead.

C H A P. III.

Of the evils of the tongue. Of the difference between the earthly and heavenly wisdom.

"BE not many masters, my brethren, knowing that ye receive the greater judgment.

2. "For in many things we all offend. If any man offend not in word; the same is a perfect man. He is able also with a bridle to turn about the whole body.

3. "For if we put bits into the mouths of horses, that they may obey us, and we turn about their whole body—

4. "Behold also ships, whereas they are great, and are driven by strong winds, yet are they turned about with a small helm, whithersoever the force of the governor willeth.

5. "Even so the tongue is indeed a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how small a fire kindleth a great wood.

will not avail him to salvation; for he despises the Lawgiver, and breaks through the great and general commandment of charity, which is the fulfilling of the whole law.

6. "And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity. The tongue is placed among our members, which defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the wheel of our nativity, being set on fire by hell.

7. "For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of the rest, is tamed, and hath been tamed by mankind:

8. "But the tongue no man can tame—a restless evil, full of deadly poison.

9. "By it we bless God and the Father; and by it we curse men, who are made after the likeness of God.

10. "Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11. "Doth a fountain send forth through the same passage sweet and bitter water?

12. "Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear grapes—or the vine, figs? So neither can the salt water yield sweet.

13. "Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? Let him shew, by a good conversation, his work in the meekness of wisdom.

14. "But if ye have bitter zeal, and there be contentions in your hearts; glory not, and be not liars against the truth.

15. "For this is not wisdom, descending from above: but earthly, sensual, diabolical.

16. "For where envying and contention are, there is inconstancy, and every evil work.

17. "But the wisdom, which is from above, first indeed is chaste, then peaceable, modest, easy to be persuaded, consenting to the good, full of mercy, and good fruits, without judging, without dissimulation.

18. "And the fruit of justice is sown in peace, to those, who make peace.

C H A P. IV.

The evils, which flow from yielding to concupiscence, and being friends to this world. Admonitions against pride, detraction, &c.

"FROM whence are wars and contentions among you? Come they not hence—from your concupiscences, which war in your members?

2. "Ye covet, and have not: ye kill, and envy; and cannot obtain. Ye contend and war, and ye have not; because ye ask not.

3. "Ye ask, and receive not: because ye ask amiss: that ye may consume it on your concupiscences.

4. "Adulterers, know ye not, that the friendship of this world is the enemy of God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of this world, becometh an enemy of God.

5. "Or do ye think, that the scripture saith in vain: 'To envy doth the spirit covet, which dwelleth in you?'

6. "But he giveth greater grace. Wherefore he saith: 'God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.'

7. "Be subject therefore to God; but resist the devil; and he will fly from you.

8. "Approach to God; and he will approach to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

9. "Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your joy into sorrow.

10. "Be humble in the sight of the Lord; and he will exalt you.

11. "Detract not one another, brethren. He, who detracteth his brother, or he, who judgeth his brother, detracteth the law, and judgeth the law. But if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12. "There is one Law-giver and Judge, who is able to destroy and to deliver.

13. "But who art thou, who judgest thy neighbour? Behold now, ye, who say: 'To day or to morrow we will go into such a city: and there we will spend a year; and will traffic, and make gain.'

14. "Whereas ye know not, what shall be on the morrow.

15. "For what is your life? It is a vapour, which appeareth for a little while, and afterwards shall vanish away: for that ye should say: 'If the Lord will:' and, 'if we shall live, we will do this or that.'

16. "But now ye glory in your arrogancies. All such glorying is wicked.

17. "To him therefore, who knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

C H A P. V.

A warning to the rich, who oppress the poor. Exhortations to patience, and to avoid swearing. Of the anointing the sick, confession of sins, and fervor in prayer.

"GO to now, ye rich men; weep and howl for your miseries, which shall come upon you.

2. "Your riches are putrefied, and your garments are moth-eaten.

3. "Your gold and silver are rusted: and the rust of them shall be for a testimony against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye have stored up to yourselves wrath against the last days.

4. "Behold the hire of the labourers, who have reaped your fields, of which ye have defrauded them, crieth out: and the cry of them hath entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth.

5. "Ye have feasted upon earth; and in luxuries ye have nourished your hearts, in the day of slaughter.

6. "Ye have condemned and put to death the just one: and he resisted you not.

7. "Be patient therefore, brethren, until the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth; patiently bearing till he receive the early and the latter rain.

8. "Be ye therefore also patient, and strengthen your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth near.

9. "Grudge not, brethren, one against another, that ye may not be judged. Behold, the judge standeth before the door.

10. "Take, my brethren, for an example of suffering evil, of labour, and patience, the prophets, who spoke in the name of the Lord.

11. "Behold, we account them blessed, who have suffered. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and ye have seen the end of the Lord, that the Lord is merciful and compassionate.

12. "But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath. But let your speech be: 'yea, yea: no, no:' that ye fall not under judgment.

13. "Is any of you sad? Let him pray. Is he cheerful in mind? Let him sing psalms.

14. "Is any man sick among you? Let him bring in* the priests of the church: and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord;

15. "And the prayer of faith shall save the sick man: and the Lord shall raise him up: and if he be in sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16. "Confess therefore your sins one to another†; and pray for one another, that ye may be saved: for the continual prayer of a just man availeth much.

17. "Elias was a man passible like unto us: and with prayer he prayed, that it might not rain upon the earth; and it rained not for three years and six months.

18. "And he prayed again: and the heaven gave rain, and the earth yielded her fruit.

19. "My brethren, if any of you shall err from the truth, and any one convert him—

20. "He must know, that he, who causeth a sinner to be converted from the error of his way, shall save his soul from death, and shall cover a multitude of sins."

The first EPISTLE of St. PETER the APOSTLE

C H A P. I.

He gives thanks to God for the benefit of our being called to the true faith, and to eternal life: into which we are to enter by many tribulations. He exhorts to holiness of life: considering the benefits of God, and our redemption by the blood of Christ.

"PETER an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers dispersed through Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, elect,

2. "According to the foreknowledge of God the Father unto the sanctification of the Spirit, unto the obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

VOL. II.

3. "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy hath regenerated us unto a lively hope, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

4. "Unto an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and which fadeth not, reserved in heaven for you:

5. "Who by the power of God are kept by faith, unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

* Let him bring in, &c. See here a plain warrant of Scripture for the sacrament of extreme-unction.

† Confess your sins one to another. That is, to the priests of the church, whom ver. 14, he had ordered to be called for, and brought in to the sick.

G A

6. "In which ye shall greatly rejoice, now if need be for a little time to be made sorrowful in divers temptations :

7. "That the trial of your faith, much more precious than gold, which is tried by the fire, may be found unto praise, and glory, and honour, at the appearing of Jesus Christ :

8. "Whom having not seen, ye love : in whom also now, though ye see him not, ye believe ; and believing, shall rejoice with an unspeakable and glorified joy :

9. "Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10. "Concerning which salvation the prophets have enquired and diligently searched, who prophesied of the grace to come in you :

11. "Searching into what time or manner of time the Spirit of Christ should signify in them : foretelling those sufferings, which are in Christ, and the glories, which should follow :

12. "To whom it was revealed, that not to themselves, but to you they ministered those things, which are now declared to you by those, who have preached the gospel to you, the Holy Ghost being sent down from heaven, on whom the angels desire to look.

13. "Wherefore having the loins of your mind girded, being sober, hope perfectly for that grace, which is offered you at the revelation of Jesus Christ :

14. "As children of obedience, not fashioned according to the former desires of your ignorance :

15. "But according to him, who is holy, who hath called you : be ye also holy in all conversation :

16. "For it is written : 'Ye shall be holy, because I am holy.'

17. "And if ye invoke as Father him, who without respect of persons, judgeth according to every one's work, converse in fear during the time of your sojourning here :

18. "Knowing that ye were not redeemed with corruptible gold or silver from your vain conversation of the tradition of your fathers—

19. "But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb unspotted and undefiled ;

20. "Foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but manifested in the last times for you,

21. "Who through him are faithful in God, who raised him from the dead, and gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God :

22. "Purifying your souls in the obedience of charity, with a brotherly love ; from a sincere heart love one another earnestly.

23. "Being born again not of corruptible seed, but incorruptible by the word of God, who liveth and remaineth for ever :

24. "For all flesh is as grass : and all the glory thereof as the flower of the grass : the grass is withered, and the flower thereof is fallen away.

25. "But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word, which hath been preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

We are to lay aside all guile, and go to Christ the living stone : and as being now his people, walk worthily of him, with submission to superiors, and patience under suffering.

"WHEREFORE laying aside all malice, and all guile, and dissimulations, and envies, and all detractions,

2. "As new-born babes, desire the rational milk without guile : that thereby ye may grow unto salvation :

3. "If yet ye have tasted, that the Lord is sweet.

4. "To whom approaching the living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen and honoured of God :

5. "Be ye also as living stones built up, a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6. "Wherefore it is contained in the scripture : 'Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner-stone, elect, precious : and he, who shall believe in him, shall not be confounded.'

7. "To you therefore, who believe, honour : but to those, who believe not, 'the stone which the builders rejected, the same is made the head of the corner :'

8. "And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of scandal to them, who stumble at the word, neither do believe wherunto also they are let.

9. "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a purchased people ; that ye may declare his virtues, who hath called you out of darkness into his admirable light :

10. "Who in time past were not a people ; but are now the people of God : who had not obtained mercy ; but now have obtained mercy."

11. "Dearly beloved, I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, to refrain yourselves from carnal desires, which war against the soul,

12. "Having your conversation good among the Gentiles : that whereas they speak against you as evil doers, considering you by your good works, they may glorify God in the day of visitation.

13. "Be ye subject therefore to every human creature for God's sake : whether it be to the king as excellency ;

14. "Or to governors as sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of the good :

15. "For so is the will of God, that by doing well ye may silence the ignorance of foolish men.

16. "As free, and not as making liberty a cloak of malice, but as the servants of God.

17. "Honour all men : love the brotherhood : fear God : honour the king.

18. "Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear—not only to the good and gentle—but also to the froward ;

19. "For this is thank-worthy, if for conscience towards God a man endure sorrows, suffering wrongfully.

20. "For what glory is it, if sinning and being buffeted, ye suffer it ? But if doing well, ye suffer patiently ; this is thank-worthy before God.

21. "For unto this ye have been called ; because Christ also suffered for us, leaving you an example, that ye should follow his steps :

22. "Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth :

23. "Who when he was reviled, did not revile : when he suffered, he threatened not ; but delivered himself to him, who judged him unjustly :

24. "Who his own self bore our sins in his body upon the tree; that we being dead to sins, should live to justice; by whose stripes ye were healed.

25. "For ye were as sheep going astray; but ye are now converted to the pastor and bishop of your souls.

C H A P. III.

How wives are to behave to their husbands: what ornaments they are to seek. Exhortations to divers virtues.

"IN like manner also let wives be subject to their husbands; that if any believe not the word, they may be gained without the word, by the conversation of the wives,

2. "Considering your chaste conversation with fear.

3. "Whose adorning let it not be the outward plaiting of the hair, or the wearing of gold, or the putting on of apparel:

4. "But the hidden man of the heart in the incorruptibility of a quiet and a meek spirit, which is rich in the sight of God.

5. "For after this manner heretofore also the holy women hoping in God, adorned themselves, being subject to their own husbands;

6. "As Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, doing well, and not fearing any trouble.

7. "Ye husbands, likewise dwelling with them according to knowledge—giving honour to the woman as to the weaker vessel, and as to the coheirs of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.

8. "And finally be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, loving the brotherhood, merciful, modest, humble:

9. "Not rendering evil for evil, nor railing for railing—but on the contrary, blessing; for unto this are ye called, that by inheritance ye may possess a blessing.

10. "For he, who will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips, that they speak no guile.

11. "Let him decline from evil, and do good: let him seek peace, and pursue it:

12. "Because the eyes of the Lord are upon the just, and his ears unto their prayers: but the countenance of the Lord against those, who do evil things.

13. "And who is he who can hurt you, if ye be zealous of good?

14. "But if also ye suffer any thing for justice sake, blessed are ye. And be not afraid of their terror; and be not troubled.

15. "But sanctify the Lord Christ in your heart, being always ready to satisfy every one, who asketh you a reason of that hope, which is in you:

16. "But with modesty and fear, having a good conscience: that whereas they speak evil of you, they may be ashamed, who falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17. "For it is better doing well (if such be the will of God) to suffer, than doing ill.

18. "Because Christ also died once for our sins—the just for the unjust—that he might offer us to God, being put to death indeed in the flesh, but brought to life by the spirit.

19. "In which also he came, and preached to those spirits, who were in prison*:

20. "Who in time past had been incredulous, when they waited for the patience of God in the days of Noe, when the ark was building: in which a few, that is, eight souls, were saved by water.

21. "Whereunto baptism† being of the like form, now saveth you also: not the putting away‡ of the filth of the flesh, but the examination of a good conscience towards God by the resurrection of Jesus Christ,

22. "Who is on the right hand of God, swallowing up death, that we might become heirs of life everlasting: he being gone into heaven, the angels, and powers, and virtues being made subject to him."

C H A P. IV.

Exhortations to cease from sin: to mutual charity: to do all for the glory of God: to be willing to suffer for Christ.

"CH R I S T therefore, having suffered in the flesh, be ye also armed with the same thought; for he, who hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sins.

2. "That now as to the rest of his time in the flesh, he may live not according to the desires of men, but according to the will of God.

3. "For the time past is sufficient to have fulfilled the will of the Gentiles, for those, who have walked in riotousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and unlawful worshipping of idols.

4. "Wherein they think it strange, that ye run not with them into the same confusion of riotousness, speaking evil of you.

5. "Who shall render an account to him, who is ready to judge the living and the dead.

6. "For this cause also was the gospel preached to the dead: that they might be judged indeed according to men in the flesh: but may live according to God in the Spirit.

7. "But the end of all approacheth. Be prudent therefore, and watch in prayers.

8. "But before all things have a constant mutual charity among yourselves: for charity covereth a multitude of sins.

9. "Using hospitality towards one another without murmuring.

10. "As every man hath received grace, ministering the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

* Spirits in prison. See here a proof of a third place, or middle state of souls: for these spirits in prison, to whom Christ went to preach, after his death, were not in heaven—nor yet in the hell of the damned; because heaven is no prison: and Christ did not go to preach to the damned.

† Whereunto baptism, &c. Baptism is said to be of the like form with the water, by which Noe was saved: because the one was a figure of the other.

‡ Not the putting away, &c. As much as to say, that baptism has not its end, in order to salvation, from its washing away any bodily filth or dirt: but from its purging the conscience from sin—when accompanied with suitable dispositions in the party, to answer the interrogations made at that time, with relation to faith, the renouncing of Satan with all his works—and the obedience to God's commandments.

11. "If any man speak, let him speak as the words of God: if any man minister, let it be as from the power, which God administereth: that in all things God may be honoured through Jesus Christ; to whom is glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12. "Dearly beloved, think not strange the burning heat, which is to try you, as if some new thing happened to you:

13. "But rejoice being partakers of the sufferings of Christ, that when his glory shall be revealed, ye may also be glad with exceeding joy.

14. "If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, ye shall be happy: for that, which is of the honour, glory, and power of God, and that, which is his spirit, resteth upon you.

15. "But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or a railer, or as coveting the goods of others.

16. "But if as a Christian, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorify God in that name.

17. "For the time is, that judgment should begin at the house of God. And if first at us; what shall be the end of those, who believe not the gospel of God?

18. "And if the just man shall scarcely* be saved, where shall the wicked and the sinner appear?

19. "Therefore also those, who suffer according to the will of God, let them commend their souls in good deeds to the faithful Creator.

CHAP. V.

He exhorts both priests and laity, to their respective duties, and recommends to all humility and watchfulness.

"THE ancients therefore, who are among you, I beseech, who am myself also an ancient and a witness of the sufferings of Christ—as also a partaker of that glory, which is to be revealed in time to come—

2. "Feed the flock of God, which is among you, taking care *thereof not by constraint, but willingly according to God; neither for the sake of filthy lucre, but voluntarily:

3. "Neither as domineering over the clergy, but being made a pattern of the flock from the heart.

4. "And when the prince of pastors shall appear, ye shall receive a never-fading crown of glory.

5. "In like manner, ye young men, be subject to the ancients. And do ye all intimate humility one to another: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6. "Be ye humbled therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in the time of visitation:

7. "Casting all your solicitude upon him; for he hath care of you.

8. "Be sober, and watch; because your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion, goeth about, seeking whom he may devour:

9. "Whom resist ye, strong in faith; knowing, that the same affliction befalleth your brethren, who are in the world.

10. "But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory in Christ Jesus, when ye have suffered a little, will himself perfect, and confirm, and establish you.

11. "To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12. "By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I think, I have written briefly: beseeching and testifying, that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand.

13. "The church, which is in Babylon, elected together, saluteth you; and so doth my son Mark.

14. "Salute one another with a holy kiss. Grace unto you all, who are in Christ Jesus. Amen."

The second EPISTLE of St. PETER the APOSTLE.

CHAP. I.

He exhorts them to join all other virtues with their faith, in order to secure their salvation.

"SIMON Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to those, who have obtained equal faith with us, in the justice of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ:

2. "Grace to you and peace be fulfilled in the knowledge of God, and of Christ Jesus our Lord:

3. "According as all things of his divine power, which appertain to life and piety, are given to us, through the knowledge of him, who hath called us by his own proper glory and virtue.

4. "By whom he hath given us very great and precious promises: that by these ye may be made partakers of the divine nature—flying from the corruption of that concupiscence, which is in the world.

5. "And ye, giving all diligence, join with your faith, virtue—and with virtue, knowledge—

* Scarcely; That is, not without much labour and difficulty,

6. "And with knowledge, abstinence—and with abstinence, patience—and with patience, piety—

7. "And with piety, brotherly love—and with brotherly love, charity.

8. "For if these things be with you and abound, they will make you to be neither empty, nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9. "For he, who hath not these things with him, is blind, and groping, forgetting his being purged from his old sins.

10. "Wherefore, brethren, labour the more, that by good works ye may make sure your vocation and election; for doing these things, ye shall not sin at any time.

11. "For so an entrance shall be ministered to you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12. "For which cause I will begin to admonish you always of these things; though indeed ye know them, and are confirmed in the present truth.

13. "But I think it just, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by admonition :

14. "Being assured, that the putting off of this my tabernacle is at hand, even according as our Lord Jesus Christ hath signified to me.

15. "And I will endeavour, that ye frequently have after my decease, whereby ye may keep a memory of these things.

16. "For we have not by following artificial fables, made known to you the power and presence of our Lord Jesus Christ; but we were eye-witnesses of his greatness.

17. "For he received from God the Father honour and glory : this voice coming down to him from the excellent glory : 'This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him.'

18. "And this voice we heard brought from heaven, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19. "And we have the word of prophecy more firm : to which ye do well to attend, as to a light shining in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the morning-star rise in your hearts :

20. "Understanding this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is made by private interpretation.

21. "For prophecy came not by the will of man at any time : but the holy men of God spoke, inspired by the Holy Ghost.

C H A P. II.

He warns them against false teachers, and foretells their punishment.

"BUT there were also false prophets among the people, even as there shall be lying teachers among you, who shall bring in sects of perdition*, and deny the Lord, who bought them—bringing upon themselves swift destruction.

2. "And many shall follow their luxuries, by whom the way of truth shall be blasphemed.

3. "And through covetousness with feigned words they shall make merchandise of you : whose judgment now of a long time ceaseth not, and their destruction lumbereth not.

4. "For if God spared not the angels, that sinned, but having cast them down into the place of torments, delivered them into the chains of hell to be tormented, to be reserved unto judgment—

5. "And spared not the original world, but preserved Noe the eighth person, a preacher of justice, bringing in the deluge upon the world of the impious—

6. "And reducing the cities of the Sodomites, and of the Gomorrhites into ashes, condemned them to destruction : making them an example to those, that should after act wickedly—

7. "And delivered Lot, a just man oppressed by the injustice and lewd conversation of the wicked—

8. "For in sight and hearing he was just; dwelling among them, who from day to day vexed the just soul with their impious deeds—

9. "The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation; but to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be tormented :

* Sects of perdition : that is, heresies destructive of salvation.
VOL. II.

10. "And especially those, who walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise governments, audacious, pleasing themselves, they fear not to bring in sects, blaspheming :

11. "Whereas angels, though they are greater in strength and power, bear not an execrable judgment against themselves†.

12. "But these men, as irrational beasts, naturally tending to the snare, and to destruction, blaspheming those things, which they know not, shall perish in their corruption ;

13. "Receiving the reward of injustice, counting pleasure the delights of a day‡; stains and blemishes, flowing in delicacies, rioting in their feasts with you.

14. "Having eyes full of adultery, and of never-ceasing sin; alluring unstable souls, having their heart exercised with covetousness, sons of malediction :

15. "Forsoaking the right way, they have gone astray, having followed the way of Balaam of Boshor, who loved the wages of iniquity :

16. "But had a check of his madness; a dumb beast subject to the yoke, speaking with man's voice, forbade the folly of the prophet.

17. "These are fountains without water, and clouds tossed with whirlwinds, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved.

18. "For, speaking swelling words of vanity, they allure in desires of the flesh of riotousness those, who had escaped a little from them, who converse in error :

19. "Promising them liberty, when they themselves are slaves of corruption : for by whom a man is overcome, of the same also he is the slave.

20. "For if having fled from the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, being again entangled in them, they are overcome; their latter state is become unto them worse than the former.

21. "For it had been better for them not to have known the way of justice, than after they have known it, to turn back from that holy commandment, which was delivered to them.

22. "For, that of the true proverb hath happened to them : 'The dog is returned to his own vomit—and the sow, that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.'

C H A P. III.

Against scoffers denying the second coming of Christ, he declares the sudden dissolution of this world; and exhorts to holiness of life.

"BEHOLD, this is the second epistle I write to you, my dearly beloved, in which I stir up by admonition your sincere mind :

2. "That ye may be mindful of those words, which I told you before from the holy prophets, and of your apostles, of the precepts of the Lord and Saviour :

3. "Knowing this first, that in the last days there

† Bear not an execrable judgment, &c. that is, they use no railing, nor cursing sentence; not even in their conflicts with the evil angels. See St. Jude, ver. 9.

‡ The delights of a day; that is, the short delights of this world, in which they place all their happiness.

shall come scoffers with deceit, walking according to their own lusts :

4. " Saying : ' Where is his promise, or his coming ? For since the fathers slept, all things continue so from the beginning of the creation.' "

5. " For this they are wilfully ignorant of, that the heavens were before, and the earth, out of water, and through water, consisting by the word of God :

6. " Whereby the world, which then was, being overflowed with water, perished.

7. " But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment, and perdition of wicked men.

8. " But be not ignorant, my beloved, of this one thing, that one day with the Lord is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9. " The Lord delayeth not his promise, as some imagine ; but beareth patiently for your sake, not willing, that any should perish, but that all should return to penance.

10. " But the day of the Lord shall come as a thief, in which the heavens shall pass away with great violence ; and the elements shall be dissolved with heat ; and the earth and the works, that are in it, shall be burned up.

11. " Seeing then, that all these things are to be dissolved, what manner of people ought ye to be in holy conversations and godliness,

12. " Waiting for and hasting unto the coming of the day of the Lord, by which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with the burning heat of fire ?

13. " But we look for new heavens and a new earth, according to his promise, in which justice dwelleth.

14. " Wherefore, dearly beloved, waiting for these things, be diligent, that ye may be found before him unspotted and blameless in peace.

15. " And account the long-bearing of our Lord, salvation : as also our most dear brother Paul, according to the wisdom given to him, hath written to you ;

16. " As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things : in which are some things hard to be understood, which the unlearned and unstable wrest, as also the other scriptures, to their own perdition.

17. " Ye therefore, brethren, knowing these things before, beware ; lest being led away by the error of the unwise, ye fall from your own steadfastness.

18. " But increase in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and unto the day of eternity. Amen."

The first EPISTLE of St. JOHN the APOSTLE.

CHAP. I.

He declares what he has seen and heard of Christ (who is the life eternal) to the end that we may have fellowship with God, and all good through him ; provided, however, that we confess our sins.

" THAT which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have diligently looked upon, and our hands have handled, concerning the word of life :

2. " For the life was manifested : and we have seen, and do bear witness, and declare unto you the eternal life, which was with the Father, and hath appeared to us :

3. " That, which we have seen and have heard, we declare unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us, and our fellowship may be with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4. " And these things we write to you, that ye may rejoice, and your joy may be full.

5. " And this is the declaration, which we have heard from him, and declare unto you : that God is light, and that in him there is no darkness.

6. " If we say, that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth.

7. " But if we walk in the light, as he also is in the light ; we have fellowship one towards another ; and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8. " If we say, that we have no sin ; we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

9. " If we confess our sins ; he is faithful and just, to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all iniquity.

10. " If we say, that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

Christ is our advocate : we must keep his commandments, and love one another. He must not love the world, nor give ear to new teachers ; but abide by the spirit of God in the church.

" MY little children, these things I write to you, that ye may not sin. But if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the just :

2. " And he is the propitiation for our sins ; and not for ours only, but also for those of the whole world.

3. " And by this we do know, that we know him, if we keep his commandments*.

4. " He, who saith, he knoweth him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him :

5. " But whosoever keepeth his word, the charity of God is truly perfect in him : and by this we know, that we are in him.

6. " He, that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also to walk, even as he walked.

7. " Dearly beloved, I write not a new commandment to you, but an old commandment, which ye had from the beginning : ' The old commandment is the word, which ye have heard.

* We know him, if we keep his commandments. He speaks of that practical knowledge by love and affection, which can only be proved by our keeping his commandments ; and without which we cannot be said to know God, as we should do.

8. "Again a new commandment* I write to you, which thing is true, both in him and in you : because the darkness is past ; and the true light now shineth.

9. "He, who saith, he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10. "He, who loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is no scandal in him.

11. "But he, who hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth : because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12. "I write to you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

13. "I write to you, fathers, because ye have known him, who is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one.

14. "I write to you, infants, because ye have known the Father. I write to you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15. "Love not the world, nor those things, which are in the world. If any man love the world, the charity of the Father is not in him :

16. "For all, that is in the world, is the concupiscence of the flesh, and the concupiscence of the eyes, and the pride of life : which is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17. "And the world passeth away, and the concupiscence thereof. But he, who doth the will of God, abideth for ever.

18. "Little children, it is the last hour† : and as ye have heard, that Antichrist cometh : even now there are many Antichrists‡ ; whereby we know, that it is the last hour.

19. "They went out from us, but they were not of us||. For if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us : but that they might be made manifest, that they are not all of us.

20. "But ye have an unction from the Holy one§ : and ye know all things.

21. "I have not written to you, as to such as know not the truth, but as to such as know it : and that no lie is from the truth.

22. "Who is a liar, but he, who denieth, that Jesus is the Christ ? He is Antichrist, who denieth the Father, and the Son.

23. "Whosoever denieth the Son, neither hath he the Father. He, who confesseth the Son, hath the Father also.

24. "Let that, which ye have heard from the beginning, abide in you : if what ye have heard from the beginning shall abide in you, ye also shall abide in the Son, and in the Father.

25. "And this is the promise, which he hath promised to us, eternal life.

26. "These things have I written to you, concerning those, who seduce you.

27. "And the unction, which ye have received from him, let it abide in you. And ye have no need††, that any one should teach you : but as his unction teacheth you concerning all things, and it is truth, and is not a lie. And as it hath taught you, abide in him.

28. "And now, little children, abide in him ; that when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be confounded by him at his coming.

29. "If ye know, that he is just, know also, that every one, who doeth justice, is born of him.

C H A P. III.

Of the love of God to us : how we may distinguish the children of God, and those of the devil. Of loving one another, and of purity of conscience.

"BE H O L D what manner of charity the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called, and should be the sons of God. Therefore the world hath not known us ; because it hath not known him.

2. "Dearly beloved, we are now the sons of God ; and it hath not yet appeared, what we shall be. We know, that, when he shall appear, we shall be like to him ; because we shall see him as he is.

3. "And every man, who hath this hope in him, sanctifieth himself, as he also is holy.

4. "Whosoever committeth sin, committeth also iniquity* : and sin is iniquity.

5. "And ye know, that he appeared to take away our sins : and in him there is no sin.

6. "Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not† : and whosoever sinneth, hath not seen him, nor known him.

7. "Little children, let no one deceive you. He, who doth justice, is just : as he also is just.

8. "He, who committeth sin, is of the devil : for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God appeared, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9. "Every one, who is born of God, doth not commit sin†† : for his seed remaineth in him ; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

* A new commandment, viz. The commandment of love, which was first given in the old law ; but was renewed and extended by Christ. See John xiii. 33.

† It is the last hour : that is, it is the last age of the world.

‡ Many Antichrists : that is, many heretics, enemies of Christ and his church, and forerunners of the great Antichrist.

|| They were not of us. That is, they were not solid, steadfast, genuine Christians, otherwise they would have remained in the church.

§ An unction from the Holy one. That is, grace and wisdom from the Holy Ghost.

 Ye know all things. The true children of God's church, remaining in unity, under the guidance of their lawful pastors, partake of the grace of the Holy Ghost, promised to the church and her pastors ; and have in the church all necessary knowledge and instruction, so as to have no need to seek it elsewhere, since it can be only found in that society of which they are members.

†† Ye have no need, &c. Ye want not to be taught by any of these men, who, under pretence of imparting more knowledge to you, seek to seduce you (ver. 26.) ; since you are sufficiently taught already, and have all knowledge and grace in the church, with the unction of the Holy Ghost ; which these new teachers have no share in.

|| Iniquity, avoma, i. e. transgression of the law.

§ Sinneth not, viz. mortally. See chap. i. 8.

† Doth not commit sin : that is, as long as he keepeth in himself this seed of grace, and this divine generation, by which he is born of God. But then he may fall from this happy state, by the abuse of his free-will, as appears from Rom. xi. 20, 21, 22. 1. Cor. ix. 27. chap. x. 12. Philip. ii. 12. Revel. iii. 11.

10. "In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil. Whosoever is not just, is not of God; nor is he, who loveth not his brother:

11. "For this is the declaration, which ye have heard from the beginning, that ye should love one another;

12. "Not as Cain, who was of the wicked one, and killed his brother. And wherefore did he kill him? Because his own works were evil—and his brother's just.

13. "Wonder not, brethren, if the world hate you.

14. "We know, that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. He, who loveth not, abideth in death:

15. "Whosoever hateth his brother, is a murderer. And ye know, that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in himself.

16. "In this we have known the charity of God, because he hath laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17. "He, who hath the substance of this world, and shall see his brother in need, and shall shut up his bowels from him; how doth the charity of God abide in him?

18. "My little children, let us not love in word, nor in tongue, but in deed, and in truth.

19. "In this we know, that we are of the truth; and in his sight shall persuade our hearts.

20. "For if our heart reprehend us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21. "Dearly beloved, if our heart do not reprehend us, we have confidence towards God:

22. "And whatsoever we shall ask, we shall receive of him: because we keep his commandments, and do those things, which are pleasing in his sight.

23. "And this is his commandment; that we should believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ; and love one another, as he hath given commandment unto us.

24. "And he, who keepeth his commandments, abideth in him, and he in him: and in this we know, that he abideth in us, from the Spirit, which he hath given us.

CHAP. IV.

What spirits are of God, and what not. We must love one another, because God has loved us.

"DEARLY beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits*, whether they be of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

1. "By this is the spirit of God known: every spirit, which confesseth † Jesus Christ to have come in the flesh, is of God:

* Try the spirits, viz. by examining whether their teaching be agreeable to the rule of the catholic faith, and the doctrine of the church. For as he says, ver. 6. He, who knoweth God, heareth us, [the pastors of the church] By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

† Every spirit, which confesseth, &c. not that the confession of this point of faith alone, is, at all times, and in all cases, sufficient: but that with relation to that time, and for that part of the christian doctrine, which was then particularly to be confessed, taught, and maintained against the heretics of those days; this was the most proper token, by which true teachers might be distinguished from the false.

2. "And every spirit, which dissolveth Jesus, is not of God: and this is Antichrist, of whom ye have heard, that he cometh, and he is now already in the world||.

3. "Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome him; because greater is he, who is in you, than he, who is in the world.

4. "They are of the world: therefore of the world they speak, and the world heareth them.

5. "We are of God. He, who knoweth God, heareth us: he, who is not of God, heareth us not: by this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

6. "Dearly beloved, let us love one another: for charity is of God. And every one, who loveth, is born of God, and knoweth God.

7. "He, who loveth not, knoweth not God: for God is charity.

8. "By this hath appeared the charity of God in us: because God hath sent his only-begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

9. "In this is charity: not as if we have loved God, but because he first loved us, and sent his Son a propitiation for our sins.

10. "My dearest, if God have so loved us: we ought also to love one another.

11. "No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God abideth in us, and his charity is perfected in us.

12. "By this we know, that we abide in him, and he in us; because he hath given us of his Spirit:

13. "And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father hath sent his Son the Saviour of the world.

14. "Whosoever shall confess, that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God.

15. "And we have known, and have believed the charity, which God hath to us. God is charity: and he, who abideth in charity, abideth in God, and God in him.

16. "In this is the charity of God perfected with us, that we may have confidence in the day of judgment: because as he is, we also are in this world.

17. "Fear is not in charity §: but perfect charity casteth out fear; because fear hath pain. And he, who feareth, is not perfect in charity.

18. "Let us therefore love God; because God first hath loved us.

19. "If any man say: 'I love God,' and hate his brother; he is a liar. For he, who loveth not his brother, whom he seeth, how can he love God, whom he seeth not?

‡ Which dissolveth Jesus, viz. either by denying his humanity, or his divinity.

|| He is now already in the world. Not in his person, but in his spirit, and in his precursors.

§ Fear is not in charity, &c. Perfect charity, or love, banisheth human fear, that is, the fear of men; as also all perplexing fear, which makes men distrust or despair of God's mercy; and that kind of servile fear, which makes them fear the punishment of sin more than the offence of God. But it no ways excludes the wholesome fear of God's judgments, so often recommended in holy writ: not that fear and trembling, with which we are told to work out our salvation, Phil. ii. 12.

21. "And this commandment we have from God, that he, who loveth God, love also his brother.

C H A P. V.

Of those, who are born of God, and of true charity. Faith overcomes the world. Three, who bear witness to Christ. Of faith in his name, and of sin, that is, and is not to death.

"WHOSOEVER believeth, that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God*: and every one, who loveth him, who begot, loveth him also, who is born of him.

2. "In this we know, that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3. "For this is the charity of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not heavy.

4. "For whatsoever is born of God, overcometh the world: and this is the victory, which overcometh the world, our faith.

5. "Who is he, that overcometh the world, but he, who believeth, that Jesus is the Son of God?

6. "This is he, who came by water and blood†, Jesus Christ: not in water only, but in water and blood: and it is the spirit, which testifieth, that Christ is the truth.

7. "For there are three, who give testimony in heaven—the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.

8. "And there are three, who give testimony on earth—the spirit, the water, and the blood‡; and these three are one.

9. "If we receive the testimony of men, the testimony of God is greater: for this is the testimony of God, which is greater, because he hath testified of his Son.

10. "He, who believeth in the Son of God, hath the testimony of God in himself. He, who believeth not the Son, maketh him a liar; because he believeth not in the testimony, which God hath testified of his Son.

11. "And this is the testimony, that God hath given to us eternal life; and this life is in his Son.

12. "He, who hath the Son, hath life: he, who hath not the Son, hath not life.

13. "These things I write to you, that ye may know, that ye have eternal life; who believe in the name of the Son of God:

14. "And this is the confidence, which we have in him; that whatsoever we shall ask, according to his will, he heareth us.

15. "And we know, that he heareth us whatsoever we ask: we know, that we have the petitions, which we request of him.

16. "He, who knoweth his brother to commit a sin, which is not unto death, let him ask, and life shall be given to him, who sinneth not to death. There is a sin unto death||; I do not say, that any one should ask for it.

17. "All iniquity is sin: and there is a sin unto death.

18. "We know, that every one, who is born of God, sinneth not; but the generation of God preserveth him: and the wicked one toucheth him not.

19. "We know, that we are of God; and the whole world is seated in wickedness.

20. "And we know, that the Son of God is come; and hath given us understanding, that we may know the true God, and may be in his true Son. This is the true God, and eternal life.

21. "Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen."

The second EPISTLE of St. JOHN the APOSTLE.

He recommends walking in truth, loving one another, and to beware of false teachers.

"THE ancient to the lady elect and her children, whom I love in truth, and not I only, but also all those, who have known the truth,

* Is born of God: that is, is justified, and become a child of God; which is to be understood, provided the belief of this fundamental article of the christian faith, be accompanied with all the other conditions, which, by the word of God, and his appointment, are also required to justification; such as, a general belief of all, that God has revealed and promised—hope, love, repentance, and a sincere disposition to keep God's holy law and commandments.

† Our faith: not a bare speculative, or dead faith; but a faith working by charity, Gal. v. 6.

‡ Came by water and blood: not only to wash away our sins by the water of baptism, but by his own blood.

§ The spirit, the water, and the blood: as the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost, all bear witness to Christ's divinity; so the spirit, which he yielded up, crying out with a loud voice upon the cross; and the water and blood, which issued from his side, bear witness to his humanity, and are one; that is, all agree in one testimony.

VOL. II.

2. "For the sake of the truth, which abideth in us, and shall be with us for ever:

3. "Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from Christ Jesus the Son of the Father, in truth, and charity.

4. "I was exceedingly glad, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5. "And now I beseech thee, lady, not as writing a new commandment to thee, but that, which we have had from the beginning, that we love one another.

6. "And this is charity, that we walk according to his commandments. For this is the commandment, that as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it:

|| A sin unto death. Some understand this of final impenitence, or of dying in mortal sin; which is the only sin, that never can be remitted: but, 'tis probable, he may also comprise, under this name, the sin of apostasy from the faith, and some other such heinous sins, as are seldom and hardly remitted: and therefore he gives little encouragement, to such as pray for these sinners, to expect what they ask.

 Sinneth not. See the annotation on chap. iii. 6. &c.

6 C

7. "For many seducers have gone out into the world, who confess not, that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh: this is a seducer and an Antichrist.

8. "Look to yourselves, that ye lose not the things, which ye have wrought: but that ye may receive a full reward.

9. "Whosoever receiveth, and continueth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He, who continueth in the doctrine, hath both the Father and the Son.

10. "If any man come to you, and bring ~~not~~ this doctrine, receive him not into the house; nor say to him: 'God speed you.'

11. "For he, who saith to him: 'God speed you,' communicateth with his wicked works.

12. "Having more things to write unto you, I would not by paper and ink: for I hope, that I shall be with you, and speak face to face; that your joy may be full.

13. "The children of thy sister elect salute thee."

The third EPISTLE of St. JOHN the APOSTLE.

He praises Gaius for his walking in truth, and for his charity; complains of the bad conduct of Diotrophes; and gives a good testimony to Demetrius.

"THE ancient to the dearly beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth.

2. "Dearly beloved, I make my prayer, that thou mayest prosper as to all things, and be in health, even as thy soul doth prosperously.

3. "I was exceedingly glad, when the brethren came, and gave testimony to the truth in thee, even as thou walkest in truth.

4. "I have no greater grace than this*, to hear, that my children walk in truth.

5. "Dearly beloved, thou dost faithfully whatsoever thou dost for the brethren, and that for strangers,

6. "Who have given testimony of thy charity in the sight of the church; whom, thou shalt do well, to bring forward on their way in a manner worthy of God.

7. "Because, for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8. "We therefore ought to receive such; that we may be fellow-helpers of the truth.

9. "I had written perhaps to the church: but Diotrophes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, doth not receive us:

10. "Wherefore, if I come, I will advertise his works, which he doth, prating against us with malicious words: and as if these things were not enough for him, neither doth he himself receive the brethren; and those, who do receive them, he forbiddeth, and casteth out of the church.

11. "Dearly beloved, follow not that, which is evil, but that, which is good. He, who doth good, is of God: he, who doth evil, hath not seen God.

12. "To Demetrius testimony is given by all, and by the truth itself; yea and we also give testimony and thou knowest, that our testimony is true.

13. "I had many things to write unto thee: but I would not by ink and pen write to thee.

14. "But I hope speedily to see thee; and we will speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Salute the friends by name."

The Catholic EPISTLE of St. JUDE the APOSTLE.

He exhorts them to stand to the faith first delivered to them; and to beware of heretics.

"JUDE the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James; to those, who are beloved in God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called.

2. "Mercy unto you, and peace and charity be fulfilled.

3. "Dearly beloved, taking all care to write to you concerning your common salvation, I was under a necessity to write to you; to beseech you to contend earnestly for the faith once delivered to the saints.

4. "For there have crept in some men (who were written of long ago unto this judgment) impious, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only sovereign Ruler, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5. "I will therefore admonish you, though ye once know all these things, that Jesus, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, did afterwards destroy those, who believed not:

6. "And the angels, who kept not their principality†, but forsook their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day.

7. "As Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbouring cities, in like manner having given themselves over to fornication, and going after other flesh, were made an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire.

8. "In like manner, these men also defile the flesh, and despise dominion, and blaspheme majesty‡.

9. "When Michael the archangel, disputing with the devil, contended about the body of Moses||, he † Principality: that is, the state in which they were first created, their original dignity.

‡ Blaspheme majesty. Speak evil of those, who are in dignity; and even utter blasphemies against the divine majesty.

|| Contended about the body, &c. This contention, which is nowhere else mentioned in holy writ, was originally known by revelation, and transmitted by tradition. 'Tis thought the durst not bring against him the judgment of cursing speech, but said : ' The Lord command thee ! '

10. " But these men blaspheme whatsoever things they know not : and what things soever they naturally know, like dumb beasts, in these they are corrupted.

11. " Wo to them, for they have gone in the way of Cain ; and have poured out themselves after the error of Balaam, for reward ; and have perished in the gainsaying of Core.

12. " These are spots in their banquets, feasting together without fear, feeding themselves, clouds without water, which are carried about by winds, trees of the autumn unfruitful, twice dead, plucked up by the roots,

13. " Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own confusion, wandering stars, to whom the storm of darkness is reserved forever.

14. " Now of these Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying : ' Behold, the Lord cometh with thousands of his saints,

15. ' To execute judgment upon all, and to reprove all the impious for all the works of their impity, whereby they have done impiously, and of all the hard things, which impious sinners have spoken against God.

16. ' These are murmurers full of complaints, walking according to their own desires, and their mouth speaketh proud things, admiring persons for gain's sake.'

17. " But ye, my dearly beloved, be mindful of the words, which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ :

18. " Who told you, that in the last time there should come mockers, walking according to their own desires in impieties.

19. " These are they, who separate themselves, sensual men, having not the Spirit.

20. " But ye, my beloved, building yourselves upon your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost,

21. " Keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto life everlasting.

22. " And some indeed reprove being judged :

23. " But others save, snatching them out of the fire. And on others have mercy in fear : hating also the spotted garment, which is carnal.

24. " Now to him, who is able to preserve you without sin, and to present you spotless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ—

25. " To the only God our Saviour through Jesus Christ our Lord be glory and magnificence, dominion and power before all ages, both now, and for ever and ever. Amen."

The APOCALYPSE of St. JOHN the APOSTLE.

C H A P. I.

Saint John is ordered to write to the seven churches in Asia, the manner of Christ's appearing to him.

" THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him, to make known to his servants ; the things, which must shortly come to pass ; and signified, sending by his angel to his servant John,

2. " Who hath given testimony to the word of God, and the testimony of Jesus Christ, what things soever he hath seen.

3. " Blessed is he, who readeth and heareth the words of this prophecy : and keepeth those things, which are written in it : for the time is at hand.

4. " John to the seven churches, which are in Asia. Grace be unto you, and peace from him, who is, and who was, and who is to come, and from the seven spirits, which are before his throne ;

5. " And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful Witness, the first-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth ; who hath loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, occasion of it was, that the devil would have had the body buried in such place and manner, as to be worshipped by the Jews with divine honours.

† Command thee ; or rebuke thee.

‡ Gone in the way, &c. Heretics follow the way of Cain, by murdering the souls of their brethren ; the way of Balaam, by putting a scandal before the people of God, for their own private ends ; and the way of Core or Korah, by their opposition to the church governors of divine appointment.

§ Propheied : this prophecy was either known by tradition, or from some book, that is now lost.

6. " And hath made us a kingdom and priests to God and his Father : to him be glory and empire for ever and ever : Amen.

7. " Behold, he cometh with the clouds, and every eye shall see him, and those who pierced him. And all the tribes of the earth shall bewail themselves because of him : even so : Amen.

8. " I am Alpha, and Omega, the beginning and the end," saith the Lord God, who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty.

9. " I John your brother and sharer in tribulation, and in the kingdom, and patience in Christ Jesus : was in the island, which is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus.

10. " I was in spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11. " Saying : ' What thou seest, write in a book : and send to the seven churches, which are in Asia ; to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamus, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicia.'

12. " And I turned to see the voice, that spoke to me : and being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks.

13. " And in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the feet, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle :

14. " And his head and hair were white, like white wool, and as snow : and his eyes were as a flame of fire,

15. " And his feet like unto fine brass, as in a burning furnace, and his voice as the sound of many waters :

16. " And he had in his right hand seven stars : and from his mouth came out a sharp two-edged sword : and his countenance shone, as the sun shineth in its full strength.

17. " And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying : ' Fear not : I am the first and the last :

18. ' And alive, and was dead ; and behold, I am living for ever and ever, and have the keys of death and of hell.

19. ' Write therefore the things, which thou hast seen, and which are, and which must be done hereafter.

20. ' The mystery of the seven stars, which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches : and the seven candlesticks are the seven churches.

Directions what to write to the angels or bishops of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamus, and Thyatira.

TO the angel of the church of Ephesus write : ' These things saith he, who holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks :

2. ' I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear evil men ; and thou hast tried them, who say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars :

3. ' And thou hast patience, and hast borne for my name, and hast not failed.

4. ' But this I have against thee, that thou hast left thy first charity.

5. ' Be mindful therefore from whence thou art fallen ; and do penance, and do the first works : Or else I come to thee, and will remove thy candlestick out of its place, unless thou shalt have done penance.

6. ' But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaites, which I also hate.

7. ' He, who hath an ear, let him hear, what the Spirit saith to the churches : ' To him, who overcometh, I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of my God.

8. ' And to the angel of the church of Smyrna write : ' These things saith the First and the Last, who was dead and liveth :

9. ' I know thy tribulation and thy poverty ; but thou art rich : and thou art blasphemed by those, who say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of satan.

10. ' Fear none of those things, which thou shalt suffer. Behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried : and ye shall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful until death, and I will give thee the crown of life.

11. ' He, who hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches : ' He, who shall overcome, shall not be hurt by the second death.'

12. ' And to the angel of the church of Pergamus write : ' These things saith he, who hath the sharp two-edged sword :

13. ' I know where thou dwellest, where the seat of satan is : and thou hast not fast my name, and hast not denied my faith. Even in those days Antipas was my faithful witness, who was slain among you, where satan dwelleth.

14. ' But I have a few things against thee : because thou hast there those, who hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat, and commit fornication :

15. ' So hast thou also those, who hold the doctrine of the Nicolaites.

16. ' In like manner do penance : or else I will come to thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17. ' He, who hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches : ' To him, that overcometh, I will give the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone ; and in the stone, a new name written, which no man knoweth, but he, that receiveth it.'

18. ' And to the angel of the church of Thyatira write : ' These things saith the Son of God, who hath eyes as a flame of fire, and his feet like unto fine brass.

19. ' I know thy works, and thy faith, and thy charity, and thy ministry, and thy patience, and thy last works, which are more than the former.

20. ' But I have a few things against thee ; because thou permittest the woman Jezabel, who calleth herself a prophetess, to teach, and to seduce my servants, to commit fornication, and to eat of things offered to idols.

21. ' And I gave her time to do penance : and she will not repent of her fornication.

22. ' Behold, I will cast her into a bed ; and those, who commit adultery with her, shall be in very great tribulation, unless they do penance from their deeds :

23. ' And I will kill her children with death, and all the churches shall know, that I am he, who searcheth the reins and hearts : and I will give to every one of you according to your works. But to you I say,

24. ' And to the rest, who are at Thyatira : ' Whosoever have not this doctrine, and who have not known the depths of satan, as they say, I will not put upon you any other burden :

25. ' Yet that, which ye have, hold fast till I come.

26. ' And he, who shall overcome, and keep my works unto the end, to him I will give power over the nations* :

27. ' And he shall rule them with a rod of iron : and as the vessel of a potter, they shall be broken ;

28. " Even as I also have received from my Father : and I will give him the morning star.

29. ' He, who hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.'

Spirits of God, and the seven stars : I know thy works, that thou hast the name of being alive, and thou art dead.

2. ' Be watchful, and strengthen the things, which remain, which are ready to die. For I find not thy works full before my God.

3. ' Have in mind therefore, in what manner thou hast received and heard ; and observe, and do penance. If then thou shalt not watch ; I will come to thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know at what hour I will come to thee.

4. ' But thou hast a few names in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments : and they shall walk with me in white ; because they are worthy.

5. ' He, who shall overcome, shall thus be clothed in white garments, and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6. ' He, who hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

7. ' And to the angel of the church of Philadelphia write : ' These things saith the Holy one and the True one, who hath the key of David—He, who openeth, and no man shutteth—shutteth, and no man openeth :

8. ' I know thy works. Behold, I have given before thee an open door, which no man can shut : because thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9. ' Behold, I will bring them of the synagogue of satan, who say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie : behold, I will make them to come, and worship before thy feet : and they shall know, that I have loved thee.

10. ' Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I will also keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try those, who dwell upon the earth.

11. ' Behold, I come quickly : hold fast that, which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12. ' He, who shall overcome, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God ; and he shall go out no more : and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and my new name.

13. ' He, who hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

14. ' And to the angel of the church of Laodicea write : ' These things saith the Amen*, the faithful and true witness, who is the beginning† of the creation of God :

15. ' I know thy works, that thou art neither cold, nor hot : I would thou wert cold, or hot :

16. ' But because thou art luke-warm, and neither cold, nor hot, I will begin to vomit thee out of my mouth ;

17. ' Because thou sayest : ' I am rich, and made wealthy, and I have need of nothing : and thou knowest not, that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.

18. ' I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be made rich : and mayest be clothed in white garments, and the shame of thy nakedness may not appear : and anoint thy eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see.

19. ' Such as I love, I rebuke and chastise. Be zealous therefore, and do penance.

20. ' Behold, I stand at the door and knock : if any man shall hear my voice, and open to me the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21. ' To him, who shall overcome, I will grant to sit with me in my throne : as I also have overcome, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

The vision of the throne of God, the twenty-four ancients, and the four living creatures.

' A F T E R these things I saw : and behold, a door open in heaven : and the first voice, which I heard, was, as it were of a trumpet speaking with me, saying : ' Come up hither : and I will shew thee the things, which must come to pass hereafter.

2. ' And immediately I was in the spirit : and behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting upon the throne.

3. ' And he, who sat, was to the sight like the jasper and the sardine stone : and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4. ' And round about the throne were four and twenty seats : and upon the seats, four and twenty ancients sitting, clothed in white garments, and golden crowns on their heads.

5. ' And from the throne proceeded lightnings, and voices, and thunderings : and there were seven lamps burning before the throne, which are the seven spirits of God.

6. ' And before the throne there was, as it were, a sea of glass like crystal : and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne were four living creatures, full of eyes before and behind.

7. ' And the first living creature was like a lion ; and the second living creature like a calf ; and the third living creature having the face, as it were, of a man : and the fourth living creature was like an eagle flying.

8. ' And the four living creatures had each of them six wings ; and round about and within they are full of eyes. And they rested not day and night, saying, Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come.

9. ' And when these living creatures gave glory, and honour, and benediction to him, who sitteth on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever ;

10. ' The four and twenty ancients fell down before him, who sitteth on the throne, and adored him, who liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying :

11. 'Thou art worthy, O Lord our God, to receive glory, and honour, and power ; because thou hast created all things ; and for thy will they were, and have been created.'

CHAP. V.

The book sealed with seven seals is opened by the Lamb, who thereupon receives adoration and praise from all.

"AND I saw in the right hand of him, who sat on the throne, a book written within and without, sealed with seven seals.

2. "And I saw a strong angel, proclaiming with a loud voice : 'Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof ?'

3. "And no man was able, neither in heaven, nor earth, nor under the earth, to open the book, nor to look on it.

4. "And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open the book, nor to see it.

5. "And one of the ancients said to me : 'Weep not : behold, the lion of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, hath conquered to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.'

6. "And I saw : and behold, in the midst of the throne, and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the ancients, a Lamb standing as it were slain, having seven horns and seven eyes ; which are the seven spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth.

7. "And he came ; and took the book out of the right hand of him, that sat on the throne.

8. "And when he had opened the book, the four living creatures, and the four and twenty ancients fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints*.

9. "And they sung a new canticle, saying : 'Thou art worthy, O Lord, to take the book, and to open the seals thereof : because thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God, in thy blood, out of every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation :

10. 'And hast made us to our God a kingdom, and priests : and we shall reign on the earth :'

11. "And I beheld ; and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne, and the living creatures and the ancients : and the number of them was thousands of thousands,

12. "Saying, with a loud voice : 'Worthy is the Lamb, that was slain, to receive power, and divinity, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and benediction.'

13. "And every creature, which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and the things, which are therein ; I heard all saying : 'To him, who sitteth on the throne, and to the Lamb, benediction, and honour, and glory, and power for ever and ever.'

14. "And the four living creatures said : 'Amen :'

* The prayers of saints. Here we see, that the saints in heaven offer up to Christ the prayers of the faithful upon earth.

And the four and twenty ancients fell down on their faces ; and adored him, who liveth for ever and ever.

CHAP. VI.

What followed upon the opening six of the seals.

"AND I saw, that the Lamb had opened one of the seven seals ; and I heard one of the four living-creatures, saying, as with a voice of thunder : 'Come thou, and see.'

2. "And I saw ; and behold, a white horse ; and he, who sat on him, had a bow, and a crown was given to him ; and he went forth conquering, that he might conquer.

3. "And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature, saying : 'Come thou, and see.'

4. "And there went out another horse, which was red : and it was granted to him, who sat thereon, to take away peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another : and to him was given a great sword.

5. "And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature, saying : 'Come thou, and see.' And behold, a black horse ; and he, who sat on him, had a pair of scales in his hand.

6. "And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures, saying : 'Two pounds of wheat for a penny ; and thrice two pounds of barley for a penny ; and wine and oil hurt thou not.'

7. "And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature, saying : 'Come thou, and see.'

8. "And behold, a pale horse, and he, who sat upon him, his name was Death, and hell followed after him. And power was given to him over the four parts of the earth, to kill with sword, with famine, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9. "And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar† the souls of these, who were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony, which they held.

10. "And they cried with a loud voice, saying : 'How long, O Lord, (holy and true) dost thou not judge and revenge our blood‡ on those, who dwell on the earth ?'

11. "And white stoles were given, to each of them one : and it was said to them, that they should rest yet a little time, till their fellow servants, and their brethren, who were to be slain even as they, should be filled up.

12. "And I saw, when he had opened the sixth seal :

¶ White horse. He, who sitteth on the white horse, is Christ, going forth to subdue the world by his gospel. The other horses, which follow, represent the judgments and punishment, which were to fall on the enemies of Christ and his church ; the red horse signifies war ; the black horse famine ; and the pale horse (which has death for its rider) plague or pestilence.

† Under the altar. Christ, as man, is this altar, under which the souls of the martyrs live in heaven ; as their bodies are here deposited under our altars.

‡ Revenge our blood. They ask not this out of hatred to their enemies, but out of zeal for the glory of God, and a desire, that the Lord would accelerate the general judgment and the complete beatitude of all his elect.

and behold, there was a great earthquake : and the sun became black as sack-cloth of hair : and the whole moon became as blood :

13. " And the stars from heaven fell upon the earth ; as the fig-tree casteth its green figs, when it is shaken by a great wind :

14. " And the heaven withdrew as a book rolled up together : and every mountain, and the islands were moved out of their places :

15. " And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the tribunes, and the rich men, and the strong men, and every bond-man, and every free-man hid themselves in the dens, and in the rocks of the mountains :

16. " And they say to the mountains and to the rocks : ' Fall upon us, and hide us from the face of him, who sitteth upon the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb :

17. ' For the great day of their wrath is come ; and who shall be able to stand ?'

C H A P. VII.

The number of those, who were marked with the seal of the living God ; and clothed in white robes.

" AFTER these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that they should not blow upon the earth, nor upon the sea, nor on any tree.

2. " And I saw another angel ascending from the rising of the sun, having the seal of the living God : and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3. " Saying : ' Hurt not the earth, nor the sea, nor the trees, till we seal the servants of our God in their foreheads.'

4. " And I heard the number of those, who were sealed, an hundred forty four thousand sealed, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5. " Of the tribe of Juda, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Ruben, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Gad, twelve thousand sealed :

6. " Of the tribe of Aser, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Nephthali, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Manasses, twelve thousand sealed :

7. " Of the tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Levi, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand sealed :

8. " Of the tribe of Zabulon, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Joseph, twelve thousand sealed : of the tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand sealed.

9. " After this I saw a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and tribes, and people, and tongues—standing before the throne, and in the sight of the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands :

10. " And they cried with a loud voice, saying : ' Salvation to our God, who sitteth upon the throne, and to the Lamb.'

11. " And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the ancients, and about the four living creatures : and they fell before the throne upon their faces, and adored God,

12. " Saying : ' Amen. Benediction, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, honour, and power, and strength to our God for ever and ever. Amen.'

13. " And one of the ancients answered, and said to me : ' Who are these, who are clothed in white robes ? and whence are they come ?'

14. " And I said to him : ' My lord, thou knowest.' And he said to me : ' These are they, who are come out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and have made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15. ' Therefore they are before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple : and he, who sitteth on the throne, shall dwell over them.

16. ' They shall not hunger, nor thirst any more ; neither shall the sun fall on them, nor any heat.

17. " For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall rule them, and shall lead them to the fountains of the waters of life : and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.'

C H A P. VIII.

The seventh seal is opened : the angels with the seven trumpets.

" AND when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven, as it were for half an hour.

2. " And I saw seven angels standing in the presence of God : and to them were given seven trumpets.

3. " And another angel came ; and stood before the altar, having a golden censer : and there was given to him much incense, that he should offer of the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which is before the throne of God.

4. " And the smoke of the incense of the prayers of the saints ascended up before God, from the hand of the angel.

5. " And the angel took the censer, and filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it on the earth : and there were thunderings, and voices, and lightnings, and a great earthquake.

6. " And the seven angels, who had the seven trumpets, prepared themselves to sound the trumpet.

7. " And the first angel sounded the trumpet : and there followed hail, and fire mingled with blood : and it was cast on the earth : and the third part of the earth was burned up : and the third part of the trees was burned up : and all green grass was burned up.

8. " And the second angel sounded the trumpet : and as it were a great mountain, burning with fire, was cast into the sea : and the third part of the sea became blood ;

9. " And the third part of those creatures died, which had life in the sea : and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

10. " And the third angel sounded the trumpet : and a great star fell from heaven, burning as it were a torch : and it fell on the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters :

11. " And the name of the star is called Wormwood. And the third part of the waters became wormwood :

and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12. "And the fourth angel sounded the trumpet: and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so that the third part of them was darkened, and a third part of the day shone not, and of the night in like manner.

13. "And I beheld, and heard the voice of one eagle flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice: 'Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the three angels, who are yet to sound the trumpet.'

CHAP. IX.

Locusts come forth from the bottomless pit: the vision of the army of horsemen.

"AND the fifth angel sounded the trumpet: and I saw a star fall* from heaven upon the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2. "And he opened the bottomless pit: and the smoke of the pit ascended, as the smoke of a great furnace: and the sun and the air were darkened with the smoke of the pit:

3. "And from the smoke of the pit there came out locusts† upon the earth: and power was given to them, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4. "And it was commanded them, that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree; but only the men, who have not the sign of God in their foreheads:

5. "And it was given to them, that they should not kill them: but that they should torment them five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6. "And in those days, men shall seek death, and shall not find it: and they shall desire to die; and death shall fly from them.

7. "And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for battle: and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold; and their faces as the faces of men.

8. "And they had hair as the hair of women: and their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9. "And they had breast-plates, as it were breast-plates of iron: and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10. "And they had tails like unto scorpions; and stings were in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months: and they had over them

13. "And the sixth angel sounded the trumpet: and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar, which is before the eyes of God,

14. "Saying to the sixth angel, who had the trumpet: 'Loose the four angels, who are bound in the great river Euphrates.'

15. "And the four angels were loosed, who were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, to kill the third part of men.

16. "And the number of the army of horsemen was twenty thousand times ten thousand. And I heard the number of them.

17. "And thus I saw the horses in the vision: and those, who sat on them, had breast-plates of fire, and hyacinth, and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions: and from their mouths proceeded fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18. "And by these three scourges was the third part of men killed—by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19. "For the power of the horses is in their mouths, and in their tails. For their tails are like to serpents, having heads: and with them they do hurt.

20. "And the rest of the men, who were not slain by these scourges, have not done penance for the works of their hands, that they should not adore devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and wood, which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21. "Neither have they done penance for their murders, nor for their sorceries, nor for their fornication, nor for their thefts.

CHAP. X.

The cry of a mighty angel: he gives John a book to eat.

"AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow upon his head: and his face was as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire.

2. "And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot upon the earth:

3. "And he cried out with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth. And when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4. "And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write; and I heard a voice from heaven saying to me: 'Seal up the things, which the seven thunders have spoken, and write them not.'

5. "And the angel, whom I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven;

6. "And he swore by him, who liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things, which are therein—and the earth, and the things which are therein: 'That time shall be no more:

10. "And I took the book from the hand of the angel, and devoured it; and it was in my mouth, sweet as honey; and when I had devoured it, my belly was bitter:

He is ordered to measure the temple; the two witnesses.

"AND there was given me a reed like unto a rod; and it was said to me: 'Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and those, who adore in it.

8. "And their bodies shall lie in the streets of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom, and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified.

9. "And they of the tribes, and people, and tongues, and nations, shall see their bodies for three days and a half; and shall not suffer their bodies to be laid in sepulchres.

10. "And the inhabitants of the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry; and shall send presents one to another, because these two prophets tormented those, who dwelt upon the earth.

life from God entered into them. And they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon those, who saw them.

12. "And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying to them: 'Come up hither.' And they went up into heaven in a cloud; and their enemies saw them.

13. "And at that hour there was a great earthquake; and the tenth part of the city fell; and there were slain in the earthquake, names of men seven thousand; and the rest were cast into a fear, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14. "The second wo is past; and behold, the third wo will come quickly.

15. "And the seventh angel sounded the trumpet; and there were great voices in heaven, saying: 'The kingdom of this world is become our Lord's and his Christ's, and he shall reign for ever and ever. Amen.'

16. "And the four and twenty ancients, who sit on their seats in the sight of God, fell upon their faces and adored God, saying:

17. 'We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, who art, and who wast, and who art to come; because thou hast taken thy great power, and thou hast reigned.

18. 'And the nations were angry; and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst render reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to those, who fear thy name, little and great, and shouldst destroy those, who have corrupted the earth.

19. "And the temple of God was opened in heaven; and the ark of his testament was seen in his temple; and there were lightnings, and voices, and an earthquake, and great hail.

The vision of the woman clothed with the sun; and of the great dragon her persecutor.

"AND there appeared a great wonder in heaven: a woman* clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars:

2. "And the being with child, cried travailling in birth, and was in pain to be delivered.

3. "And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads, and ten horns; and on his heads seven diadems:

4. "And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and cast them to the earth; and the dragon stood before the woman, who was ready to be delivered; that when she should be delivered, he might devour her son.

5. "And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with an iron rod; and her son was taken up to God, and to his throne:

6. "And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she had a place prepared by God, that there they should feed her a thousand two hundred and sixty days.

* A woman. The church of God. It may also, by allusion, be applied to our blessed lady. The church is clothed with the sun, that is, with Christ; she hath the moon, that is, the changeable things of the world, under her feet; and the twelve stars with which she is crowned, are the twelve apostles: she is in labour and pain, whilst she brings forth her children, and Christ in them, in the midst of afflictions and persecutions.

7. "And there was a great battle in heaven: Michael and his angels fought with the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels:

8. "And they prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9. "And that great dragon was cast out, the old serpent, who is called the devil, and satan, who seduceth the whole world: and he was cast forth unto the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him.

10. "And I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying: 'Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: because the accuser of our brethren is cast forth, who accused them before our God day and night.'

11. "And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto death.

12. "Therefore rejoice, O ye heavens, and ye, who dwell therein. Wo to the earth, and to the sea; because the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time."

13. "And after the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman, who brought forth the man child:

14. "And there were given to the woman two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the desert to her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15. "And the serpent cast out of his mouth, after the woman, water, as it were a river; that he might cause her to be carried away by the river.

16. "And the earth helped the woman: and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river, which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17. "And the dragon was angry against the woman; and went to make war with the rest of her seed, who keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

18. "And he stood upon the sand of the sea.

CHAP. XIII.

Of the beast with seven heads; and of a second beast.

"AND I saw a beast * coming up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads names of blasphemy.

2. "And the beast, which I saw, was like to a leopard; and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his own strength, and great power.

3. "And I saw one of his heads † as it were wound-

* A beast. This first beast with seven heads, and ten horns, is probably the whole company of infidels, enemies, and persecutors of the people of God, from the beginning to the end of the world. The seven heads are seven kings, that is, seven principal kingdoms or empires; which have exercised, or shall exercise tyrannical power over the people of God: of these, five were then fallen, viz. the Egyptian, Assyrian, Chaldean, Persian, and Grecian monarchies: one was present, viz. the empire of Rome; and the seventh and chief was to come, viz. the great Antichrist and his empire. The ten horns may be understood of ten inferior persecutors.

† One of his heads, &c. Some understand this of the mortal wound, which the idolatry of the Roman empire (signified ed to death; and his deadly wound was healed. And all the earth was in admiration after the beast.

4. "And they adored the dragon, which gave power to the beast; and they adored the beast, saying: 'Who is like to the beast? and who shall be able to fight with it?'

5. "And there was given to it a mouth, speaking great things, and blasphemies: and power was given to it to act forty-two months.

6. "And he opened his mouth in blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle ‡, and those, who dwell in heaven.

7. "And it was given to him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over every tribe, and people, and tongue, and nation.

8. "And all who dwell upon the earth, adored him; whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb, which was slain from the beginning § of the world.

9. "If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10. "He, who shall lead into captivity, shall go into captivity: he, who shall kill by the sword, must be killed by the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11. "And I saw another beast || coming out of the earth: and he had two horns, like a lamb; and he spoke as a dragon.

12. "And he executed all the power of the former beast in his sight: and he caused the earth, and those, who dwell therein, to adore the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13. "And he did great signs, so that he made even fire to come down from heaven upon the earth in the sight of men.

14. "And he seduced those, who dwell on the earth, by the signs, which were given him to perform in the sight of the beast, saying to those, who dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by the sword, and lived.

15. "And it was given him to give life to the image of the beast, and that the image of the beast should speak: and should cause, that whosoever will not adore the image of the beast, should be slain.

16. "And he shall make all, both little and great, rich and poor, freemen and bondmen, to have a mark in their right hand, or on their foreheads.

17. "And that no man might buy or sell, but he, who hath the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18. "Here is wisdom. He, who hath understanding, let him compute the number of the beast. For it is the number of a man: and his number is six hundred sixty-six **.

Of the Lamb, and of the virgins, who follow him: Of the judgment which shall fall upon the wicked.

AND I saw: and behold, a Lamb stood on mount Zion, and with him a hundred forty four thousand having his name, and the name of his Father written in their foreheads.

2. "And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of great thunder: and the voice, which I heard, was as of harpers, harping on their harps.

3. "And they sung as it were a new canticle, before the throne, and before the four living creatures, and the ancients: and no man could say the canticle, but those hundred forty four thousand, who were purchased from the earth.

4. "These are they, who were not defiled with women: for they are virgins. These follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, the first fruits to God, and to the Lamb:

5. "And in their mouth was found no lie: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6. "And I saw another angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the eternal gospel, to preach to those, who sit upon the earth, and over every nation, and tribe, and tongue, and people:

7. "Saying with a loud voice: 'Fear the Lord, and give him honour; because the hour of his judgment is come: and adore ye him, who made the heaven, and the earth, the sea and the fountains of waters.

8. "And another angel followed, saying: 'She is fallen, she is fallen, that great Babylon'; which made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.'

9. "And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice: 'If any man shall adore the beast, and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand;

10. 'He also shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is mingled with pure wine, in the cup of his wrath; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone, in the sight of the holy angels, and in the sight of the Lamb:

11. 'And the smoke of their torments shall ascend up for ever and ever: neither have they rest day nor night, who have adored the beast, and his image, and whosoever did receive the mark of his name.

12. 'Here is the patience of the saints, who keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.'

13. "And I heard a voice from heaven, saying to me: 'Write: Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord'. From henceforth now,' saith the Spirit, 'that they may rest from their labours: for their works follow them.'

14. "And I saw, and behold, a white cloud: and upon the cloud one sitting like to the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15. "And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him, who sat upon the cloud: 'Put to thy sickle, and reap; because the hour is come to reap; for the harvest of the earth is ripe.'

16. "And he, who sat on the cloud, put his sickle to the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17. "And another angel came out of the temple, which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18. "And another angel came out from the altar, who had power over fire: and he cried with a loud voice to him, who had the sharp sickle, saying: 'Put to thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyard of the earth: because the grapes thereof are ripe.'

19. "And the angel put his sharp sickle to the earth, and gathered the vineyard of the earth, and cast it into the great wine-press of the wrath of God.

20. "And the wine-press was trodden without the city; and blood came out of the wine-press, even up to the horses' bridles, for a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

C H A P. XV.

Those who have overcome the beast, glorify God. Of the seven angels with the seven vials.

AND I saw another sign in heaven great and wonderful, seven angels having the seven last plagues: for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2. "And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire, and those who had overcome the beast, and his image, and the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3. "And singing the canticle of Moses the servant of God, and the canticle of the Lamb, saying: 'Great and wonderful are thy works, O Lord God almighty: just and true are thy ways, O King of ages.

4. 'Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and magnify thy name? For thou only art holy: for all nations shall come, and shall adore in thy sight; because thy judgments are manifest.'

5. "And after these things I saw, and behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6. "And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in clean and white linen, and girt about the breasts with golden girdles.

7. "And one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8. "And the temple was filled with smoke from the majesty of God, and from his power: and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

C H A P. XVI.

The seven vials are poured out: the plagues that ensue.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels: 'Go, and pour out the seven vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2. "And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth: and there fell a sore and most grievous wound upon the men, who had the mark of the beast; and upon those, who adored his image.

3. "And the second angel poured out his vial into the sea : and it became as the blood of a dead man ; and every living soul died in the sea.

4. "And the third poured out his vial upon the rivers, and the fountains of waters ; and they became blood.

5. "And I heard the Angel of the waters, saying : 'Thou art just, O Lord, who art, and who wast the Holy one, who hast judged these things :

6. 'For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets : and thou hast given them blood to drink ; for they deserved it.'

7. "And I heard another from the altar, saying : 'Yea, O Lord God Almighty, true and just are thy judgments.'

8. "And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun : and it was given to him to afflict men with heat and fire :

9. "And men were scorched with great heat : and they blasphemed the name of God, who hath power over these plagues ; neither did they penance to give him glory.

10. "And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast : and his kingdom became dark ; and they gnawed their tongues for pain :

11. "And they blasphemed the God of heaven, because of their pains and wounds, and did not penance for their works.

12. "And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon that great river Euphrates : and dried up the water thereof, that a way might be prepared for the kings from the rising of the sun.

13. "And I saw from the mouth of the dragon, and from the mouth of the beast, and from the mouth of the false prophet three unclean spirits like frogs.

14. "For they are the spirits of devils working signs : and they go forth unto the kings of the whole earth, to gather them to battle against the great day of the almighty God.

15. "Behold, I come as a thief : blessed is he, who watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16. "And he shall gather them together into a place, which is called in Hebrew Armagedon*.

17. "And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air : and a great voice came out of the temple from the throne, saying : 'It is done.'

18. "And there were lightnings, and voices, and thunders ; and there was a great earthquake, such as never hath been since men were upon the earth—such an earthquake, so great.

19. "And the great city was made into three parts : and the cities of the Gentiles fell. And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give to her the cup of the wine of the indignation of his wrath.

20. "And every island fled away : and the mountains were not found.

21. "And great hail like a talent came down from heaven upon men : and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail : for it was exceedingly great.

CHAP. XVII.

The description of the great harlot, and of the beast upon which she sits.

"AND there came one of the seven angels, who had the seven vials, and spake with me, saying : 'Come, I will shew thee the condemnation of the great harlot, who sitteth upon many waters,

2. "With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication : and those, who inhabit the earth, have been made drunk with the wine of her prostitution.'

3. "And he took me away in the spirit into the desert. And I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4. "And the woman was clothed round in purple and scarlet, and gilded with gold, and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand, full of the abomination and filthiness of her fornication.

5. "And on her forehead a name was written : A mystery† : Babylon, the great, the mother of the fornications and abominations of the earth.'

6. "And I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And when I had seen her, I wondered with great admiration.

7. "And the angel said to me : 'Why dost thou wonder ? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast, which carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8. 'The beast, which thou sawest||, was, and is not, and shall come up out of the bottomless pit, and go into destruction : and the inhabitants of the earth (whose names are not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world) shall wonder, seeing the beast, that was and is not.

9. 'And here is the understanding, which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, upon which the woman sitteth : and they are seven kings.

10. 'Five are fallen ; one is ; and the other is not yet come : and when he shall come, he must remain a short time.

11. "And the beast, which was, and is not ; the same is also the eighth ; and is of the seventh, and goeth into destruction.

12. "And the ten horns, which thou sawest, are

† A mystery. That is, a secret, because what follows of the name and title of the great harlot is to be taken in a mystical sense.

‡ Babylon. Either the city of the devil in general ; or if this place be to be understood of any particular city, pagan Rome, which then and for 300 years persecuted the church ; and was the principal seat both of empire and idolatry.

§ The beast, which thou sawest. This beast, which supports Babylon, may signify the power of the devil ; which was and is not, being much abridged by the coming of Christ, but shall again exert itself under Antichrist. The seven heads of this beast are seven mountains or empires, instruments of his tyranny ; of which five were then fallen, as above, Chap. xiii. ver. 1. The beast itself is said to be the eighth, and of the seventh ; because they all act under the devil, and by his instigation, so that his power is in them all, yet so as to make up, as it were, an eighth empire, distinct from them all.

* Armagedon, i. e. The hill of robbers.

ten kings; who have not yet received a kingdom, but shall receive power as kings one hour after the beast.

13. 'These have one design; and their strength and power they shall deliver to the beast.

14. 'These shall fight with the Lamb; and the Lamb shall overcome them; because he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; and those, who are with him, are called, and elect, and faithful.'

15. 'And he said to me: 'The waters, which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are people, and nations, and tongues.

16. 'And the ten horns, which thou sawest on the beast, these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and shall burn her with fire.

17. 'For God hath given into their hearts, to do that, which pleaseth him: that they give their kingdom to the beast, till the words of God be fulfilled.

18. 'And the woman, which thou sawest, is the great city which hath dominion over the kings of the earth.'

C H A P. XVIII.

The fall of Babylon: kings and merchants lament over her.

'AFTER these things, I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great power: and the earth was enlightened with his glory.

2. 'And he cried out with a strong voice, saying: 'Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen; and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every unclean spirit, and the hold of every unclean and hateful bird.

3. 'Because all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication: and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her: and the merchants of the earth have been made rich by the abundance of her delicacies.'

4. 'And I heard another voice from heaven, saying: 'Go out from her, my people: that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5. 'For her sins have reached even to heaven; and the Lord hath remembered her iniquities.

6. 'Render to her as she also hath rendered to you; and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup, wherein she hath mingled, mingle unto her double.

7. 'As much as she hath glorified herself, and hath been in delicacies, so much torment and sorrow give unto her: because she saith in her heart: 'I sit a queen; and am not a widow: and sorrow I shall not see.'

8. 'Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine, and she shall be burned with fire: because God is strong, who shall judge her.

9. 'And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication, and lived in delicacies with her, shall weep, and bewail themselves over her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10. 'Standing afar off for fear of her torments, saying: 'Wo, wo that great city Babylon, that mighty city: for in one hour is thy judgment come.'

11. 'And the merchants of the earth shall weep, and mourn over her: for no man shall buy their merchandise any more:

12. 'Merchandise of gold and silver, and of precious stones and pearl, and of fine linen and purple, and of silk and scarlet (and all thyine-wood, and all manner of vessels of ivory, and all manner of vessels of precious stone, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13. 'And cinnamon) and of odours, and ointment, and fragrant incense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men.

14. 'And the fruits of the desire of thy soul have departed from thee: and all fat and goodly things have perished from thee: and they shall find them no more at all.

15. 'The merchants of these things, who were made rich, shall stand afar off from her, for fear of her torments, weeping, and mourning,

16. 'And saying: 'Wo, wo that great city, which was clothed with fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and was gilded with gold, and precious stones, and pearls:

17. 'For in one hour are so great riches come to nought: and every ship-master, and every one, who sails into the lake, and mariners, and those, who work at sea, stood afar off,

18. 'And cried out, seeing the place of her burning, saying: 'What city is like to this great city?'

19. 'And they cast dust upon their heads, and cried out weeping, and mourning, saying: 'Wo, wo that great city, wherein all were made rich, who had ships at sea, by reason of her prices: for in one hour she is made desolate.'

20. 'Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets: for God hath judged your judgment on her.

21. 'And a mighty angel took up a stone as it were a great mill-stone, and cast it into the sea, saying: 'With this violence shall Babylon that great city be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.'

22. 'And the voice of harpers, and of musicians, and of those, who play on the pipe, and on the trumpet, shall no more be heard at all in thee: and no craftsmen of any art whatsoever shall be found any more at all in thee: and the sound of a mill shall be heard no more at all in thee:

23. 'And the light of a lamp shall shine no more at all in thee: and the voice of the bridegroom and the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for all nations have been deceived by thy forceries.

24. 'And in her hath been found the blood of prophets and of saints; and of all, who were slain upon the earth.'

C H A P. XIX.

The saints glorify God for his judgments on the great harlot. Christ's victory over the beast, and the kings of the earth.

'AFTER these things I heard as it were the voice of many multitudes in heaven, saying: 'Alleluia; salvation, and glory, and power is to our God;

2. "For true and just are his judgments, who hath judged the great harlot, which corrupted the earth with her fornication, and hath revenged the blood of his servants, at her hands."

3. "And again they said: 'Alleluia.' And her smoke ascendeth for ever and ever."

4. "And the four and twenty ancients, and the four living creatures fell down and adored God, who sitteth upon the throne, saying: 'Amen; Alleluia.'"

5. "And a voice came out from the throne, saying: 'I praise ye our God, all his servants; and ye, who fear him, little and great.'"

6. "And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of great thunders, saying: 'Alleluia: for the Lord our God the Omnipotent hath reigned.'"

7. "Let us be glad and rejoice, and give glory to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come: and his wife hath prepared herself."

8. "And to her it hath been granted, that she should clothe herself with fine linen glistering and white. For the fine linen are the justifications of saints."

9. "And he said to me: 'Write: Blessed are they, who are called to the marriage-supper of the Lamb.' And he saith to me: 'These words of God are true.'"

10. "And I fell before his feet to adore him". And he saith to me: 'See thou do it not: I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren, who have the testimony of Jesus. Adore God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.'"

11. "And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse: and he, who sat upon him, was called Faithful and True: and with justice doth he judge and fight."

12. "And his eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head many diadems, having a name written, which no man knoweth but himself."

13. "And he was clothed with a garment sprinkled with blood: and his name is called, The Word of God."

14. "And the armies, which are in heaven, followed him on white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean."

15. "And out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword: that with it he may strike the Gentiles. And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the wine-press of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty."

16. "And he hath on his garment and on his thigh written: King of kings and Lord of lords."

* I fell before, &c. St. Augustine (l. 20. contra Faull. c. 21.) is of opinion, that this angel appeared in so glorious a manner, that St. John took him to be God; and therefore would have given him divine honour, had not the angel stopt him, by telling him, that he was but his fellow-servant. St. Gregory (l. 10. in Evang.) rather thinks, that the veneration offered by St. John, was not divine honour, or indeed any other than what might lawfully be given; but was nevertheless refused by the angel, in consideration of the dignity, to which our human nature had been raised, by the incarnation of the Son of God—and the dignity of St. John, an apostle, prophet, and martyr. So far as least is certain, that the saint knew his duty too well, to offer the angel any idolatrous or superstitious worship.

17. "And I saw an angel standing in the sun: and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds, which did fly through the midst of heaven: 'Come, and gather yourselves together to the great supper of God:'"

18. "That ye may eat the flesh of kings: and the flesh of tribunes, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of those, who sit on them, and the flesh of all free-men and bond-men, and of little and great."

19. "And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together to make war with him, who sat upon the horse, and with his army."

20. "And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet: who wrought signs before him, wherewith he seduced those, who received the mark of the beast, and who adored his image. These two were cast alive into the pool of fire burning with brimstone."

21. "And the rest were slain by the sword of him, who sitteth upon the horse, which proceedeth out of his mouth: and all the birds were filled with their flesh."

CHAP. XX.

Satan is bound for a thousand years: the souls of the martyrs reign with Christ in the first resurrection. The last attempts of Satan against the church: the last judgment.

"AND I saw an angel coming down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand."

2. "And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years†:

3. "And he cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should no more seduce the nations, till the thousand years be finished: and after that he must be loosed a little time."

4. "And I saw seats; and they sat upon them: and judgment was given unto them: and the souls of those, who were beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and who had not adored the beast, nor his image, nor received his mark on their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years."

5. "The rest of the dead lived not, till the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection."

6. "Blessed and holy is he, who hath part in the first resurrection: in these the second death hath no power: but they shall be priests of God and of Christ; and shall reign with him a thousand years."

7. "And when the thousand years shall be finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall go forth, † Bound him for a thousand years. The power of Satan has been very much abridged by the passion of Christ, for a thousand years; that is, for the whole time of the new testament: but especially from the time of the destruction of Babylon or pagan Rome, till the new efforts of Gog and Magog against the church, towards the end of the world. During which time the souls of the martyrs and saints live and reign with Christ in heaven, in the first resurrection, which is that of the soul to the life of glory; as the second resurrection will be that of the body, at the day of the general judgment.

and seduce the nations, which are over the four quarters of the earth, Gog, and Magog, and shall gather them together to battle, whose number is as the sand of the sea.

8. " And they came up upon the breadth of the earth, and surrounded the camp of the saints, and the beloved city.

9. " And fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them: and the devil, who seduced them, was cast into the pool of fire and brimstone, where both the beast

10. " And the false prophet shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11. " And I saw a great white throne, and him, who sat upon it, from whose presence the earth and heaven fled away: and there was no place found for them.

12. " And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne: and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged by those things, which were written in the books, according to their works.

13. " And the sea gave up the dead, that were in it: and death and hell gave up their dead, that were in them: and they were judged every one according to their works.

14. " And hell and death were cast into the pool of fire. This is the second death.

15. " And whosoever was not found written in the book of life, was cast into the pool of fire.

The new Jerusalem described.

" AND I saw a new heaven and a new earth. For the first heaven, and the first earth* were passed away, and the sea is no more.

2. " And I John saw the holy city the new Jerusalem coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3. " And I heard a great voice from the throne, saying: ' Behold the tabernacle of God with men; and he will dwell with them. And they shall be his people: and God himself with them shall be their God:

4. " And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes: and death shall be no more; nor mourning, nor crying, nor sorrow shall be any more; for the former things have passed away.'

5. " And he, who sat on the throne, said: ' Behold, I make all things new.' And he said to me: ' Write; for these words are most faithful and true.'

6. " And he said to me: ' It is done: I am Alpha and Omega: the beginning and the end. To him, who thirsteth, I will give of the fountain of the water of life gratis.

7. " He, who shall overcome, shall possess these things, and I will be his God: and he shall be my son.

8. " But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, they shall have their portion in the pool burning with fire and brimstone; which is the second death.'

9. " And there came one of the seven angels, who had the vials full of the seven last plagues, and spoke with me, saying: ' Come, and I will shew thee the bride, the wife of the Lamb.'

10. " And he took me up in spirit to a great and high mountain: and he shewed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God,

11. " Having the glory of God: and the light thereof like unto a precious stone, as it were to a jasper-stone, as crystal.

12. " And it had a wall great and high, having twelve gates: and in the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel.

13. " On the east, three gates; and on the north, three gates; and on the south, three gates; and on the west, three gates:

14. " And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them, the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15. " And he, who spoke with me, had a measure—a golden reed, to measure the city and the gates thereof, and the wall.

16. " And the city lieth four-square; and the length thereof is as great as the breadth: and he measured the city with the golden reed for twelve thousand furlongs: and the length, and the height, and the breadth of it are equal.

17. " And he measured the wall thereof a hundred forty-four cubits, the measure of a man†, which is of an angel.

18. " And the building of the wall thereof was of jasper-stone: but the city itself pure gold, like to clear glass.

19. " And the foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation, jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a calcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20. " The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21. " And the twelve gates are twelve pearls, one to each: and every several gate was of one several pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22. " And I saw no temple in it. For the Lord God Almighty is the temple thereof, and the Lamb.

23. " And the city needeth not sun, nor moon to shine in it. For the glory of God hath enlightened it: and the Lamb is the lamp thereof.

24. " And nations shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth shall bring their glory and honour into it.

25. " And the gates thereof shall not be shut by day: for there shall be no night there.

* The first heaven, and the first earth were passed away, being changed, not as to their substance, but in their qualities.

† The measure of a man, &c. i. e. According to the measure of men, and used by the angel. This seems without doubt to be the sense of it.

26. "And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27. "There shall not enter into it any thing defiled, or any one, who worketh abomination, or a lie, but those, who are written in the book of life of the Lamb.

C H A P. XXII.

The water and tree of life. The conclusion.

"AND he shewed me a river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding from the throne of God, and of the Lamb.

2. "In the midst of the street thereof, and on both sides of the river, ~~was~~ the tree of life, bearing twelve fruits, yielding its fruit every month, and the leaves of the tree for the healing of the nations.

3. "And no curse shall be any more: but the throne of God, and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him.

4. "And they shall see his face: and his name shall be on their foreheads.

5. "And night shall be no more: and they shall not need the light of a lamp, nor the light of the sun; for the Lord God shall enlighten them: and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6. "And he said to me: 'These words are most faithful and true.' And the Lord God of the spirits of the prophets sent his angel to shew his servants the things which must be done shortly.

7. "And behold, I come quickly. Blessed is he, who keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book."

8. "And I John, who have heard, and seen these things. And after I had heard, and seen, I fell down to adore before the feet of the angel, who shewed me these things:

9. "And he said to me: 'See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of those, who keep the words of the prophecy of this book: Adore God.'

10. "And he saith to me: 'Seal not the words of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11. 'He, who hurteth, let him hurt still * : and he, who is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he, who is just, let him be justified still: and he, who is holy, let him be sanctified still.

12. 'Behold, I come quickly: and my reward is with me, to render to every man according to his works.

13. 'I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.

14. 'Blessed are those, who wash their robes in the blood of the Lamb; that they may have a right to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city.

15. 'Without ~~are~~ dogs, and forcerers, and unchaste, and murderers, and those, who serve idols, and every one, who loveth and maketh a lie.

16. 'I Jesus have sent my angel, to testify to you these things in the churches. I am the root and stock of David, the bright and morning star.

17. 'And the Spirit and the bride say: 'Come.' And he, who heareth, let him say: 'Come.' And he, who thirsteth, let him come: and he, who will, let him take the water of life gratis.

18. 'For I testify to every one, who heareth the words of the prophecy of this book: if any man shall add to these things, God shall add unto him the plagues written in this book.

19. 'And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from these things, which are written in this book.'

20. "I.e., who giveth testimony of these things, saith: 'Surely I come quickly: Amen. Come Lord Jesus.'

21. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen."

* Let him hurt still. It is not an exhortation, or licence to go on in sin; but an intimation, that how far soever the wicked may proceed, their progress shall quickly end, and then they must look to meet with proportionable punishments.

THE END OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

The lessons, which are read in the divine office for the first Nocturn, are always taken out of the scripture: those for the second Nocturn, out of the writings of the holy fathers, or the acts of the saints: and those of the third Nocturn, out of the sermons or homilies of the fathers, upon the gospel of the day.

In Advent, the daily lessons of the scripture are taken out of the prophet Isaiah:

From Christmas till Septuagesima, out of the epistles of St. Paul.

From Septuagesima till Passion-Sunday out of the books of Moses:

In the office of the Passion, out of the Prophet Jeremiah:

Between Easter and Whitsuntide, out of the Acts of the Apostles, the Apocalypse, and the seven canonical epistles:

From Whitsuntide till August, out of the books of Samuel and Kings:

In August, out of Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Wisdom, and Ecclesiasticus:

In September, out of Job, Tobias, Judith and Esther:

In October, out of the two books of Machabees:

In November, out of Ezechiel, Daniel, and the twelve lesser prophets.
